Publicity Committee Arranges for Annual Write-a-Letter Day

E. E. Ericson Designates Tuesday, May 29
As Date for Publicity Campaign;
Contacts Forty Schools

Write-a-Letter day, Tuesday, May 29, presents for the first time in recent years a method of dispensing information concerning Santa Barbara State college to other cities and schools. The day has been organized under the supervision of E. E. Ericson, chairman of the publicity committee, by the committee of public relations, composed of Roger Casier, chairman; Florence Longawa; and Jack Porter. Clarence L. Phelps, president of State college, and Marcus Cravens, president of the Associated Student body, have acted as ex-officio members of the public relations committee.

All Students Cooperate

Several methods of correspondence have been planned. Individual, group, and personal letters are to be sent to every city that is represented at Santa Barbara State college. Tuesday morning in assembly each student will receive an envelope in which a picture-pamphlet containing a description on facilities of Santa Barbara, a small slip telling interesting facts of the school, and other items will be included. Instructions will be given as to the letter writing and when completed, the sealed and addressed envelopes are to be turned in at the student body office where they will be stamped and mailed.

Another manner of correspondence which will be used is that of group letters. The letters will be written in the student body office and addressed to graduating classes (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

FEDERAL FUNDS HELP STUDENTS

Under the Federal aid program, 69 students have received aid this month. The college is allowed $1035 per month and is to be spent in helping those students who are in need. It is hoped that the work will be continued next month as well as during the summer and next fall.

General clean-up of the campus, garden work, office work, building, painting, and repairs, long needing attention, has been done by the employed students.

Because of provisions set up by the government, two-thirds of the students employed must be women because the proportion at college here is one to two. There have been more calls for work than could be given, and for this reason a committee, composed of the student body president, A.W.S. president, Mr. S. O. Werner, faculty representative, and Dr. Charles Jacobs, chairman, with the assistance of Dean Bennink and Student Body Controller Fred Allred, was formulated to more carefully select those needing the work.

In order to give the committee a chance to reconsider its decisions, employment is allotted for one calendar month only.

All students applying for aid are required to fill out an extensive application blank, giving information to allow the committee to be just and impartial as possible in making appointments for work. Scholarship reports are also considered. In addition to this, each man student is required to personally interview Mr. Werner, and each woman student must report to Dean Bennink.

State Graduate Wins Recognition at S. C.

Dorothy Ann Rust, graduate of '33 from State college English department, was chosen the winner of first and second place in the essay division of the Tenth Annual Apollad, a movement which has as its aim the stimulation of creative arts at the University of Southern California.

Miss Rust is now working on her Master's degree at U.S.C. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rust. Mr. Rust is an instructor in the industrial education department and director of visual education.

The prizes were awarded at the Touchstone theatre, Saturday evening, May 19, under the auspices of the school of speech.

Local Men End Arrangements for New Road

Plans for the $50,000 roadway to be built from the western end of Cabrillo boulevard up to the new college site were completed this week-end when a group of local men journeyed to Los Angeles for that purpose.

Roadway Work Begins

Those who made the trip to Los Angeles were President Clarence L. Phelps of the State college; J. F. Goux, city attorney; Walter McIntosh and Harry Smith, councilmen; Eugene B. Brown, city engineer; Tom Storke, publisher of the two Santa Barbara daily newspapers; and W. G. Heron, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

While in Los Angeles the group conferred with Alfred Lentz, attorney for the state education department; P. T. Poage, assistant state architect; and Webb Shadle, attorney for the department of finance. According to President Phelps an agreement satisfactory in all respects was reached, and is subject only to the approval of the attorney general, which has already been given verbally.

NEW HONOR GROUP FORMULATE PLANS

Instituting the birth of a new honor society, a small group of State college students that have received honorable mention for the Associated Women and Men's club service awards met last Tuesday night and discussed the organization.

The idea was originated by O. J. Trautz, last year's student body president, when he was still in office, but due to unavoidable circumstances further organization was impossible. This year Trautz is seeing his idea developed by Marcus Cravens. There were only five eligible persons on the campus this semester: Dorothy Dowling, Inez Cash, Paul Hylton, O. J. Trautz and Marcus Cravens. Dr. Charles Jacobs of the college faculty is to act as sponsor for the new organization.

In the first meeting called by Cravens many important details were discussed among which were the constitution presented by Dorothy Dowling, a name for the organization, the function and purpose of it, and membership.

The group will meet again on Friday and continue discussion on the constitution, name, initiation ceremony, slogan and purpose.

