The Writing on the Walk

Four curious students stop to read the chalked demands of the student fasters and hunger strikers, now on their fourth day of not eating in support of increased ethnic and racial diversity on campus and the elimination of institutional racism at UCSB.

Student: “The President’s Finance committee has been working independently to improve A.S. finances. The Business Services committee oversees Notetaking (See AUDIT, p.5.)

Strong Activity by Greeks in Council

In the UCSB student community — whether fairly or unfairly — members of the greek system have been widely characterized as an island of conservatism in an ocean of liberalism.

In last November's campaign race, for example, conservative Congressman Robert Leggett-simo (R-Ventura) neglected the greater UCSB student body, making no major campaign stops at the university. But both he and State Senator Pete Wilson (R-California) made their only bids for UCSB student votes before a partisan crowd at a fraternity house in Isla Vista.

Some say that a conservative bent fueled by members of the greek system has also manifested itself in the current undergraduate student government. Seven of 20 voting members on the 1986-89 UCSB Associated Students Legislative Council are greeks, representing a power block of the body’s power. This is disproportionate to the approximately 12 percent UCSB greek undergraduate population.

Members of the current and past councils say that the increased representation of greeks on Leg Council has played a significant role in changing the political balance of the body this year. But greeks on Leg Council argue that they vote as individuals, conservative or otherwise, regardless of their affiliation with the greek system.

Former A.S. President Ken Greenstein, who presided over Leg Council in 1985 while simultaneously serving as Zeta Beta Tau chapter president, has been particularly critical of Leg Council this year. Currently residing in Santa Barbara, Greenstein contends that Leg Council is the most conservative in more than six years, but does not single out greeks as the cause.

"The greeks are more conservative in general than your average student," Greenstein said, but added that during his own term
Peace at Imperial Funeral

Students Battle Riot Police, Japan, World Bid Farewell

Bum Effigy of George Bush

establishing full diplomatic relations with Israel, using its State James A. Baker III suggested the Soviets should Herzog and Jordan's King Hussein.

President Hosni Murbarak, Israeli President Chaim 40 minutes in front of the Seoul school. They also burned an Bush engaged in a round of fast-paced diplomacy, meeting for the outcome before taking any action in cases where members have been charged in court.

Army Misses Recruitment Goal for 1st Time in 8 Years

WASHINGTON — Army recruiters last failed for the first time in eight years to meet their enlistment quotas, and the other three services are showing similar signs of distress, the Pentagon said Thursday. The Defense Department, in releasing figures for the October, December, and February of this year, said its top manpower of official as saying the shortfall, if it persisted, could jeopardize one of the Pentagon's biggest success stories of recent years.

"We need to act now to head off future recruiting problems," said Grant S. Green Jr., the assistant defense secretary for force management and personnel.

Contra Leader Discusses Money Given North at Trial

WASHINGTON — Nicaraguan rebel leader Adolfo Calero testified Thursday in Oliver North's criminal trial that he hadn't expected North to make personal use of any of the $9,990 Calero gave him to help free hostages in Lebanon. "I had absolute trust in what Colonel North was doing, so I was not intent in demanding an accounting" for the money, Calero said.

Prosecutor John Keker asked Calero if he expected North, who is charged with taking $4,300 of the money, to spend any of it on himself. Calero, one of the top leaders of the Nicaraguan rebels, known as contras, testified that he gave North the funds in traveler's checks.

Number of Asylum Seekers Declines Under New Rules

BAYVIEW, Texas — The number of Central Americans seeking political asylum declined again Thursday under new immigration rules that place most of them in jail.

Critics of the Immigration and Naturalization Service's Rio Grande policy said refugees would just be driven to other border crossing points or go underground. Only eight applicants were processed Thursday morning, compared to some 50 Wednesday and 233 Tuesday, the day the tougher rules went into effect.

Of all those apprehended, none had been granted asylum by Thursday and the rest were put in barracks at the INS Port Isabel Service Processing Center here, 15 miles from Brownsville.

Jewelel Reacts to Discovery of Money Laundering Plan

WASHINGTON — Jewelers reacted to the discovery of a $1 billion cocaine money-laundering network woven through jewelry stores around the world. It was undertaken in the United States.

"I had absolute trust in what Colonel North was doing, so I was not intent in demanding an accounting" for the money, Calero said.

