Writers Convene at State

Alpha Phi Gamma Sponsors One Day Meet

Dr. Ganzert to Speak Newspaper Editor Speaks on Problems

Hoping to establish a precedent for future years, Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity will sponsor a journalism day here next Friday to which students from all high schools and junior colleges in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties have been invited. The purpose of this informal convention, according to members of the local chapter, is to help solve the ever-present problems incurred in the publishing of student papers and to demonstrate a needed coordination between the fraternity and campus publications.

Begin at Noon
Arriving at noon, the delegates will attend a luncheon in Ebbets hall at 12:30 o'clock. Speakers include Clarke George whose subject will be "Practical Value of College Journalism," Dr. Frederic Ganzert, who will relate some experiences as a news correspondent; Ralph Porter, "The Relation of Alpha Phi Gamma to Student Publications," and Charles Jacobs, editor of the Morning Press, who will speak on specific present newspaper problems. Open discussion led by fraternity members will follow.

Tour to Be Taken
The afternoon's activities will consist of a tour conducted by Mrs. Margaret Bennett and Ralph Porter through the campus' publication center, and the plant of the News-Press, led by Mr. Jacobs. Following this trip, the group will adjourn.

Doris Coker is general chairman for the day and reports that probably all of the schools will accept the invitations except Santa Paula high school whose journalism students will be unable to attend. She is being assisted by Margaret Mellinger and Helen Eichelberger.

Island Exhibit Shown by Pond

This week's display in the library case represents some native Hawaiian articles loaned by Miss Elsie A. Pond to the college.

There are many different kinds of leis made of silk, shells, seeds and paper. An assortment of beads made of shells, seeds and paper are also exhibited. A book bound in Tapa cloth, a box of Koa wood and a table mat made of Pandanus palm are included in the case.

A prehistoric poi pounder, found in a cave on Haleakala mountain (an inactive volcano) is another object of interest. White coral, of many different shapes and sizes; black beach sand (evidently ground lava) and large pieces of different kinds of lava are shown.

The collection shows the wide source of materials of interest that can be found in the Hawaiian islands.

Sorority Presents Radio Program

Pledges to Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary home economics fraternity, were initiated formally in the Colonial room of the department's building on Friday May 17. They are Dorothy Clark and Josephine Newstetter.

Following the initiation the members and guests attended a banquet at El Encanto hotel. Miss Charlotte Ebbets and Miss Winifred Frye were guests of honor. Evelyn Steinmeier, president, presented a framed picture as a parting gift from the fraternity to Miss Ebbets who is to leave the campus this year. Dr. William Maxwell was the guest speaker, and Miss Joyce Rockwood entertained with several harp selections.

Attending were Dorothy Clark, Josephine Newstetter, Evelyn Brown, Catherine Caldwell, Helen Buckley, Lucille Bolton, Ruth Brubaker, Louise Headley, Bernice Baker, Ruth Moseley, Louise Lewis, Mengia Mattley, Evelyn Steinmeier, Ramona Abel, and Miss Florence Clark.

PATIENTS ASK FOR REVUE

As a tribute to the success of the State college Roadrunner Revue, Herman Gumpertz, director, received this letter from the Santa Barbara General hospital.

"Mr. Herman Gumpertz, director Roadrunner Revue: "We have heard much of the success of your latest play 'Roadrunner Revue,' and wonder if you would favor us with the presentation of some of the cast."

This letter was signed by 51 patients who are at present convalescing in the hospital and who learned of the Revue through the daily papers and by hearing a short skit which was presented over KDB, local radio station.

Not all of the acts can be taken out to the hospital due to the great number of members in the cast and lack of space at the hospital, but some of the smaller acts will be taken out," according to Gumpertz.

State Student Accepts Role in Local Play

Because of his outstanding work in the one act play, "Sad About Europe," Richard Brothers was chosen by Mr. Paul Whitney, director of the Lobero Theatre Player's club, to play a prominent part in "Judgment Day," the next attraction which will be given at the Lobero theatre May 31 and June 1.

Richard will play the part of the defendant at a court trial, George Khiton.

"Judgment Day," was written by Elmer Rice, author of "Street Scene," and is a play enacting the trial of innocent men. Nearly 50 people are cast in this dramatic production.

At present, beside his work in "Judgment Day," for which there are rehearsals every night, Brothers has a part in "The Valiant," by Halworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass, a class production which will be presented soon under the direction of Mrs. Harold Davis, play production class instructor.

