

PROP. 1-A RALLY, DOORBELL CAMPAIGN MONDAY

A student rally and door to door campaign are to be held Monday in support of Proposition 1A. The rally, slated to begin at 3 p.m. in the auditorium, will feature a briefing by student leaders and the administrative staff on the proposition.

At 3:30 p.m. an intensive two hour door bell campaign will begin with student teams canvassing various sections of Santa Barbara.

Monday has been designated 1A Day by Joe Sorrentino, Associated Student President, with the support of Legislative Council.

On that date, students from university, state college, and junior college campuses will ask local communities throughout the state to support this bond measure.

These actions are part of a statewide effort to inform voters of the importance of passing the $270 million construction bond issue for higher education.

Sorrentino states, "We (students) have the greatest stake in the outcome of this important bond issue. Proposition 1A will not only benefit those of us who are now in college but the thousands of students who will be entering college in the years to come."

RADIATION LABORATORY now under construction will need the additional funds Proposition 1-A can supply for equipment.

Student support is urgently sought for Monday's rally and doorbell ringing campaign

UCSB is to gain over 10,000 students by early 1970. By 1965 the university system will gain approximately 18,700 students. The bond issue is designed to adequately meet the needs of the increased number of students.

UCSB is already feeling "the pinch of increasing enrollment," according to architect Robert Floyd. The $5 million slated for UCSB will aid in overcoming the squeeze.

The new Chemistry Building, Marine Biology Building, Speech and Drama Building, and the Psychology Building are dependent on the passage of this bond.

According to Sorrentino, "It is up to us to support this bond issue so that adequate facilities will be available to meet the pressing situation of fast growing enrollments in our state colleges and universities."

The entire community has something big at stake --- proper education of its children in these perilous times," says the AS President

Transportation to Santa Barbara for the door bell campaign will be provided by private automobiles volunteered by students.

News In Brief

THE WORLD held its breath this week after Monday's announcement by President Kennedy that he has ordered a Cuban blockade to halt Soviet arms buildup there. The blockade seeks to prevent ships carrying offensive arms from landing in Cuba. Both U.S. and Cuban military forces were mobilized. Ambassador Stevenson urged the Security Council of the U.N. to support the U.S. move by demanding the Cuban government dismantle all its present offensive facilities, but Russia has promised a veto. Forty of the member nations urged Acting Secretary General U. Thant to intervene. Envoys to Organization of American States have backed the U.S. action and Kennedy received bipartisan support from most major U.S. political leaders.

INDIA - The Himalayan border separating Red China and India has been the scene of extensive fighting for the last week. Indian Prime Minister Nehru warned that the attacks represent a serious threat to India's independence. Both forces began deploying tanks, with the Chinese gaining advantage. The heavy fighting was extended along the 1,400 mile frontier. Chinese officials proposed peaceful negotiations Wednesday.

PARIS Frenchmen go to the polls this Sunday to vote on Charles De Gaulle's referendum to seek approval for his plan to have his successor elected by popular vote. He is reported to believe that he needs 67% of the registered voter's approval to permit him enough of a vote of confidence to remain in office.

SITKA - 102 persons, the entire crew and passengers of a DC-7C, were rescued at sea Monday by the Alaskan coast guard after the plane was forced to ditch off the entrance to Sitka Sound.

WASHINGTON - James Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, was denied a Supreme Court hearing on his complaint that President Kennedy and other high government officials had prejudiced a grand jury against him. So his $1 million conspiracy trial has gone to court in Nashville, Tennessee where it is expected to last about six weeks.

SAO PAULO - Leaders of the Jewish communities of Latin America are meeting here this week in an attempt to stem the continuance of recent anti-semitic outbreaks, most notably in Argentina and Uruguay.

TYLER, TEXAS - Jury selection has begun for the trial of promoter Billie Sol Estes on charges of theft and swindling, specifically his fraudulent scheming involving the mortgaging of tanks for fertilizer chemicals.

The Phakavali Dance troupe of Thailand will perform their dance and music program at 8:30 Monday night in Campbell Hall. Tickets for the event will be on sale in the Campbell Hall ticket office at a student price of 25 cents, a correction of the 75 cent price quoted in Tuesday's El Gaucho. Now on their first United States tour, the Phakavali Dancers will unveil the arts and customs of their native Thailand at the first all-university concert of the semester, sponsored by Arts and Lectures Committee.

Accompanying the dancers will be the Pi-Phat Orchestra, which has no conductor, and is trained to play only by ear, with no written score available to the musicians.

All of the dancers and musicians in the troupe are trained from childhood in the classical and ceremonial musical traditions of Thailand.

Founded by a court musician and now under the direction of his son, Nai Prastidh Silapabanleng, Director of Music, and Ladda Silapabanleng, Dance Director, the Phakavali Institute has performed at such international conferences as the First Regional Music Conference of Southeast Asia and the UNESCO Music Conference in Paris, in addition to touring in Southeast Asia.

