HUGE CROWD HEARS NOYES IN OPENING LECTURE

Provost Clarence L. Phelps and 700 college students and townspeople paid tribute to Dr. Alfred E. Noyes, celebrated English poet, Tuesday night in the college auditorium when Noyes delivered his first lecture on "Poetry Of The Great tradition." Phelps in introducing Noyes to the audience stated:

"This is the proudest moment I have known in this institution."

During his hour lecture, first of a series of 15 to be given weekly, Noyes explained what he meant by "Poetry of the Great Tradition." "It is poetry as it actually is in existence in the great tradition extending 2000 years into the past. Each century has had its own poets, and all have agreed on certain principles."

"It is only in the last century that those principles have been, not merely examined, but reversed. If certain laws have held good except when a civilization is dying, does that speak well for the art of the period? Is it likely that in this tumultuous world of ours we are capable of reversing principles to any good gain?"

Noyes chose examples from the works of Shakespeare, Horace and others among the literary great of the past to illustrate that these poets of all time have always known what the eminent scientists of today are now beginning to realize: "that the external world of physics will become a world of shadows" until there will "be nothing to oppose the Supreme Will." Noyes then refuted the theory of the contemporary psychiatrist who voiced a belief that poetry, the arts and religion are "pleasure thinking" as opposed to "reality."

Noyes elaborated on this theme by stating: "Behind the trembling veil of nature there is something akin to our own soul, which we cannot comprehend, but we do apprehend it—through beauty." At this point he read one of his own poems, "Wizards."

Of beauty Noyes said that it has decayed during our time into ugliness, obscurity, lawlessness.

The eminent poet paid this college a great tribute when he said: "Santa Barbara College presents possibilities of doing something which cannot be done in many other institutions—of sowing the seeds of a better order of things in art and literature."

Noyes will lecture in the auditorium each Tuesday evening from 8 to 9 p.m. Students of the college will be admitted free with student body cards and townspeople may attend by paying the college tuition fee of $6.50.

One unit of credit may be obtained by attending the course and registering for it with Dean William Ashworth, head of the English department.

Students Apply For Editorship

Applications for Handbook editor are now being accepted and should be turned in to George Bradvica, Student Body President, before next Thursday.

Phrateres Fete Women With Tea

Phrateres, non-sorority organization, held its annual formal tea for new women in the Associated Women's Lounge last Sunday.

In the reception line were Dean Helen E. Sweet, Mrs. George Dunderdale, Mary Ann Zajec, Janet Paul, Betty Hoeck, Sally Dunlap, Dolly Geissler, Joyce Moore, Dorothy Dickie, and Marge Higley. Miss Marian Hammond, Dr. Mary Erickson, Jean Gier, and Miss Esther Firth, sponsors, poured.

Committee in charge of arrangements was as follows: Joyce Moore and Jean Rollins, invitations; Barbara Smith, refreshments; Tina Sanchez, decorations; Joyce Moore, serving; Janet Paul, table arranging; Jerry Rankins, publicity; and Marge Higley, clean-up. Sally Dunlap had charge of name tags.

Hostesses for the affair were two representatives from each of the six sub-chapters. The sub-chapters scrapbooks were displayed for the guests to see.

"You Can't Take It With You," annual summer session drama played a return engagement last Friday night in the college auditorium before a capacity crowd.

University Merger Swells Faculty Ranks For Year

Merging of the Santa Barbara State College with the University of California in July of this year, brought to this campus seven new faculty members, and made possible the return of five former teachers who have instructed here in past years.

The music department lost Maurice Faulkner to the Navy at the close of last semester, and in his place is Edwin Jones who will teach instrumental music. Jones comes from the University of Southern California and was formerly a member of the Indianapolis symphony for ten years. He is the author of several books on methods of string and other instruments.

Eleanor Morrissey, a graduate of this college, is replacing Ester Porter in handling the Alumni work and is instructing in the Art Department this semester. The Art Department also welcomes back Jacob Hansen who has been studying Fine Arts in the Claremont College.

Instructing in the English department is Dr. Joseph C. Matthews who has been teaching at the University of California at Berkeley and will now teach here at the Santa Barbara College.

