

Southern Council Disbands

League Officials Fail to Confer With Aztecs

Effective June, 1934

Phelps Will Attend Meet in L. A. Saturday

The Southern California Athletic conference has disbanded? This decision was reached at a meeting of representatives of the five original members of the organization at a gathering of the group at the Institute of Technology in Pasadena January 6.

State college athletic officials are of different opinions as to the reason for the decision. President Clarence Phelps wired San Diego State college heads Tuesday asking them that they do nothing in the way of making any alliances with other schools until they hear from Santa Barbara State and one other school whose name the president refused to disclose.

In reply to President Phelps' telegram to President Edward Hardy of San Diego State the southern prexy said, "Your teletype received. We are not ready to consider any further action at present."

Phelps Receives Letter The letter sent to President Phelps announcing the dissolution of the organization is as follows: "It is the opinion of the administrative and faculty representatives of the five colleges which created the Southern Calif. Athletic conference, gathered at California Institute of Technology on January 6, 1934, that the Southern California Athletic conference has completed its usefulness, and that the best interests of the colleges represented now call for the amicable dissolution of the conference by mutual understanding, the dissolution to take effect on June 15, 1934."

Library Exhibit Features Aged Types of Books

Bookbinding is the subject of the exhibit in the college library this week. The books used for examples have been taken from the library shelves.

People who study these bindings will notice the improvements that have been made in binding, the different types used, the illustrations and the types and tooling.

Leather binding over wood is the oldest type exhibited. It dates back to the fifteenth century. The wooden boards were covered with leather and the covers were held together by metal clasps. The pages were sewed with stout thread or throngs of leather or hemp, making ridges under the leather back strips.

An unusual type of binding is that of putting a medal inside of the book. The example of this method in the library is a medal of Abraham Lincoln and is considered by some critics to be the most beautiful representation of Lincoln's features. The medal was designed by Monsieur Roine, one of the greatest medalists of the world and sculptor of note. Another unusual type is one bound in cardboard and string.

A book which a few years ago was considered the smallest book ever published is on exhibit. It is a miniature edition of Lincoln's speeches. This book won first prize at one of the annual conventions of Employing Book Binders in America. It contains one hundred and fifty pages of Bible paper with title page, half titles, table of contents, preface and dedication.

Classes in Applied Art May Be Given

Students not in the art department yet desiring special classes in bookbinding, leather tooling, or pottery may arrange to secure these subjects by conferring with Mrs. Mary E. T. Crosswell, head of the art department.

SCOUT FRAT MEETS Psi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary scouting fraternity, will hold a business meeting in the Men's club room on the campus tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Archaeologist Urges Learning by Experience

"No matter what kind of work you are going into, you can learn more by going out into the world and studying from nature than in any other way," declared Paxton Hayes, American explorer and archaeologist at the monthly student body meeting Tuesday.

Mr. Hayes has done archaeological research in the state of Sonora in Mexico and has discovered there the existence of a giant race of people who existed some 2500 years ago and who were in many respects similar to the Hebrew race.

Mr. Hayes states that two things which are of great assistance in the work of exploration are the overcoming of fear and the understanding of the part nature plays. It was because he and his co-workers familiarized themselves with the habits and the handling of snakes that they secured the help of the Yaqui Indians. Mr. Hayes had also studied the part the snake plays in Indian worship.

Indians Barrier The Yaqui Indians have been called the one barrier to foreign intervention in Mexico. They are the only unconquered tribe in North America. They had driven several explorers from their territory and were known for the tortures they practiced on unfortunate visitors.

Two of these Indians came to invite Mr. Hayes and his assistant to their village, which is located in the state of Sonora.

The Yaqui proved very hospitable and kept a guard for the safety of the explorers while they were in the territory. One of the very old members told them the location of the caves which they wanted to excavate and gave them guides.

Graves in Caves In the large cave they explored were found a number of graves arranged about a pile of ashes in the center. Most of the bodies proved to be skeletons, but directly in front of the cave were mummies more perfectly preserved than the Egyptian ones.

A cotton mummy cloth exhibited by Mr. Hayes was decorated with symbols in blue dye. The symbols closely resembled those used by the Hebrews. Many of the Yaqui religious customs are also similar to those of the Hebrews.

Race of Giants The people were giants, seven feet tall. They had very small feet and wre of the Neolithic type. They possessed narrow heads, high foreheads, and slanting eyes. Only the bodies of men were preserved. Two heads of women were found encased in gourd masks.

The people were evidently vegetarians, for no signs of flesh eating were found. One body gave evidence of having been a human sacrifice.

The jewelry consisted of small shells strung on fine cords. The shoes resembled Japanese house slippers, and these giants wore on their heads turbans fashioned of a material resembling silk. Many curious headdresses were found.

Mr. Hayes stated that all peoples have their means of communication. While he was in Sonora, he was often aware of messages being transported in some obscure fashion.

Small Slips Banned From Mail Boxes

Mrs. Irene Clow, secretary to the president, is issuing another warning to students that they are not to put notices smaller than postal card size in the mail boxes. This ruling has been issued before and in the future notices found in the boxes that do not conform with the notice will be thrown away.