Council Hears Cook's Lament

By Kay Waite

Activity Control Board minutes were the source of a heated discussion at Tuesday night's Legislative Council meeting. ACB minutes stated the board would take action against SAE Fraternity for failing to file for an event held October 20 if it was proven they had the event.

Ron Cook, Sophomore Class President, appeared to explain ACB's action. He said poor attendance at the Frosh Queen dance was directly caused by unscheduled conflicting events held by many organizations. Cook announced that the sophomore class lost $100 on the dance and that only $5 was made for Camp Conestoga. Students paid 5¢ to vote for queen candidates and proceeds went to Camp Conestoga. As an example of Cook stated that 11 of the 17 Queen candidates appeared for the crowning.

Vice Chancellor Goodspeed

expressed disapproval of the lack of responsible action on the part of fraternities. He said that regulations for registering events were relaxed last spring to encourage organizations to cooperate more fully.

Council reacted favorably to a proposal that a student travel bureau be established on campus. Information on student travel opportunities in Europe and elsewhere would be available through this office.

The possibility of AS offering scholarships enabling one or more foreign students to attend U.C.S.B. was discussed. President Joe Sorrentino suggested that perhaps UCSB students at Bordeaux could act as a screening board. Student Affairs Committee will investigate and organize the program.

A request for night lights on the eastern tennis courts met with the council's general approval. The request was referred to Finance Committee.

Council members were uninformed on Proposition 24 and will wait until next week to decide whether to pass a resolution similar to those passed on other U.C. campuses. UC, UCLA, and UCR have all expressed violent disapproval to the proposition on the grounds that it interferes with due processes of law and freedom of speech.

A resolution was unanimously passed recommending that the area in the parking lot across from Robertson Gym recently changed from "C" to "A" parking be changed back to "C" again. The fact that under present conditions the "A" parking area is often empty and the "C" area is overcrowded was the primary reason for this recommendation.

Editorial Column ...

Steadfast Supporter of Himself

Ignorance is bliss, so the fables tell us, and in many cases we would be inclined to agree. But, since we are in a University atmosphere and in the public eye, it is often our duty to clear up misconceptions.

For the record we would like to list the statements of a man who maintains he has been a supporter of education. Since Nixon has no state government experience we must rely on his Federal record to substantiate our thought. Eight years Mr. Nixon "existed" as our Vice-President. This is what he said (taken from Congressional Quarterly Supplement March 11, 1960 Weekly report.)

Richard Nixon Nov. 28, 1955: "No one questions the critical need for new classroom construction but an even more critical need is that of getting and keeping qualified teachers. . . ." and that "salaries paid to teachers are nothing short of a national disgrace and if the situation is not corrected it could lead to a national disaster. . . . I think we should recognize that some additional FEDERAL activities and responsibility is inevitable and necessary."

Richard Nixon May 11, 1957: ". . . the U.S. is facing a crisis in the field of education-it is essential for national survival that we continue to maintain the military and industrial superiority which we presently have over Communist Bloc nations. We cannot do this unless our Colleges and Universities produce both the skilled technicians and the enlightened leaders the nation needs. . . ."

Now we agree that these words merit high praise. But Mr. Nixon has always been swift with nugatory diatribes.

On January 27, 1960 Mr. Nixon said: "Under-paid teachers and flabby standards are weaknesses we must constantly strive to eliminate."

Six days later on February 3, 1960 as Vice-President of the United States he cast the deciding ballot KILLING the federal aid-to-education bill.

On February 15, 1960 he defended this abrupt change saying that this bill included ". . . an amendment which would have provided direct Federal aid for subsidizing teachers' salaries. We believe," he continued, "that the Federal Government should limit its aid to construction. . . . If the approach of the Congress . . . is one which provides direct subsidies to teachers there will be no aid to education this year."

On February 16, 1960 he went on to say ". . . there is a (Eisenhower Administration) program . . . limited simply to the construction of so-called college housing . . . this is a constructive approach."

This is the record of the man who says he is pro-education. A man who speaks on all sides of an issue and then votes against his purported principles.

Mr. Nixon also plays lip service to Proposition 1A but in the same breath shouts of the overwrought bonded indebtedness of the State of California. He acts as a friend of education yet condemns its policies and leaders.

Richard Nixon is not a "steadfast" supporter of education, he is only a steadfast supporter of himself.

Proposition 24- A Decisive "No"

"Those who would give up essential liberty to purchase a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety." - Benjamin Franklin -

Lately a great deal of effort has been devoted to securing student support for the vitally needed Proposition 1-A issue. It seems equally desirable to draw the student's attention to Proposition 24 on the November 6th ballot.

This is the Francis amendment to the state constitution which has as its avowed purpose the combating of communist subversion. Few would argue the merits of the amendment's alleged purpose. However, the means this measure would apply are contrary to fundamental democratic processes.

