College Sets Semi-Formal For Rockwood

Rockwood Women's club will be the scene of this Friday night's summer session social, the annual semi-formal, which is the big affair of the current semester.

Plans for this dance are being made by Rena Sacconaghi, social committee head, with aid from Gordon Woosley, Russell Blanchard, Jimmie Stanley, Betty Lee Boykin, Margaret Kennedy, Lois Brasfield, Julia Ann Grimshaw and Ruth Wallace.

Hosts and Hostesses

Hosts and hostesses for this dance will be President and Mrs. Clarence L. Phelps, Dean and Mrs. William Ashworth, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ericson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buchanan, and Dr. and Mrs. Irving A. Mather.

This affair will be one of the biggest of the year, coming at this time instead of the usual last week of the session because of the Fiesta activities and examinations during the final week of the semester.

Hoag Plays

Dancing will be from 9 to 12, to the music of Doug Hoag's 8-piece orchestra. Cards and games will be held in the Sycamore room of the clubhouse, and everyone is cordially invited to attend. Guests will be allowed, providing one of the couple has a student body card.

Attire for the dance will be summer formal or light suits for men and formal dresses for the women.

Outdoor Presentation

Next week Frederic W. Hile, director of speech arts and dramatics, will present "As You Like It" in the College Quad before students and townspeople on three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 27, 28 and 29. A dance in the music hall will follow the Friday night presentation of the Shakespearean comedy.

Tea Follows Hile Reading Today

Members of the student body will be entertained at a campus tea to be held this afternoon in the college quad. The tea is scheduled for 4:15 and will serve those who attend the weekly English department reading.

The tea is presented as part of the social committee services to the student body. Betty Lee Boykin, member of the social committee, is chairman of arrangements.

Mrs. William Ashworth will pour for the tea. Students serving are Luanne Nuttal, Violette Glahn, Josephine Williams, and Dorlesca Burtis.

Amateurs Sign For Program

"Shall we have an amateur show? It's your show, so let's have more volunteers," so spoke Franklin Webber, Chairman of the Assembly Committee for the Summer Session in urging participation in the annual program.

The nucleus of a good program includes the following: The Boogie Woogie Four (Jim Stanley, Al Sprague, Chet Wilson and Don Ollis); Bernice Koblin, dance; Dwight Du Bois, musical saw; Carl Hallen, song and dance; and Marjorie Lowe, accordion. Francis Jane Miller will act as official pianist.

Rehearsal will be held in the auditorium on July 27, Thursday at 2:00 p.m. All persons interested should be present with their stage properties.

If you have not signed up yet, write your name on a slip, plus a description of your act, and address it to Amateur Committee to be placed in the "W" box. Frank Webber states that four prizes will be awarded of $5.00, $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00, respectively.

STATERS ENTER TOURNEY

The badminton tournament under the direction of Roland Weatherhead got off to a good start this week with contestants battling it out for first round places. The contest includes singles for the men, doubles for both the men and women and a mixed doubles in which all are invited to enter.

Officials Honor B.E. Graduates

Under the supervision of Mrs. Ella B. Hoyt, a tea honoring the candidates for the degree Bachelor of Education will be held next Wednesday, July 26, from 3 to 5 at the Samarkand hotel.

Program is being arranged by Mary Darr and Gordon Woosley, who are in charge of the entertainment. They expect to have Mr. Abraham and his Fiesta Dancers, Renata Maccianti, talented dancer from State college and a three piece string ensemble.

President and Mrs. Phelps, Dean and Mrs. William Ashworth, Miss Severy, Dean Bennink, Dean and Mrs. Charles Jacobs will serve on the welcoming committee to receive the B.E. candidates and their guests. Reservation must be in Dean Bennink's office not later than Friday evening, July 21, the price being 40 cents.

Students Hear Verse, Dance

Verse readings by the summer session students in the speech division of the English department and the modern dance by students in the classes of physical education entertained the student body during the regular fourth hour assembly, Tuesday, July 18. Gordon Woosley, student president, presided over the meeting with Frederic W. Hile, director of speech activities and Miss Elizabeth Sehon, dancing instructor, leading the two groups.

