Dr. Phillips Holds Evening Forum Talks

Scheduled for 8 this evening in the college auditorium is the first evening appearance of Dr. Hubert Phillips, Fresno State college educator, who has been speaking in special assemblies throughout the state all summer on the aims and methods of Forum Leadership.

Dr. Phillips' lectures on this campus, third hour Monday and fourth hour yesterday, have been attended by near-capacity audiences composed of both students and faculty members of the current Summer Session.

Town Meeting

Modeled on the old New England Town Meeting, the Forum will present an opportunity for complete and frank discussion of controversial social problems, according to Dr. Phillips.

It is hoped that a course in Forum Leadership will be added to the program of adult education carried on at present as part of the tax-supported public school system.

"This offers," said Dr. Phillips in his lecture Monday, "the best method of considering these problems because it fits so well into the field of education."

In his lecture yesterday, Dr Phillips outlined the qualities of a successful forum leader, setting forth six suggestions.

Requirements

Included in these were "respect for all sincere opinions and ideas, making most timid persons feel at ease, preference of objectivity rather than dogmatism, differentiation between fact and opinions, interest in human beings as reservoirs of experience and avoidance of opinionated men as forum leaders."

Demonstration lectures will be given tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the auditorium and student body card holders will be admitted free. Admission for others will be 50 cents. Last lecture will be presented Friday during second hour at a special assembly.

Equestrians to Ride Wednesday Nights

College equestrians enjoyed their first organized ride last night from 7 to 9 p. m. Vandever's riding stables have made a special rate for summer session students, who will ride as a group hereafter on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9.

A registration slip for those to sign who wish to ride will be maintained in the office of Don Follett, graduate manager.

Gauchos Await Campus Jamboree

Workshop Cast Begins Work

Rehearsals for the Division of Speech summer workshop play, "Caleb Stone's Deathwatch," began last night under the direction of Violet Glahn. The play is a one-act, slated for a student assembly performance.

The cast, as announced by Miss Glahn today includes Marjorie Merchant, Jean Haas, Helen Dixon, Herbert Loewenstein, Don Wootton, Bill Hurst, Tom Kelly, Willard May, and Ted Hanley.

One feminine role has not been cast and the student director urges any woman interested in playing in "Caleb Stone's Deathwatch" to see her or to report to the office of Frederic W. Hile, who is supervising the production.

Organization of a women's verse speaking choir was also announced today by Miss Glahn. The choir meets on Thursdays, fourth hour, in room 82. It is a flexible organization, capable of taking in many more members before its first public appearance before a college assembly, according to the director. Prospective participants in the choir activity are invited to attend the next regular meeting in Pine hall.

Pi Sigma Chi Holds Dinner

Mr. Will C. Mathews, Superintendent of Industrial Arts in the Oakland City schools, addressed a dinner meeting of Pi Sigma Chi, national industrial educational fraternity, held Monday night at the Barbara hotel.

Mr. Mathews' subject was "The Value of a Master's Degree in Industrial Arts." Ralph Heywood, faculty member of North Hollywood high school, also addressed the group. E. E. Ericson, State College Industrial Education department head, gave valuable supplement material in his speech to the guests.

Hugh A. Baird, faculty member, reported on findings of the committee appointed to investigate graduate work for Santa Barbara State college in the industrial arts field.

Other guests present included Marion A. Grosse, professor at Fresno State college and Mr. Fay Suiter of Tulare. 28 persons attended the dinner.

LOIS M. BENNINK, dean of women, as chairman of the social committee, will supervise arrangements for the second annual Campus Jamboree to be held Friday night on the campus.

Stone Requests Amateur Talent

"Talent scouts" are constantly on the lookout for hidden stage ability among the summer session personalities for the annual "amateur hour" which will be held Tuesday, August 6, fourth hour, climaxing the assembly program for the session.

Any student who wishes to appear on the program in a singing, dancing, reading or instrumental capacity is urged to contact Mr. Roy Stone, student body president.

Original ideas for skits and dramatic presentations are being solicited by the executive board. A first and second prize will be offered for each type of entertainment, providing that there are three entrants in each of the groups. If an act does not fall into a set classification, prizes will also be awarded for miscellaneous entrants.

