SURPRISE ELECTION FINISH GIVES BRIANS ASB PREXY

Upsetting the results of the primary election and ousting Arlin Stockburger from his lead in the presidential race, Dick Brians, on Friday, May 3, became the new president of Santa Barbara College student body.

In the contest for student body secretary, Elsie Tatum triumphed over her opponent in the run-off, Bobbyann Kubly, by a margin of 113 votes.

The decision for vice-president was made final in the primary election when Delmar Beissell won his race against all other candidates.

Replacing Bob Schottland as student cheer leader is Bob Sanchez.

Representatives for the Sophomore class in student government are Junemarie Davidson and Wes Gray.

Winner of the run-off for Senior class representative is Lynn Wiggins.

New Junior representative is Betty Ann Bowers.

Popular opinion was against changing the school colors from blue and gold back to green and white so UCSB students will continue to cheer the blue and gold.

Luncheon at Hotel Barbara Climaxes Speech Festival

Climaxing this year's Speech Festival, a luncheon was held at the Barbara Hotel on Sunday, May 5th, where final-round winners of the oratory, extemporaneous and after-dinner speaking, and interpretive reading contests were judged and awarded prizes.

Wallace Perry emerged the winner of the oratory finals, and his name will be inscribed on the Trophy Cup in that division.

To be inscribed on the Trophy Cup for extemporaneous speaking will be the name of Noni Williams who won the final round from her opponent.

A cash award of $5.00 was presented to Dorothy Simmons, winner of the after-dinner division.

Dean Dillman, Jr., received a Rockwell Kent illustrated copy of "Shakespeare" as winner in the interpretive reading division sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatics fraternity.

Attending the dinner as spectators or judges were: Mr. Ted Hatlen, as master of ceremonies, Dean Ashworth, Miss Marian Hammond, Edie Van Meter, Beth De Mers, Phyllis Friedman, Robert Clark, Walter Beaver and Johnny Simmons.

Ad Club States New Rulings

In order that more students may become better acquainted with the Ad Club and its rules and functions, Dawn Walker, president, explained them as follows:

"We wish to announce that we shall not take orders for posters unless they are given to us at least eight days in advance of their being posted on campus. Anyone may place an order for a poster as long as he pays for the poster and fills out the requisition slip in the graduate manager's office."

"We are also raising our prices to enable a small sum to be paid to those of the club who before this time have volunteered their time and services."

An organization with student-body funds may have two large posters and six smaller posters on the Riviera campus with two posters on the Mesa campus. An organization, as a church group, may have one large poster and six smaller ones on the Riviera with one poster on the Mesa. For special events as dances, as many posters are created and completed as the organization wishes.

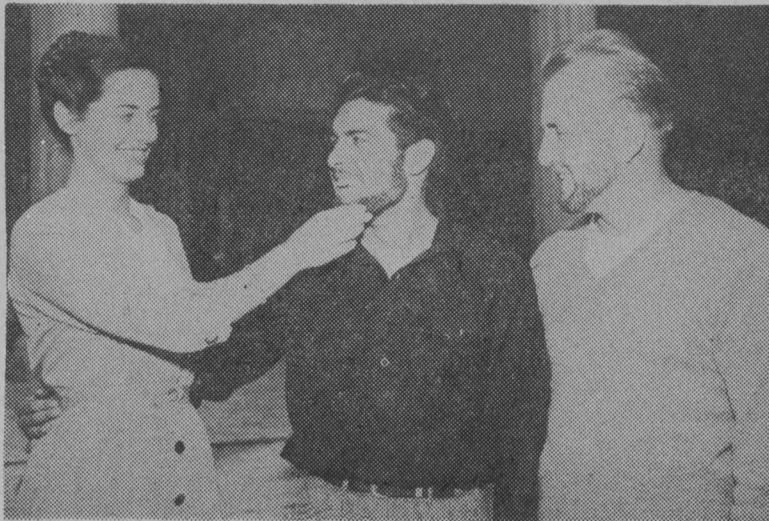

Other officers of the Ad Club are Gerry Gordon, vice president; Larry Mosher, secretary; Vini Hoge, treasurer; and Miss Katherine Conkey, faculty adviser. The office of requisition manager is vacant at this time and shall be until the end of the semester, according to Miss Walker.