Chamber of Commerce Helps With Publicity

Recently the Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce cooperated with the college in sending out some two thousand illustrated folders advertising the city and the hillside institution in particular, in preparation for the coming summer session.

It is hoped that these folders will give prospective summer session students a clearer idea as to the surroundings of Santa Barbara and will aid them in making their selections for summer institutions, according to E. E. Ericson, head of the public relations committee.

Music Head Asks for Old Records

Have you any old Victor records?

The Victor talking machine company is offering to the schools a duo radio and phonograph in return for 2500 old Victor records. The contest closes June 10.

"We would appreciate the cooperation of the students in this drive," stated Mrs. Helen Barnett, head of the college music department. "This duo radio and phonograph would be a valuable addition to the college as a whole."

Records for the contest may be in any condition either cracked or chipped, the only limitation being that they must be Victor records. A box will be placed in the main hall of the administration building to receive the records or they may be submitted to Mrs. Barnett.

Two individual prizes are also being offered to the students bringing in the most records. First prize is a globe map of the world valued at ten dollars and the second prize is a smaller map valued at seven dollars and a half.

Leaders Talk Over Quarter Term System

Merging the summer session with a fourth quarter to make a year round term at Santa Barbara State college is the major issue being studied for immediate action by the committee composed of representatives from the various local service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and members of the campus faculty which met in the faculty dining room in Ebbets hall yesterday afternoon.

The question, which was suggested by President Clarence L. Phelps, will be studied by the committee and passed upon at the next meeting, June 8.

Plans for an open house to acquaint the people of Santa Barbara with the various courses offered here and the work being accomplished within the various departments were outlined. A definite date has not been chosen for this project.

It is expected that work will begin immediately on the roadway to the new college site, according to President Phelps. The committee voted unanimously to present a recommendation to the department of the unemployed to put the road at the top of the site in condition in order to give the local residents a chance to view the future college location.

A program of social activities for the summer season was discussed and a number of suggestions for possible island trips, educational programs and outings were presented.

Honorary Fraternity Holds Annual Picnic

Members of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society in education, will hold their annual picnic Sunday, May 27, at Miss Grace Ruth Southwick's cabin in the Painted Cave tract.

A barbecue under the direction of Miss Edith Churchill, tennis, and hiking will be enjoyed by the group.

"Are you going on the island trip May 25, 26, 27?"

"Well right then and there I forgets I'm a second Tarzan and I gives him the glad hand because I know he's right there and maybe he isn't such a lizard on the rock after all."

Dance June 1 Raises
Funds for Local Scholarship

At Ambassador Hall
C. of C. Junior Group
Is Sponsor for Event

Through the cooperation and under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Santa Barbara, a dance will be held in the Ambassador ballroom, June 1, for the purpose of raising a scholarship fund for Santa Barbara State college.

All the money that is received at the dance will be put into the fund since no overhead expenses are to be incurred due to the cooperation and kindness of Alfred W. Robertson, owner, and Victor Janssen, manager of the Ambassador ballroom, in offering the use of the building for such a dance. Bud Lambourne's orchestra has also offered its services so that the dance will be successful in achieving its purpose of establishing a fund for scholarships.

Admission for students is to be 50 cents for tickets bought in advance and tickets bought at the gate by students and townspeople will be one dollar. Patrons and patronesses are to be chosen from well-known members of downtown service organizations.

In an interview with Marcus Cravens, president of the Associated Student body, he expressed the hope that the forward step taken by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring a dance for such a cause might be followed by other offers toward scholarships in some other department in the school.

The dance should be one which townspeople and faculty as well as students should attend and enjoy themselves to the utmost, according to a statement made by President Clarence L. Phelps yesterday.

Among the guests invited were Roy P. Eichelberger, William Kirchner, Roy Soules, Fred Pierce, Horace Sexton, Brady Howell, Francis Noel, Lee Verret, Harry Wilson, Harry Scott, all of whom are interested in local industrial education work.

Coming with a breath of romance out of the stirring days of the past with its piracy and adventure on the high seas, the comic opera, "Joan of the Nancy Lee," will be presented with effective settings by the college musical department June 6 and 7 in the auditorium.

Designed by Walter L. Cheever, instructor in the art department, the sets will mark a new achievement in stage atmosphere here, it was declared by Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, head of the music department. Fanciful yet realistic, the stage will represent the afterdeck of a pirate ship, showing stairways, bulwarks, and a stretch of the poopdeck. The sets are being built by the stage design class under Mr. Cheever.