Two new faculty members join the Home Economics department this semester, Miss Eileen Elliot and Mrs. Helen Young Nelson. Miss Elliot has been teaching in Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri, and will be in charge of the practice house for the Home Economics students. Mrs. Nelson has been doing graduate work at the University of Minnesota, and teaching throughout that state.

The Industrial Education department is happy to have Louie Taylor back who will resume his duties after an absence in war work.

The Visual Education department has a replacement in that Mrs. Genevieve Estes will take over the classes of Dana Barnes. Mrs. Estes was formerly with the Los Angeles City Schools.

Womens Physical Education department has Mrs. Rafaelle Van Curen, a new faculty member, who will assist with the Gym classes.

Dr. Berkeley Blake replaces Reverend Wilfred Orr in the Social Science Department, while Reverend Orr travels with the Navy as a Chaplain.

Bradvica Requests Student Applications

Applications are now being accepted for assembly chairman and for rally chairman. All those wishing to apply for either of these positions should hand in their applications to George Bradvica, student body president, before next Thursday.

Bradvica also asked for applications for a student at large to serve on the finance committee. These should be turned in to Eleanor O'Boyle, finance chairman, on or before next Thursday.

Men Students Vote For Officers Today In A.M.S. Election

Members of the Associated Men Students will choose officers for this year in a special election on both campuses today.

Running unopposed for the Presidency is Hartford Archibald, senior student and former junior class council representative. Archibald served as an A.M.S. officer and committeeman for various social events last year. This semester, the A.M.S. welcome picnic at Camp Conestoga was staged under his direction.

A close race is expected as Tom Burt and Gordon Griffiths compete for the office of vice-president. Both are sophomores and lettermen from last year's college softball team. Burt was recently appointed men's physical education department representative to the Board of Athletic Control, while Griffiths is serving this year as President of the Soph class.

Sole candidate to file a petition for the office of secretary-treasurer was Ray Pusseger, industrial education major who has been active in A.M.S. affairs during the past year.

Ballot boxes will be located in the Associated Students office on the Riviera campus and in the entry hall of the Mesa campus and will be open for voting between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. today. Only those men holding A.M.S. cards will be allowed to vote.

In view of the small number of candidates, petitions have been accepted later than the original deadline of Tuesday noon. Names of additional candidates will be posted at polling stations for the consideration of men voting, according to Willard May, A. S. vice-president in charge of the election.

Women Dance At Biltmore Twice Monthly

Helen E. Sweet, dean of women, yesterday announced that women of Santa Barbara College will be asked to serve as dance hostesses twice monthly at the Biltmore hotel Army Redistribution center.

Invitation to the Santa Barbara coeds was extended through the American Red Cross. Dances will be held on alternate Saturday evenings.

Dean Sweet emphasized the fact that before women may be eligible to attend these Red Cross sponsored affairs they must clear through her office by filling out the proper forms.

Forms to be filled out and turned in to Dean Sweet include a slip giving parent's permission, a second which obligates the woman to abide by Santa Barbara College standards of conduct and a third required by the Red Cross which asks that the coed recognize Red Cross regulations.

Each woman who plans on attending one of these affairs during the semester will be classed as a dance hostess and she must confer with Dean Sweet before attending the dance.

Forms and appointments for conferences should be obtained immediately from Dean Sweet.

Education Plays Vital Part In Rehabilitation Program

Now that we are an integral part of the University of California it is important that we do justice to an institution that has an enviable nation-wide reputation. In war-time it is a privilege to even attend college, and those who do so should be willing to realize their responsibilities to a society that demands ever higher standards of education. After the war it will be those who have prepared themselves for a more complex social system who will be the leaders in all fields.

Education will be vital, not only in the United States, but particularly in Europe where for almost five years all education, except in Russia, has been for totalitarianism. Education is the method by which a civilization, or way of life, is perpetuated, and there is an entire generation in Germany that has learned nothing but fascism. This can be eradicated only by teaching them democracy, not just by forcing them to have a method of government more acceptable than facism. Forcing a people to think in a particular way can lead only to revolution on a world-wide scale.

