AWS Gives Bean Supper On Monday

Candidates to be Presented to Voters

Introduction of all candidates running for AWS offices will be the chief purpose of a Bean Supper for all girls on Monday, March 20 from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. Election days are Tuesday, March 21, and Wednesday, March 22.

Dinner in the cafeteria will be preceded by games on the women's athletic field. The affair will be over in time for women to attend sorority meetings. Ten cents will be charged in order to estimate the number coming.

Candidates for the offices are: President, Jean Tahajian, Freddie Nation, and Phyllis Alden; First Vice-President, Margaret Mueller, Gwen Ballard, and Wanda Hill; Second Vice-President, Lucille Hewitt, Pat Hueron, Barbara Ellis, and Barbara De Nault; Secretary, Marilouise Goodman, Eleanor Conte, Peggy Havikorst, Carolyn Varner, and Lola Doshier; Treasurer, Georgia Briscoe, Martha Bacon, Carlene Etter, and Beret Armer; AWS Counselor: Tanya Tatom, and Joy DeField.

"The feeling in the past has been that women students have not had ample opportunity to meet the women running for AWS offices, and we hope that everyone turn out for the supper to correct this situation," urged Gloria Steers, AWS Election Chairman.

Riviera Students Hold Dance Concert Here March 30, 31

This month, on March 30 and 31, the Dance Workshop is giving their twelfth annual Dance Concert at the Riviera Campus. The concert is offered to the students under the auspices of the Women's PE Department. The participating students are members of the Dance Workshop, and are composed of all of the men and women students on the campus who are interested in the development of the modern dance.

The business plans, sets, costumes, and publicity is to be handled by the classes in Theory of the PE Dept. The members of the theory classes will act as student managers, and will appoint committees of the PE Dept. to delegate the various jobs concerning the staging.

There will be a general work day for all PE Majors on Saturday, March 18. This day will be set aside for all of the men and women to help the chairmen with the sets, costumes, and posters in order to cut down the cost of the production.

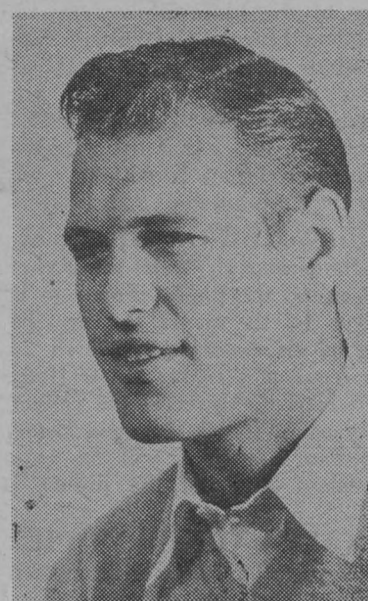

All of the dances in the coming concert will be individually composed and arranged by the men and women students participating. The main choreography is to be under the direction of members of the Workshop, and of the faculty of the Women's PE Department.

CAPTAIN BERNARD GIVES INFORMATION FOR EMERGENCIES

With reference to the disaster plan of the University of California, the following is published for the information of all campus personnel at Santa Barbara College as announced by Floyd Bernard, Captain, University Police.

1. For any emergency requiring police action, on University property, call Campus Police, extension 34. Night phone is 5-5203 after 5 p.m. If there is no answer call the Santa Barbara police, phone 5-5151, and request them to contact the University of California Police patrol.

2. In the event of a fire, call the Santa Barbara Fire Department, phone 5-5252 giving the location and type of fire. Be sure of the location as this save time. Then call the Campus Police Department.

3. All fire calls will have to be by telephone as there are no fire alarm boxes on campus.

4. Fire extinguishers are located on strategic places on Campus for immediate use. Memorize them. If it is seen that the fire is too large send someone to telephone the alarm while you are using the extinguisher.

5. Do not use water on electrical fires as water is a conductor of electricity. Use carbon dioxide or carbon tetrachloride extinguishers.

