

PROVOST NOBLE AND PRESIDENT GOODE EXTEND WELCOME TO NEW STUDENTS AT SANTA BARBARA COLLEGE

Elmer R. Noble
Acting Provost
UCSBC

On behalf of the administration and faculty I welcome all new students to our college. You will be receiving many words of advice this week, and the words you hear will be worth remembering. I wish only to add the hope that you will get from college everything it has to offer.

It seems hardly credible that so many young men and women enroll in college seeking only the fringe benefits and refusing its central gift. This gift is a body of common values, ideas, attitudes and mental habits combined with a distinct treasury of literature, the arts, the humanities and sciences. The total environment will make possible the development of an individual. Here is your opportunity.

Elmer R. Noble
Acting Provost

To those of you newly arrived at the University of California, Santa Barbara College, I extend hearty greetings. The choice of a University or College is a difficult and important one. It is in the College environment that the final polish is put on an individual — both in educational and social skills. Your choice of Santa Barbara College is a wise one.

Upon enrollment you become part of one of the largest Universities in the world — the University of California. As part of a 2400 member resident campus, you can reap the benefits of a large University, while keeping your individuality. Your professors are chosen by the University's standards and are high in ability. During your College years you will come to know many of them quite well — something that is impossible on a large campus. A Liberal Arts Degree from a college, such as ours, with a high student-faculty ratio is highly valued. Graduates of Santa Barbara College can be found in many of the Professional and Graduate Schools throughout the country. The facilities for those who desire to be teachers are excellent.

Besides offering the benefits of a University with the congeniality and advantages of a small College, Santa Barbara College offers the old and new student a multitude of opportunities to partake in extra-curricular activities. Through the facilities of the Associated Students, one can find activities that appear to be "tailor made." These activities are not only Outlook and Experience Broadeners, they also serve the important purpose of giving a prospective employer a better idea of the caliber and versatility of a Graduate. What better experience for a Business major than to supervise the books of a $75,000 organization, or for a prospective Coach to be in charge of the board where all Athletic decisions are made? Such analogies can be made with every major.

There are over one hundred organizations recognized by the Associated Students that await the newcomer to Santa Barbara College. The sandy beach and blue water sparkles in the background — awaiting the leisure time, day or night, of the student. The tremendous expansion program which will make this College the dream College of the West Coast is well underway. The athletic program gives good, hard competition but does not demand the performance of a big time university. It carries none of the penalties either.

The next four years will be among the best of your life. Use them well for they will never come again. Again, I congratulate you on your choice.

Cal Club Convenes on Campus; 100 Student Leaders Discuss Needs Of University in Next Ten Years

More than 100 top student leaders from six of the campuses of the University of California gathered at Santa Barbara College last weekend for the annual California Club Convention.

Dealing with the theme, "The University and Its Needs in the Next Ten Years," the students discussed with various professors and administrators from various campuses the means to meet these needs, along with concomitant ideas which the theme suggests.

Opened Thursday

The convention opened Thursday evening with the registration of Cal Club members from Berkeley, San Francisco, Davis, Riverside, Los Angeles, and the host college, Santa Barbara.

That evening the convention members listened to an address their ideas about the "Unique Position of the University in the Higher Education of the State of California." Brought out during the discussion were the facts that the University alone has the responsibility for research in the public education system; intelligence levels of students entering the University are much higher than those of the state of junior colleges; and that only 65 per cent of those who enter the University graduate.

Following the panel discussion the students broke up into small groups to discuss the material with which they had been presented. Most of the student participants seemed unclear as to just what the University should provide. The basic question seemed to be: Should the University encourage specialization or aim for a broad liberal education?

Willson Speaks

Another panel discussion was held in the afternoon, discussing the topic, "How Can the University Maintain Its Position in the Next Ten Years." Among the faculty speakers was Dr. Lawrence Willson, Associate Professor of English at Santa Barbara College. Among the many points made by Dr. Willson was the following: "The university, with the exception of insane asylums, and possibly the United States Senate, is the last stronghold of eccentricity. . . . Thinkers are lonely people. . . . In the university the thinker should be the least lonely. . . ."

Dr. Willson went on to add: "Students fall into three classes: the A's, who come to bask in the admiration of professors; the F's, who beg and weep, and then those who don't dare rock the boat."

Tea Given

Following the group discussions the members of the convention were received in a tea given by University President Robert Gordon Sproul and his wife. This was followed by an evening party at the Kappa Sigma Fraternity House.

