Squabblers to Hold Exhibit for One Week

Entries for the industrial education department exhibit must be in the hands of the exhibit committee by Friday, July 19, in order that the display may be set up for the following week, according to Louie S. Taylor, chairman of the committee.

Anyone that has any ideas for teaching materials in the industrial education department, are urged to bring as many as possible to the exhibit. Pet projects, teaching aids, or anything that will generate interest and facilitate teaching in this field will be of great interest and importance in the show.

The projects entered in the exhibit, as well as various devices, will be judged on their merits and values as teaching aids.

The following committee will be available to take entry applications and may be found at the place indicated.

Louie S. Taylor, chairman; F. Suiter, Chemistry laboratory; Phil Le Tourneau, Art metal shop; James Cushingham, Wood shop; Chester Winston, Machine shop; George Atmore, Drafting room; and Gene Nelson, Print shop.

Leaders Responsible For Group Activity

Answering inquiries made by several of the students, the following list of recreation group leaders are listed. Each activity leader will be held responsible, both for the proper functioning of his group, as well as handing in activity reports to El Gauchito.

Archery, Mrs. Alberta Stow; Badminton, Morgan Smith; Dramatics, Charles Darland; Tennis, George Atmore and Harry Moore; Handball, Alex Mueller; Indoor, Kenneth Holland; Golf, Howard Marvin; Swimming, Tennis, Hiking, Charles Leister; Wrestling, Bob Morrell; Horseback-riding, Esther Funk; and Boating, Earnest Carter.

DEGREE MAKES MORE EFFICIENT SHOP TEACHER

The effectiveness of the shop teacher is strengthened rather than weakened by acquiring a college degree, according to the consensus of opinion expressed at the Squabble club last Friday evening. It was voiced that the shop teacher could acquire a degree and not lose sight of his trade objectives if he budgets his time properly and integrates the subjects he takes with his shop experiences.

It was also stated that the social approval and broadening of attitudes that come from college contacts enhances the shop teacher's educational experiences, widens his knowledge about his own trades and makes him a better teacher, so that he is able to command the respect, not only of his superiors and fellow teachers, but also the industrial teachers whom he must necessarily contact. This discussion was led by J. D. Wilson, of the Frank Wiggins Trade School, Los Angeles.

The experiment that is carried on in the Eagle Rock High School, under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation, was explained by Ralph Heywood, drafting instructor in that institution. The competition for grades among students is being done away with. The report cards indicate work habits, courtesy, co-operation, health and achievement rather than grades on subject matter.

This novel experiment has only been tried out for one semester, but the fact that it is meeting with the approval of educators is indicated by an announcement of the Los Angeles city board of education that the old system of grading would be discontinued this coming school year.

S. O. Werner, member of the college faculty during the regular session, made a report on the annual C.I.E.A. meeting held in San Jose, last week.

Louis Taylor announced preparations that are in progress for the exhibit of teaching devices that will be on display during the week of June 22 to 26.

Social Event Offers Treat for Students

A most unique treat is in store for the student body on next Friday evening, July 19. The week-end social event will be held at the Ship cafe at East beach, where volley ball, horseshoes and other games will be started at 4 o'clock. For those who are interested in swimming, bathhouse facilities will be available.

At 6:30 o'clock, a sea food dinner will be served. This is the regular 75 cent dinner and through the student committee, the price has been reduced to 40 cents. The student body fee will make up the deficit.

At eight o'clock, dancing will be in order with a "class A" orchestra. Games of all kinds from "Bunko" to "Checkers and Contract" will be held for those who do not care to dance or to look on.

The setting for this party is unique, the cuisine and service is excellent and a good time is assured.

Tickets must be purchased on the campus from committee members. Students are warned that they will be unable to get in to dine without tickets, as the committee must advise the management by 4:30 p.m. Thursday, as to the numbers to prepare.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the following members of the ticket committee; Irene Meniken, Esther Funk, Louie S. Taylor, Virginia Moon and Dorothy Lape.

Chenoweth Speaks to San Jose Students

Lawrence L. Chenoweth, state college instructor, has been invited to deliver two lectures to the students of San Jose State college next week on "What Education Should Do For Us," and "The Personality of the Teacher."

