

BEACH, SAILOR ATTIRE DONNED FOR ALL-SCHOOL "BEACHCOMBERS BALL"

The nineteenth annual "Beachcombers Ball," sponsored by Kappa Sigma fraternity will be held this Saturday evening, March 24, from 9 to 1 in the campus auditorium.

Tickets for the all-school dance may be obtained from any Kappa Sigma or purchased at the door. Price has been set at $1.50 per couple.

Prizes

According to John Lewis, Kappa Sigma president, a prize will be awarded for the most original costume. Students should come attired in sailor or beach garb, such as denims, bermudas, sarongs and straw hats.

An innovation this year will be the selection and crowning of a "queen" of the Beachcombers Ball. Candidates are sponsored by all fraternities, sororities, and men's and women's residence halls. The queen will be chosen by those attending the dance, on the basis of one vote per ticket. The crowning will take place at 11:00.

Special Entertainment

Special entertainment features will include seven Samoan dancers performing their "Dance of the Islands," plus four Hawaiian girls.

In keeping with the theme the auditorium will be decorated with fish nets, palm trees, sand islands, surf boards, bamboo, etc. Gary Hulderman and his "Five" will provide the music.

Lock-out hours for all girls attending the dance will be extended until 2:00 a.m.

REA TOPS NEW AWS OFFICERS

Results of the Associated Women's Students Elections, held March 15 and 16, have been announced.

Annabelle Rea is the new President of the association. She will succeed Mariam McFarland, who has been head of the AWS for the past year. With her new job goes the privilege of attending the national convention of the International AWS in Colorado, April 12-15.

Of the four candidates vying for the title of First Vice President, Diane Allingham was the winner. Pat Johns successfully

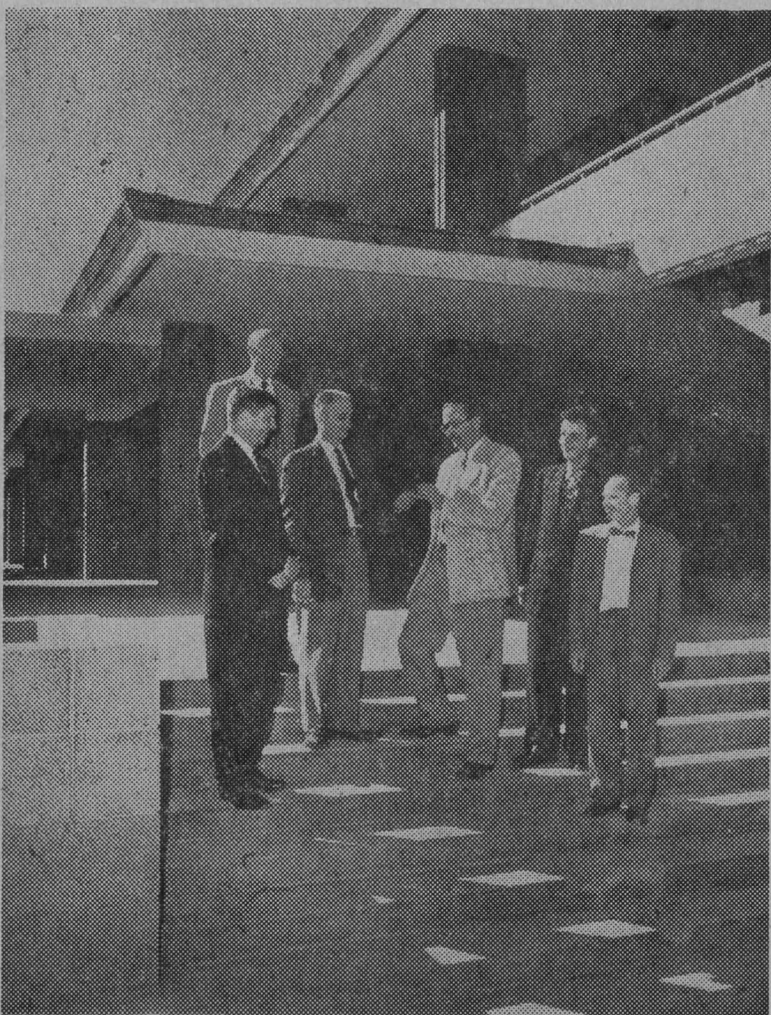

QUEEN FINALISTS TO BE CHOSEN

Finalists will be selected for Easter Relays Queen Contest this morning after the Charter Day Ceremonies. The contest is scheduled for 11:30 in front of the Student Union.

Three finalists will be chosen by a committee of five judges. The judges will be recruited from Santa Barbara business men. It is hoped that Joe Constantino, a graduate of SBC and now with KEYT in Santa Barbara, will be Master of Ceremonies.

From the three finalists the male students of SBC will choose the Queen in a special election March 22 and 23.