6. Keep emergency exits in mind. Gases from burning substances are as dangerous as the fire. Get all persons out of the building. Remember life is more important than property.

7. Caution eliminates accidents.

8. Remember to keep presence of mind. Do not get panicky.

9. Pay phones are located in the Quad and Administration Building.

Only twenty-five percent of the qualified voters appeared at the polls to cast their ballots. At the Riviera polls, 302 students voted and on the Mesa, 211 persons voted.

Ted Knudsen, senior Industrial Arts major, was elected representative over Gloria Steers. Bob Wooldridge, senior Physical Education major, was chosen Senior Class President over Howard Brover. Both offices are seated on the Legislative Council.

At the main special election last week, Ted Troy, economics major, was elected Freshman Class President. He also is a member of the Legislative Council.

In the two class office contests, Ray Andrews was chosen Senior Class Vice-President over Audrey Scott, and Marie Allen was elected Sophomore Class Vice-President over Beverly Abraham.

New Legislators

As newly elected members of the eleven-man Legislative Council, Knudsen, Wooldridge and Troy take over the seats of Gloria Steers, Norman Celse and Jere Barlow, who held temporary presidential appointments while elections were in progress.

Men Students Vote On Election Code In AMS Constitution

To avoid future controversy over the election code of the Associated Men Students' constitution, a proposed amendment is to be submitted to a vote of all men March 21 and 22, according to Walt Stone, AMS president.

The constitutional amendment, if carried by a two-thirds affirmative vote, will conform with the election code of the Associated Students constitution. The voting for ratification will be held in conjunction with the Associated Women Students election.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

Article V (Election Code)

Section 1. Eligibility for office shall be limited to men who have attended U.C.S.B.C. for one semester and have met the scholastic requirements for an Associated Student Body office.

Section 2. Candidates must file their name in the graduate managers office twelve (12) school days previous to the election.

Section 3. Between the time his eligibility is established and a petition is issued, each candidate will have successfully passed an examination on the constitution and by-laws of the Associated Men Students. Failure to pass said examination will result in the disqualification of the nominee.

Section 4. Each eligible candidate will obtain from the vice-president a petition upon which will be secured at least 150 signatures from men students. The petitions must be returned to the A.M.S. box in the Student Body office two (2) weeks previous to the election.

Section 5. Election of officers shall take place before the third week in April of the year preceding their term of office. The election shall be by secret ballot.

Section 6. The student receiving the majority of vote cast shall be declared elected. In case of three or more running and no majority of votes are cast, the two highest shall be candidates for a run-off election.

Section 7. To fill a vacancy occurring among elected officers, a special election shall be held within three weeks following the posted and published statement by the executive committee that a vacancy exists.

BLUE KEY CHOOSES SOPH CLAIRE MAHER AS RELAYS QUEEN

Claire Maher, brunette music major, has been chosen Queen of the Santa Barbara Easter Relays.

The lovely sophomore will reign over the April 8 track meet which is sponsored by the Santa Barbara Junior Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Associated Students.

Blue Key, national honor society, annually chooses one of Gaucholand's loveliest as Relays Queen to make all trophy and medal awards at the La Playa Stadium meet.

Claire has been active in many music activities in the past two years, playing the ingenue lead in "Of Thee I Sing", singing in the A Capella Choir and in the current Roadrunner Revue. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

features top student song, dance, and comedy talent. The revue, which will hit the Riviera boards again tonight at 8:30 will end its run with Saturday night's performance.

As the revue is a musical summary of the last fifty years, the skits are based on different periods of the last half-century. The Gay Nineties, the Roaring Twenties, the Depression Thirties, and others are represented by song and scenes characteristic of those years.

Jack Stone, director, and Bob Conlan are the authors of the script for the show. Dance routines were originated and directed by Nancy Chmilowski, Arlene Mohs, and Fern Merrifield. In charge of makeup and also doing the costumes with the help of Fern and Nancy, is Jo Porter.

The show features several original songs by Bill Hardison, including his latest, "You're All I'm Living For". Claire Maher is the featured soloist and the Stardusters provide the music.