News presented in this document was captured by Natural Language Technology (NLT) and is not associated with the original publication. The information is represented in a natural language format to facilitate easier understanding and analysis. It involves current events, political developments, and significant historical narratives. The NLT technology synthesizes snippets from various sources to provide a comprehensive, yet concise, representation of the content. The text is presented in markdown format for clear readability and ease of interpretation.
Leg Council Supports Hunger Strike

By Kim Kash
Staff Writer

Tenion was high at last night’s four-hour Associated Students Legislative Council meeting where a bill was passed declaring support for the proposed strike strategy. Sojo said the strikers are making this a "life and death situation, which it’s not."

Concern for the welfare of the fasting was expressed by several members of council. Lauterbach said he wondered if the university could help anyone if anyone were hurt during the strike. Lauterbach said radical behavior serves to discredit the movement. "I support the demands, every last one of them," he said, however, he illustrated how isolated demonstrations stifle the attention from the issue.

"When I go home, my neighbors ask me if I protest because ‘like everybody else at Santa Barbara does, if I sit in the chancellor’s office naked.’"

Many council members disagreed. "The reason they took this to an extreme is because an extreme was needed," Off-campus Rep Lisa Gillespie said. "They’ve tried lobbying, they’ve tried letter-writing, they’ve tried all the small things ... and nothing has worked," she continued.

Concern for the welfare of the fasting was expressed by several members of council. Lauterbach said he wondered if the university could help anyone if anyone were hurt during the strike. Lauterbach said radical behavior serves to discredit the movement. "I support the demands, every last one of them," he said, however, he illustrated how isolated demonstrations stifle the attention from the issue.

"When I go home, my neighbors ask me if I protest because ‘like everybody else at Santa Barbara does, if I sit in the chancellor’s office naked.’"

Many council members disagreed. "The reason they took this to an extreme is because an extreme was needed," Off-campus Rep Lisa Gillespie said. "They’ve tried lobbying, they’ve tried letter-writing, they’ve tried all the small things ... and nothing has worked," she continued.

Concern for the welfare of the fasting was expressed by several members of council. Lauterbach said he wondered if the university could help anyone if anyone were hurt during the strike. Lauterbach said radical behavior serves to discredit the movement. "I support the demands, every last one of them," he said, however, he illustrated how isolated demonstrations stifle the attention from the issue.

"When I go home, my neighbors ask me if I protest because ‘like everybody else at Santa Barbara does, if I sit in the chancellor’s office naked.’"

Many council members disagreed. "The reason they took this to an extreme is because an extreme was needed," Off-campus Rep Lisa Gillespie said. "They’ve tried lobbying, they’ve tried letter-writing, they’ve tried all the small things ... and nothing has worked," she continued.

Concern for the welfare of the fasting was expressed by several members of council. Lauterbach said he wondered if the university could help anyone if anyone were hurt during the strike. Lauterbach said radical behavior serves to discredit the movement. "I support the demands, every last one of them," he said, however, he illustrated how isolated demonstrations stifle the attention from the issue.

"When I go home, my neighbors ask me if I protest because ‘like everybody else at Santa Barbara does, if I sit in the chancellor’s office naked.’"

Many council members disagreed. "The reason they took this to an extreme is because an extreme was needed," Off-campus Rep Lisa Gillespie said. "They’ve tried lobbying, they’ve tried letter-writing, they’ve tried all the small things ... and nothing has worked," she continued.

Concern for the welfare of the fasting was expressed by several members of council. Lauterbach said he wondered if the university could help anyone if anyone were hurt during the strike. Lauterbach said radical behavior serves to discredit the movement. "I support the demands, every last one of them," he said, however, he illustrated how isolated demonstrations stifle the attention from the issue.

"When I go home, my neighbors ask me if I protest because ‘like everybody else at Santa Barbara does, if I sit in the chancellor’s office naked.’"

Many council members disagreed. "The reason they took this to an extreme is because an extreme was needed," Off-campus Rep Lisa Gillespie said. "They’ve tried lobbying, they’ve tried letter-writing, they’ve tried all the small things ... and nothing has worked," she continued.

Concern for the welfare of the fasting was expressed by several members of council. Lauterbach said he wondered if the university could help anyone if anyone were hurt during the strike. Lauterbach said radical behavior serves to discredit the movement. "I support the demands, every last one of them," he said, however, he illustrated how isolated demonstrations stifle the attention from the issue.

