Landry, Lombard Split Title Role in Greek Play

By Gilbert C. Horne

Those who read the article in Sunday's Santa Barbara News-Press doubtless noticed that only the Electra was presented in picture form. Although it was promised in the last issue of the Gauchito that both Landry and Lombard would be so featured, the dramatic powers—that be on the News-Press staff decided that Landry's picture was not suitable. Every effort was made to substitute another print but by the time a further picture was ready it was too late for inclusion. It should be emphasized that no discrimination or partiality was intended. The News-Press has promised that Miss Lombard will be featured in a future issue.

Meanwhile rehearsals are still in progress during five evenings each week. The accompanying picture taken by a Gauchito reporter depicts one of the scenes towards the end of the play. Aegisthus, played by Gordon (What a voice), is seen by the shrouded corpse of Clytemnestra, his mistress, after she has been slain by Agamemnon's son, Orestes, betrayed by Gill (My pipes are good, too!) Johnson. This scene, one of the highlights of the play, is guaranteed to bring a shiver to your spine. Not that the particular portion referred to is the only one that has this emotional impact. There are others—see for yourself.

Tense Moment In Electra Rehearsal

The death of Clytemnestra, one of the closing scenes from the coming production of "Electra," is depicted as it is being rehearsed by the college players. The production is slated for early December.

SIX SPEECH STUDENTS RECEIVE GRANTS-IN-AID

Grants-in-aid totaling $1000 have been awarded to six Santa Barbara College students for speech correction work with cerebral palsied children.

Dr. E. Allan Williams, chairman of the Honors and Scholarships committee, announced the following recipients: Winifred Woods, Walter Arndt, and Wenton Knudsen received awards from the Faith Johnson Sears Fund; Charles D. Bellows, Wesley Hervey, and Roy Stanford received awards from a $500 grant by the Women's Auxiliary of the Santa Barbara County Medical Society.

El Paseo Site Of Football Fling

The "Football Fling" sponsored by the Sophomore class, will be held at the El Paseo Saturday, November 27 following the Santa Barbara-San Diego game.

Admission to the dance will be $1.20 per couple or 60c per person. Tickets may be purchased from members of the Sophomore Class Committee or from members of Spurs or Squires.

Committee chairman for the dance is Betty Icliff. Members on the committee are Larry Wathey, Gene Costantino, Ken Treavy, Diane Covey, and Reno Chakel. Ken Treavy is in charge of tickets.

Proper dress of the evening for the dance will be sport, since many San Diego Aztecs are expected to attend.

Years ago, the El Paseo was one of the most famous night clubs in Santa Barbara. The Sophomore class hopes some of the old Spanish atmosphere will pervade the dance.

Sponsors for the evening will be Dr. Nettler and Dr. Goodspeed.

Santa Barbara Represented In Pelican

Santa Barbara College will be represented in the California Pelican which will appear about December 3 as an on-campus magazine for the first time, said Chris Stone, Santa Barbara Editor of the Pelican.

Stone said that Santa Barbara College would have a couple of page spreads, featuring photos by Gene and Joe Costantino, El Gauchito and La Cumbre photographers.

"This is the first time that we will actually have a humor magazine that will come out monthly," added Stone.

The Pelican will be sold in the Quad area and in the Caf for twenty-five cents a copy.

JOINT RALLY, PARADE TO PRECEDE 'BIG GAME' WITH SAN DIEGO STATE COLLEGE 'Scalp the Aztecs' Cry Of Saturday's Events

Preceding the long-awaited Gauchito-Aztec game that evening, a joint parade and rally will be held Saturday, November 27, in which both Santa Barbara and San Diego students will participate. This game will be the highlight of the season, and spirit should reach a high point before the game.

With "Scalp the Aztecs" as the motto of the day's events, the parade will start at 4:30 p.m. at Micheltorena and State Streets. From there it will proceed down State to De la Guerra Plaza where the big rally will be held. Students, who are going to drive cars in the parade, are asked to decorate their cars with blue and gold streamers. No students should wear red, because they are the Aztec colors.