Tickets for the show tonight and also tomorrow can be purchased either at the box office or through any of the organizations participating in the ticket-selling contest. Student admission is sixty cents and tickets for the general public sell for ninety cents.

ROTC Picks Twenty New Colonel Coeds

The ROTC has announced that twenty women students have been chosen as members of the newly formed "Colonel Coeds".

The honorary officers are Colonels: Gloria Steers, Aletha Huebner, Sally Woolsey, Joy Tewell, Majors: Betty Braden, Barbara Ann May, Grace Pope, Dorothy Davis, Captains: Pat Marston, Claire Maher, Maelyn McManus, Ellie Denholm, Lieutenants: Gloria Brittain, Barbara York, Nancy Trowbridge, and Barbara Davis. These girls were chosen out of fifty applications by members of the military science classes 103 and 104.

The "Colonel Coeds" was formed this year in order to strengthen ROTC-student relations, and to promote interest in the advanced military science classes, according to Colonel McKee.

A special ceremony will be held at 8 a.m. March 30, to introduce the girls, who will be guests at all ROTC formal events, such as the proposed military ball and special inspections.

EDITORIAL

We wish to commend the students on the Mesa Campus for their interest and participation in student government; for on that, the supposed smaller and less active campus, two students out of every three voted.

To the students on the Riviera, where the remarkable record of one student in every seven going to the polls was made, we direct this editorial.

We, as college students, are forming our ways of living for future years. We are being educated for our future jobs and also for our future social and civic activities. This latter part of our education is given us through our student government and extra-curricular activities. The patterns we set in those activities are the ones we will follow later, as members of our communities.

Now if we who are expected to become the teachers, the businessmen, the leading citizens of our communities learn now to shirk civic duties, can the government which is based on our fulfilling those duties succeed? We have a responsibility toward government which begins here in college. We must learn not to neglect to vote. To either carefully consider student candidates and issues and to cast our ballots for those we consider best or to form sound reasons why we should not.

Much Ado by Jerry Noble

Well, they've gone and done it again. LIFE last week came out with the latest word from the fashion mongers.

They've rung the bell and the women of America, sheep like, will fall into line. Skirts are shorter and tighter and shoulders are wider and thicker. The old wardrobes won't convert. Everything will have to be new.

How long are women going to put up with this business? Don't they realize that fashion is just a business? A bunch of young men who smell of cologne and a bunch of young ladies who draw, get together once a year and decide how they can change existing fashions so that the women will have to throw out all the clothes they own. Then they whip out expensive little creations that all the women will have to buy to remain in style.

What would happen if the women should suddenly say NO to the designers? What would happen if they would just refuse to buy the new clothes?

No use speculating about it. The women will always fall for what any half-wit with a drawing pencil is able to knock out. It's sad. Women are crazier than anybody.

No Complaints

This is the first semester in history of El Gaucho that someone hasn't written in and complained to the editor about the quality of the paper. I don't think it's because the paper is necessarily good. I think that you people are just too lazy to write. It used to be keen in the old days when a student would write a snide remark to the editor and the editor would be snide right back. Everyone would be mad and it would be a lot of fun. No one is snide anymore.

(Ed. Note: Make up your mind, Noble! Only last Tuesday you said I was snide.—D.S.)

Why don't one of you tear out a sheet of note paper, take your stubby pencil in your ink stained hands and write a little note to the paper right now. Complain about the editorials, the poor proof reading . . . complain about me. Goodness knows, I should be complained about.

Take the wind out of our sails. We are smugly sailing along on a smooth sea of conceit. Somebody write and say what a terrible job we are doing and how much you hate us (me) and we will all feel better. We will probably get real mad but it's fun to get mad occasionally.

Type Casting

There are a couple of girls advertising through the student mail boxes for typing jobs. The little notices they have out are all poorly printed in pencil. How come . . . can't they type?