Section 3 states that "If an organization is found to be a Communist-action organization or a communist-front organization as defined in Section 2 of this article by an Appellate or Superior Court, or by the grand jury of any county in this state, or by the attorney general of the state of California, or by any court, officer, board, commission, agency, or other body of the government of the United States making such a finding pursuant to law under a substantially similar definition, such organization shall be deemed to be a communist organization for the purpose of this article."

"This means," stated the Los Angeles Times editorially October 7th, "that an organization can in effect be convicted of being communist by the declaration of any grand jury. After the grand jury finding, the organization and its members are subject to the stiff penalties set forth in other parts of the amendment."

"A grand jury is nothing like a trial jury. And although every American has the right to a trial by jury and a confrontation by his accusers, the grand jury 'finding' of section 3 would cancel that right."

The Times also stated that "A grand jury's function is to present criminal accusations to the courts or report on other investigations to appropriate officials. It does not 'try' an accused person, or organization, or confront him with his accusers; that is not its business. Yet Section 3 would confer on the grand jury the power to wreck reputations and destroy careers. Everyone knows that grand jury indictments often fail for lack of evidence in a trial court; yet Section 3 would give the grand jury the last word: it could accuse, try, convict and subject its victim to automatic sentence."

"We must not have this here. There are plenty of anti-communist laws in California. Experts who have analyzed the Francis amendment say that most of its provisions already stand in the statutes. What the amendment adds is intolerable to free men . . ."

One prominent opponent of the measure has said that it provides exactly the sort of procedure which is part of every totalitarian regime. It enables the state to act without giving the individual any protection whatsoever.

Both Gov. Brown and candidate Nixon have gone on record as strongly opposing Proposition 24. The California Chamber of Commerce, the California Legislature, and many responsible civic and political leaders and organizations have denounced it.

Yet the danger exists because so many voters may be unaware of the destructive ambiguity of this proposition and unwittingly vote the Francis amendment into law. The California Poll has reported that of the registered voters polled, 66 percent were for it, 17 percent opposed, and 17 percent undecided.

We, as students and citizens of California, must shoulder a part of the responsibility for making more people aware of the undermining aspects Proposition 24 has for the process of justice and the rights and liberties guaranteed all Americans by the U.S. Constitution. Certainly, if we can vote on November 6th, it should be a decisive "no" on Proposition 24.

Clashing Views Set Spark To Richardson-Rafferty Duel

By Dr. James High Dept. of History

The race for State Superintendent of Public Instruction in California is usually a perfunctory thing. Generally there is only one candidate--most often the incumbent. The election has in the past been merely a rubber stamp affair, without arousing much attention or interest.

This year it is different. There were nine candidates in the primary, none of them winning a clear majority; because of that there is now a runoff at the general election in November. Two men have survived a campaign which has turned into something of an ordeal.

Dr. Ralph Richardson, professor of English at UCLA, received a plurality in the primary. He was followed closely by Dr. Max Rafferty, former superintendent at La Canada. The two men are now seeking a non-partisan office, usually relegated to an obscure position, with the same aggressiveness and spirit that might be expended on the governorship or on a senatorial race.

This contest has gained nationwide attention. Articles and editorials have appeared in such papers as the New York Times, The Christian Science Monitor and The Wall Street Journal.

There are two reasons for the interest: (1) the polemic in education has raged in the United States for about five years, and this campaign has been attached to it; (2) one candidate is a Democrat and the other is a Republican, and the political issue of liberalism versus the extreme right has been joined in these two men's views.

Dr. Richardson has a Ph.D. degree in history in speech from North western University, and is on leave from his UCLA post for this campaign. He received a B.A. in education before World War II from the University of Kansas, and taught at the secondary level. His M.A. is from Pennsylvania State College, received during the war while he was acting as an instructor of mathematics and radar in the United States Navy. He has been on the UCLA staff since 1948.

In addition to teaching in public school in Kansas, Dr. Richardson has taught in three universities. He has written articles and books, as well as radio and television script. He served a year as Governor Brown's research secretary. At about the same time he was elected to the Los Angeles Board of Education, becoming president of that body in 1961. In this capacity he is the head of a policy forming group with more than 40,000 teachers and an annual budget of $400 million.

Dr. Rafferty has an Ed. D. in school administration, based on the necessary degrees and teaching credentials for elementary and secondary work in Arizona and California. He taught in various schools in Arizona and California, and for the past ten years he has been an administrator at the level of principal and superintendent. He most recent post was Superintendent of Schools, La Canada. He resigned that position in June to undertake the campaign.

Dr. Rafferty has written a number of books and pamphlets, mostly dealing with the polemic in education. His most recent effort is "Suffer Little Children," on sale in bookstores devoted to the extreme right wing position.

Both candidates are running on platforms of reform in education, and therefore considerable confusion has resulted in differentiating between them. They are similar only in the basic recognition that education in California can be improved.