Mrs. Clow points out that mail smaller than the required size wads up at the back of the boxes falling out when the door in the rear is opened. The secretary also stated that mail on small paper gets strewn on the floor in front of the boxes and does not reach the people to whom it is addressed.

Music Major May Be Offered Next Year

Indications are that Santa Barbara State college will be able to offer a major in music if a petition now being circulated receives the required number of signatures. Anyone interested in the subject is asked to get in touch with Bud Lamourne, band manager.

NEWMAN CLUB MEETS A meeting of the Newman club was held last night in Junipero Serra hall. A report on the bridge party held last month was read. The next meeting will be held on January 24 at Junipero Serra hall.

Appointments for Yearbook Pictures Made

Individual pictures are now being taken for La Cumbre, college yearbook, according to a statement from Miss Barbara Clark, editor of the annual. Marjorie Williams is in charge of making the appointments for the photographer, Ward Wicart, who is located at 903 State street, next door to the First National bank.

Mid-year graduates especially are urged to keep their appointments so that there may be a complete representation of the class in the yearbook. The cap and gown is furnished at the photographer's studio.

General organization pictures, including social sororities and fraternities, honorary fraternities, department and general student body committees will be taken very shortly. The fee for the cap and gown or the organization pictures is one dollar.

Miss Clark urges all students to give the staff their cooperation in keeping appointments with the photographer so that a last minute rush may be avoided. If students find that he or she is unable to meet an appointment, they are asked to see Marjorie Williams and arrange for another time. Notices for appointments will be found in the mail boxes.

"The photographic work of Mr. Wicart will be of a very high order and will greatly add to the beauty of La Cumbre," stated Miss Clark.

Inform Students of New Uses for Light

"Eighty-seven percent of our knowledge comes from seeing, seven percent from hearing, and six percent from the three other senses," said Clark Baker of the Pacific Coast Electrical bureau in his illustrated lecture on the economic and efficient use of light Tuesday afternoon in the college auditorium.

Mr. Baker, in his talk, explained the reaction of light colors on pigments and colors from a scientific standpoint. He explained the decorative uses of light in the home, store window, and on the stage. Illustrations were made from various phases of light activities, such as home decoration, dress materials, light for reading, and defective lights, effecting the nervous system.

The lecture was sponsored by the industrial education department through the courtesy of the Southern California Edison company.

Unemployed Teachers May Secure Positions Under Emergency Education Program

Under the new Emergency Education Program, a branch of the N.R.A. formed in December, unemployed teachers of California can secure teaching positions in the C.C.C. camps, among groups of ten or more people who are working on C.W.A. projects if there is a demand for such classes, or on other educational projects set up by the local school authorities and approved by the state department of education at Sacramento.

Those applying for positions must have had high school and college education. Only those certified by the County Welfare Administration as being eligible for relief can be recommended by local authorities. All those securing teaching positions must secure permits which specify those subjects which may be taught. These permits are good for one fiscal year ending June 30.

Special Classes Offered Instruction in the following subjects will be offered: training of adults to read and write English; trade and industrial education; business and commercial education; agriculture; health and physical education (including recreation, vocational education, training for the use of leisure time, such as art, drama, music, literature, arts and crafts); social science; general education including mathematics, science, history and languages; nursery schools or training in the care of infants.

Use of Insulin Discussed by City Physician

"Before 1913 28 percent of all diabetic patients died, in 1921 the number had been cut to 4 percent, and now the total is zero due to the discovery and use of insulin," said Dr. William Sansum of the Santa Barbara Clinic yesterday in his lecture before the physiology classes and other interested members of the student body.

The first work done on the isolation of insulin was done by a group of Toronto physicians and their first results were gained with insulin extracts used on dogs.

Dr. Sansum with his chemical assistant Dr. Norman R. Blatherwick in communication with the Toronto group in eagerness to develop the possibilities of supplying insulin by injection to diabetic patients was met with the news that the formula was lost and efforts to reobtain the material had been of no avail.

Dr. Sansum was the American pioneer and in 1922 ventured on with pancreatic extracts from local slaughter houses until he succeeded in producing insulin crystals. The early procedure was expensive but it was successful in financing of the production of insulin and speed.

Secretary Hughes and later the Carnegie Foundation helped in the financing of the production of insulin. From this early success applications of insulin to cases non-diabetic have developed, so that the solution of the diabetic problem was only one of the many satisfactions Dr. Sansum could claim.

Dr. Sansum is still carrying on this work in his laboratories in Santa Barbara and because of this work, insulin, Santa Barbara and Dr. Sansum's name have become synonymous to the world.

Research Head Talks to Girls of High School

"What Santa Barbara State Has to Offer" was the subject of a talk given by Elizabeth L. Bishop, head of the research department, in an address Wednesday at 10 o'clock before the Girl's League of Santa Barbara High school.

