SPRING FOOTBALL TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK; LETTERMEN RETURN

Coach DeGroot To Teach Fundamentals of Game to Men in Spring Workout

Coach DeGroot and Captain Gates Foss will get a line on next season's football material when the men report for spring practice at the High school field next Monday.

At present indications point to a banner year in the grid sport with a wealth of experienced material on hand. Only two men will be lost to the squad, O'Reilly and Denno. The latter, however, may return. Some of the veterans who will again don the olive and white are Captain Foss, Clemore, Morehead, Curtis, and Brubaker in the backfield; Tad Foss, Williams, Donahue, and Martin, ends; Annin, Mead, Mabe, and Stauty, tackles; Feary, Larsen, Cravens, and Sheesley, guards, and Pollard and Vince, centers.

The spring practice session will be spent learning the fundamentals of the game, and working out formations.

Senior Class Wins Ticket Seller for Frolic; Vases Awarded to Class as Prize

Two large vases were awarded the Senior class last Friday night as winner of the ticket contest for the Interclass Frolic.

The classes selling the most tickets in proportion to their size ranged in the following order: Seniors, 2.4; Juniors, 2.26; Sophs., .75, and Frosh, .408. The Juniors sold the largest number of tickets, the Seniors being a close second, and the Sophomores and Freshmen far behind. Clifford Leedy had charge of the contest.

KAPPA DELTA PI INSTALLATION CEREMONIES TO BE HELD TODAY

Dr. Alfred Hall-Quest To Install Local Chapter of Honor Fraternity Today

Initiation ceremonies for the local Alpha Rho chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will take place at the music cottage at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Alfred Hall-Quest of New York, who is installing the local chapter, will conduct the affair.

A banquet at El Encanto at 7 o'clock that evening will follow the initiation. Mrs. Olive Johnston will be toastmistress. The program will include a welcome to Alpha Rho chapter by President Phelps, and answered by Joe Kellum. The next number will be "Good Things Come to Those Who Wait," by Miss Gange, followed by greetings from Iota chapter at Emporia, Kansas, by Leonard Bowman. The Rho chapter will send its greetings from Warrensburg, Missouri, through Taggart, and the program will be closed by an address by Dr. Alfred Hall-Quest, "Your Key—Its Privileges and Responsibilities."

President and Mrs. Phelps will give a reception at El Encanto hotel at 9 o'clock, to which they have invited the faculty of the college, the advisory board of the college, the city school principals and school board, and the educational committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee chairmen working on the invitations are Edris Nevins, decoration of music cottage; Ruth Doolittle, place cards; Edmund O'Reilly, arrangements, and E. Werner, program.

HARRIS ELECTED TO HEAD PEP COMMITTEE

Gene Harris, '30, was appointed chairman of the Pep committee next year by the student council at a meeting held yesterday. He was elected by a 7 to 6 vote over Norvel Dice.

Harris will succeed Warren Atwood, who has held the position for two years, being appointed head of the committee when it was first established a year ago last fall.

Harris was chairman of the bonfire committee last fall when the Freshman class built the rally fire for the Bakersfield game. He is also treasurer of the class.

W.A.A. Banquet to be Held At Baylor Inn on Thursday

The W. A. A. banquet, an annual event, will be given Thursday, May 26, at the Margaret Baylor Inn. It is expected that approximately thirty-five members will be present.

The features of the evening will be the awarding of numerals, letters, and sweaters, and installation of officers for the ensuing year. In order to receive a numeral, a woman must earn 250 points, for a Block S 500 points, and for a sweater 750 points.

The officers who will lead the organization next year are Norma Perry, president; Margaret Webster, vice-president, and Maryln Jameson, secretary-treasurer. These women will be assisted by the managers of the seven W. A. A. sports.

Toasts at the banquet will be made by Miss Weage and Miss Rogers, heads of physical education activities.

G. P. OFFICERS CHOSEN

Beryl Dunning was chosen president and Pearl Crawford vice-president of the General Professional department at the election held Tuesday. Ida Vizzolini has the secretaryship and Esther Gormley is the new treasurer. The women will take office at the beginning of next semester.

SKULL AND BONES ELECTS

Four new members to the Skull and Bones Society were elected last Tuesday noon to the organization by the members. They are Warren Atwood, Richard Glover, Douglas Brubaker, and Henry Batchelder. Initiation will be held next week.

