Graduate manager Don Follett read the report of the auditor concerning the financial status of the student body, revealing a decided decrease in deficit.

"BALANCED BUDGET"

Follett told council members, "My expectation is that with the enrollment in February, unless there is a sharp drop in our population at that time, we will be able to foresee a balanced budget."

Membership in the National Collegiate Basketball Association was approved by the council on recommendation of the Board of Athletic Control. The legislators also passed on the varsity and freshman football awards.

Life passes will be awarded to the following seniors: Captain Blynn Wilson, Mel Dennis, Ed Larsen, Larry Pickens, Tom Magnus and Bill Jessup.

Faculty Discusses

Featuring a discussion on vitamins C and D, conducted by Miss Hazel Severy, the faculty seminar will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the A.W.S. clubroom.

The discussion which will review all recent research on the subject is one of a series on vitamins to be presented.

Students interested in the subject are invited to attend. Tea will be served prior to the meeting.

Holding the spotlight at the meeting was the proposal made by State Director of Finance Killion that the state college tuition fee be raised $4 per year, a proposal which would affect all of the institutions represented at the meeting.

LOCAL COLLEGE AFFECTED

Tuition at the local college, through this move, would be boosted from the present $13 a year to $17, and other California state colleges would be affected similarly.

The proposal made by the finance director came during a budget hearing in which the representatives of the seven colleges asked for a two-year appropriation of $5,551,145 to carry on their activities during the next biennium.

Included among the requests made by President Phelps was one for $30,000 with which to purchase 20 acres of land west of the new college site on Leadbetter hill for erection of dormitories and other service buildings.

$826,000 was asked by Phelps for support of Santa Barbara State college for the next two years. This is compared to $523,324 spent during the period of 1939-41.

According to Phelps there is sufficient money to begin work on a science building to supplement the industrial education unit on the Leadbetter site. The latter building will be occupied in February, said Phelps, but additional money will be needed to complete it. Phelps also requested $60,000 with which to purchase equipment for this new building.

FINANCIERS CONSIDER

Expenditure for new buildings for the Santa Barbara State college campus on Leadbetter mesa, as applied for in the budget presented by the local administrator, amounted to $1,610,000. This request was submitted to the department of finance by the state department of education.

The increase in the budget requests was given as the cause for Killion's proposal. He estimated that the increase in tuition would make available $100,000 more during the next two years.

Presidents attending the confab voiced disapproval of the suggestion and latest reports reveal that Governor Culbert L. Olson of California has also voiced a dissenting opinion.

Elementaries Sponsor Party

Featuring a rumba and tango band of nine pieces from Carpinteria the elementary department will hold its annual Christmas party in room 80 next Tuesday during fourth hour. Accompaniment for solos will be by Lloyd Browning, college music instructor. Browning will also play a piano solo entitled "Rhapsody in F Minor" by Ernst von Dohnanyi.

Now playing with Raymond Eldred in a string quartet performing at the McCormack estate in Montecito, Tozier has given several recitals before Santa Barbara audiences. Early training was gained under the guidance of Roderick White of Santa Barbara.

Having studied music and theory under Max Schoenberg, music instructor at U.C.L.A. and one of the foremost contemporary theorists and composers in the United States, the performer has a thorough background of musical knowledge and interpretation. He was once a pupil of Samuel Matesky and also Peter Meremblum of Los Angeles.

Administrator To Speak At Breakfast

Curtis E. Warren will address seniors Tuesday morning at the regular monthly breakfast meeting in the college cafeteria. As superintendent of Santa Barbara city schools, Warren speaks authoritatively of problems which graduates will meet in their teaching careers, it is announced by Fred Baer, senior president.

Interest is currently being stimulated for a basketball team composed of classmen, with senior men instructed to contact Baer in this regard. Further senior activity includes plans for a spring picnic to be given in cooperation with the junior class.

The breakfast, beginning at 7 a.m., will have as its attendants Mrs. Jane Abraham and Lawrence E. Chenoweth, advisers and Harrington Wells, sponsor.

New House Opens

Gamma Sigma Pi fraternity members held their first meeting at the new fraternity house at 1333 De la Vina street Monday evening. This is the only campus fraternity to have a house exclusively for members.

Plans were discussed under leadership of Jack Hart, president, for the annual winter costume dance the group will hold at the Santa Barbara Yacht club on December 7.

Weekly Movie Series Opens With 'The Scarlet Pimpernel'

First of State college's presentations in what is to become a weekly motion picture series was staged Wednesday night in the auditorium. Headlining the program was "The Scarlet Pimpernel", starring Leslie Howard in the title role and Merle Oberon.

