Debators Sign for Contest

Registration Closes Monday in Speech Intra-Mural Tilt

Registration for entrance to the intra-mural debate tournament to take place under the auspices of the forensic council will be accepted up to and including next Monday, according to W. Charles Redding, forensic sponsor. The first round will take place Tuesday evening, November 29.

Any two individuals may form a team as independents or representatives of a campus organization, and all teams will debate the first three rounds without elimination. The decisions will be sealed and no team will be informed of them until the last of the three rounds has been completed. Teams winning all three or two out of three of their debates will go into the finals, which will be bracketed, direct elimination, tournament.

Debate Question

The question, which was overwhelmingly chosen by a ballot of the forensic council, is: "Resolved: that all male citizens of the United States should refuse to take arms unless the nation or its possessions are actually invaded."

Campus organizations may enter as many teams as they desire, and the contestants will be given their choice on which side of the question they shall debate. It is possible, however, that late registrants will be assigned a side if one side of the question has been picked by too many teams. It is also possible that teams arriving at the finals will have to change stands.

Open to Newcomers

The debate is primarily for inexperienced debaters, according to Redding, and a brief manual on debate technique will be available for entrants. Members of the forensic council will receive mimeographed copies of the rules, and a bibliography on the question as prepared by Redding.

Awards for the winners as well as points will be given to all candidates. These points will be added at the end of the year to ascertain the student who has been of most value forensically. The debate is the second of a series of intra-mural speech events, the first of which was the W.C.T.U. contest. Contests to follow will be extemporaneous speech, in January, after dinner speaking, and finally oratory.

GDC Houses Pan-Hell Meet

Pan-Hellenic Council members were the guests of Gamma Delta Chi sorority at a dinner followed by a business meeting last night at the sorority house.

Plans for the January formal dance were discussed; Gwelda Loyd Pan Hellenic social chairman will be in charge. The success of the Pan-Hellenic tea given for the new women October 29, was also discussed.

The president and one representative from each of the seven campus sororities and Dean Lois Bennink, Pan Hellenic adviser, were present at this affair. This was the third dinner meeting of the Pan-Hellenic this semester. Pat Barrett, Gamma Delta Chi president and Lois Arthur representative had charge of last night's plans.

State Library Chains off Book Sections

Expansion Work Starts On Reserve Shelves Behind New Loan Desk

Preparations for the closing of all shelves in the State college library is rapidly getting under way according to President Clarence L. Phelps. The changes which are being made in the library in order to increase working efficiency have already started with the chains across the section entrances and the increase of reserve book space.

The work of enlarging the reserve section has been started with expansion of the loan desk and with the creation of temporary shelves. In addition President Phelps has issued a statement to the faculty requesting the extension of reserved lists.

According to Phelps the library will no longer be kept open evenings unless the attendance makes a sudden raise. Under present attendance conditions it is too expensive to maintain the library during the evenings.

Under the new system students will be required to obtain permission from the librarian in order to enter the chained sections. All books removed from the sections must be returned to the desk. This method will prevent the placement of books on the wrong shelves.

On the reserved books the system will be maintained in the same fashion as it is at present. The only important difference will be the enlargement of this section.

President Phelps issued the following statement concerning the change: "As soon as this change can be made, and is working reasonably well it is expected that the stacks will be closed with some possible exceptions in cases of special assignments. Special authorization may be given to certain individuals who may be permitted access to the stacks to take books out for use in the library with the understanding that return will be to the loan desk before leaving the library. Books will then be replaced in their proper places by the library staff, with a minimum of confusion."

College Holds Aztec Dance

Honoring students of Santa Barbara and San Diego State colleges, a dance will be held at Rockwood Women's club Saturday night from 9 to 12. The Gauchos meet the Aztecs from San Diego Saturday afternoon in a football game at La Playa field.

With a large group of students from the southern city expected to come to Santa Barbara for the traditional game, a large turnout is expected by Betty Palmayesa, social committee chairman in charge of arrangements for the dance.

Hile Calls Tryouts for New Play

Students Audition Friday Afternoon For 'Craig's Wife'

George Kelly's "Craig's Wife" will get its cast for the Santa Barbara State college's Little theater version this Friday afternoon when Director Frederic W. Hile, speech arts instructor, holds tryouts in the Administration auditorium from 2 to 5 p.m. Hile invites all students to participate in this second major production of the Player's club year with special invitation to sophomores and upper classmen.