Dr. Bishop in her message to the high school girls placed particular emphasis on what the college has to offer in the way of subjects outside of the teaching field. She pointed out the many other fields of work that students of Santa Barbara State enter after graduation.

On January 22 Dr. Bishop is scheduled to speak in Lompoc before the district school supervisors and teachers. Her talk will be on the practical value of tests in diagnosing and counseling the child.

Registrar Expected to Return to Campus

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar, is scheduled to return to the campus Monday from New Orleans where she has been attending the Mardi Gras. Mrs. Abraham was joined by her husband in the Louisiana city after spending the Christmas holidays with relatives in Springfield and Cincinnati, Ohio. Later she visited the Mammoth Caves in Kentucky.

According to word from Mrs. Abraham, Nathan McCray, former student at Santa Barbara State, who is now attending Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Ohio visited her while she was in the Buckeye state.

Ashworth Fills Role in Lobero Play Next Week

Dean William Ashworth will appear at the Lobero theatre January 19 and 20, as Hilary, a lunatic husband adjusting the scruples and conscience Clemeence Dane. The show is scheduled for three performances, one Friday night, and a matinee and evening show Saturday.

"A Bill of Divorcement" is a post-war story telling of a man's insanity brought on by shell-shock. The man is shut up in an asylum. In the meantime, a law is passed which allows the wife of such a person to secure a divorce. In this case, the wife gets a divorce and is contemplating marriage to another man when the husband suddenly appears having escaped from the asylum.

This play portrays a problem of adjusting the scruples and conscience of a 19 century wife and 20 century, rational law, which doesn't take the injured husband's feelings into account at all.

Dean Ashworth has served for many years as a member of the drama board. At the present time he is secretary of the board, a position he has held for many seasons. Last month he read a play "Autumn Crocus," to the Lobero theatre guild members.

Class Will Hold First Breakfast January 17

A breakfast for the senior class members will be held next Wednesday morning in the college dining hall at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Cost of tickets will be 25 cents.

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar, will tell the students of her visit to the Mammoth Caves in Kentucky and of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, where she visited during her vacation. She will also bring a message of importance to seniors regarding their preparation for graduation.

According to Paul Hyton, class president, this is the first of a series of breakfasts to be held every four or five weeks. They will serve as regular class meetings and all students are urged to attend.

Tickets may be purchased from Bobby Goux, senior social chairman, Dorothy Dowling, Phebe Steer, or from Wilhelmina Menken in Mrs. Abraham's office.

Expansion Plans Proposed by City Civic Organizations

Chamber of Commerce Acts as Coordinator for Service Clubs; Assistance Is Asked From Women's Club

Plans for an expansion program of Santa Barbara State college both athletically and scholastically, to culminate in the building of the new college on the Leadbetter campus, received definite impetus at the meeting of the State College Committee of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Men's club room.

The meeting, presided over by Harry Baird, president of the local chamber of commerce, was for the purpose of adopting a program for that organization to follow during the coming year. After the presentation of sixteen proposed objectives by President Clarence L. Phelps, it was decided to adopt three of these for immediate action, to be coordinated with other projects at a later time.

In addition to the matter of ways and means of securing the building of the new college, there were the securing of community support for the All-Southern-California Symphony orchestra and the problem of insuring a successful summer session in 1934.

Following a motion by Hugh Martin, of the Lions club, a committee was appointed to confer with the Santa Barbara Women's club in regard to support to the forthcoming inter-collegiate symphony concert.

100 New Students Is Goal In an outline of the summer session prospects, President Phelps pointed out that an increase of 100 students is the objective for 1934. Service clubs of the city could be helpful in making the summer session social program more attractive to the visiting students by cooperating in garden tours, barbecues and picnics, it was said.

A committee consisting of E. E. Ericson, chairman; Charles Ritchie, president of the Santa Barbara branch of the Alumni association; Fred Allred, controller of the college, and William Herron, secretary of the chamber of commerce, were appointed to work out the proposed program for the summer session.

Building May Begin on New Campus Site

Work on the new site of the $1,511,000 Santa Barbara State Teachers' college will begin soon, should congress pass the three billion dollar bill for school construction.

A detailed construction chart in Sacramento, which tells the exact time for the starting and finishing of each building in California's program, schedules work on the local campus to begin three months after the bill is passed.

Roland Vandergrift, director of finance, will present his own appeal to western representatives of the reconstruction finance corporation, who will in turn carry it to the federal government.

President Clarence Phelps made known this latest development in a telegram Saturday from Sacramento where he was attending a college presidents' conference called by Vierzling Kersey, superintendent of California schools.

The fact that Santa Barbara State has kept up its enrollment in spite of the financial depression which has caused losses in many schools aided in the favorable decision. It has also been recognized that the school is situated in a favorable position geographically and should become one of the major state teachers' colleges.

Dr. Ellison Arranges Show for C.C.C. Boys

Under the direction of Dr. William Ellison a program was presented to members of the San Marcos C.C.C. camp last night on the camp grounds.