Saturday's activities consisted of a general session and meetings of the various state-wide Cal Club committees. In these meetings various recommendations and resolutions were approved by the members of the convention.

On Saturday evening the delegates attended a banquet honoring President Sproul, given at the Mar Monte Hotel. Keys for new Cal Club members were presented at this banquet.

The evening's lighter entertainment consisted of a Convention Farewell party given by the host chapter at the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity House.

The Cal Club members returned to their various home campuses on Sunday morning.

The California Club is an honorary organization founded by President Sproul with the dual purpose of recognizing campus leaders and promoting intercampus unity. Members are chosen from the various schools by vote of the Cal Club members and approval of the President.

New Semester Opens

A brief four-day respite from the intellectual cogitations of University life ended Sunday, January 27, as students of University of California, Santa Barbara College, converged once again on the seashore campus to begin spring semester tomorrow. However, a week-long series of smoothly functioning registration procedures promises some free time for many students before instruction begins on Monday, February 4.

The traditional orientation assembly for all new students was scheduled Tuesday at 9 a.m. College officials included Dr. Elmer R. Noble, acting provost, who extended greetings; and the registrar, Dr. Paul W. Wright who presided, met with students.

The Associated Students officers under leadership of Richard Goode, student body president, introduced themselves and described this all-student organization and its various activities. Afterwards, students conferred with department chairmen for counseling.

The program Wednesday for new students includes physical examination appointments, meetings with the personnel deans, and counseling with faculty advisers.

Upper division and graduate students will register Thursday at 8:30 a.m. At 1 p.m. freshman students will start registration procedures. Friday at 8:30 a.m. students will register. Sophomores and juniors working toward a credential will take proficiency examinations that afternoon and the remainder of undergraduate students who missed the psychological examinations on Tuesday will be tested.

Greeks Begin Rushing; Friday Preference Night

Panhellenic rushing for the Spring semester began Saturday with a meeting on campus. On Sunday the sorority houses held open house for all the rushees. Monday the houses sponsored coke parties.

Friday, Feb. 1, has been designated as Panhellenic Preference Night. Saturday, formal pledging and presentation ceremonies will be held and all new sorority members will be officially recognized.

The Panhellenic president, Cheryl Sedivia, is available to all prospective rushees and sorority members who have any questions with regard to rushing.

Frat Rushing

Fraternity rushing is to take place on Feb. 3-6, with rushees making scheduled tours of the various fraternities. Rushees will be provided with transportation to the many events planned by the fraternities during rushing week.

Additional information concerning rushing may be obtained from the Dean of Men's office, or from Dan Hon, Interfraternity Council president.

SPROULS RECEIVE NEW STUDENTS FEBRUARY 7

President and Mrs. Robert Gordon Sproul have personally invited each new Santa Barbara College student — for both the fall and spring semesters — to attend the gala President's Reception to be held Thursday, Feb. 7, at 8:30 p.m. in the Faculty Club. Dancing will follow.

Jazzman Tjader Appears in Lobero Tomorrow Evening

Cal Tjader, jazz master of the vibes and bongos, will make a rare, one-night appearance at the Lobero Theater Thursday evening at 8:30, Jan. 31. Under the auspices of the Santa Barbara Philharmonic Jazz Club, Tjader will bring with him Vince Guaraldi, Louis Kant, Al Torre and Eugene Wright.

Tjader is known to jazz enthusiasts for his work in Afro-Cuban rhythms. Playing with the first Dave Brubeck group, and then later with George Shearing Quintet, Tjader set styles in playing with mambos which still are followed by jazz experimenters.

In the 1955 Downbeat Magazine Poll, Cal Tjader was voted a new star on vibes. Among musicians he is known as an inventive and experimental player, with a remarkable ability in blending jazz and Latin rhythms.

Tickets for the one-night jazz concert are on sale at the Lobero Ticket Office and West Coast TV.

All new freshmen and transfer students are urged to attend this highlight social event where they will have a chance to meet and chat with the President, who has indicated his intention to retire in 1958.

Dress for the new students is informal. They will be greeted by faculty hosts and hostesses who will take them through the receiving line to meet the Sprouls and Dr. Elmer R. Noble, acting provost, and Mrs. Noble. Student hosts will then escort the honored new students to a dance party to be held in the "X" room.

When arriving for the party, students are asked to enter the Faculty Club through the Casitas Dining Hall entrance.

