Tom White, Glenn Mulaney and Bob Wooldridge, three-year lettermen, will each receive a blanket while Fred Lloyd chose a white sweater for an award. Twenty one-year lettermen will be given white sweaters and nine will be given one-year awards.

GAUCHOS WILL MEET BRUINS— GET TICKETS

On January 27th, the Gauchos basketballers will meet UCLA in the Men's Gym there. Tickets for the game can be bought for 75 cents at the Graduate Manager's office. If purchased at UCLA they will cost $1.50. Student Body cards must be presented for admission to the game regardless of where tickets are purchased.

THE TRIED AMERICAN TRADITION

On the editorial page of this issue are printed two attempts by an anonymous faction to coerce students and faculty to action on alleged flagrant violations of the University grading system. They say that professors are not grading on the curve. They say and intimate many more things and conclude their propaganda by threatening the administration. Their questionnaire is a form of mass psychology; they know that to the average student the administration is a "scapegoat" for scholastic frustration.

Are they afraid to reveal themselves? For that matter, are they students? What action do they hope to get by submitting illegal material to the University?

El Gaucho has violated editorial policy in publishing anonymous material; however, we feel that you, the student, should know the issue so that you may think and act INTELLIGENTLY.

Read this material carefully, keeping sight of the fact that it is anonymous and unauthorized; select those points you feel have a direct bearing on the problem of grading system improvement; exchange your ideas with other students; and submit your collective suggestions by petition or by signed letter to the faculty.

THIS is the only way to get action. THIS is the "tried American tradition."

McCutcheon, Snyder Set Pace for 8 Out of 10 Wins for Gauchos

By Don Humphreys

Santa Barbara's high-flying basketballers were riding the crest of a 6-game winning streak today by virtue of their double victory over Fresno State College and Occidental last week-end, and all indications pointed toward a packed house tomorrow night at the Armory when Wilton's men do battle with the classy Santa Maria Dukes, one of the best amateur outfits on the coast.

Santa Maria will probably be the best team to show on the Armory floor this winter. Composed of outstanding college players, among them ex-Gaucha stars Harvey Hubler, Quentin Sims, Charley Jones, and Bob Sherman, and playing the best AAU competition to be had, the Dukes have an imposing record of 8 straight wins, one of these being over Stewart Chevrolet, the second strongest AAU squad in the West.

This Friday night, the Blue and Gold will go after their second straight league triumph when they travel to Fresno to take on Dutch Warmerdam's uninspiring Bulldogs.

Saturday's game with Oxy will go into the book just as a 51-49 victory for the Gauchos, but the last ditch rally staged by the locals will live long in the memories of ardent casaba fans as one of the

STUDENT WELFARE QUESTIONNAIRE

Printed below are a letter and questionnaire being circulated on campus. The letter has been sent to Provost Williams and faculty members. The questionnaire has been sent to fraternities, sororities and living groups. El Gaucho prints them both so that the Student Body as a whole may judge their merits:

Dear Sir:
We the unsigned, in accordance with a tried American tradition, do hereby present you with a list of grievances for which we request remedy.

In general, it is recognized that this institution has a definite Grading Policy and that it is on a par with other universities in the nation. Specifically, this policy is not being carried out.

Cases have come to our attention where approximately 50 per cent of the enrollment of upper division classes received failure notices at the mid-term.

Many instructors no longer give tests back to the student for study and improvement.

It is no wa rare instance when the results of tests are posted publicly.

Many instructors flatly refuse to discuss their tests. Others invite the student to an office for discussion and then make themselves unavailable.

Many instructors no longer keep their appointed office hours.

Many Subjective Type Tests are given without evident of any standard scale being applied in the scoring.

There is little indication that the publicized Grade Curve Policy of last year is being used. Class "curves" rise high below the Median and drop sharply upon reaching the upper brackets.

Many signs point toward a system of intentional low grading as an attempt to stimulate more study. This is leading to frustration among students who are already working to full capacity. This frustration soon progresses to contempt and lack of confidence in the instructor.

There is no need to point out to you that these acts are all directly oposed to the best educational methods.

We are sure that you can correct this matter. May we suggest that you make these corrective steps immediately public so that we can disband with a feeling of security in the future of our college careers.