Students Display Dance

The dance program was conducted by five members of the dancing class. They were Gwelda Loyd, Lois Delker, Lois Cobb, Hanna Pelch and Vivian Patterson.

The program consisted of "I Love Life" by Miss Loyd, "Jog Cart" by Miss Delker and Miss Pelch, "Arachne" by Miss Cobb, and "They Call It—Dancing". The last was ridiculing affected styles. All of the girls participated in this number.

Members of the verse choir were Mrs. Marjorie Fox, Miss Beatrice Moldry, Mr. Chester Winston, Miss Jean Tesseyman, Miss Georgia Krebs, Miss Dorothy Allen, Miss Ellen Sternberg, Miss Verna Allen, Miss Katherine Coyne, Miss Doris DeAy, Mrs. Mabel Gibbs, Miss Marjorie Low, Miss Eileen Mathiewson, Miss Winifred Nichols, Miss Julia Wilson, Miss Rosaman Woolf, Miss LuAnn Nutall, Miss Janine Ruperus, Miss Louise Rothenberger, Miss Eleanor Rees, Miss Mabel Wilson, and Mr. John Slocum.

Civic Leaders Speak Here In Assembly

Assemblies during the coming week will feature four addresses by educational and civic leaders in California. The series which starts today at fifth hour will be presented as part of the annual summer session entertainment offered by the faculty administration.

Mrs. Florence Porter will deliver the talk in the assembly today as the guest of the college. She will speak on problems of relations between trustees, school executives and teachers.

As a member of the school trustees association for the state of California, Mrs. Porter has served on many projects of service to both teaching and trustee groups. In relation to today's talk she has conducted extended studies of trustee problems as secretary of the state trustee association.

Aids in Programs

During the fourth hour set aside for assembly on Tuesday, July 25, Mr. Milton E. Chernin, executive officer in the California State Relief Administration, will speak on "Unemployment Relief". Mr. Chernin's official title is director of the division of planning and research.

In his address Mr. Chernin will speak on how the average citizen is affected by unemployment problems. Also his address will bring forth the official view of many of the relief measures that have recently been revealed in headlines concerning Sacramento legislation.

Final speaker in the series will be Dr. Vierling Kersey, city superintendent of schools for Los Angeles, who will appear for two addresses. The first will be delivered Thursday, July 27, during seventh hour. Second appearance will be made by Dr. Kersey on Friday, July 28 during second hour.

On Edge . . .

By FRANK C. DOUGLAS

One feature of the Campus Jamboree which caught our fancy was the March of Time Picture depicting nationalization of Mexican industries. This picture was of the vintage of 1936 but nevertheless it was still up-to-date as far as the general principles of the question were concerned. Mexico for the Mexicans is still a growing movement.

One example of the growing effect of this movement was exhibited this week when Ramon Beteta, undersecretary of state for Mexico, announced plans for repatriation of Mexican residents of this country. By this move the southern republic gains not only the proceeds of our educational system but they also prove their ability to care for their own better than other states of our union can care for theirs.

Is the theatre an escapism?

Recently, three principle views of this question have been raised in discussions of the theatre. First answer may be termed the cultural approach to the theatre. The cultural student holds that the only way that progress may be achieved is to raise the level of general intelligence (whatever that may be).

The second view is that of the pragmatist. This position favors such plays as "Winterset", "Damaged Goods", and "Waiting for Lefty". The opinion is that presenting social problems in drama will aid in achieving action in real life.

The third view is that of the pessimist. The pessimist holds the opinion that all plays are merely escapisms until incorporated into a definite plan for propagandizing a certain group of persons into pursuing a definite action. How many times have such pictures as "Blockade" or "Man's Castle" merely stimulated a temporary interest in social progress? When this temporary interest dies, is not all interest in social progress that much more difficult as people become hardened and diffident to their unpleasant environment?