Arrangement details for the event are being handled by Prof. Harrington "Pop" Wells, chairman of the public ceremonies committee and member of the biological sciences faculty.

El Gaucho Announces Editorial Policy

With the beginning of a new semester, El Gaucho has formulated several ideas which it hopes to discuss in forthcoming issues. These points were formulated by a new arm of the paper—the Editorial Board, which consists of five members—the editor, two assistant editors, the managing editor and the sports editor. This adjunct will in the future determine all editorial policy and will be responsible for the organization of the paper.

1) Discrimination: This subject will be approached from several angles. The paper hopes to develop a wholesome community of ideas; it is hoped that the student body will become aware of all the facets of this problem. See page four of the January 9th issue for the first of the editorials on this situation.

2) Student Activities: Here again the paper has already expressed some views (Dec. 5 and 12). This situation will be viewed from two directions: 1) Possible revision of the student constitution in order to provide a better opportunity for more effective, efficient and forceful administration; 2) Possible suggestions to promote more participation by a greater segment of the student community.

3) Student-Faculty Standards Committee: In this field the paper wants to study the relationship of the students and the faculty with regard to student standards and discipline. It is believed by El Gaucho that the present Standards Committee can be expanded by giving the students a more adequate voice.

4) Student of the Year: A new feature is planned for the paper — the outstanding student. Since the paper wishes to bring to the attention of the student body the efforts of our student officials, and since the paper hopes also to awaken in the college the duties of these officers, a search will be conducted to discover that student who has contributed the most to student life.

5) Evaluation of Professors: In order to allow the student to gain an insight into course curricula and teachers, El Gaucho would like to initiate an evaluation of professors. This program will be two-fold in its aims: the student will learn of his new teachers, and the teacher will find suggestion of ways in which he can improve his course.

6) Liberal vs. Applied Arts: For quite some time the paper has studied the position of the liberal arts campus in the educational system. This publication will now discuss the place of applied arts on a liberal arts campus. As is usual, the newspaper will call for the opinions of faculty and students. It is hoped that through these presentations of views a more specific approach to the general issue of applied arts versus liberal arts will be provided for both students and faculty.

As can be seen in these policies for the new semester, El Gaucho desires to solidify the campus into a college community in every sense of the word. The staff hopes to see in the future more dynamic action in all college life.

Don Peterson
Cal Club Convention Chairman

by Professor Thomas R. McConnell of the Education Department at Berkeley. Dr. McConnell discussed with the group the various needs of the University in view of the tremendous population growth that is predicted for the state of California within the next ten years.

Twofold Problem

According to Dr. McConnell, the problem is twofold, for not only will there be more teenagers who will be ready for college, but more of these students than ever will be wanting to go to college. Dr. McConnell stated that this will be the case because 1) the pressure for education in industry is growing steadily, and 2) more and more, "going to college" is becoming the thing to do.

Activities opened on Friday morning with the first panel discussion, in which four professors discussed before the convention

FORUM...FORUM...FORUM...FORUM...

Dear Sir:
My purpose in writing this letter is not because I feel that I must defend myself as a result of Pete Vorzimer's recent article, but rather to clarify my position to the student body in general, and to Mr. Vorzimer in particular.

Mr. Vorzimer states in his column that "Here at Santa Barbara College we have an Athletic Publicity Director. . . . He draws a rather tidy salary from the P.E. Department . . ." Both of these statements are incorrect. The Men's Physical Education Department does not contribute one cent of my salary, and this is a situation which exists in every branch of the University of California. I am not an Athletic Publicity Director; I am not even hired as a general Publicity Director. My title is Director of Publications, and as such, publicity is only a part of my duties, and athletic publicity only a segment of this. In each of the other five schools in our athletic conference, the California Collegiate Athletic Association, men or students are hired for the express job of handling athletic publicity, and only athletic publicity. If my position were similar, then I would be able to do many of the things which a lack of time now prohibits.

As Director of Publications, my main duties are in the realm of campus publications, and more specifically in the securing of advertising for these publications. In the years that I have held this position I have regularly secured advertising for the El Gaucho, the Gaucho-Merchant Index, the football program and the La Cumbre. When a student could not be found to do it, I have also stepped in and sold advertising for the Student Directory and the Frosh Bible.

