TIMING TIMELESS TIME

photos by
TRUC BUI

*you know... every so often in life... you come across someone... who makes you smile... who brightens up even your darkest of days... who reassures your doubts... who you can tell anything to without fear of being judged... who can laugh with you... who can cry with you... who you can hug and hold... who you can talk with for hours on end - even if it is about nothing at all... who you can sit hours on end with - and not utter a single word... who makes you look forward to waking up in the morning... because with them... you know things will be better... so... from the bottom of my heart and the depths of my gratitude...i just want to thank you... for being that person... but most importantly, i want to thank you for being my friend... if it wasn't for you... who knows where i would be... and i love you, appropriately.*

Looking for my "Mary" to Marry in Santa Barbara

Me - Brett Favre meets Ben Stiller - SWASPM, 32 y.o., never married, 5'10", 175 lbs., tan, midnight brown hair & eyes, former UT - Austin SAE & All American Athlete, Harvard JD/MBA, independently wealthy Silicon Valley Exec. You - more Cameron Diaz-like than Warrenesque - 18 - 26 y.o., gorgeous blonde SWF, adventuresome UCSB coed/alum, healthy sense of humour a must, personality to spare. Plot for sequel TBD - however "director's license"/spontaneous flexibility a prerequisite - whether grooving to Brian Ferry at NU in NYC or moshing to Buck Cherry at The Bowl, downing anejos at Blue Agave or sipping world-class cabernets aloft a Napa Valley balloon. This is the real deal - I'm questing for "the one" to lead an Oscar-winning romance - it is decidedly not a Fox TV rerun. Serious inquiries only, kindly send written response and photo to:

I think it's wrong for candidates to take absurd sums of money from corporations.

That's the way of the world. Money rules everything, so why shouldn't it rule our government? We humans are money grubbers to the end and that's the way it'll always be.

I voted for Dubya 'cause he seems pretty honest. Nader is cool, but he's just too left wing.

PHILOSOPHY 7

BIOMEDICAL ETHICS

WINTER 2001

This course will deal with moral controversies that arise in a medical setting. The issues to be examined are human cloning, surrogate motherhood, abortion, physician assisted suicide, euthanasia, defining death, personal identity, organ procurement, lying to patients, and decision making for the incompetent. If time permits, we will also investigate ethical issues concerning patient privacy, the use of human subjects in experimental trials, and the economic impact that HMOs have recently had on the doctor-patient relationship. The student's final grade for the course will be the result of a multiple choice midterm, a multiple choice final exam, and a 6-8 page term paper. The course meets the GE writing requirement. All the required readings are in a course reader that will be available from the GrafikArts Copy Center in Isla Vista for approximately $20. Students who are unable to register because the course has filled up should come to the class in the first week in order to pick up an add code. For more information, contact the instructor through the philosophy department in South Hall or by e-mail at dbh1@umail.ucsb.edu