Thank you.

STUDENT'S WELFARE LIMITED.

P. S. Please believe that we are determined to secure action in this matter; action of a lasting nature.

DIRECTIONS

1. Be serious, don't make a joke of this matter.
2. Consider each question carefully before answering.
3. If you feel in need of more information consult the library for educational references on best teaching and grading methods.
4. Remember . . . an instructor will not be lax on all of the points listed or he could not have reached this level of instruction.
5. PRINT a "yes" or a "no" before questions that apply.
6. DO NOT WRITE or leave your handwriting anywhere on this form.
7. DO NOT SIGN this form or put a return address on envelope.
8. If a simple "yes" or "no" will not serve as an answer then put on "Re" in the space before the question and PRINT in more detail in the sace provided for remarks. Identify by carrying over the number of the question.
9. Preserve all records of your activity in this course, i.e., tests, quizzes, papers, study outlines, names of students that you have studied with, lecture notes, etc.
10. Make two copies of form for each course for which you are requesting improvement. Mail one copy to: J. Harold Williams, Provost, Univ. of Cal., Santa Barbara. Mail the other to: Robert Gordon Sproul, Pres., Univ. of Cal., Berkeley, Cal.

REQUEST FOR IMPROVEMENT IN INSTRUCTION

1. Do you know that about 280 students received disqualification notices at the end of the Fall Semester in 1948-1949?

Much Ado by Jerry Noble

A group of collegiate misfits, calling themselves Students' Welfare Limited, are attempting to initiate a movement against the grading and teaching methods of the faculty . . . methods which they deem to be unfair.

These sophomoric individuals, afraid to reveal their identity, have been writing threatening letters to the Provost and Faculty and have now sent out questionnaires to members of the Student Body. They want these questionnaires filled out and sent to Provost Williams and to President Sproul. They tell us not to sign the sheets.

The letter to Provost Williams (printed in full on this page) begins: "We the unsigned, in accordance with a tried American tradition, do hereby present you with a list of grievances for which we request remedy."

Since when has it been a tried American tradition to write brave letters demanding action, and then being too cowardly to sign them?

There are complaints in the letter that may be valid. If the anonymous individuals have been denied knowledge of their test scores, if their instructors have refused to see them and have refused to discuss their tests, they are right in protesting. But why don't they make their protests properly? Why don't they see their counsellor, the head of the instructor's department, the Deans of Men and Women, the Dean of their division, the Provost himself . . . why don't they see these people and tell them their problems?

They don't dare.

They are poor students who are attempting to rationalize their own lack of effort. If there are students in this college who are working to full capacity and are not getting passing grades they should not be here. If they are frustrated and have contempt for their instructors, it is because they do not have the necessary intelligence to finish college and they know it.

The most puerile thing about the letter is the brave little postscript. What action "of a lasting nature" can a group of people afraid to sign their names to their complaints hope to take? Assassination?

If I did not know better I might think that the questionnaire (also printed on this page) was prepared by the Psychology Department. It could be corrected to show that a person completing it was psychoneurotic and had a first class persecution complex.

However, if you think that the questions are legitimate and pertain to your own situation, by all means complete the questionnaire. But send it to the instructor himself. Let him know the faults he has. If he is a real teacher he will try to correct them.

If Students' Welfare Limited has anything to say to the above comments or to the Student Body at large, El Gaucho will be happy to publish their letters. It is doubtful if they will be heard from, however. In order to be published, letters must be signed.

Dear Editor:

A bouquet of onions to the campus boy scouts who agitate for unity between the Cal campuses, yet never take any action on the subject. If you are merely looking for an issue into which to sink your teeth, may I suggest you look to the following:

When I sought admission into a Davis Aggie basketball game, I was told that they didn't honor Santa Barbara student body cards. After all the talk I'd heard about the "Brotherly Spirit" among the campuses, I was somewhat perturbed to receive no privileges when visiting another campus.

Since the tuition fee is uniform for all the campuses, why not have uniform student body cards for all U. of C. students, no matter where they are located? With that could go a special code of privileges to the students which would be extended to them on their own campuses and on any others which they may visit.

