NEW HOME OF WOMANS CLUB OPENS THURSDAY

Record-Breaking Enrollment Expected When Local Schools Open Tuesday

COMPLETION OF NEW BUILDING MARKS BEGINNING OF FORTIETH YEAR FOR VALLEY ORGANIZATION

Formed in 1894 As Literary Society, Club Is One of Community's Oldest and Largest Civic and Social Bodies

BEGINNING its fortieth anniversary year, the Carpinteria Womans Club will move into its new $3000 home on Vallecito Road Thursday afternoon. Music, speeches and special services are included in the program planned for the occasion, and which will start at 2:30.

Invitations have been extended to members of all womans' clubs of Santa Barbara county.

Mrs. Virginia Reum, president of the County Federation of Womens Clubs, will be the principal speaker. A musical program and an Inglenook service, dedicating the auditorium's beautiful fireplace will follow her talk.

At eight Thursday evening the club will hold open house for all valley residents.

The new building is a Spanish style stucco, and contains, besides the auditorium, which is 45x28 feet, a kitchen, two dressing rooms and a 12x16 stage. Furnishings of the Monterey type carry out the Spanish and early California note of the building.

Local labor was used in the construction of the edifice, and as far as possible, all furnishings and installations were purchased from Carpinteria merchants.

The fireplace is a memorial to Mrs. Z. U. Lescher, a former president of the club, and is the gift of Mr. Lescher.

The entertainment committee for the opening of the new building is composed of the following: Mrs. Nelson Smith, chairman; Mrs. Neal Bailard, Mrs. E. W. Hoffman, Mrs. A. G. Wood, Mrs. Joseph Schweizer, Mrs. Walter Dowling, Mrs. Clarence Sawyer, Mrs. Dave Safwenberg, and Mrs. H. L. Beckstead.

What is now the Womans Club was organized in 1894 as the Carpinteria Literary Society. Mrs. Belle O. Franklin, now deceased, was the first president. In 1901 it was admitted to the State Federation of Womens Clubs, and upon the formation of the County Federation of Womens Clubs in 1919 it became a member of that organization. The club was incorporated in 1925.

Since its inception the body has played a prominent and active part in the social and civic development of the valley. Some of its accomplishments during that time, and the enterprises to the success of which it has contributed, are as follows:

Establishment in Carpinteria of the first county library branch in Santa Barbara county

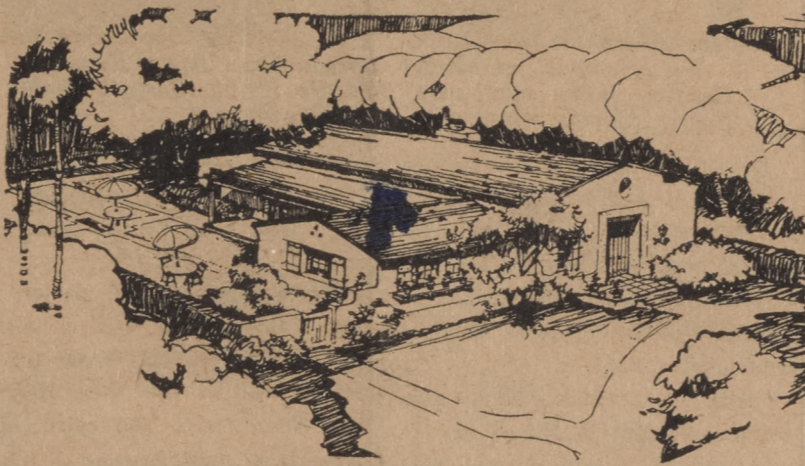

Manual training in Carpinteria schools.

Organization of the Boy Scouts in the valley.

Sponsors of the Girl Scout movement locally, and active supporters of the Girl Mariners.

HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE OF 175 INDICATED; FOUR NEW TEACHERS LISTED ON TWO SCHOOL FACULTIES

Grammar Grades to Combine Domestic Science And Shop with Social Studies; Orchestra Work to be Continued This Year

THE "juvenile unemployment problem" will be settled for local mothers Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, when Carpinteria schools open for the fall term.