Mr. Paul Whitney had the opportunity to see Brothers' work when the play "Sad About Europe" was presented to members of the Lobero Player's club at a luncheon meeting held at El Paseo recently at which members of the cast were guests.

BAND PRESENTS FINAL PROGRAM AT DAYS OF '49

For the last time this year Miss Marjorie Lambourne, 12 year old drum major, will lead Cliff Leedy's band and male chorus in its way to represent the city of Santa Barbara in another out of town activity. The Tournament of Roses at Pasadena was the other major out of town activity in which the band has participated in the past year.

The band and male chorus will also be heard next Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium when they will play for the graduating students from Santa Barbara and Carpinteria high schools. The program will be practically the same as the ones presented at the schools contacted on the band tour.

On May 10, Mr. Leedy's musical aggregation played for the Woman's club tea that was held at the Hall estate in Montecito.

DEPARTMENT HAS ANNUAL PICNIC AT WEST BEACH

Swimming and baseball featured the picnic given by the elementary department for its members, Sunday afternoon, May 19 at West beach.

Bob Way acted as general manager of the affair, Helen Scheild, Mary Beatrice, Geraldine Slayton and Tess Williams were in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Laura Price, head of the department, sponsored the event.

Dr. W. Ellison Gives Views on Teaching Fads

Emphasizing the uselessness of fads in teaching and the falacy of attempting to teach the student and not the subject, Dr. W. H. Ellison, head of the social science department lead the discussion at the regional educational meeting held on Saturday in the college auditorium.

He suggested that less time be spent on extra curricular activities and more spent on academic pursuits, although he recognized the value of limited extra curricular activities.

Charles E. Teach, superintendent of San Luis Obispo city schools argued that since it was necessary to train the young people in the schools that a knowledge of them as individuals is necessary to teach subject matter, and if it cannot be done any other way than by "teaching students" that this method should be followed.

Education Chief Speaks
Walter R. Hepner, chief of the division of secondary education of the State department of Education stressed the necessity of the agreement between members of the faculty upon their teaching aims.

Other speakers at the morning session were Hubert Seamans, vice-principal of San Luis Obispo junior high school who discussed "The Class Forum as a Method of Teaching;" and Clyde C. Reed, head of the social science department in Ventura junior college who discussed "How the Teacher Should Relate His Personal Views to Those of Authorities in His Field."

Mrs. Muriel Edwards, superintendent of Santa Barbara county schools presided at the afternoon panel discussions. At this meeting Arnold A. Bowhay, principal of Santa Maria high school and junior college opened the forum session with his views evaluating the lecture, seminar and individual methods of teaching.

Curtis Warren, superintendent of Santa Barbara city schools lead the final discussion on "How Can the Training of Teachers Be Organized to Meet the Demands of Progressive Education."

Two Hundred Attend
Over two-hundred noted educators from five southern California counties attended this meeting, according to President Clarence L. Phelps who opened the conference. "We are more than glad to have this meeting at Santa Barbara State college, and I am particularly happy that it was successful because of our desires to make it an annual meeting," he stated.

Phelps, Harder Take Tour

President Clarence Phelps and Coach "Spud" Harder left the campus last Friday representing the college on a goodwill tour of neighboring cities.

In Fillmore, both addressed the associated student body of the Fillmore high school. A conference of physical education directors and other department heads was held at Santa Paula, in which President Phelps and Coach Harder joined. At Oxnard, they spoke to the graduating class.

Bishop's Agency for Mildly Catty Kittens Offers Refuge, Affection and a Good Home

By KEITH LUPTON

What is the strange attraction that Dr. Elizabeth L. Bishop has for stray cats? Sooner or later most of the stray cats in the city wind up in her back yard to be befriended. To her many professional duties she has added the responsibility of bringing cats and cat lovers together.

When asked if she likes cats, Dr. Bishop gave a surprising answer, "Yes, and no. Some cats are delightful, others are uninteresting, some are bright, some are dull, but most of them are just mildly catty."

"Of course all my cats have been delightful, brilliant and engaging companions simply because that is the type of cat I select as a member of my family," she stated.

Dr. Bishop then proceeded to tell the history of some of her more unusual cats. "There was Nig, a delightful memory in our family. He was a delectable black short haired Persian, with white cravat and spats. He adopted us one Thanksgiving morning, and lived with us for twelve years. Nig was a gay and fiery soul; life to him was one long and thrilling adventure, each day being full of exciting things

MAY QUEEN

Ellen Roe, was chosen honorary May queen for 1935 by the Associated Women students and reigned supreme over a beautiful pageant presented last Wednesday in the quad.