We are very fortunate in this country in that our schools, in spite of shortages of personnel, have still managed to keep a high level of learning. However, even here we need more well-trained educators to take their place in a world that is going to demand skill and training above all else.

In our hands, as prospective teachers, lies the future of the world. We must realize the importance of this responsibility and accept it. The influence of teachers upon their pupils should never be minimized. That is why they should always remember that their behavior and attitudes are used as examples, irregardless of the way pupils may apparently react. There are many problems facing the next generation, and it is up to us to help these young people solve them. This is a great responsibility, but in planning to be teachers we have taken the obligation as part of our job.

We are proud to be Santa Barbara College, University of California, and we want the university to be proud of us, as students and as graduates.—B.O.

Pasatiempo

By the EDITOR

The most appropriate way we can think of to begin this column is by saying "Hello There" to all of you, be you humble Frosh or sober seniors. Not since pre-war days have we seen such friendliness and enthusiasm around the campus as has been cropping out these past two weeks.

You freshmen are getting a taste of the way "things used to be" when Santa Barbara College was running on all twelve cylinders with a peak enrollment of 1800. The sophs are laying the law down and you frosh are behaving as other frosh before you behaved—with plenty of spirit and enthusiasm!

This fall things everywhere seem to be on the up grade—not only locally but internationally.

Here at home we have become a part of the University of California and in honor of the occasion El Gaucho sports a brand new mast-head.

We like it and we hope that you like it too. We like the new name which tops it, University of California, Santa Barbara College, and we like the two small pictures on either side of the Riviera and the Mesa campuses. This picture duo symbolizes the unity of the college with its campuses miles apart from the standpoint of distance yet an integrated whole when it comes to activities and college spirit.

For their fine work on the mast-head we wish to thank Harold Martin, graduate manager, and Shirley Putnam who did the lettering. It's truly a fine job.

We hope that all of you are planning to take advantage of the opportunity offered us to hear Dr. Noyes' lecture each Tuesday evening. To have such an eminent man of letters as Dr. Noyes as a member of the faculty speaks highly for this institution and we are sure that you will want to attend his lectures whenever possible. This is something extraordinary in the history of Santa Barbara College. We've had many brilliant scholars here at one time or another but few with Noyes' background and popularity as a contemporary poet.

As a final word we'll let you in on a little secret. Pasatiempo if it were literally translated into English would come out "pastime" and as such seems a good name for this column. In it we'll probably mention everything under the sun at one time or another as Pasatiempo. Now we write Adios!

Message From The Provost

This is an interesting situation. You are here under new auspices, registered in a college of the University of California. It is important for each and every one to react in the best tradition of his educational capacity to make this the best year which the college has experienced.

Much will be expected of all of you in this war period—more than in ordinary times—and some of your normal pleasures may be curtailed. But this is a good time for effective work, and world conditions present materials for analysis from which revisions of ways of living and, it is hoped, improvements may be made.

There is much of friendliness and good will about this institution. It lies near enough to the surface so that only a little effort is necessary to uncover it. It is fortunate that such treasure is within your reach.

May you make the most of your opportunities.

C. L. PHELPS, Provost.

Faculty Activities in Resume Indicate Great Variety

By INEZ BLAKE, El Gaucho Feature Editor

While we students hugged our fireplaces this summer in an effort to forget the long, cold foggy Santa Barbara days, our always active and full-of-ideas faculty ran the gamut from baby having to apricot picking. Dr. and Mrs. Harry Girvetz increased the population of Santa Barbara by one boy, Jon, their second child, and Miss Gladys Van Fossen picked the apricots.

To quote one of our better known members of the faculty, and you guess who after you hear what she said. . . "Our summer activities started off with a bang with a faculty supper sponsored by the wives. I can't remember what we ate or what we did, but it was wonderful!"

Report from Washington. . . Assistant Dean Ester J. Porter swelters in District of Columbia heat wave. It is said that Mrs. Porter longs for some of our balmy Santa Barbara weather. It is said also that she and Lt. Jack are entertaining Navy notables at their home in Arlington, Va.