The Student Body has once again defeated the name change proposition on the ballot. For crying out loud, let's forget about it. President Sproul would like us to change our names. We don't want to. Let it go. Forget it . . . unless he can suggest something better than Panda, Cal-Osos, and equally innocuous titles.

south american beauties

If you are an experienced Shetland feeler you may raise an eyebrow, but otherwise you will be quite impressed when our advertising department looks you straight in the eye and tells you that our Pan-American Tweed suits have the "feel" of fabulous Shetland—but without the fabulous price. That's because it's true.

These are Hart Shaffner & Marx suits. They are sold exclusively by Silverwoods. The price is $55, which is less than we get for a hard finish worsted. The Pan-American Tweed is, in fact, the lowest-priced suit you'll find with the Hart Shaffner & Marx label.

The secret of the feel, the durability and the modest price lies in the wool. In rough, tough Chile, sheep have rough, tough wool. In the Argentine, as you might guess, wool is silky and luxurious. Put them together and ole!

We'll have a big ad soon on these, but if you wish to get in ahead of the rush, better stop in today at Silverwoods.

From Cal Campuses . .

It would seem that Gauchos aren't the ones who complain about their cafeteria service. At Davis the Cal-Aggie Inter-Dormitory Council is preparing to quiz the cafeteria manager on the operation of the "California Inn" the student restaurant. The principle reason for meeting with the cafeteria manager is to pass on to him the sentiments of the students regarding food conditions.

Student body affairs are also holding the spotlight at the Davis campus. The second "State of the Campus" student body meeting was held recently. Past Student Body President, Horace Hampton, gave his farewell address in which he surveyed the progress of the fall semester. In that semester, he stated, an office for all Aggie publications had been set up, weekly press conferences had been held with the newspapers in the surrounding area, a new position of Coordinator of Student Affairs had been established, and the student government efficiency committee had presented its first pro-

Dear Gals,
While waltzing down State Street the other day I happened to look in "you know where." Walking gaily up to the lingerie department I realized that I could stand some nylon wear.

I really adore that stuff because its value is unlimited: Easy to wash—quick drying—and best of all, no ironing.

"Wendels" has a fine stock of both day and night wear. You'll love the style and the fit.

This is a suggestion straight from my heart, so I hope you follow it.

BOB McCUTCHEON AWARDED DICK RYDER MEMORIAL TROPHY AS 'MOST VALUABLE'

Bob McCutcheon, ace Gaucho forward, was awarded the Dick Ryder Cup last Tuesday night at a banquet given in honor of the basketball team by Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. The award, in memory of the late Dick Ryder, a pre-war basketball star who was killed during the last war, is given annually to the player selected as the "most valuable" man on the Gaucho squad.

McCutcheon, a lanky 24-year-old from San Gabriel, with a basketball set shot aimed like a major league catcher's throw, set a new season's scoring record this year of 407 points, 102 more than the previous holder, Harvey Hubler.

Pasadena Product

The sandy-haired McCutcheon learned most of his basketball in the Pasadena area. His four years of basketball at Mark Keppel High School in Alhambra remain a high point in his cage career. "Claude Miller, who coached me at Mark Keppel, had a lot to do with helping me perfect my individual style," McCutcheon said. "He gave each player lots of his time, and was always interested in our progress."

The six feet, three inch forward also added a word of praise for his coach at Pasadena Junior College, Carl Metten; and Willie Wilton, Santa Barbara College basketball mentor.

"All along," he said, "I've had good coaching, and no one has ever tried to change my shot or playing philosophy."

3-Year Monogram

A three-time letter winner at Santa Barbara College, McCutcheon wound up his college career with a traveling bag full of honors. He was All-CCAA forward last year, and was just this week named as a repeater for this honor. He was named the most valuable player in last year's Alhambra Summer League while competing with such college standouts as USC's Bill Sharman, and Stanford's George Yardley.

Willie Wilton, who has coached McCutcheon for three years, ranks him as one of the best forwards he has ever coached. "He never missed a day of practice in those three years," Wilton said. "He developed by his junior year the largest variety of feints and shots that I've seen in a long time."