Beyond that, Richardson stands for moderate steps to augment "corrective measures...already well under way in the overwhelming majority of California school districts."

On the other hand, Rafferty excoriates "progressive education." He blames progressive education for all of the present ills, including semi-literacy of most (he says) high school graduates, lack of patriotism of a "sickening, staggering number of our young men," and the general failure to indoctrinate ideals and lasting values in our children.

Dr. Richardson believes a "sound basic education in the fundamental skills must be provided for all children. This we can and must do without wasting energy in name calling or labels about 'progressive education' or the '3 R's.' The demands of our times require students who can not only read, write and spell well, but also can reason well and be able to adapt themselves to a rapidly-changing world of science and creativity."

Richardson is supported and endorsed by all of the major teacher organizations, such as CTA and AFT.

Dr. Rafferty's emphasis is different, though assumedly aimed at the same result. Speaking of American children he complains that "these spineless, luxury-loving, spiritless creeps came right out of our classrooms....They went on field trips to the bakery, and danced around ribboned poles at our May Festivals....They were taught that competition was bad, and cooperation was supremely good. They were told little about democratic capitalism, and that little was usually taught with a curled lip...."

This process produced "all the phony sophisticates who clutter up our colleges, and who seem to spend every waking moment agitating against ROTC, booing Congressional committees, and parading in support of Fidel Castro."

CANDID CANVASS

Do you approve of President Kennedy's action in the Cuban situation?

LARRY NASH, senior-- "My approval or disapproval does not matter. I believe war is inevitable. If war results now, I don't think weapons will be limited. I'm going to sit in a rocking chair and watch the colors if possible."

JACK DOMAN, junior-- "I fully support the President's action. The U.S. was forced to take a stand. However, I fear grave consequences, perhaps war. There is too much prestige to be lost if either side backs down."

MRS. JEAN VALINE, limited student-- "I think we should have tried to nip the Cuban situation in the bud about 18 months ago. Belated though the action is, I heartily approve it. I think Khrushchev will back

Rafferty's campaign and position can be summed up in his own words in regard to educational philosophy: "We had better not be caught withholding from the nation's children the wonderful sharp-edged sword of Patriotism. In a word, this means Indoctrination. An ugly word? I think not. But if it is ugly to teach children to revere the great Americans of the past---to cherish the traditions of our country as holy things --- and to hate Communism and its creatures like Hell---then I say let's be ugly, and let's revel in it."

Rafferty's only public endorsement is from the Americanism Committee of the California American Legion.

In California the State Superintendent of Public Instruction is a powerful, but certainly not all-powerful, official. He cannot direct school districts; he can only lead them. His personality and philosophy will certainly be reflected.

The actual duties of this office are to prepare a total picture of the state's school budgetary needs for the guidance of the legislature, to coordinate curriculum development, to guide textbook selection according to law, the administer the legal mechanism for granting credentials to teachers and to provide leadership and advice in such problems as establishing junior colleges in every district and encouraging the education of the handicapped.

The Superintendent is also a member of the Board of Regents of the University of California and of the Board of Trustees of the State College System. He is also an informal member of the Governor's cabinet and Executive Officer of the State Board of Education. It is an important office.

As Dr. Richardson said, "I believe we can and must get the people of California excited about public education."

LISTENING POST

Letter to the Editor:

Ergo, Nixon is . . . .? Mr. Mockler ran true to form by not saying one new thing in his second slanderous attack on Dick Nixon. Our newspaper editor has devoted two full editorials to a dismal attempt at linking Nixon's stand on Communists with the future of higher education in California.

Mr. Mockler's interpretation of Nixon's views seems to go something like this: Nixon opposes Communist speakers on university campuses; anyone who opposes these speakers is against education, ergo Nixon is against the educational growth of the state.

Ergo, indeed! In 12 years of public office Richard M. Nixon has steadfastly supported the growth of our educational system. Who was the first gubernatorial candidate to endorse Proposition 1A - Dick Nixon.

Mr. Mockler was not content to confine his editorial to faulty reasoning. Through his negligent use of the pronoun "we" he has attempted to give an illusion of group support to his personal opinions. No one can deny the right of a newspaper editor to express his views. However, when he retreats to faulty reasoning and improper use of the pronoun "we" in promulgating personal views, it seems a violation of good journalism.

Stewart Johnson

EDITOR'S NOTE. The use of the pronoun "we" is standard journalistic practice, and our use of it is neither negligent nor improper.

A Bell Rang...

If I had a bell, I'd ring it in the morning, All over this land. I'd ring out justice, I'd ring out freedom, I'd ring out love for my brother and my sister, All over this land. ....American Folk Song

A bell rang this week in Oxford, Mississippi. It tolled not the ending of segregation as some had thought Gov. Ross Barnett who literally "stood in the schoolhouse door" and denied admission to James Meredith, Mississippi Negro.