The operetta presents a variety of lilting songs, both solo and chorus, featuring members of both the men's and women's glee clubs. Orchestral music has been cleverly harmonized with the action of the comic opera, the orchestra being under the direction of Helen Barnett.

Dramatic Class Presents Program

Members of the play production class under the direction of Mrs. Marie Davis, presented "An Evening of Dramatic Confidences" to an enthusiastic audience in the Women's club room last evening.

Students taking part in the program were Mary Bigland, Harry Moore, Mary Lee Townsend, William Ogle, Shirley Warner, Yale Lorden, Consuelo Cheever, Rea McPeak, Frank Gilmore, and Elizabeth Furby.

Oscar Trautz was in charge of the lighting effects.

Following the performance refreshments were served to the guests.

Educator Plans to Appear at Meet Tonight

College students are invited to hear an address given by Jessie Gray, president of the National Education association, this evening at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. There is no admission charge.

Miss Gray's address this evening is sponsored by the City Teachers' club of Santa Barbara, the County Teachers association, and the State college faculty. The national president is appearing in only five cities in southern California, spending one week in the southern part of the state after having flown by plane from the east.

Preceding the talk in the auditorium, she will be honored at a dinner in the State college cafeteria dining hall at 6:30 p.m.

Speakers at the banquet will include Mrs. William Ashworth, president of the City Teachers' club, and George Browne, former student body president at State in 1926, now a teacher at the Santa Barbara Junior high school.

The local committee in charge of arrangements for Miss Gray's appearance in Santa Barbara include, Mrs. William Ashworth, Mrs. Zelma Pierce, Esther Paulson, Roy Soules, Harrington Wells, Dean Lois Bennink, Francis Noel, and George Browne.

CLUB SPONSORS COLLEGE NIGHT

Climaxing a series of informal welcomes which have been afforded Coach "Spud" Harder, new football director of the Santa Barbara State college, an official welcome will be held in El Paseo, Thursday, May 31. "College Night," as the function is to be called, will be sponsored by the Twenty - Thirty club.

Presenting an array of all college talent, Bill Broome, of the Twenty-Thirty club has organized an evening of entertainment which will include well known college individuals such as Bud Lambourne's orchestra, the college quartet, Don Watson, Bill Crowe, Bill Poole, Bud Lambourne; the musical trio, consisting of Bud Lambourne, Tim Cornwall, and Bob Goux; and vocal novelties by Don Coker and Bob Goux.

The dinner will be attended by members of all of the prominent organizations in town in an attempt to unify the cooperation of the local townspeople with the Santa Barbara State college. Organizations to be represented are the Santa Barbara associates, Kiwanis club, Lions club and the Rotary club.

Guests of honor and the official welcome committee will include officials of both the college and the city: Clarence Phelps, president of the Santa Barbara State college; Marcus Cravens, president of the Associated Students; Harvey P. Honorary Sorority Will Enter Contest

Phi Omicron Iota, national home economics sorority, will compete in the poster and advertising material contest to be held by the A.H.E.A., American Home Economic association convention which will be held this summer in New York, it was announced at their department meeting held Monday trip. Eating utensils and bedding are the only things which those going are asked to bring. The cost of the trip has been considerably lessened over the cost of previous years, stated Melville "Humpty" Homfeld, president of the club and general chairman for the trip.

Drennan, Ashe, Chefs
Bob Ashe and Kim Drennan will be the chefs for the trip and are guaranteeing splendid meals for everyone attending. Friday night steaks and ice cream and cake with all the trimmings have been planned according to the chefs.

Plans for fishing and hunting have been made by many going, and according to Harry Killian, chairman of transportation for the trip, the hunting and fishing at this time of year is fine.

Miss Gladys Van Fossen and Ray Denno, both members of the Athletic department, are to be chaperones on the trip. Bob Poor made the posters advertising the excursion, which have been posted on the college bulletin boards.

I. E. DEPARTMENT ELECTS OFFICERS

Thomas J. Orr was selected by the industrial education department to be its chief executive during the coming year as a result of the organization's annual election held Tuesday morning during second hour. Mr. Orr succeeds Eugene Nelson, who has capably handled his duties as president throughout the past year. Orr has held various responsible offices in different campus groups and is well qualified for the position.

Other officers elected were Allen Crews, vice president; Wilbur Gilliland, secretary; Leo Pauly, treasurer; and Richard Lund, social chairman. The retiring officers of the industrial education department besides Nelson are Clarence Aspitte, vice president; Thomas Orr, secretary; Bernard Casner, treasurer; and Durant Moseley, social chairman.

