Main Letters Sent Out In Observance Air Mail Week

That Carpinteria residents have joined wholeheartedly in the observance of air mail week is evidenced by the fact that between 85 and 106 air mail letters have been leaving Carpinteria by each train since Sunday, the opening day of air-mail week, and approximately 200 letters were dispatched yesterday by ear direct to the Goleta airport in connection with the special one-day direct feeder service.

Continual support has developed for the Carpinteria cachet which is one of the few showing an actual reproduction of a photograph and the post office has received requests for cachets from many parts of the Country.

Collectors of covers who for weeks have been awaiting the appearance of all air mail week are urged to mail their letters at once, since Saturday is the last day that the cachet is to be printed and not applied with a rubber stamp as in past years.

Persons who wish to cover commemorating the observance of all air mail week are urged to mail their letters at once, since Saturday is the last day that the cachet is to be printed and not applied with a rubber stamp as in past years.

Mrs. Frank L. Smith motored to Berkeley during the past week for the purpose of completing her first year at the university. They visited relatives in Berkeley during the past week and attended the commencement exercises in the patio of the Memorial Gymnasium.

For a short time since no one has ever head of Coyote Road. Several county officials were contacted but were also at a loss as to knowledge of the road was concerned. The mystery was finally solved by Chas. K. Talmud, County Assessor, after he had made several telephone calls. At present there is no such road, the project being a proposed by Super­ visor Sam Stinson to connect Sycamore Coyote Road with Mounta­ in Drive in the hours of 7 and 9 for a series of badminton games. Carpinteria students were awarded the National Association of Life Underwriters had won first place in state and district contests and had been forwarded to the national contest where one from each state will compete for a first prize of $500 and a number of lesser cash prizes. The essay was on the subject “Insecurity, the Stepping Stone to Security.” Second place in the state contest was won by a student from Sequoia high school at Redwood City and third by Piedmont high school at Auburn. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Christian Science Society, Carpinteria, a branch of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., holds services at 11 a.m. every Sunday at 946 Block. Mid-week meetings are held at 820 Block.

A reading room is maintained in the church building, open Tuesday afternoons (except holidays) from 2 to 4 p.m.

"Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou cast down within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God." This passage from the Psalm is the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, announces the Lesson-Sermon includes verses from Matthew: "And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him. And the centurion answered and said, Lord, my servant lieth at the top of his house at the top of his house, at nine o'clock. And Jesus answered and said, go thy way; the servant shall be healed. . . . And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way: for as thou hast believed, so shall it be done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the same hour." Among the anthems from "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Hymns from the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the words: "Christian Science" names the standard of liberty and morality: "Follow me! Escape from the bondage of sin, shame, and death! Jesus marked out the way; and as thou hast 'believed, so shall it be done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the same hour." The right to life, a force that has carried man through the centuries, again has triumphed, triumphed, of the way the system works. Pickets at a taxpaying servant was healed in the self-same hour."

The man in the middle takes care through the dramatic story of little Helaine Colan has run that theme—the right to life, a force that has carried man through the centuries, again has triumphed, triumphed, of the way the system works. Pickets at a taxpaying servant was healed in the self-same hour."

JAMES ROLPH III ENTERS RACE FOR LT. GOVERNOR

In announcing his candidacy for Lieutenant-Governor this week, James Rolph III issued the following statement:

As one who has, all his life, been a close student of public affairs, I am presenting myself to my fellow citizens of California as a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of this great State. I am filling a void in both the Republican and Democratic tickets because I have many friends in both parties and, after all, we are all Californians.

A native of California, I have been blessed with a heritage and life-long training in good government, in human understanding of the real needs of our people, and in administration for the best interests of all those who go to make up our splendid Commonwealth. I believe this qualifies me, to some extent at least, to know first-hand the real needs of the various sections. Educated in the public schools and a graduate of the University of California, I am interested in the future welfare of our educational system. I pledge myself to work for the best interests of California, with whomever is chosen by the people to occupy the high office of Governor.

DRAMA "MAYERLING"
BE AT LOBERO

Departing briefly from legitimate stage production, Arthur J. Beckhard will present the film "Mayerling" at the Lobero commencing Sunday evening, May 29, and continuing throughout the following week. The film features Charles Boyer and Danielle Darrieux and has been heralded as a dramatic triumph by international, prominent critics.

Following the love affair of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria and a beautiful commoner, Marie Valerie, the unhappiest of romances which ended sensationally at the Prince’s suicide in 1889, the film gives a superb treatment of the tragedy. Male lead is played by Charles Boyer, whose devotion to his role has been justly praised. Danielle Darrieux plays Marie whose devotion to her Prince and Boyer is astounding. Their performances, in color, are brilliant and will be given at the Lobero Theatre in its new stage venture, STAGED AT LOBERO.

Your Hollywood Correspondent Reports...

Mothers' Day, always a gift day in Hollywood, was really lucrative this year for those lucky enough to be a mother to one of the film capital's biggest stars. Carol Lombard gave her mother the deed to a valuable piece of property in the smart Brentwood district. Claudette Colbert, who will return soon from a Paris vacation to start work in "Are Husbands Necessary?" called her mother via trans-Atlantic "phone from Paris, and Ray Milland invited his mother who lives in England. Mary Carlisle's mother got a trip to San Francisco because her daughter was there in connection with the opening of "Derby Rhythm," and Bing Crosby entertained at his ranch near Rancho Santa Fe with a dinner party to honor his mother. His gift to her was a platinum and diamond wrist watch. Dorothy Lamour gave her mother a big diamond ring for her 60th birthday.