Opening the evening's free entertainment were educational shorts prepared by Liggett and Myers tobacco company, entitled "Tobacco-land, U.S.A." and a glimpse behind the scenes at the preparations for the nightly radio program of Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians.

LECTURE FEATURE

To be a feature of each week's program is a short, enlightening lecture to be given by a member of the State college faculty. At Wednesday's presentation, the background and setting for the feature attraction were outlined by Ted Dean Hanley, graduate assistant in speech and dramatics.

"The spirit of cooperation displayed by the student body in turning out for this first program is to be commended," said Don Estey, director of assemblies, who is responsible for the introduction of the movie series to this campus.

"Because of the fine attendance Wednesday night it will be possible for us to continue the series for the remainder of this year and, I hope, it will be carried on in future years," he continued.

DISSOLVE DIFFICULTIES

Technical difficulties, attributable especially to the burden placed upon the single projector which was the only one obtainable for the first program, will be completely ironed out by the time the second of the series is ready for presentation, according to Estey.

Films discussed last week by the committee in charge of the choice of films included "Nine Days a Queen", "Henry VII", "Pearls of the Crown" and "Thunder Over Mexico."

Members of the committee are Dean of Women Lois M. Bennink, William A. Ashworth, dean of the lower division; Dr. Helen E. Sweet, Willard May, El Gaucho editor, and Estey.

W.A.A. Accepts Trio

Following a pot luck dinner, Jean Luige, Betty Erickson and Kathryn Jeroux were introduced through the informal rites of the organization.

Robert Payne Wins Only Speech Award

Forensic Delegates Return from South After Convention

Santa Barbara's crop of pear-shaped tones in oratory and debate was harvested Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 18, 19 and 20, at the Western Association of Forensics tournament held at Pepperdine college in Los Angeles, with Bob Payne being the only first-place winner.

Eleven Gaucho representatives, entered in 18 different events, succeeded in placing four finalists, including a first and a third place winner.

GOOD SHOWING

Top honors in discussion progression were taken by Payne, junior speech major, while third place in the after-dinner speaking was won by Gilbert McKeon of the upper division. Payne also reached the finals in oratory, while J. T. Daniels attained the semi-finals in the impromptu speech division.

Although the local debate squads were out-argued before the semi-final eliminations, their records are outstanding in view of the competition in which they were entered. First place in the debate division went, as usual, to the University of Southern California.

DEBATE TEAMS

Santa Barbara was represented in debate by four teams, Nelva Kiefer and Virginia Stong in the women's competition and J. T. Daniels and Harry Wollen, Gilbert McKeon and Leigh Silliphant and Jack Thompson and Charles Bowen in the men's events.

Santa Barbara Cagers Open Conference Title Chase Soon

Locals Meet Cal Poly Five Next Friday

Wilton Stresses Fundamentals as Initial Game Nears

By Manual Banda

Strenuous calisthenics, hard scrimmages, passing shooting and dribbling drills have been the nightly fare of the 30 candidates for the 1940-41 Gauchos defense of the 2C2A basketball crown. The Gauchos open their schedule next Friday at Cal Poly

"Santa Barbara," says the Gauchos headman Willie Wilton, "is on the spot. Every team in the conference and every team on the Gauchos schedule is pointing for the Hilltoppers."

"Every man on the team this season must be in first class condition and ready to play a full game, or else make room for somebody else who is willing to work."

Army officials have finally sanctioned the use of the Army for practice and games. The local casabamen are scheduled to begin practice on the regulation size court early next week.

Outstanding during scrimmages have been forwards Paddy Caudillo and Tom Guerrero; guards Larry Brewster and Bob Sherman, and center Lowell Steward. Strong opposition for this quintet has come from Bill Leville and Walt Lohman at forward; guards Dick Rider and Gordy Gray and center Walter Wood.

However, starting positions are being fought for by several other men that have a great chance: Forwards John Costas, Bob Cohee, Ray Acevedo, Howard Harmon and Don MacKenzie; guards Scott Flannagan, Joe Nunez, Dan Lieberman, John Lavelle, Bob Rego, Bruno Osselame, Don McDonald and Bob Stockton.

San Diego Aztecs Edge Out Gaucho Grids in Season Finale

Slapping a staccatto finale onto a Gaucho Serenade that had all the earmarks of becoming a dirge, the Santa Barbara State college football fraternity relinquished a nip and tuck, 9-7 decision to San Diego's Aztecs last Saturday afternoon on La Playa field. Only a field goal from the 30 yard line sent the Aztecs home with two extra points of Gaucho hospitality.