No speed merchant, McCutcheon's lumbering approach and shiftiness drew 225 personal fouls in the 1949-50 campaign, 147 of which he dunked for a large share of his total points.

With a minute and a half to go in the final game of the season against San Jose State, a scorer yelled to McCutcheon that he needed only one more basket to win the Conference scoring championship. He dribbled in and made the basket, but a later official tally gave the championship to the Spartan's Inman.

Local Thinclads Face Occidental, Redlands In Triangular Contest

Nick Carter will take his entire team south this weekend to meet Occidental and Redlands in a triangular track meet to be held on the Tiger track tomorrow afternoon.

The meet should be dominated by a strong Occidental team which made 52 points against the University of Southern California in a dual meet against the defending NCAA champions a few weeks ago.

The Gauchos should do well, having depth in a few events and two or three men who are tabbed for first place honors. The Redland aggregation is of unknown quality, but their team fared well in a relay meet between Southern California Conference schools held this past weekend.

Occidental's strong cinder outfit will be led by a pair of colorful athletes, Les Parker and Dick Barnes. Parker was a three time winner against the Trojans as he edged out some of the nation's best in winning the 220, 440, and hundred yard dashes. Last week he ran a fast 9.9 century, and he is ranked sixth nationally in the quarter mile.

Barnes Best

Barnes, Oxy's other hot-shot, holds the best times in southern California for the mile and 880. His 4 min. 19 sec. mile, and 1 min. 53.8 sec. half mile won him a pair of victories in the SC meet, and similar efforts should do the same in this triangular affair.

To challenge such power Carter has some boys of his own who should turn in winning performances. Willie Dancer may duplicate last year's victory over Oxy's Doty in the high jump, and Del Pickarts should have an easy time of it in the javelin event.

Del has been out of circulation for a week or two, but neither Oxy or Redlands seems to have a worthy competitor in his event.

Another victory for the Gauchos could be won by Les Reed in the discus. Less, along with Wayne

2C2A All-Conference Teams Name Gauchos McCutcheon, Snyder

Bob McCutcheon, Santa Barbara College's high scoring forward, has for the second year been named on the CCAA Conference first team, and Gene Snyder, Gaucho center, landed a spot on the second team, according to a release from the CCAA Bureau.

McCutcheon, who set a college all-time scoring record for a single season with 407 points in 28 games, ranked second in total scoring for the conference with 151 points to leading pointmaker Stu Inman of San Jose State, who scored 157. Snyder finished fast to snare third place in the CCAA with 123 markers.

The six man first team placed Hank Moroski of Cal Poly and Bob Wuesthoff of San Jose State at Guards, Dick Barnes of San Diego State, and John Furlong of the Champion Pepperdine Waves at centers, and Stu Inman of San Jose and McCutcheon at forwards. All of these players, with the exception of furlong, are repeaters from last year's CCAA first team. For Moroski, this was the fourth consecutive year that the diminutive guard had landed a first place berth.

Otey Scruggs, the Gauchos' outstanding quarter miler, will not compete in his favorite event, as Coach Carter thinks it unwise to run him against such a man as Parker this early in the season. Otey will run the sprints, and is Carter's highest hope for an upset over Speedster Parker in either the hundred or 220.

In the end Occidental should come far out ahead in first spot with the Gauchos edging out the Redlands team. Santa Barbara's showing in this meet, against one of the nation's top small college track and field teams, should be an indication of what is in store for them during the remainder of the 1950 season.

Templeton and Rollie Brice, has been tossing the flat apple between 120 and 130 feet all season.

Strong Contenders

Though any more first place spots for the Gauchos will be slightly unexpected, Carter has some strong contenders for places in all events. Outstanding among these are his sprint trio of Kelly, Scruggs, and Johnson, and his two fine distance men, Walter Houtz and Don Crie.

Varsity athletes ruled ineligible for intramurals. Dick Kaywood, Coordinator of Intramural Athletics at Santa Barbara College, has released information clarifying eligibility for intramural contests.