Step-Sing to Take Place Next Wednesday in Quad

The annual spring step-sing will be held next Wednesday night in the quad under the auspices of Pi Omicron Iota, Home Economics club. The singing will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

Instead of being under the charge of the Pep Committee as at previous times, the event was placed under Pi Omicron Iota, which will print the song programs.

The step-sing is held semi-annually and was established as a tradition at January last year.

TRIP TO ISLANDS IS SCHEDULED NEXT WEEK

Over One Hundred to Make Trip; Two Boats Hired To Accomodate Crowd

Members of the Outing club and others planning to make the trip to Santa Cruz island over the week end of Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29, await with anticipation this annual event of the club.

Sixty students of the College and 25 students and faculty members of Bakersfield Junior college have already signified their intention of making the island trip in the "California" and "Larco Bros.," the names of the two boats which will carry the islanders to Santa Cruz and which will be available for cruising about during the stay there.

President Sheesley warns that the accommodations of the two boats are only for 110 and that the number already signed up nearly approaches this figure. The total cost of the trip will be $5.00 per person and must be paid by Wednesday, May 25. This will include the trip over and back, and for meals while on the island. It will be necessary for each one to bring his own blankets and cutlery, and it is suggested that a water-proof canvas be included in the baggage.

The boats will leave Stearn's wharf at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and proceed to Valdez harbor on Santa Cruz island. The return trip will be made Sunday evening. There will be swimming, fishing and trips to Painted cave. Noel Misemer and Oran Booth will act as chefs.

Phi Kappa Gamma Holds Formal Social Saturday

The Phi Kappa Gamma sorority held their annual formal dinner-dance at the Samarkand last Saturday.

Table decorations were carried out in the sorority colors, coral and sea green. Among the alumnae present were Clara Parrett of Anaheim, Mrs. Wellington Gotschall of Long Beach, Jessica Lemmon and Alfaretta Keating of Santa Barbara. Also present was the sorority sponsor, Alice Bradley.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TO SING

The Women's Glee Club will sing tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Proke of 31 East Pedregosa street, when the Santa Barbara branch of A. A. U. W. will entertain the members and Senior girls of the High school at a garden tea. The Glee club is also invited to stay for tea.

QUAD DANCE TO TAKE PLACE TOMORROW TO REPLACE TRADITION

Alumni To be Invited To Corridor Social; Held In Place of College Nite

Replacing College Night, a general student body dance will be held tomorrow night in the corridors under the supervision of the Social Committee. It will be an informal affair.

A feature of the evening will be supplied by the Women's Glee club, which will sing. Greenough's five piece orchestra will play. Punch will be served.

Owing to the fact that many alumni have returned to Santa Barbara for the week-end mainly because of College Night, which was scheduled this week, the alumni are invited especially to attend. The dance was arranged last Tuesday in order to supply entertainment to replace the traditional College Night performances.

Daily Practices Held for Glee Club Operetta to be Held as Senior Week Event

The cast of the women's Glee club operetta, "American Girl," is working hard on this production, which promises to be an unusual feature of Senior week. Daily practices have been held in the music cottage, and at the home of Mrs. Helen Barnett, music instructor.

The characters are:
Charlotte Bellman—Eva May Hope, the American Girl.
Mary Todd—Vera Burdett.
Phyllis Randall—Myra Burdett.
Estelle Nelson—Edna Harris.
Annie Marie Baer—Violet Newman.

Isabelle Lyon—Lady Melton, slightly eccentric, aunt of Eva May Hope.

The Women's Glee club will sing at the Baccalaureate exercises to be held June 5, while the Men's Glee club will furnish the music for the graduation exercises. Both clubs will sing at the graduation banquet on June 8.

HI ALUMNI TO HOLD DANCE

A dance sponsored by the Santa Barbara High School Alumni association will be held next Friday night at La Fonda to defray expenses incurred several years ago. It is stated by the management of the association that about 100 alumni members now attending the College here are expected to attend.

TRACK SEASON SHOWS IMPROVEMENT IN BIG LOCAL MEET OF YEAR

By FLOYD KENNEY

The track season that has just closed has not been a very successful one in regard to the showing made by the local team in the scoring column, but it has seen a great deal of improvement along some lines. The invitational meet this year took a big stride forward, rising, for the first time, out of the overgrown high school class to real collegiate competition, as the records made will show.