Mr. Chenoweth is an alumnus of San Jose State college as well as Santa Barbara State college.

ANNUAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BEGIN MONDAY

The annual summer session tennis tournament, open to all instructors and students, will get under way on Monday, July 22, and last until the end of the session.

The tournament will include men's singles and doubles and women's singles and doubles. All who are interested are asked to sign up on the bulletin board at once. Players must furnish their own equipment and play matches as scheduled.

Watch the bulletin board for pairings, time and dates of the matches. Results of matches played will be put in Box A giving winner-loser score. The best two sets out of three will determine a match.

The college tennis courts in Mission canyon are to be reserved for match play and others are to release courts on demand, whether or not the game in progress is completed.

There will be prizes given at the end of the tournament.

Local Women's Club To Sponsor Musical

On Wednesday, July 17th, The Santa Barbara Women's Club is sponsoring a charming Musical Program of Bridge and Tea at The Rockwood Club House in Mission Canyon. Price thirty-five cents. Cards 2:00 p.m., Music 3:00. Mrs. Elsie Fredin, Lyric Soprano, will give the program, accompanied by Mrs. Helen M. Barnett at the piano.

Summer school students, faculty wives and visitors are cordially invited. The bridge and tea tables are set on the lovely tree shaded terrace, insuring coolness. One must really participate in these Wednesday gatherings to appreciate the charm of the occasion.

If you plan to play bridge, make reservations for same at the club house, telephone 3305.

Squabble Club Plans to Entertain Kersey

The Squabble Club is making plans for the entertainment of Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Schools at a near date.

The program committee is preparing a "Squabble" on this occasion that will be enlightening to the state official.

Tuckers Grove Scene of College Fun - Fest

Aside from a little mix-up on the eating proposition, the threat of rain, thunder and lightening, the the basket-picnic lunch at Tucker's grove in Goleta on Saturday, July 13, was quite a success.

Students, families and friends were among the many who participated in games of indoor baseball, horseshoes and volleyball, after which the call for dinner rang out.

Dancing under the stars followed at 7:30 o'clock and lasted until 10:30 p. m. The music was furnished by Bill Landford's orchestra. During the intermission, an amateur show was conducted by Morgan Smith and was won by Dorothea Prescott. Others who participated in the show were the Bar room quartette, a tap dance by Norman Stow, tap dance by Clarice Swan and a story by Ray Cunningham.

I.E. Department Has Credential Service

People who need recommendation for special credentials through the industrial education office should arrange at once for this service, according to E. E. Ericson, head of the I. E. department.

All papers will be prepared before the rush of the closing of the summer session and may be sent in to Sacramento as soon as the grades come out.

Because of the pressure of work in this office at present, it is highly important that this matter be attended to before July 24.

Sorority Members Entertained

Mrs. Ralph Porter will entertain members of the Gamma Delta Chi sorority at her home on Thursday, July 18, at 8:00 o'clock.

The members of the sorority on the campus this summer are Bernice Baker, Lucille Rankin, Edna Forbes, Wyllys Anderson, and Dorothea Prescott.

Those living in Santa Barbara are Florence Longawa, Mrs. Iba Beth Potter, Mrs. Evelyn Hall, Wandolyn Linker, Margaret Holden and the patronesses Mrs. Irene Stewart and Mrs. Mamie Miller, and the hostess, Mrs. Ralph Porter.

PRINTING CLASS EXPANSION TOLD BY E. E. ERICSON

In keeping abreast with changing conditions in the industrial field, Santa Barbara State college is offering a vocational course in printing with the opening of the coming fall semester, as a part of the expanded program in the industrial education department, according to E. E. Ericson.

The new printing program offers two definite courses. A special two-year vocational course, which prepares the students upon completion for entrance into one of the branches of the printing field. The other course is a four year program which leads to a B.A. degree. This course offers the degree with or without teaching credentials, depending upon the selection of elective courses.