"Cast all inhibition aside, and join in the fun and merriment to insure this hour's being the success this year that it has been in the past," is the word from Stone.

Social Committee Plans Full Evening Of Games, Movie

"Fun for all, and all for fun" will be the keynote of the second annual Campus Jamboree, Summer Session social event, which will be held on campus this Friday night, with the sports program beginning at 6 p. m.

With the varied program planned, each student will find some form of entertainment to his liking, according to Petie McKinney, social chairman. Badminton, table tennis, croquet, volleyball and baseball will be played from 6 until 7:30 p. m. At 7:45, a movie will be shown in the auditorium.

Talent Show

A talent show will also be presented which will include songs by Bob Rego, a dance by Maxine Sudbury, a dance by Janine Rupertus and many other numbers.

Students will adjourn to the quad at nine o'clock for a community sing, following which the social committee will serve doughnuts, coffee and chocolate. Dancing in the cafeteria will begin after refreshments are served, for those who wish to dance. Chess, Chinese checkers and bridge will be in full sway in the A. W. S. clubroom.

Advance Sign-up

Those planning to attend are asked to sign on the bulletin board in the administration building so that the social committee may estimate the number in serving refreshments.

Committees as appointed at the social committee meeting in the cafeteria Monday noon include Lester Clemons, program; Sue Baat, refreshments; Tommy Hart, sports; Dollie Emmons, community sing; and Willard May, movie.

Squabblers Meet, Elect Summer Heads

The Squabble Club, an organization perpetuated each summer among I. E. department students, met last Wednesday evening in room 80 to elect their officers for the summer. Those elected were T. W. Cole, president; H. W. Ormsby, secretary-treasurer and G. M. Mosher, sergeant-at-arms. Ralph Heywood, H. A. Baird and J. R. Archie will fill posts on the scholarship committee.

Squabblers will meet for a short session this evening from 7 to 8 in room 80 and then will adjourn to hear the lecture by Dr. Hubert Phillips in the auditorium.

Wednesday, July 10

Betimes up, with my habitual Wednesday morning preference to lay long abed. For it was one o'clock this morning when El Gauchito was put to bed. And so to my classes and to rehearsal in the quadrangle and I was amused at the amazement manifested by passersby at our antics. And so home and to dinner. And in the evening with sundry members of the social committee to survey the possibilities of Oak Park as a picnic ground. And there we found several students having a merry time dancing to the music of a public address system and so home and to bed.

Thursday, July 11

Up fifteen minutes late and was obliged to bolt my breakfast in order to reach school on time. But I did it. In the afternoon to the reading of "Life with Father" by Dean W. Ashworth. This has been a favorite book and play of mine and it suffered not at all in the reading by Dean Ashworth. And so home with time for little more than a hasty supper before rehearsal. So to the college and then to the city for a rootbeer night, then to the city for a rootbeer night, the actresses, and so home and to bed.

Friday, July 12

Up betimes and to school and in the afternoon with B. Shedd, the coed, S. Cohen, the tobacconist, and one or two others to the College Picnic. There we did disport ourselves at Badminton and other games so that we ate with hearty appetite. And I was pleased to see B. Burdick, the Stanford man, assisting with the purveying of food and drink and igniting fires for the cooking. And so to the dance pavilion, where I felt myself in a class above my own for there were many fine dancers there. And so, by devious paths, home and to bed, late.

Saturday, July 13

Up betimes, it seeming unlike Saturday, and to school. And I was weary all the day from the late hours I kept last night, so I am afraid I did not pay much heed to the wise words of my teachers. Home in the afternoon and I passed the time before dinner in sleep, which was very pleasant. In the evening at my studies and then I read in "The Diary of a Modern Samuel Pepys," being excerpts from the newspaper column of Franklin P. Adams (of Information Please fame), The Conning Tower. And I think this is one of the three best books I have read in a twelvemonth, though I would be hard put to it to name the other two. And so, early, to bed.