"When I go home, my neighbors ask me if I protest because ‘like everybody else at Santa Barbara does, if I sit in the chancellor’s office naked.’"

Many council members disagreed. "The reason they took this to an extreme is because an extreme was needed," Off-campus Rep Lisa Gillespie said. "They’ve tried lobbying, they’ve tried letter-writing, they’ve tried all the small things ... and nothing has worked," she continued.
War, according to UCSB sociology department chair at the time and Professor Thomas Scheff, who was their country’s involvement in the Vietnam his appeal of the decision to the Academic announcement of the non-renewal of Allen’s contract, and a petition with 7,776 signatures of the university’s faculty, Allen was once gave all A’s to his American Indian compatriot, according to the ecology group had fought the bank, police’s routine arrests of people for what was to be possibly the most infamous dead, I believe in acid, I believe in freedom. use phrases like ‘I believe in the (Grateful) Dead, I believe in acid, I believe in freedom. But I don’t know politics. ‘They didn’t have bad politics, they didn’t have good politics but they really felt a strong cultural commit­ment. Like, ‘I believe in this culture, this protest culture so I’m a protester.’” Wallace believes that groups such as these created a permanent climate of protest and rioting each for their own reason. ‘It was a bunch of vectors of people doing things that everyone felt they were in concert with the system,” said, adding that their feelings of frustration and alienation were fed by the police’s routine arrests of people for what were considered to be victimless crimes. UCSB’s students and administration had also become increasingly irritated during the late 1960s and early ’70s. ‘Stirring up’ such issues as minority student and faculty recruitment. But perhaps most significant as a cause of tension was the non-renewal of Wallace’s students and administration had also become increasingly irritated during the late 1960s and early ’70s. ‘Stirring up’ such issues as minority student and faculty recruitment. But perhaps most significant as a cause of tension was the non-renewal of Wallace’s contract for the 1970-71 year: One of the most outspoken of the university’s faculty. Allen was censured by Chancellor Vernon Choddle for advocating student strikes and using “vulgar” language when participating in campus rallies. His teaching methods were also viewed as rather unorthodox — saying that he did not believe in the “A-B-C” grading system. Allen once gave all A’s to his American Indian Student class which filled Campbell Hall. Student protests over the an­nouncement of the non-renewal of Allen’s contract, and a petition with 7,776 signatures was prepared demanding that the administration resolve the issue on the matter. Despite numerous on-campus protests involving thousands of people calling for his renewal, his heating was never granted and his contract was not renewed. William Kuntsler, the defense attorney for Allen, who was a vocal opponent of the U.S. in­volvement in the war...
WILEY: Measuring Progress of Racial Equality

(Continued from p.1)

graduated school at Penn­sylvania State University, where his main role was teaching economics. He was also very active in student affairs, serving as a member of the student government. During his time at Penn­sylvania State University, Wiley was involved in various activities and organizations, including the Black Student Union and the NAACP. He also served as a tutor and mentor to minority students enrolled in the UC system, Wiley believes progress is being made in terms of minority representation, but there is still much work to be done. He noted that minority faculty and minority administrators are increasingly being included in decision-making processes, although there is still room for improvement. Wiley emphasized the need for ongoing efforts to promote diversity and inclusion.

In addition, Wiley said he learned an important lesson in the Navy from two people who were long-term prisoners of war in Vietnam. "I don't know whether I could have endured what they did endure, and yet what they came back and taught me was that if you can endure, if you can stand up to whatever you do, if it's legal and moral and just ... you're probably going to always come out on top," he explained.

"But it's important to meet all three (criteria), because things can be very legal and at the same time very immoral. If you can meet all three of those, you're mostly going to be flying on the side of the angels."
Fraternities and sororities have been a staple of American collegiate life throughout this century. For some students, the Greek system sustains like an intravenous feeder, providing a social and career outlet both while in school and in the professional world. To others, Greek life is an irritating nuisance, perpetuating many societal ills that should be eliminated.

Whatever one's view, the facts remain: Going Greek in the 1980s has been popular at UCSB, and in the sheer numbers of fraternity and sorority members here, there exists a tremendous potential for growth and progress on leadership on campus and in Isla Vista.