Professor David Banks Rogers addressed the men on the pre-historic life of the Indians in the Santa Barbara region. Several popular numbers were sung by Miss Mercedes Berger, State college blues singer, accompanied by Miss Anita Cochran, pianist.

PHELPS TALKS TO FRATERNITY

At the meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity, held in Ebbett's hall Tuesday evening, President Clarence L. Phelps spoke on "A New Deal in Education."

Leedy Calls Special Rehearsal for Band

Special rehearsals of the State College Band and Men's Glee club have been called by Clifford E. Leedy, director of both organizations, to put finishing touches on the programs being prepared for the forthcoming tour of the San Joaquin valley.

Director Leedy is experimenting with the instrumentation of the band in order to find the best working ensemble. As the instrumentation has not yet been definitely fixed, competition is still open for positions in the select group.

The second week of next semester has been set as the tentative date of the tour.

Faculty Members to Hear Judge McIntosh

University Men's and the University Women's clubs have invited members of the faculty to meet with them on Friday night to hear Judge Kenneth McIntosh lecture on the highlights of the Wickershram report. Special reference to crime and its various phases will be dealt with by Judge McIntosh.

Judge McIntosh is former Chief Justice of the Supreme court of the State of Washington and was a member of the Wickershram committee. Dinner will be served if desired otherwise the meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Bill Ogle to Attend Conference in South

Bill Ogle will attend the L.A.J.C. debate tournament this week-end as the first activity in the local debate club program, according to Mr. Ogle, who is secretary of the club. The subject for the tournament debate is "Resolved that the powers of the President should be substantially increased as a matter of permanent policy."

The debate club met Wednesday night to choose teams to participate in the Pacific Coast tournament which will be sponsored by the Phi Kappa Delta fraternity.

Supports Education

President Roosevelt, by his approval of the bill that gives prompt and powerful support to a program of comprehensive education for the 300,000 men now in the Civilian Conservation Corps, strikes a chord of humanism in the hearts of his fellowmen which more firmly cements the great admiration they already hold for him.

There exist 1466 of these conservation camps; every young man, every veteran will be given the opportunity to adequately equip himself mentally, and better qualify himself for the ultimate goal, that of a more secure livelihood.

The general program of instruction will be prepared by the federal office of education, of which Dr. G. F. Zook is the able and successful commissioner. He will select the educational advisor for each camp and recommend to the War department the outlines of instruction and teaching procedure to be followed.

The War department will hold the nine major generals, an area to be allotted to each, responsible for the success and enforcement of this courageous plan. Each army officer in charge of each particular camp will be in turn responsible to one of the nine majors.

Under the direction of the camp commander, the educational advisor will conduct such classes, lectures and individual instruction as the men need, and more, desire.

The faculty of the camps will be the trained and experienced army officers. On their shoulders rests the responsibility of improving the incumbent intellectual ability, and also to instill a love of life, which in the case of most of the men, is woefully lacking.

By approving this general educational program for these camps, the highest executive in the land rewards the splendid initiative of the army officers who command them, and who for a long time have ardently advocated this set-up. Since their instigation last year, a movement of this nature has been proposed and is now a reality. Too much credit cannot be extended those who foster it.

Many of the young men in these camps arrived at working age in the midst of an economic depression which created world-wide unemployment. Many of them were compelled to leave school before being prepared for work of any sort.

By attending these camps, 300,000 Americans will be given an opportunity to earn a livelihood at useful work, aid their dependents, and carry on their schooling. As a result they will leave the camps better prepared for the battle of life and better qualified to serve the nation as useful citizens.

Problem of Smoking

It is not the desire of the Roadrunner to take a stand on the matter of smoking on the campus and try to prove to the students that it is either right or wrong. There are too many successful arguments to be made from both sides for this publication to attempt to decide the question.

Undoubtedly both faculty members and students are aware that at the present time many members of this institution frequently partake in this pleasure. However, this is not done without opposition from both members of the faculty and student body. Certain persons object to the places that smoking is done on the grounds, while others argue that smoking is unbecoming to a prospective teacher.

In defense of this liberty, student smokers argue that other progressive schools of higher learning have dropped their opposition to the use of tobacco, many institutions allowing tobacco to be used in specific campus buildings.

The following questions pertain to the use of tobacco by students and are submitted for your consideration:

Should men be allowed to smoke on any part of the campus?

Do men disapprove of women smoking?

Would you prefer to have all types of smoking abolished from the campus?

Should women and men enjoy the same privileges of smoking?

Should students be allowed to smoke in class rooms and laboratories?

Should we have smoking rooms for both men and women on the campus?

If enough student interest is displayed in this matter, the Roadrunner will poll a vote to determine the position the majority of students have taken on the issue.

Displays Fine Spirit

Even though the school heating system has caused considerable comment and no little discomfort to the faculty and students in the early morning classes for the past few days, we must not overlook the work that Reverend Thomas is doing in putting the plant in working order.

In overcoming the many inconveniences under which he has had to labor, Reverend Thomas has worked night and day in reaching his objective. He should be commended for the unselfish spirit he has displayed in carrying on the work.