Quick glances . . . Miss Elizabeth Sehon attended Mills College this summer where she took a class in Mandarin language and Chinese history, and she has now accomplished the amazing feat of writing her name in Chinese. . . Lt. Maurice Faulkner said goodbye to Santa Barbara College this summer before entering the Navy. . . Dr. Alma Beaver taught at the University of California in Berkeley. . . Miss Elsie Pond taught at the University of Nevada in Reno, and Miss Florence Spike in Oregon.

Dr. Jeanette Noack spent her summer in the Huntington Library, Pasadena, doing research work for the book she plans to write about medicine during the Elizabethan Period.

Then there's always Dr. Van A. Christy who was in his glory during the student-faculty twilight sings in the Quad . . . those who saw him need no description.

Every now and then the sun would creep through the clouds this summer and some of us would summon enough of what it takes to think about a swim, leave our firesides, drag ourselves to the beach and down to the water for a little toe-wetting ceremony . . . there would come a streak, a splash and a great big loud, "Come on in, the water's wonderful!" Dr. William Ellison, of course. . .

Las Espuelas Warn Frosh to Obey Sophs

According to Harris Seed, Freshman Class President, a lot of fun is going to be in store this semester for freshmen. The newly elected officers are already busy planning activities. At their first meeting plans were discussed for a rally to be held in the near future.

Las Espuelas, Honorary Sophomore Women's Club in charge of hazing, has formulated the following plans for seeing that Freshman women are acquainted with the proper campus spirit and tradition, according to Patsy Hewlett, member of the group.

If you are requested to wear a bow in front of your pompadour, sing the Alma Mater, stay out of the Quad, goose-step, or perform any small service for the Sophs, do it with a smile. Or else! . . . your name may be turned over to the Kangaroo Court, your lipstick removed, you may be carrying the contents of your purses in a glass jar, or some other penalty may be imposed on you, a poor ignorant

Freshman, by an intellectual and important Soph.

Las Espuelas are planning an initiation for Freshman women, to be held Friday, Oct. 13.

Woodhouse Outlines Student Rehabilitation Programs

C. Douglas Woodhouse, dean of men, yesterday stated that there are four programs for student aid in effect at this college. Three are available to discharged members of the armed forces and one is for civilians with physical handicaps.

Students who believe they are eligible to receive benefits from one of these plans should contact Woodhouse immediately.

Federal Educational Rehabilitation program: under this a veteran must have a ten per cent service disability and must have served subsequent to September 16, 1940.

The program will continue for six years after the war and will provide a maximum college training of four years. Under this plan the government pays tuition, books, equipment and $92 per month if the man is single, $105 for a married man plus $5 for each child. This program is in charge of the Veteran's Administration, Los Angeles 25, California.

Servicemen's Readjustment act of 1944: this program is known as the G.I. bill of rights. Under this plan the applicant must have served 90 days subsequent to September 16, 1944.

It provides that any eligible person is entitled to one year of education and upon satisfactory completion of this may obtain subsequent education equivalent to his period of active military service. Government pays tuition, books and supplies plus $50 a month for single men and $75 per month for married men. This service is also administered by the Veteran's administration.

California Veteran's Educational Institute: This program requires that the applicant must be a resident of California at the time of enlistment and must have served a minimum of 90 days subsequent to December 7, 1941.

The plan provides tuition, books, supplies and a monthly allowance of $40. Under this plan no individual may receive more than $1000.

Applications should be addressed to the Veteran's Welfare Board, 110 California State building, Los Angeles.

Last of the four plans is the State Board of Education Rehabilitation Program for civilians with a physical handicap. It provides tuition and expenses.

Woodhouse pointed out that all plans require the applicant to conform to the standards and requirements of the university or college in which he is enrolled. Failure to do so will cause loss of benefits and dismissal from the institution.

Athletic Board O.K.s Sports Program

Assuring men of the college a program of athletics this year, members of the board of Athletic Control met Monday morning to approve a budget for the resumption of basketball on the Gauchos campus.

Inasmuch as the college is now in possession of all equipment necessary for a full season, sole appropriation granted Monday consisted of $40.00, to be used as entry fee in the municipal league to begin in December.

According to Coach Terry Dearborn and Tom Burt, members of the Board, additional funds may be granted for games away from home later in the season. Such an appropriation, however, will depend upon early showings made by the team.