Sunday, July 14

Lay late and after a delicious breakfast of Persian melon and French toast and coffee, to my studies, at which I toiled until late in the afternoon when P. McKinney, an old friend, came around and we read humorous verse aloud. And so to her house for dinner which was excellent, I having a great appetite for roast lamb and green peas, though I was not bold enough to ask for a third helping of the latter which I should have enjoyed. And so to an informal party for Jean Smith and Clyde Cadwell, who were prominent in theatrical affairs here not so long ago. Thence home and to bed.

Monday, July 15

Up at four in the morning to take my brother to a place on the highway where a motorist or the driver of a truck might give him a ride, for he vowed he would hitch-hike to the World's Fair at San Francisco. So back to bed, chilled from driving in my night dress, and then up at seven. And so to my classes and to rehearsal and back to rehearsal in the evening. And I observed that C. Jorgenson, the actor, speaks all the time with an Irish brogue, not unmixed with a slight Scotch burr, for he will play the part of an Irishman in "The Rivals." And I think it is fine for him to practice in that way.

Tuesday, July 16

Betimes up and to my classes and in the late morning and afternoon playing at Badminton with F. Baird and H. Yeager and W. May and many others whose names I do not know. And more often than not my opponents prevailed over me, but I was not disheartened for I enjoy playing even with my superiors. And so to the newspaper office to write this, my stint, and so home to dinner.

Social Group Plans Calendar

Fifteen members of the local active chapter of Phi Kappa Gamma, social sorority, met last Wednesday evening and laid plans for their summer social calendar. The group has chosen Wednesday evening as its meeting night for the duration of the summer session.

Plans are under way for a beach party to be held at the Hope Ranch residence of their patron and patroness, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson; an evening sailing party and, to end the summer, a formal dinner-dance.

The group will meet tonight at the home of Betty Fowle, and will be joined by the alumnae chapter. Dollie Emmons is in charge of all meetings, as no summer officers will be elected.

Bowl Schedules State College Night

Honoring the Gaucho campus, the Biltmore Bowl in Los Angeles has announced Friday night, July 19, as Santa Barbara State College Night, according to word that has been received by many local regular session students. Reservations for supper and dancing at the Bowl should be sent at once to Midge Meacham, 706 Esplanade, Redondo Beach.

FRIDAY

Summer Maze By WILLARD MAY

ZOWIE!!!

Which, we think, pretty well describes the time we had at last Friday's all-college picnic at Oak Park.

We remember crying last Wednesday about the lack of interest in the affair displayed by the students, but after seeing almost 500 people singing, shouting, playing games and dancing, the editor feels he owes someone an apology.

Kindly form a line at the front door and apologies will be distributed personally.

We're only sorry that we were too content with a dinner, followed by pie and coffee, to ask for ice cream. But just as well, because there wasn't enough to go around as it was.

But right now, we're interested in the Campus Jamboree, to be held Friday night on the campus. This affair, which offers a program of singing, games, motion pictures, dancing and refreshments, in addition to a local talent show, will have to maintain quite a pace to retain its year-old title of "most successful Summer Session social affair."

Have you heard any of the lectures on Forum Leadership being presented currently in the auditorium by Dr. Hubert Phillips?

An interesting speaker, with a pleasant voice, Dr. Phillips has been expounding his theories every day this week before packed houses and will continue to speak tonight, tomorrow night and Friday second hour.

Inasmuch as the greater number of students enrolled in this Summer Session are teaching at present or are interested in becoming educators, Dr. Phillips' lectures can be recommended very highly as being extremely pertinent to the field of education.

As we understand the subject, a course in Forum Leadership is desired as a part of the present adult education program in public schools. Sort of an addition, but an important one, to the system of adult evening schools.

Students attending classes on this campus are fortunate in being able to hear a speaker such as Dr. Phillips explain this subject. We predict that a course in Forum Leadership, if made available to the general public, would be greeted with extreme interest; not only by educators, but also by members of other businesses and professions.

'Pop' Wells Lists Dates of Post Session

Under the direction of Harrington "Pop" Wells, college science instructor, the Santa Barbara School of Natural Science will convene in its seventh annual session from August 12 to 23.

The session features the elimination of formal examinations and competition for grades. Two semester units of college credit will be given.

Science Specialists

The faculty will include fourteen specialists in natural science education.

Study subjects will include western birds, western trees, health conservation, natural science, methods, visual education, nature photography, rocks, gems and minerals, plant and animal geography, desert life, seashore life, school and home gardens, popular astronomy and weather and climate.

