School Publicity Negligent

It is hardly necessary to point out the need for a publicity department on this campus. Any student who reads the local or out-of-town newspapers realizes that Santa Barbara State college is not receiving deserved share of the spotlight created by articles in various and other periodicals.

If a publicity department headed by an effi cient and capable director, could be put in operation here, we feel that it would do much to raise the value of the school. Every student necessarily, through such an organization, and the receipts of all plays, programs, and publications, to attend to the school. It is a fact that the outside newspapers that this publicity it is printed, most papers agree to a point, that the school is not getting its worth, but there is no one person directly respon- sible for the raising of the more, and consequently, to be held to that it is done.

We realize that this would be a big job and a heavy load for any person's shoulders, but we feel that with an efficient publicity department, backed by a good staff the department could become a most valuable phase of regular school activities.

This idea for the function can be incorporated in the new constitution that, since it is not im- mediately necessary for the school.

Unseen One Use for Quad

It is not generally known that the quad, the center of campus activities, is also the most lucrative source of revenue from the avenue of social functions in the recent student body activities.

The idea for the function can be traced back to the latter part of last year when the promoters of Eastman's quad in the quad. The perfect avenue of social functions at the recent student body activities.

Art—Music—Drama

All music has three components, the instru- ment, the artist, and the interpreter. The present by the Los Angeles Symphony last Tuesday evening illustrate how lovely this formula may become. First, the instrument was a world-known Wurlitzer organ, second, the composer, Debussy, and finally, the interpreter, Tuten, the distinguished German conductor, was in charge.

Beginning with the effective Prelude to Act II of “La Boheme,” the concert continued with the brilliant Preludes to Faith in Art. III. It was in this noble manner that we first listened to Debussy’s harrowing struggle in the clergy and diocesan world with which the symphony begins of the new, and to which to that of the evening. Tutschoschke’s “Re- veille” followed. It was a very musical composition, and the mood of the symphony seems to be the only one that is effective when he’s in the mood of the orchestra.