Staff positions will also be opened at this time and students interested in serving in executive and committee capacity for the show should be present to apply at this time. Production dates set for the show are January 18, 19 and 20 in the College theater.

Domestic Play

The play, which is one of Kelly's best works deals with the domestic problem of a wife who idolizes her home and forgets her husband. Complications to keep the interest of the plot are developed by characters that will give ample opportunity for aspiring Thespians outside the two major roles of Craig and wife to display their ability. Parts will be opened to 10 collegians with the women's parts outnumbering male roles by two.

Surpasses 'Kind Lady'

As the second feature of the Player's club season, "Craig's Wife" is destined to reach and surpass the success of the first production "Kind Lady."

The wife story has a brilliant dialogue and interesting subtleties of characters which is thoroughly lacking in the script of the mystery melodrama. Hile reports the use of a completely modern set in contrast to the staid and conventional one employed in most previous productions of the Kelly comedy.

Freshmen are asked to tryout for the parts that are open on Friday, but, Hile reports, that preference in case of a close decision will be given to upper classmen and sophomores as the major productions are to be cast principally with these wherever possible, with the neophytes taking part in the semi-annual series of freshman one-act plays.

A.S. Council Meets Today

Special session of the student council will convene today at 4:30 p.m. for the purpose of selecting a welfare chairman according to Doug Duckham, student body president. The selection is being made to fulfill the position left by Bill Russell, who has assumed the responsibilities of finance chairman.

At the present time the only name placed in application is that of John Austin. Austin is student director of the State college band. Other members of the welfare body are Robert Leslie, secretary, and John T. Porter, and Dr. C. L. Jacobs, sponsors.

Appointment of parliamentarian is to be postponed until the next regular session of the council in order to make more careful preparations for this office, according to Duckham.

Local Swing Dancers Perform for Lions

Swing dancing teams from the Santa Barbara State Artist bureau were featured at the Lions' club luncheon, Thursday noon on a half hour program.

Dorothy Emerson, Don Estey, Maxine Sudbury, Frank Jones, Genevieve Nordli and Redman Beasley composed the three teams, with Josephine McBride accompanying at the piano. Miss Emerson and Estey also presented a specialty act entitled "Balboa Special."

Local Music Instructor Appears as Guest Pianist At Army Concert

Mrs. Anita Cochran Priest, State college music instructor, will take the seat as guest pianist tomorrow evening at the National Guard armory when the Federal Symphony orchestra presents its monthly concert. Special invitation to the performance has been extended to all college students and faculty members by Mrs. Priest.

David Zeikel, who was formerly violin soloist with the Boston Symphony orchestra, will share the limelight with the State instructor. Zeikel who was concert-master with the R. K.O. Theatre of the Air, will play the Guskoi-Machen American concerto, which he originally introduced on this continent.

Mrs. Priest is scheduled to play George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue". According to Mrs. Priest this music is outstanding as symphonic jazz embodiment of the American musical idiom.

For several years Mrs. Priest has performed as organist at local churches. At the college, she innovated a series of special music programs composed of famous recordings. During last year she took charge of arrangements for the eighth annual all-college Southern California symphony on the State campus.

Raymond Eldred, supervisor of the Santa Barbara federal music project, will direct the 100-piece Federal Symphony orchestra. The program will include the Second Symphony (Pastorale) in D-major by Brahms and the "Coriolan" overture by Beethoven.

The Federal orchestra was represented before a State college audience last year by a group of forty musicians. Highlight of that program was the New World Symphony by Dvorak.

There was a talk on "Modern Lithography" by J. Isham of the Western Lithograph company.

A model initiation was conducted by the Santa Barbara chapter at El Paseo immediately before dinner Saturday evening. Following the presentation of awards C. Laurence Smith spoke on the "Trials and Tribulations of a Foreign Correspondent."

Sunday morning the group gathered for a breakfast in Ebbets' hall. John Allen Smith, former national president of the organization spoke on "Highlights of a Journalist's Vacation in Europe." Following his speech the group met in joint business session before adjournment.