Large Group Views May Day Fete in Quad

Ellen Roe was chosen May Queen for the annual May program which took place in the quad last Wednesday afternoon before a large audience. About sixty women took part in the program which dramatized "Little Pagan Beggars," a Spanish California fairy tale.

The May Queen entered upon the scene wearing a long green robe, as the fairy queen. Her fairy subjects accompanied her performing a woodland dance. Those taking the part of fairies were Margaret Bedome, Catherine Boyton, Marvina Jones, Chloe Vincent, Alice Hillgren, Ursula Rogers and Margaret Wood.

Women Choose Queen
The May Queen was chosen by the votes of the Associated women students a month ago but her identity was not revealed until the program.

Renata Maccianti played the part of Ysabel convincingly in the dramatization of "Little Pagan Beggars." Mary Frances McKinney was Don Romero, the lover.

Spanish Dances Given
The dances given throughout the program were well executed and representative of old Spanish dances. Janine Rupertus, a student who has danced at the Hollywood Bowl and at Wilshire Ebbel's gave an interpretive Spanish dance. "La Allegres" Four group dances were given including "La Contra Dansa," "La Cucaracha," Spanish waltz and "La Jota."

Leading characters in the pageant were Renata Maccianti, Mary Frances McKinney, Wilma Kiesner as the ship's captain; Nancy Clapp, Anne Forsythe and Loraine as Ysabel's three uncles; Frances Jane Miller as the commandante; Blanche (Continued on Page Two)

Phelps Plans Elimination of Bumpy Streets

During the summer months the roads on this campus are to be resurfaced and filled in with oiled gravel composition, according to the plans of President Clarence L. Phelps.

A large parking space will be made at the rear end of the auditorium and parking near classrooms is to be eliminated.

"The materials that we will use in resurfacing the roads on our campus are very inexpensive and in keeping with the reduced budget. We are attempting to keep expenditures for campus improvements as low as possible with the idea of reserving most of the funds for the new Leadbetter site," said President Phelps.

The roads as they are at present are almost worn down to the rock layer and hence are in poor condition for motorists and pedestrians as well. Coarse gravel will be used to fill in crevices and later, a layer of asphalt and crushed gravel will be put on the roads making them serviceable and smooth.

"By making parking spaces at the rear end of the auditorium we can put an end to the noise of cars starting by classrooms. The starting of cars makes the most noise and when they are parked at quite a distance from classrooms there will not be much danger of disturbances from this source," added President Phelps.

The new building is nearly finished and will be used for classes next fall.

Concerning new classes to be offered next fall President Phelps said that probably there would be few changes until the college is placed on the new site.

Gridders to Play on Turf Field in Fall

A turf field at last! This is what has been promised to the 1935 football team for next season. Fred Allred, student controller, announced today that the football games for the next season are scheduled to be played on the new Laguna Sports field.

The building of the field was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of commerce and the improvements on it are making rapid progress toward completion. A ten foot fence has been built and painted and the seed for the turf was planted last week, under the direction of Mr. Hartfeldt, head of the City park department. Bids have also been sent out by the city for a sprinkling system.

Mr. Dobson, city electrician, is preparing specifications for a lighting system when installed, will illuminate the field suitably for both football and baseball. "This new field will give the college an excellent field for football and baseball and will put both sports on a much higher plane," stated Mr. Allred.

Phelps Expresses Congratulations

As the college year is nearing a close, I want to express to the student body my personal appreciation of the improved support of curricular activities. It is one thing to start off in the fall with plenty of enthusiasm, and quite another to come to the end of the year with an undiminished supply.

So often there is a tendency to let down and even to be careless about participation as the year draws to a close. I am particularly gratified with the results in sports and other activities in the latter part of the year. I believe this tendency to persist in well-doing unto the end argues well for the future. I am looking forward to a banner year next year.

Again I say congratulations on the results of this year.
Signed
President Phelps

Students Talk on Armaments at Assemblage

Debating on the topic, "Resolved that the Nations of the World Should Prevent the Shipment of Munitions," four State college students presented their arguments before the regular meeting of the student body held last Tuesday morning.

On the affirmative side of the question were Elizabeth Denman and Garlyn Basham while the negative was taken by William Ogle and Bernice Thomas. Each speaker was given five minutes in which to present his points and a shorter period was allowed for rebuttals.

Garlyn is a former winner of the national oratorical contest which is conducted annually over the entire United States. He was also a member of the present debate team which defeated Redlands, college winners of debate. William Ogle is at present manager of dramatic and debate at State and was also a member of the debate team which won over Redlands this year. Both Elizabeth and Bernice are comparatively new to debate as they have only had a semester of oratorical work.

