

EASTER RELAYS ENTRIES NEAR 1100

PREPARATIONS ALMOST COMPLETE FOR 1952 BARBARY COAST CARNIVAL

Good times for all on the weekend of April 18-19 is the promise of the Special Events Committee, headed by Pat Welsh and Ted Troy, now busy with last-minute preparations for the mammoth Santa Barbary Coast Carnival, slated for a two-night run again this year.

In a meeting of booth chairmen last Thursday, final instructions were given to the representatives of the various organizations in matters of constructions, financial arrangement and procedure. Some items of interest announced were:

1. Showers and restrooms will be open for participants.

2. Palm fronds will be available to groups who let the chairman know immediately that they need them.

3. All booths MUST be completely fire-proof. Fire-proofing material may be obtained at Holiday Hardware. The Fire Marshal will check all booths between 5 and 6 p.m. before the opening time on Friday, April 18. Booth operators must be in their booths at this time.

4. Performance time—6:30 to 11 p.m. Booth operators must be ready to go by 6:15 both nights.

5. Clean-up must be by 3 p.m. on Sunday, April 20. A fine will be charged for any late groups.

Ideas for use in booths range from A to Z, including burlesque, saloons (with and without gambling), wrestling, food, grog, old-time movies, and assorted destruction and bodily-injury entertainment. Booths will appeal to every age, and with a flurry in downtown publicity, all the future college students, aged three to ten, should be on hand.

Three ticket booths will supply the crowds with plenty of fast bucks for collection by the entertainers, stated Wayne Kluth, finance chairman. The price will be 10c per script and booth operators are asked to bundle all script-money into units of 10 and count total before turning into the ASB office after each night. Duplicate receipts will be given. No late script can be turned in.

An old-time barker will announce times and facts on the booths to the entire carnival area over the course of the evening, and carnival music will blend into the noise of the carnival area itself. Plenty of hot dogs, peanuts and popcorn, snow cones and punch should fill everyone's stomachs with butterflies, and the four avenues of booths will supply ample diversion for everyone.

Awards will be made on Saturday evening at 9:30 while the Coast is still in operation, and the judging for these awards will be conducted during the operation of the Coast on both Friday and Saturday evenings. Judges will score all competing booths on a point system, thereby eliminating any deadlocks on awards. Winners of the Best Theme Booth award will be engraved on the perpetual trophy contained in the Administration foyer showcase.

Second Blood Drive Begins On Campus Friday Morning

There will be a blood drive on campus Friday from 9 am to 4 pm, announced Pat Williams, chairman of the College Red Cross chapter. Plans have been made to include a drive every month. Pat also issued a clarification of the regulations regarding the awarding of a trophy to Greek organizations:

1. The trophy is perpetual. If an organization wins it three times successively, they may keep it.

2. The winner is based on the percentage of the organization (actives and pledges) who actually give blood. Rejects and those with colds cannot be counted as there are enough in each organization to even it out.

3. There will be one drive a month, results to be tabulated every three months. That is to say the trophy will be awarded every three months.

Sigma Phi Epsilon now holds the trophy for the recent drive.

Any person in ordinarily good health, between the ages of 21 and 60 years, is eligible as a donor; persons between 18 and 21 must have written parental consent. Each donor is interviewed by a physician before the donation is made; however, if it is known that the donor has any disqualifications, it will be best not to make an appointment.

Persons are disqualified as donors who have ever had yellow jaundice, dengue fever, diabetes, undulant fever, rheumatic fever, relapsing fever, Q fever, heart disease or syphilis.

Temporarily disqualified are those persons with colds, asthmatic attacks, hay fever attacks, any shots or vaccinations within four weeks, recent illnesses or operations, or anemia.

A donor must not have had a heavy meal or fatty foods four hours before giving a donation of blood. Water, fruit juices or black coffee are permissible, reminded pat.

Chesterfields To Be Given Away Each Week

One carton of Chesterfields will be awarded each week to the winner of a contest which begins in this week's El Gaucho.

Buried somewhere in the ads in each issue is the serial number of a Gaucho student body card. The holder of that student body card may collect his prize simply by presenting the card at the window of the Graduate Manager's office in Ebbets Hall.

Four Gaucho Students Attend Debate Tourney

Four students are representing Santa Barbara College at the Pi Kappa Delta Regional Championship Tournament which concludes today at the College of the Pacific.

Two debating teams were entered in the tournament. Pete Kane and Roger Denney formed one and Southern Courtney and Al Glickman the other. Kane also entered the extemporaneous speaking contest, while the others entered the impromptu speaking and the discussion contests. Mr. Upton Palmer accompanied the group as coach.

'Sources of Mathematical Research' is Topic For All-College Lecture Scheduled Today

"Sources of Mathematical Research" will be the topic for the All-College lecture to be given today by Dr. Paul J. Kelley, Assistant Professor of Mathematics. At 4 p.m. in Pine Hall 101, Dr. Kelley will examine the sources of mathematical problems not related to science.