Amendments Proposed
During the business meeting two amendment committees were appointed by President Nelson to draw up new rulings which will be either adopted or rejected at the first department meeting next fall. The first of these committees composed of Volney Hawley, chairman; Ray Dutcher, Zerril Pilgreen, and Allan Crews, will draw up an amendment providing for the election of officers each semester instead of once each year as is now the rule. The other committee composed of Durant Moseley, chairman; Leo Pauly, and Richard Davis, will word an amendment changing the rules in regard to election returns. Namely, that a person must receive a plural vote instead of a majority vote in order to become elected.

Durant Moseley, social chairman, made a report of the plans for the annual professional dinner to be held in Ebbets hall June 1. E. E. Ericson, head of the department, discussed a few of the particulars relating to the dinner, and then urged all returning students of the department to fill out the program cards for next year, which will be provided in a box near Mr. Ericson's office.

After a few other minor announcements the meeting was adjourned by the presiding officer, Eugene Nelson.

POSITIONS OPEN
Anyone wishing to apply for a position on the La Cumbre, year-book staff for next year, is asked to send a written application, stating qualifications and experience, to Barbara Clark, editor of the 1934 La Cumbre, by Monday.

Official publication of the Associated Students, Santa Barbara State college, Santa Barbara, California. Edited and published weekly on the State college campus. Success Proves State's Standards

Undoubtedly most students have heard remarks on the campus at different times regarding the advantages offered at larger institutions of higher learning. They hear of the enriched curriculum, the stately buildings, the beautiful grounds and the fine equipment offered by these institutions.

All of these things seem enticing to many of them. The road ahead seems straighter and smoother as it fades into the distance. They fail to make a clear comparison between the things that really count in life and the abstract value of material things. The accomplishments that are really secured out of a college education are the achievements that make it possible for people to live a fuller life.

The beautiful grounds and the mass of people, among which they work, will not give them this part of their education. The real merits must be secured by individual efforts, directed by well outlined programs and competent instructors.

On many occasions Santa Barbara State has given evidence of its well balanced curriculum and able instructors through the success of its graduate students. Perhaps there has not been a clearer example of this than the achievement of Miss Dorothy Rust, a local young lady who attended State for four years, graduating from the English department in 1933. Miss Rust has been working for her master's degree in English for the past year at the University of Southern California. In the Tenth Annual Apollad, a movement to stimulate creative arts at that institution, she won the first and second places in the essay division. Several hundred students, representing colleges and universities all over the country, participate in this contest.

Such performance speaks well for the standards of excellence maintained in our English department and for the ability of its teachers. It should also point out to students here the opportunities offered at State.

Haven for Entomologists

For the past several days those men of the campus who feel inclined that way, have been forced to sit amongst hundreds of lower creatures of the animal kingdom in the men's club room when they desire to study or rest in that room. Stopping in for a moment's rest in the club room yesterday afternoon, we could not help noticing the extreme disorderly condition of the meeting place—dead moths by the shovelful lying cold on the floor to crunch under the passer-by's feet; books and magazines thrown hither and yon; furniture sets absent; curtains half off their rods, cigarette butts and ashes on the floor; and even men sitting around desks, feet on the table with pipes in their mouths, and a general appearance of respect lacking on the part of some individuals.

And as to the furniture sets. Robert Main, president of the Men's club, has given several organizations on the campus permission to use the furniture, providing they return it by an agreed time. It has not been a few times that these organizations have waited as long as two days after the stipulated time to return the property of the Men's club.

It appears to us that some other office around the campus could be provided, or renovated, for certain instructors thereby eliminating the present constant-stream of members of the fairer sex passing through the room in order to confer with their teacher. Do the men of the college have to pass through the women's club room to get to some instructor's office? No. And furthermore, is it necessary to use the men's club room as a paint shop for the janitorial force?

These are only a few of the questions that might be asked relative to the present situation of the room, and it is hoped that such methods will help to enlighten the more influential persons of the campus of the case and arouse in them a desire to remedy the matter. —F.H.

Support the Scholarship Fund Dance

On the night of June 1, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a dance at the Ambassador ballroom, for the purpose of raising a scholarship fund for State college. As is now planned the money will be used for scholarship aids for worthy students, or prospective students in all of the departments of the college.