The remainder of my time is dedicated to publicity. This is broken down into athletics, special events such as Homecoming, Barbary Coast, Spring Sing, dances, charities, etc. Of this time I have given the lion's share to athletics, mainly because I receive an allocation to my budget from athletics through the Board of Athletic Control. This is not, I repeat, salary, but is to be used for supplies, photographs, etc. In determining just how my time in athletic publicity was to be spent, I felt that it was most important to concentrate my efforts to local publicity in the Santa Barbara News-Press, the local radio stations and the television station, in order that our gate receipts could be built up. This viewpoint has received the full support of Graduate Manager Bob Lorden. This does not mean, however, that out-of-town publicity has been ignored. Releases and other information are sent or phoned to out-of-town newspapers and radio stations.

The position which I now hold was, in past years, held by two people—one for the advertising end, and another for the publicity. Even then there was no Ath-

Special Events Comm. Organizes For Barbary Coast; Ritter Invites Help

Hey! Wait a minute. Just because the Galloping Gaucho Review turned out so well, that doesn't mean everyone has to sit around on their laurels and trophies (there were quite a few of them, weren't there?) and reminisce about past accomplishments. Barbary Coast is just around the corner and imaginative thought on everyone's part at this stage of the carnival would help get this year's presentation into the "best-ever" category come March 8 and 9.

The Special Events Committee welcomes one and all to their Tuesday 3 p.m. meetings. The main topic of discussion at future meetings will be the Barbary Coast presentation for this year.

Or better yet, if you've got some hot ideas about Barbary Coast which just can't wait until the regular Tuesday meetings, contact Bill Ritter, Special Events co-chairman, at 8-9961, Sycamore Hall, or Jim Bailey at the Delta Tau Delta House, 3810, or, as a last resort, contact the ASB office behind the Student Union.

letic Publicity Director as such, although when the job was split, the publicity director had much more time to devote to athletic publicity. With the enrollment of our college increasing, it is my hope that in the near future the job will once again be split.

I hope that the above paragraphs will help the student body to understand the athletic publicity situation as it exists here at Santa Barbara College.

Tryouts Begin For "Adding Machine"

The Speech Department is to hold tryouts for its up-and-coming presentation of the play, "The Adding Machine."

Under the direction of Dr. Theodore Hatlen, the department is seeking new and fresh talent from amongst the student body here. There are parts for 11 men and nine women, and all interested are asked to attend the tryouts to be held in Bldg. 417, Rm. 212, on Thursday, Feb. 7, from 2 to 4 p.m.; Monday, Feb. 11, from 3 to 5 p.m., and Tuesday, Feb. 12, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. The play itself is to take place the latter part of March.

"The Adding Machine" is a psychological drama, written by an American writer. It is full of tense, dramatic moments which require a demanding performance. It should prove an interesting accomplishment to add to the many fine performances already presented by the Speech Department and Dr. Hatlen.

How to Go Up Grade Points

Ah yes, now the time comes in the life of every freshman (and often a sophomore and others) when the grim realization that he is down grade points or on probation starts to creep dreadfully into his soul.

Ah, but this is no time for mourning a semester now past . . . you must learn from your past experience. Look at the statistics. Over half the new freshmen are down grade points . . . but it is only a fractional percentage of the other classes that are in a similar position. Why? Simple, they have learned from their mistakes.

Here is a practical list of items to check for the forthcoming semester . . . a veritable doctoral thesis on how to go up grade points.

(1) CHEATING — Did you get caught cheating this last semester? Shame on you. Perhaps experience has taught you to devise more clever and subtle methods. Compare notes with friends who didn't get caught.

(2) STUDYING — Did you shut yourself off in a room by yourself and cram through long hard hours? Tch, tch. Psychology majors (who are never on probation) will tell you that this is very bad as it only heightens the normal desires for food, fun, drink and women. This terrible contrast can be very frustrating. The best way to eliminate this is to study in the library or Bob's Hide-Out where your immediate environment is filled with what you enjoy most . . . also, those ten-minute breaks can be quite enjoyable . . . but this brings to mind a rather sad story of our friend Yohar Critch, who after putting himself in just such a libidinous environment went on a ten-minute coffee break that lasted for 4½ years.

(3) LEISURE TIME — There is an ancient theory floating around universities all over the world (purportedly started by one Antonius Brambillious of Ancient Rome at an ancient Roman Orgy) that upholds that if you party 90% of the time, that you will study harder under the realization that you have only 10% of your time left in which to study. However, this results in 9% quiet desperation (in which one almost inevitably resolves to cheat because it's too late for anything else) and 1% of your time devoted to coffee breaks.