The following women have been nominated for Queen: Sandi Barth, Joyce Berlin, Artie Deutermann, Gretchen Gause, Barbara Gordon, Judy Grant, Shirley Savage, Mary Stewart, Joanne Taylor, Janice Tolotti, Shirley Torigiani, Joy West, and Peggy Wood.

UC Among Five Best Schools In Country

On March 23, 88 years ago the University of California came into official existence. Since that time it has grown from the College of California with forty students and ten professors to a mammoth university with an enrollment of more than 30,000 full time students.

Three separate movements lay behind the founding of the University.

Private action began in 1853, when a group of Congregational and Presbyterian laymen opened the Contra Costa Academy in Oakland.

State action had its inception in the Constitutional Convention of 1849, which recognized the need for a state university.

Federal action was initiated in 1853, when Congress offered California 46,000 acres of land for a "seminary of learning."

The new institution opened its doors in September 1869, in downtown Oakland. Classes were moved to the Berkeley campus in 1873.

Since its founding the University has grown more rapidly, perhaps, than any similar institution in the United States. Today it comprises eight campuses and numerous minor centers of instruction research, and public service in many parts of the state.

It has the largest number of faculty members who are Nobel Prize winners and the second largest membership in the National Academy of Sciences, in addition to other honors. It is considered one of the first five universities in America.

What'll You Have

Requests for special sandwiches or entrees for the coffee shop are to be placed in the suggestion box in the S.U.

The chef has been trying various specialties for the past several weeks, this week's being French dip sandwiches.

Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs

Jacobs Will Deliver Research Lecture

In Conjunction with Charter Day Ceremonies, Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs, assistant professor of history, has been chosen to deliver the annual Faculty Research Lecture.

Returning from Boston where he is presently on sabbatical leave, Dr. Jacobs will speak on "The Letters of Francis Parkman" in the Mesa campus at 8:30 tonight.

Dr. Jacobs was educated at UCLA and John Hopkins University in Chicago. He has taught at both universities and also at Stanford and Indiana University.

Honors received by Dr. Jacobs include a prize in American History by the Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association in 1948 and a Rockefeller Foundation Grant in 1949.

An informal dinner honoring Dr. Jacobs will be held at Kerry's restaurant on the evening of Dr. Jacobs' lecture.

Chris Will Represent All U of C Students

UCSBC student body president, Jack Christofferson, will represent the students of all eight University of California campuses at the Charter Day convocation honoring President Robert Gordon Sproul on Friday, March 23 at Berkeley.

The Charter Day convocation will culminate a series of events honoring Dr. Sproul's twenty-five years as President of the University of California. Christofferson was nominated for this honor by the student body presidents of the other campuses of the University.

James B. Conant, Ambassador to the Federal Republic of Germany and the President Emeritus of Harvard University will present the major address of the afternoon. Governor Goodwin Knight, Edwin Harbach, representing the alumni of the University, and Christofferson are the others speaking on the program.

Poets Attention!

A prize of $40 will be awarded for the best unpublished poem composed by an undergraduate from among nine colleges and universities, including Santa Barbara College.

Known as the Ina Coolbrith Memorial Poetry Prize, the deadline for entries is April 2. Procedures and details of the prize may be obtained from the office of Honors and Scholarships, Building 401, second floor.

Dr. Edward Teller

Charter Day Brings Atom Scientist to SB

Marking the 88th Anniversary of the chartering of the University of California, Dr. Edward Teller, renowned atomic scientist, will speak at the University Meeting and Student Assembly today, at 10:30 a.m. in the campus auditorium. All 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. classes will be cancelled for the event.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1908, Dr. Teller did his undergraduate work at Karlsruhe Technical Institute and the University of Munich and received his PhD from Leipzig in 1930.

He came to the United States in 1935 as a Professor of Physics at George Washington University, being naturalized as an American citizen in 1941. Dr. Teller was instrumental in the development of the atomic bomb, working in the Manhattan, Chicago and Los Alamos projects.

At present Dr. Teller is a professor of Physics at the University of California. He will speak today on "The Past and Future of Industrial Revolution." Today's activities are part of a statewide series of public events commemorating the Charter Anniversary of the University.

Cossarek Assumes Presidency of IFC

Robert Cossarek, a senior, was recently elected President of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Cossarek is also President of Sigma Tau Gamma, a member of Block "C," and a member of Phi Alpha Theta, National History Honorary. He is a history major and a physical education minor. He succeeds Martin Mailes.

As President, Cossarek will serve on the Legislative Council and the Activities Control Board.

The other officers elected to the Inter-Fraternity Council are: Gene Hatfield, Sigma Tau Gamma, vice-president; Bill Caraway, Delta Sigma Phi, secretary; Merv Johnson, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Treasurer.