The fellows backing this dance are hoping that they will receive the whole-hearted support of both the local students and townspeople. In order that we can get this backing from the local citizens we must first prove to them, through our actions, that we are vitally interested in the movement, and that it is not their sole interest.

Let us get behind those who are in charge of arrangements for the dance and give them 100 per cent support in one of the most promising movements made recently by Santa Barbara State college in conjunction with the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. —F.H.

VISIT BIG PINES

Miss Ackroyd, Eleanor Rees, and Doris Delker attended the convention of scout leaders at Big Pines, Friday and Saturday before the sorority initiation. Classes in scout instruction were held Saturday morning and afternoon. Canoeing, swimming, and hiking were the recreations at Big Pines.

CALL FOR PROGRAMS

Students of the industrial education department are given the opportunity this week to make up preliminary programs for the fall semester. This is done in order that the time schedule for classes may be suited so far as possible to the needs of the students.

WOMEN MUST SIGN CARDS

Cards designating the residence and other information of every woman on the campus must be turned into Dean Lois Bennink's office immediately. For the purpose of planning living accommodations for the women already here and those coming into the student body, a thorough check must be made on every student. Graduating seniors are not excluded from this duty.

EBBETS TO SPEAK

Miss Charlotte Ebbetts will speak to the young people of the Congregational church Wednesday evening. Her address will be based upon her trip to the South Sea Islands.

The LONGBOW

By ARO

Probably the shortest poem in the world, with a title that greatly outweighs the verse itself, is the couplet entitled "The Antiquity of Microbes," which runs:

Adam

Had 'em.

But there are others almost as short. We remember one from our childhood:

Algy met a bear;

The bear was bulgy;

The bulge was Algy.

Ogden Nash, whose rippling rhymes have caused a gale of giggle in the last few years, has a two-liner called "The Baby":

A bit of talcum

Is always walcum.

"I saw eternity the other night," says Henry Vaughan, the 17th century mystic. Yeah, we've also had that type of indigestion so that we couldn't sleep.

It is interesting to read that strait-laced, canting, Puritan Massachusetts was more responsible than any other state for the introduction and continued supply of slaves in the South. Her ships were more active than any others in negotiating the middle passage with Negroes from the Guinea coast.

Statistics from 18 countries show Chile to have the lowest suicide rate, only 24 for every 1,000,000 people. We wonder just how that country would have rated, say 75 years ago, when thousands of Chinese coolies were being enticed to work in the horrible guano islands off the Chilean coast. Conditions were so horrifying that scores of poor Chinamen committed suicide, hurling themselves into the boisterous waves from the cliffs of the Chincha and other guano islands. And one of the most regrettable black spots on our escutcheon is the fact that many of these misguided coolies were brought to the New World in American clipper ships.

Hungary, by the way, today has the highest figure of suicides, 275 for each 1,000,000 population.

Next year will mark the centenary of the birth of the greatest critic of Victorian England—Samuel Butler, author of "Erewhon" and "The Way of All Flesh." Butler realized he could make little impression on the extreme complacency of England's smugness, so, aside from a very limited following, he wrote for future generations. It is only in the past 30 years that this defiant critic has come to be fully appreciated. 1935 should be a significant year for all Butler lovers, and in preparation we are dipping into his biography and re-reading his classic "The Way of All Flesh."

For those who might wish to discover some of the things at which Butler aimed his searing lashes, we recommend a new book, composed mostly of pictures, which has just been added to our library, "This was England" by Alan Bott.

It is interesting to note how many of the so-called English dramatists were really Irish. The list includes George Bernard Shaw, Oliver Goldsmith, Oscar Wilde, James Brinsley Sheridan, and such minor dramatists as Hugh Kelly, Charles Maturin, and Arthur Murphy, and among the leaders of the recent Irish literary revival are Edward Martyn, Lady Augusta Gregory, William Butler Yeats, Padraic Colum, and George William Russell (AE). Then, of course, in this country is Eugene O'Neill.

D. Z. D. Publication Appears This Week

The official publication of the Alumnae Association of Delta Zeta Delta made its appearance on Wednesday. The magazine known as Delta Data is a 32 page publication and is dedicated this year to their sponsor, Jane Miller Abraham.

The magazine features the sorority colors of purple and gold, having a cover of gold with a design of purple. The lineoleum cuts were done by Betty Greenwell, and the paper was edited by Ester Janssens. Ludcke, assisted by Rose Greenwell, Florence Stuart, Jean Powell, Janet Birnie, Esther Clevenger, Julia Lynch, Helen Smith, and Marian Anderson.