VARSITY ATHLETES RULED INELIGIBLE FOR INTRAMURALS

Any man currently competing on any varsity squad will be ineligible unless he receives permission from his coach to enter intramural competition.

A list of all men declared ineligible under the new ruling will be posted outside the men's gym. Any team captain whose players are affected will be allowed to replace them on his team roster without penalty.

With Phil Jacks, Jr.

Here is good news for all of you softball enthusiasts! The annual Intramural Softball Tournament will get underway on Monday, April 3, and will last for about six weeks.

Softball has really been gaining popularity here at Santa Barbara College during the past three years, and this year's tournament promises to be the finest in history. It's not too early to start forming your teams, men, because the earlier you start, the better your material will be. As usual, the tourney will be run off in two divisions, the Club and the Fraternity.

Other intramural activities being planned are an All College Swimming Meet late in May, and a Badminton Tournament. This will be the first badminton play under intramurals, and both men and women will be invited to compete.

Let's take a look around the sporting scene... Look for Willie Dancer and Del Pickarts to both establish school marks in their respective events this season... Off his first five games, tab Gaucho third sacker Tom Dailey to have his best baseball season since beginning his competition at Santa Barbara College... Would like to add my best wishes to John Wooden and his UCLA basketball team in their quest for the NCAA cage title back east. A win for the Bruins would salvage a little West Coast athletic prestige...

Diamonds Go South To Meet Poets, Waves

Coach Spud Harder's hard hitting baseball squad travels South for games with Whittier and Pepperdine. The game today will be played against Whittier with a league opening doubleheader scheduled tomorrow at Pepperdine.

With the heavy stick work of such players as Alan Cox, Tom Dailey, Bill Davis, Gil Rayburn and the Swift brothers leading the way, the Gauchos will be out to make their mark in 2C2A play.

With added games the errors that spoiled the team's efforts last weekend should disappear. Gaucho pitching prospects picked up with the addition of hardwooder Paddy Hill to the mound crew. Paddy will see action today against the Poets. Thad Picketts will be available to support Hill, with Bob Johnston and Corky Johnson facing the Pepperdine crew.

Off the 23 hit attack that earned a split last week against Los Angeles State and UCLA the Santa Barbara team figures to make things hot for both opponents. Whittier defeated UCLA in the Bruins' only loss of the year to qualify as tough opponents for Coach Harder's squad.

With the pitching set, the rest of the starters remain about the same as in previous games in which the Gauchos gained a four and one win loss split. The batting lineup will start off with Alan Cox, center field; Gil Rayburn, left field; Danny Kutch, second base; Bill Davis, shortstop; Gerald Swift, right field; Tom Dailey, third base; John Bassler, catcher; and either Vern Wrightson or Ron Robinson at first base.

Field House University, Louisiana (Baton Rouge)

The Daily Reveille
Vol. 53, No. 130 LSU, BATON ROUGE

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz—a date with the campus queen—or just killing time between classes—the Field House at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge is one of the favorite places for a rendezvous. At the Field House, as in college campus haunts everywhere, a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is always on hand for the pause that refreshes—Coke belongs.

SWING YOUR PARTNER AND ALLEMANDE

Swing your partner and form that star

Around you go—but not too far.

Amidst cottons and levies at the Coleta Auditorium, Gauchos got into the swing of things at the "Calico Capers" sponsored by the Social Committee. Seen putting their little foot right out were Gene Lonon, Peter Grant and Jack Jardine with their respective honeys June Morey, Diane Covey and Maggie Latassa, while promenading around the floor were Carol Martin-Don Mills, Doris Humphreys-Doug Anderson, Jerry Caldwell-Barbara McEwan and many, many others. Credit should go to Doris Humphreys and the Social Committee for starting this new trend—it was a huge success!

Ah, Lolita!

Vamonos a Mexicali. Returning from a journey south of the border were the enchanted Senores Frank Duncan, Jack Garret, Wesley Bergsted, Adney (Pancho) Gass, Bill Johnson and Bob Altas, while preferring Santa Barbara shores were Ted Tafejian-Barbara Mack, Fern Merrifield-Art Houser and Tom Veblen with Sue Beaver at the first beach party of the season on Hendry's Beach Friday night.