(4) CLASS TIME — It must be cautioned that attendance in class is not quite as urgent as you as a neophyte thought it was. One can skip the first five lectures as introduction and the last five as review. Besides 3 o'clock classes were only originated to rob students of their sleep and wear them down so that studying is an even more arduous task — do not be deceived.

(5) DATING — An ancient Roman scholar Casanovius Romeus once made the prime rationalization by which all college students stand. "To achieve the heights of scholarship, one must lead a well-rounded life." And naturally we do not wish to be un-rounded, we must have our social life — even if only for the sake of our studies.

These rules, if carefully employed can lead to greater heights of scholastic accomplishment.

Oregon To Integrate Men And Women

At the University of Oregon there has been talk of ending the football seating arrangement which presently segregates the male and female students. The Oregon Daily Emerald isn't too keen about the idea, suggesting that such action, instead of increasing school spirit, would more likely have an opposite result. Said the Emerald:

"What able-bodied, red-blooded, reasonably nice-looking fellow will yell his lungs out when he's sitting right next to an equally able-bodied, equally red-blooded and equally nice-looking young lady? He won't be yelling. He'll probably be making time: probably setting up a coffee date for right after the game. And what fellow is going to yell when to do so would brand him as a gung-ho lunthead in the eyes of the petite little coed sitting next to him? Conversely, what petite little coed is going to yell when to do so would destroy the fellow's impression of her as a tender, soft-spoken, dainty little miss?"

EL GAUCHO STAFF MEETING

There will be a meeting held Friday, February 1, for all members of the El Gaucho Staff. All who have contributed towards the making of the paper for this past fall semester are urged to attend as this meeting will decide who is to be assigned future staff responsibilities.

COUNCIL CANDID

by Dorcas Vanian, '59

It seems a Legislative Council meeting would not always be the calmest or most orderly structure with all its diversities of opinions and multitude of leadership.

Actually it probably would be quite a hot-house if it were not for a certain stronghold whose appointed place it is to lead the members into a more organized disposition.

The name given to the solo aid is Parliamentarian of Legislative Council. This year he is personally known as Don Cottle.

Being Parliamentarian is no easy task, especially not one that can be learned overnight. If in doubt, try skimming an interesting book called "Roberts Rules of Order."

Don has become familiar with parliamentary procedures by numerous experiences. He held the high office of student body president at Citrus Junior College, at which time he attended the state convention on student government and other conferences. Here he became so well acquainted with standard rules of order that he has been chosen to advise our president and council on such things.

Besides his position as parliamentarian, Don also fits the bill as vice president of RHA and president of Toyon Hall. Busy man—yes! And the surprising aspect is that all this has been accomplished in one semester at SBC.

Don comes to us from Glendora, where he attended Citrus Junior College. Before that he attended for four years that great institute of learning—the Navy. It almost was as such to him, as he became an aerial photographer and used his talent in Hawaii, Japan, Korea and China. The highlight, he admits, of all his adventures was his chance of capturing on film a hydrogen bomb test on the island of Eniwetok. It was a terrifying and exciting experience.

Getting down to the present, Don is interested in the field of economics. He also desires to attend law school some day. His knowledge and capabilities in student government certainly reveal such interests.

The Council Candid congratulates Don on his example of initiative and co-operativeness in student affairs during his first semester here and is hoping to evidence more of the same in future years.

Bigotry at Santa Barbara . . .

Santa Barbara College officially approves of discrimination, intolerance, prejudice and bigotry. Yesterday Provost Noble addressed students at the Orientation Assembly with the thought that here at SBC they should search out new ways of thinking, develop an understanding of mankind, and formulate common bonds with their fellow students.

Yet despite these broad, liberal-minded thoughts, the College continues to approve of organizations which practice the very antithesis of Dr. Noble's noble ideas.

The organizations of which we speak are fraternities, whose constitutions are filed with the Associated Students as a requirement for official recognition. In these constitutions, and in the "secret oaths" of certain fraternities, are clauses and words that definitely discriminate against Negroes, Jews, Chinese, Mexicans, Japanese, and other ethnic groups that form a part of our great people.

We wish to make certain that students understand that we are not indicting the fraternity system as such. It should also be pointed out that sororities are not involved, since none of the chapters on this campus have discriminatory clauses.