BARBER SHOP

Due to a ruling from Berkeley the Barber Shop will now be closed Mondays. Regular hours will be continued on the other days, Tuesday through Saturday.

There are now two barbers in the Barber Shop of the Student Union to accommodate SBC men students. Women who want their hair trimmed are reminded that they may have it done here too.

Forum... Forum... Forum... Forum... Let's Do Something

El Gaucho:

Quick, let's do something. My column hasn't been in the spotlight for three weeks. I know, let's punch somebody in the nose, make them mad. Let's see...

Do you know What The Hell those lazy, publicity-happy legislators are doing. They are actually bringing up ideas of students in legislative council! Oh, I entirely agree with this policy, don't get me wrong. I believe they really should listen to complaints of stupid students who, working on an event, have had difficulty in presenting new and original ideas in conjunction with a Gaucho theme. And the fact that in a publicity-happy stunt called an election which was held over three years ago in which the students in favor of changing the name outnumbered those against it, should cause them to think.

I think it is really great that they set up a committee to DO SOMETHING (anything, just anything), and began conjuring up names which might be more appropriate (?) to this new campus than the name of the long revered hero of American youth, that ideal of all red-blooded boys, the South American Gaucho. Oh and they are wise, yes wise I say, to put the name, SURFERS, on the ballot of the spring elections and let the dumb students choose between that name and our present one, instead of dictating which it should be.

I have a letter from one of my more intelligent readers which helps to emphasize the point I am making.

"Dere sir,

I wantcher to know dat I am against duh stupide idea of changing the name of duh Gauchoes cause I still remember dat one football game I went to during duh five years I was wit dat school and duh memory of duh name just fills me wit notslgia so much dat I almost puke in my coffee grounds. As for being hard to spell, dat's pure bunk."

Seriously, I thought Kelley's article was hilarious and necessary, since it does present the other side to this question. The letter to the editor which I imitated above, however, was in poor taste, and I would recommend that the author of it learn to write like a human being.

Legislative council did not and does not recommend that the students vote one way or the other, but is merely placing what we feel to be the best of the new names suggested to us on the ballot in order to let the students of UCSBC choose the name they feel most suitable.

Sincerely,

Jerry Combs

Greek Speaks

El Gaucho:

The members of Delta Sigma Phi would like to ask for two corrections in the El Gaucho regarding false information which appeared in the El Gaucho last week.

First of all in the editorial written by Glen Dickey it was stated that Larry Adams was active in campus and even found time to pledge a fraternity, Delta Sigma Phi, before he dropped out. We would like to point out to you that Larry Adams not only pledged our Fraternity but he is now an active member of Delta Sigma Phi with all the rights and privileges that go with it.

Secondly in the article concerning the fraternities so called "raid" on the Sigma Kappa and Delta Gamma Sorority we have been misrepresented. It was not the fraternity that conducted the "raid." It was three of the pledges of Delta Sigma Phi and they took the "unmentionables" entirely without the knowledge of the Fraternity.

Sincerely,

Bill Caraway

President of Delta Sigma Phi

Innovations Praised By Head Of Barbary Coast Committee

Another Barbary Coast has past and in reviewing the event the Barbary Coast Committee is pleased to be able to term this year's carnival a complete success.

Innovations

This year a number of innovations marked the Coast. Both the Barbary Coast and the Carnival themes were emphasized opening a wider range of ideas for booths and skits. This carnival idea also enabled more organizations to participate which they did as can be seen from the record number of booths entered (40).

Also this year the number of shows was cut down and auditions held thus raising the calibre of the shows which finally were presented at the event. In general, this was accomplished and the overall effectiveness of a few good shows rather than a lot of mediocre shows was shown in the popularity of these booths.

Criticisms

But no event passes without there being some sort of critique offered. Some of the booths didn't do well at all. For some reason these just didn't appeal to the public. But through this experience perhaps better ideas, more attracting ideas will be presented next year.

That the afternoon matinee, a new aspect of Barbary Coast, was profitable is evidenced by the extra $450 it added to the gross receipts. But the shows seemed to be the part of the carnival that suffered as a result of the matinee. Perhaps next year it would be better to cut out the shows entirely or to have only two performances of each show given at scheduled times.

Drew Townspeople

Our first big event held on campus also proved that the townspeople will drive the seven miles to Goleta to see a student activity. Through the fine work of our publicity director and chairmen the 1956 Barbary Coast can boast the largest attendance of any Barbary Coast.

Also it may be noted that these people did not hesitate to spend their money. The Coast grossed a larger amount than in any previous year. It seems that people are more willing to pass out four 10 cent script to 4 different booths than four 10 cent script to one booth. So the price limit placed on booths and shows more than served its purpose.

The success of the carnival would not have been possible had it not been for the enthusiastic support given by every student and every organization participating. Thank you all for your help. May the new 1956 Barbary Coast Carnival serve as a basis for an even better 1957 BARBARY COAST CARNIVAL.