How can we have the "spiritual amity" for the other campuses unless we have actual grounds for such a feeling? So, until something is accomplished in this direction, let's have a little less eulogizing and a little more action.

Beret Amer.

Homan's Mix-ups Win Women's Volleyball

Homan's "Mix-ups," captained by Barbara Klein, took top honors in the recent women's volleyball tourney here on the Santa Barbara campus. The consolation round was won by Alpha Theta Chi, captained by Erlaine Gregory.

Runner-up in the championship round was Orendorfs. "Omi," from Chauncey's, took the runner-up position in the consolation bracket. Trophies were awarded in each division.

The tournament was entered by 16 teams and it is hoped even more will participate in next semester's basketball intramurals. Miss Jean Hodgkins is faculty sponsor for women's intramurals which are sponsored by the WAA.

Reynolds Issues Call for Racketmen

Coach Lyle Reynolds, faced with one of the weakest squads since the end of the war, is issuing a frantic call for tennis players to try out for the team when varsity tennis officially begins on Monday, February 13.

Any person who would like to play on the Santa Barbara tennis team this spring is urged to contact Reynolds either in his office, West Hall 110, or down at the Municipal Tennis Courts around 3 p. m. daily next semester.

Three lettermen, Dick Lessler, Don Tulley, and Arnold Funai, will bolster the team to some extent, but many positions are open on the squad, Reynolds emphasized. Bill Anderson, transfer from SFU and winner of the intramural singles crown this year, is expected to become eligible by spring as is Bob Chapman, last year letterman but presently ineligible.

A well-rounded schedule of play is anticipated, with the Gauchos meeting all 2C2A opponents except Fresno, and tentatively slating non-conference matches with Oxy, Pomona, Cal Teach, and San Francisco State, and a season opener here February 25 against the Loyola Lions.

Frosh Win 1, Lose 4 In Early Cage Games

A burst of scoring in the last few minutes of play led the Santa Maria Junior College Bulldogs to a 40-36 win over the Santa Barbara College Frosh quintet in a Saturday night tilt at the National Guard Armory. This was the third defeat in a row for the Frosh squad. On Wednesday the Frosh bowed to the Port Hueneme Seabees, 53-39, and on Friday to the National Guard by a 54-38 margin.

The Frosh were defeated once before by the Bulldogs. In the first game of the season the Bulldogs won by a close 39-34 count. Coach Tom Dailey's squad then bounded back to come from behind in a game with Camp Cooke which the Frosh took 49-44.

Both teams got off to a slow start in Saturday's game with Santa Barbara leading throughout the first half. Forward Tony Limas and Guard Pat Huglin led the Frosh to a 17-9 halftime margin. Limas scored 9 points and Huglin got 4.

Santa Maria Rallies

The two squads got a little warmer in the second half with the Frosh maintaining their lead until about midway in the half, when the Bulldogs finally took over with a 25-24 count on the efforts of Forward Jim Lucero. Huglin and Limas put the Frosh back into the lead by a 29-27 margin with six minutes to go.

With four minutes left in the half Santa Maria began to open up and Horne and Lucero pushed the Bulldogs into the lead with a 35-33 count. Lucero led the scoring for both squads with 16 points. Limas was the top man for the Frosh with 13 points followed by Huglin who got 9.

Guard Chuck Foster and Forward Quint Davis played outstanding defensive games for the Frosh. The Frosh's 6-foot 7-inch center, Jean Chauvel, had a bad night Saturday but made 10 points in

SAE Volleyballers Take Mural Tourney

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, sparked by the combination of Art Hess, Jack Laswell, Laird Stabler, Mario Codemo, Guido Del Ballo, George Schuler, Teo Rodriguez and Frank Mathew, came from behind to defeat Sigma Tau Gamma last week in two out of three games in the play-offs of the intramural volleyball tournament. Scores were 10-15, 15-8, and 15-12.

The victory marked the ninth win for SAE in the tourney, including a play-off win over Delta Tau Delta "A" to reverse their only previous setback.

The tournament, started on November 15 with 11 teams entered, was played at the Riviera campus three afternoons a week. A total of 100 students participated in 27 games under the supervision of Richard Kaywood, coordinator of intramural sports.