We are concerned that Meredith did not gain access to the University of Mississippi. We think he should have been admitted.

Morally, there is no justification for this rejection. Legally, there can be no doubt he is entitled to become a student at Mississippi.

But this is not our prime concern. James Meredith's rights have been denied before and will, no doubt, be denied again. This is not to suggest that these denials are justified, for they are not. But it is to suggest that he probably has been forced to rationalize his existence in the society to which he was born.

We are more concerned with the precedent that has been set at Oxford, and the trend that may have been established. People say that Meredith should not be allowed to attend the University of Mississippi if a majority of the people there and throughout the state do not want him.

This argument has frightening implications in terms where it might lead. Does freedom of speech mean that the majority is to vote to determine whom they wish to hear? Is freedom of religion to be extended only to those persons whose beliefs conform to what the majority has decided is orthodox?

More specifically, if the bigot or the demagogue can muster a majority to run on the Negro, will he necessarily stop there? Or will he next turn to the Catholic, and the Jew, or the member of any other minority group?

People who have studied prejudice attribute much of it to the necessity of the individual to have a tangible scapegoat upon whom to vent his wrath. The Federal Government makes a mistake and it's because the damn Catholics are in control.

And the sheer necessity of having to have someone to look down upon forces the element closest to that of the Negro to oppose any betterment of the Negro's lot.

P. D. East, editor of the Petal Paper and author of the Magnolia Jungle, puts it this way. "If I were a Catholic in Mississippi, I'd be worried. If I were a Jew, I'd be scared stiff. If I were a Negro, I would already be gone."

This is our point of prime concern. The basis of the democratic system is equality before the law, and the democratic system is but a mockery if the laws are only to extend to a portion of the citizenry.

Every time the rights of one citizen anywhere are denied, every citizen is harmed.

Every time we trim our legal sail to meet the whirlwinds of the times, the course of the Ship of State is altered, and the destination toward which we have steered for 170 odd years grows more remote.

Bias is a force that strikes at one and all. We have come much too far, and fought far too long, to abandon our democratic system to appease the great god, Expediency.

We lost something American in Oxford this week, and every American citizen is the less for it.

John Donne said: "No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main;...I am involved in mankind; and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

There was no need to send to Oxford this week to see what bell rang. It wasn't the bell of justice and freedom; it rang for you and me.

Out-Of-State Tuition Hike Will Raise Teacher Pay

A raise in out-of-state tuition was passed and approval was given for a ten percent increase in teachers' salaries at a University of California Board of Regents meeting last Friday in Davis.

Tuition for out-of-state students has been raised from $275 to $300 per semester, effective fall 1963. The increase was recommended by State Coordinating Council for Higher Education.

The cost of instruction, according to a University source, is now approximately $300 a semester per student. According to the California Master Plan for Higher Education, it is required that out-of-state tuition equal the cost of instruction.

Lieutenant Governor Glenn Anderson criticized the tuition raise, stating that it could keep talented out-of-state students from enrolling at the University.

The recommendation by University President Clark Kerr to raise all faculty salaries ten per cent was approved at the meeting. These salary increases must be approved by the state legislature, but the tuition increases do not need further approval.

The increase in salary, if approved by the legislature, will put the University on an equal basis with schools such as Harvard, Yale, and Columbia, according to Kerr. He added that the ten per cent that would be saved if the increase were not approved might cause a fifty per cent decrease in the quality of instruction.

The proposed increase would raise the maximum salary for a full professor to more than $18,000 a year.

Frosh Float

Al Arkush, frosh class president, urges all freshmen independents to come to La Playa Field Friday to help on the Queen's float for homecoming. "The building of the float will seem more of a class project if many class members show up," said Arkush. Volunteers should see or call Carol Cate or Marilyn Luskin at Santa Rosa.

UC Will Sponsor Studies

A seven-campus series of symposia and public meetings dealing with problems arising from California's tremendous population growth will be sponsored by the University of California during 1963, President Clark Kerr announced recently at Davis.

Details of the statewide series of conferences were outlined by President Kerr to the University's Board of Regents.

"The emergence of California as the most populous of the 50 states provides a good opportunity to assess the future," President Kerr said. "Our goal is to undertake serious discussion of the great challenge, as well as opportunities and responsibilities, implicit in this growth."

"As Chief Justice Warren expressed it, 'we have to face up squarely to the fact that we have the problem of providing for the happiness of more people than any state in the nation.'" During 1963, the seven campuses of the University will hold conferences, spaced approximately a month apart, to discuss some particular problem area. "We hope to provide imagination and constructive leadership in the consideration of the large problems that California faces," stated President Kerr. The preliminary schedule and general topics to be considered are as follows:

March, Santa Barbara--Educational Needs, April, Los Angeles--Cultural Needs and Use of Leisure, May, Davis--Agriculture, June, San Diego--Physical Sciences, September, Berkeley--the Metropolitan State, October, San Francisco--Health Sciences, November, Riverside--Natural Resources: Air, Land, and Water.