"Because the United States is the foremost country in the field of mathematics, it is important that the public be more informed about non-scientific mathematical problems than it is now," said Dr. Kelley.

The living characteristics of mathematics will also be discussed. Factual but not highly statistical material will revolve around the theme, research in non-scientific problems.

In an All-College lecture given last Thursday, Dr. Garrett Hardin, chairman of the Biological Sciences Department of Santa Barbara College, said that indications are that all of us—cabbages and kings, bird dogs and bacteria—came from the same source and are possibly all traceable back to the same molecule.

Discussing "How Did Life Begin?" Dr. Hardin reported on scientific findings of recent years which had contributed facts toward a theory on the origin of life which is capable of reproducing itself. Contributing to this were discoveries in the fields of enzymes, vitamins and genes.

Dr. Hardin said that, possibly over millions or billions of years, in a "soup-like" sea, composed of elements capable of easily supporting life, there was a chance arrangement in molecular structure which created the first self-reproducing molecule, which may have resembled a virus.

"This chance for synthesis was very slight," Dr. Hardin said, "but over a long period of time, with conditions right, even the improbable could occur. Since all forms of life have similar enzyme structure, it seems probable that all may have come from the same source."

Dr. Hardin, who recently was awarded a Ford Foundation Fellowship for special study, was introduced by Liberal Arts Dean Elmer R. Noble.

AWS ELECTION

Claire Smith has been elected secretary of the AWS and Sue McCracken treasurer as a result of the election run-offs. The results are as yet unofficial.

Pat Heron, Senior Coed from San Diego, Is Queen of This Year's Santa Barbara Relays

Pat Heron, Santa Barbara College senior from San Diego, will reign as queen over the Santa Barbara Easter Relays to be held here Saturday. Miss Heron, an eye-catching brunette with blue eyes, was selected by Blue Key, upper division men's honorary. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Heron of 6016 Adelaide St., San Diego.

Tri-County Assembly On Civil Defense

Do you think war is inevitable? No? Well do you think peace is inevitable? These were two questions tossed at the audience by Adm. William B. Jackson, USN (ret.), coordinator of civil defense for the Tri-County area, during the assembly on civil defense last Tuesday.

He further stated that civil defense will cease only upon the outbreak of a hot war or upon the formation of one world.

Immediate action is now needed in civil defense because of the widespread destruction caused by only one atomic bomb. Adm. Jackson pointed out that no city can survive such an attack without aid from other cities. For this reason the policy, "Come to the aid of your neighbor," has been adopted.

Jackson added that no matter how destructive the A-bomb or the H-bomb may be there will always be a fringe area where people have not been killed.

In any area taking the simple precautions outlined in pamphlets on atomic attack will save lives. There is enough time between the initial flash and the harmful effects of radiation to save yourself.

The steps or phases of planning were outlined as organization, enrolling and training workers, and the permanent phase which requires replacement of workers.

Mr. J. A. D. Muncy, who serves in capacity of safety chairman on the campus in time of disaster, explained that campus preparedness was first planned and adopted in 1942 by President Robert Gordon Sproul. Disaster was defined as any unforeseen emergency. The campus has been organized to achieve the maximum protection possible and functioned during the recent floods, providing water and housing for evacuees in Goleta.

Pat began her college career at Canal Zone Junior College in Panama, where her family was then living. She was the college's representative to the Queen's Court at the Canal Zone's "Carnival de la Concordia," traditional pre-Lenten celebration.

Blue Key, AMS Hold Smoker Tomorrow

Blue Key and the Associated Men Students present a combined Spring Smoker in the college cafeteria tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided by Rusty Buchanan playing his banjo, Ed Monreal and Fred Wade in comedy acts, and Vince Di Fiore and Muriel Adams, vocalists.

Bill Cunningham, Blue Key president, and Mark MacLin, AMS president, invite every male student to attend the smoker, which is free.

Music Faculty Attend Convention in San Jose

Four members of the music faculty will return tomorrow from a convention of the California Music Educators Association in San Jose, the theme of which was "Music for Better Living."

Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, Dr. Van A. Christy, Mr. Maurice Faulkner and Mr. Stefan Krayk represented SBC at the convention, attended by several hundred public school and college music instructors from all parts of the state.

California, LAAC Top List of Teams In College Division

Entries for the Santa Barbara Easter Relays have reached a total of 989 and are still arriving daily, Meet Manager M. S. Kelliher announced today.

More than 1000 high school, junior college, college and athletic club entries are expected for the 14th running of the meet this Saturday. Some 45 separate events are planned for the afternoon and evening program, not counting preliminary heat races.

Since this is an Olympic year, Relays officials have added two events not usually included. They are the 400-meter hurdles and the hop, step and jump, both Olympic Games events, but not usually included in American meets.

Kelliher said he has received entries from 26 Southland high schools, 125 entries from junior colleges and 99 entries from nine colleges or clubs.