News, society, gossip, songs, poetry, and a review of the accomplishments of the past year are featured in the magazine.

Stage Design Class Makes Operetta Set

The afterdeck of a pirate ship will provide the setting for the comic opera, "Joan of the Nancy Lee," which the music department of the State college will present on the evenings of June 6 and 7. The designing and building of the set is being done by the class in stage design under the direction of Walter L. Cheever, instructor in the art department.

A series of units painted to represent the bulwarks, stairways and rail of a ship will be effective in creating the pirate atmosphere, according to Mr. Cheever. Because all the action of the comic opera takes place in the same position, there is no necessity to shift the scenes during the evening.

Kiwanis Club Meets in Ebbets Hall

Endeavoring to acquaint the townspeople with the State college, the Kiwanis club met in the dining room of Ebbets hall yesterday noon.

Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, head of the music department, was in charge of the musical program. Features of the program included two songs by Don Coker, and two numbers by Bobby Goux, group songs by the girls glee club and two solos by Mercedes Berger. Anita Cochran, Elizabeth Leonard, and Betty Proctor were accompanists.

Dr. Berkeley Blake, pastor of the Unitarian church, gave the main address of the afternoon on "Our College and Our Community."

Following the meeting a group of the men visited the shop buildings, the Lincoln library, and the Home Economic's buildings.

Women's Glee Club Sings for Banquet

Music for the banquet being given in the honor of Miss Jessie Gray, national education association president, in Ebbets hall this evening, will be furnished by the Women's Glee club and the string quartet. Under the direction of Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, the glee club will sing "Waves" by Ferrari and "Song of the Soul" by Breile.

BESWICK, COXON SPEAK AT MEET

J. C. Beswick, head of the bureau of trade and industrial education for the state of California, and James Coxon, chief of vocational education for the 11 western states, gave informal lectures concerning the need for vocational education for the youth in high school, in a meeting sponsored by Roy L. Soules, State college industrial education instructor, held at the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday evening.

The talks were directed to the leading business men of Santa Barbara, and men of the industrial education department of State college. It was definitely shown that even during the present financial conditions there is employment for the skilled worker. Too much stress has been laid upon the so-called "white collar" jobs in the past, and the skilled trades have been looked down upon. As a result of these conditions there are many young men graduating from high school, who do not plan entering college, that are unable to find work. Educated men must work, and there must be a democratization of education to suit the needs of everyone, were the points most stressed by both Mr. Coxon and Mr. Beswick. The school must be the flexible unit so that it can adjust itself to the needs of the individual pupils. Since there are but about one-third of the youth who go on to college the other two-thirds must be educated to take some occupation upon the completion of high school.

Entertainment will be supplied by the appearance of the head-line acts featured in the recent Roadrunner Revue. The Campus Coffee Cup wishes to extend its hearty congratulations to the innovators of such a worthy cause, and hope that the success of this affair will be an incentive for other organizations to carry on the good work of assisting students worthy of scholarships for exceptional ability in special fields.

Old King Neptune and Old King Sol have at last decided to get together on this subject of pleasing the populace. And the results of their agreements are extremely noticeable. Just take a look at the beach fiends, then make up your mind. These assigners of bathing suits didn't do so bad when they thought of some of the garbs. It seems that Booth's Point is the place these days.

Down there the other day we noticed Rose Greenwell in an adorable red and white diagonally striped suit. The neck line, both in front and back was square and the panties were a solid red. To match a two piece, navy blue ribbed shorts these were red bows on each shoulder. There was Ann Covelli in and white ribbed kerchief top. That white is a lovely contrast to her marvelous tan. With her was Lillian Talbot in that suit all the Delta Zeta Deltas have been talking about. Persis Freeman modeled it in their fashion show and Lillian, being one of those so wild about it, bought it before anyone else could have a chance. It's brown and orange checked with a skirt and brown straps crossing in the back. Nothing could have made a better suit for Lil.

White seems to be gaining favor for beach wear this season. One seen was something to write home about. And that was Kay Case's white rubber suit. Its top is kerchief style with several touches of red for design. Dorothy Weber's is a white ribbed one with straps which can be worn any number of ways. They usually are tied in the back.

Gen Hamilton has a cute red one with straps crossing in the back. And speaking of red ones we must not forget to mention Carol Zerby's. Just plain red without a skirt. The neck line at the front is trimmed with plaid searsucker and so are the straps which cross in the back. Incidentally she is at liberty to change those straps any time, therefore making some drastic differences in the appearance of the suit.