Revue Highlights This Week's Social Program

"The Ruptured Duck Parade" will be presented by the student body next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. The overture by Leland Kenniston and his 21-piece orchestra will begin promptly at 8:15.

This year's Roadrunner Revue, like all the previous revues, will present the campus talent to the students and townspeople. Unlike most of the other revues, this show will be incorporated in a definite theme, with everything from ballet to burlesque worked in through the script. Among the acts that will be presented are blackout skits, audience participation gags, solo and glee club vocals, a love story, several comedy roles, dance routines, and trick stage effects.

June Lord, freshman music major, will handle the feminine lead playing opposite Ken Raupach, a

Men and Mice To Meet Today At Hobo Brawl

At 3:00 this afternoon men and mice will take part in the annual Hobo Brawl held at Leadbetter Beach, just across the road from La Playa Field. It was previously stated that Hendry's beach would be the site of the brawl, but the location has been changed for the convenience of the college men who lack transportation.

Bob "Shanty" Stansbury, chairman of games and entertainment, states that games will begin promptly at 3:00. The scheduled activities include tug-o-war, various kinds of relay races, touch football, volleyball and swimming.

Harvey Schechter is cook for the event, and chili and beans with all the trimmings constitutes the meal. There will be coffee and ice cream for dessert, topped off with free cigars for all.

Beards will be judged and prizes will be awarded by Dr. Durlinger and Dean of Men, Mr. Paul Jones. Prizes are to be awarded for the fanciest beard, the longest beard and the most colorful beard.

The Hobo Brawl this year will be the first one held in four years. All men, those who wear mouse tags and those who wear beards, should turn out for the games and dinner, because a good time is guaranteed for everyone by A.M.S. president, Bob Elliott, general chairman in charge of this Whiskerino.

Headly Plans Tour Of Europe's Capitals

Hubert-Headley, associate professor of music and composer-pianist-conductor, will leave the United States on June 15 for an extended concert tour of continental Europe and the British Isles. This tour is being encouraged by the Department of State in Washington in connection with their Cultural Relations program. During that time he will present programs of his own composition both in capacity of conductor and pianist. Engagements already booked are in London, Paris, Rome, Milan, and the Scandinavian countries.

During the same period Headley will do research work on musicology at Oxford University.

Mr. Headley's California Suite was given its world premiere by the San Francisco Symphony orchestra, conducted by Pierre Monteux. His Argentango, a concerto for piano and orchestra, also has been presented by the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra over the Standard Symphony Hour with Henry Svedrofsky conducting, Lloyd Browning at the piano. He is not only a conductor and composer of distinction, but is well known as a concert pianist.

CLEAN-UP DAY - SO OUR TEAM CAN PLAY

Students . . . Men and Women. This is where your school spirit really will show up.

Recently discussed in an A.M.S. meeting was the fact that next semester the football team will not have a place to practice unless something is done immediately. La Playa Field will not be available for football practice for several reasons. It is chiefly because of the distance between this campus and that field, and also because during practice the sod is torn up and leaves the playing field with a poorly-cared-for look when game time comes.

Phelps Field behind the college in Mission Canyon is the only field that is available for the use of the team in practice sessions. If we want a good football team, they must have a place to practice, and we DO want a good team. So, what do you say? Let's help them out when the help is really needed—NOW.

Dick Briens, newly elected Student Body President, is the chairman of a committee delegated by the Board of Athletic Control to take charge of cleaning up Phelps Field, which has in the past three years been allowed to "go to seed."

The College will take care of having the field disced, but it is up to the student body to see that the locker rooms of the clubhouse are cleaned and whitewashed, and that the field itself is cleared of the refuse and debris which has collected over a period of years. All equipment necessary for such operations will be provided—rakes, hoses, brooms, whitewash and brushes.