Excursions will be taken to the Natural History museum and Botanic gardens and other scenic spots.

Conservation Theme

"Conservation of Natural Resources" is the integrating theme with which all courses will be correlated.

The Santa Barbara school provides an extended vacation, with a brief period devoted to the gathering of teaching material prior to the opening of school in the Fall.

Any student desiring additional information regarding registration should contact Wells on the campus.

'Lauritano' Plays At Next Assembly

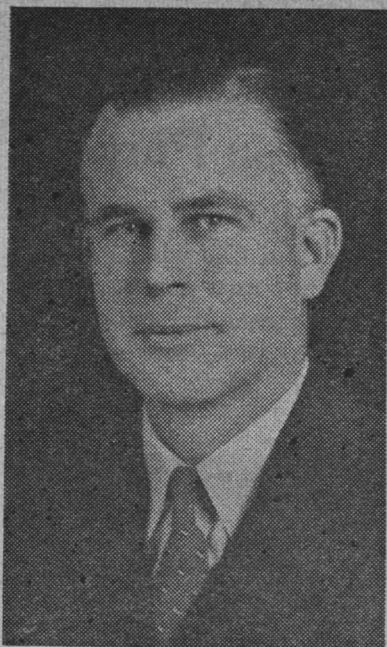

Through the efforts of Mr. John Wack of Montecito, arrangements have been completed for the appearance of "Lauritano," outstanding woman violinist, at next Tuesday's assembly in the auditorium.

The guest artist is vacationing in Santa Barbara due to cancellation of her European contract. Admission will be by student body card or 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

HARRINGTON "POP" WELLS will serve as director of the seventh annual post-session School of Natural Science to be conducted from August 12 to 23 on the State College campus.

TED HANLEY will provide an element of comedy as he portrays "Bob Acres," a loveable buffoon, in the forthcoming Summer Session dramatic production to be staged August 1, 2 and 3 in the Quad.

Frederic W. Hile Outlines Characters of 'The Rivals'

Though its chief claim to fame rests on the comedy characters and situations, "The Rivals," which will be produced in the college quad August 1, 2 and 3 under the direction of Frederic W. Hile, carries two tender and romantic love stories, said Hile yesterday.

The difficulties of dashing Jack Absolute, wooing his highly sentimental Lydia Languish under an assumed name, and the alternating ardor and doubt of the posing Faulkland, who keeps his faithful fiancée Julia on tenterhooks, have warmed the hearts of theatergoers for seven generations. In the college theater production of "The Rivals," Lydia will be played by Marion Hammond, Julia by Louanne Nutall, Jack by Hans Mayer and Faulkland by Vernon J. Silva.

Comedy Roles

In the leading comedy roles will appear Audrey Lockhard, Ted Hanley, Carl Jorgenson and Tom Magness. Miss Lockhard has been cast in the best-known role in the play and one of the most famous characters in all English theatrical history, Mrs. Malaprop. A flighty, crotchety old woman who bears her widowhood hard and whose propensity for word-mangling is a byword among English professors today. Mrs. Malaprop carries all the scenes in which she appears.

The part of Bob Acres, to be played by Ted Hanley, is only a little less famous. Acres is a braggart, a poseur, a rabbit-heart buffoon, yet withal a loveable, child-like character. Sir Lucius O'Trigger, who will be played by Carl Jorgenson, is the model for many succeeding stage Irishmen. He is bluff, hearty, quick-tempered and amorous, with a lilting ballad on his lips and a frequently-used rapier on his hip. Sir Anthony

Absolute, the character played by Tom Magness, is a gouty, overbearing old gentleman, the familiar type of English country squire.

Servant Portrayals

Comedy servant roles will be played by Georgia Mae Krebs as Lucy, Herbert Loewenstein as Fag, Don Wootton as Thomas, and Duane McCoy as David.