Red Cross Director Speaks Tuesday At A.W.S. Assembly

Frances Slater, Red Cross Recreation director for this area, described conditions under which the organization is working as a "security" plan, at the A.W.S. assembly Tuesday, fourth hour.

Two vocal selections were presented by Helen Carroll, New York soprano on vacation. Lloyd Browning, music instructor, acted as accompanist.

"Our Solid Front," suggesting plans for housing, social responsibilities, and participation in scholastic and extracurricular activities, was the topic discussed by Dr. Helen E. Sweet, dean of women. Standards which college women are expected to live up to, keynoted the talk.

A plan for individual counselling for women is to be put into effect in the near future. Applications for dance hostesses will be taken and instruction on how to carry out duties on a military basis will be given.

Miller Announces Lost and Found Department Here

Mrs. Mamie Miller, switchboard operator in the Provost's office, announced yesterday that many articles lost on campus have been turned in to her.

Mrs. Miller has charge of the campus lost and found department and articles lost or found by students should be placed in her office.

Students losing articles are required to describe their loss accurately and if Mrs. Miller is unable to locate the article, the owner is advised to put up a note on the bulletin board.

Departments Meet Fourth Hour Tues.

Department meetings will be held next Tuesday, fourth hour, in various parts of the campus.

Art department will meet in room 55; elementary education, room 90; home economics, room 80; and industrial education in the mesa campus auditorium.

Other departments scheduled to meet are the music department, room 61; women's physical education, room 92; science, room 93; and speech, room 28.

Registration Reaches Peak

Enrollment at Santa Barbara College, University of California, this week reached 1,282 as compared with 850 students who registered last fall.

The armed services still keep down the number of men enrolled in college to the very minimum. Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar, stated that there were 101 men this fall to 765 women which indicates that the fairer sex still greatly outnumbers the men. In addition to these 866 regular students there are 416 limited students registered.

Mrs. Abraham stated that prior to the war enrollment at the college soared to 2300 but immediately after Pearl Harbor dropped to 1800. "Although the war is not yet over, our enrollment this fall indicates that registration may be expected to increase as the international picture improves," the registrar concluded.

Mitchell Slates Speech Contest

Dr. Albert O. Mitchell, speech department head, yesterday announced an impromptu freshmen speech contest which will be held in the A.W.S. clubroom on October 10.

Any regularly enrolled student interested in extra-curricular speech activity is eligible to enter, Dr. Mitchell announced, adding that especially welcome will be those who have had little or no experience in any type of public speaking.

Freshmen interested in entering the event should contact Marian Hammond or Dr. Mitchell as soon as possible.

BASKETBALL TEAM WARMS UP FOR FIRST MUNICIPAL GAME

Following approval of a limited athletic program by the Board of Athletic Control, practice suits were issued Monday afternoon to thirteen men answering Coach Terry Dearborn's call for basketball players.

At present, the squad is assured only of competition in the Santa Barbara municipal league, scheduled to begin in December, and against service teams from the local area. This should provide an acting schedule, but it is emphasized that a better-than-average showing by the Gauchos in early games may make possible an enlarged schedule including games away from home and against inter-collegiate competition, if such is available.

Shining brightest in practice sessions this week were Fernando Rodriguez and Fred Burroughs, forwards, Jim Zastro, center, and Lowell Williams, guard.

Rodriguez, former Santa Barbara high school player who also performed for Idaho College, may bolster the local outfit with his speed, floorwork, and a masterful one-hand push shot. Burroughs, a Marine Sergeant, formerly played for West Michigan College and plays a good backboard game. Zastro, former All-Valley League player from Van Nuys high school, adds needed height and generalship to the squad. Zastro has also had experience on three UCLA teams. Williams, with less experience than many of the candidates, makes up for this through his speed and aggressiveness.

Others fighting for team spots include Hartford Archibald, three-year letterman from Taft; Tom Burt, with two years experience at Fairfax High School; Jim Gefakys, two-year letterman from Portsmouth, New Jersey, high school and former Army player; Bill Flynn, one-year letterman from Santa Ynez high school; Gerald Cocks, Tito Gorrindo, Harris Seed, Don Crinklaw, Sam Hixon, Bob Elliot, and Fred Burroughs of the Marine Base.