In the publications contest Long Beach Junior college captured the first place awards in the newspaper, handbook and yearbook contests. Other awards went to Santa Ana for newspaper and to the Pasadena Junior college yearbook. Judges on this contest were Miss E. Louise Noyes and Glenn I. Wallace of the local high school.

State Department Sends College Check For Light Payment

Follett Reveals Receipt of $5125 from State Treasury for La Playa Field Arcs Purchased from Peabody Stadium

The Associated Students received a check for $5125 in payment for the lights on new La Playa field last week from the state department of education.

According to Graduate Manager Don Follett, receipt of the check is in fulfillment of the agreement made between the state and the student body concerning lights installed at State college expense in eabody stadium two summers ago.

Frosh Begin Structure of Huge Bonfire

Crew Erects Braces For Rubbish Pile for Traditional Rally Blaze

Monday afternoon saw the beginning of work on the traditional freshman bonfire near new La Playa field. It was originally planned to have the bonfire near the armory, but the present site seemed more suitable to the committee in charge of arrangements.

Ray Kent, in charge of the bonfire, is assisted by Jerry Knight, freshman class vice-president, with a crew of six freshmen.

Monday the crew set up two 35 foot telephone poles, and Tuesday they set up the other two poles. These poles are for the purpose of bracing the huge pile of rubbish, boxes, and crates which will soon start forming.

"We don't want anything to happen," says Kent, "so we have some of the fellows sleeping down there every night. Gosh it's cold down there."

Freshmen women are not lying down on the job, and all week will take hot coffee and food down to the men staying on the beach at night. Kent requests that all women who are able to bring food down should do so.

The bonfire has traditionally been held on homecoming week, but this year because the homecoming program was so full it was decided to hold the bonfire before the San Diego game.

Following the bonfire rally Friday night there will be a dance at the armory. Admission will be by A.S. book and 25 cents; the usual charge is 40 cents.

Delta Sigs Fete Sororities

All campus social sorority members will be the guests of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority at a tea Sunday, from 3 to 5 p.m., at the Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority house on Prospect avenue. Dean Lois Bennink, Pan Hellenic sponsor, and Miss Florence Clark, sorority lawyer, are also invited.

The committees are headed by Helen Williams, invitations; Jean Clausen, foods; Alice Graham, properties; Sally Entz, tea table; Alice Goff, clean-up. Jean Anglemeyer, who is head of the decoration committee plans to carry out the Autumn theme.

Virginia Rogers, president of Delta Sigma Epsilon, Joan Schmitz, and Gwynne Sydnese, will be in the receiving line.

Mathias Gives Fourth Recital

Fourth of a series of organ recitals was presented in the College auditorium at 4 p.m. on Sunday, when William Mathias, organ instructor played a difficult program including the Bach Prelude and Fugue in D major and the Allegro movement from the Symphonie VII by Charles Marie Widor. Other selections were "Miserere" by William Byrd, Prelude and Cantabile from Perne's Suite for Organ, and the Symphonischer Choral by Sigfrid Karg-Elert.

WAA Bills Games For Recreation Night

Badminton, ping-pong, volleyball, checkers and quilts will be on the program planned by Jessie Lady for the Recreation night to be given by the Women's Athletic association tonight in the gym.

These programs which are held the first and third week of each month are under the direction of a different member of the W.A.A. every week.

At that time, the student body, in dire need of a turf field to replace the dirt grounds of Pershing park, had decided to place the lights in the high school stadium. A further arrangement was later made for the state to lift the burden of expense from the shoulders of the student body by purchasing the lights for the field on the site of the new campus.

Last month, on completion of the bleachers, the work on the transfer of the lights from Peabody to La Playa began and was completed in time for the night Homecoming game with San Jose.

Follett states the state engineer has estimated that the arrangement of the lights in their present situations has increased efficiency about 15 per cent over their former positions in Peabody stadium. A number of dark spots have been eliminated, leaving the field in equal illumination throughout.

When the lights had been installed in their original position a year and a half ago, the agreement made with the high school had been to allow them their use at any time, as compensation for State's privilege of using the lighted field during football season. When the actual talk of removal of the lights started, the high school, noting the increase in the gate receipts of the night games, objected to the plan.