This was the first time that a debate has been presented before a student body meeting this year. The contest was in charge of William Ogle and Rea McPeak who introduced the speakers.

Martin Verhoeven, president of the senior class, announced that orders for senior caps and gowns should be in as soon as possible and that senior announcements had arrived and could be obtained from the Co-op store.

All students were invited to attend a meeting of the budget committee which is to be held this Thursday in the student body office.

INT. RELATIONS CLASS SPONSORS CHINESE DINNER

Fourteen members of the class in International Relations in the Far East attended the Chinese dinner given at Shanghai Low's cafe on East Cota street last Wednesday night.

Dr. Frederick Ganzert, instructor of International Relations, was sponsor of the affair. The dinner, consisting of chow mein, egg fu yang and rice, was arranged by Marie Van Boven.

Members of the class and guests who attended the dinner were Dorothy Movius, Ethel Cornelius, Carolyn Saruer, Grace Fritsch, Arline Tweedy, Rea McPeak, Jack Murray, Leonard Fisher, Larry Morgan, Bob Moore, Bill Ogle, Bob Krause, Eliseo Hermosa and Dr. Frederick Ganzert.

INITIATION AND ELECTION HELD BY ALPHIGAMS

Alpha Phi Gamma journalism fraternity, met last Wednesday evening at the home of Doris Coker on Loma Street for the dual purpose of election of next year's officers and initiation of new members. Paul Woods, taken into the fraternity that evening was elected president of the organization.

Those formally initiated were Rea McPeak, Peggy Koepf and Paul Woods.

Ericson Conducts Program

High School Grads Gather to View Local Campus

Program Is Arranged

Campus Seniors to Assist Ericson in Tour

This afternoon at 1:45, the men students who are graduating from Santa Barbara and Carpinteria high schools will be entertained on our campus in order that they might learn some of the advantages of this college. The graduating college men and some of the faculty will act as hosts for the occasion.

Ashworth to Speak
According to Mr. Ericson, head of the industrial education department and chairman of the publicity committee for the college. "The meeting will start in the auditorium where Dean William Ashworth will make a speech that will cover the offerings of Santa Barbara State, after which the men's musical organization will present the band and glee club in a program that should give the high school graduates a better idea of college activities.

"Following the assembly program the men will be shown around the campus by members of State's graduating class," said Mr. Ericson.

First Program
Due to the fact that State has always been a teachers college a program like this could not be carried out because there are comparatively few people who wish to attend that sort of an institution. This marks the first year that it has been attempted with the men students, although the women have been entertained by a tea every year.

Mr. Harvey Holt, principal of Santa Barbara high, and Mr. Jesse Hawley, principal of Carpinteria high school have cooperated with Mr. Ericson in putting over this new activity.

Home economics majors have been entertaining various woman's groups about town during the past week.

A talk was given last Thursday afternoon before members of the Community league at the Neighborhood House by Kay Case, member of the home economics department, on the manufacture of hosiery.

Five students of Miss Winifred M. Frye's advanced textile class recently took part in a panel discussion at a meeting of a study group of the University Woman's club in the home of Mrs. Sydney Anderson. The women discussed efforts to bring about legislation for a better form of textile and garment labeling.

Participants were Beth Blodgett, Mildred Ewart, Esther Goss, Nazine Kazian, Mildred Rohrs and Miss Frye.

EBBETS HONORED AT LUNCHEON BY H. E. CONCLAVE

Charlotte P. Ebbets, head of the home economics department, was the honored guest at the Southern California Home Economic association, at a luncheon held at the Woman's Athletic club in Los Angeles, Saturday, May 18.

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar of State acted as toastmistress for the occasion. Miss Winifred Frye, head of the domestic arts department, and Miss Edith Churchill of Whittier, a former instructor at this institution, were among the guest speakers. Evelyn Brown, Ruth Brubaker and Helen Buckley of the college sang a song honoring Miss Ebbets.

Those students from State who attended the affair, were Evelyn Steinmeier, Jean Smith, Lois Jo McPheeters, Josephine Newstetter, and Alberta Green, and several alumnae.

School Publicity Negligent

It is hardly necessary to point out the need for a publicity department on this campus. Any student who reads the local or out of town newspapers realizes that Santa Barbara State college is not receiving its deserved share of the limelight created by articles in newspapers and other periodicals.