Entered in the college and university division are the University of California, Pepperdine, Fresno State, Pomona College, College of the Pacific, Los Angeles Athletic Club, Santa Barbara College and the USC junior varsity. Many entries from unattached individuals also are expected, Kelliher said.

Four Music Groups In Friday Concert

Four student musical groups at Santa Barbara College will give a concert at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Riviera Auditorium. Several of the numbers will be sacred, in accord with Good Friday traditions.

Participating will be the Men's Glee Club, the Treble Ensemble, the woodwind ensemble and string quartet.

The Men's Glee Club, directed by Carl Zytowski, will include in its group three selections from Schubert's Mass in G, with Dale Emde, Vincent Di Fiore and William Herold as soloists. This mass, one of the earlier works by the composer, is being sung for the first time in an arrangement for male voices by the director.

This recital will also see the presentation of a concerto for piano, violin and string quartet by Chausson. Dr. John Gillespie will play the piano and Stefan Krayk the solo violin. Violins in the quartet, each of equal value, will be Joy Aarset, first violin; Phebe Stern, second violin; Desmond Kincaid, viola, and Anne Havekors.

Players in the woodwind ensemble, a combination heard infrequently but considered one of exceptional interest in tone coloring, are Eleanore Saxe, flute; Clayton Wilson, oboe; Peter Swanson, clarinet; Ben Clarke, French horn, and Virginia Guerin, bassoon. Back numbers and a novel divertimento by Hartley will be given by this group.

The Treble Ensemble, composed of women, will be directed by Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, and will sing numbers ranging from the gloomy moods of the steppes of Russia to the spontaneity of exuberant Negro spirituals. Sylvia Smith will be the soloist in Howarth's "Hallelujah."

More on Textbooks . . .

The textbook problem, which was brought into sharp focus by a letter which was printed in these columns last week, is much more complex than any of us realize.

Fred Wade's point, about the unnecessary expense borne by the students because of frequent changes of texts by instructors, had a great deal of validity. He pointed out the need for some standardization.

It appears, however, that we have just scratched the surface of the problem. Although there is certainly a need for some kind of relief from the textbook "racket," it is probably not feasible to begin with an attack on the instructors.

The amount of financial return received by a teacher who writes a textbook is negligible. Unfortunately, the educational tradition in America, and especially in the University of California, places much more emphasis upon a college teacher's scholarship rather than his ability to teach. The college professors write books more to gain the attention of their colleagues and curry the favor of the rating boards than they do to make money.

Secondly, it must be realized that to change a textbook in a course involves hours of extra effort on the part of the instructor and also frequently entails expense to the particular department. New texts have to be made up for a course when a textbook is changed.

If the fault is not with the instructors, where then does it lie?

First of all, it can be traced back to the publishers. The advent of the offset printing process has made it possible to print books for a fraction of their previous cost.

But the publishing companies, still coasting along on the lush proceeds accruing from the G.I. bill, are not interested in reducing the cost of textbooks. As long as they can keep on selling books at any cost to students who don't have to worry about the price, why should they change to a cheaper printing process?

Then, too, every company employs a corps of high-commissioned salesmen who make the rounds of the campuses and butter up the instructors. Hardly anyone on the faculty pays any attention to the salesman, but they collect their fat commissions anyway, and the added expense is tacked on to the price of the books.

Finally, the fault lies with the bookstore.

Instructors are urged by the management to list required texts for courses even if none are necessary.

Books are bought back from students at the ridiculously low rate of one-half the original purchase price—when they are bought back at all. If a student is lucky, he may be able to sell back one book out of five.

If the bookstore were operated by the Associated Students, which is the case at most other branches of the University of California, more books could be resold and the students could get a fairer exchange ratio.

There is no reason why an exchange system could not be set up with other colleges whereby a book which is no longer used at one campus could be offered to a college where it is used.

At any rate, last week's letter did serve its purpose. Not only did it serve to point out an abuse which does exist among some members of the faculty, but, more important, it served to call attention to a much broader problem.

A student-operated bookstore would solve most of the problem.

RAZIN' KANE

Today I am the happiest of God's creatures, for just yesterday I discovered that someone reads this thing besides me. You know, when Walter Winchell likes something he sends orchids. Well, yesterday I discovered the most beautiful bunch of ragweed in my mail box. It had a pretty bow and a little note attached. I could tell by the handwriting that it was from a girl.

The note had a little verse on it, but unfortunately I couldn't make out all the words. The end of the first line seemed to be something about "the way you smell," and all I could make out in the second line was "and you can go to." I'm sure it must have been a beautiful thought; I'm only sorry I couldn't read it all.

Another thing I couldn't figure out was why she sent me ragweed. She couldn't have known that I suffer from acute hay-fever. I think that it must have something to do with the fact that I've been called the poor man's Max Schulman. . . . Get is? Poor man—rag weed. You're not paying attention.