What Would You Take To A Desert Island? Psych. Club Finds Woman Man's Best Friend

by Lucy Matteson

There is a rumor among certain college circles that the Santa Barbara College male has a head size somewhat larger than the national average due to the abundance of male-starved females on campus. There is the old saying, "Man's best friend is his dog." The Psychology Club has found some interesting "facts" which do not support these beliefs.

After asking 145 college students the question, "What three things would you take with you if you had to spend the rest of your life on a desert island?" the following results were obtained:

In the first place, Man's best friend is not his dog; the canine family doesn't rate with the SB male. (5.2% of the men chose a dog) If the dog has any friends among the human race, chances are that the friend is a woman. (15% of the women chose this animal) Who IS man's best friend? Woman, of course! (80% chose a female companion.)

And who is woman's best friend? Don't jump to conclusions, men. The college female prefers one thing to male companionship. What is this? Books! The campus female is a bookworm! (67.7% chose books while the poor male only rates a score of 66.2%.) Could this be a universal preference or just one of our peculiar conditions on this campus? Perhaps the "weaker sex" is merely a little shy about revealing her true desires? (Kinsey should look into this.)

Books only rate a score of 50% from the college male. This is considerably lower than the number of women choosing books. Could this mean that the male is less studious? Or is it that he merely studies other things?

WHAT THE HELL... by Kelley Cartwright

Last Thursday night I attended one of the "Bull Sessions" that the RHA is sponsoring in the lounge of the Women's Residence Hall. Dr. Laurence Willson was there, answering questions that the students (I estimate that there were about a hundred) fired at him. Some of the questions were good; some of them were not worth asking in the first place. Some of Dr. Willson's answers I agreed with; some of them I could not swallow.

But this is not the important thing I noticed; what impressed me was that a hundred students could sit with almost rapt attention for a couple of hours and "shoot the bull" about such questions as "What do you think of Kafka?" and "What do you think this college lacks?" This is something that I have not seen before on campus.

This is really not much; most of the people who were there will probably forget whether Dr. Willson liked Kafka; they will probably forget most of the questions that were asked and the answers that were given. But maybe, just maybe, some of the people there were provoked to think about the questions that were raised. That's important, it seems to me, probably the most important thing that could happen here. If just a few of the students there came away with some sort of intellectual stimulus, that will lead them to think more deeply about their problems, then something very worthwhile has been done.

If you are not familiar with these sessions, you may be interested to know how they work. A member of the faculty is invited to come and talk with the students; no subject is given him, and he is not asked to give a lecture. The session gets started whenever a member of the group is inspired to pop a question.

They interrupt the affair at about half-time for a coffee-break (the coffee is free, by the way). Then the session gets under way again, and breaks up in time for the women to make it back for lock-out. That's all there is to it; it's the most disorganized thing you could imagine; it's also very worthwhile. Congratulations to the RHA.

P. S. I don't give a ——— what we name this school. I just wonder whether it's worth while taking up time talking about it.

*You all know what this word should be. I won't mention it, however for that would be sin.

A DOG'S LIFE

by Noel McGinn

I took my dog Rennie to the polo game the other day. As you may or may not know, every Sunday there are polo matches down on Fleischmann Field. This was Rennie's first polo match, and he really enjoyed it. I thought the day might be spoiled when he insisted on paying the 50 cents admission charge, even though the shapely girl at the gate tried to impress on him that dogs really did not need to pay. Rennie insisted that he was as good as any human, and so I was short an additional 50 cents.

In case you didn't know, polo is played by teams of four men each, mounted on horses. Rennie got a big charge out of this, for he knows how ignorant horses really are, but he was surprised to see these humans expending all that energy just to chase a little ball around the field, mashing it with a big stick. He pointed out the horses' stupidity by demonstrating what he would do if allowed to play. He scored six

Language Honorary To Present Program

The modern poetry of France, Germany and Spain will be read by members of the foreign languages faculty at Santa Barbara in a special program to be given today at 4 p.m. in the Science Building auditorium.

The program is sponsored by the Santa Barbara College chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma, national honorary language society, of which Sylvia Klason is president and Dr. Eda Ramelli, professor of Spanish, is faculty advisor.

Those to read on the program are Dr. Rolf Linn, assistant professor of German and chairman of the foreign languages department; Dr. Edmond Masson, assistant professor of French; and Mr. Winston Reynolds, instructor in Spanish. They will translate their selections into English.

CASITAS CARICATURES

by PETE VORZIMER

A matter which took up quite a bit of heated discussion at last RHA meeting was clothing regulations. I was under the impression that Miss Best was hired by the school as a dietician — not as a policewoman.

Educator To Address Meeting Tomorrow

Mrs. Max C. Thompson of South Pasadena will be the speaker at a meeting sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Building 431, Room 102.