Next week is the week of our own "big" play. Let's keep our fingers crossed. Director Hile appears to have something worth close attention. "As You Like It" is rapidly reaching that point where the actors will lay at the feet of the audience a presentation of the highest efforts that they are capable of achieving as student dramatists.

Faculty Members Gather at El Paseo

Six members of the faculty and their wives gathered to celebrate their marriage anniversary at a dinner party Saturday night July 15 at El Paseo. In addition the group celebrated the birthday of Mrs. George Outland.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Wells, Dr. and Mrs. Irving Mather, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Hile, Mr. and Mrs. Don Follett and Dr. and Mrs. George Outland.

Who Cares About Napoleon?

By RUSSELL BUCHANAN

A man who is planning to become a doctor does not mind being told to take a course in biology. He knows that a knowledge of this subject is essential to preparation for his profession. A person expecting to major in home economics does not quarrel with the adviser who suggests that she take chemistry, for she is well aware that such a course will be invaluable in her work. A prospective teacher does not object to courses in practice teaching because he, likewise, realizes that such experience will be helpful to him in his profession. A suggestion to any or all of these individuals, however, that a course in history be included is often met with disapproval. Who cares about Napoleon? This person asks. What difference does it make to me whether or not Machiavelli lived or died? Why should I bother about the non-English people who came to this country back in colonial times? I am living in the present, he argues, why should I be concerned with the past? I can clip out tonsils without knowing whether Michelangelo or Leonardo da Vinci painted the Mona Lisa. Or, I can figure out a menu for a dining hall without even knowing that John Locke ever existed, much less wrote a treatise on government that was copied in North and South America and on the European continent.

Persons who ask such questions as these tend to forget that education involves more than preparation for economic pursuits. To many of us, our future is tied up indissolubly with the continuance of democracy. Education is essential to the development of democracy, but it must be the right sort of education. Illiteracy is almost non-existent in Japan. Germany, Italy, and the Soviet Union are laying great emphasis on their schools, yet I have a feeling that most of us still prefer to live within the confines of the United States. Education in a democracy must be one of tolerance and liberalism. To combat the enemies of democracy we must understand them. It is not enough to know that a virulent type of dictatorship rules much of Europe; it is necessary to know and understand the factors that brought such government into power so that similar forces may be detected and corrected in our own country. A democracy, too, must be tolerant enough to admit of self examination, and a clear-headed impartial analysis of our own nation's past may be as beneficial as a doctor's examination.

A democracy to be effective must rest upon the solid groundwork of good citizenship. Patriotism is more than mere flag-waving. It involves knowledge of the formation and development of our institutions and ideals. A good citizen does not blindly follow the dictates of a government; he takes part in the government, accepting intelligently what is good from the past and molding this heritage to suit the present.

Returning to the individual, one should keep in mind that not quite everything in life is bound up in the struggle for a living. One needs relaxation of one kind or another. Some may actually derive enjoyment from reading well-written books on history. Others, for example, may be fond of music or literature. How can one enjoy to the full the great classics of either music or literature without some knowledge of the life, background, and purpose of either the artist or his subject? It is often said that a man is known by the friends with whom he associates. This truism, for what it is worth, may apply equally well to a man's friends in the past as to his more immediate associates.

Although we are still a young people, we have a cultural past. How can we appreciate this fact or, more important still, how can we develop a cultural present if we avoid history and the liberal arts?

Play Reaches Stage Soon

Rehearsals took on a smooth polish for the summer session production of "As You Like It" as campus actors this week swung into final preparations for the show which will be staged next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the Quad. According to Director Frederic W. Hile, the cast for the production is one of the "finest ever assembled on this College's stage."

Meanwhile, capacity crowds for all three nights seemed imminent, according to house committee chairman Winifred Nichols. Summer session students will be admitted upon presentation of student body cards, while all others will be assessed 50 cents. In outdoor scene, the audience will be seated directly across from the performers who emote on the south side of the Quad.