School buildings have been reconditioned, grounds put in shape, trees, vines and shrubbery trimmed, and all is in readiness for the annual advent of several hundred school children.

Superintendent Harry Lintz stated yesterday that he anticipated "the normal increased enrollment" experienced each year by the local grammar school. Although Principal Jesse Hawley could not be reached last night for a statement relative to the high school's probable enrollment indications are that it will approximate 175 students, or an increase of 23 over last year. A freshman class of over 40 accounts for a large part of this increase.

"Some confusion seems to exist in the minds of Carpinteria mothers concerning the state law pertaining to the ages at which children may be started to school," Mr. Lintz said yesterday. "This year the limits have been raised, so that in order to enter the kindergarten a child must be four and a half years old or over on the opening day of school, and to enter the first grade, five and a half."

"I would also like to assure grammar school patrons that instrumental music instruction will be continued this year," Lintz stated. "Carpinteria parents have invested a lot of money in instruments for their children, and we definitely plan to include orchestra work this term."

The resignation of Miss Sybil Baker, who had charge of last year's highly successful orchestra work in the grammar grades has been accepted and highly trained instructor will have charge of that department.

An experiment being tried this year that is being watched with interest in educational circles is the combining of domestic science and shop with social studies.

"The general trend towards economy in all departments of the school leads naturally to such activities as domestic science and shop," Lintz stated. "Here we are trying to incorporate these two departments with social studies, a combination which we feel is logical and beneficial. By this move we effect the desired economy and at the same time broaden the scope of the child's conception of his work. Social studies is a combination of what was formerly geography and history. This, briefly, is the new plan. For example, when the social studies class is studying colonial life and the revolutionary period, different phases of that era will be carried into the shop and domestic science class room. Girls will make colonial costumes, cook early American dishes, etc., while the boys will be encouraged to make models of coaches of the times, or anything pertaining to the period."

"In this way the child associates what he has studied with things he has made with his hands, his whole concept is broadened and he does (Continued on Page Four)

Things To Remember:

Intense rivalry among the valley's three grammar schools, Carpinteria, Rincon and Aliso.

When the Santa Barbara Boys School was situated at what is now the Yule home.

Doc Downie's tiny office and drug store, now occupied by a Mexican family.

When growing pampas plums was a profitable industry in the valley. Bet you'd forgotten that.

When Bert McLean was referred to by a Summerland newspaper as a "rising amateur photographer."

When Herbert Hoover visited as the Republican nominee for the presidency.

New County Set-Up For Unemployed In Effect After Today

Relief Work of Five Districts To Be Standardized

IN accord with the resolution of the County Citizens Unemployment Relief Committee, it was announced following that body's meeting Tuesday that on and after September 1, all county unemployment relief will be handled on a uniform centralized basis.

The committee is composed of one citizen from each supervisorial district. E. Solari having been appointed to represent District One, comprising Carpinteria, Montecito and Summerland.

"We are trying to equalize wages and hours in relief work throughout the county," said Solari yesterday. "Each district will have an Unemployment Manager, who will submit regular reports to Major C. J. Ballinger, county director of unemployment relief. Butler Coles has been named Unemployment Manager for this district."

"Under this set-up, unemployed working for the county will receive $2.50 per day for seven hours, on a 35 hour week. Part time days will be paid for at the rate of 35 cents an hour. Those wages and hours are for manual laborers. Clerical and office workers, employed in the commissary will be on a five day week, receiving $2.50 for an 8 hour day, five day week, and pro rata for part time.

"Each supervisor will be asked to submit a list of projects planned for his district, together with estimates (Continued on Page Four)

Sanitary Board Denies Shortage In District Fund

Refute Story In S. B. Daily Newspapers

STATING that an article appearing in last night's Daily News was misleading, Secretary J. E. Jones of the Carpinteria Sanitary District added that "there is no possibility of a shortage of funds, no financial books are kept here, an audit has been requested several times during the past year by the board and an auditor will start Tuesday to straighten out what appears to have been a clerical error on the part of the county offices."

The News stated that the books of the district were said to be "in a terrible condition" and that the accounts "fail to make a proper set-up of the receipts and expenditures so that financing can be secured." The article went on to state that "the condition, it is said, presents a difficulty if the district seeks NRA funds for the extension of its project."