If a publicity department headed by an efficient and capable director, could be put in operation here, we feel that it would be of unheard value to the school. Every student activity would benefit from such an organization, and the receipts of all plays, programs and other performances would undoubtedly increase.

It is not the fault of the outside newspapers that this publicity is not printed, most papers are glad to print any item that they receive, but there is no person directly responsible for the issuing of the news and consequently no one bothers to see that it is done.

We realize that this would be a big job and a heavy load for any person's shoulders, but we feel that with an efficient man at the helm backed by a good staff the department could become one of the most valuable phases of student body activities.

This idea might well be incorporated in the new constitutional revision, since it is of immediate necessity to the school.

Uncover New Use for Quad

Something really new was reached in the avenue of social functions at the recent student body dance held in the quad. The perfect moonlight night and the clear, warm weather was all that sponsors of the dance could hope for. It was a grand success and it is a shame that more of the social minded students did not attend.

The idea for the function can be traced back to latter part of last year when the promoters of the "Farmer's Formal," having established a tradition for the sophomore class, were looking for a new idea for the creation of a dance tradition for the junior class. Garlyn Basham, the junior class president, did an excellent job of carrying on, we think, in the absence of the originators.

We are of the opinion, however, that the possibilities of the event are still untouched, with a better organization for the producing of the dance, a semi-annual affair could be made the most outstanding of the year. For instance, lighting effects and types of decoration are innumerable, capacity for people is virtually unlimited, a better placement of the orchestra will benefit the acoustics and dancing space, and the use of garden furniture on the lawn would add a pleasing touch.

In another year we hope the dance can be

Art—Music—Drama

By C. BRUCE TOMLINSON

All music has three components, the instrument, the composer, and the interpreter. The concert by the Los Angeles Symphony last Tuesday evening illustrated how complex this formula may become. First, the instrument was a composite of 85 musicians and of infinite kaleidoscopic potentialities. Second, the composers programmed included Wagner, Tchaikowsky, Debussy, and Schubert, illustrative of four schools of music. Thirdly, Otto Klemperer, the distinguished German conductor, was the masterly interpreter.

Beginning with the ethereal Prelude to Act I of Lohengrin, the concert continued with the brief but brilliant Prelude to Act III. It was in this latter number that we first noticed Klemperer's individual stamp in the clarity and directness with which the separate sections of the orchestra voiced their parts — qualities which added new force and meaning to this number; qualities which marked every interpretation of the evening. Tchaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet Overture" swept along in the composer's stirring and passionate style, and here the conductor raised his orchestra to effective climaxes which he balanced with delicate pianissimo passages. Debussy's "Iberia" closed the first part of the program. One cannot describe impressionistic music, especially where the pictures are so softly colored and slightly blurred as here. Like impressionistic art, the response awakened in the individual determines his enjoyment, and surely no one could have failed to find a glimpse of at least a few familiar images in this delicately orchestrated work.

It seemed a bit difficult to return after the intermission to Schubert's Seventh Symphony, and to an orchestra less colorfully instrumented and bound by less exotic harmonies. For those less appreciative of modern trends it was a pleasure to leave the concert with more satisfactory sounds in their ears; while those who favor the newer harmonies could not have been insensitive to the sturdy allegro, the melodious andante, the delicate scherzo, and glorious finale.

Before leaving the subject of orchestra, we would like to mention San Francisco's latest move. This last month the city voted to add one half cent per $100 assessed valuation to their taxes to be used as a nucleus fund for the support of their orchestra. This is of vital importance, for it is the first city in this country to subsidize their orchestra in that manner, although it has become a common practice in Europe for many years.

even more successful than this year's affair, and that the dance will remain as a tradition of the juniors annual semi-formal dance.

Many Attend May Program

Seward as his wife and Janine Rupertus, the dancer.

The costumes used in the pageant were colorful and appropriate to the theme of the program. Lorraine Koehly was general chairman of the affair and was assisted by several committees. Miss Gladys Van Fossen and Mrs. Winifred Hodgins were faculty sponsors.

Many Participate

Other members of the cast acted as flower girls, peons, pirates and Spanish people. The peons were Dorothy Darrow, Eileen Ellsworth and Frances Hoelscher; pirates, Olive DeMotte, Helen Grady, Catherine Boyton, Clara Ross, La Rue Steelsmith and Dorothy Taylor; Spanish ladies, Elise Clifford, Ethel Greené, Marjorie Hoffman, Frances Kenney, Irene Samson, Lorraine Sartwell, Anne Seymour and Miriam Turton; Spanish, gentlemen, Jeanette Banks, Violet Barnett, Dorothy Crookham, Niva Freeman, Jane Goslin, Phyllis La Source and Eleanor Porter.