Staff positions as announced by Hile include Tilman Chamlee, technical director; Verna M. Allen, assistant director; Helen Karas, prompter; Earl Rooney and Forrest Gardenhire, carpenters; Harvey Seiple, electrician; Clara Roy, Janine Rupertus and Alice Freeman, costumes; Violet Glahn, properties; Helen Dixon, business manager; Vivian Girvetz, house; and Petie McKinney and Jean Haas, publicity. Other staff positions will be filled by Ruth Taylor, Virginia Taggart, Marietta Grace Nora Belle Marsh, Mary Locke, Doris Messenger and Marjorie Merchant.

English Department Presents Recital

For the second program on the weekly Thursday afternoon recital series of members of the English department, Frederic W. Hile, instructor of speech, will give a poetry recital. According to Hile he will be glad to accept requests for his program any time today. The recital will be given in room 80, Pine hall, at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Rated as an educational leader in California, "Larry," as he is best known by and large, is also a writer, radio broadcaster, and widely-known program director. He will be affiliated with the State college faculty following summer session.

Huge Throng Attends Picnic At Oak Park

More than 400 persons, students of the 1940 Summer Session and their families and friends, staged one of the most hilarious social affairs in State College history as they picniced Friday from 4 until 10 p. m. at Oak Park.

Dessert was prepared for a number in excess of the 360 that signed the list in the administration building, yet this quickly disappeared with many of those attending being forced to do without dessert.

Food Shortage

According to figures released by Susan Baat, member of the social committee in charge of food arrangements, 360 ice cream squares, 60 apple pies, 15 gallons of coffee and five gallons of milk were consumed by approximately 425 guests who arrived in time to eat.

Beginning at 4 p. m., guests participated in badminton, table tennis, paddle tennis, volleyball, horse shoes, softball and impromptu entertainment. During this time, the Faculty softball team conquered the Elementary-Junior Hi department nine, 2 to 0, in a close, thrilling game.

From 6:30 until 7:30 was set aside as the supper hour and, from 8 until 10 p. m., guests danced to the music of the El Paseo orchestra.

Prize Winners

Waltz, jitterbug and hog calling contests were held during the dance. Prize-winners included Mrs. Theo Harder and Rubin Sabsay, winners of the Alumni waltz competition; Miss White of Los Angeles and Mr. Fitch of Wyoming, second waltz prize; Beryl Davidson and Harry Kanode, winners of the jitterbug title.

Yvonne Nelson and Richard Moore, runners up in the jitterbug contest; and Susan Baat and Jim Habif, third prize jitterbugs. Awards for yelling went to Bob Rego, Gladys Coker, Susan Baat, James Stanley, Gladys Wilson and Willard May.

Alpha Theta Chi Members Discuss

Alpha Theta Chi members met at the home of Patsy Bass Monday evening. A discussion of current events and books, with a follow-up of bridge was held.

Those present included Elizabeth and Anna Lou Jacobs, Marna Warren, Dorthyann Myers, Mary Ellen Putman, Marie Navarro, Ann Seymour, Petie McKinney, Patsy Bass and the patroness, Mrs. Paul Jones.

A barbecue supper will be held next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jones.

Engineers Begin Construction Of 'Finest Track' at La Playa

"The fastest track in the World," according to the builders, is currently under construction at La Playa field. Santa Barbara State college is fortunate indeed in acquiring this outstanding oval for its own. Those interested in the construction points of running tracks may avail themselves of the opportunity to witness the method of construction of what should be the world's best.

Nearly Perfect

The construction of the new plant on La Playa is being done by the same company and group of engineers who built Stanford's famous Angel field. The experts claim that with La Playa's improvements over Angel field it should be as near perfect as possible.

The Gaucho oval will be an exact duplicate of the Stanford track plus the following improvements:

Three inches of special prepared redwood bark as compared to two inches for Angel field, an excellent natural drainage subsoil, special prepared redwood rail to last for 75 years and a climate that will keep the newly-discovered surface in top condition at all times.

Experts Supervise

The makers of the redwood bark base are so interested in making this the outstanding track in the world that they have sent a group of expert engineers here especially to supervise the laying of their product.

Plans are already being made to bring to Santa Barbara as a permanent feature the National A. A. U. track and field meet. If this is obtained it will be a great boon to Santa Barbara's prestige already established nation-wide.

Music Groups Begin Practice

Meetings of the Summer Session chorus are being held regularly during the lunch hour on Mondays and Thursdays in the music hall. According to Van A. Christy, acting head of the music department, anyone who enjoys singing is welcome to attend.