When the course is taken without the educational work leading to a teaching credential, the work leads to direct employment in many of the affiliated branches of the printing field, including commercial printing, newspaper work, salesmanship and journalism. It furnishes a definite background for the more advanced responsibility in these fields, leading toward formanship and managerial positions.

Several additional pieces of equipment will be added to the college print shop during the summer: an automatic high speed job press, a Miehle Vertical; a 26 inch perforator, and a foot power punch. There will also be an addition of type faces and replacements.

Application may be made during the summer for these classes. Limitation of floor space and equipment makes it necessary to limit the number of students in these classes.

Increase in College Shown by Statistics

From President C. L. Phelps' office, the story comes as to just exactly how much this institution has grown, compared to statistics of last year. These reports are based upon the annual reports to the State department of education.

On the basis of full time student equivalent, 750.4 units of work was carried for 1935 as against 647.8 units for 1934. Including summer session of 1935, 838.4 against 693.6 for 1934, which is an increase of about 16% or over 100 students. This year the total enrollment was 849 as compared to 752 last year in regular session and 350 enrolled for this summer as compared to 335 in 1934. Thirty-six percent are transfers from other schools.

Eichheim to Lecture At Special Assembly

Henry Eichheim, noted violinist, composer and lecturer, will give a lecture on "The Fine Arts and Their Relation to Living" at a special assembly to be called on Thursday, July 18, during fourth hour.

Mr. Eichheim has conducted the All-Southern California California College Symphony orchestra concerts sponsored by Santa Barbara State college, for the past five years, and has recently been appointed a member of the college faculty and will lecture to the college students from time to time.

INDOOR BASEBALL

Its a hit! So think the men in the Indoor Baseball Recreational Class meeting every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock on the field back of the shops.

Fun, exercise, and relaxation are promised all who participate. Put on those old clothes and come on out. We are willing to be shown that old batting form. You are assured a hearty welcome.

LARRYETTES

We make our bow in this weekly colyum with something old, something new, everything borrowed, but nothing blue—hoping it will somehow suit you.

Important Announcements

Members of Lawrence Chenoweth's class in Recreation are asked to take special note of the following announcement. Lecture classes have been consolidated and will be held on Thursdays, during the fourth and eighth hours only.

* * *

The Squabble Club meets this evening in room 42. This organization is unique in that it offers a fair discussion of topics relating to educational problems. It has become recognized as a campus institution and its fame has spread all over the state. It is the official organization of the Industrial Arts Department of this college and has a special appeal for all teachers on students in this field.

Personals

Patricia Mc Cullagh, kindergarten-primary department, '35, has been elected to teach in the Ontario schools.

Ralph Jameson, elementary education, '30, formerly of Bakersfield, will teach in El Segundo.

Laura Irene Mc Dermott visited the campus on July 3 on her way to the San Diego fair. She is a graduate of the home economics department in 1917 and is now teaching in the San Francisco Polytechnic high school.

Miss Georgia Lyans, elementary education '35, will teach in Chino during the school year 1935-1936.

Elsie Christine Tietz, elementary education '32, was married to Arthur M. Bumble, at the St. Luke's Episcopal church in Monrovia, California, on Sunday, July 7.

Squabble Club Holds Meet With Women

"What Is Integration, and How Will It Effect the Industrial Arts Teacher?" will be the subject of a panel discussion at the Squabble Club this Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock in room 45. All interested persons on the campus are invited to sit in and listen to a demonstration of this new method of conducting discussions.

Morgan Smith, Glendale High School, who has participated in several panel discussions conducted by the Vocational Department of the Los Angeles school system, will be the referee.

Dr. C. L. Jacobs, E. E. Ericson, F. C. Suiter, Hugh Baird, Dean Smith, and R. L. Reed will briefly either defend or oppose the subject under discussion, according to their ideas or experiences.

After these men have presented the pros and cons, the audience will be permitted to ask questions or express opinions. The discussion starts promptly at 7:00 o'clock and will close just as promptly at 9:00.

College Chess Club Meets Monday Night

The college chess club, which meets regularly each Monday night at 7:00 o'clock in the men's club room, has set aside next Monday night as "beginners" night.