Music for the program was given by Lola Cooper and Pearl Smead playing violins and Muriel Brown at the piano.

The woman's glee club sang "May Morning."

"First you put in whiskey to make it strong; then you add water to make it weak; you put in lemon to make it sour; then add sugar to make it sweet. You say 'Here's to you,' then drink it yourself." This isn't original. It's copied from the Reader's Digest—but isn't it clever?

From that same magazine we get: "An intelligent girl is one who can refuse a kiss without being deprived of it." Figger it out for yourself. I've been trying it!

Say! This Tim Thomas—"Irish" Duncan affair is coming along right nicely, and, according to Tip "2304 State Street" Willis, they all but hold hands in math class. Well! Well!

Where's "Goldy" Goldsmith these days? We haven't heard him around for some time!

According to a recent report from the elementary education department, Laurence "Brick" Connell has invented a new way to make coffee—and also Bob Moore is dying to know why Dot Ritchie didn't play baseball at the picnic. Why, Dot?

100 Guests Attend Delta Zeta Delta Tea

Over one hundred guests attended the annual tea given on Sunday afternoon by the alumnae of Delta Zeta Delta at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abraham, patron and patroness of the sorority. The honored guests were the mothers, faculty of the State College and presidents of social clubs on the campus.

The affair was under the direction of Miss Rose Greenwell assisted by members of the alumnae. The house was beautifully decorated in the sorority colors and candle light was used throughout the rooms. Each guest was given a corsage.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. Clarence Phelps, Dr. Elizabeth Bishop, Mrs. Laura S. Price, Mrs. Edith Leonard.

"T.L." Woodstock (Minnie to us) has fallen in love again. This time she's being rather secretive as to who de guy is—and are we dying to know!

We heard that when "Gump" Gumpertz was supposed to recite the Greek alphabet at Frat meeting, he gave it as follows: "Alpha—2—Omega." Only Gump's originality could be responsible for that.

Personalities

By DORIS COKER

We have discovered that: Betty Walker was born on September 17, 1913 in Pomona, California, and that her home is still in Pomona. That she attended Pomona high school. That while in high school she was president of the Girl's league. That she was a member of the honor society for three years. That she was active in dramatics and debate. That she was the founder of the Pomona Junior league and was president of it for a year. That she was the vice-president of the honor society in high school. That she has attended Santa Barbara State college just this year but is already vice president elect of the college. She plans to graduate here. That she is majoring in art and hopes to teach it.

That her hobby is collecting types of potted cactus and waving at strange airplane pilots.

Final Splurge!

Intramural sports will give their final gasping breath between now and the end of school by settling the golf and softball championships. The golf tournament will be run off next Saturday after being postponed for a week; and all the bat and ball artists will do their stuff in an elimination tournament beginning next week. The Frösh, due to their already outstanding record of having won the intramural championships for the volleyball, basketball, track, as well as swimming, hold the lime light as the favorites for the diamond champs.

Johnnie Arambide, "Iron man," "Whittier's gridiron flash," "Poet's stellar net-swisher," "Arambide stars" and now as the athletic season for the year is drawing to a close, Johnnie has upheld his average and won top honors in the baseball circles as the holder of the highest batting average in the conference. The unofficial record is .530 as compared to State's highest, "Swede" Keith, at .353, which by the way is no chump average in any ball league.

Keep ON YOUR TOES

Foot Delights are just the shoes to have good times in. There are styles for every kind of good time—formal, informal, or what have you. And in every one you'll find the ever-present "magic" of the famous Foot Delight Cushion to guard constantly against fatigue.

LARCHMONT. Two shoes in one. Remove the bow and the effect is completely different yet equally smart. $8.50

1935 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Nine Makes Fine Record for Season

After three lean years of competition in the Southern conference, the Santa Barbara State college baseball varsity has at last broken the ice and finished near the top in the final standings. The Gauchos horseholders, coached for the first time by "Spud" Harder have just completed their 1935 schedule and tabulations show that they were second in a fairly close conference race, being topped only by the terrible Tigers from Occidental.

The Gauchos dropped both their games with the Tigers. Mert Miller, leading pitcher of the locals, chucked both contests, and held the Bengals in check, but ragged fielding cost the Staters a possible championship. The only other league encounter the Gauchos dropped was to Redlands in an out of town game. Poor fielding again cost them victory. However, they came into their own by taking the second game with Redlands, and nabbing double victories from Whittier and La Verne colleges.

