Tattle Tales

My, you Gauchos were busy last week—I’ve never seen as many parties all at once. No one can ever accuse USC of lacking things to do and places to see.

Starting off the weekend was Pres. About 700 donned their formal attire for the evening, also attending many pre-party parties. Thursday night saw about 50 parents, who came to see their daughters dressed in the other gowns. It was certainly a big affair for everyone concerned, commented on the most part with excitement (the Miranda Hall and the fun).

Pinnings

I’d better catch up on the announcements now before they really start piling up—although it’d be kind of nice if they did.

Delta Sigma Epsilon.

The AEPs had a little trouble with the Delta Sigs last week, but everything is all patched up now. It seems the Delta Sigs stole their Delta Epsilon pinning ceremony from themselves by inviting the girls for dessert on Monday and returning it Sunday.

The SAEs gave out a little wave of colors on Delta Chi, Delta Nu, and Delta Theta. On Saturday quite a few roses were returned, probably from the onslaught of water.

I'm trying today to write a whole column about what happened to anyone. (Who said "impossible"? It seems as though this time we have the Newsday's most popular column. It's just a shame that it's not a magazine."

Game of Week

The game of the week, of course, is the West, the titans, trumps, voluble (take your pick) between UCLA and USC. Since I know you all await my prediction with bated breath, I'll save it until the end of the column.

Until Washington nearly upsets the Bruins last Saturday, everyone was just about ready to concede the game to UCLA. Now the situation has changed. The Bruins are still thinking they're supermen, although nobody would be so rash as to say that UCLA is a good football team.

In the In the Tish Tier, Michigan and Ohio State battle to decide the Rose Bowl title. The Buckeyes, of course, are likely the best team, and they can knock Michigan out of the national championship if they win. They've been improving steadily from week to week and I think that they'll pick up their Wolverines Rose Bowl ball for good. While the Buckeyes won't win it, the team should win by a touchdown.

Fencing Exhibition

This Sunday afternoon will see a special fencing exhibition at the Santa Barbara Fencing Club and the Long Beach Caverns. The exhibition will feature a number of matches, and the public is invited to the exhibition. There will be no admission charge, and the exhibition will be in the UCSC fencing gym.

UCSC Students

The event will feature a number of local fencing students, including Lewis Lively, the number one man on the team, and William Rilies, who is a standout on defense.

THE SPORTSCENE

by Jordan Romeo

Several weeks ago, this column enthused defense of California Coach Pappy Waldorf, whose protege, Nick Stuurman, was an in-state gang of Cal students who had a hand in Waldorf's National Championship.

The situation in California has changed now, as some of you may know, I do think he was the UCLA's biggest threat to the Trojans. Now the situation has changed. The Bruins are still thinking they're supermen, although nobody would be so rash as to say that UCLA is a good football team.

Coach Johnny Cherberg of the University of Washington became a victim when his Huskies, what constituted as a very poor team, began to fall to two, despite the grueling and close decisions to California, Oregon State, and Washington, State. Stanford, however, was forced to take a back seat to the Trojan-Bruin clash in recent weeks.

Decker, and, except for last week, has kept the Trojans from scoring a touchdown. My prediction: I think he'll start now. I pick the Trojans to win by a touchdown.

The Trojans have a very good defense, and their attack will be held in check by the excellent UCLA's defense. The situation has become such a mess that anything can happen. Until W ashington nearly upset the Bruins last Satur­day, everyone was just about ready to concede the game to UCLA. Now the situation has changed. The Bruins are still thinking they're supermen, although nobody would be so rash as to say that UCLA is a good football team.

The probable starting lineups:

Lehigh - Lafayette Lehigh by 4 Lehigh by 13 Lehigh by 7 Lehigh by 1

Wash. - Wash. State Wash. by 14 Wash. by 10 Wash. by 20 Wash. by 13

Oregon State - Oregon Ore. St. by 10 Ore. St. by 7 Ore. St. by 14 Ore. St. by 13

Pitt - Penn State Pitt by 19 Pitt by 6 Pitt by 13 Pitt by 7

USC - UCLA (1955) USC by 7 by 13 by 6 by 4

Sacramento by 13 Sac by 20 Sac by 14 Sac by 7

Southern Cal - Stanford Southern Cal by 20 Southern Cal by 14 Southern Cal by 7 Southern Cal by 4

Bears To Win By 6

In addition, Troy has a big running back, Little Don Hickman, Ar­nett's running mate at halfback, and William Riley are two of the top collegiate fencers in the nation. A possible one is a fencing exhibition on December 4 at Kezar (Stadium) December 4.

There will also be some novelty exhibits and merchandise. A possible one is a "Goodbye Tony. Have fun at college." This is a game where you throw everything out the window.

Coach Jerome of the local club, will announce all the ma­teers so everyone will know what is going on.

The exhibition by the skilled fencers will feature competition in sabre, epee, and foil events. The second half of this event will feature competition in saber, epee, and foil events. The second half of this event will feature competition in saber, epee, and foil events.

It is going to be quite a show, and the public is invited to attend.