All those who wish to learn the game are invited to come. Instruction and assistance will be given to all beginners interested in either learning or improving their game.

Members are asked to bring their sets if available, but come anyway, set or no set.

PUPILS CHOICE

By virtue of various definitions made, schools are supposed to be places where teacher and student meet across a desk for the transfer from one to the other of certain information, attitudes, skills, and ways of doing things. In this transferring then, what should the pupil expect from the teacher?

Every student has the right to expect his teacher to remember, always, that he is himself a person with problems, aspirations, and a human dignity of his own. He has a life just as full of joys and sorrows as does the teacher. The student has a right, too, to expect impartiality, willingness to help him discover his talents and his interests, patience in explaining the hard spots that seem so obvious once we have learned them, intellectual honesty in the presentation of subject matter and in answering sincere questions. The teacher who occasionally says "I don't know" is a better teacher than he who evades betraying his own ignorance by changing the subject or feigning to misunderstand the point.

Regardless of what seems so obvious to us, there is a great shortage of well trained and sincere teachers. We can never have too many genuine teachers, and out of such a group, more "education" may come than from weeks of pupil recitation.

RADIO NOTES

By BOB KRAUSE

A PROBLEM

An interesting comment was made recently by Dr. Walter Damrosh on the subject of whether a larger portion of the available radio channels should be allocated to colleges and universities. This has been a subject of much dispute for some time. He states, "I have grave doubts as to the ability of such educational institutions to make any contribution in this direction which would improve or even approach the musical programs now presented over the air. How would they obtain the enormous amount of money necessary to present such programs?"

GOOD PROGRAMS

A new high mark in musical broadcasting was set this past season. The Sunday night Ford and General Motors presentations over C. B. S. and N. B. C. respectively were notable contributions to the network schedules. Many of the guest stars on both programs were those who are eminently successful throughout the concert world.

NEW AL JOLSON

Radio audiences usually associate Al Jolson with his famous "mammy singing." However, on his recent appearance with Paul Whitman, his microphone adaptations of famous stage roles were among the greatest contributions toward the advancement of radio drama. He left the air for a while but is now back as the star of the Saturday night Shell Show. (N. B. C.)

AMATEUR HOUR

Major Edward Boles came to the front with his Amateur Hour last year and within a few weeks achieved a great deal of fame. While his Amateur Hour cannot be called a new radio idea it has gathered wide attention and has started a major trend both on local and network stations. He is now in the spot formerly held by Eddie Cantor on Sunday afternoons. His extemporaneous remarks as he presides over the gong are among the brightest microphone lines heard in recent seasons.

HIT PARADE

Lennie Hayton, the young maestro who soared to radio height in recent years, is now conducting his 45-piece orchestra in "The Hit Parade" on N.B.C. Saturday nights. The idea of the program is to present the fifteen leading song hits of the week on each program.

E. P. Wetzel Features Puppets at Assembly

E. Percival Wetzel, of "El Club Tietro", and his puppets was the feature of an assembly program on Tuesday, 4th hour, which was arranged by the art department, under the direction of Mary E. T. Croswell. Mr. Wetzel gave a short talk outlining the history of puppetry and its development in the different countries. Various kinds of puppets were demonstrated, among them the shadow puppets of India, Chinese rod puppets, and hand puppets from France. With the aid of a group of his manipulators, Wetzel overcame obvious difficulties to present a dance scene with marionette puppets. Following the performance, the scene was repeated with the procenium curtains drawn, and the actual working of the puppets seen.

At the assembly announcements were made concerning the lecture to be given by Henry Eichheim, noted musician and conductor, at the college during the fourth hour on Thursday. Meeting of the Squabble club, a play reading by Dean Ashworth, and the Cabrillo beach dinner-dance were also announced.

LARRYETTES

If you keep your nose on the grindstone rough,
And you keep it there long enough,
You'll soon forget that there are such things
As brooks that babble and birds that sing,
And bye-and-bye your world will compose
You and the stone and your darned old nose.

Yes, Mary, it's bad form when a girl wears a bathrobe over her bathing suit. If it weren't she wouldn't have to wear one.