1000 students from San Diego will arrive Saturday afternoon from the Aztec rooters train. Picked up by busses, they will be taken to the rally. There, San Diego and Santa Barbara cheer leaders will lead the students in yells and cheers. The bands of both colleges will play at the parade, rally and game.

Jerry Rose, chairman of the rally committee, stated, "The Santa Barbara-San Diego game is traditionally the 'Big Game' of the year. San Diego will be sending a large rooting contingent up for the game. Those students who have attended Aztec-Gauchito games, know of the frenzied pitch developed preceding the tilt, so plan to be here in Santa Barbara engaging in all the activities for this—the 'Big Game'."

The rally and the parade are jointly sponsored by the rally committee and the Downtown Retail Merchants Association.

There are still some dates left on the Activities Calendar for active organizations wishing to sponsor an all-campus event. Organizations who have not yet applied for a date should do so before December 8.

After December 8 any organization may apply for a second date on the calendar. The calendar is located in the Associated Student Body Office.

TOYNBEE VALUE AESTHETIC, NOT SCIENTIFIC

"A value of Toynbee's volumes lies in the realm of the aesthetic, not in that of science," stated Dr. Henry Adams, in a lecture last night at the Alhecama Theater, reconciling the many criticisms leveled at the historian with a recognition of the greatness of his work, "A Study of History."

Dr. Adams, assistant professor of history at Santa Barbara College, University of California, gave the third in a series of five lectures on great men and their work in science and social studies. The series is being presented by the University Extension under sponsorship of the Departments of Physical Sciences, Biological Sciences, and Social Sciences at Santa Barbara College, in cooperation with Santa Barbara Community Institute. COLLEGE REC ASSN.

PLANS PLAY NIGHT

The College Recreation Association is again having a Co-Rec night at the YMCA, Wednesday, Dec. 1. This will be an opportunity for every student on campus to enjoy themselves playing mixed badminton, and swimming, social dancing, and even movies. All this will be offered for the purpose of presenting an evening of fun for men and women at very little expense.

There is a large program of this type on other campuses of the university and in order to get started here on this campus we need the cooperation of everyone. A Co-Rec night will be offered ever month for the benefit of all if the students will show their interest. Various students have been asking why we don't have more functions, other than weekly dances, in which both men and women can participate—now here's your chance. Remember, December 1st, at the YMCA. Put this night on your list of evenings of fun.

C. S. T. A.

It's all well and good to take the umpteen courses required before they present you with a teaching credential. The next step is to get a job. Yes, teachers are needed, but some of us hope to teach someplace other than Barstow, Blythe, or Brawley. Have you ever wondered what a superintendent looks for when he hires a teacher? Our popular Professor of Education and director of the Placement Bureau, Mr. Chenoweth, will answer this pertinent question in his own inimitable manner tonight at 7:30 at the regular meeting of the C.S.T.A.

The CSTA chapter on this campus invites everyone who plans to teach, whether it be weaving or trigonometry, to drop around tonight. Mr. Chenoweth will speak at the Museum of Natural Science. We don't feel any other attraction is necessary, but if you do come you can by-pass Kerry's tonight, because refreshments will be served.

SIGMA ALPHA KAPPA

At their last meeting, the Sig Alphas welcomed Dr. Jerry H. Clark as a new sponsor to the fraternity. Dr. Clark will sponsor the Sig Alphas with Dean Paul A. Jones, Dr. Lynn Monroe, and Mr. Kermit Seefeld. Dr. Clark's acceptance was first announced at a halloween dance held by the fraternity several weeks ago.

Before coming to the college, Dr. Clark was Manager of the University of California Guidance Center here in Santa Barbara. He received his doctorate at the University of Texas. He has been associated with the psychology department at Texas and at Santa Barbara College.

El Gaucho Vacations

There will be no El Gaucho published on either November 26 or November 30 according to the editors.

El Gaucho will not be published on these dates because there is no provisions for these editions in the budget which was made and approved at the time when the Thanksgiving recess lasted from November 25 to November 29.