LEAGUE DROPPED BY FIVE SCHOOLS

(Continued From Page One) fered by some league members that schools pick out their own opponents and at the end of the season have a championship playoff. President Phelps said, "We of Santa Barbara State prefer to be in a conference of some kind."

Aztec Resent Decision
In a letter to President Phelps the Aztec president said, "Since the action taken at this meeting was not the action of the conference, since the courtesy of a call for and an invitation to attend a conference for consideration of dissolution of the conference was not extended to the San Diego State Teachers college, and since the extraordinary procedure of conveying information of the action of the meeting to the public through the press in advance of a meeting of the conference was employed, no alternative is left to State Teachers college of San Diego but to consider the conference virtually dissolved on June 15."

"Kindly give this information to the members of your group at its next meeting. Your good offices are requested in advising the individual colleges in the group that we shall be glad to carry out the arrangement already made for athletic meets up to June 15."

"I make this request in order that it may be clear that we have no desire but to be, as in the past, on amicable terms with all members of the conference, that we believe that the dissolution of the conference was inevitable and desirable, but that the manner in which the initial step was taken was decidedly not that of 'mutual understanding,' and that no emergency situation obtained precluding the observation of the customary courtesies."

Coach Hal Davis stated that there will be another meeting of the group in the Y.M.C.A. in Los Angeles Saturday at 9 o'clock when more definite plans for the future will be discussed. President Phelps, Dr. Charles Jacobs, Hal Davis, and "Pop" Wells are planning to attend this meeting.

Newswriters Choose Election Committee

Dorothy Dowling was appointed chairman of the nominating committee for Alpha Phi Gamma at the meeting Tuesday night.

A new office of social chairman was created and will be included in offices to be filled at the next election, which will be held at the next meeting.

Paul Hylton, president for the past 12 months, appointed the nomination committee which consists of Douglas Kirkpatrick, Mary Tomlinson, and the chairman, Miss Dowling.

High School Seniors Present English Play

"The Enchanted Cottage," by Arthur Pinero, is to be given as the senior play by the advanced drama class of the Santa Barbara High school.

The performance opens Friday night January 12, and will be repeated Saturday, January 13. Both shows will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Reservations may be made at the High school office.

Editor of the Roadrunner: Civilization is doomed! Both the "profit motive" and the "service motive" lead to the disintegration and destruction of society! This is the only conclusion I am able to draw from last week's editorial.

Does the editor scrap the "service motive" for fear that if all serving, we would find no one to serve? A likely parallel to this is to say if we were all giving Christians presents, we would find no one to give them to. Cannot man apply his efforts cooperatively to serve his fellow men in peace and goodwill? Must the "profit motive" continue with its ever present injustices, selfishness and conflicts? Dr. Butler, and of more importance, the world's leading thinkers, sociologists, economists and historians, predict virtual destruction of society if the "profit motive" is not supplanted by a human service motive. Take your choice.

State Students Fill All Elective Offices

State college students took charge of the Young People's Christian Endeavor at the First Presbyterian church of Santa Barbara as a result of the recent elections held there. Every available office was filled by State students.

For the forthcoming six months, Louise Headley will act as president; Leonard Dorn, vice-president; Laura Fox, secretary; Paul Woods, treasurer; Bernice Boardman, missionary committee chairman; Bertha Howell, social committee chairman; Agnes Bell, prayer meeting; and Mildred Felton, lookout committee chairman.

Department Sponsors Ticket Sale to Show

For the purpose of raising funds for their department, kindergarten-primary majors are sponsoring a sale of tickets for "The Cradle Song," starring Dorothy Weick, famous German actress, who will appear on the screen at the Fox-Arlington theatre Saturday evening. The tickets, priced at 40 cents, may be purchased from all members of the department and from Miss Edith Leonard's office before Friday afternoon. The sale is open to the entire school.

State College Physician Tells Students Value of Making Proper Associations

By DR. EDWARD MARKTHALER

College life outside the classroom can be of great value to the student. Fraternities, clubs, athletic teams, etc., are great melting pots and are important factors in moulding character.

The mental effort which is expended in such organizations may be invaluable and of actual greater value than that obtained in the class room. There are, however, several factors connected with extra-curricular activities which have a distinct bearing on mental and physical health.

The proper choice of a college organization, such as fraternities, glee clubs, dramatics etc. is an important matter for consideration. The college tradition of joining or getting out for something may actually force a student into surroundings and associations which are entirely out of line with his temperament and character. It is important to know the influence of such associations and the effect counteracted by considering the good and bad points.

The man or woman who realizes the least out of college is the intellectual or social snob. My plea is for making such associations as may have the best and greatest influence on one's future thoughts and actions.

Although extra-curricular activities may be important, it must be kept in mind that the real purpose of the college is to provide education. Your parents and the State of California are providing large sums of money for one purpose—education, and the student who fails to take advantage of the class room wastes his time and their money.