Mrs. Thompson, a delegate to the White House Conference, as well as the Governor's Conference, will speak on the White House Conference on Education.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of the University of California, Berkeley, and Mills College. She has taught high school and is a member of the South Pasadena-San Marino Board of Education. She is also a member of the California Education Study Council, an organization made up of lay and professional organizations with a continuing interest in education.

Alpha Rho Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in Education, extends an invitation to the public to hear this outstanding speaker present the results of the White House Conference on Education.

If the clothing restrictions are passed (no levi's or sweat-shirts for guys or gals on Sundays or weekdays) Miss Best will be granted the power of refusing meals to anyone dressed in that fashion.

Well, chalk up one more Barbary Coast. I learned one rather interesting fact. The Kappa Sig's had just taken down their tank — into which a couple of dozen of the guys jumped — and in it found: one cat, one stop sign, a highway blinker light, and a couple of dozen cans and bottles.

One of the funniest incidents of the coast was Harry Weinberg, a tape-measure in hand, going around to each booth, looking rather official. He'd call out a measurement some 6 inches over their required frontage and shout "Six inches too long. Tear it down!"

Kay Linfield had her apricots quite innocently stolen by one of her friends at lunch one day. They told her the boy on her left stole them. Thinking she'd play along with the joke she scribbled on a napkin . . . "Hey, Lefty, how 'bout passing back my apricots?" He looked astonished and as he explained he didn't know what she was talking about, her friends produced the stolen fruit.

GRIPE OF THE WEEK: Some 1400 franks were served at lunch last Friday . . . but no mustard was available.

Hope everybody will be out at the Las Casitas volleyball courts this Sunday for the RHA Volleyball tournament—three guys and three girls to a team.

There have been two very interesting "bull sessions" with faculty members the past two Thursday nights from 8:30 on. The first speaker was Mr. Sturman, the second Dr. Willson, both of the English Department. Talks range on anything . . . students are permitting to throw any old embarrassing question at them. Be sure and be there tomorrow night, New Hall, at 8:30.

Leave us not forget the All-School Kappa Sig sponsored Beachcombers Ball this Saturday night.

Cry of the Week, "HOY!"

Pine Hall maintained its precarious hold on first place in the Intramural Bowling League last Thursday, defeating Toyon Hall, 3-1. Last semester's champion Faculty team advanced to within a game of the lead by trouncing Delta Sigma Phi, 3½ to 1½ (tie game).

Other results found Lambda Chi Alpha measuring Sycamore Hall by 3-1, the Odd Balls taking Sigma Tau Gamma 2½-1½, and Sigma Pi Minus One winning four on a forfeit.

Tom Sawyer, acting like his fictional hero namesake, helped the Odd Balls' cause with a 539 series, highest of the night, and bowled the high game, 212. His team also had the high series with 975.

Tomorrow night's opponents are Lambda Chi and the Faculty, Sigma Tau and Pine, Toyon and Sycamore, Sigma Pi-1 and Delta Sig; the Odd Balls have a bye.

Bowling standings:

Mullaney Killed In Automobile Accident

An ex-Santa Barbara College athlete was killed and another injured in an automobile accident last Thursday night.

Glenn Mullaney, a 1950 graduate of Santa Barbara College, was killed and Grant Gaunce, a 1953 graduate was seriously injured when the car in which they were riding collided with a truck.

Mullaney was a two-year football letterman for the Gauchos at quarterback. After his graduation he coached at Carpinteria High for one year and then went to Arroyo Grande where he was head football, baseball, and basketball coach. He was married with two children, both boys.

Gaunce was a three-year letterman at tackle for the Gaucha football team. He was an all-CC AA and Little All-Coast choice in 1952 as well as being selected the Gauchos' Most Valuable lineman. After graduation he was line coach at Santa Barbara College for one year and then switched to Arroyo Grande where he was head track coach and football line coach. He is married with one child, a girl.

Don Hardy, San Luis Obispo football coach, was also killed in the accident.

FELLOWSHIP will hold a regular Thursday night meeting at the Goleta Federated Church at 7:15. Tonight at 7:30 a Fireside meeting will take place at 1170 Estrella in Hope Ranch. Dr. Bouslougha will speak on "I am the Resurrection and the Life." Students needing transportation will meet in the New Hall lounge at 7 p.m.

SBC Trackmen Sharp In Weekend Showing

The Gauchos track team put on what coach Nick Carter called their best performance of the year last Saturday although they finished second to the strong Camp Pendleton team in a triangular meet. The Gauchos had a 48½ point total, compared to 101 for Camp Pendleton and 19 for Whittier.

Scoring was also done on a dual meet basis between the Gauchos and Whittier and the Santa Barbara cindermen walloped the Poets.

Poets in that figuring, 99 to 32.

