SUGGESTED FOR KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary scholastic fraternity on the campus, will take in several new members some time this month, according to plans laid in a meeting of the group on Tuesday night. As the new members are supposedly eligible for the fraternity were considered at that time, and admission requirements were Difﬁculties in interpretation of the national requirements arose when it was questioned whether applicants should be in the upper quartile in both general scholarship and educational courses or only in the latter. Clearing of the matter will follow communication from the national headquarters.

Plans for the initiation include a speech by President Phelps and induction ceremonies for the new members. The number of students to be taken in at that time is not deﬁnitely known at present.

There was a session of the Executive council meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, honor fraternity, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Jacobs on Tuesday evening, November 29.

The regular December meeting of the Kappa Delta Pi was held at the home of Mrs. Willard Perry, 215 E. Anapamu, on Tuesday evening, December 6.

ERICSON HAS HOUSEWARMING FOR NEW HOME

Approximately seventy-ﬁve facul-ty members and friends attended the housewarming of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Ericson Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 4 o’clock, in their new home at 1231 Dover Road.

The building, situated on one of the Riviera’s many lovely spots overlooking the valley and city, is the Channel Islands and Ericson may be seen in the future.

Mandamas Phelps, Carson and Peters and Miss Leonard assisted Mrs. Ericson at the table. Miss Ettore Cadorin rendered three delightful solos.

The guests were escorted through the new home in groups by Miss Ebbets, Ericson and Phelps. The plans for the house, which is Moorish in design, were made by Mrs. Ericson and executed by the college architectural classes under his supervision. Mrs. Ericson gave her particular attention to the decoration of her future home, and was responsible for the selection of colors, the painting of the walls and ceilings.

A number of industrial education students have assisted in various times in the construction of the building from excavating to interior decorating.

PASadena will be CONTenders in BIG DEBATE

Benjamin Margolies was selected as the captain of the debating team that is to meet Pasadena J.C. January 13, Evelyn Dearborn, the junior and Ettore Cadorin, the senior, are the other members of the team.

Louise Baer is ﬁrst substitute, working along with the regular members.

This debate is a double debate, Santa Barbara sending two down to Pasadena, while Pasadena sends two here. The negative and affirmative sides have not as yet been chosen.

The question that was debated in the Forum and won by Robert Smith and Evelyn Dear- born, on the negative side, will be the topic of the two schools. It is: “Resolved, That Mussolini has done more harm than good to the world.”

The alumnae club of the Delta Sigma Epilson gave a Christmas party to the alumnae, Miss Elsie Pond, 1002 Alameda Padre Serra, last Saturday night for the active members.

The evening was spent in making up Christmas gifts for the alumnae who will have to leave tomorrow afternoon are planning to depart Sunday morning.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT STAGES XMAS SALE

A miscellaneous sale is being staged by the Home Economics department today in the corridors. Candles and cake are the only things in the food line, while ﬂowers, plants, paintings, and textiles are the feature of the textile department.

Helen Donnelly has charge of the sale as president of Phi Delta Upsilon, the H. E. club. The money made will be sent to Los Angeles to the headquarters of the S. E. association for the local department belongs.

The Associated Woman Students held an “echo” luncheon yesterday during the fourth hour and the hour prior to the basketball game who attended the Southern California conference in Redlands reported on the activities of the meeting.

Rosamond Martin spoke on “Law Enforcement” and “Social Activities.” Lucille Hester explained the “Little Sister Movement” in a way of upholding “Good Scholarship,” and “Vocational Guidance.” “Pregnancy-Social Calendar” and “Permanent Social Activities” were the subjects of Violette Ebbets, Paul Crawford spoke on “Finance and Budgeting.” Clara Parrett, president of the A.W.S., headed the group at the conference.

All women brought box lunches, ice cream and cake were sold at the luncheon. The affair was held in front of the gymnasium.

Basketball Begins With Large Turn-Outs

As the last Student Body social before the holidays, the Christmas season semi-final tonight at the Santa Barbara county will be given at the Margaret Taylor Inn on Tuesday, December 20. Mrs. Miller, head of all alumnae work, will be in charge of the programs.

Red and green decorations, symbols of the gift-giving season, will mark the two rooms used for dancing.