Let us try to reach a middle ground where both the opportunities of the college and college life may best be realized. No two students are equipped with the same mental or physical facilities. Learn to know your tolerance and make use of it. When this is done, there is less suffering from indigestion, insomnia, headaches or loss of weight so frequently noticed among students. While these troubles are often overcome during student days, they frequently are physical handicaps in later life.

CITY GROUPS HOLD MEET ON CAMPUS

Serve Tea
Before Chairman Baird opened the meeting, tea was served to the guests. Those present were President Clarence L. Phelps, C. Deming Tilton, Harry Baird, Allan Rogers, William Herron, Hugh Martin, E. E. Ericson, Fred Alfred, Charles Ritchie, Marcus Cravens and Ralph Porter. Mrs. Irene Clow poured, assisted by Melba Parker, Dorothy Powell and Kay Case. The date for the next meeting of the group will be announced later.

The play production class under the direction of Mrs. Harold McDonald Davis will present a group of monologues entitled "An Evening of Dramatic Confidences" next Wednesday, January 17 at 8:15 o'clock in the Associated Women Students' club room. Members of the class are issuing invitations to their friends.

Hi-Jinx Held In Dining Hall Friday Night

At the A.W.S. Hi-Jinx in the college cafeteria Friday night at 7:30, women students on the campus will be given a chance to impersonate the masculine sex, gypsies, or their favorite movie actors, or any other character they desire. Since dancing will be the feature entertainment of the evening, "men" will be especially desired, according to the chairman, Elizabeth Leonard.

Jefferson School Building Vacated

Jefferson elementary school, which is used by the college for supervised teaching activities, was vacated yesterday pending inspection of architectural defects in the building by state authorities. Washington school building, located at the corner of Anacapa and Arrellaga streets is being used temporarily to house the classes.

NEW REHEARSING METHOD USED BY PLAYERS GROUP

Because their director, Dean William Ashworth, is exhibiting his talents elsewhere and therefore, is unable to be present to direct the campus show, the College Players are instituting a new manner of rehearsing for "Hay Fever," the three act comedy by Noel Coward to be presented February 13 and 14 in the college auditorium. Parts have been given the members of the cast that they might learn their lines before actual rehearsals take place, according to James Murray, student director.

Sorority Uses Spanish Motif for Gathering

Members and their guests of Delta Zeta Delta, social sorority, gathered in the Gold room of El Paseo Saturday evening for an informal dance. Frank Greenough and his orchestra played for the dancing. The programs were carried out in the Spanish motif.

A conservative estimate from the opening of the semester to date shows that we have had 1,827 patients in 58 days of school appear at the Health cottage for care. This averages about thirty one plus persons per day. About eighty persons took advantage of the typhoid inoculations that were given here. Every day in every way the health office is getting busier and busier.

Roadrunner Quintet Meets Junior Varsity in Contest

GRUDGE BATTLE BETWEEN STATE 5 AND JUNIOR VARSITY COMES TO HEAD

Money Taken From Game Will Be Used for Promotion of State Baseball Nine This Season

By DON FOLLETT

Due to the rivalry that has sprung up between the varsity and the junior varsity basketball teams, it has been decided to put the two teams on the floor and settle the argument once and for all.

The varsity, confident that it can take the Jayvee boys, will find they have a fight on their hands to put down the strong Killianites. The Jayvees, on the other hand, will have to overcome the handicap of lack of practice.

The junior varsity feels that, although some of them have been cut from the varsity squad, they will come back and knock the varsity off the Christmas tree.

Benefit of Baseball
The game will be played Friday, January 26, at the Flying "A" gym as a benefit game to raise money for baseball equipment. The prospects look bright for a conference baseball championship this year and this contest will help the cause along.

At the half of the game there will be three boxing bouts. The feature bout will be between the "masked marvel" and an opponent yet to be selected by Ted Beckett from his boxing class. Beckett promises that all three events will be exciting.

The admission will be 25 cents, and tickets will go on sale the first of next week. This includes the grudge basketball game, the boxing bouts, and other entertainment that will be announced in next week's edition of the Roadrunner. As an added inducement, there will be a door prize given.

There will be no other college function that evening, so everyone is urged to plan on attending this battle royal.

They Say

The following are comments on the game from expert authority:
"It will require plenty of teamwork for the varsity to hold its own with the Jayvees."—Hal Davis, varsity coach.

"It will be a good battle the first half, and in the second half the varsity will walk all over them."—Fritz Zapf, varsity center.

"When the scoring combination of Mahoney and Moore get through ringing up digits, it will be too bad for the varsity."—Tom Mahoney, junior varsity forward.

"It will take a game to keep these Jayvee fellows from crying. Now they have it—but promise, Jayvees, after the game, no more crying."—Ralph Stockel, varsity forward.

"We'll knock the socks off the varsity. The junior varsity will have plenty of pep in their rooting section."—Barney Jameson, head Jayvee yell leader.

"It will take plenty of baskets for the junior varsity to hold their own with the varsity." Coach Harry Killian.

"It will be a pushover."—Don Follett, Jayvee manager.
"A very worthy cause, and from comments I have heard from members of both teams, it will be a game of exceptional interest."—Marcus Cravens, student body president.