Perfect Setting

The local quadrangle provides a perfect "Forest of Arden", according to Hile, with the large eucalyptus trees rustling in the background forming a naturally beautiful setting for the Shakespearian comedy. The setting, it is said, makes for informality for the audience and allows them to become a part of the action.

Action of the play concerns itself with the banishment of Orlando by his brother, the banishment of Rosalind and her cousin Celia by the latter's father, Duke Frederick and their meeting in the forest. Included in the sub-romances are those of the shepherd and shepherdess, Silvius and Phebe and the "eternal triangle" in the form of Touchstone, Audrey and William.

Comedy Highlight

The meeting of the latter three is one of the highlights of the play for sheer riotous comedy, all observers have agreed. Comedians Carl Jorgenson and Jim Lyons and comedienne Audrey Lockard combine their talents in this hysterical farce.

Sharing honors as the romantic leads are Hans Mayr and Eileen Mathewson. Miss Mathewson, a product of Santa Barbara high school, has taken part in many roles of the type, while Mayr, who arrived here via San Pedro high school and Compton junior college, is playing his first romantic lead. His previous characterizations have included old men and villainous roles.

Included in the cast are Louanne Nutall, Irving Manspeaker, John Twaddell, Syd Cohen, Frank Douglas, Georgia Mae Krebs, John Slocum, Dale Bennett, Gilbert McKeon and Tom Kelly. The production staff includes Selma McLeary, promptress, Tilman Chamlee, technical director, Verna Allen, assistant director, Marjorie Lowe, costumes, Eleanor Rose, properties and Leslie Blofield, music.

BOYERS TELL OF BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Boyer, State college graduates, announced the birth of a son Terry Alvin, on Saturday, July 8. Mrs. Boyer was the former Christine MacDonald.

Debate Group Plans Social

E. F. Hartman presided over the fourth meeting of the Squabble club Wednesday evening, July 19. Chief club business was concerned with the weekly debates and plans for the annual club social.

Mr. Hansen, of Santa Barbara State College, discussed, Students should be encouraged and required to design their own projects. E. S. Dahlstrom, of Fresno, talked on the topic, exhibits of industrial arts projects should be confined to bona-fide student work.

Claude Nihart, Supervisor of Vocational and Industrial Arts, Los Angeles City Schools, maintained that requirements of industrial arts teachers in Senior High School should differ from those in a Junior High School. W. McKinney, of Palm Springs, spoke on the problem that, metal shop students should have higher I.Q.'s than students in printing and drafting enrolled in industrial arts classes.

A scholarship committee consisting of Messrs. Lewis, Ford, Pisor, and Dalstrom was appointed by President Hartman to pass on the eligibility of possible recipients for the Squabble club scholarship. Decisions will be final, and members are urged to bring in their candidates now.

Next week's meeting which, due to Fiesta, will be the last of the series, will be held at the home of Roy L. Soules, in Mission Canyon, at the usual time. Money which various members have paid into the treasury as a fine for being late will be used to obtain refreshments.

SORORITY PLANS DANCE

Plans were discussed for a sport dance to be held in conjunction with the alumni on Saturday, July 29 at a meeting of Tau Gamma Sigma, social sorority. The meeting took place at the home of Polly and Peggy Cheever.

I SEE BY THE CRYSTAL BALL

Hoo killed Cock Robin? It turned out to be none other than little Danny again. So—it put the Yogie in the mood to gaze again into the crystal ball.

First off. Have you noticed that obnoxious sign on the blackboard over in the mechanical drawing room—Drive Slowly Down this Aisle.

We see Dorothy Walker is going to become Mrs. Leroy Ashby, both of dear old S.B.S.C. And how the sidewhiskers do grow on several certain Don Juans about the campus—we'll wager that there will be several broken engagements to be told about next week.

Wilhelmina Menken, swank (as usual) doing the Horse Show last Sunday in the paid section. While up on the side of 'Tightwad Hill' sat some of our most prominent student body officers.