Nine new marks were hung up in the annual meet, all of them comparing favorably with records made in small college meets all over the state. The new records are 100-yard dash, 10 seconds; quarter mile, 51 seconds; 16-pound shot put, 42 feet 8 inches; 120-yard high hurdles, 15 4-5 seconds; discus, 128 feet 11 inches; half mile, 2 minutes 2 seconds; javelin, 180 feet 7 1-5 inches; hammer, 109 feet; 4-man mile relay, 3 minutes 30 4-5 seconds.

The team this season labored under the same old handicap of no practice field, necessitating the oft-negotiated trip to the high school oval, where it was necessary to dodge flying baseballs and remarks from the high school coaching staff. Then, too, there were no dual meets to get the men into competitive condition, for there is a great difference in running against a watch and against an opponent.

Competing for the first time in the

Interclass Swimming Meet Postponed to Next Week

The inter-class swimming meet to have been held last Wednesday was postponed because of Coach De-Groot's trip south. The meet is now scheduled for either Tuesday evening or Wednesday afternoon. The final date will be posted on the bulletin board.

Advance dope on the outcome of the meet favors the Frosh to come out on top with the Sophomores pushing them hard. Each entrant will be limited to two events and relay.

An effort is also being made to introduce soccer, water polo as an event on the swimming program.

Long hair is required for University of Oregon women who want positions at Tyrell Tavern, Bonnerville, this summer.

Many former active members now attending other colleges and universities are expected to be present for the last gala event of their season.

A student of Young University, Utah, estimates that each credit hour costs $26, based on probable earnings and actual expenses.

A course in tree-trimming is being given at the University of Wisconsin to telephone and telegraph lines-men.

conference, the Roadrunners placed fifth in the meet. Jack Vince, "grand old man" of our athletic teams, smashed a conference record in the high jump, and Dick Glover, a Frosh, made them sit up and take notice.

All in all, and considering everything, we need not weep over the past track season.

Paragraphs--

As the old collegiate saying goes--

A date—it floats

From hand to hand—

And so a Tux

From man to man.

Well, with all these formals it does seem that way. Just think what would happen if the Glee Club were suddenly called upon to give a concert and all the men rushed up to the various places where these formals were being staged and demanded their Tuxes.

IT WOULD PROBABLY PROVE SCANDALOUS, IF NOT BREEZY, FOR MOST OF THE FELLOWS.

It is a funny sight to see some of these campus Joes in those stiff makeups. On some the trousers are too long; on others they prove a trifle tight when sitting down, etc. As for me, I feel about at home in one of them as Coach would be swimming in the quad pond.

HOWEVER, THAT IS A MERE TRIFLE WHEN A QUESTION WHICH INTERESTS US ALL COMES UP. IT IS IN REGARD TO THE FEASIBILITY OF OUR BULL FROGS IN JUMPING THE POND IN ONE LEAP.

According to Prof. Peters, calculations gathered from all sources and wastebaskets, if a bullfrog wants to jump the pond it would probably take him as long as it would for a decoy duck to fly over it. Now the question arises, were the bullfrog to croak on the way over, would his speed and power be retarded or would he maintain the same rate of speed?

According to Prof. Selle, if the frog was placed on a sufficiently large wagon spring and given enough spring, there would be no question but that he would reach the islands by daybreak and would be there to greet the Outing Club next week.

Prexy feels confident that the $25,000 trans-Atlantic flight will be brought to the coast if Professors Selle and Peters can determine how much ballast to weight the frog and decoy duck with. Taking into consideration the fog and rough water in the pond, it will be sometime during the summer that the flight will be attempted.

Perhaps the pond will be still dry during the summer and danger of the flyers being swallowed up by water dogs will be averted. Not only that, but should the frog suffer from a stomach ache while in flight, or see a fly on the pond, he might take a notion to swoop down and rest awhile. So with a dry pond all those obstacles will be eliminated.

And as you know, and probably don't, The Eagle is a member of the California State College Press Association. However, it is a good thing and it shows to what high goals journalism is soaring. Probably, with the ad-

Women's Tennis Finals to Be Played Today on Beach Courts; Doubles To Start

Lucia Fisher won the Freshman class championship in women's tennis finals played off last Friday on the beach courts. She defeated Marlyn Jameson with a score of 6-1, 6-1. Miss Fisher plays Gladys Oglesby, Sophomore champion this afternoon at 2:30 at the beach courts, to determine the winner of the title.

Marlyn Jameson and Grace Birss versus Margaret Webster and Mildred Mincher, Virginia Farrell and Grace Ormond versus Dora Woods and Norma Perry started the round of doubles yesterday. The winning team of each set will play the semi-finals today. Lucia Fisher and Gladys Oglesby take on the winners of that bout on May 24.