"I feel that Killian's type of offense, which is the 'shoot when the opponent's not looking' type, should baffle the varsity's Spanish zone defense. Coach Killian has jockeyed his boys to the point where they feel that field goals are practically essential."—Ray Denno, frosh basketball coach.

"This game will be the salvation of the baseball team. As a social function it will be one of the finest of the year. Proceeds of the game will not only benefit the student body but will advertise the State college to the other schools. It will show that the students of Santa Barbara State can

Whittier Poets Swamp Riviera Team in Games

Two fast games were played by the Roadrunners with the Whittier Poets last week-end. The Olive and Green squad being on the short end both evenings by the scores of 40-27 and 41-23 respectively. The playing of the big Poet team far over shadowed the efforts given by the Roadrunners.

The showing made by the Staters in the second contest of the series proved that the Riviera boys will give any of the teams in the conference a run for their money. "Chuck" Hoffar was off his regular game on Friday night, but came back strong on both offensive and defensive play Saturday night.

Zapf High Point Man
States' best men on the floor both Friday and Saturday were Zapf and Miller. Zapf was high point man in the first game in which he scored 10 digits. "Curt" Davis received high point honors Saturday night with 9 points.

Gaudio and Chisler were the outstanding players for the Poets both men displaying wonderful offensive ability. Arrambide and Moorehead played the best defensive game of any men on the floor on either night.

Keith and Stockel played well for the Roadrunners in both games.

The line-up:

First Game	Poets
Stockel F	Halliday
Hoffar F	Chisler
Zapf C	Gaudio
Davis G	Arrambide
Keith G	Moorehead
Second Game	Poets
Stockel F	Halliday
Hoffar F	Chisler
Zapf C	Marguerite
Davis G	Arrambide
Keith G	Moorehead

put on a benefit to raise money for one of their athletic teams. The success of this social function is entirely up to the students and faculty. Without 100 percent support, we cannot have a 100 percent baseball team. Here is our opportunity to show the community that we can support our team."

—Coach Ted Beckett.
"First we must recognize the spirit of the boys who organized the game and we must realize that they deserve the support of all the students and faculty by attending, and I feel certain that the rivalry that has developed will justify your expenditures. I look for a junior varsity victory."—Fred Allred.

JUNIOR VARSITY WINS FAST GAME

Team	W	L	Pct.
C.C.C.	4	0	1000
Jr. Varsity	2	2	500
Democrats	2	2	500
Bekins	1	1	500
Phantoms	1	2	333
K. of C.	0	3	000

In the most spectacular and thrilling city league game of the year, the junior varsity five came through in the last ten seconds of the game with the winning basket to take out a 49-39 victory over the fast Phantom team last night at the junior high gym.

The Jayvees led until the last quarter when the Phantoms tied the score. During the last five minutes of the game, the score saw-sawed, the outcome being in doubt until the final whistle.

Chet Myers of the Phantoms was high point man with 17 points. Treloar, with 13 points, was high scorer for the Jayvees.

Red Mahoney played outstanding ball until he was removed by fouls. Gilmore, who replaced him came through with two buckets in the final minutes of the game.

This win over the outstanding city league team puts the Jayvee boys in a favored position to administer a trouncing to the varsity team in their grudge battle January 26.

The starting line-up for the Phantoms included Myers, 17; Davidson, 5; Day, 2; Richards, 5; Reid, 4; Earhart, 6. For the Jayvees, McCullough, 2; Morrissey, 1; Garber, 1; Treloar, 13; Bell, 8; Gilmore, 5; Mahoney, 4; and Moore, 6.

City Teachers' Club Entertains Faculty

Faculty members have been invited to attend the next meeting of the City Teachers' club, to be held from 3:30 to 5:00 at the Santa Barbara Junior High school, 721 East Cota street this afternoon.

Coffee will be served from 3:30 to 4:15 and a special program has been planned. Mr. Munro Langlo will sing a group of songs and Roy P. Eichelberger will talk on his recent work in the University of California.

Junior Varsity Defeats Squad in Easy Battle

Displaying a passing attack that completely baffled their opponents, the Jayvee basketball team took the Knights of Columbus cagers down the line to the tune of 36-25 Monday night at the old junior high gym.

"Buppy" Moore, who found the hoop from every angle, was high scorer for the evening. Bill Morrissey was runner-up for the high score honors as well as being the most outstanding passer on the floor. Morrissey's defensive work was spectacular, and he stopped many Kaysee threats.

Garber and McCullough, at the guard posts formed a defensive barrier that was hard to invade. Treloar at center played his usual steady game.

The Jayvee boys showed great improvement over their performance of last week. Coach Harry Killian, however, is still unsatisfied with his team.

The line-ups were:
J.V. Mahoney (6) F Guevarra
Moore (9) F Kitley
Treloar (4) C Bastenchury
Morrissey (7) G Lopez
Garber (5) G Lazzaine

Stage Act Appearing at Arlington Theatre

An amazing journey into the land of adventure and fantasy is offered by Blackstone, the magician, who comes to the Fox Arlington theatre next Friday and Saturday. Blackstone is called the greatest magician of all times, and with a company of 20 necromancers presents a unit show of thrills, surprises, and laughs.