Perhaps the most noticeable example of greeks asserting power is the current Associated Students Legislative Council, whose 20 voting members include seven members of the Greek community. The great influence greeks can have in the community is obvious. What is unclear — and of the greatest importance — is whether that opportunity can continue to improve the campus.

Doonesbury
BY GARRY TRUDEAU
Friday, February 24, 1989

Fraternities and sororities have been a staple of American collegiate life throughout this century. For some students, the Greek system sustains like an intravenous feeder, providing a social and career outlet both while in school and in the professional world. To others, Greek life is an irritating nuisance, perpetuating many societal ills that should be eliminated.

Whatever one's view, the facts remain: Going Greek in the 1980s has been popular at UCSB, and in the sheer numbers of fraternity and sorority members here, there exists a tremendous potential for growth and progress on leadership on campus and in Isla Vista.

Perhaps the most noticeable example of greeks asserting power is the current Associated Students Legislative Council, whose 20 voting members include seven members of the Greek community. The great influence greeks can have in the community is obvious. What is unclear — and of the greatest importance — is whether that opportunity can continue to improve the campus.

Doonesbury
BY GARRY TRUDEAU
Friday, February 24, 1989

Doonesbury
BY GARRY TRUDEAU
Friday, February 24, 1989

The proportion of the U.S. population that identifies as belonging to a racial or ethnic group has been increasing over the past several decades. According to the 2010 U.S. Census, 13.9% of the population identified as being of a race other than non-Hispanic White. This number has been steadily increasing, with the proportion of the population identifying as Hispanic or Latina/o increasing from 12.5% in 2000 to 16.3% in 2010. The proportion of the population identifying as Black or African American has also been increasing, from 12.2% in 2000 to 13.1% in 2010. Overall, the proportion of the population identifying as a member of a racial or ethnic group has been increasing, with the proportion of the population identifying as non-Hispanic White decreasing from 73.1% in 2000 to 69.1% in 2010.

The proportion of the population identifying as Hispanic or Latina/o has been increasing at a faster rate than the proportion identifying as Black or African American. This may be due to a number of factors, including increased immigration from Latin America and the Caribbean, as well as increased numbers of Black and African Americans identifying as Hispanic or Latina/o.

In addition to the proportion of the population identifying as non-Hispanic White decreasing, the proportion of the population identifying as non-Hispanic White, non-Latina/o has also been decreasing, from 61.6% in 2000 to 58.6% in 2010. This decrease may be due to a number of factors, including increased numbers of people identifying as Hispanic or Latina/o, as well as increased numbers of people identifying as Black or African American.

Overall, the proportion of the population identifying as a member of a racial or ethnic group has been increasing, with the proportion of the population identifying as non-Hispanic White decreasing. This may be due to a number of factors, including increased immigration from Latin America and the Caribbean, as well as increased numbers of Black and African Americans identifying as Hispanic or Latina/o, as well as increased numbers of people identifying as non-Hispanic White, non-Latina/o.
Major league baseball's spring training opened last week and baseball fans everywhere, like their players, are eager to get back to the green of the diamond. Sure, baseball's a stupid sport, but show me one sport that isn't.

In football, you give a guy an Austin Powers piece of leather and he'll fat guys jump on him. In basketball, guys show a round piece of leather through a steel hoop. Soccer? Let's see a bunch of dudes in shorts try to kick a ball into a giant big net without using their heads. No, I'll take baseball and a smaller net.

In baseball you try to hit a hard piece of leather where nobody is standing, then you run to a pilfered home plate. It's not that dumb, but millions and millions of people like to watch and play this sport.

Where I grew up, we played on the grass of a sad farm. Some farms around us grew wheat, some grew oats, but I recall that nobody ever managed to square 20 square feet of grass—ponto— they'd go to old man Mueller's sad farm. He'd take their money, tell his Mueller about it, they'd cut their strips of sod, roll them up, and load them into an awaiting pick-up truck.

Mueller didn't do much advertising, thank God, so usually they only cut off the outfield of our right field line. You'd think that Mr. Mueller'd get upset with 15 or so kids trampling through his well-groomed, grassy wonder? wouldn't? We did. But because the farm was so big, we could see him coming and we'd take off pretty quickly.

I don't remember ever talking with him for all I know the old man might have been wanting us to work on the farm. But you can bet that he was those nine years old.