The Colonial Room Is A Part of Ebbets Hall

One room in the clothing wing of Ebbets Hall is known as the Colonial Room and is designed from a room in Capon House. Everything about the room is truly colonial, including the fireplace, walls, floors, windows. All are authentic as well as the furniture, which includes a corner cupboard, a what-not shelf, settee, iron kettles, rugs and many other things.

The dedication of the room was held on Feb. 8, 1930. The dedication was the lighting of the hearth with a Cape Cod fire lighter, a present of the University Women, in honor of the founder and associates of the college.

Ebbets Hall Dedicated To Charlotte Ebbets

Ebbets Hall was dedicated on March 15, 1930. One of the principal features was the resolution presented by the council to name the building after Miss Charlotte P. Ebbets, the head of the Home Economics Department at that time.

Administrators Attend National Convention

Dean Helen Sweet, Dean Ellen Bowers and Dr. Wilbur Jacobs attended the national convention of the Council of Guidance and Personnel Associations in Los Angeles March 30 to April 3. The theme this year was Improving Human Relations. Panels and discussions were held daily.

Dr. Douglas Kelley, professor of Criminology at the University of California at Berkeley, spoke on "Psychiatry and Religion—Twin Paths to Teach." Also of interest was the topic "The Silent Generation—What Are They Thinking."

Prevalent among the exchange of ideas was the strong feeling that there is a need for the faculty and students to break into small groups to plan, organize and work together on mutual interests. Individuals should try to work with people different from themselves. Understanding of human nature should be everyone's task, it was pointed out.

Penningers From Peningers

Hello Girls:

Let's go too fashion show! The first Tuesday in every month Peningers present a fashion show which includes the latest styles. The shows are held at the El Paseo from 12:30 until 1:30. Every one is welcome!

TEDDY TYE was browsing around the store Saturday. Teddy! It was also nice to be able to show BARBARA HARRIS and LYN KELSO around the store. Barbara and Lyn were very impressed with the cute selection of cotton bathing suits.

Some pretty new things that I noticed in the store the other day include: "cucumber cool" brunch coats for lazy summer mornings—they are striped, checked and plain colored; some imported Hawaiian print sun-suits which are lined for swimming — they are only $5.95! Also, there are sorts of sun dresses in now. They're really the thing for showing off a nice tan. These dresses are very practical too because so many of them can be worn with the bolero in the day time, and as a cocktail dress, without the bolero, in the evening.

NONA originals are to be found at non other store in Santa Barbara except Peningers. These dresses are so very smart and different. I can't begin to tell you about the various styles, colors and prices of the NONA'S, but each of you will be able to find one to suit your taste.

A new flock of formals just arrived last week, too. O-oh are they pretty! Speaking of formals—wasn't the dance at the Coral Casino fun? I'm so glad we have more of them to look forward to.

I'll be looking for you Saturday.

Bye
 June Murphy

P.S. Have a very Happy Easter, and I hope the Easter bunny is good to you!

Faculty Receive Ford Foundation Awards

Dr. Garrett Hardin and Dr. Henry Turner, SBC faculty members, have been awarded Ford Foundation fellowships from the Foundation for the Advancement of Education, it was announced recently.

The program is aimed at strengthening liberal education in United States colleges and, according to Clarence H. Faust, president of the fund, "is based on the belief that a year devoted to study, research, observation or experiment will renew and enrich the intellectual lives of the recipients of the awards and help them to become better teachers of undergraduates."

Dr. Hardin, chairman of the Biological Sciences Department, expects to spend a year at Cal Tech in a study of new developments in evolution. As such he will not do research in the field but gather and assimilate new findings.

Dr. Turner, instructor in political science, plans to go to Washington to study the function of the political and administrative organizations and institutions. Part of his time will be spent in observing the functioning of Congress, but he will also serve as an intern in various offices in the executive branch to learn by actual experience the processes of these offices.

QUESTION: Do you think we should send coeds to Camp Cooke dances?

Sue McCracken, junior, Home Ec major: "I had a wonderful time myself at the last dance and think this activity should be continued."

Bob, an Army sergeant: "Definitely; you can't imagine how much these dances help a guy's morale."

Arlen Welch, male Art major: "Sure, if they volunteer. After all, it gives the girls a chance to meet fellows and the GIs a chance to meet girls."

Joel Williams, senior, Econ. major: "Lord no, I don't think they want to go anyway or have a good time if they do go. Don't they feel it is some sort of obligation they have to meet? But if they want to go, let them."

Pat McGowan, sophomore, Elated major: "Well, yes, but I don't want to go because of the 'aftermath.' I enjoy dancing with them but don't feel like dating them on weekends. If course I know I could turn down dates, but I feel like such a slob doing it."

Cpl. Rick Simona, Californian stationed at Camp Cooke: "Just because a fellow puts on a uniform does not make him some kind of monster. I'd like to add my plea to continue this project."