Progress of Baseball Is Slight This Year

Baseball is making little progress this year. The team is working out regularly, but difficulty is being met in securing games, as most schools have either finished their schedules or have full ones. It is likely that the squad will be disbanded.

Several practice games have been played with Twilight league teams, the squad performing in a creditable manner.

vent of it in earnest next year, such literary catastrophes as this column will be done away with. And that will be good, also.

Washington Honor Fails States University Dean

That the Honor Code at the University of Washington is a failure is asserted by James E. Gould, Dean of Men at Washington, according to the University of Washington Daily.

"Oust the whole system and start on a new basis," is the advice of the Dean, who declared that the code is a failure first because it is not comprehensive, covering only one of the several phases of college morals, and secondly because it is purely punitive, instead of corrective.

"What good is a code that selects the single subject of cheating and ignores petty thievery, drunkenness and like misdemeanors?" asked the Dean. "And how many will report a fellow-student for cheating when punishment, not help, is the almost certain result? I would like to see a complete change in the administration of the Washington Code."

Financial losses incurred by campus publications at Northwestern University may force the cutting of salaries and the discontinuing of one issue a week of the "Daily Northwestern."

Whether or not to adopt the honor system is a question which is now before Dartmouth students and faculty.

FRESHMEN WIN SILVER TROPHY AT INTERCLASS FROLIC HELD FRIDAY NIGHT; SENIORS NEXT

Former Student is Winner Of Portable Phonograph Given by Bolton, Jones

The Freshman class won the silver cup presented by the Social committee for the best stunt in the Interclass Frolic held last Friday night at the Lobero theater. The senior class received honorable mention.

Fred Jacobs, student here last year and now attending the University of California, won the portable phonograph donated by Bolton and Jones. The number of the ticket he held was 113.

The Freshman stunt depicted a courtroom scene in a southern town. Bernard Jones interpreted the part of a blunt, cynical judge who was not so averse to youth and beauty as he would have one believe. His dry humor and the diversity of characters brought many laughs.

A reproduced broadcasting room scene was the contribution of the Sophomore class. Gordon Baillard took the part of the broadcaster before the microphone "S-O-P-H." The program sent out over the wires consisted of popular numbers, both sung and played. A reading, showing what nuisances little sisters can be, was given by Esther Gormelly. Dorothy Mansfield and Josephine Black ended the program with the "Black Bottom."

The dream of a boy longing to travel to the far corners of the world was presented by the Junior class. His dream took him into the "Land of the Rising Sun," into the Emerald Isle, into England, and among the teepees of the first Americans.

Gypsy wanderers, never at home, but at home everywhere, gay, sad, loving, thieving—was interpreted by the Senior class in their act. While rejoicing over the betrothal of two of their band, spirits come down from the castle disturbing them as they make merry. The ghost leaves, and a moment later they are given peremptory orders to go, and once more they are wanderers.

The money taken in through the Frolic will be used to help finance the Senior Prom. It is reported that over three hundred dollars was received, although the exact sum has not been ascertained.

Ben Margolis was stunt chairman for the Freshman class, Winifred Polard for the Sophomores, Dorothy Kimes for the Juniors, and Ester Janssens for the Seniors.

Mrs. Maud Morley Fletcher, Paul Whiteman, and Ivar Higgen were the judges. Mrs. Fletcher presented the cup, and Ben Margolis received the prize for his class.

Floating College Returns Home After Long Trip

(By New Student Service)

On May 3, S. S. Ryndam the floating college, glided into a narrow slip in the New York harbor while a Hoboken band played "Bright College Years." Hundreds of parents crowded the pier to welcome home the student body that had studied and traveled on a 35,000 mile globe-encircling cruise since September 25th last. One imported examination had to be given before the 450 students left their aquatic campus. A small army of customs officials was on hand to examine the students, and they found it no easy job. The students came home laden with trophies: souvenirs from all parts of the world ranging from Egyptian lizards to Siamese turtles. One student had collected 9,000 coins. An exploring reporter discovered that "enough exotic junk was left on the floors of the staterooms to equip a small museum."

"An immense success," was the verdict on the trip given by Dr. James E. Lough, acting head of the university. He reported that the trip had taught a great deal: "We had learned that co-education is inadvisable for such a trip. We have had no sex difficulties on the trip, but we found the presence of women makes the problems of the cruise more complex, especially in arranging accommodations for the excursion." "The next cruise of the University Travel Association will be held for men alone," he announced.