President Kerr said he understood there was a possibility that in late 1963 or early 1964 an "interagency congress" would be held by leaders in government, education, science, private enterprise, agriculture, conservation and other fields.

"During the past decade, the State's population increased 48 percent, compared with 16 percent for the nation as a whole. In the next three years, for example, high school graduates in the State will increase 40 percent."

EAT, SLEEP, AND MATRICULATE

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At early afternoon classes you're too lory. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is--and we might as well face it--there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfats and tallow by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy: namely, when you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecturer lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noisy food. I mean who can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff--like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

And kindly observe silence while lighting your post-prandial Marlboro Cigarette. Don't be striking kitchen matches on your jeans. Instead carry an ember from the dormitory fireplace in your purse or pocket. Place the Marlboro against the ember. Light it quietly. Smoke it quietly. Oh, I know I ask a great deal! I know that one's natural instinct upon encountering Marlboro's fine flavor and filter is to throw back one's head and bellow great, rousing cries of joy. But you must not. You must contain your ecstasy, lest you disturb the lecturing lecturer. You can, if you like, permit yourself a few small shudders of pleasure as you smoke, but take care not to wear garments which will set up a clatter when you shudder--like taffeta, for example, or knee cymbals.

Let us turn now to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Glebe Sigafos. When Glebe was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softly, all through the night, it repeated three statements in Glebe's slumbering ear:

1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cvetnic, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Glebe awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Glebe promptly replied, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cvetnic been called?"

Replied Glebe, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

But Glebe, exhausted from the long interrogation, had fallen back asleep, where he is to this day.

Furniture from the remodeled Huddle and El Gaucho Office will be sold to the highest bidder. The 26 pieces include large double desks, chairs and trophy cases.

For further information inquire at the Graduate Manager's Office.

Mansion Designs Gallery Displays

Designs for California's gubernatorial mansion are now on display in the campus art gallery.

The contest, already held and won by Campbell and Wong Associates, was authorized by an act of the state legislature. Four hundred and seventy thousand dollars has been appropriated to build and furnish the mansion. It will stand on a two and a half acre site near Capitol Park in Sacramento.

The winning design was from among nine others, all submitted by California licensed architects. The present mansion, which has served as the governor's residence since 1903, will become a state historical monument.

Prints Exhibit Set For Tues.

An art exhibit of the "Prints of Piranesi" will be shown in the Huddle from Tuesday to November 25, sponsored by the Associated Students.

Dr. Moir, UCSB art professor, will open the exhibit Tuesday, 7 p.m. An informal coffee hour will follow.

All interested students are invited. There will be no admission charge.

HOMECOMING 1962

By Geoff Smith

A calloused UCSB football team, with a chance to forget the past, goes into action tomorrow night against San Fernando Valley State College, action beginning at 8:15 at La Playa.

For the Gauchos, who were patted 46-8 last time out by San Diego, the Matadors will provide less stiff opposition.

The men from San Fernando have tasted bitter defeat four of the five times they have taken the field this season losing to Long Beach State 41-6 last week, while UCSB holds a win over the 49ers, 7-6.

There's not much to say on the positive side for the Matadors and the Gauchos should rebound.

The visitors have stepped up to varsity competition this season after only playing a JV schedule last year.

Fullback Bill Storm leads the Sam Wilmington-coached invaders.

Coach Bill Hammer, meanwhile, reportedly has been getting the Gauchos very high for this one, as the local charges have a good chance to finish the CCAA with a 4-2 record, Austin Dias, Al Reynolds, and Larry Carlson should make the offense go.

Defensively, the UCSB story has been A-O-K this season, with the exception of the Fresno and San Diego encounters. The usually rock-ribbed Gaucho forward wall should hold its own this time.

George Dyer, Barney Eames, George Kraus, and Rich Marchi have shown well of late, and the Gaucho depth leads to a feeling that the UCSB offenses will roll and the Matador thrusts will be held.

Though not overlooking this contest, eyes have to be placed on the following week's encounter with the rough, tough Davis Aggies, conquerors of mighty Nevada and mightier Humboldt State.

UCSB HARRIERS Jack Roach and Rollie Cavaletto, who have done much to insure Gaucho cross country success this year, come out of a turn in recent competition.

One question remains, and that has to do with the spectator on the left. Who is she and what is she doing out in no man's land? Roach did miss her but is still talking to himself about her presence. John Larson photo.

BETWEEN THE LINES

with GEOFF SMITH

Lawndale's contribution to the 1962 edition of the Gaucho football team, one Austin Dias, has been instrumental in putting the "V" back in victory in UCSB football fortunes in CCAA competition this year.

Last campaign UCSB finished dead in the cellar with an 0-5 record.