The fall semester's intramural activities, which also included touch football, swimming, tennis, and archery, have been concluded except for a few remaining tennis matches. The first major tournament of the spring semester will be basketball, and about 25 teams are expected to get under way by February 27.

Anderson Tennis Champ

Bill Anderson whipped Bill Swain, 6-0, 6-2, to win the intramural singles tennis championship Saturday. The semi-finals saw Anderson defeating Joe Karat, 6-3, 6-4, and Swain squeezing by Cal Corey, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. The doubles tourney will be finished this week, weather permitting, according to Lyle Reynolds.

Anyone, particularly PE majors, wishing to gain experience in basketball officiating, is urged to contact Director Kaywood before the intramural slate begins next month. Cage teams will play once a week, Monday through Thursday nights in the men's gym.

Wednesday's tilt to tie with Limas for scoring honors.

This Friday the Frosh take on San Luis Obispo JC at San Luis.

Cagers Take Fresno, Oxy in Week-end Tilts

greatest ever witnessed on the Armory hardwoods. Gene Snyder was the hero of the evening with 16 points for high man, the last two of them coming with just about 10 seconds to go and the Gauchos trailing, 47-45.

But this was the night for the kid—Allan Jacobs—to show the stuff he was made of, and he did, before a screaming, delirious audience that wouldn't be stilled. The sophomore guard, getting his big chance after Jack Moore had sprained his ankle Friday, coolly and confidently came through in the clutch time and again. He helped keep his team within striking distance all during the second half, and it was his sterling performance, more than any one thing, that eventually won the game for the Gauchos. "Jake" bagged 12 points, by far his best of the year, and working smoothly along with efficient Huddy Scott, the only man who seemed to be playing his normal game, the two set up the plays that beat the Tigers.

The Gauchos, trailing through most of the game, were behind 5-0 in the first few minutes, but managed a 25-25 tie at the half although clearly not themselves. Oxy stubbornly held on to a slim margin during second half play, but the Gauchos, apparently hopelessly beaten at 47-41 two minutes before the gun, miraculously fought their way into a tie, and in the five-minute overtime, sunk the winning buckets. Two free shots by McCutcheon, a key basket by Jacobs, and Snyder's under-the-backboard two-pointer, tied things up and gave Wilton's men time to catch their breath. It was anti-climatical after that as the partisan crowd seemed to sense that victory was theirs. Playing their first heads-up ball of the evening, the Hilltoppers went out ahead and held Oxy at bay to chalk up their sixth straight win, without question the toughest of the year.

Occidental, getting all the bad breaks during overtime, looked vastly improved, even in defeat, and deserved credit for fielding one of the best clubs seen here all year. Forward Gene Haas was in everybody's hair, bagging 19 points and playing sterling defense to prove himself the best player on the court.

Fresno Much Simpler

Friday night's game with Fresno looked like a sewing bee in comparison. Wilton's high-g geared machine was again slow to settle into stride, trailing 6-2 in the opening minutes of play; but this

By Don Humphreys
Sports Editor

I was rooting through the archives the other day when I stumbled upon a letter from Collier Magazine dated October 1 outlining a certain Mr. Francis Wallace's annual pigskin predictions.

Just to show you that football is as tough to predict as the actions of a woman, here's how Mr. Wallace's prognostications for the four games went awry:

"As for bowl prospects, the expert forecaster peered into his private bowl and came up with the following New Year's afternoon fare:

Rose Bowl—USC vs. Minnesota.

Sugar Bowl—Oklahoma vs. Tulane.

Cotton Bowl—Southern Methodist vs. Tennessee.

Orange Bowl—Mississippi vs. North Carolina."

Two Out of Eight

Well, as you can see, only two of his eight choices landed in the money. Oklahoma thrashed Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, 35-0, while Tulane, voted the flop of the year, watched their state brothers suffer. North Carolina, Wallace's other choice, made it to the Cotton Bowl but bowed, 27-13, to an inspired Rice squad. The Rose Bowl, of course, could very easily have ended up as predicted but instead the nod went to Ohio State and Cal. with the Buckeyes winning, 17-14. Miami's Orange Bowl saw the Santa Clara Broncos come from behind to score a stirring upset victory over Kentucky, 21-13, and prove themselves one of the very best elevens in the nation.