Maggie Mueller, senior, Home Ec major: "Natch, after all, a gal can improve her dancing, see the country (Lompoc), get free entertainment and still have a tremendous time and feel she is doing a service. Besides, one never knows—Prince Charming may be waiting at the service club—but don't count on it!"

Gen. Robert Blake, retired, resident of Santa Barbara: "Certainly, the girls will meet a bunch of fine young tramps, but they will also meet a bunch of fine young gentlemen because after all this is a cross section of American youth."

Pat Welsh, senior, Art major: "Sure, they want to go, don't they? Forty-one went Friday."

Chuck Francis, Publicity Director, Associated Students: "I think so because bays that age, 18 and up, need feminine companionship and I think this is a good way to get it."

MESA MEMO

By DOROTHY McCLURE

Many students and faculty members attended the convention of the California Industrial Education Association April 4 and 5 in Oakland. The theme this year was "Teaching Aids." Booths were set up in the classrooms of Laney Trade and Technical Institute in which were exhibited aids that teachers would find particularly helpful in presenting the various subjects taught in industrial arts and trade shop classes. One of the most interesting and instructive features were the exhibits displayed by the commercial firms. Live demonstrations, followed by short question discussion periods, also were a highlight. For entertainment banquets and a fashion show were included in the two-day event.

Entries will be accepted by the Project Committee beginning May 20 for the Industrial Arts Project Contest, according to Bob Craig and George Kostakis.

Every Industrial Arts student is eligible to enter one or more projects he has been working on for the past school year. The different divisions are: Leather crafts, plastic crafts, open crafts, design and rendering drawing, machine drawing, architectural drawing, electricity, graphic arts, metal art, open metal, machine metal, radio, teaching aids, boat building, hand wood, machine wood, and furniture. If the project does not fall in one of these categories it may be registered in the Open Division.

Projects will be judged by craftsmen in each division from the surrounding areas on the basis of workmanship, functionalism, design and originality. Prizes are awarded in each division, some of them being drawing sets, work-working tools, books and saws.

The Industrial Arts Club is the sponsor of the contest; all rules, regulations and activities are subject to their approval. The purpose of this contest is to develop creative abilities, skillful techniques and new ideas that will be helpful to members of the Industrial Arts Department, and to improve faculty-student relationship.

At the last meeting of Epsilon Xi Epsilon, radio electronics fraternity, Art Hendricks and Jack Michie spoke on television. Following was a short discussion. Some of the members operated an amateur radio station and were able to contact Douglas, Wyo. Sture Brockway is president and S. T. McNeal adviser for the group.

Construction has begun on booths for the Santa Barbary Coast. Strength and design are being stressed this year. Working for the Industrial Arts Club is Jim

Student Council Communique

By PAULINE BYARD

The issue of the establishment of a psychological counseling center at Santa Barbara College was again discussed. Like the centers recently established on the UCLA and Berkeley campuses, counseling and testing would be offered to help students in their selection of major and vocation and general personal problems.

It was reported that the administration is now studying the project and has expressed general approval, provided funds can be made available. Maggie Mueller volunteered to act in a liaison capacity between the administration and the Legislative Council. Inasmuch as the counseling program could not be set up in the next few months, the Council is attempting to start the wheels rolling so that the goal of a student counseling center may be realized some time next year.

Rep-at-Large Des Kincaid gave his final report to Council in regard to his investigation of the five campus service organizations. On his recommendation the Council passed a motion creating a Coordinator of Service Organizations, whose duty it would be to coordinate the efforts of the various service groups and be responsible for their effective utilization in campus activities.

Discussion was also held regarding causes of poor attendance at assemblies. Council members offered several suggestions for improving attendance which included: having assemblies in the Quad rather than in the Auditorium, having some assemblies in the evening so that Mesa students would be able to attend, better publicity, and the possibility of having the band play at assemblies together with a few songs and yells. These and other suggestions are being referred to the Assembly Committee Chairman.

For further information on Legislative Council, students may consult the following bulletin boards where the minutes of meetings are posted: Bulletin Board outside the Graduate Manager's Office, Bulletin Board outside Building D, Bulletin Board at the entrance to Ebbets Hall.

The Legislative Council meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the AWS Room. Interested students are invited to attend.

PANHELLENIC WORKSHOP HUGE SUCCESS

The first Panhellenic Workshop, held last Saturday, was a success in many ways. Already plans for the next one are being discussed. It is hoped that this can become an annual event.

Saturday's workshop started with a general session in the auditorium where the national officers were introduced. Among the honored guests were Miss Maxine Blake, Grand President of Alpha Delta Pi; Mrs. J. A. Barr, Province President of Alpha Delta Pi; Mrs. Ruth Ann Grieg, Advisor to the Committee of College Panhellenic of 11 Western states; Mrs. William Stout, Panhellenic representative of Delta Sigma Epsilon National Board, and Mrs. John MacDougall, City Panhellenic President.

