Anyway, now that the season curtain raiser is a thing of the past, I think you can count on the cobined chiefs of staff-Engle, Kelliher, and Williams—to mold the losing ball club you saw last Friday into a winning ball club on plenty of succeeding Fri-

Naturally, the loss of any football game is plenty hard to take and the Gaucho gridmen, although they felt pretty bad afterwards, had the spirit and will to want to go back out on the gridiron and play it all over again after they had had time to mend some of their erring ways.

The Gorrie brothers kept up the honor of Pasadena by playing some heads up ball during their stay in the game. Dick's throwing arm was definitely on, and Doug was a terror on defense. Probably the team's greatest all-around performance was donated by Captain Ferd Lloyd who seemed to be on everything, offensively or defensively. Mike Moropoulus, reserve center, also came up with some excellent play in the short time he was in the game.

In winning, the Poets went over, through, though, or around the Gauchos with amazing regularity. A devastating ground attack rolled 278 yards from scrimmage and deadly passing accounted for a six out of eight average and 54 Just to show that they still loved yards. The Gauchos could only manage to get together one contrated attack, and this was mainly through the air late in second quarter when Dick Gorrie, hitting pass receivers five out of seven times, masterminded a touchdown march that started on the S. B. 26 and reached eleven plays later.

The Golden Gauchos had the fight and spirit throughout the entire game to compensate for their shortages in experienced letter and 200-lb. backs. The Poets were blostered by 22 returning lettermen while the Gauchos were endowed with 14 block "C" winners. The small but speedy Santa Barbara gridders were simply outclass and outcharged by the welloiled Whittier machine during about three-fourths of the game.

Passing Click

The contest not only opened the 1949 Gaucho football season, but served to introduce Santa Barbara's new head coach, Roy W. Engle, to those loyal Gaucho students and their guests who were present. Coach Engle in turn introduced a new offense to the spectators in the form of a fast, deceptive "T" formation. Although their ground game was practically nil-66 net yards rushing-the passing of Mullaney, Gorrie, and Clark was to be commended. These Gaucho signal-callers completed eleven out of 21 attempts good for 105 yards, and had but one interception. Whittier won the first downs contest, 15-8.

Coach Engle and his gridders received some highly valuable experience last Friday as they were afforded real action, and will now be given a better chance to iron out those early season gremlins which plague any new coach and his team. The Gaucho passing attack was extremely effective and

"Frosh-get them beanies!"that's the word of the Squires nowadays, with the Honorary Sophomores scouting the campus for delinquent yirst-year men.

Squires will hold initiation for new members on Thurs. Sept. 29 and on Thurs. Oct. 6. Members are once again reminded to check the Squires board at the entrance to the cafeteria.

ELEMEDS

A free beach party is in line for all members of the Elemeds, that organization for all future elementary education teachers. Food, fun, and frolic has been promised by President John Craig and members of his executive board. The spot, East Beach! the time, 4 to 8 pm; and the date, Thursday, October 6. A sign will be posted in Dr. Byers office which members are encouraged to sign before September 30. TENNIS CLUB

Rackets are about to swing in the College Recreation Associations' Tennis Club. There is going to be a meeting in Pine Hall 100 on September 28, Wednesday, from seven to ten in the evening. The main objective of the meeting is to elect a president, secretary, and publicity director. Last year there was no formal organization, but Helen Weis ably filled the chairmanship.

This year the Tennis Club will continue its varied and vigorous schedule of activities which includes such events as a tournament with UCLA sometime in the fall, a round-robin within the school, singles, mixed doubles, as well as a lot of un in getting together each week just to smash the pellet over the net.

ART DEPARTMENT

Enrollment in the art department has increased to 1005 students which is 35 more than in the spring semester, according to Dr. Evans, chairman.

The increase is manly due to elementary education majors who must satisfy applied art require-

Panamanian Invasion

Last but not least we have Alice Castro in our midst-a Physical Education major with an impressive swimming record to her credit already. Alice swam in the Central American and Bolivian Olympics and won a second in the 220. She is a very attractive Latin girl with black hair, laughing dark eyes, and a flawless com-plexion. If you were to go up to her and say "Ola, amiga, como se va?" she would probably answer you with a long spell of Spanish and a friendly smile. Another Panama girl promises to make good at Santa Barbara and bring more of the good neighbor policy right onto the campus. This welcome flood of Panamanians makes most of us wish we could visit their land for a while. It must be a wonderful place!

Gauchos Drop Opener

ATTN: VETERANS

All veterans are reminded that, according to Robert W. Webb, Acting Campus Coordinator, October 15 is the deadline for veterans to purchase books and supplies at the bookstore.

Any person interested in forming a jazz club and-or a jazz band, contact J. L. Fozard, 118 North Milpas St.