I guess it all goes to show only that Wallace and Gallup are in the same fix, and that both get paid so well for climbing out on limbs (and usually taking verbal beatings such as this for their efforts) that they and no one else actually care what happens. And those two guys probably were just looking for something to write about, much as I am right now.

CCAA Spartan-less

Effective June 1, 1950, the potent San Jose Spartans will no longer be a member of the CCAA, according to word received shortly before vacation from Glenn Hartranft, director of athletics. The Spartans, along with the College of Pacific Tigers, who dropped January 1, will schedule Bay area colleges in an attempt to obtain better competition, larger attendances, and less travel expense.

The 2C2A now consists of Santa Barbara, Cal Poly, Fresno State, San Diego State, and Pepperdine, the latter formally welcomed in on New Year's day.

SB Meets Bruins in Westwood Jan. 17

UCLA's vaunted Bruin cagers, boasting a string of 19 consecutive home-court victories, will play host to Santa Barbara's Gauchos on January 27 at the Westwood gym. The between-semester's battle will be the next on the Gaucho schedule after Friday's game at Fresno.

Composed of a starting line-up that usually finds Joeckel and Sawyer at forwards, Kraushaar at center, and Stanich and Sheldrake guarding, the powerful Bruins boast victories over Stanford and California, besides being the only Western team to whip CCNY and other strong Eastern squads during Christmas vacation.

In New Haven, George and Harry's is a favorite student gathering spot. At George and Harry's—Coca-Cola is the favorite drink. With the college crowd at Yale, as with every crowd—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Cagers Take Fresno, Oxy in Week-end Tilts

time they drew ahead 13-12 at the 10-minute mark and steadily increased their advantage to win with something in reserve. Bob McCutcheon was high with 16 and Snyder second with 11, but Scott and Otey Scruggs stole the show from the two Gauchos greats with their magnificent defensive play. Scott netted 8 points and Scruggs 6, on the offensive side, to garner runner-up scoring honors.

The refereeing, which was so great on Wednesday night, pulled an about-face in the Fresno game, but on the whole the game was not as rough, the Gauchos getting caught 17 times to Fresno's 23.

The Loyola Lions fell victim to the red-hot Gauchos on Wednesday night. With Snyder and McCutcheon again leading the way, Wilton's melonmen ran up a commanding 28-9 half-time margin and romped to a 61-31 triumph that condoned for the 40-point lacing handed them last year at Loyola.

Air-tight defense kept the highly vaunted and tricky Lions at bay throughout the game, and after the first few minutes of battle, the outcome was never in doubt.

Paddy Hill and Bernie Fox both played good ball and tied for third place scoring honors with 9 each. Sharp-eyed referees called 45 fouls on the two teams in what could be described as a fairly rough game.

Redlands Overtime

During vacation, the Gauchos five met an earlier opponent, Redlands, in a rematch, and this second game proved equally as tough for the locals to win. They needed Jack Moore's one-hander from the corner in the last 40 seconds to tie up the game, 46 all, and then go on to win, 52-49, in the five minute overtime on Moore's lay-in and four three throws.

McCutcheon was high scorer with 18 points and Moore followed with 13. Snyder sat out the game due to illness. The game was a thriller from start to finish, with the Bulldogs holding a 21-20 half-time advantage. The second half saw the lead change hands five times before the Gauchos finally got the nod at the wire.

Both Los Angeles State and Pomona Colleges proved soft touches in games played December 16 and 17 at the local armory. LA State was thumped, 53-37, on Friday night, and Pomona was soundly thrashed, 48-18, on Saturday.

McCutcheon led the scoring parade both nights with 10 and 15 digits, respectively. Wilton cleaned the bench in both contests as his cagers enjoyed comfortable half-time leads and coasted to their fifth and sixth triumphs of the campaign.

On December 12, the Gauchos quintet was eliminated by Pepperdine in the first round of the L. A. Invitational tourney. The Waves went on to sweep their own tourney and later enjoyed a fairly successful out-of-state tour. Pepperdine and the Santa Barbara Alums were the only two squads able to down the locals so far this season.