BROADWAY PLAY PREMIERE TO BE STAGED AT LOBERO

Broadway stage producer, exhaused from trying to lure their theatrical affidigets back to the nation's main roads, are using new tricks. This is again demonstrated by the practice of the New York producing firms of Hilbert and Ames, who invaded the film capital to recruit a cast of important names to support Alan Dinehart in his new play venture, "Thanks for My Wife," coming to the Lobero Theatre for a three-week premiere engagement beginning Thursday night, May 26. For the chance to face Manhattan audiences in this production headed for Broadway several screen personalities have taken a vacation from Hollywood. Conspicuous of these are Regis Toomey, whose last stage appearance on the Coast was in the role of "Sailor, Beware," Ray Linaker and Miss Lily Britton, favorite Gotham stage actresses who have attained feature prominence in pictures, and Joseph Carole, veteran opinion of the eastern play curtains.

The invasion of the New York producers who have crossed the country to set up headquarters for the purpose of launching and selling their productions on the Pacific coast has become increasingly popular in the past year, inspired considerably by the successful introduction of several productions during the last season, the new management explained. "Thanks for My Wife," from the pen of Joseph Carole, headserv as a starring vehicle for Mr. Dinehart and has a complete cast of top flight stars. The production is being directed by the producer, the rank he held on many of his New York theatrical associations.

PAUL SHOUP TO RETIRE FROM S. P. SERVICE.

Paul Shoup, vice chairman of Southern Pacific's board, will retire from the company's service June 1, at his own request, it was announced this week.

In making known Mr. Shoup's decision to end a railroad career of 47 years with Southern Pacific, Hale Holden, chairman, said:

"The board of directors of the Southern Pacific Company, according to the request of Mr. Paul Shoup that he be permitted to retire from the company's service and as a member of the board and its executive committee on June 1, next, has arranged for such retirement.

"Mr. Shoup's service with the company and its subsidiaries has extended over a period approximating 47 years, during which he has served in various capacities carrying major responsibilities which he has executed with distinctness and complete fidelity. Recognition has been given in connection with his retirement of this long and faithful service. My own good wishes and those of all members of the board go with it."

Paul Shoup started in the business world by delivering papers in San Bernardino, California. Later he acted as local correspondent for a Los Angeles newspaper and after graduation from high school, at the age of 17, obtained a clerical job in the mechanical department of the Southern Pacific office.

A few months later, in 1892, he became a railway letter carrier in San Francisco as a ticket clerk in the Pacific Electric Railway, Southern Pacific subsidiary, operating a net work of electric lines in southern California.

When the world war came and the government took over the operation of the national railroads, Mr. Shoup was made vice president in charge of the property interests of Southern Pacific and its affiliated and proprietary concerns.

In 1929 and left that post to become vice chairman, with headquarters in New York, in 1922.

Altogether, 39 years of railroad work, Shoup has been long active in development projects. He is a director of numerous enterprises and is a trustee of Leland Stanford Junior University.

DOONEY BEATING BRINGS PROTESTS

The donkey team which passed Carpinteria yesterday driven by the old man who shot and killed a dentist near San Lorenzo several years ago when he refused to pay for taking a picture of the outfit, was the cause of considerable excitement for a short time Wednesday afternoon.

A. J. Hoppel, a former congressman from Southern California was found one of the donkeys which had fallen under the heavy load it was carrying. Several people who stopped and protested but refused to take any notice.

Hoppel then stopped at the Chamber of Commerce office and informed the secretary, Wm. H. James of the affair. James, with the assistance of Mrs. Isabel Field and others in the Chamber, appointed Miss E. D. Solari, secretary of the Santa Barbara County Sheriff's office who investigated the affair and after some argument succeeded in convincing the old man that he should relieve the heart of its burden.

SMOKE BRINGS PROTESTS

Smoke is banished with the new broilers

Only Gas ranges provide this cleanliness

In addition, on the new gas ranges a fine grill separates melted fat from the broiling food. In other ways, too, gas brings greater cleanliness. Burner heads are easily washable. And there are fewer boilers, because gas provides precise heat adjustment. For further information, visit any gas range dealer's or a showroom of your gas company. Ask about the easy payment plan.

CONVENTION OF NURSES SET FOR S. B. NEXT WEEK

Goals of Nursing will be the theme of 1,000 women representing the State’s 25,000 registered nurses, as the California State Nurses’ Association holds its annual convention May 23-27 in Santa Barbara. Also participating in the convention will be the California State Organization for Public Health Nursing, California League of Nursing Education, and the Western Conference of the Catholic Hospital Association.

Matters not only of vital interest to the nursing profession, but also to public health, will be discussed during the week, according to Mrs. Gertrude E. Follen­ dorf, president of the Nurses’ Association.

“For instance,” said Mrs. Folendorf, “venereal diseases constitute a now almost universally recognized menace. Accordingly, Rachel K. Miller, of Santa Barbara Coun­ y of Public Health Nursing, will talk about the nurse’s part in combatting them in her talk “Case Finding and Holding in Venereal Disease.”

On the other hand, there will be talks dealing more specifically with the more personal problems encountered by the nurse in pursuing her profession. Dr. Paul D. Bostrum, of the University California at Los Angeles, will speak on “The Triumphant Power of Ideas,” and Gordon S. Watkins, dean of Letters and Science at the same university, will give his views on “The New Individualism” as applied to nursing.

Other items to be discussed during the week are Helen Bean, head of Santa Barbara Hospital;
Mary E. G. Bliss, American Nurses’ Association; New York; Marjorie E. Hart, American Nurses’ Association;
San Francisco; Lillian Liodas, Los Angeles; Amanda Larsen, Santa Barbara; and Dora Cornelson, from the American Journal of Nursing.

Throughout the week, according to the schedule, balloting will be held to elect new officers for the various organizations represented at the convention.