SET FOR CHRISTMAS DANCE, LAST SOCIAL AFFAIR BEFORE HOLIDAYS FOR STUDENTS.
AN INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL IS ESTABLISHED

The establishment of an inter-fraternity council on the campus will do much toward increasing the feeling of friendliness between the groups. It has long been felt that such a council was needed, but it was not until this year that there was any success in the effort of those concerned in seeing such a development.

This council will work in much the same way as the Pan-Hellenic does for the sororities. All matters pertaining to the affairs of the fraternities will be thus openly discussed and a different approach made in the solution of problems.

The Eagle is wholeheartedly behind the new council. It is certain to succeed. Things established for the good of others are not likely to be done "just because." The originator and establisher of such an organization, if it may be called such, is something of which to be proud. And after the men who compose the council have put into motion the ideas included in its founding the campus will be bigger and better for it. So, once more, The Eagle states that it is behind the new inter-fraternity council.

LAST WEEK'S EDITORIAL MISINTERPRETED; EXPLAINED

An article was the basis for one of the editorials on the second page of the last issue of this paper. The Eagle does not make a policy of printing articles that have not some basis, if only that somebody said the words in the hearing of the reporter. Due to this article, the editor of The Eagle wrote concerning actions of students at dances, mentioning specifically the report that it is behind the new inter-fraternity council.

The whole of the editorial is not for the benefit of the people who arrange the dances held for the campus, but for the students that make the student police a success. It seems impossible that any other viewpoint could be obtained, but one was. As a consequence this editorial is being written.

To eliminate the impression that some students obtained, it is now stated that the directors of the club said that of all outside organizations, the State college is more favorable to them, and if it were possible would be allowed to hold dances there. It is the members of the club that are objecting.

Now, it is hoped that all are appeased. If not, we are sorry.

GIVE FACTS TO THE EAGLE REPORTER

Sometimes complaints reach us that articles are not correct in every detail. It is hard to make them so when the one to be interviewed is vague and hurried in giving the information.

Another complaint is that some affair was scheduled, yet no mention was made concerning it. When a reporter is sent for a story, it is a common thing for him or her to return, saying that the person would not give facts, or merely intimated them.

This happened when a story was assigned about the art bazaar. The reporter was told that no chairman had been appointed, or else evaded direct questions. Yet, when the paper comes on the campus and a hurried search reveals that no event was made, they want to know why.

This is why simply that no story is made from words to the effect that "a success is portended," or "that many are expected to attend." That is editorializing on the part of the reporter, and not what we want in the article intended for news.

If you want your affair to receive publicity through the news columns, give the reporter sent to you the "dope," and do not hem and haw around. Otherwise there will be no story.
NEW ADDITION TO SANTA BARBARA STATE COLLEGE

The picture shows the approved plan for the $175,000 Home Economics and Science building for the Santa Barbara State Teachers college. The drawing was received Saturday by President Phelps.

Announcement that the Santa Barbara State college will be the recipient of a $175,000 gift from the state in the shape of a new Home Economics building was made by President Phelps Saturday night. The building has been planned for some months but final approval of the plans has now taken place and after the correction of minor details bids will be called on the work and actual construction will begin.

The first step in the construction of a reorganized college was the appropriation of $150,000 for the new Administrative building which combines an auditorium, a new library and offices for school officials. The next step is the Home Economics building which will complete the front stretch of the campus to the eastward. The next step planned is the second wing of the Home Economics building which will be in the nature of a science laboratory and classrooms.

Money for the new building is on hand and according to the president there should be no delay after the building is started. The money is also appropriated for the use of the college during the last state legislature. Bids are to be opened in January.

When money for the second unit is appropriated plans will be developed for modern scientific work in the college. This wing will cost $350,006. Bringing the total amount spent for the new building to $550,000.

Further delay in the obtaining of materials for the nearly completed Administrative building has been predicted and at present college officials do not expect to enter the building before January 3, when the college resumes from the Christmas vacation.

Plans for the new wing of the college show it to be a two-story building of cement construction, designed in Spanish architecture. The minute details of the construction work are to be discussed by President Phelps when he visits officials in Sacramento on December 16. It is possible that at this time he will also discuss permanent work on the college athletic field.