Attending the Woman's Club Tea and concert last evening was none other than Dr. Helen Sweet.

Ammonia asking, its ether pit or pit. Seven little gals in Miss Severy's chem class are complaining of aching jaws from three weeks of chewing paraffin just to pit.

For lack of space we regret we can't reprint the article in last Sunday's News-Press entitled, "Dating Married Men is Losing Game for Girls".

There are quite a few D.A.R.'s in school this summer. A gal over in Mr. Wirths' class explains that a D.A.R. is simply a D—Average Raiser.

Then the crystal ball showed the energetic Janie Abraham assisted by Miss Katharine Ball and Miss Severy demonstrating how Santa Barbara hospitality really works, when they ran off a swell feed under the sponsorship of the Business Woman's club.

Roy Stone, that really swell baritone should get an honorable mention for wanting to get home to his family every other day. They only live in L.A.

Our new exposure of another clique was censored by the editor. But the one mentioned before was seen out at Manning Park in Montecito Tuesday evening with additions in the form of the Pisors, Washburns, Northrups, Woods, Funks and the Fitches.

Some of the lads and lasses from Dr. Sweet's classes have been seen lately standing in corners talking to themselves. Maybe they are rehearsing a competitive play. Yeah—maybe.

The Yogie has been wondering why someone doesn't install a nickel changer next to the coke dispensary.

More hand-claps for Mrs. Abraham who was seen leaving the Campus Jamboree about eleven thirty Saturday evening carrying the doughnut baskets that had to be returned.

Then we think there were several lads 'off-key' at the step sing last Friday night. That show had every-

Staters Hear Play Reading

Frederic W. Hile, director of speech and dramatics division of the English department, will present a reading of "St. Joan" by George Bernard Shaw today at 3:30 p.m. in room 80 of Pine Hall. The reading by the speech instructor will be the fourth of the season read in the annual English department presentations to summer session students.

The play, which deals with the life of the great saint was written by Shaw who has achieved for himself the record of being the most different individual in the history of the modern theatre with his many dramas of historical and social background.

While this play is more of a historical nature in subject it also employs a style that marks it far apart from other historical studies. Much of more recent theatrical ideas have been inspired by "St. Joan".

Each week a different type of reading presents some phase of literary interpretation. The plays which are open to the entire student body is offered to show how the work is carried on in the academic fields of English letters may function socially.

Speech Students Schedule Broadcast

Plans for a radio program to be presented during the last week of the session were discussed yesterday by Frederic W. Hile, director of the speech division of the English department. The program which is to be released over the News-Press station, KTMS will be given by the students in summer session speech class.

According to present plans the program will probably be given Tuesday evening, August 1. Exact time is not yet known, according to Mr. Hile.

The speech choir will read various poems for the first ten minutes. Second part of the program will be a twenty minute discussion by the members of the Speech For the Classroom Teacher course.

thing except opening the quad pool for wading.

A notice in the main hall for extension classes has had good returns. The Yogie has opened another list for those wanting certain courses on the campus. To date the following have been requested:

Soc. Sci. 6A-B Elements of Confusion; Ed 1A Mental Fog and its place in the Modern College; Geology 29A States of Indifference; PE 12A Utter Recreational Relaxation; Fundamentals and Probation; Ind Ed 10A Fundamentals of Ilems; Eng 12A Verbal Bookage and Sci 3A-B Brain Diffusion.

Apologies to you dear readers. Last week more was cut out by a certain person (?) than was printed, but we'll try to scoop for you in the last issue.

The Yogie.

Fishing Trip Sees Success

Saturday's fishing trip to the Channel Islands made such a hit with summer session students that another is being planned for this week-end, Dan Mulock, recreation director, announces.

A large group of students and their friends left at 6:30 a.m. Saturday in the closed cabin cruiser Starlight and arrived at the island at 9:00 o'clock. After the gathering of mussels for bait, the members of the party enjoyed themselves catching bass, sheepsheads and whitefish.