McClenathens Stars
Star of the meet from the Gauchos standpoint was distance ace Gordon McClenathen. Gordy was the Gauchos' only double winner as he took both the mile and two-mile. He toured the mile distance in a flashy 4:17.5, almost three full seconds under his old school record of 4:20.4. His two-mile mark was an excellent 9:45.3, not far from his school record of 9:44.

Quarter-miler Larry Smith also had a good day as he won his specialty in 49.9s, his best time since he's been running the event. Smith's time was all the more remarkable because the race was run around two turns.

The results of the 880 brought a smile to Carter's face, too. Although the best an official Gauchos runner could do was third (Jerry Quintana finished there), the times were excellent. Quintana finished in 1:59.2 and Lew Kummerow, who was fourth, had a 1:59.4 clocking. Bill Collins, running unofficially because of his ineligible status, finished in a dead heat for first with a time of 1:56.3. Carter now has four runners, McClenathen being the other one, who can better two minutes in the half-mile.

Another strong event for the Gauchos was the pole vault, although here again, a Camp Pendleton man won it. Bob Foss and Roscoe Morris tied for second in the event with good 13 ft. marks, which indicates that the Gauchos will never have to worry about picking up points in the pole vault.

Westmont Meet
The Gauchos' showing last Tuesday against Westmont was not nearly so good. Although they won by a fairly wide margin, 77-54, they actually trailed Westmont 50-49 with four events remaining. Then their superior depth asserted itself and they swept the discus and two mile and picked up five points in the 220 yard low hurdles and the mile relay.

SBC Netmen Win 2 In Weekend Matches

The undefeated Gauchos tennis team ran its victory string to three as they trounced the Montecito Country Club team 7-2 on the MCC courts Saturday, and walloped the touring Montana State University squad 8-1 on the Gauchos courts Sunday.

Both victories were remarkably easy. In Saturday's match, only two of the seven matches the Gauchos won went three sets.

Best Match
Probably the best match of the day Saturday was the first singles match. In that one, George Lederer overcame Ted Phoenix, a Santa Barbara JC student, 6-2, 7-9, 6-4, in a gruelling three sets match. One of the

GAUCHO NINE DROPS TWO TO USC TROJANS

The Santa Barbara baseball team dropped two games to a powerful Southern California squad last weekend to the tune of 11 to 9 and 11 to 5. Both games turned out to be pitchers' nightmares as a total of 45 hits were sprayed over and out of Bovard field. The Trojans collected 22 hits including 5 home-runs, while the Gauchos blasted out 23 hits and 2 homeruns.

Though the Gauchos showed themselves vastly superior with the potato masher, poor baserunning, erratic fielding, and the inability of Gauchos pitchers to find their catcher gave the Trojans all the assistance then needed.

Big Pete Walski, who led the Gauchos hitters over the weekend with a homerun and 4 singles, was the starting pitcher in Friday's fiasco. Walski appeared to have a little trouble with the fearsome Trojan hitters, but was plagued by Gauchos errors and a barrage of hump liners and broken bat base hits. This kept Walski in constant hot water until a Trojan big gun could unload one of Walski's fast balls over the short right field fence.

The Gauchos kept within striking distance throughout the track meet, but perfect throws from the Trojan outfielders on two occasions cut down runners at the plate to end any real threat.

Saturday's merry-go-round featured more of the same. Gauchos pitchers Bob Pope and Jim Hezlap baffled Trojan hitters, but only in so far as they stopped them from getting normal base hits. The Trojan batters weren't to be denied however, as everything they hit fell between, hopped over, or scooted around frustrated Gauchos fielders like they were on puppet strings from the Trojan dugout.

The Gauchos had even less trouble reaching first base as they pummeled three Trojan pitchers with such authority as to make Trojan infielders desirous of fox holes in which to hide. Trojan pitcher Parks proved to be a real iron man though as he survived two line drives off his shins while attempting to catch a third with his head. The Gauchos batters after reaching first base seemed uncertain of what to do next and began to bask in the So. Calif. sun. Trojan fielders would promptly tag them out in the midst of their afternoon siesta.

Pat Mills led the Gauchos attack with a single and a 350 ft. home-run, while Coulter, Walski, and Niel Wright each collected a pair of safeties.

Next week the Gauchos open the league schedule with a doubleheader against Fresno State.

If the Gauchos can iron out a few of the rough spots they appear to be a definite threat to the league crown.

bright spots in that match to Gauchos fans is that Phoenix may come out here next year, strengthening the already strong Gauchos team.

In the other three-set match, Saturday, Dan Campbell defeated John Whittemore 7-5, 4-6, 7-5.

The only matches won by the MCC team were the sixth singles and third doubles.

SIDELINE CHATTER

by Glenn Dickey

In most schools, football would be a dead issue now, with baseball, track, and tennis, starting up. Not so here, however, with all the rumors floating around about a new football coach.