The Harder men also played six games that were not league affairs. In the season's opener, they came from behind to administer a 7-4 licking to the Ventura junior college nine on the southerner's field. Don Fisher chucked effectively for the locals. The next day the Hill-toppers journeyed north and whipped Santa Maria junior college by a 12-5 count. Mert Miller started out on the mound and kept the situation well in hand until the seventh inning. Here Julio Bortolazzo took over and finished the Gauchito pitching duties. Later in the season a decidedly superior barnstorming squad from San Jose State took a 9-2 game on Cabrillo field. Chapman college eked out narrow wins in both of the games with Santa Barbara, although they were out-hit two to one in each fracas. The first game was played in Los Angeles, and ended 4-3. The second was played here, the score being 7-5. Playing all the men on the squad, Coach Harder's charges defeated for the second time the Santa Maria junior college team, in a game played on the home field late in the season.

All but one of the home games were played to fair-sized crowds at Cabrillo field. The season's finale

State Football Aces Practice for Next Year

Attired only in swimming trunks, about 35 Gauchito gridiron greats of the past and future began to work out last Monday on the sandy stretches of East beach, as Coach "Spud" Harder got the second half of his spring football practice program under way. The first half was held about a month ago, and was devoted to practice in fundamentals, while the present sessions find Coach Harder giving his '35 machine new plays and formations and polishing up on the old ones. The workouts are held every afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock, and will continue to June 3.

Some of the boys are being tried in positions they have not played before, in order that their weight and speed may be used to the best advantage. As a result, it looks as though the team that trots out on the field for the opening game next fall will be the biggest and fastest ever to represent the Olive and White. Coach Harder is trying Joe Nightingale, a 190 pounder who carved out at tackle last year, at full-back. Joe proved that he was one of the fastest men in the Southern conference during the track season just past. Barney Swanson, up from the frosh, where he performed at fullback, is being given a chance at the varsity quarterback job.

with Chapman took place on Pershing park diamond.

Highlights of the season: Julio Bortolazzo letting a fly-ball hit him on the head during a practice. . . Shirley Keith and Skeeter Voorhies playing "Alphonse and Gaston" on a fly ball in left center field the last La Verne game. . . twenty runners being left stranded on the paths in this game contest, which ended 3-2. . . Rezy's gory accident at third base in the La Verne game. . . Keith's and Ike Kahn's three hits apiece in the first Chapman game. . . Mert Miller's steady pitching throughout the season. . . Bortolazzo's three hits (all to the infield) in the last game. . . Rezy's innumerable "tear-the-cover-off" dribblers down the third base line. . . Jimmy Lebeck's and Kahn's double play to save the Redland's game. . . Joe Robinson finding his batting eye that wasn't pressing his batting eye that wasn't present at the start of the season, and batting over .500 for the last four games. . . Sleepy Morris and Pete Hathaway being called upon as utility men to play every position on the field between them. . . Ed Christiansen's spear of a hard liner that would have meant runs scored in the Ventura game. . . Don Fisher's consistent rapping of the horsehide. . . almost perfect fielding by Keith and Voorhies. . . Hi Stanley chucking effectively in the last Santa Maria game. . . Rezy's home run over the Whittier fence.

SHIRLEY KEITH TAKES VARSITY HITTING HONORS

Shirley "Swede" Keith, slugging center fielder, has ended his college athletic career by topping his baseball teammates in the race for team batting honors for the 1935 season, having rolled up a nifty average of .353. Keith also led the squad in basehits with a total of 18. Don Fisher trailed second in both departments, with a season's average of .315 as a result of 17 safe blows. These two men were the only two to end above the .300 mark. Bortolazzo finished strong with three safeties in the final game to raise his average to .286, while Rezzonico pounded out enough hits to amass a .275 mark.

Although Fisher finished with the best average, Mert Miller was the real leader of the pitchers, because he worked in more games. Miller came out on top five times in nine starts, while Fisher copped two out of three tilts.

Final averages:

	Pitching
	Games	Won	Lost
Miller	9	5	4
Fisher	3	2	1
Bortolazzo	5	1	1

	Batting

WOMEN HOLD BANQUET
Friday, June 7 is the date set for the annual W.A.A. spring banquet, which is to be held at El Paseo. Further information, in regards to the program and awards will be announced at a later date.

At the University of Arkansas (Fayetteville) the average students spent about 4 hours a week reading newspapers, magazines and books.

Six Teams Vie in Battle for Diamond Title

"Intramural baseball is coming along fine. We have six teams entered so far and there is plenty of competition and spirit," said Bun O'Reilly, chairman of the intramural athletic board.