Male voices are particularly invited, according to Christy, in order to balance the parts.

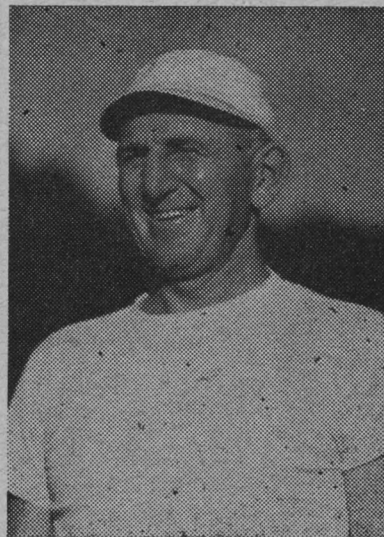

A Summer Session orchestra meets each Wednesday and Thursday at 7 p. m. in the music hall, under the direction of Maurice Faulkner, recently engaged as a member of the regular session faculty.

Both the chorus and the instrumental group are organized each summer for the enjoyment and benefit of students interested.

Sig Alphas Meet, Play Badminton

Members of Sigma Alpha Kappa, social fraternity, met Monday night at the home of Bill Lambourne to formulate plans for a party to be held tomorrow at the cabin of Johnny Jordano.

Following the meeting, the members played badminton.

Coach ROY BOHLER, assisting in the conducting of the current recreation activities, will accept entries in either badminton or table tennis tournaments for a limited time only.

'Minton Fans Begin Play

Play in the Summer Session badminton tourney got under way yesterday on the lawn courts. Pairings were made only in men's singles and mixed doubles as there were insufficient entries in the other three classes.

The pairings and charts are posted on the main bulletin board in the administration building for all those who entered to keep tab and report the results of their matches.

It is urgent for the entries to complete the first round matches as soon as possible so that the rest of the play can be scheduled.

Table tennis play began in front of the gym also with only men's singles being scheduled as too few entries were received in the other classes.

Any student enrolled in the Summer Session interested in entering any of the many classes of badminton or table tennis play must submit his name to either "Frenchy" Liegerot, Spud Harder or Roy Bohler by the end of this week.

There will be tournaments in men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles in badminton and table tennis if four or more enter.

Horsehidors Approach End Of Competition

The recreation softball league is now fully established with four teams completing the league. There will be two rounds of round-robin play ending on July 30.

Opening game of the league last Wednesday on the field saw the Big Leaguers outscore the Faculty outfit 15 to 9 behind Clarence Lair's pitching. Hathaway was on the mound for the professors. Clemons and Van A. Christy belted four-baggers in the fray.

Lancers Disband

Twenty-one Squabble club players turned out on Thursday but had no opposition as the Free Lancers disbanded. Officially the Squabblers won by forfeit 2 to 0. The squad divided and put on a wild practice game with the B team nosing out the A nine 15 to 12.

With several hundred picnickers watching at Oak Park the Faculty took a thriller 2 to 0 over the Elementary-Junior Hi team. The game was played with a 14-inch ball on a short diamond.

Leaguers Strong

The Big Leaguers took their second foe into camp Monday trouncing the Squabble Club, 13 to 4. This establishes the Morgan-coached lads as the team to beat in the league. Clarence Lair did the chucking for the Leaguers while Stockton and Dutcher tossed them for the Squabblers.

Play continues on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week at 4 p. m. on the field.

Box scores:

Faculty	3	1	1	1	3	9
Big Leaguers	0	5	2	1	7	15
Faculty	0	1	1	0		2
Elem.-Jr. Hi	0	0	0	0		0
Big Leaguers	6	3	2	0	2	13
Squabble Club	2	0	0	0	2	4

Opera Ballet Ticket Sale Closes Friday

Student tickets for the concert of the San Francisco Opera Ballet to be presented in the County Bowl Saturday night must be exchanged at the Lobero Theater box office before 5 p. m. Friday, July 19, it was announced yesterday.

These student tickets, which are sold upon presentation of student body cards, may be obtained from Dean Bennink's office or at a table in the foyer at the Lobero.