By GEORGE STEPANIAN

Wilton "Willie" Wilton, the Gauchos' genial basketball coach, finally snapped out of the dour demeanor that has characterized him all week and was his usual optimistic self as he received definite news that the Army officials had decided to allow him to have immediate use of the Army for his practice sessions and eighteen home games on the 1940-41 schedule.

In Wilton's estimation, this is the "big year" for the Gauchos cagers. They have virtually the entire aggregation that swept to the 1939-40 championship. Only two men, Bill Russell and Bill Sears, both guards, are missing from this year's quintet.

GUERRERO, BREWSTER RETURN FOR ACTION

Back for another year of competition are All Conference Tommy Guerrero, forward, and Larry "Crash" Brewster, guard. Lowell Steward, center, who was one of the highest scoring cagers on the coast with 270 points; Paddy Caudillo, first string forward; Gordon Gray, reserve center; John Costas, alternate forward; Bob Rego, reserve guard; and Lew Bedell, reserve guard, are also back.

Up from last year's crack frosh team have come Bob Sherman, accurate shooting forward; Dick Rider, guard; and Joe Nunez, forward.

Transfers who have looked especially impressive have been Walter Wood, 6'6", center from Oklahoma; Scott Flannagan, guard from Long Beach Junior college; Bill Lavielle, tricky forward and captain of last year's Pasadena Junior college outfit; and Danny Lieberman, formerly of the U.C.L.A. frosh.

GAUCHOS FACE TOUGH CAMPAIGN

These men should combine and form one of the best fives in local history. However, they also face one of the toughest schedules in local history, including such powerhouses as San Diego State college with the redoubtable "Milky" Phelps, Wayne college of West Virginia, who has among the scalps dangling from its belt that of Long Island university, one of the east's greatest teams from year to year, Loyola, Broadway Clowns, and other teams of like caliber.

The Gauchos' initial test comes next Friday night when the Green and White outfit travels to San Luis Obispo to meet the tough Cal Poly quintet. The first home game will be on the following night against Cal Tech. Cage fans will have an inkling of how the 1940 Hilltopper five is going to shape up after these two encounters. As for us, we don't have any doubts regarding the ability of Wilton's charges to defend their 2C2A title successfully.

Scoring didn't start till the final quarter when the visitors used a pass combination of Bill Goodchild to Bill Nettles to gain a six point margin. Jim Nunez attempted conversion was blocked.

A few moments later an irked Gaucho eleven reached the twenty yard stripe and shot "Mad Mose" Neely through the forward wall on a 22 yard touchdown jaunt. Ernie Saenz tied the seventh point and the Har-dermen went into the lead.

On the short end of a score which would have been a direct dump into the 2C2A cellar spot, the Aztecs took heart and edged their way into local territory. On a fourth down with yards still to go the guests placed the ball on the Santa Barbara 30 yard line and husky Jim Sims booted a bullseye field goal that would have made a chorus girl sigh.

Starting the game for the hilltoppers were ends, Pickens and Magness; tackles, Dennis and Larsen; guards, Bemoll and Engle; center, Wilson; quarterback, Garrison, half-back, Condey and Regalado; full-back, Saenz. Seniors playing their final contest in Green and White suits include: Ray Regalado, Larry Pickens, Lloyd Garrison, Tom Magness, Melvin Dennis, Herman Stauss, Ed Larsen and Captain Blynn Wilson.

TOMMY GUERRERO, the Hilltopper's All Conference forward is set for his final and greatest season.

Aztecs Eye Title

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 28—Revenge is the watchword here on the Aztec campus as Coach Morrie Gross' classy band of cagers prep for the opening of the 2C2A basketball conference.

Last year, favored to cop the title hands down, the Aztecs were knocked over by the Santa Barbara State college Gauchos who went on to win the championship.

Hold tight! Here they come! Those inevitable all-something or others that follow each football season and give the grand-student quarterback his chance to speak his piece. You're right, here's the Gauchos 1940 All-opponent selections.

Sincere respect for the memories of a 33-6 vanishing from San Jose's Spartans was evidenced in the ratings which spotted five of the northerners on the first string and one on the second squad. Two other enemies of the Green and White were honored by similar attention with seven Fresno Bulldogs receiving places and four San Diego Marines.

Bulldogs Prepare

FRESNO, Nov. 28—Eyeing the 2C2A cage title held by the Santa Barbara State college Gauchos, Coach Hal Beatty's Bulldog quintet went through extensive scrimmage session in preparation for the coming basketball campaign.

Intramural Board Selects All-Mural Football Group

Cooperation by all concerned facilitated the completion of the finest intramural football season ever held at Santa Barbara State college. Ten teams entered the competition and in completing the full round robin schedule, thirty games were played by 142 men students for a total of 260 hours of strenuous physical activity.