What we do object to is that in a college which "terms" itself a liberal arts college, organizations are permitted to exist which encourage un-American, immoral and medieval ideas. The very fact that some fraternities and all sororities have abolished the formal clauses which discriminate against people because of race or religion is in itself an indictment of those fraternities which have not seen fit to abolish them.

While El Gaucho is aware of which fraternities do have bigoted constitutions, we would prefer to let those men who intend to rush various houses determine for themselves which the guilty ones are. The determination of whether an individual wishes to associate himself with a group of men who still practice bigotry is of course a matter of pure personal choice. We of El Gaucho are of the opinion that sufficient numbers of men will make known their democratic beliefs to encourage the abolishment of discriminatory clauses by those fraternities which still have them.

Faulkner Leads Band Clinic

For the second successive year Dr. Maurice Faulkner, associate professor of music and director of the Santa Barbara College orchestra, was invited to conduct the clinic band of outstanding young musicians from San Luis Obispo County, scheduled recently at San Luis Obispo High School.

The clinic is developed annually by Gilbert Rogers, San Luis Obispo County Director of Curriculum, with the co-operation of band and orchestra directors in the various elementary schools.

More than 80 players participated in the session, which was intended to develop students' interpretive musical ideas and to aid technical improvement.

Rehearsals continued through the day, climaxed by an evening concert for parents and friends. Instruction in proper breathing, phrasing, attack, interpretation and similar aspects of musical training were included in the day's program. Teachers aided the conductor in try-outs and sectional rehearsals.

During the years in which the clinic has been organized the group has grown into a fully instrumented concert band. One outgrowth is that students of rival schools have opportunity to develop a spirit of co-operation. Teachers, too, learn new methods of solving identical problems from working with associates.

OUT TWICE

El Gaucho will appear twice next week. Publication is set for two issues, one on Tuesday, February 5, and another on Friday, February 8. This plan will help determine the possibility of publishing twice a week for the rest of the semester.

Engineering Offered

Three University of California Extension engineering classes are scheduled to begin at the Santa Barbara College Mesa campus auditorium this month in a new program designed to meet the needs of the increasing numbers of scientists and technicians in the Santa Barbara area.

With the location here recently of several research agencies, University training in engineering, the physical sciences and mathematics is increasingly needed. The engineering offerings represent the initial step in a program which will be expanded as needed. It is expected that classes in physics and mathematics will be offered later in co-operation with the UCSBC Departments of Physical Sciences and Mathematics.

The three courses, which are given by the Department of Engineering at UCLA, are: Engineering Aerodynamics, taught by Walter Koch, aerophysics specialist, Aerophysics Development Corp.; Directed Group Studies for Upper Division (Intermediate Circuit Theory), taught by William A. Bowen Jr., director, physics and electronics division, Naval Research Laboratory, Port Hueneme; and Directed Group Studies for Upper Division Students (Transistor Electronics - Part I), Instructor for the latter is Virgil W. Wall, manager, radar division, Raytheon Manufacturing Co.

Students will meet in each course for 18 weekly sessions, receiving three units of credit.

DISCRIMINATION DESTROYS DEMOCRACY

by Bernard M. Baruch

The forces of organized bigotry are being routed in America. Steadily and surely, in education, employment, housing and in all human relations, discrimination is waning. Much remains to be done, to be sure. The task is still incomplete.

To discriminate against a man because of race, color, creed or national origin is antithetical to democracy and dangerous to America. In this time of democracy's testing, we must proclaim our faith in it and live closely by its principles. In these days of danger to America we can permit nothing to undermine the unity which is so essential to our safety. Nothing is so destructive of unity than the hate, discord, suspicion and bitterness which prejudice breeds.

There can be no second-class citizens in America. As we expect each man, black and white, Jew and Christian, native and foreign born to bear the responsibilities of citizenship, so we demand that each share in its rights and privileges and we seek that all shall live in mutual respect, understanding and friendship.

The time will come, and soon I hope, when Brotherhood Week will be a reminder, not of the presence of discrimination in our midst, but of its eradication. Until that time, we must, each of us, work to break down its barriers, fight bigotry wherever we find it and cleanse our own hearts of blind animosity against our fellows.

THOUGHT

If a centaur married a mermaid fair,
 What kind of children would she bear?
 Would they have hide or would they have scales?
 Would they have hooves or long fishy tails?
 Would they eat seaweed or would they eat hay?
 It's one of the problems of the day.