An acceptable agreement was finally reached, however, when the high school received a gift of about $4000 dollars to cover the cost of setting an entirely new set in place of the College lights.

Last Thursday marked the opening of a series of weekly Town Hall broadcasts, heard throughout the nation.

Democracy Aided By Series of Town Hall Broadcasts

If it were feasible, in order to have pure democracy, all the inhabitants of America should be gathered into one group to be heard and to make their laws.

There will always be differences of opinion. Democracy is based on the premise that these differences will be allowed to exist and be heard.

Last year the editor of the leading New York communist paper was allowed to speak at Town Hall. That, in our mind, represented a step forward in Democracy.

It would be well to remember that we cannot crush "isms" by shutting their proponents in dungeons.

College Showoffs At Game Leaves Poor Impression

It would seem that the exhibitionism staged by a high school group at the homecoming encounter the week before was repulsive enough to keep any witnesses to it—let alone State college students—from duplicating such actions.

In the eyes of the rest of the students, their actions were a show of rank disloyalty to the College. There can be no excuse for setting oneself in a special class to deliberately heckle the efforts of the majority.

The damage, whether little or great, is done, but this editorial "cries over spilt milk" with the hope that a similar exhibition will not occur again.

Italy Objects To Influence Of Popeye

"Popeye, Mickey Mouse, and other child favorites of comic strip and juvenile story are to be barred from Italy in the interest of totalitarian education for children." (UP)

A fine thing I must say. So Popeye is a sissy, eh? Our own rough tough, muscle-bound, spinach growers delight, is not good enough for the most beautiful, their drooleries the militaristic whims of the sons of the Wolf.

It is a well known fact that children have the most prolific imaginations that have yet been imagined. Their mental images approach the height of ridiculousness or the pinnacle of sublimity.

Should we take all these things away from the growing child and into one of his hands thrust a gun and into the other put a folio on military technique? Should we trade Mickey Mouse for a keg of powder or Donald Duck for a cannon?

Utopia Solves Yell Situation

After that unexcelled exhibition of unorganized cheering last Saturday at the Cal-Aggie football game, one is inclined to wish for the appearance of someone possessing the magic powder that makes yell leaders yell the proper way.

As this is impossible because there is no such thing as magic powder, all we can do is hope for the next best thing—an Utopia for rooting sections and yell leaders.

The Utopia we desire will have all the characteristics of the usual run of these aesthetic worlds. There will be a training period, a period to provide for experience and the final stage in which all the knowledge is put into practice.

Yell leaders especially will be exposed to the rigid instruction of the first two stages and in the end will emerge with the perfect judgment that our worldly ones lack.

They will see that the yells at their command are of the best, and never call a long one when there is danger that a play will start before the yell ends.

We hope for such wonderful conditions knowing that they will probably never be attained, but with the belief that at least some steps can be made in that direction.

"One of the most serious threats to our freedom lies in the fact that we Americans are at heart a rather violent people." Professor Kimball Young of the University of Wisconsin, says that danger to American democracy come more from the manner in which we try to solve our national problems than from infiltration of ideas advocating non-democratic forms of government.

The House Painter's Vengeance
Sloan's Strange Methods
[Portrait of a man]

The mad dog of Europe bites again. With the shooting of a pure Aryan as an excuse, the assassins of Berlin plunder and pillage and "fine" the minority of Jews.

The house painter places a high value on Aryan life. For the life of the slain German, he asks $400,000,000 and the lives of between 500,000 and 600,000 Jews.

From England we hear that the Chamberlain government, profascist as it is, has finally seen fit to challenge Hitler's bluff. After selling the nations of the world down the river once, the British government felt itself on perilous ground in the eyes of the English public.

The further he goes, the surer we feel that the house painter is preparing for his own demise. The thumb screws have been down before and when the pressure became unbearable, the persecuted rebelled.

After Saturday night's gridiron gambling on La Playa turf, we have definitely come to the conclusion that the Gauchos get along much better when we are not around to watch them perform.

Although the frigid temperature didn't keep us away, it did aid in lessening the attendance, we hear. From an authoritative source, we learn that President Phelps was disappointed in the appearance of the Gaucho band.

We believe in criticism where criticism is due, and have in the past alluded to certain performances of the local musicians as not exactly praiseworthy.