We never had real bases; we usually used pieces of wood, big rocks, or the fat kids' hat. Important things like bats, balls and Kool-Aid were usually plentiful, though.

Last spring break, I had a girlfriend who was attending Cal State Northridge. I had two weeks of about two vacations awaiting me, thanks to falling on the "right" day. I had to be there to see any spring training games, and I really wanted to, so I suggested to my girlfriend that we go.

The first day we went to the park the "Idaho" hue; I never had sunburn before, but Arizona devirginized my innocent skin. The game was great, the men were awesome and the holes... well, you have ever had a bad hole at a bathroom?

After the game I was driving across the desert and the stars that night were simply magnificent. I drove all night and got a chance to see all of my passing me going about 80, and when I pulled to relieve myself of the Super Big Gulp I'd just consumed, I realized that I was days away from home because of a stupid game I used to play on a farm.

I was too old for that driving that I decided to start at the sky and mellow out. I was at the rear of the car, it was getting dark, the road was dark, everything was dark, the sun was setting behind me and the moon or maybe it was the stars. I looked at the stars and I saw nothing but darkness. There were no times there were cool. I saw two games there and at the second game I had a conversation with a retired couple from Canada.

The gentleman was eager to inform me of the cookies he had read about; meanwhile, his wife was taking meticulous score of the game. It was beautiful.

He said that they followed baseball via satellite dish.

Near the end of the game I asked him if he had any friends that he was planning on visiting in Arizona. He told me that they had rented a 37-foot RV in Canada so they could drive down to spring training and see two weeks of games. He said they didn't know anyone in Phoenix; they were there to see baseball.

I have a nice spring training.

Tony Pierce is a senior majoring in English.
STEVE CZABAN
Tark Towel Could Have Other Uses In Coaching

So that’s how they prepare Tark’s beloved refreshing drink. Folded into ice, dry one on top, suck till your thirst is refreshed. Ahh, reminds me of the hot summer days when I was young. Tark would fix lemonade towels for all my friends and myself after many hours in the sun. Sometimes if we were lucky, we’d get a towelful. Sometimes if we were lucky, we’d get a towelful to take home with us.

All these years, I thought the towel was just something easier to chew on than his assistants during tense moments. And when he rests it on his head, it’s not just because he’s sick of holding it, it’s because he needs to cool down his overheating think tank. Indeed, this is no ordinary towel the Gauchos will be up against Monday night in the Thunderdome; it’s a technologically perfected piece of equipment.

But the famous Tark towel has some history behind it that people may be unfamiliar with. Hard-core Vegas fans insist that it has its own “aura” or “magic,” if you will. I don’t know too much about towel divinity (I took that one pass/no pass), but whatever that rag has to it, it seems to be working pretty well. After all, Tarkanian is 7-13 (.344) with the trusty towel at his lips, so there may be some truth to the “magic towel” theory.

Stories that Tark got the towel when it was thrust from the depths of the Caesar’s Palace fountain by the Lady of the Lake (Excalibur-style) have been largely exaggerated, from, and how it got its qualities, is one which says it has its own “aura” or “magic,” if you will.

Yet a more popular tale says Tark got the towel when it was thrust from the depths of the Caesar’s Palace fountain by the Lady of the Lake (Excalibur-style) have been largely exaggerated, from, and how it got its qualities, is one which says it has its own “aura” or “magic,” if you will.

When UCSB junior outside hitter Scott Drake leaps to his game-high 15 rebounds.

SAVED, AGAIN
Outside Hitter Scott Drake Lay In His Hospital Bed, Reached Deep Inside and Renewed an Old Friendship

By Aaron Heifetz

When UCSB junior outside hitter Scott Drake leaps to his game-high 15 rebounds.

JOHNNY WAS GOOD, DAMN GOOD — Appalachian Johnny Roberson (32) scored a career-high 29 points in UCSB’s 82-81 upset of the Gauchos. Here he slaps underneath UCSB’s Eric McArthur to snag one of his game-high 15 rebounds.

Roberson, Joseph Lead Way For NMSU in 82-81 Shocker

By Scott Lawrence

With 12:36 left in UCSB’s 82-81 heartbeat loss to New Mexico State last night in the Thunderdome, NMSU’s Steve McGlashin (8 points, 1 rebound) fouled out. The crowd broke into song:

“Nah Nah Nah Nah, Hey Hey Hey — Goodbye!”