According to Coach Dearborn, practice sessions will be held, at present, Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 3 in the college gym, with additional evening practice later. Other basketball players will be welcomed and applications will be accepted for the position of team manager.

Faculty Honors Frosh at Picnic

Annual Freshmen welcoming picnic, sponsored by members of the faculty, was held last Friday afternoon at Oak Park at 4:30. Students furnished their own main course for dinner and the faculty members added dessert, which included pies, cakes, ice cream and coffee.

Miss Frances M. Spike was in charge of the food, and Miss Gladys Van Fossen, Miss Florence Clark, Miss Marian Hammond, Mr. Lawrence Chenoweth, and Mr. C. Douglas Woodhouse prepared it. They were assisted by George Bradvica and four other men students.

Preceding dinner, games were played under the direction of Dr. Elmer Noble. Following dinner, everyone participated in square dancing, which was in charge of Mrs. Marian Anderson. At eight o'clock, students and faculty adjourned to the college auditorium to attend the performance of "You Can't Take It With You," directed by Dr. Albert O. Mitchell of the Speech Department.

Members of the faculty on hand to welcome the students, including those already mentioned were: Dean Helen E. Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abraham, Miss Elsie Pond, Mrs. George Dunderdale, Miss Elizabeth Sehon, Dr. and Mrs. Bickerdike and son Peter, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Chenoweth, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Durlinger and family, Dr. William Ellison, Mrs. Emma Lou Eppel, Dr. Mary Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. George Geib, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griffin, Dr. Alma Beaver, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Dr. Katherine Muller, and Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Noble and family.

The fall semester of Santa Barbara College opens with pride and joy as many new and eager faces take on the traditional lost look that becomes standard equipment with all new students.

As the semester opens, so we open this column with great joy but little pride and remind you that bouquets will be gratefully accepted, but please, no brick-bats.

The faculty picnic found almost the entire student body membership romping over the Oak Park picnic grounds, swinging and missing in a fast game of softball, getting mighty dirty on the volleyball court, and just having a darn good time. We couldn't help but notice JEAN AUSMAN bringing a whole quart of milk to entice those that were lucky enough to sit by her when the dinner bell rang. Nor could we miss the stellar accomplishments of JIMMY ZASTRO who held up the weaker ends of the softball and football games, and both at the same time, too.

The Navy showed their colors on campus the other day in the form of ENSIGN FRANCES BOYNTON who took a few days off from her position in Seattle, Washington, to come back to the old Alma Mater. ENSIGN PAUL SHIPLEY was here also to look over the campus and renew old acquaintances, as was JOHNNY COSTAS, Chief Athletic Specialist in the Navy and former Gaucho football star.

Off the record, we'd like to make the suggestion that LOWELL WILLIAMS try using the front door when entering the Pedregosa homestead in the evenings. It is definitely the easiest way to get in. Might we add too that BILLIE BOWIE restrict her E.C.E. games to anyone but the Marine Corps.

Sophomores, in general, are completely up in arms over the freshman raid on their territory, and we mention that the ringleader is still at large.

At this point, we become a bit nostalgic and wonder if you miss as much as we do:

- *SHERRY LYEN and DOODY MARTINSON, who have chosen U.C. L.A. as their new Alma Mater.
- *BETTY SHERIDAN and CONNIE ACKERSON, who are working here in Santa Barbara.
- *JEAN CASEY, who is working in Los Angeles.
- *ELAINE STOAKES STONEBREAKER, who is "housewiving" here in town.
- *DOROTHY KENISTON and EMILY JOOST who are teaching in Oildale and Delano, respectively.

Phrateres Slate Mixer Party

The annual Phrateres "get acquainted" party will be held next Wednesday evening in the Music building at 7 p.m., in the form of a "ki-yi-pee, get along little doggies" wild west affair. All old and new Phrateres members are urged to attend, attired in their best cow-hand style—boots and spurs, sun-bonnets and straw hats being in order for the evening. Prizes will be given for the best and most original costumes.