What we ask is that all students that possibly can will turn out for "Clean-Up Day, So Our Team Can Play." Tentative dates set for the "clean-up" are Saturday, May 25 and Sunday, May 26. These dates will be definitely decided upon and announced to the student body.

—Ardis Adler.

"Peg" Wells

Question of the week:

Did you vote? If you didn't, why not?

Wes Gray: I didn't vote because I was sick in bed. I've been sick since Tuesday when I got out of jail. I was Stockburger's campaign manager.

Quinn Potter: I wasn't at school.

Jack Ogden: I was going to, but I forgot.

Virginia Otto: I don't have classes on Friday, so I didn't come to school to vote.

John Murphy: I voted. I know of two students who couldn't, because they forgot their student body cards.

Carl Farmer: I didn't know either of the candidates.

Nancie Riggs: I had to leave early—didn't have time.

Jules Gage: I voted. I think more students would have if there had been separate voting booths—then they wouldn't have had to stand in line.

Miriam Seely: This is my first semester. I didn't know the candidates' qualifications. I didn't think it would be fair to nullify the vote of another student, better informed than I.

"Sports in Shorts"

By GEORGE LEYVA

The scorebook closed on the Gaucho baseball season last Saturday, when the squad traveled to the border city only to be defeated by a strong Aztec nine 5-4.

It was another tough luck situation which seems to have prevailed all season for the Gaucho horsehidiers. The squad held the lead all the way to the eighth inning only to let the Aztecs score a run in the ninth, tying a ball game which should have been in the bag. The extra-inning ball game was then dropped when two of our men were on base and bench signals were fowled up, costing the ball game which could have been won on a base steal.

Even though the fellows lost this ball game you can be sure the San Diegans knew they were in a ball game and up against Gaucho strength. It was stated by some of the members of the San Diego ball club; "that our squad was one of the toughest teams they had encountered this season." This coming from the team holding the top-notch in our league with 13 victories can be accredited as a compliment of due respect. I will venture to say that the squad was beginning to look like a ball club and probably would have been more successful earlier in the season if the combination playing these last few games would have been together earlier in the season.

This season's baseball squad can be said to be one of the most unpredictable clubs ever to perform for our institute of knowledge. This in my estimation was due to juggled line-ups, changing of positions, which should have been thrashed out, earlier in practice, along with the hidden talents which were overlooked until late in the season. All of these major points to me insured the inevitable defeat of the "unpredictable nine" throughout the season. I may add the squad seemed to play what is called hot and cold ball, you never know when they're hot or cold, never knowing when victory was insured or defeat inevitable.

I'm sure next year's season will show improvement with a much more settled and rehabilitated squad. The return of Carl Fisher, Mark Stienberg, who incidently is credited to be one of the finest shortstops in the league, Eddie Saenz, Bob Elliot along with many other players who will enroll in the Fall will bolster a winning squad.

ROBERT NAIDIS, the very fortunate possessor of a shiny new '46 Plymouth is very unhappy these days. It seems someone backed into his car and ruined one of its fenders. Rough go BOB.

CONVENTION NOTES

Four persons from the I.E. department attended the convention of the California Industrial Education Association at Fresno last week end. The four, DR. LYNN MUNRO, MR. CLYDE KEENER, TED GRAVES, and EVANS WATERMAN, should have some interesting things to tell us.

Professor ERICSON also attended a convention this week at Sacramento, called by State Superintendent of Schools, SIMPSON. It was the annual conference on Trade and Industrial Arts Education and Teacher Training.

THIS 'N THAT

Some people have all the luck! Last week, in telling about JIM OPPERMAN getting married we said "Another good man gone." Didn't know how right we were! Married on Sunday and drafted on Wednesday.

And speaking of weddings, JACK RICE was to be married in July, but moved the date up a month. He will marry BETTY WHITEHOUSE, former S.B.C. student.