"The funds referred to," said Jones, "are RFC funds, there being no such thing as NRA financing of civic projects."

Following a meeting of the Sanitary Board last evening, Secretary Jones issued the statement below:

Factors In Slump Of Lemon Market Cited by Growers

Local Citrus Men At County Meet

FOUR chief factors contributing to the sagging lemon market are said by local citrus authorities to be as follows: general economic conditions, cool weather in the east, a bumper crop in the southern citrus counties and the fact that beer is hurting lemon sales.

"The return of beer hasn't hurt the market to the extent some newspapers would have you believe," said one grower yesterday. "The big trouble is that the east's buying power is shot."

Just how far the current market is below normal is reflected by the fact that there are now 2477 carloads of lemons in storage, as compared to 586 at this time last year.

Francis Greer and Percy Houts, managers of the two local lemon houses, were among the 150 lemon growers and shippers who attended the barbecue held Wednesday at Tecalote Ranch, when State Senator Edgar Stowe addressed the gathering on the advantages of careful grading in shipping lemons. Eugene Kellogg, county agricultural commissioner, spoke on California marketing conditions and their effect on the citrus grower, and Manager (Continued on Page Four)

Ye Kronikal Almanack

EVER since Rincon was a foothill, Ed Bailard went barefoot, and our famous beach was patronized solely by clams and sand fleas, Warren Tobey has sold groceries to Carpinterians.

He can remember when you and the neighbor's children used to hang around his store asking for lollipops, and the chances are he's still handing them out to YOUR children.

Not only is he one of Carpinteria's early settlers—having come here at a tender age in 1888, but he has been in business longer than any merchant in the valley.

And in all these years his fellow townspeople have been able to learn of but one of his vices—he is a confirmed fisherman. "Tobe" has been fishing in these waters for so long that he recognizes (Continued on Page Four) most of the fish in the channel on these mornings when he manages to sneak out and catch up on his trolling.

He modestly denies the rumor that he taught the local grunion how to dance and that he was one of the party that roped a deer in the kelp beds off the Carpinteria coast in years gone by.

He has been a member of the chamber of commerce for over twenty years—so long, in fact, that he can remember when that body met occasionally.

And if you happen to run across an item in our "Things To Remember" column that strikes a responsive chord in your memory, chances are that Warren Tobey contributed it—or figured in it—or heard about it—or saw it happen—or could tell you about it.

Man About Town Saw:

Traffic Officer Ellis give tickets to three motorists within thirty minutes.

A car go through town with its horn stuck, tooting loudly, its red-faced driver trying hard to be inconspicuous.

Bennie Bailard eight pounds heavier after his deer hunting trip.

Frank Bauhaus wheeling a bicycle down Linden Avenue.

Bob Wescott and five other youths trying to start a very stripped down Ford.

Stickers from five national parks on the windshield of Bur-chell Upson's Packard.

Assemblyman George Bliss push his car into a service station after running out of gas.

Out-Door Luncheon For Club Building Fund Well Attended

Entertainment and Cake Sale Feature Garden Party

BY GRACE SHORKLEY

THE Womans Club held an amusingly successful benefit in the garden of Mrs. Percy Houts, Jr. on Thursday, August 31. It took the form of a pot-luck luncheon, followed in the afternoon by a cake sale, a grab bag and entertainment. The committee had promised a surprise and to keep their word came dressed in an amazing assortment of costumes which would have made the garden bright even though the sun had stayed stubbornly behind its wall of fog. Those on the committee were Mrs. Percy Houts, Jr., Mrs. Jack Bailard, Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss Vivian Chaffee, Mrs. Marc Latham, Mrs. Joe Hendy, Mrs. Loren Hebel, and Mrs. William Hohman.

After the lunch tables had been cleared away the master of ceremonies, a red and white clown, ordinarily known as Mrs. Jack Bailard, announced that the grab bags were ready to function. Bedlam reigned for half an hour. The women of the club and their friends are evidently anxious bargain hunters. Their families, however, will probably think they showed more astuteness at the cake sale.