Teddy Tye, Panhellenic president, read a welcome from Provost J. Harold Williams, who was out of town. Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs, acting Dean of Men, spoke on fraternity life and its valuable training in leadership and government. Dr. Helen E. Sweet, Dean of Women, spoke of plans for future workshops and the importance of using our opportunities and applying democratic methods on this campus. Mrs. Arthur Wentz, Panhellenic rushing secretary, spoke on the importance of tradition in college activities and expressed the hope that Panhellenic workshop can become a tradition.

Mrs. Inga Van Meter was given special recognition for "her efforts in helping teach tolerance based on love and understanding." She has been a housemother for Santa Barbara students for 15 years.

The guest speaker, Miss Maxine Blake, spoke on "Panhellenic Philosophy in Action." She discussed the changing social and university trends. Ten years ago girls spent four years in college if they started; now 25 per cent complete the four-year course. Universities are trying to provide housing for all students. Any institution can provide a roof, three meals a day, and a curriculum, but it cannot provide "a substitute for affiliation with national fraternal groups. The spiritual value of such an organization binds it into a small, compact group which is essentially loyal."

Miss Blake told of the programs used by some College Panhellenic groups that have worked very effectively. She emphasized cooperation instead of competition between Greek-letter groups.

After Miss Blake's talk the group adjourned into ten small workshops to discuss problems as "How to Make Panhellenic Effective," "Rushing," "Junior Panhellenic" and "Panhellenic's Responsibility to Chapter Leadership Training." The chairmen who led the discussions in these groups were Ellie Denholm, Louise Reiser, Nancy Dyer, Nancy Rasmussen, Barbara Benning, Jane Engel, Carolyn Nielson, Harriet Hadley, Liz Hawkins and Lois Sharpe.

A Spanish lunch, followed by more discussion groups, was the schedule for the girls, while the alumni advisors and the national officers had lunch and a meeting at El Encanto. The discussion groups were followed by another general session in the auditorium in which Miss Blake summarized the discussions and made recommendations to the group. She spoke mainly on rushing and our part in student government.

Virginia Jewell was responsible for the well-coordinated plans. Many good suggestions were made which will be tried in the near future. The success of the workshop was evident in the enthusiasm of everyone participating.

Alpha Mu Gamma Holds Election and Initiation

Alpha Mu Gamma, national language honorary fraternity, will hold its initiation dinner tonight at a downtown restaurant. Membership in this organization is based upon scholastic achievement in foreign languages with a minimum of three semesters of study in this field.

New officers, elected last Thursday, are: Jim Fansler, president; Anne Deane, vice president; Bettie Etter, secretary-treasurer; Pat Reed, social chairman. Advisers to the group are Miss Eda Ramelli and Dr. W. E. Aggeler.

Home Ec Club Topic Happiness in Marriage

"Don't expect to make radical changes in the character of your mate," said Mrs. Margaret Wells Wood in an address, "Attaining Happiness in Marriage," to the Home Economics Club. "There is a need," she continued, "for respecting each other's habits and traditions."

Mrs. Wood, a widely experienced educator and worker in social hygiene and retired staff member of Springfield College in Massachusetts, said that the word "attaining" means working and that happiness is the outcome of working together.

A question-and-answer period followed Mrs. Wood's talk, which served to carry out one of the year's objectives of the Home Economics Club dealing with understanding in home and family relationships. Virginia Kluth presided at the meeting.

AWS Delegates Attend Regional Convention

Associated Women Students of Santa Barbara sent four of its members to the AWS Western Regional Convention, held April 3 through April 6 at the University of California at Berkeley. Myra Jaccard was the official delegate and Margaret Mueller, Jean George and Helen Fong accompanied her.

The purpose of the convention was to discuss Women Student organizations and ways of improving them. The delegates listened to lectures and participated in panel discussions.

Representatives were entertained with dancing Friday night and dinner at the Mark Hopkins Hotel Saturday night.

Cadets Hold Elections For Colonel's Coeds

ROTC cadets voted on the candidates for Colonel's Coeds Monday and Tuesday of this week. Twenty-five women were named as applicants and, from these, five girls from the freshman class and one girl from the sophomore class have been elected to fill the present vacancies.

Only those girls were eligible who have completed one semester at this campus and are reasonably proficient in their grades. The results of the voting will be announced in the next issue of El Gauchito.

TRACK TEAM LOSES TO SAN DIEGO STATE

The Gauchos track team licked its multiple wounds today and prepared for Saturday's cinder extravaganza, the Santa Barbara Easter Relays.

The Gauchos absorbed an 84-47 defeat at the hands of San Diego State last Saturday, their second lop-sided loss in as many weeks. The Aztecs won in a breeze.

Again the bright spot in a losing Gauchos cause, Hugo Nutini broke a meet mark in the mile. The Chilean distance ace turned the four laps in 4:25.3.

In Nutini's favorite race, the 880, he ran into some more of the bad luck that has plagued him for two seasons. Running in second place going into the first turn of the final lap, Hugo pulled up with a strained muscle. Bob Sieben of San Diego went on to win the event in 1:57, another meet record.