Instead of the round robin tournament which is the method generally used to run off such sports a "play as you win plan" has been adopted by the intramural committee. This plan provides for each team to play until it loses and as each team comes out on the short end of the score it is eliminated from the tournament.

This plan was adopted because of the short time left for the teams to play in. As there are six teams, 30 games would have to be played which would mean that some teams would be playing each night of the week. All players cannot play every night so the aforementioned plan was adopted.

The games are to be played on the grass field below the gym. Games are to be played during the noon hour and after school, according to tentative plans. Pershing park was considered as a possible diamond but it was decided that it was too far away.

All students are invited to come out and watch the games, and any organization is eligible to enter a team although no man may play on two teams at the same time. Teams entered are Tau Omega, Beta Sigma Chi, Sig Alphas, Anacapa club, Freshmen, and Varsity.

PLANS SET FOR ARCHERY MEET

Plans for an open archery tournament have been made by Margaret Rodriguez, head of this sport. The tournament is scheduled to be held at Manning's field, in Montecito, Saturday, June 1.

The first event which is the Columbian Round, will start at ten o'clock. Individual box luncheons will be brought by each guest. The afternoon program, consists of the Flight and Clout shoot.

Any man or woman interested in competing in this tournament should sign up on the bulletin board in the gym this week.

Five Out of Nine Contests Slated for Home Grounds

The 1935 complete varsity football schedule of five home games, three out of town contests and one fracas the place of which has not been definitely set yet, was announced today by "Spud" Harder, head football coach. A game with San Francisco State college is included in this schedule, but it is not known at the present time whether the two teams will meet in San Francisco or in Santa Barbara.

The season will be officially opened on the night of September 21 when the Gauchos tangle with the local Athletic club eleven. Highlights of the season will include a game with San Diego State in the southern city on October 5, a game with the U.S.C. Spartans here October 12, and the annual Redlands battle the following week.

The homecoming game with La Verne is scheduled for the new Laguna field in the afternoon on October 26.

The final and undoubtedly the toughest game of the year will also be played on the new field the afternoon of November 16, against Whittier.

The complete 1935 varsity schedule: Sept. 21—Santa Barbara Athletic club; here.

Sept. 27—Cal-Tech; here.
Oct. 5—San Diego State college; San Diego.
Oct. 12—U.S.C. Spartans; here.
Oct. 19—Redland university; Redlands.
Oct. 26—La Verne (homecoming); here.
Nov. 2—Occidental college; Eagle Rock.
Nov. 9—San Francisco state; Undecided.
Nov. 16—Whittier college; here.

Juniors Fete Grads With Formal in Quad

Multi-colored lights, soft music and a yellow moon cooperated on Saturday evening with the junior class and social committee to make the annual junior prom, held in the quad, the success that it was. Given by the juniors in honor of the seniors, the affair was made open to the student body, and inaugurated the idea of dancing on the cemented quad.

Fred Lambourne's orchestra supplied music for the dancing. It played from the platform above the fish pool. After the intermission Garlyn Basham, junior president, welcomed the guests, especially graduating seniors.

Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Harder, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carter. Dorothy Weber and Garlyn Basham took charge of arrangements.

The prom danced 'round the quad in organdie, dimity, prints, voiles, flowered crepes, lawn, but to the organdies go the option on gowns for that evening.

It's orchids to those women who acquired a tan to set off the summer colors; and olive oil, vinegar, and a spot in the shade to those who gained old Sol's plain tomato red.

I OBSERVED:

That the quad is the nicest place yet for a dance according to the general consensus of opinion.

Bud Lambourne audibly admiring Mary Melano's sunburn at the dance on Saturday night.

That the Oakes-Phillips combination is still on.

Beta Sigma Chi Sponsors Dance at Country Club

Staging their annual spring formal, members and guests of Beta Sigma Chi, social fraternity, will dance to the music of Frank Greenough's nine-piece orchestra, Saturday evening, May 25, at the Montecito country club.

Arrangements for the affair are in charge of Dick Brothers, social chairman, assisted by Leo Butts and Bill Hoyt.

About 25 fraternity men are expected to attend the dance. Invitations have been extended to all the alumni of the fraternity.

Favors to be given at the dance are being secured from the Balter company of Massachusetts.

Several members of the faculty, and Mr. Earl Walker, sponsor of the group, have been invited to attend.

University of Michigan (Ann Arbor) students recently voted to continue the N.R.A. for two more years.