It's pretty much common knowledge by now that Stan Williamson wants out. Stan is by no means resigning; he is merely trying to drop one of his additional duties. He was not hired as a football coach nor is he paid extra for it. Rather, like all the coaches, he was hired as a physical education professor with the coaching duties additional.

Stan feels that a new man could probably do a better job simply because he is new. That is, he would probably have more co-operation and spirit behind him. That and the fact that he's tired of bucking up against a stone wall are the factors that have influenced his decision.

Stan made his decision known as far back as before the end of football season. Why then hasn't a new coach been selected?

Well, it all boils down to the way the coaches are hired. Since they are hired as PE professors, the University must make another position when a new man is to be added.

Position Finally Created

This position has been a long time coming. "Spud" Harder, as athletic director and department chairman, made the request shortly after Williamson made his decision. Nevertheless, it has only been recently that the position was finally created, and then after much financial juggling.

Another reason for the delay is the fact that the new coach must have the proper academic credentials, that is, he must have a Masters degree and be well on his way to a Doctors. For a while, the administration was even insisting that the new coach have his Doctors since the position being offered is that of Assistant Professor. Unfortunately, there just aren't many animals like that around. Finding one who is on his way to a Doctors degree will be rough enough.

Low Pay

When you combine the required academic standing with the relative low pay offered for the job, it is easy to see why it has been hard to find anyone with the proper specifications. The student council recognizing the difficulty, voted to allot about $2,000 of student funds to supplement his salary. I don't think this is wise, for reasons that I've already pointed out, but at least it's a step in the right direction.

Obviously this delay cannot be blamed on anyone. Nevertheless, it is a shame that it had to happen. The longer the delay, the worse the situation gets. Chances of getting a really good man for the job are becoming slimmer every day. But more than that, chances of getting good football players to come here are even less. Why would a promising freshman or junior college football player want to come to a college which has no coach? What assurance would he have that the new coach would be one that he would want to play for?

Governali

It seems reasonably certain that the delay has cost us one man already, Paul Governali, ex-Columbia All-American. Governali, apparently, wanted the position but Harder, at that time, couldn't even guarantee him that the position would be there. So Governali accepted an offer from San Diego State. Possibly he would have accepted it anyway since they made him a full professor there but Harder seems to think that Governali would have signed here anyway.

Governali, in many respects was the ideal candidate. He was the Administration's fair-haired boy because he had a Doctor's degree from Columbia. Furthermore, his coaching ability was attested to by Columbia mentor Lou Little, for whom he was backfield coach. In addition, Governali would have filled the need for a backfield coach which we need so badly.

The rap against Governali was that he doesn't know anybody out here and wouldn't be able to do a good job of recruiting.

Recruiter Needed?

It's been said that what we need is a good recruiter, even more than a good coach. For that reason, the rumor that Clarence Schutte, athletic director at Santa Barbara High, was coming out here created a great deal of enthusiasm. Schutte obviously could do an effective recruiting job because he has the financial support behind him. However, as near as I could find out, Schutte is not a candidate for the job. Don't send threatening letters if he's hired before this column comes out.

So there you are. It hurts me to admit it but after all this time, I still have no idea who the new coach will be. Separating fact from rumor has been almost impossible at times. Supposedly an announcement will be made within the next week or so but don't hold your breath.

EASTER RELAYS WILL BE BETTER THAN EVER

by Glenn Dickey

The Easter Relays will be bigger and better than ever. That's the latest word from everyone concerned with the affair from Nick Carter, Gauchos track coach and director of the meet to Phil Jacks, publicity director of the meet.

More than 1700 high school, junior college, college, and unattached athletes are expected to be competing come Saturday, March 31. This compares to about 1400 last year, which was a record turnout.

Quality

Let's you think that there will be just quantity and no quality, just listen to some of the names. Bob Richards, world champion pole vaulter; Parry O'Brien, world record holder in the shot put; Fortune Gordien, discus world record holder; Ernie Shelton, near 7-foot high jumper; Jack Davis, who has run a :13.6 120 yard high hurdles, just one-tenth of a second off the world mark; Lon Spurrier, world record holder in the 880; and many others.

So far about 130 teams have indicated that they will be competing. Among these teams are the USC Trojans, two-time Easter Relays defending champions and perennial national champs; Occidental College, second only to USC on the Coast and reputed to have its strongest team ever; UCLA, with Rafer Johnson, Bob Seaman, Don Vick, and others, and Naval Training Center, boasting Davis, among others. USC and Oxy will bring a 40 man squad while UCLA will have 35 men along.

The Trojans will feature such Olympic candidates as Max Truex, distance ace who won the mile run at the Relays last year and recently ran the third fastest 5000 meters in American history; Jon Arnett, All-American football fellow who can also broad jump with the best; ace pole vaulters Walt Levack and Ron Morris; and shot-putter Ray Martin.

