HOCKEY OWNERS, PLAYERS SETTLE!

League Play to Begin in January

No, we're not talking about those idiot NHL squabblers — those guys are still fighting. But at least in Santa Barbara the season is going ahead.

Santa Barbara Indoor Hockey players and fans breathed a collective sigh of relief this month, when owner concessions to players ensured the January start of the 1995 Indoor Roller Hockey season.

Rick Halperin, Owner/Manager of the new Santa Barbara Roller Hockey center, said the final negotiations were tough, but cordial.

"The final consideration throughout this whole process, has of course been that we all want the league to start play in January — and we've succeeded. The major sticking point as you know, has been the player fee cap. As owners, we wanted the most we could get, but the players held out for a discount."

Halperin surprised players with a far deeper discount than anyone had expected — a full 30 percent for the month of November.

But Halperin was no cream puff. He forked out the painful November discount — just $99 for 12 league games for free agents, and $899 for full teams — in return for a player concession that will allow him to charge the full fee for latecomers to the league. After December 1, team discounts will disappear, and all players will pay the $129 individual fee. And the mandatory individual annual $35 membership in the National In-Line Hockey Association each player must pay will not be affected during the discount period.

"First we were shocked at the huge discount, and delighted, of course," player negotiator Fall Softly said. "But most of all we're satisfied. As player representative, I felt vindicated to get that stingy bastard (Halperin) to fork over the deep discounts through November 30."

"Santa Barbara is finally getting a primo rink with a roll-on surface and boards that are exactly the same setup as the Anaheim Pond."

Also in the players' corner are Street Hockey Plus owners Tim and Lori Wilson, who'll be operating the full service pro shop at the new arena.

"We got what we wanted all along — a primo indoor facility and a great discount, so I'm urging players to get on over to the Arena and inflict 30 percent pain on Halperin immediately."

Player Representative Fall Softly

"Street Hockey Plus is digging deep to support the players, which is why we're offering the 15 percent discount through the end of the week, and 10 percent for the rest of the month."

— Tim Wilson

Tim Wilson said: "The players had to squeeze hard to get this huge discount out of Halperin, that (expletive deleted). But one thing we want them to know is we're (Lori and Tim) trying to be supportive year-round. We'll be offering special discounts to the players on a regular basis, unlike that (expletive deleted) Halperin, who'll probably charge for water in the showers.

(Halperin denied that charge, and explained that both lockers and showers would be freely available to all registered league players.)

The new facility, located at 30 S. La Patera Lane (just off Hollister across from the airport, near the E-Bar) is open Monday-Saturday 10-7, and Sundays 12-5. The Hockey Hotline number is 564-0758 and Street Hockey Plus is 967-2330.

"It doesn't matter if it's rainy or windy or cold or dark. We're inside, we're lit, we're heated and we've got full locker and shower facilities."