The editors wish the student body to realize that the temporary lapse in publication is due to shortage of money allotted for publication rather than to laziness.

EDITORIAL

There is almost no combination of factors which can contribute so surely to the stifling of growth—whether it be of an individual, an institution, or a nation—as that of apathy and ignorance. Stagnation and decline work in an almost perfect ratio with these two negative factors.

The above is a patent fact which can be verified simply by paging through any history book.

It is indeed regrettable then that such an aura of apathy and lethargy is permitted to settle over so many institutions of higher learning, to smother their growth. And our own is, somehow, no exception.

If one remains here long enough he begins to feel that the world is bounded on its four peotic corners by Building B, the bus stop, Ebbets Hall, and North Hall respectively.

It would probably be a startling revelation to many here were they to find that there are millions of square miles extending beyond those four geographical spots. But such is the truth . . .

In a rather nebulous state on this campus is an organization whose avowed intention is to rectify that wrong, to strike at the roots of our apathy and lethargy, to foster in the students of the nation a frame of mind which is necessary to our continued growth in the face of current national and international affairs. This organization is the National Students Association.

Its aims may best be stated by quoting directly from the preamble to its constitution: "We, the students of the United States of America, desiring to maintain academic freedom and student rights, to stimulate and improve democratic student government, to develop better educational standards, to improve student cultural, social and physical welfare, to promote international understanding and fellowship, to guarantee to all peoples . . . equal rights . . . and education, regardless of race, color, creed, political belief or economic status, to foster the recognition of the rights and responsibilities of students to the school, the community, humanity, and God, and to preserve the interests and integrity of the government and constitution of the United States of America, do hereby establish this Constitution of the United States National Student Association."

The group, if activated, will seek to operate on three levels: student government, educational problems, and international affairs. It will be the project of the group to make students aware of all the problems and needs in these fields, to make a united effort through all its nation-wide members to come to an understanding of these issues and to attempt to come to some solution.

At next week's Student Council meeting, two students from this campus will give a report concerning the California-Nevada-Hawaii regional conference held at Berkeley recently, with an explanation of the aims and purposes of NSA and what this organization can do on the American college campus.

The meeting will be open to everyone. It is going to be interesting to see just how students react when the invitation to snap out of their intellectual slumber is afforded them.

"Only the maladjusted seek the illusion of true love," said the Oaf, tossing the blonde over his left shoulder into a thicket. "The healthy are content to act out a deception."

"Who wrote that?" asked the Timid One.

"I did," said the Oaf modestly, as he grinningly watched the blonde picking burrs out of her teeth. "It suddenly occurs to me that there is something desperate, grim, and earnest beneath the surface of this college social life. People actually get married, commit themselves for the rest of their lives, valid, deep, and sensitive emotions are brought into play, yet to all appearances nothing transpires except a series of seemingly innocuous events in which young people have good, clean, coltish fun. Who is aware of the brooding, the pain, the thought—or lack of thought—that must go into (what are to the persons involved) truly monumental decisions?"

"Better have some more benzedrine," suggested the Timid One. "No," said the Oaf defiantly, bracing himself as the blonde prepared to charge again. "What I say is true. That's why it may seem funny. I found out long ago that all you have to do is tell the truth, and people consider it positively ridiculous."

"What is all this leading to?" queried the Timid One.

"To the fact that cruelty wends its subtle way through our pleasuring" (Continued on page 4)

People remaining in a somewhat fixed environment often tend to level criticism at their surroundings, many times only for the sake of variety.

But since Thanksgiving is in the immediate offing, it seems like a good time to give thanks for three essential blessings which are seldom found anywhere else these days.

Surely, there are those vague assets like education and social life here for which to be grateful, but the really essential blessings of life in this area are far more basic.

Where else, in times when every pleasure is pain for in flesh and taxes, can one still buy cigarettes for 15 cents, coffee and donuts totaling 10 cents, and, the crowning excellence—a 5-cent candy bar!