As to the newspaper reports to riotous student behavior in the Orient Dr. Lough said they were "partly true." Fourteen students were sent back home for excessive drinking, eight of them having been dropped at Yokohama for getting intoxicated at the Imperial Bar at Tokio.

Dr. Lough admitted that the report of their desecrating a Japanese temple was also "partly true." Some students took small souvenirs from a temple and the matter was reported to Dr. Lough by the Japanese authorities. The next morning the 500 students were lined up on the deck and given a severe reprimand. "They were told," said Dr. Lough, "that they had disgraced their country and were unfit to be Americans. The language was so strong that some of the boys and girls wept."

Hawaiian University Holds Campus Day Celebration

(By New Student Service)

In no other American University is there a "Campus Day" celebration comparable to that recently held at the University of Hawaii. Typical of Hawaii alone, of the island ancient traditions, is the luau or grand feast which is the main event of the day. Five long tables were arranged under tents, facing a platform where hula dancers and musical numbers enlivened the luau. And the luau—there was plenty of pork, kalua and lau-lau, plenty of fish, "nice fat mullets from the fish ponds of Miss Lydia Cox and Miss Doris Loo," sweet potatoes from the Molokai farm of Prof. "Kahuna" Wise, also "kulolo haupeo and many other delicacies. Friends of the school donated liberally to this feast the student paper announced. Senator Francis Brown has kicked in with 100 pounds of fish—Senator Rice of Maui who will push through the legislation for a new gymnasium, has sent over a 200 pound hog, while Senator George Coke from his Molokai ranch has matched this pork with a 210 pounder."

Visitors thronged over the University grounds at this celebration, the chief object of campus day being to acquaint the public with the work of the university.

The University of Hawaii is now nineteen years old. It is one huge cosmopolitan club, having students of all varieties of color and race. Practically every country bordering on the Pacific is represented at this island university.

As a feature event at the annual interscholastic track meet which was held recently at the University of Kansas, the Tarahumara Indians staged a game of their primitive football. The Indians used a wooden ball, and according to the rules of the game, propelled it only with their feet, it being a foul to touch it with any other portion of the body.

Student co-operation is what makes Eagle advertising pay.

The first humorous college magazine in Canada has made its appearance on the campus of McGill University. The new publication is christened "The Martlet."

An Ohio R. O. T. C. captain was recently punished for making a speech against compulsory military training at the Ohio State University.

A survey was made at Yale University to find out which was to be prized more, a Phi Beta Kappa key or a varsity "Y." The varsity "Y" won by an overwhelming majority.

This Week in the College World---

IT appears that a movement is spreading throughout the colleges of the nation to eliminate automobiles from the campus, making their ownership by any student illegal.

At Princeton recently student-owner "gaswagons" were barred from the campus. Just this week at the University of Michigan action is taking place to curb irresponsible student drivers, because of a recent accident in which one student was killed and another disabled for life. The regulations just put in force, with heavy penalties involved, state that no student may own an automobile who is a freshman or sophomore, and that upperclass students not maintaining a C average will also be denied ownership. All students under 21 years of age must have parental consent.

If these rules fail, President Clarence C. Little of Michigan intends to abolish student-owned automobiles from the campus.

"SCHOLARSHIP in American colleges is not what it should be or could be," thinks President W. W. Campbell of the University of California. His reason is that the large majority of students now in American colleges did not receive "parental discipline in intellectual matters."

The president thinks parental discipline has reached its lowest ebb in years, although a gradual upward tendency is now in evidence. Students of fifty years ago came

The Eagle's Eye Campus Observations

IN this paper last week there was an editorial suggesting a plan to take the place of the defeated honor system. The writer advocated impressing the spirit of honor upon the students, especially the new students. The plan would also do away with any courts, although it would provide for punishment by the faculty if there were any cases of cheating in examinations.

An honor spirit would be a fine thing to have, but like a good many other fine things it would be very difficult to procure. Publicity in favor of such a spirit would help in creating the spirit, but more than that is needed.

There must be some definite method of punishment, and this method should not have to be left up to the instructors. They have enough to do without having to be policemen as well.

In voting down the honor system that was proposed some weeks ago, the students did not necessarily vote their disapproval of all honor systems. The vote simply showed that the proposed system was impractical. If a more practical system had been submitted it would probably have been adopted.