Salmon pink forms the color for Myrna Sorenson's sand and water suit. The edges are piped with white and there is a nautical design on the front of it. A tie in back marks the completion of the straps. Evelyn Warner pleases us in her brown and white wool. The top is 'kerchief' style done in brown and white stripes while the trunks are brown all except for a white stripe down the side of each leg.

Ashworth Reads Play Thursday, in Room 45

Robert E. Sherwood's play, "This Is New York" will be read by Dean William Ashworth, head of the English department, at the third play reading Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in room 45.

The play is a melodrama. In it New York is supposed to represent a cross section of American life, which is presented in a hilarious but faintly satirical mood.

Sport Comment

By BEN PALMER

It seems as though the sport season at the Roadrunner camp is just about over for the school year. Last Saturday the baseball team "licked" the Santa Barbara high school alumni, to finish the immediate season; track has had its last wind-up for this year; and now we have received word that spring practice in football is no more. Well; take it all in all, State has had a very good season this spring. The basketball season was good, the tracksters did better than ever before, and to climax the season Coach Hal Davis developed one of the best teams that State has ever had in baseball. In fact, some of the coaches from outside seem to think that the State team compares with the best.

Above it has been stated that the sport season is over. This may not be true, however, should Coach Davis get a game with the Santa Catalina ball club. This game, if played, will be staged on the island sometime within the next two weeks, according to Coach Davis. Oh! for the life of a ball player! If the boys do not become sick on the way over, they will show those Wrigley islanders some real classy ball tossing.

Several members of the campus are rather surprised that Spring football practice is over. Although one week of spring practice was cancelled due to the difficulty of "Spud" Harder getting to Santa Barbara and because the fellows had too much work to do over the week-ends, spring practice has been abandoned. At one time about 25 fellows were out for practice and quite a number came out under difficulties and received a little coaching under Coach Denno.

Since Coach Harder cannot be here and since the personnel will be greatly changed next semester as to football, there really seems to be little need for practice.

Intra-mural has died a natural death in this institution. Only one event has been staged this semester for this branch of school sports. This is rather surprising, as these sports should be in full blast during most of the year. Let us hope that intra-mural sports will have an upturn next year.

Redlands is topping off the tennis season in the conference in great style. Both the varsity and freshmen teams lead all others in the sport.

Harry Killian is all up in the air over his revised sport budget. Harry may have something, and if he does, let him rave on.

Russian Shawls Form Library Exhibition

Presenting a number of the different types of shawls worn by Russian women, an exhibit contributed by Dellsie Berg, a student in the home economic's department, is now on display in the State college library.

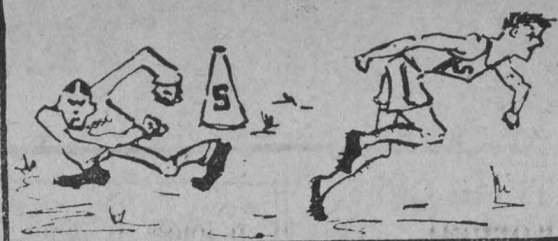

A black ringlet hairpin shawl, a white and tan and a black embroidered cashmere shawl, all of which are over 40 years of age and hand made, were given to Dellsie's mother by her great grandmother. The shawls are used to cover the head, and most of them are worn only on Sunday.

A pair of black velvet slipper fronts with a floral design made up of colored beads is also included in the exhibition. The slipper fronts are used with patent leather heels and are made by the prospective bride to put on her slippers which she wears on her wedding day.

Westwood Minister Guest of Bible Club

Approximately 31 members and guests of the College Bible club were present at the annual spring dinner Friday evening in the college dining hall.

The Reverend Sam Sutherland of U.C.L.A. was the speaker for the evening. Spanish numbers by Alicia Espinosa and Emma Lopez provided entertainment for the remainder of the evening. Song service was led by the Reverend Sutherland.

ALL-CONFERENCE BALL TEAM CHOSEN

Honors Go to Tigers

Two Men Are Chosen for Second Time

All-Conference material has been selected for baseball by the various coaches in the Southern California league. Occidental, the only undefeated team of the season, has four men placed on the list, topping all others in numbers.

Santa Barbara State, whose team in the opinion of many of the coaches who have seen her play, has several players that equal any on the list, however, due to the few games played with conference schools, the Roadrunners have been left out of the list, no doubt due to the fact that those who selected the all-conference group did not see them play.

Two of the men on the list have been selected on the All-Conference team before. Arrambide was named at second base and Potter in left field last season.