BRUIN EDITOR STRIKES BLOW AT 'JOINERS'

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8. - Striking a telling blow to those "joiners" who infest and harm all colleges, James F. Wickizer, editor of the Daily Bruin, in his editorial column, "The Stray Cat," has turned the cleansing light of publicity upon those clubs that exist only to give joiners enjoyment.

Various organizations that meet often enough to "promise" to accomplish something for the good of the Associated Students and then only to decide upon organization badges are being exposed in this column.

The articles name prominent organizations that have done nothing but run up debts with the year book, disturbed the business of the campus and annoyed the legitimate and sincere organizations.

The series of exposures began after the Press club, campus journalistic society, had decided to hand over its "accomplished nothing" and couldn't fulfill its financial obligations. In disbanded, the Press club expressed the hope that all other campus organizations in a similar predicament would follow their example.

MOST OF U. OF. OREGON STUDENTS ON OWN

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 8. - Approximately three-fourths of the students of the University of Oregon are wholly or partly self-supporting, according to a recent report made by Karl M. Pallett, registrar. Only 813 out of 2849 students enrolled on the Eugene campus depend upon their parents for entire support.

The number of men who are entirely "on their own" is 560, more than one-third the enrollment. Women are entirely self-supporting number 172, or 13 per cent of the total.

"The fact that 101 senior men out of 322 are wholly self-supporting indicates that students who must make their own way in life realize the value of university training enough to actually earn it at a sacrifice," points out Mr. Pallett.

LECTURE ROOM IN GYM RE-ARRANGED

The W. A. A. members spent last Saturday in calculating and rearranging the lecture room adjoining Miss Wenge's office in the gymnasium.

A number of the chairs were taken out to make room for another couch, a table, and a small photograph. The curtains made by the women were hung on the windows. Pictures were also placed on the wall.

Emterhein, Rose Zucker, Agnes Delaney, Margaret Webster, Elizabeth Davis.

The juniors are represented by Herman Perry, Angudina Alliverti, Beryl Dunning, Hattie Maguire, Dorothy Merritt, Dorothy Mansfield and Ada Vining. Evelyn Camp, senior, is the only woman out for that class.

W. A. A. HOOP SERIES BEGIN WITH RIVALRY

Basketball practice has been held every night this week at the Junior High gym. From all appearances Coach DeGroot seems to have the number he needs for the basketball season, which began last week, has the greatest numbers of women signed. The freshmen head the list with seventeen, the sophomores with fourteen, and the juniors and seniors last with eight.

The first basketball practice was held this week in the gym on Thursday and Tuesday afternoons.

The freshmen out are Helen Smith, Kathryn Lamperti, Evelyn Kearns, Rosamond Young, Helen Nauznan, Florence Reeder, Dorothy Cuneves, Rose Alexki, Lucile Ford, Louise Lowery, Nellah Crane, Edwin Maxwell, Beatrice Denton, Ellen Atkinson, Marjorie Holmes, Irene Rinkle, Aileen Malanen.

The sophomores are Kathleen Donahue, Lucile Powen, Marilyn Jameson, Elizabeth Nite, Claire Kibble, Helen Thompson, Dora Woodr, Mildred Mincher, Ruby Hendricks, and Edith Grinter.

Dr. Helen Keller, on "Word-Blindness."

Findings by Dr. Grace Fernald, associate professor of psychology at U.C.L.A., and Dr. Helen Keller, in the problem of "word blindness," will be published in book form soon, "Word-blindness," is a strange mental complex which makes it impossible for the victim to recognize or learn the printed word.

Supposedly abnormal children have been the subjects of the lectures and struggles of Dr. Fernald and Dr. Keller for ten years. Countless tests have been taken during this ten-year period.

FOOTBALL

The guard berths have plenty of excellent material ready for them. Nebby, Amino, Inos, Grenough, Manne, Pollard, T. Foss and Cravens are all out for the guard positions. Most of these men are veterans in the game and Coach DeGroot will not be lacking in a showy reserve staff.

An attempt is being made to arrange a game next month with either Santa Maria or Ventura. This will be a good chance for a practice game and the fellows will get to out and show their ability.

The first game of the season is set for Saturday, January 7, on the local court. The initial encounter will be with the Southwestern University junior varsity.

The Varsity ought to be in top form when it leaves on its northern conference jaunt about the middle of February. The two-week trip will include tilts with Sacramento, Chico, Modesto, Cal Poly and San Jose.