Aside from the actual savings involved, this adherence to the old price line is even more comforting in its ability to renew our faith in the identity of the nickel and dime.

Ever since that now-forgotten day when some brilliant tycoon first raised the price of a Hershey bar from five to six cents, our trust in the unity of the nickel has been diminishing almost as fast as the nickels in our pocket.

The dime as well, now leans heavily on the support of a copper or two in order to get past the most un-arithmetic cashier. It has almost become a startling experience to buy an item which, by its nature, happens to fall into the non-tax category, and to be told that no pennies need be added to our dimes.

In fact, this decay in the value of the nickel and dime, has caused the one-cent piece to have its social level raised several degrees,

Dear Students,

Recently my committee, the Student Judicial Committee, working in conjunction with the Faculty Student Welfare and Health Committee, submitted to the Faculty for approval ten recommendations as printed in last Tuesday's El Gaucho. These recommendations were intended to curb cheating on campus, and eight of them were approved by the Faculty. The Faculty adopted them for general use; however, any Faculty member is free to modify them if he feels that there are extenuating circumstances in his own case. In some special cases an injustice might be done or the purposes of education might best be served by not holding hard and fast to the recommendations.

by Rudy Schafer

I was really quite surprised at the response I received to last week's New Orleans jazz column. It seems that quite a few Gauchos like this type of music and would enjoy associating with other two-beat devotees. I will prevail on Dr. Walters to put on a record concert soon and perhaps we can go further from there. If the interest warrants, it might be possible to set up a collector's club on campus which would have regular record sessions and discussions and possibly some live talent. Be thinking about it and watch for the announcement of Dr. Walter's session.

If you are interested in an LP record player attachment for your radio or phonograph but the thought of the 30 dollar outlay frightens you, perhaps an ad in the current "Popular Science" magazine will be of interest to you. A New York radio parts house is offering an LP attachment for a radio or phonograph which they will sell for $19.90. I know nothing about the quality of the attachment, but I suppose that it would be satisfactory for general use if you have a pretty good radio to hook it up to. The ad is on page 306 of the magazine if you are interested.

Personally, most Jo Stafford records leave me cold and her latest offering of "Ave Maria" is no exception. The song is just not for Jo and I'll bet that Schubert is busily spinning in his grave after hearing her rendition of it. She just hasn't the voice for this type of music, but a lot of people will probably like it and make it a big seller. There's just no accounting for taste.

Another one of the great Benny Goodman Sextet platters has hit the stands with Capitol's issuing of "The Varsity Drag" and "The Maids of Cadiz." This record is strictly one of those all-star jobs, what with Mel Powell, Aed Norvo, and Benny featured, and it will probably find a place in most record collector's libraries. Better catch this one before the stores sell them out.

The reissue business seems to be booming these days since Mr. Petrillo is still pouting. Bobby Sherwood's "Elk's Parade" and "Sherwood's Forest" are back-to-back on a late Capitol release which will probably be much in demand for those of you that missed the original pressing.

Well, that's about all for today. See you next week (Schafer, you optimist).

of you students that these recommendations can be effectively executed. If you feel that test conditions can be improved in a particular class, for example, if you feel that there is undue cheating in your class or that the lecturer is not taking proper precautions to see that there is no cheating, you are invited to submit your criticism or suggestion to the Student Judicial Committee either by dropping a note in the locked Judicial Committee mail box which will soon be placed in the Quad or by contacting me at the Associated Student Body office in West Hall. If the committee feels that your criticism is valid, we will do everything possible to seek the cooperation of the particular lecturer to alleviate the situation.

I am in the Associated Student Body office in West Hall every Tuesday and Thursday morning from 10:30 to 11:00, and I welcome the opportunity to talk with any student.