The program, announced through the megaphone of Mrs. Jack Bailard, began with vocal solos by Miss Grace Shorkley, entitled, "Ho, Mr. Piper," and "Toy Balloon." Mrs. Loren Hebel gave two humorous negro readings, "Chad," and "When the Folks Ain't Home." Yes, she (Continued on Page Four)

AMERICA AT THE CROSS-ROADS

ONE result of the workings of the NRA plan that may have a profound and lasting influence on the American people is the increased amount of leisure time for millions, resulting from the shortened hours for labor that are stipulated in the many adopted codes.

It has often been said that Americans have never learned how to play. From the time the Mayflower dropped anchor the people of this country have had their time occupied by the business of pushing. The Indians were pushed back, the French were pushed north, the English pushed out, the Spanish and Mexicans pushed south, until a new race stood on the shores of the Pacific and looked back across thousands of miles of country it could call its own.

Only in the deep South did any semblance of leisure develop, and that just in time to be stamped out by the armies of the industrial north.

There has always been too much country to be settled and developed to allow for leisure time. The fact that a new frontier lay always beyond the horizon prevented the development of anything resembling a caste system. Those who would have composed the lower classes, content to "stay put" in the grooves of menial labor and work for others, saw always the chance to better themselves in a new country just being opened for settlement. If labor grew dissatisfied it could push west-ward and try again.

When at length the country was settled and the last frontier subdued, Big Business ushered America into a new era of competition that allowed no time for the development of anything but ways of making money. The race for volume supremacy, business leadership and monopoly accelerated rapidly, until things were whirling so fast that the inevitable happened—the whole structure cracked up.

Now an administration with more absolute power than any this country has ever seen steps in and tells America: "You've been going too fast and working too much. You're defeating your own purpose. Hereafter you'll play more and work less."

Thus it is that a rather be-fuddled race of "hustlers" finds itself with time on its hands. How it uses that time may determine the future of the American people.

Periods of depression such as we have just experienced usually tend to make people think more about the machinery of government. The motorist driving along at fifty miles an hour does not ponder much on the workings of his motor until a knock develops or it refuses to function. Then he seeks to remedy the trouble, learn what caused it and do something to prevent its recurrence.

Perhaps it is too much to hope that some of these millions of hours of leisure time will be spent in study and self-development. Sociologists are already pointing out the ominous aspects of society thrusting more leisure upon the worker for its own economic deliverance. One writer sees as the chief menace the fact that liquor and the new leisure come in together. Even the most ardent drays are resigned to repeal by this winter.

Future historians may look back to the last half of 1933 as a period when America stood at the cross-roads. It will be the first time that certain social and economic strata have had any voice in the question "How will you spend your time?"

Only the bravest prophets will undertake to predict the answer to that question for a race that has in the past produced flag pole sitters, marathon dancers, jig saw addicts and pee wee golfers.

PROGRESS ?

A two-headed calf, a gigantic roller coaster, a "Forty-niner's Camp," an imitation of the Folies-Bergere, and a key-hole peep at a nudist colony. Parts of what Chicago proudly dubs "A Century of Progress."

WHAT-OF-IT DEPARTMENT

Over 200 race horses in this country are said to have been doped before running races this year. . . . Chicago's fair is half over, with receipts so far totalling $13,211,214. To break even it will have to take in more than twice that amount this autumn. . . . NRA Administrator Hugh Johnson stormed out of a hotel in Dayton, Ohio, last week when the management insisted that he pay for his room in advance because he had no baggage. . . . 252,000 slot machine slugs were used in the pay telephones of New York City last year. . . . Those reputedly on the inside track in Washington are giving odds that we'll have inflation within eight weeks. . . . San Diego is the first city to report that its citizens and merchants are 100 percent NRA members. . . . Enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment cost every man, woman and child in America 32 cents per year.

New Fox Arlington Presentation

The principals in the new Fox production, "Best of Enemies." Reading in the usual way, they are Frank Morgan, Buddy Rogers, Marian Nixon and Joseph Cawthorn.

Said to be one of the strongest combination stage and screen attractions ever to be seen on a local theater program, "Best of Enemies," and the big stage show at the Fox Arlington Theater closes Saturday, September second.