Mulock announces that the party scheduled for this weekend will leave Stearn's Wharf at 4:00 a.m. to take advantage of better fishing conditions at an earlier hour. "We'll be back definitely by 5 p.m.," he said, "and we expect to catch many more fish this time because we're going to have live bait."

Comments from students who have taken the island trip indicate that it is a party well worth attending. Many who had expected last Saturday to become somewhat seasick were surprised at the smoothness of the voyage. According to Mulock, there was virtually no wind, the water was smooth and the whole trip was enjoyable and comfortable.

He advises all students who are interested in joining the party on Saturday, July 22, to see him before Friday at 2 p.m. The fee, he says, will be $2.

Sportsmen Schedule Campus Sports

Golf and badminton hold the recreational spotlight this week with many sumpessioners entered in the tournaments being held for their benefit.

Badminton was inaugurated Monday in the college gym under the direction of John Ingram and will continue through Friday; golf also began on Monday at the Montecito Country Club and will be continued throughout the week. The golf tournament is being handled by David Rumbaugh and Oliver Seely.

Trophies and prizes will be presented on Friday to the winners in both the golf and badminton tournaments, according to Dan Mulock, recreation director. Mulock announces that the tournaments are open to men and women, and he urges all contestants to be sure to arrive on time for their scheduled matches. "The summer session is about over," he said, "and with just two weeks remaining, the events must be run off on schedule if we are to have a full program."

PHELPS ENTERTAINS COUSIN

Shelton Phelps, president of Winthrop college, was the guest of President Clarence L. Phelps this week. Shelton Phelps is cousin of the president of the Santa Barbara college and is well-known for his work in Rock Hill, South Carolina. He is a member of the executive committee of the American Council on Education.

Graduate Manager Announces 1939 Grid Ticket Prices

Ticket prices for the football season of 1939 were announced yesterday by Don Follett, graduate manager. Announcement of prices on tickets was made in order that summer session students should receive the earliest opportunities to plan for the games which they will attend.

The schedule is based on a ten game season. Of these games, seven are set for La Playa field while the other three will be fought out in foreign territory.

Ticket prices as they are now set by the board of athletic control call for a season ticket which will sell for $4.50. This ticket will give admission to six of the home games. As the Flagstaff game is still tentative the season ticket does not include this game.

For the single games admission will be 75 and 55 cents for all home games but S.F.U. and Fresno State which will be $1.10 and 75 cents. Children will be admitted for 25 cents.

Following is the schedule:

Sept. 22—Occidental, Here
Sept. 30—Willamette, Here
Oct. 6—Fresno State, Here
Oct. 14—San Diego Marines, Here
Oct. 21—S.F.U., Here
Oct. 27—San Jose State, There
Nov. 3—Flagstaff, Here (tent.)
Nov. 11—Open
Nov. 18—Greeley State, Here
Nov. 25—San Diego State, There
Nov. 30—Whittier, There

Ball Games Puzzle Fans

Addicts of the recent epidemic of softball-itis continue to swat the overstuffed baseball into the grove of trees behind the gym, as the Summer Session league enters the final round.

Due to the extreme mobility and the team changing tactics of all players, exact standing cannot be determined. Probably the team Clarence Lair is pitching for is in top position; however, this team might be anyone of the four since he has been drafted into service by all teams.

Outstanding and portly players in the league include such stellar stars as "Doc" Outland (the Slugger), Spud (he talks a good game) Harder, "Doc" Jacobs (Babe Ruth of the Upper Division), and Van Christy (who is still signaling for a slow ball that will never come in).

Games will continue to be played every Monday and Wednesday until the end of Summer Session.

Bill Powell Tells Of Tournament

The tennis tourney under the direction of Bill Powell is now in full swing with the full spirit of enthusiasm being shown. Bill announced that cups will be awarded at the final assembly to the winners in the various divisions.