Joint Meetings

Talented pledges were kept busy presenting hilarious skits during the joint meetings last Monday night. Amused onlookers were the actives of Delta Sigma Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta on Oramus Road, while at the same time the Delta Gammas and SAE's applauded their pledges and enjoyed an evening of singing and dancing. Tuesday night pledges and actives of Pi Beta Phi and Lambda Chi had a joint meeting and an evening of fun at the Lambda Chi house.

A Young Man's Fancy

Many congratulations go to Sharen Whitaker of the Allied Art School in LA who now wears the pin of Delta Sig Ridge Muller and to DG Bonnie Sly and George Beaven, a graduate from the University of Arizona who plan for wedding bells in the future.

Following the new tradition the Alpha Phis had a gala open house last Sunday at 2532 State. Between the hours two to nine, vast crowds enjoyed the Alpha Phi hospitality, playing volley ball and ping-pong all afternoon, ending the evening with dancing and card games. Spiking the volley ball over the net in the sunny afternoon were many Alpha Phis and Kappa Sigs, while inside chatting and dancing were Gerry Noble, Rod Richie, Reed Patterson, Peggy Ward, Dick Roth, Mario Codemo, Anna Peters, Sally Shedd, Shirley Quinn, John Juday, Bob Brotherton, Billy Tierney, Elizabeth Hawkins, Gwen Ballard, Ronnie Day, Barbara Pearce, Louielee Adair and hundreds more. A nautical theme in the decorations added greatly to the day's festivities as did the wonderful refreshments and gracious hostesses. The whole party was a big success.

Hope to see everyone at the next open house at the Delta Tau Delta house next Sunday.

Bruins celebrated this week as their "hot-rod" basketball team defeated Washington State by narrow margins last Friday and Saturday to win its first Pacific Coast conference cage championship. The twin victories gave UCLA its first clear PCC crown in the school's 22-year conference history. Back in 1945, the Bruins were co-champs with Oregon, no playoffs being held because of wartime travel restrictions.

Amen!

The school gets the benefit,
The school gets the fame,
The printer gets the money,
But the staff gets the blame,
The paper shows poor management,

The jokes they say are stale,
The committee officers holler,
The students, how they wail.
But when the paper's printed
And the issue is on file,
If someone misses his copy
You can hear him yell a mile.

QUAD QUIZZES

Wandering through the Caf and Quad this week, our Quad Quizzer popped the question, "What do you want to read in El Gaucho?"

Sam Dabney, sophomore physical science major: "Frankly, I don't like school spirit, therefore I do not read the paper. It is too rah-rah! If I read it, I would look for announcements about talks and lectures."

La Vonne Bain, junior speech major: "I'm a transfer student, so I naturally like to read over-all news. Usually, your coverage is much too general. It should be more specific. I also always look for department news."

Ed Fauquier, junior history major: "I want to read about fraternities and sororities . . . in other words, social news. Putting it bluntly, I want more scandal and controversy. Also, I don't like the front page. You don't play up big stories."

Warren Miller, junior biology major: "First of all, I like Letters to the Editor, though I've never written one myself. Why doesn't the paper get a definite stand on controversial issues and then stick to it? The Gaucho handling of the name-change issue was very poor."

Jackie Brown, freshman English major: "I like to read student names and know who is doing what. General information, student opinions and Letters to the Editor are all interesting. The paper could become more an instrument of advertising student activities."

Enid Goodman, sophomore music major: "Personally, I don't read the paper as often as I might because the distribution locations are very inconvenient and I seldom go by there. The sports coverage is good and I also miss student feature stories which haven't been run often lately."

Jack Greene, senior political science major: El Gaucho should have a critical column discussing the pros and cons of Associated Students and Administration policies directed in a constructive manner. You should have a political editor who would be free to express his own opinions on student government."