"Best of Enemies" stars Buddy Rogers and Marian Nixon, and features Joseph Cawthorn and Frank Morgan. It is an "Abie's Irish Rose" type of story, with comedy of a hilarious sort vieing with tragedy and heart interest for first honors.

The stage show includes several acts that have been headline attractions on the leading vaudeville circuits for a number of years.

Starting Sunday, September third, the picture the movie world has been waiting for, "Paddy, the next Best Thing," starts a four day run with the favorites of all-star teams Warner Baxter and Janet Gaynor, in the starring roles.

"Paddy" is the story of a delightful little Irish colleen who loves as fiercely as she hates, and is not averse to telling wee fibs when she thinks in enhances the truth of the story.

Starting Thursday, September 7th a new and greater stage-screen combination will be offered Arlington patrons, when "Emergency Call," thrilling action drama and a new vaudeville stage presentation make their bow for a three-day engagement.

Attention is called by the management of the Arlington to the fact that the regular meetings of the Fun Club, children's organization of the theater, will be resumed with this Saturday's program at ten o'clock in the morning.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

Rev. Leon Kirkes, Pastor

From now on, the pastor, Rev. Leon C. Kirkes, will occupy the pulpit. The general theme for September will be the "New Heart for the New Deal." The spirit of the New Deal must become a religious passion, if it is to go over. The subject of the sermon next Sunday will be the "Hired Man," a Labor Day sermon.

Both the Christian Endeavor Societies will meet at 6:30 p. m. The Young People's Society will resume their regular weekly meetings.

Week."

During the world war the organization practically gave itself over to Red Cross work, taking an active leadership in the various drives and campaigns.

The club was the first organized group of that type in the valley, where there are now nearly a dozen similar bodies, some purely social, some civic, and others devoted to particular projects or causes, such as gardens and schools.

The Womans Club is still general in its interests, and has succeeded to a marked degree in accomplishing its expressed purpose, "to promote educational, literary and philanthropic work among its members and to develop an interest in the civic, social and economic conditions in the community."

The club has a membership of eighty, of which three are honorary, one an honorary life and no, an associate member.

Last year the organization took up departmental work, dividing its members into three groups, the American Homes, the Drama and the Literature departments, a plan which will be carried on this year.

Present officers are: President, Genevieve Shorkley, Vice-President, Georgia Stockton, Secretary, Effie Bailard, Corresponding Secretary, Freida Norlin, Treasurer, Della Jones, Secretary of Federation, Liva Houts.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Springer, of Los Angeles, spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kistler. They will spend their vacation in San Francisco, after which they will be guests of friends in Carpinteria.

Sam Wins In Second By Clever Head-Work

Sam Nicholas, local exponent of the grand old sport of fisticuffs, won his match at the Ventura Athletic club Friday night by the simple expedient of not heeding this department's advice.

We told him not to forget to duck—he forgot—and as a result won the decision on a technicality. But let Sam tell it.

"In that first round we sorta felt each other out. I staggered him once but I had to take one myself to do it. In the second he kept aimin' at my head, so I thought if he wanted to hit it so bad I'd put it where he could reach it once and see what would happen. He hit it—hard too, I guess, because it busted his hand and they stopped the fight. I sure am sorry he got hurt but I figure it wasn't my fault."

The crowd, including more than a score of Carpinteria fans, enjoyed it and Sam drew a big hand.

Following the fracas the promoters of the Pismo Labor Day boxing exhibition signed Sam for the deuce-spot in their program for Monday at the northern city.

Sam reports that he is training harder than ever, and is confident he'll win this match using both his head and his gloves.

Y. M. Is Just Too Good For Ye Village Clubbe

They were just too good for the home boys. That's why the Y. M. Is trimmed Stemp's men by a 13 to 2 score Sunday. The hit when they needed it, scored oftener than necessary and had everything under control at all times. So the locals open the second half of the league season with an average of double zero, ought cipher nothing.

This Sunday the boys think the odds are much more even, when the S. B. Cubs play Carpinteria on the local field. Bennett and Alonzo will comprise the battery.