Harry Sloan, chairman of the rally committee, notified Mr. Robert Louis Barron, band director, that the band need not appear at La Playa field Saturday night.

Sloan, too, had planned a program of fireworks, but had neglected to get a permit from the city for the display, after buying all the materials.—S.C.

After A Fashion

By ROSALIND BRADBURY

• Hello . . . Who? . . . Oh, Clara Mae. Sorry I wasn't able to get in touch with you yesterday . . . Say, don't you think that campus clothes are unusually interesting this year? They certainly are on the up trend. I have a few examples of this, but first I want to tell you of a grand new development. One that no one has heard of yet. There have been several contests of various sorts this semester, but none of them has had to do with fashion modes. Now comes one that has to do with nothing else . . . for this week starts a contest to find the two best dressed boys and girls (two of each) on the campus. Every male student body member may hand in suggestions as to the two girls, and the girls may do the same about the fellows. These suggestions are to be turned in to me, and then a committee will decide, from these suggestions and from their own observations, the four winners. Prizes for the contest will be announced in the near future . . . Do you like that? Yes? Well, don't forget to help us out, for all suggestions will be considered.

Wasn't that an exciting game Saturday? I was so happy to see a nice big victory chalked up for the Gauchos. What . . . clothes at the game? Yes there were some outstanding outfits. MARIE NAVARRO was wearing one of the best looking three-piece suits that I have seen this fall. It was composed of a skirt and a button top with a full length coat. The wool was quite soft, and it was in a beautiful wine tone. MARIE's accessories were black, and she wore a sweater, hat, shoes and gloves to advantage in this color. There were two coats that caught my eye. The hats that were worn with them blended well too. LOIS COBB had on one of these. Hers was a beige coat with a brown fur collar, and her hat was a lovely thing in the same shades. LOIS hat was very different . . . the brown was treated in an odd manner, in that it was in thin strips around the crown and brim. ELEANOR BENHAM was stunning in a light tan coat with a large fur collar. Her hat and shoes were in brown.

Have you noticed that our local merchants have been displaying some exceptionally gorgeous creations lately? Yes? Then did you notice the wool dress and hat in the royal blue and rose shades, that was shown this week-end? The dress was of a knitted weave wool, and carried out the rose and royal blue that tended on the violet shades in an almost symmetrical pattern of stripes. It was plainly tailored, and its whole unique mode was the unusual use of these colors. The hat that accompanied it was of the royal blue-violet with a peaked front brim that gave it a very nonchalant air, and the slight trim around the base of the crown was in the rose. Repetition is often a bad thing, but just as often can be a good thing.

'Torchbearers' Traces History Of American Little Theaters For Lobero Theater Audiences

• "The Torch-bearers" is the story of the rise and fall of the little theater movement in one man's home.

Written in 1922 by the talented George Kelly and staged by the author last Friday and Saturday nights at the Lobero theater, this mirthful comedy traces the rehearsal, performance and after effects of one of those amateur productions that for years have borne the brunt of an unceasing strain of slighting "digs" from the American public.

In "The Torch-bearers" this type of ridicule reaches its most hilarious point. Starring Constance Collier, as Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli, the pompous society matron with an extended conception of her knowledge of the theater, the three act play brought many laughs from the two large audiences.

The first and second acts having been devoted to preparation for and performance of the play within a play, the essence of the production is packed into the last act. It is here that Mrs. Pampinelli and Frederick Ritter, portrayed by Clay Clement, engage in a heatedly humorous argument concerning the merits and demerits of the amateur production. Mr. Clement's excellent portrayal of an outspoken and comically critical husband is one of the highlights of the play.

Florence Shirley's interpretation of Ritter's innocent, innocuous wife is very entertaining. At the conclusion of the play, Ritter finally persuades her that it would be much better to have her atrocious performance in the public's mind only as a memory, and forsake a career on the stage.

Credit for excellent performance in "The Torch-Bearers" should go also to Maude Eburne, Walter Bonne, Anne O'Neal, and Ottola Nesmith.