A seventy foot baggage car is required to carry the stage property and effects used in the Blackstone act. Gorgeously dressed girls against backgrounds of silks and satins add to the beauty of the act, and each girl has a distinct duty in the presentation as a whole. A group of young men also assist in the succession of fanciful surprises, inspiring illusions, excitement and fun.

GRID MENTOR IS SEEN ON CAMPUS

Amos Alonzo Stagg, "the grand old man of football," who is now head coach at College of the Pacific, and formerly of the University of Chicago, was a visitor on the campus Friday morning as the guest of Coach Hal Davis. Stagg, who is 72 years young, was coaching football when "Pop" Warner was a freshman at Cornell, and Howard Jones was in the first grade. Although this dean of all football mentors has seen more than four decades of football, he is one of the few coaches who have not written a story about it. Stagg worries more about character and body building than about putting out a winning team, or keeping his contract.

This was Stagg's first visit to Santa Barbara, and he was so delighted with the city, he promised to come back soon. He was enthusiastic over the new Leadbetter site, and although he thought the present campus was ideally situated, he confessed there was no comparison between it and the new beach site. On being shown a copy of the Roadrunner, he stated that the paper was an outstanding one, comparable to those of any larger institution.

Stagg was the main guest speaker Friday night at the Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet in honor of Coach Clarence Schutte and his high school gridsters.

Seniors Plan to Hold Annual Play Day

February 19 is the date set for the annual W.A.A. play day to which seniors of the high schools of Southern California are invited. About 200 girls are expected. The object of this playday is to interest prospective students in Santa Barbara State college.

ROADRUNNERS HAVE FAIR CHANCE IN GAME WITH SAGEHENS IN LOCAL TILT

Success of Game May Tell Future Outcome of Santa Barbara State's Court Season

A tough tilt with Pomona's hardwood performers Saturday night in the Flying "A" studio is expected either to make or break Coach Hal Davis' Roadrunner basketball team. Trounced in a pair of fiery contests with Whittier in the south last week-end, the Staters can still point with pride to the second half of that game when they outplayed the Poets but were unable to overcome the topheavy lead which the Quakers had piled up in the preliminary stanza.

As the situation now stands, the Olive and White are balancing on the verge of a successful or rather tragic year in basketball. That the Davismen were thumped by Whittier is little criterion of what the local hoopsters can do this season. What buoy's up local fans is the showing made by the State varsity during that second half when they held the commanding hand over last year's conference champions.

Is Critical Game
What will be a criterion of their future on the lined court will be their performance against the Sagehens this week-end. Coach Merritt's proteges were tossed for a 30-24 loss last Saturday by Occidental's tigers, so that their opening showing was not auspicious either.

With Curt Davis copping high point honors for the Roadrunners in the second Whittier game to show outstanding improvement, and Ralph Stockel about due to regain his shooting eye, Santa Barbara stock should quote well above par when the locals jump to the opening whistle Saturday night. Coach Davis has found his smoothest working combination in Hoffar and Stockel at forwards, Zapf at center, and Davis and Keith at guards, which still leaves him his ex-freshman stars Elmer Lee, Jimmy Lebeck, and Myrt Miller to be inserted into the fray.

No enthusiastic Roadrunner fan was more pleased than was Coach Davis after the concluding stanza of the Poet affair. If the hilltoppers can duplicate that type of play, the local mentor believes, they will be triumphant over Pomona's best two

SEASON OPENED BY FROSH TEAM

Coach Ray Denno's untried frosh basketballers will present themselves to Santa Barbara fans this Saturday evening when they clash with Coach "Skip" Winans' high school lightweights in a preliminary game. The peagreeners, who have been working up a sweat with some speedy practice sessions during the past few weeks, will make their debut sharply at 7 o'clock.

The midget Barbarians already have one scalp tucked under their belts; they walloped the Oxnard high school lightweights in their first battle last week-end. The freshmen, if for no other reason than their size, should hold the advantage over their smaller rivals. However, Coach Winans has a habit of turning out some sweet little lightweights, so that sideline critics are expecting a bit of flashy basketball in the preliminary tilt.

The probable starting lineup for the Dennomen will be Johnson at center, Nye and Brimer at forwards, Van Winkle and Dorn at guards.

nights hence. But even if they don't fans should be able to expect something of that thrilling play which characterized the games with Cal Tech and La Verne last season.

Pomona's chief difficulty against Oxy was an inability to sink free throws, which, had they been successful, would have cinched the game for the Merrittmen. With a little practice this week, that difficulty should be pretty well eliminated by the time the invaders arrive on the Santa Barbara scene.

Two sophomores have found places on the starting line-up for the southerners, Bill Bower, guard, and Charlie Longacre, forward, "Lewie" Gleeck is the scoring star of the Pomonans, with Captain Farrel also a topnotcher threat.