"Swing your partner" and "Do-si-do" will ring out while guests join in some old fashioned square dances, and everyone will have a chance to try his luck at various games of "skill," such as roulette.

Mary Ann Zajec, Phrateres president, and members of the Phrateres board are in charge of the arrangements for the party.

Members of the board include the following: Barbara Schmidt, vice-president; Peggy Maybee, secretary; Tina Sanchez, treasurer; Margie Higley, social chairman; Jerry Rankins, publicity; Joyce Moore, historian; Jean Rollins, free lance representative; and the presidents of the Phrateres sub-chapters: Janet Paul, president, Nani Leilani; Dorothy Dickie, president, Tous Les Temps; Joyce Moore, president, Las Meninas; Betty Hoeck, president, Pu Ko How; Dolly Geisler, president, S.F.S.; and Sally Dunlap, president, Gnomes.

Sponsor of all Phrateres is Mrs. G. T. Dunderdale.

Next big Phrateres event will be the formal initiation to be held on October 1. Any girl desiring to become a member of the Phrateres organization may join by signing in the office of the Dean of Women.

Council Leaders Call For Applications To Fill Vacancies

Taking steps to relieve the shortage of manpower in student body offices, members of the Legislative council held their first official on-campus meeting of the semester last Wednesday evening in room 80, Pine hall.

George Bradvica, A. S. President, announced that applications will be accepted from the entire student body for the positions of rally chairman, assembly chairman, handbook editor, and member-at-large to serve on the finance committee. At the same time, he revealed the appointment of Tom Burt as men's physical education department representative to the Board of Athletic Control.

In an effort to ease some of the burden placed upon department and organization heads during the final weeks of the year, Syd Hatchison was named chairman of a coordinating committee to secure and present to the council names of prospective award winners.

Members of the council approved a suggestion that regular meetings of the group be held on alternate Thursdays at 8 p.m. in room 80, Pine hall.

On Friday evening, September 8, Provost Clarence L. Phelps appeared as honored guest of student council members at a dinner meeting held in the banquet room of the Hotel Lobero. Following introductions of members of the group, Phelps outlined post-war building plans for Santa Barbara College and discussed informally this institution's responsibilities to the University of California.

At this meeting, Willard May was named chairman of a committee to review and suggest revisions in the existing college constitution. Assisting on this committee are Eleanor O'Boyle, Art Porter, Marian Agamalian, Dr. Hazel Severy, and Harold Martin. A special student body meeting will be scheduled in the near future at which time members of the Associated Students will discuss suggested revisions.

Kangaroo Court Tortures Frosh in Quad Ceremony

At the sound of a trumpet and the screech of brakes, Kangaroo Court opened its traditional fall session Wednesday noon. As the chief justice rolled out of a rug, the stentorian voice of the court clerk resounded through the quad that the court was in session. After the usual preliminary verbal explosions, the first prisoners were brought before the bar, and asked to account for the fact that they were freshmen.

Kangaroo Court has been a tradition at Santa Barbara College for a number of years. Its policy is to first herd in all the unsuspecting and green freshmen and ask questions later.

Any freshman who appeared on the campus as of last Wednesday was better off dead. If the unsuspecting freshman was unfortunate enough to have three black marks against him in the court book, he might as well have committed Harkari and saved himself some pain.

The judges were green eyed monsters with long hair and sharp claws, and woe unto the freshmen who fell into their clutches. The bailiff was found lurking behind pillars, waiting to snatch any green pea who was brave enough to appear on campus.

A frosh man could be detected across campus by—Halitosis we called it, they called it onions. The frosh women ran Veronica Lake competition with their untidy and bobby pinless hair.

After several freshmen were carried away with puckered lips and an upperclassman blushed his way from the stand, the court was adjourned with the Alma Mater being led by the lowest thing on earth—a freshman.

Those who dealt out the sentences were Bill Lawrence, chief justice; Gordon Griffiths, bailiff; Judy Bruningand and Johnny Johnston, associates; Tom Burt, chief clerk.

And so the court that made the frosh rue the day they were ever born adjourned until a later session which is scheduled to be held in a few weeks.—S.S.