High Royalty Necessitates Play Change

'A Woman of Character' Replaces 'So's Your Old Antique'

• Royalty difficulties with the play "So's Your Old Antique" necessitated the abandonment of the production by the freshmen one-act play director Rosalind Bradbury and supplementing it with "A Woman of Character" by Estelle A. Brown. This play with an entire cast of nine female characters along with Bob Har-cher's "Blood On My Hands" and A. A. Milne's "The Stepmother" will be presented for a college showing on December 2 in the Little theater.

Players in the new production for the series will be Margaret Glassford, Betty Pickford, Jane Ellen Van Wye, Jean Smith, Mrs. Bradbury, Maxine Sparks, Charloma Axford, Alice Wheeler and Winifred Nichols. Selection of experienced upper division students of the theater was necessary as an apathy of freshmen applicants was apparent.

In the other plays work has continued with a slight delay in "The Stepmother", directed by Jeanne Duran, because of the illness of Clyde Cadwell who has a leading role in the show. "Blood On My Hands" continued steady work under the direction of Jimmie Fullerton and one of the College's most unique stage settings is promised for the show with Ted S. Blake, student technical director of "Kind Lady" doing the job for Fullerton.

Several staff positions are still open to freshman students and others who wish to gain experience in this work and admittance to the Player's club. Aspirants should report to one of the directors in charge of the productions or to Frederic W. Hile, faculty adviser for the series.

Phi Deltas Pledge Four

• Four women were formally pledged at a meeting of Phi Delta Pi, national women's physical education fraternity last Monday night. Louella Daewelter, Mary Alice Murray, Sophia Patterson and Julia Rogers are the pledges.

Miss Merle Adams was guest speaker for the evening. She also entertained with several vocal selections, accompanying herself on the guitar.

GLASSES LOST

• A pair of gold-rimmed glasses attached to a pair of dark glasses were lost somewhere on the campus this week by Carol Moody. Miss Moody announces that if the finder will leave a note in box "M" a reward will be given.

By FRANCIS BECCHIO

Two of the major upsets registered in the United States this season resulted from last week-end's football clashes, with both of them being chalked up here on the Pacific coast. The first, U.S.C.'s downfall at the hands of a fighting Washington Husky eleven, made hash out of the standings in the coast conference race. The Trojans and California are now tied for the lead, with the Rose Bowl nominee situation once again up in the air.

Previous to the Washington game, it was all U.S.C. for the coast's Rose Bowl choice, but if the Trojans do win the conference and lose to Notre Dame, their last scheduled game, and Cal comes through the remainder of its slate unbeaten, it will make a ticklish proposition out of the bowl nomination. The Trojans and Bears will be tied for the conference title, and though the Jonesmen defeated the Bears, and would seem to have the inside track for the bowl game, there still is the factor that the Trojans had lost three games, and the Bears only one.

AGAIN CONGRATULATIONS

Several weeks ago we took issue with the action of the student body rooting section in booing a certain varsity griddler, stating that the students should leave it up to the coach to decide who should play and who shouldn't.

Coach Harder figured, despite Gardy Gardenhire's poor showing in some games, that the big backfield star had something to contribute in a football way to State's varsity and that when he snapped out of his apparent off-form exhibitions, the Gauchos would go places.

Well, Gardy snapped out of his slump last Saturday night and the Gauchos did go places, sparked by this same griddler who was publicly booed several weeks ago, much to the discredit of State's student body.

Congratulations, Gardy, for proving you could take it and besides that prove you really have it in you to be a great player. This writer, knowing of your outstanding record in high school and your brilliant play on the State frosh team, is frankly of the opinion that upon your shoulders rests the difference between victory and defeat over our bitter foes, San Diego's Aztecs. Keep it up Gardy and get out there Saturday afternoon and make history for State. You can do it.

Gauchos Defeat Aggies, 18-6; McArthur Races to Touchdown on Kick-Off

Gardenhire Scores Twice in Second Win of '38 Season

By DAVE EBERTS

Finally hitting their stride after getting off to a very shaky start, the Santa Barbara State Gauchos overpowered the Cal Aggies 18-6 last Saturday night at La Playa field to win their second game in eight starts.

A shivering crowd of 3000 brave souls managed to weather the icy climate and look on as the big green machine rolled to a victory behind the sparkling play of speed burning Bill McArthur and Forrest Gardenhire. Gardy, an in and outer all season, finally showed the stuff that he is made of and turned in his greatest game to date. He ran, passed and kicked his team into the win column.