WILTON WILTON, Gaucho cage coach, is priming the Green and White five to win its second straight 2C2A title this year.

An all-intramural team was selected by all of the team captains, officials, and the director from which the results were compiled, and the final selections were as follows:

Spartans Meet Nevada Club

SAN JOSE, Nov. 28—"Pop" Warner's vaunted Spartan grid machine, riding on the crest of 10 consecutive victories after losing its opener, 10-0, to Texas A. and I., tangles with the strong University of Nevada aggregation tonight here at Spartan stadium.

Ten San Jose seniors will be playing their last games and the list includes two of the greatest players in Spartan history, Captain Kenny Cook, place-kicking guard, and Truck Tornell, hard hitting fullback.

De Quince, All Star Sixes Battle to Tie

Waging a hot tussle from whistle to gun, the Club De Quince and the intra-mural All Stars battled to a 6-6 deadlock in an exhibition six man game Wednesday on Phelps field.

Early in the fourth period Jack Newman snagged a pass from Tom Guerrero that had been bobbed by several All Stars and trotted the few yards to pay dirt putting the Quince in the lead by six. "Shanty" Stansbury missed the placement try.

A few minutes later, reserve end Harry Redoglio of the All Stars miraculously hooked a long toss from Art Meek out of a host of Quince defenders to put the pigskin on the four yard stripe. Two short flips to Squires and Joham rang up six for the All Stars knotting the count.

De Quince	Position	All Stars

San Jose Loses

SAN JOSE, Nov. 28—Coach Walt McPherson's varsity basketball squad made an inauspicious 1940-41 debut against the L. A. Young quintet of Oakland, dropping a 47-37 decision.

PATSY SAYS:

Dear Bill—

Now about that Christmas present for Ruth.

I've been doing a little pre-season checking and investigating for the kind of gift that will make her eyes shine like the stars on the Christmas tree.

And you needn't worry about that embarrassed feeling a man usually has going into a woman's shop either, 'cause everyone at Jack Rose will make you feel at ease. Remember last year how you didn't want to come in, and then once you were in what a tough time I had getting you out.

Here's where I can set you on the right track—with her pet fashion whims and whimsies, the colors she prefers, and her correct sizes. (Perhaps I know of some special article she adores.)

This hand-knit sweater I'm wearing today is only one of my suggestions. I'll try to catch you when you're with Ruth, and we'll see how it goes over with her. How about this noon in the quad?

Editorially Speaking . . .

Student Discourtesy in Aud Reflects Social Development

At various times throughout the past few years the student body of this college has conducted itself in such a manner as to call forth editorial comment. Although such comment was undoubtedly justified, some excuse could be made on the grounds of sheer high spirits or undue excitement, especially when regrettable incidents have occurred at athletic events. But at no time has there been exhibited such undignified and contemptible discourtesy as was displayed Wednesday evening at the first student body motion picture.

It is assumed that college students are among the most highly developed youth of the land, both culturally and intellectually. It is further assumed that having reached this stage of cultural and intellectual development, college students would have the facilities to enjoy a brief historical outline of a certain highly complex period. It is lastly assumed that even failing of such appreciation, they will act in a manner which will neither discredit themselves, embarrass the speaker, nor make it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for those who are interested to listen to the speaker.

It is true that in any large group a few individuals will continually strive to attract attention, no matter how childish or obnoxious the method.

The future of a college with such a large proportion of this type of student is not pleasant. If such people are to become the teachers of the future, then our position, as parents of the future is even less pleasant to contemplate. Culture, intellectual development, and leadership are based on social consciousness and common decency; if Santa Barbara is any indication of the type of student at other institutions of higher learning, the outlook is bleak indeed. Happily, evidence shows that Santa Barbara is no such indication.—B.E.P.

Ford Strikes 'Appeasement' Note in Late Press Interview

The venerable Mr. Ford who is looked upon in many quarters as the personification of American Fascism, and at the same time this country's No. 1 Red-hater, showed his colors pretty clearly last weekend when he favored the U.S. press with a few hallowed words, spoken in person to an INS correspondent.

It was no surprise to most liberals to read his virtual blessing to the Nazi cause. His past record as a Jew-baiter and advocate of force in controlling labor strife has indicated the acceptance of an ideology that goes in hand with his statement that he "hopes neither side wins" World War II. But it was laughable to see this industrial magnate giving us practically the same arguments as the American Communists now support.