The UCLA Bruins, will bring along such aces as miler Bob Seaman, who has run a 4:01.4 mile; shotputter Don Vick; and one-man gang Rafer Johnson who will probably be the man to step into Bob Mathias' large brogans in the decathlon.

One of the best events of the meet should be the javelin throw in which Bill Miller, Cy Young, and Phil Conley will tangle. Miller and Young pretty consistently throw the spear over 240 feet and Conley, who has a best mark of 239 feet, may get out there with them.

High Jump

An interesting situation could develop in the high jump if Compton JC star Charley Dumas decides to compete with Shelton in the open high jump. Dumas thrilled an Easter Relays' crowd last year with a 6 ft. 5 in. leap in high school competition. He subsequently jumped 6 ft. 8 in. in another meet to set a new national high school record. The springy-legged Negro is rated by many experts as the best bet to win the Olympic title, even over Shelton who has been hovering in the region of 7 ft. for some time.

Another good show should come in the shot put although O'Brien is a cinch victor. The beefy ex-USC star is at his peak right now having set the new mark of 61 ft. 5½ in. recently in an indoor meet, an almost unbelievable mark for indoors. He may hit 62 ft. at the Relays.

"ITIS" CAUGHT BY SB STUDENTS

Comparable to trac-fever, swimming-fever, sun-fever, and spring-fever is the new "itis" recently discovered among speech students — tournament-fever. Persons afflicted by such a condition have even been known to pass up Barbary Coast festivities and the Beachcomber's Ball for the lure of the rostrum. Just as an example: Jack Adler and Jerry Perry, George Hart and Tom Harrison spent the last week-end (March 9 and 10) at the Pepperdine Debate tournament where, incidentally, both teams received Excellent awards, winning four out of six debates. George and Tom tied for third in Upper Division Men's Debate; Jack and Jerry participated against West Point Division competition.

This coming Friday and Saturday will find eleven more members of the Speech squad competing in the Pasadena Novice Tournament. Three teams composed of Roberta Breeding, Carolyn Jones and Barbara Sager; Robert Higbee, Noel McGinn and Norman Prigge; and Jay Warden and Everest Zediker will enter debate. They will also participate in two other events, along with Jean Cooke, Judy Mills, and David Peterson.

Women Deans Choose Bowers As Chairman

Miss Ellen E. Bowers, counselor of women students at SBC, was elected chairman of the southern region of the California Association of Women Deans and Vice-Principals at the regional meeting held last weekend in Riverside.

As chairman, Miss Bowers is head of the regional organization consisting of 200 members, the largest of the three regions in the state-wide association. She will serve a two year term. Previously she served as treasurer of the state board of the organization.

This association of women educational leaders has a broad field of interest, including student counseling problems, organizational plans and methods, professional growth, emotional problems of students, providing for the gifted student, and mental health. Divisions within the organization cover educational levels from junior high schools through universities.

Miss Bowers has been at SBC since 1947. She is assistant to the Dean of Women, and has served on several administrative and student committees. She is highly esteemed by both men and women students, and has an active interest in student activities.

Figures Show More Students On Campus

Student enrollment for the spring semester at SBC took a 17.4 jump over the spring semester last year, announced Dr. Paul W. Wright, registrar.

There is a total of 1,911 students this year, compared with 1,628 last spring. Santa Barbara College is the largest of the "small" campuses in the University system in enrollment, surpassed only by Berkeley and Los Angeles. It is the second fastest growing campus. Riverside, with a total of 648 students, shows a 27 percent increase in its third year of operation as an undergraduate campus. Total enrollment on all campuses is 37,066, an increase of seven percent.

The SBC enrollment shows a close balance between men and women, with 924 men and 978 women. There are 164 new students this spring and 1747 continuing or returning students. The classes are divided among 449 seniors, 458 juniors, 387 sophomores, 536 freshmen, four special undergraduates, 67 special graduates, and ten graduate students working toward the MA degree.

Eighteen percent of the SBC students are veterans, totaling 335. Six of these are under federal World War II benefits, 310 on Korean federal vet aid, and 19 on the California veterans' aid plan.

A rare presentation of foreign poetry selection in their original languages will be given in the Science auditorium today by three foreign language professors. Dr. Rolf Linn, assistant professor of German and chairman of the foreign languages department; Dr. Edmond Masson, assistant professor of French, and Mr. Winston Reynolds, instructor in Spanish, will each read and then translate poetry in German, French and Spanish. Such infrequent offerings as these should be taken advantage of by students.

A staging in song by the excellent singing groups of the Santa Barbara High School is another event that witnesses will not regret seeing. Moods In Music will offer a variety of songs by the A Cappella Chorus and Girls' Ensemble, a total congregation of 130 students. There are tickets available for 75 cents at the door.