But the chant may as well have been coming from the NCAA Tournament Selection Committee. The Gauchos’ chance at making it back to the “Big Dance” bounced off the back of the rim with 08:02 showing on the clock, and then hit the front of the rim as time expired.

UCSB forward Eric McArthur (12 points, 14 rebounds) fouled NMSU’s Johnny Roberson with 35 seconds left to play and the Aggies up 81-79. Roberson, who had already made 9-12 free throws on the night, hit one of two, topping the lead to three, but Gauche Mike Elliot scored an easy lay-up from Carrick DeHart with 26 seconds left to bring UCSB to within one at 82-81.

NMSU’s Keith Hill missed a free throw, then Delfino put up a long, deep desperation 3-pointer, followed by Elliot’s miss in the waning moments.

“We had plenty of time and we end up taking a questionable outside shot,” Gauche Coach Jerry Pimm said. “When you’re only one down, you want to push the ball and get it inside to one of the guys who can draw a foul. That’s a chance right here in our own building to get the officials to make a call. We didn’t have any more timeouts, I couldn’t get the word to the guys.”

But the Gauchos got the message when they saw Roberson on the floor, gathering with other Aggies jumping, hugging and celebrating their outright possession of second place in the Big West (185-174 overall in handing UCSB its first loss of the season at home) and the strong possibility of their own NCAA Tourney appearance.

But was that on their minds coming in?

“Coming in, we were thinking to ourselves that this could be a great win for us, because it would give us that closer edge for an NCAA berth,” said Roberson, who put in game-high 15 rebounds and career-highs of 38 points (14-16 from the foul line) and 16 threes. “I think we did all we could, but what we were doing before we came out here and we just had to let it work for us.”

But what about the Gauchos, who have gone 74 since

Spartans End Losing Streak With UCSB’s Help, 63-61

Last night they were breaking out some aged champagne in San Jose.

The SJSU women’s basketball team has been waiting a long, long time for a win in a conference match-up. To be precise, the Lady Spartans have waited 144 games and 46 losses, so they are due.

The Lady Gauchos, who dropped a 14 point thumping at the hands of lowly UC Irvine, fell to SJSU 83-61 ending the Lady Spartans’ 46-game (not a misprint, forty-six) Big West losing streak.

Spartan Joanne Jordan travels to Fresno State for a game in the WIVA for the nation’s 4th-ranked Gauchos.

(See TOWEL, p.7)
THE SHACK AND THE MACK — Although UCSB’s Thunderdome (top) holds 12,500 less people than UNLV’s Thomas and Mack Center, decible levels in the ‘Dome can reach incredible heights.

Jerry Pimm uses a towel, but its applications have been very limited. Other than using it as a baton for players to pass to each other as they check in and out of the game, and for occasional wipe of the brow moments of futility, but a towel would add a nice touch. (Note: Probably wouldn’t get much use in the Thunderdome, but wouldn’t come in handy in Logan, Utah and Las Cruces, New Mexico.)

TOWEL

(Continued from p.8)

In fact, Tark’s use of a towel to satisfy his thirst without having to get up, is just one possible way towel technology could be used in the realm of basketball. The Bad Call Towel: Jerry Pimm uses a towel, but its applications have been very limited. Other than using it as a baton for players to pass to each other as they check in and out of the game, and for occasional wipe of the brow moments of futility, but a towel would add a nice touch. (Note: Probably wouldn’t get much use in the Thunderdome, but wouldn’t come in handy in Logan, Utah and Las Cruces, New Mexico.)

HYPE-WEEK TOP-10 LIST

Top-ten Jerry Tarkanian or Jerry Pimm pick-up lines:

8. "I’m the winningest active basketball coach. Wanna get a room?"
7. "I’ve got the key to the Thunderdome."
6. "You know, my forehead could use a good buffing."
5. "Wanna join the Gaucho Gang?"
4. "Arrest those Nexus Sports guys dorks!")
3. "Wanna bite my towel?"
2. "Wayne Newton? We’re buds!"
1. "I live on a yacht. I have a Corvette. I have a cellular phone. I am man."
Sluggers Can’t Get Going, Are Spanked by USC 11-2

After putting itself in a hole early once again, the UCSB baseball team (6-7) couldn’t dig its way out Wednesday at USC, as the seventh ranked Trojans (13-2) buried the Gauchos, 11-2.