The "Champ" does it again. One of those wonderful parties at Paradise, given by MERLIN QUO, we mean. It was a perfect day, and the food was terrific.

DEL BEISELL crossed the Santa Ynez river twice the other day and got stuck both times. When we saw him he was parked, or something, in a shady nook just right off the main highway between Paradise and the College Cabin.

MR. TAYLOR'S machine shop is the scene of a mass production enterprise. HERB EVANS and VERNON SILVA, having finished their machine shop projects, are turning out aluminum cigarette lighters. Like many another post-war enterprises, the boys are having difficulties. Perhaps by the end of the semester they will have completed one that will work.

Athletes Vie at San Jose CCAA Spring Carnival

The C.C.A.A. Spring Carnival will be resumed after a four-year lay-off, at San Jose State, Saturday, May 11. Santa Barbara has three substantial teams that will participate in the track, tennis and golf championships. This annual get-together embraces the U. of C. at Santa Barbara, San Diego State, Fresno State, and San Jose State, who battle it out each year for the titles. The host, San Jose, who captured the honors in 1942 is defending champion in track.

The Gauchos have a 14-man track team ready, composed of the men who have been making points for the Gaucho spirit so far this year. The entries read: Mel Patton—100 yard dash; William Morgan—220 yard dash; George McKenzie—440 yard dash; Wallace Cole—half mile; Murrel Binkley—mile; Ray Lloyd, Robert Sherman and Sam Cathcart—high hurdles; same three men also in low hurdles; Mel Patton—broad jump; Harry Mathews, John York—pole vault; Wallace Cole, Robert Sherman—high jump; Sherman—javelin; and Wallace Cole, George McKenzie, Harry Mathews and Mel Patton in the relay.

In drawing some comparisons with men from the other schools and some Santa Barbara boys, interesting figures are reached. Cole is Santa Barbara's only first place favorite. His 6'3" in the high jump is the best height in the conference. In the half mile he will be up against Thelmo Knowles of San Jose and Maceviez of San Diego. Cole's practice time of 2:3.2 closely blends with the times these two men have made. He will captain the team at this meet.

Grabast's competition will come in the form of Lamour of Fresno State whose best throw is 48' 8" as against Grabast's 48' 3". This ought to be close. Sam Cathcart will be a man for the rest to reckon with as he is getting faster and faster in the 220 lows, his latest and best time being 24.9. Ray Lloyd's time in the 120 highs is only one tenth of a second slower than the 15.6 that Birmingham of San Jose runs and Ray is due for an exceptional race. These men plus Bob Sherman, who is entered in four events, William Morgan, Mathews and all the rest have been consistent point getters against all comers, and with a little extra effort and luck there is no telling where they may wind up tomorrow.

Santa Barbara's golf entrants

Anderson-Blue Win Badminton Final

Finals in the annual intramural badminton tournament for men and women are underway this week and next. First of the events to be completed was the women's doubles in which Joan Anderson and Annabel Blue defeated Mary Lou Lewis and Elda Tonello, 15-12, 15-6, for the girls' duo title. Miss Anderson also defeated Lida Watson 11-2, 11-0, to become a finalist in the women's singles where she will oppose the winner of Blue vs. Carson for the title.

In the mixed doubles Mal Morehouse and Miss Anderson oppose Warren Finley and Pat Barnes in the finals. Men's doubles finds Morehouse and Bob Elliott meeting Mohr and Bob Stansbury for the title. In the men's singles, Morehouse is favored to defeat Davis Lewis and meet Ralph Fletcher in the finals.

are Mark Steinberg, Jim Judd, Fred Baird and Art Keithly. These men all qualified under 80. Steinberg is the top man with a recent 75. These men have been getting some fine help from Bill Irwine along with Nick Carter and the fact that they all shoot at 80 or better puts them in a good position for winning the golf championship.

The tennis team is composed of number one man Juan Solis and on down the line, Alan Cobbe, Larry Wathey and John Sanders.