Spectacular Run

From the opening kick-off, when McArthur raced 90 yards behind machine like interference to score, it appeared that it was a field day for the Gauchos. Their running and passing attack clicked like it should with Gardenhire to McArthur proving to be a very effective combination.

The Aggies scored their touchdown in the second period to tie the score as the Gauchos missed the extra point after McArthur's long run. Two touchdowns were scored by the Staters in the second half, one in the third and one in the fourth quarters. Gardy had a hand in both touchdowns, plunging over from the one yard line on one occasion and slashing his way 33 yards on an off-tackle thrust for the second.

Penalties against the Aggies set up the score that broke the 6-6 deadlock. An Aggie tackle, Ralph Westfall hung a haymaker on Gardenhire's jaw, drawing a 25 penalty against his team. He was also ejected from the game. The penalty brought the ball to the 22 where Gardy faded back and heaved a pass to McArthur in the end zone. Interference was called and the Green and White took the ball on the 1 yard line.

Gardy Scores

The third and final Gauchito touchdown was set-up by McArthur when he took Serpa's punt on his own 39 and returned it 22 yards to the Aggie 39. Gardenhire cracked center for six yards and then on the next play carried the pigskin to pay dirt after fighting off a half dozen tacklers, stopping and then plunging over with two men on his back.

Cross Country Runners Win Over Cal Tech

Santa Barbara State's Cross Country team defeated both Cal Tech varsity and the Cal Tech frosh last Thursday on the Pasadena course. In the varsity dual meet the score was Santa Barbara 20-Cal Tech 35 and in the triangular meet the Gauchos defeated the combined forces of the Cal Tech varsity and frosh squads. In cross country competition meets the low score wins.

Larry Snyder, former star miler for Paso Robles High school, won the three mile race in the fast time of 17 minutes five seconds. He was running under the banner of the Cal Tech frosh. George Soule of Santa Barbara took second against the frosh and broke the tape in front of the varsity competitors. Soule's time was 17 minutes 1 second.

Freddie Beckman and Bill Moody, Gauchito runners, finished third and fourth respectively. Russell Erickson of Santa Barbara came trailing in behind Beckman and Moody.

In a meet yesterday with Compton Junior college over the U.C.L.A. three mile course, the State harriers came out on top 27-28, when Erickson of the local squad came in second, and Gauchos Soule and Beckman finished third and fourth.

Nelson Places Third In Prep Saber Event

Marlin Nelson, State fencing instructor, placed third in the Southern California prep saber event last Saturday night at the Hollywood Athletic club to win the bronze medal. Nelson's second award of the current season. Fred Popham, another Gauchito entry, gained the final rounds where he was eliminated.

Next Friday night, six men will enter the Southern California novice foil meet in Los Angeles.

Gauchito Star . . .

Forrest Gardenhire, above, came through for the Gauchos last Saturday night against Cal Aggies with one of the best individual performances of State's 1938 season, scoring two of the Gauchito's three touchdowns.

Post Season Tilt Set With Alumni Eleven

Letter Settles Rumors Regarding Motive Which Prompts Game Proposal

A post season contest between the '38 edition of the Gauchito football machine and a picked alumni squad has been definitely set for early next month.

The alumni will hold a meeting tonight at 7 o'clock for all graduates interested in playing on the team. The session will be held in Don Follett's office.

The letter sent by the alumni to the board of athletic control proposing the game, which follows, will dispel all rumors as to the motive of the alumni in seeking a game with the current Gauchito team.

The undersigned propose that a team composed of graduated members of last year's varsity and teams of other years meet the 1938 varsity in a post-season game, the entire proceeds of which be given to the Board to aid in solving the problem of adequately providing financial aid to worthy State College athletes.

In making this suggestion, we should like to make it clear that we have no interest whatsoever in making any comparison between last year's team and this one. If it should happen that the alumni team scored a victory over the varsity, it would not be taken by us in the light of "showing up" the present Gauchito team. We think the competition will be close.

The members of past State College teams are motivated in wishing to schedule this game only by a sincere desire to provide some help to needy athletes. Few of the recent graduates are in a position to furnish direct financial assistance, and this is the only way at present in which they can demonstrate their loyalty and their desire to help.