"It was just the air about the day," UCSB Assistant Coach Bob Brostenow said. "We were listless. We couldn’t muster anything. It was like going uphill and in slow motion all day.

USC scored four runs in the first by way of four walks from Gaucho starter Dave Boss (2-2) and a pair of errors.

The Trojans pulled to within 5-2 in the third, but it was as close as it would get. Trojan base runners were able to steal at will (9-1) and second baseman Bret Boone (run of major league catcher Bob Boone) supplied the power at the plate with three hits including a two-run homer in the sixth.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92.

Slow is found in 10th in the nation on the p-bars with an average of 9.30 and 11th on the vault with a 9.38. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.

The Gauchos, with an average meet score of 261.03, are ranked fourth in the West behind UCLA, Arizona State and Stanford. Gauchoe captain David Snow is 15th in the nation among all-arounders with an average of 14.92. UCSB set season high scores in a duel meet at Arizona State and UCLA.
TYPING

SRA SAME DAY

SKYVIEW

LUXURY APARTS

SNOW - BOARDING EXIBITION

COMMON SENSE

Today at the LAMBDA CHI house 9-11 PM.

ALPHA CHI'S

We understand that you are young still, right? No worries! Just a stroll down downtown (with the POM on Friday and don't forget the auctions. Good luck & have fun! Take a friend with you.

PHI SIGMA PI

Good Luck At The KD Soccer Tourney

S.A.E.

Good Luck At The KD Soccer Tourney.

1 M Roommate Needed Now

In great dif 2ba has p/p, nr. amenities. Great location, nr. other conveniences. Call Nick 968-7486.

1 M Roommate Needed Now

In great dif 2ba has p/p, nr. amenities. Great location, nr. other conveniences. Call Nick 968-7486.

ALPHA PHIS

HAPPY HOUR

DU 90

Apex & Pikes

Pins & Popes! Watch and Snowball! We're doing the Hollywood

HOOTENanny! Get ready to RAGE!!!

The 8th Annual
Kappa Delta
SOCCER TOURNEY is here!

SAT 225

SUN 268

Good Luck

Special Welcome to Kappa Delta & Pikea

Congratulations to all Chapter Of­ficers! President.

Greek Light

FIELD GAMES

APPS

Defending Soccer Champions! Go PHI!!! FT. Sparming, 7:00pm. Meet at the LD.

ADVISORS

Lee & Deanne Jones

Boys & Girls of the Barstool Region

ROOFTOP

Business 7:30pm to 9:00pm

MURDER MYSTERY "MURDER ON THE MOUNTAIN"

Eleven top stylists from progressive salons in the U.S. will be demon­strating new, perm & thermal new styles. Call Today for Appt. 964-

New Styles at Low Prices

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA GRAN-

DEE!! Congratulations on winning Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year! You're so proud of you! Your Sisters.
"I was sitting there in my bed and 1 was thinking that night. I realized how fortunate I had been, how blessed I had been and how quickly it all could be taken away."

Scott Drake

---

Scott, who was injured in an accident on the central coast, is the son of Don and Mary Drake. The family had just moved to the area from Oregon.

---

Drake, who had been training for his junior year, took a leave of absence and went back to Fresno to await surgery. Drake, who had been training for his junior year, took a leave of absence and went back to Fresno to await surgery.

---

Doctors found what they thought was a tumor in another part of his body. Malignant or benign? They wouldn't know until they opened him up.---

---

But with the issue of money in the air, it's a question of whether Drake, who had been training for his junior year, took a leave of absence and went back to Fresno to await surgery, will be able to return to the team for the start of the '87 school year.

---

There for him throughout his ordeal was his family; mom Jan, dad John, brother Jon and sister Kimberly, who graduated from UCSB this month.

---

"Physically, I know I would be able to come back, that's not a matter of if. It's a matter of when. I'm not mentally, I didn't know if things would click or not. But I put it in God's hands and said, 'It's your will if I come back from this. That's my will.' I want to bring back the fire to this team."

---

"I've come to the realization that this is a pickin' game and those are the games that have to take precedence in my life and walking with Christ is number one on the list."