The team as selected is as follows:

Pitchers — McMillan, Occidental, and Wright, La Verne.
Catcher — Rowland, Occidental.
First base — Jakell, Occidental.
Second base — Montgomery, La Verne.
Shortstop — Ackland, Occidental, and Elder, La Verne.
Third base — Sullivan, Whittier.
Center field — Griffiths, Redlands.
Right field — Potter, Cal Tech.

PEGGY KOEPP

And out on our hillside to the right of the administration building I see posted signs requesting the burning of obnoxious weeds. What's to be done about it? It seems so useless for students to wait until "clean-up" day before anything is done about a cluttered-up campus. That seems to make clean-up day a farce when most of the students go to the beach.

Baseball season officially opened when the White Sox under the leadership of Frances Warring won from the Lucky Strikes on Thursday, May 17. Monday evening, Lois Jo's "Kelly's" took the game from Olive De Motte's Scotties. Other games are to be played off this week.

Speaking of girls' sports as silly I observed some of our campus cut-ups out slinging the hatchet at each other the other day, which in a mild way seems to be reverting back to barbarism.

College Trims High School Grads in Game

Defeating the Santa Barbara high school alumni by a score of 14-4, the hilltoppers ended the 1934 baseball season on the local high school field.

The power of the State nine was shown in this decisive victory, as most of the opponents were on the Southern California championship team of 1930. Most of the game was played without errors and was a clean sweep for the Staters.

Three errors were made by the Roadrunners; Yale Lorden accounting for two of them.

This game will end the season for Santa Barbara State unless Coach Davis receives a favorable reply from the Santa Catalina ball club. The game with them, if played, will be within the next two weeks.

Challenge Sent to College by C.C.C. Maulers

Mauling and trouncing bouts may not be over for the State iron-men, as yet. According to Gail Cochran, who has managed the boxing and wrestling bouts this semester, the San Marcos C.C.C. boys are anxious to match skill with the local men. Bouts will be held sometime next week if the affair is held at all.

The C.C.C. boys have challenged the college in boxing only, however, should enough interest be shown wrestling matches will be staged also. Since it is rather difficult to gather together enough material at this late date at the State college the affair may be cancelled; therefore, Gail urges all men that can do so please turn out and help him in meeting the campsters in this challenge.

These matches will constitute part of the entertainment furnished by the State college and other institutions in Santa Barbara for the San Marcos camp.

Intra-mural Contests Are Over for Season

Word has been received from the sport department of State college that there will be no more intra-mural sports this semester as there is no time left to run tournaments. During the semester there has been a boxing and wrestling tournament, otherwise there has been no other tournaments.

State Nine Bows to Cal-Christian Team

Four State Men Named by Coach Welch As Material for Rating in All-Conference

By FREDRIC HENDRIXSON

Climaxing a most successful baseball season the Roadrunner nine went down to defeat at the hands of one of the strongest outfits in Southern California last Friday afternoon, namely, Cal-Christian. The game was played on the Southern diamond at 3 o'clock p.m. The score being 6-3.

Cal-Christian made far less errors than did the Roadrunner outfit; this being the deciding factor in their victory. Ball made two of State's errors; Lebeck, Stockel, and Boucher making one error each. The Davismen's unusually high number of errors was caused chiefly by three things, according to Coach Hal Davis. Namely, the smallness of the field, the poor condition of the infield, and due to the fact that local men encountered some car trouble enroute to Los Angeles, causing the men to begin playing immediately upon their arrival, instead of after a warming-up period.

Home Runs Made

"Rezzonico made a home run that was legal on any field, while one of the Cal-Christian's men made a home run that would not have been considered as legal had it been made on our field," remarked Davis yesterday.

"We did better hitting on the whole than did the Vermont avenue lads, with Boucher pitching the

All-Conference Men Named
Ralph Welch, Cal-Christian baseball coach, and Joe Flemming, head baseball coach at Los Angeles Junior college were present at the game Friday. Mr. Welch related the following information to Coach Davis at the conclusion of the game: "Mr. Flemming and I have witnessed almost every game played by the Southern California colleges and junior colleges this season and we feel that the Santa Barbara State college outfit can trounce any team in this end of the country, they being on a neutral diamond. We also have the feeling that Miller, Rezzonico, Ball and Boucher should have All-Conference rating, as there are no men in the Southern conference who have played a better season of baseball than these four men."

"State has a two to one better outfit than does Occidental, one of the strongest teams of the Conference," stated Welch.