Those still remaining in the men's singles include: G. Watson, B. Kindred, C. Leister, B. Powell, C. Shehorn, and H. Strohm. In the women's singles are B. L. Boykin, P. Ryan, M. Kohler, H. Washburn and C. King.

Since there were not enough entered in the women's doubles, these have been combined with the men's doubles. The following are still in the running: Williamson and Kohler, Watson and De Vore, Scofield and McSkimming, Strohm and Ericson.

Bill Powell urges all participants to play off matches as rapidly as possible.

Announcements

In order to receive grade reports on summer session studies all students are requested to leave self-addressed AND STAMPED envelopes outside the recorder's office. The envelope should be left in the small cardboard box. No grades will be sent out until this requirement has been fulfilled.

WILMA LOWSLEY,
Recorder

All members of the student body are asked to go to their mail-boxes in the administration building more often. Difficulties with an overabundance of mail which has stayed in the boxes too long has made this request necessary.

If any person finds a navy blue wool coat will they turn it into the main office. The owner will appreciate it a great deal. The information clerk is in charge of the lost-and-found department.

Primary Group Announces Picnic

The Kindergarten Primary department will meet for a picnic dinner today, five o'clock at Manning Park. The charge is twenty-five cents per person. Ruth Catlin and Gloria are in charge and many games have been planned such as badminton, croquet and tennis.

Department members held their second program last Thursday. This was a picnic at the West beach.

Sue de Haaff was in charge and the following were on her committee: Betty Williamson, Maxine Maussnest, and Hattie Statford.

The meeting held the first Thursday at Rocky Nook was attended by some forty persons. Honored guests from the summer school faculty were Miss Townes, Head of the Kindergarten Primary department, Miss Cain of the Demonstration School, and Mrs. Brett, head of the Elementary department.

Marjoirie Schmeisser won the prize in the scavenger hunt. This was followed by a weiner bake.

State Frolics at Jamboree

Friday night July 14 saw the successful staging of the first annual Campus Jamboree, in which students and guests of summer session participated in sports, enjoyed entertainment in the auditorium, played cards and games, joined in a community sing, and danced in the music hall all in the space of five and one-half hours.

Those who attended acclaimed the initial venture as a unique and worthy enterprise. Attempt was made in presenting this to give the students a variety of entertainment for an evening full of fun and enjoyment.

Sports at 6:45

Games began in the gym and out in front of the gym at 6:45 and progressed until 7:45, when everyone trekked to the auditorium for a movie presentation of three feature shorts, Silly Symphony, March of Time, and a Vitaphone short. These pictures were shown through the courtesy of Mr. William L. Rust, director of visual education, and were followed by a program of tumbling by the boys from the Westside Athletic club, under supervision of Tommy Hart, former student at State.

At 9:00 coffee, chocolate and doughnuts were served in the quad to everyone, where Mr. Van L. Christy led a community sing for an hour or more. At the same time, a dance was held in the Music hall to the recordings of Bob Brady. Dancing was from 9 to 12, with musical interviews and "cheat" dances being featured. Cards and games in the A.W.S. clubroom were available for those who didn't care to dance.

Social Committee Plans

Those on the social committee who aided in preparing and laying plans for the entertainment were Rena Sacconaghi, head of the committee and in general charge; Gordon Woosley, who was in charge of the entertainment in the auditorium; Margaret Kennedy and Lois Brasfield, cards and games; Russell Blanchard, arrangements for the community sing; Dan Mulock, recreational facilities; Jimmie Stanley, dancing; Julia Ann Grimshaw and Ruth Wallace, refreshments; and Betty Lee Boykin, advertising and poster work.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chenoweth, Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, Mr. Van Christy, and Miss Hazel Severy.

ALPHA THETS HOLD SOCIAL

Staging a formal dinner-dance at El Paseo last Saturday night, the Alpha Theta Chi climaxed its summer social season. About 20 couples attended this event with many actives and alumni who are attending summer school or staying in town.

Monday night the social sorority met for a short business meeting, followed by an enjoyable evening's entertainment at the Figueroa Bowling Alley.