This season, after Chris Dawson had been injured, Dias was pressed into action at quarterback, and although no stranger to the post, he had figured as a flanker in the UCSB offense.

What happened? The Gauchos dumped Los Angeles 23-13 and Long Beach 7-6. Two victories more than last year. That's what.

The Gaucho quarterback isn't surprised at this creditable record.

He feels that an improved depth something lacking previously, has led to the metamorphosis.

"The same thing occurs in the backfield, but with Dawson out, we still have to scrub somewhat," he stated. Untested Rich Lane is the only other Gaucho signal-caller at the moment.

Dias reminded one of the American League when he stated that this time was definitely a "divided" league, with Fresno and San Diego on top, and the rest scrambling for third place.

When it comes down to brass tacks, Dias likes San Diego. "San Diego runs the same stuff again and again, just about telling the defense where the play is going and still it works," he recalled while breathing deeply in recollection of the first half last week.

L.A. State, Long Beach, and San Francisco stand as the top games in Dias' eyes, while he singled out Montie Day and Jan Barrett of Fresno and the entire San Diego line as the toughest vanguard he's faced.

Austin looks for a win tomorrow night over San Fernando Valley - a win that will bring the league record to 3-2 on the road to a 4-2 CCAA mark, and third place in the conference.

With Intramural football in its last week of play the league champions have been decided in all but one loop.

Fraternity action has produced Sigma Phi Epsilon as the only undefeated-untied team with a 5-0 mark. The Sig Ep team is built around the nucleus of Don White, Brian Welram, Dave Dundas, and Tom Recknagel and will be a tough bunch to upset.

At press time, the probable Independent league champs, Goleta Beach Athletic Club, also give indication they will be tough to beat as they try to gain the all-school football championship for the second straight year. Led by Bill Lewis, Rick Aster, Mike McKleve and Dick Hitchman, G.B.A.C. has shown ability to score from any place on the field.

G.B.A.C. also boasts one of the finest defenses among all the leagues, having allowed only one score against them.

Results in last week's Fraternity action found the Kappa Sig's walloping the Lambda Chi's 39-0. The Sig Eps clinched the title by defeating the Sig Pi's 7-6 in a shoddy game which was far from being as close as the score indicates.

In the remaining game the SAE's humbled the winless Chi Sig's, 52-0.

Independent action found Juniper forfeiting to the Sig Apes and the SAE's second-seed faulting to the Animals.

A crushing 31-6 victory over Apache Hall last Monday wrapped up the 1962 edition of the Anacapa football league for the defending champion Yuma Hall.

Apache, which figured to be the only hall that could possibly dethrone Yuma, just didn't have it as Lee Reid personally tallied 24 points. With only one game remaining, Yuma has a 6-0 record—Modoc, Ute, and Pima have 4-2 records.

Ray Dickey, the "Paul Horning of Anacapa", single-handedly defeated helpless Cana-lino by scoring 38 points in Modoc's 44-0 rout. Other action saw Ute defeat Navajo 18-14 and Pima edge Maricopa 13-12.

Every game in today's action will help determine the runner-up to mighty Yuma. The two scoring leaders in the league will be pitted against one another. Reid, who has 69 points in 6 games thus far this season will be out to catch Dickey who has 82 points in the same number of games.

Casitas league results of the past week reveal that Yucca Hall holds the loop title due to an impressive win over second place Cypress, 20-0. The Yucca bunch indicates it will provide tough going for the Anacapa league champs as they have not allowed an opponent to score against them this season.

In their victory over Cypress, Yucca exploded after a scoreless first half on TDs by Dan Nelson and Steve Lawrence to wreck the title hopes of the Cypress six.

Other games saw Laurel grab undisputed third place with an 18-0 rout of Pine, and Willow-Toyon finally managed their first win of the year over Sequoia, 13-8.

Semi-final playoffs will be held Wednesday for the champs of all leagues. Yuma, with Dick Archer and Co. will face the determined Yucca crew to determine who will meet the winners of the Independent-Fraternity league playoffs, which is also scheduled for Wednesday.

The semi-final winners will meet Nov. 8 for the all-school championship.

Alum Mermen Meet Varsity

The UCSB water polo team will play host to their alumni this Saturday morning at 11:30 in the campus pool.

The contingent of ex-Gauchos which will gather for the match will enter the water as underdogs due to their time spent in other activities, which in most instances do not include getting in shape.

Among the players from Frank Rohter's first squad in 1957 who have responded positively to participating in the annual contest are Ron Wilmot and Bill Bryson, co-captains of this '57 team, Paul Hodgert, Ed Nelson, Bob Bowen, Stan Guth, Les Merideth, John Soth, and Jan Tavares.

Captains Ed Nelson and John Soth of the alumni have asked all members of past Gauchos water polo teams to be present.

Sig Ep tailback Dennis Volpe flips a short pass over the onrushing SAE forward wall in recent intramural fraternity action. Frank Kall (hands up) leads the charge as part of the crowd of 350 looks on.