Mr. Ford's cloak of idealistic thought was quite unbecoming. This all-too-practical business man appeared to be stepping on unfamiliar ground when he expressed horror at the ignorance of the people in allowing such a catastrophe to start. There was "something very phony" about the whole thing. Who created it? And what for? No words did he utter condemning the obvious instigator, nothing to indicate any desire in him to maintain the democratic way in Europe.

The damaging evidence against Ford was not in what he said, however, but in what he omitted. His hope that "neither side wins" the war indicated he felt that both were equally at fault, that Fascism is permanent and that it must not be warred against. His belief that the war won't be won by any side proves his channels of thought run on an economic basis alone, repudiating any social gains to be derived from ridding the world of Fascism. Altogether the interview was distinctly "appeasement" in tone.

But, the trouble lies in the fact that the American public will read Ford's words, nod their heads slowly at the clear and simple picture he seems to present—and fail to see what he implies.—T.W.

Just for fun . . .

Joe Kennedy, U. S. ambassador to England, is home and at the present time hustles around telling everyone confidentially that Britain has no more chance of winning the war than Jimmy Roosevelt has of being elected governor of Vermont.

They say the war has left its mark on the ambassador. Every time he hears a siren, he dives for cover. During Fireman's Day last week in Hollywood the local police dragged him out of three manholes, a couple of storm drains, and a WPA project.

Those Greeks are still doing all right.

Some Athenian professor who likes mountain climbing, scaled a cliff the other day, hung down from a rope and wiped out an entire Italian machine gun nest by dropping grenades on their heads.

As he tossed the pineapples singly down upon the crew he chortled, "Take this for Corfu; this for Patras; this for Salonika, etc."

Eyewitnesses say when he ran out of grenades and still had a town left, he spelled it out on a piece of paper, wadded it up and threw it at the last soldier. The Italian staggered over to the paper when it fell, picked it up, and strangled to death trying to pronounce Sadjiovani Medua.

Police report finding the body of a youth stuffed under a subway seat in New York. The coroner said the corpse had been there for several weeks and the boy had died of starvation. Several piles of torn newspapers lying around indicated to authorities that he had died looking for his draft number.

Midge Meacham says there is another Biltmore Bowl shindig on the fire. The one this summer was such a success she feels the time is ripe for an encore . . . I hate to mention this—but on top of not getting a haircut, Bedell wore purple pants to school Wednesday. And I mean PURPLE. Not plain old dubonnet, which is bad enough, but purple. Too bad they stopped making horror pictures, he and his pants would be a sensation . . .

Griped Gauchos Groan!

El Gaucho Editor
Dear Sir:

Last semester the associated men students sponsored a dance at Rockwood and charged admission, money from which, supposedly, was to be used to paint the Gaucho club.

We've sat in this place for 11 weeks now, and the only thing we've noticed is that that ugly Gaucho has been taken down.

Two or three hundred other students and myself attended that dance last semester, paid our two bits, and now we want to know whatinell has been done with our money, as if Bosley didn't know. Disillusioned.

Dear Sir:

Whereas, the new parking lot below the campus has been completed and can handle most of the cars that now park on campus, and

Whereas, on-campus parking ruins the looks of a none-too-

beautiful campus, and

Whereas, this on-campus parking is mainly due to the fact that certain members of the student body and faculty are too lazy to walk 100 feet from the parking lots to their classes, and

Whereas, on-campus traffic presents a dangerous situation with several students seriously injured in the past few years, therefore be it resolved that

On-campus parking be entirely banned for students and faculty with the completion and lining of the new parking lot.

Fraternity Men Revert to Dark Ages as Pledges Write

The way of the world is discordant; time marches on with astonishing rapidity, but the habits and traditions of man linger long in the same position. Because he once was a wandering barbarian, who had to fight for his every mouthful of food, man still kills and robs his fellow man, even in an economic society that long ago reached a productive efficiency that could easily supply the needs of all.

Because ancient fraternal organizations—usually fighting organizations depending for their existence upon the physical ability of its members—found it necessary to subject their candidates to numerous tests of physical endurance, modern fraternities and sororities cling to an outmoded and unjustifiable practice. And today (with apologies to March of Time) as it must to all pledges, hell night comes to Santa Barbara's Gauchos.

Tonight writes finis to several weeks of sadistic endeavors ranging from enforced long distance hiking, to shoe polishing and seat warming.

There seems to be a slight trait of sadism in most all of us. There are little boys who enjoy pulling off the legs and wings of insects and watch them wither under the flame of a match. Women find particular pleasure in humiliating some one of their own sex, and college fraternities in general find it enjoyable to dish out punishment to would be members.

Yes, the Greeks may have had a word for it, but no better description could be given than plain old hell.—Donald Jeffries.