Lemons Prices Down; Beer Cause, Say Some

Brundage of the Johnson Fruit Co., Francis Greer and Percy Houts contributed a few remarks.

Lemon prices continue to stay around $4.00 top for the past week, with no indication of immediate improvement.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

C. P. Moore, Pastor

At the morning worship hour the pastor will begin a series of sermons on the fundamental teachings of the Christian church. The first subject will be "Being Born Anew." This will be followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

On the following Sunday, September 10th, the baptism of infants and small children will be observed. All parents wishing to have their children christened and dedicated will please communicate with the pastor before that time.

Night services this Sunday will continue at 7 o'clock. Business meeting and devotional services of the Epworth League. The offering will go to the Young People's Assembly fund.

S. B. Dailies Overrate San. Board Conditions

Sanitary District may apply for a loan from the Government to complete the sewer system in the north end of town, the board of directors have requested that the various accounts of the district kept in the office of the County Treasurer be audited. This will be done to show a proper set-up of the receipts and expenditures in the application for funds from the Government. There is no possibility of a shortage of funds, but there may be clerical errors effecting a true balance in the several funds. It is not possible that the books of the district are "in a terrible condition" as information contained in the Santa Barbara morning and evening papers.

as to the cost, number of men required, etc.

"We hope by coordinating the five districts, both to increase the efficiency of the relief work and to equalize the benefits to be received from work performed by those on the county pay roll," he concluded.

Supervisor Tom Dinsmore of this district stated yesterday that items in the list he will submit will include completion of the road started last month, (which leaves the Casitas Pass road at the Solari-Schweizer property, cuts across three miles of back county and will emerge in the Gobernador Canyon) adding new streets in Summerland and the completion of Ladera Lane in Montecito.

The work planned for this district will provide employment for sixty men for one year, under the 35 hour week schedule of the new set-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Robertson spent Thursday in Los Angeles on business.

Local Boy Goes Insane By Special Permission Of Copyright Owners!

With the release of publicity on the next attraction at the Lobero Theater there is to be found, among the important players, none other than Carpinteria's leading torchbearer, Oliver B. Prickett.

The play, "Nude With Pineapple," will be presented September 7, 8 and 9, with a matinee on Saturday, the 9th.

The main attraction of the play revolves around an insane asylum, with our Ollie as the chief inmate (a perfectly logical and desired spot for said person.—Ed. note.). The whole production is a succession of hilarious situations from start to finish with a cast of Lobero favorites and others.

While there are a number of Community Arts subscribers in the Valley it is expected that the addition of O. B. P. to the cast will draw many localites who do not attend the Lobero Theater regularly.

was black as a piece of charcoal. A good chance, certainly, to show how well her special brand of cold cream can remove dirt. A skit called "The Interview," by Samuel Clemens, was presented by Mrs. Jack Bailard, the interviewer, in a clown suit, swallow tail coat and derby with Mrs. Frank Smith as the interviewed, one of the few people exquisitely finished in the art of baffling inquiring reporters. A lovely ballet in costume was given by Beverly Humphries and Caroline Andrews.

The final number was a tap dance by Betty Keefe, niece of Mrs. Hendy, who is visiting here for the week-end. Mrs. Curtis Linke played her piano accompaniment.

MOVIES

"King of Jazz" Starts At Alcazar Sunday

Paul Whiteman, who will be seen next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Alcazar Theater here, in Universal's revival of the magnificent "King of Jazz," is responsible for the popularity and stardom of many of today's musical comedy and radio personalities, for it was in his orchestra that such favorites as Bing Crosby, Jack Fulton, Alice Joy, Harry Barris, Al Rinker and Jeanie Lang and Wilber Hall were first introduced to the public.

THREE LEADING LADIES!

Darned clever, these Frenchmen! One of them is clever enough to rate three ladies at once. The lucky man is Maurice Chevalier who is starred in Paramount's "A Bedtime Story," which completes a three-day run at the Alcazar Theater Friday and Saturday, September 1 and 2. The three leading ladies are Helen Twelvetrees, Adrienne Ames and Leah Ray. Edward Everett Horton and Baby Leroy are also in the large featured cast.