The Sig Eps, fraternity champs, handed the SAE's a 24-13 defeat in the titanic clash. Jim Mattinson photo.

Grapplers Set Meeting

Coaches Joe Harper and Joe Kim announce that a meeting of all men with former grappling experience or interest in competing will take place in building 479 at 4:00 p.m. Monday, as plans for the 1962 inter-collegiate campaign are mapped out.

Freshmen stand eligible for varsity competition, and can earn a letter as all with high school and junior college experience should avail themselves of this opportunity to continue competition on an inter-collegiate basis.

UCSB opens December 7 with the UCLA tournament.

The Gauchos boast a strong nucleus of returning lettermen, but need new men to fill in the gaps and gain valuable experience.

Water Poloists Shoot For Win

San Fernando Valley State, the traditional home of losing teams and 100 degree weather, will bring its water polo contingent to the UCSB campus this afternoon to try and thwart the Gauchos' bid for a CCAA SECOND PLACE FINISH.

A victory today would cinch a tie for second-place as the Gauchos would then sport a 4-1 league record. The only remaining CCAA game after today's contest is with Cal Poly (SLO) on November 9.

Last week's game against the neophyte Aztecs served as a practice session as the Blue and Gold reserves led by Jack Domain and Ralph Blue gave ucsb the victory 23-8. Coach Dale Schwicker's Tijuana-men have yet to defeat an opponent in water polo competition.

Coach Rohter's offensive minded Gauchos were given another bright note as stalwart John Crow, injured since the UCLA game, returned to action to contribute to the rout.

Ace goalie John Bankard finally has some first-rate competition in Chuck Borlo and Anaheim's Lon Laster. Both performed well last week; thus warning the Valley Staters that UCSB not only has a top-notch front line, but that the whole team is worthy of mention.

Frosh Crush Cal Poly

Taking control early, the Gauchos Frosh crushed Cal Poly last week 26 to 6.

A hard Cal Poly rush turned a pass into an errant toss, although it was completed, the receiver was the bearer of the black and yellow rather than the familiar blue and gold. Linzie Daniel, Cal Poly's fine end, returned the "gift" flip 62 yards for a touchdown. The Colts had drawn first blood and led 6-0.

With Jim Orear and Jerry Takahashi making yardage as if it were going out of style, the Gauchos struck for the equalizer on Orear's paydirt plunge. The extra point sailed through the uprights, and the blue and gold led 7 to 6.

Orear, who sparked on offense all day, teamed with two other backfield terrors John Johnson and Roy Harris to sustain a touchdown drive. With the ball inside the five yard line, Bob Heys wasted little time as he scored on a quarterback sneak. The Gauchos carried a 13-6 lead to lunch.

After one half full of trouble, the blue and gold defense clamped down. The Colts who had rambled with vindication earlier were nailed to their goal posts in the second half and were blanked the rest of the afternoon. Johnny Johnson's 74 yard touchdown punt return highlighted second half action.

Russian Pianist Dorfmann Set For Nov Engagement

Celebrated pianist Ania Dorfmann appears here November 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the first concert of the Associated Students current music season.

Tickets can be purchased for $1.00 for students and faculty and $1.50 general admission at the Graduate Managers Office and Campbell Hall box office.

Miss Dorfmann enjoyed a brilliant career in Europe before coming to the United States where she was introduced by Arturo Toscanini. She appeared under the Maestro as a soloist with the NBC Symphony in Carnegie Hall.

The Russian born artist made her debut in her native city of Odessa at the age of nine, then studied in Paris under Isidor Phillip. Returning to her homeland for a visit, she was caught in the Russian Revolution. She was finally returned to Paris after several years of hardship.

Prof Gets Chem Aid

Dr. Henry I. Nakada, associate professor in biochemistry, has been awarded a grant of over $105,000 to conduct research on the "Metabolism of Mucopolysaccharides", and "The Mechanism of Insulin Action". The three and a half year grant was given by the National Institutes of Health of the U.S. Public Health Service, and Office of Naval Research.

The questions: "How can sugar metabolism be controlled?" and "What is the nature of the bacteria believed to cause rheumatic fever?" may be answered as a result of Dr. Nakada's studies.

Part of his experimentation is devoted to the study of how insulin affects cells in the body. "We are looking for new pathways by which sugar can be used by the cells," explains the biochemist.

He continues, "A defect in diabetes is the lack of proper utilization of glucose from the blood stream. We know that insulin aids in making glucose available to cells for metabolism, but we want to find out more about 'how' it does this."

Seeking information regarding defects in arthritis, Dr. Nakada is carrying on basic studies on some complex carbohydrates. "We are studying all we can about these substances which make up important mucopolysaccharides."

The biochemist is interested in the problem of hemolytic streptococcus, one of the bacteria believed to be a causative agent for rheumatic fever.