The only other Santa Barbara first places were picked up in the discus and broad jump, Gauchos athletes tied for first in the high jump and the pole vault.

Dick Leffingwell took the discus with a toss of 122 ft., 3 in. Leo Jennings, the defending CCAA champion in the broad jump, took his specialty with a leap of 22 ft., 3/4 in.

The Gauchos added a bizarre touch to the proceedings when they called on Team Manager John Smith in the high jump. He borrowed some equipment and went on to gain a first-place tie with a jump of 5 ft., 11 1/2 in.

Jack Sinclair and Roscoe Morris shared a three-way tie for first in the pole vault.

SBC Nine Wins Two Out of Three Games; Service Teams Next

The Santa Barbara College baseball team is scheduled to face Terminal Island and Camp Cooke, whom they previously shut out, in a Friday afternoon twin bill at Mesa Field this week. The first game is slated for 12:30. The men from Long Beach and Lompoc will be followed Tuesday by the San Diego Marines in another Gauchos home tilt. The latter game is slated to begin at 2:30.

A dropped fly ball in the outfield in the bottom of the ninth gave the Gauchos a 4-3 decision over Port Hueneme last Friday at Mesa Field.

In the CCAA lifter against Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo Saturday the Gauchos duplicated the performance of the previous day, coming from behind with three runs in the ninth to annex a 5-3 first-game victory over the Mustangs, but dropped the nightcap, 7-1.

With a three-three deadlock in the final stanza of the Port Hueneme game, Dave Gorrie's towering fly to left was muffed by Hueneme Outfielder Bob Pelaez, allowing fleet Gary Morris to score from first.

Righthander Wynne Smallwood hurled the ninth inning for the Gauchos and received credit for the victory. Starter Jerry Lavarou, who pitched the first eight innings, was lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the eighth.

The defeat was a heartbreaker for Hueneme's Moe Hodges who had scattered 10 hits while striking out nine over the route. He was touched for a single run in the first inning and gave up two more in the fourth on four hits, an error and two wild pitches. Hueneme picked up a 2-1 lead in the third and tied up the game in the eighth on two singles and an error.

Al Cox (.370) and George Gattias (.306) led the Gauchos hitters with two hits apiece. Cox's triple in the seventh was the longest blow of the day.

In the San Luis Obispo game, Gerry McIlvaine was relieved in the eighth by Bob Emirhanian who gained his first victory for his third relief assignment of the season. Emirhanian set the Mustangs down in order in the eighth and, after walking the first three men to face him in the ninth, he regained his control and retired the side.

Gauchos Outfielder Dave Gorrie (.375) boosted his runs-batted-in total to 11 for the season with a two-run homer in the third to tie the score at two-all. A single run for Cal Poly in the fourth closed the scoring for both teams until the Gauchos opened up in the ninth. Hits by Cox, Bill Davis (.408) and Ray Knerr (.363), coupled with a pair of miscues, provided the visitors with their winning margin.

In the nightcap the Gauchos were shackled with one run and one lone hit, a single by lead-off man Mattias. The Santa Barbarans saw their one-run lead go up in the smoke off Poly First Baseman Bill Lund's fourth-inning grand-slammer. The same inning had seen a rhubarb develop at home plate when Gauchos iPtcher Corkey Johnson upset Catcher Bill Rubcic while scoring. Cal Poly Pitcher Mike Rubcic and Gauchos Short-stop Bill Davis entered the fray and were ejected from the ball game.

The 7-1 Mustang victory gave them a split with the Santa Barbarans and gave Coach Roy Engle's Gauchos a season's record of five wins against two defeats and a 1-1 conference record.

SAM ADAMS, the former Santa Ynez High School athlete, will represent the University of California in Saturday's Easter Relays at La Playa Stadium. The power laden Cal team is sending a full squad to compete in the Relays, which are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Associated Students of SBC.

Patterson To Try for Discus Mark

Junior Colleges committed to entry in the Relays are Glendale, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Pasadena, Los Angeles City College, Chaffey, Pasadena City College and Mount San Antonio. Competition is scheduled in five field events, open 100-yard dash, high hurdles, quarter-mile and mile relays and sprint and distance relays.

The high school list is long and comprehensive. Prep teams whose entries have been received are Beaumont, Carpinteria, Chaffee, Compton, Covina, Downey, East Bakersfield, Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach, Lompoc, Long Beach (Wilson), Loyola, Midland, Newport Beach, Newhall (William S. Hart), Nordhoff, Orange County, Oxnard, Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, Santa Paula, Santa Ynez, South Pasadena, Taft and Ventura.

The prep division is divided into two divisions. Division I includes all schools with an enrollment of under 1000 students. Division II includes all schools with an enrollment of more than 1000. The divisions are then broken down into A, B and C classes, depending on the boy's physical size and maturity.

All the high school events except one will be run off during the afternoon, leaving the evening open for the junior college and university class. The exception is an invitational high school 100-yard dash, which opens the night program.