And then, too, cheating in class-rooms is not the only thing on the campus that needs attention. When we have an honor system it should be made broad enough so that it can take care of all matters of student welfare.

GRADUATE VISITS
 Carl W. Wirths, a graduate of State college, who is now teaching at the John Muir Junior High school of Los Angeles, was a visitor to the campus last Saturday.

Mr. Wirths expressed himself as enthusiastic about the progress of the college and particularly of the Industrial Education department. He also stated that more effort should be made to acquaint high school students of the state with the work being done here.

That baseball still is a popular sport is evidenced by the fact that over one hundred candidates have answered the spring call at Harvard. A veteran team intact from last year as well as a large number of promising recruits from the freshman class showed up.

Tell them you read it in The Eagle.

rooms is not the only thing on the campus that needs attention. When we have an honor system it should be made broad enough so that it can take care of all matters of student welfare.

The Chaparral Knights could take care of these things for the men; a similar organization might be created to take care of matters pertaining to the women.

At any rate, some practical honor system, court, council or what have you should be worked out. The matter certainly is one which the student, not the faculty, should act upon. And an honor code will not work if there is no provision for enforcement.

LET US DECIDE SOON ON HONOR SYSTEMS

For many months past the students of the College have been thinking of honor systems, and the matter has come up before the Student Body repeatedly. So far no system has been adopted.

Some sort of solution for honor, however, should be adopted before the end of the semester, so that at the beginning of next year the system may be put in full force. As to the type of system wanted, it seems that the only method out of the present situation is for three or four types of honor remedies to be placed before the students, who shall choose the one desired. If none of these are accepted, they should forget the establishment of an honor system for the present.

The students do not want a written code defining honor, nor do they want an honor court or student tribunal. The reason is evident. The only practical punishment for honor infractions, and it is true that punishment must be provided, is a grade of 5 in the course for the first infraction and expulsion from the College for the second offense. Neither of these actions are within the power of the students. How could a student court recommend to fail another student in a course without involving the presentation of evidence by student witnesses, which can never be secured? The witness for a honor infraction would be the professor with whom the student is taking the course, and rather than go through red tape, why should not the instructor simply fail the violating student? The same thing is accomplished.

The principle of student conducted honor courts sounds fine, and student rule can be fearlessly advocated, but in regard to student honor courts, the principle is soundly impractical. Of course, students can decide on the recognition of honor spirit on the campus and can promote it, but the actual punishment is beyond their power.

A fraternity at Washington State College recently gave a "poverty party."

HOW ABOUT THAT ASSEMBLY?

An assembly for new students held the first or second day after the opening of the fall semester to acquaint these newcomers with the traditions, organizations, and student officials is strongly recommended by The Eagle and should be put in force next fall.

That there is need for such an assembly is indisputable. In past years the new student has been greeted on the campus with most everything except advice as to who our officers are, what organizations we have, what our traditions are, and what is expected of him. He is allowed to occupy space on the campus and that is all; if by some miraculous chance he should desire to find out a few of the above facts, he must pry around the campus until he can grasp an answer to an inquiry which might come to his mind.

Then, is it any wonder that spirit is dull? The new student feels that since no attempt was made to show him the student life, he is not especially wanted and he consequently makes no effort to contribute to Santa Barbara State spirit. It is a known fact that after many weeks on the campus, many new students know very little of what exists on the campus.

The logical solution is an assembly at the beginning of the year. We will have a fine and attractive new auditorium next fall—a tempting drawing card. It will not be difficult to get the new students to the assembly. Then let the student officials be introduced, let the campus traditions and organizations be described, let the Frosh Bibles be sold, let Our College Grand be flashed on the screen and taught to them, together with other songs. Let our yell leader go over the yells with them. All this can be done before the bulk of classwork is underway. Then the new students will feel that they are an essential part of the student body, and will be responsive.

This method is a remedy for many of our "lack of spirit" ills. Students cannot be lectured to. And if they attend regular assemblies, there must be something to go there for. Many of the assemblies in the past, we are sorry to say, have been a little less than pointless, and it is no wonder that students often do not attend.

As a remedy, let the student body president next year appoint a student assembly committee to definitely arrange a snappy assembly for every vacant period. This committee can work in conjunction with the faculty assembly committee, and between the two, there should be no more "dead" meetings.

Eighty per cent of the Oregon Agricultural College student body voted in this year's election of officers, more than 2300 votes being cast for each office.