Yours very sincerely,
JOHN TWADDELL

Nelson Scores High in Grid Selection Test

Marlin Nelson, fencing coach, proved his football prognosticating ability last week by capturing the chairmanship of the Students' Football Selection committee over six other members. Nelson scored a total of 16 points.

Tied for second place were Mary Tone, senior, and Jim Widman, frosh, with 13 points each. The placing of Miss Tone marks the second time since the committee began functioning that a feminine prognosticator has become a member. The other was Betty Caldwell, who garnered a second place several weeks ago.

Eliminated were Bob Lyman (12), Lloyd Borstelmann (11), Joe Glass (2), and Bill Allison (0).

In the competition between Elmer of Elmer's cafe and yours truly, the result was an 8-8 tie for this week, with Elmer being given the honors because of his picking St. Mary's over Santa Clara.

Scores of the games are: Irish 19 Minnesota 0, Pitt 19 Nebraska 0.

Record Crowd Seen For Aztec Contest

Prospects of the largest football crowd of Santa Barbara history looms for the Aztec-Gauchito game according to Don Follett, graduate manager. Follett issued this statement after communications with the San Diego officials Tuesday.

When the San Diego authorities reserved a section for the visiting fans from their city they requested at least 1000 seats and stated that more might be required. This crowd is expected to surpass the large group that came north in 1937.

In preparations for an over-capacity attendance Follett has been viewing the completion of the new stadium with anticipation. It is expected that all but half of one section will be completed in the permanent bleachers and all temporary seats will be set up.

Frosh Swamp Navy Team at Ventura, 25-0

Gauchitos Display Potent Passing Attack to Down U.S.S. West Virginia Crew

An alert and aggressive State College Freshman team bombarded a crew of sailors from Uncle Sam's Navy for a total of 25 points while they held the U.S.S. West Virginia squad to a large gooseegg, last Friday night in the Ventura High School stadium before 2000 fans.

The first quarter was mostly a punting duel, with Steffa, Navy back, keeping the Gauchitos in a hole with his coffin corner punts, but early in the second quarter, Goyette got away a nice kick from his own 5 to the Navy 27 yard line. That started things rolling, but after a nice 17 yard off-tackle dash by Don Ricker, that carried the ball to the Navy 20 yard line, the Gauchitos were held for downs.

Sleeper Play

Later in the second quarter, with the ball resting on the Navy 30 yard stripe, Earl Clayton faded back and passed to Cleo Goyette who was out wide on a sleeper play, for the first score of the game. Engle's kick was wide.

It was then that the Navy team started to roll, tearing off huge chunks of yardage, but they were finally set back to their own 49 where they had to punt. Jack Westfall tore through the Navy line and blocked Neuman's punt, then picked up the ball on the run and raced for touchdown. Goyette passed to Robinson for the extra point.

Fourth Down Pass

In the third quarter Clayton returned Steffa's punt to the Navy 20 where Goyette passed to Westfall on the five yard line. Then a fourth down pass from Goyette to Clayton added six more points for the Gauchitos. Again Engle's kick was wide.

The last Gauchito score came in the fourth quarter when Bob David recovered a Navy fumble on the 37 yard line of Navy. Goyette passed to Tillinghast on the Navy 10, and after a series of line plunges, Bob McKeever plunged through for the score. This time Tillinghast's conversion kick was wide.

Pomona Leads In Conference Football Race

position of the Southern California • Pomona's Sagehens are in the top conference grid race, with Whittier's Poets holding down second spot.

The Sagehens play a crucial game with Occidental this Saturday and a victory for the Tigers would shove Whittier into the lead. However, the Pomona eleven will enter the Oxy contest as heavy favorites to subdue the Tigers and clinch the conference.

San Diego State's Aztecs, who meet the Gauchos here Saturday, are in third position, with Redlands, Oxy and Cal Tech trailing in that order.

Jack Merritt, Pomona's all-coast prospect, is in the scoring lead, with his own teammate, Bob Fernandes, in second place. Bill Ellings of Santa Barbara is third.

San Diego scored the most impressive victory of any conference team this past week, humbling the powerful San Diego Marines, 9-. This victory has placed the Aztecs in the favorite's role for their annual "grudge" battle with Santa Barbara's Gauchos.