Trying for a new high school discus record will be Leon Patterson of Taft Union High School. The big San Joaquin youngster has surpassed the world's prep discus mark of 179 ft., 2 3/4 in. in practice and the Relays will be his first chance this year to heave the iron plate in a recognized meet.

Since there is no discus event in the high school division, Patterson will be allowed to enter the college division, throwing the lighter-weight high school size discus. Patterson will also be shooting for a new 12-pound shot put record. He already has thrown 57 ft. 3/4 in. this season. The world record is 59 ft. 10 in.

The list of individual stars entered is already impressive and more are expected by deadline time. Entries in the college division are dominated by California and the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

California has one of the nation's most powerful collegiate teams. Coach Brutus Hamilton, 1952 Olympics track coach, has such brilliant youngsters as sprinter Guy Blackburn and hurdler Steve Turner.

A good Olympic team prospect, Blackburn ran a 9.5 100-yard dash and a 21.5 220 last year. Turner has bests of 14.7 in the high hurdles, 24.1 in the lows and 23 ft. 4 1/2 in. in the broad jump.

Los Angeles Athletic Club's team is also bursting with cinder talent. LAAC has hurdlers Craig Dixon and Art Barnard, two of the country's best. Dixon ran the highs in 14.3 recently against a wind and flight of lows in 23.6.

Other Athletic Club stars are middle distance man John Barnes, with a 49.5 best in the 440 this season; weight man Fortune Gordien, who threw the discus 172 ft. 8 in. two weeks ago; shot putter Wilbur Thompson and decathlon ace Floyd Simmons.

Among the service teams entered is San Diego's Marine Corps Recruit Depot. The Leathernecks have middle distance man Jerome Walters, holder of the world's junior college half-mile record of 1:53.7; sprinter Merle Wackerbarth, a 9.7 sprinter from Arizona State, and pole vaulter Bob Smith, twice NCAA champion while competing for San Diego State.

Kappa Sigma Downs Block "C" in Torrid Volleyball Contest

In intramural volleyball games this week the Hot Dogs ran over Delta Sigma Phi in the loser's draw by scores of 15-9, 15-10. Pete Meyer and Lee Powers supplied the scoring punch for the winners with Don Hastings setting to both sikers. Sigma Pi defaulted to the I.A. Club when the former was unable to field a full team.

In the big game of the week Kappa Sigma "A," playing without Joe Riddick who was ill, showed enough power where it counted to overcome the Block C team. The losers at one time in the second game had a lead of 9-2 but Kappa Sig rallied to take the game. Final scores were 15-10, 15-13. Big guns for the winners were Mertz, Barr and Schilling, while Don Steere and Ken Brittingham showed well for the losers.

In the only other game of the week Sigma Alpha Epsilon "A" needed three games to defeat the Hot Dogs. Scores were 7-15, 15-5, 15-5.

Currently Kappa Sigma "A" is the only team undefeated. In the Loser's Draw are Block C, I.A. Club, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, fighting for the right to meet Kappa Sigma for the College championship.

Mrs. Haight Once Thought About Career in Medicine

By EDITH FERN HICKS

Teaching English Literature in a college is far removed from the medical profession, which is the field Mrs. G. W. Haight at one time thought she would like to go into; at the joys and pleasures she has had in her teaching activities more than compensate for the change in her career. "Besides," says Mrs. Haight, "I guess I was too squeamish at the sight of blood to make a good doctor."

The field of children's literature, especially dealing with Indian children and Indian folklore, is one of Mrs. Haight's chief interests. It has been her experience to have lived on an Indian reservation in Idaho, where she was able to obtain much first-hand information on Indian children and Indian folklore.

Mrs. Haight obtained her B.A. degree at the University of Idaho, going on to Columbia University in New York City for her M.A. She has done some preparatory work on her doctorate in the field of children's literature, and hopes to be able to complete her doctorate before long.

Before coming to Santa Barbara College Mrs. Haight was state instructor of public schools in Idaho. Her work entailed trips throughout nine counties (including Sun Valley) for the purpose of visiting the public schools, both to watch and supervise 350 teachers and to set up the curriculum for the schools. Mrs. Haight also has taught at Miami University in Ohio.

In between her teaching activities and managing a home, which includes a husband and a daughter, Josephine, and a son, Lockwood, Mrs. Haight finds time for her hobby, gardening. She has a special fondness for working with roses and camellias. She finds time also for the activities of two professional women's groups, the Delta Kappa Gamma and Pi Lambda Theta. She is a member, too, of Alpha Phi.

This semester Mrs. Haight is conducting classes in children's literature for elementary education and one of the sections in the Comprehensive Survey for English Majors. She says that one of the things that stand out at Santa Barbara College is the close, personal contact between the students and instructors, made possible by the size of the classes. Benefits can be obtained on the part of both the instructors and the students through the class participation in discussions and the easy exchange of ideas between students and instructors.