Sincerely
Harry Brumbaugh

Patrus Reports CSTA

By Anthony Patrus

This is the first semester the CSTA has appeared in print with all its clothes on. Previous it has been masquerading in show pants as the Junior High Department Club, but from now on you are to hear of it only as the Santa Barbara College Chapter of the California Student Teacher's Association. It will acknowledge another appellation. It's grown. The parent organization, an inter-collegiate affair, has recently marked its tenth year of service to students in teacher training institutions all over the state. The longtime sponsor of the group is the California Teachers Association, professional organization of teachers and administrators who actually and successfully run the world's most progressive school system: the schools of the State of California.

But to be specific, the local chapter being in its first semester of maturity, has need of friends, patrons, and members galore. To welcome mat is out for all future teachers in the liberal and applied arts fields. Its needs are also needs: 1. Development of strong feelings of professional morality. 2. Inter-collegiate coordination and unification of purposeful student aims and activities, and Comprehensive programs of firsthand experiences in and direct introduction to the associative workings of effective professional groups in our democracy.

All this and heaven too can't be had by the prospective teachers. After-meeting socials are not neglected by the fair sexes. Opportunities other than professional available to the able. Remember that recent surveys have shown that teachers make better wives than most other women.

All in all the college chapter of the CSTA is an eager, friendly, sincere, conscientious group of educational majors and minors who value the esteem and cooperation of their prospective colleagues in making the teaching profession a worthwhile field in which there is no limit to the mark you can set as a point of achievement. They will be more than glad to see all of you at their regular monthly meeting, every fourth Tuesday at 7:30 pm. in the student council rooms of the Museum of Natural history at the foot of the hill.

Edeline Slants Gaucho Gridders Prepare for Big Game After COP Slaughter

With Chuck Cobby

This afternoon's game at 3:00 marks the end of the intramural football trail when the Gauchos tie into Sig Eps for school championship. Today's game marks the second meeting of these two clubs for the year, the Sig Eps won the encounter by a 13-7 count in a game that could have gone either way.

The two top teams of the fray and club divisions started the round robin playoff series last week with the Dogger House and the Muirites representing the clubs and the Sig Eps and Kappa Sigs fighting for fraternal honors. The Kappa Sigs ended on the top spot for the fraternity while the Dogger House led the list of club teams.

Thus far in the school play-offs Kappa Sigs boast wins over Dogger House and the Muirites. The Dogger House has bested Sig Eps besides losing to the Kappa Sigs, and the Muirites have to win a game. By this we see thus far in the playoffs, the Kappa Sigs are the only unbeaten team in today's game then it

Gaucho Gridders Prepare for Big Game After COP Slaughter

By Geo. F. Outland

Still burning from their humiliating 46 to 0 defeat at the hands of the College of the Pacific Tigers, the Golden Gaucho grid squad this week began heavy workouts in preparation for the Big Game against San Diego State this Saturday evening. They face the Aztecs in La Playa Stadium at 8:15.

The Aztecs defeated Cal Poly 28 to 14 last weekend, the same club which the Gauchos dumped 35 to 19 the week before. When State played COP earlier in the season in San Diego, they fell before the Tiger onslaught 41 to 14.

Fourth Place Now

The Gauchos, San Diego State and Cal Poly are now in a three-way tie for fourth place in the 2C2A conference, and although the games this weekend will have no bearing on the winner of the league, they will definitely affect the standings. Should the Gauchos drop State, and COP bounce Fresno State, then the Gauchos would move into a tie with FSC for third place in the conference—the first time they've been in the upper division.

The State team has not an enviable record this season, having won from Redlands, Pepperdine and Cal Poly while dropping contests to Brigham Young, Arizona, COP, Loyola, Fresno State and San Jose State. The Gaucho's season check-list reads four victories against five defeats. However, the Border City team is always "high" for this game, so season records may be thrown out the window. It is probable that by game time the visitors will rule as one-touchdown favorites.

COP Fiasco

In the COP fiasco, it was the magnificent ball-handling of Little All-American quarterback Eddie LeBaron which won the game, but it was poor officiating which held the Gauchos scoreless. This is the first game of the season in which they were white-washed, and paradoxically, it is the first game which the Tigers have not yielded two touchdowns. Their opponents had previously averaged exactly 14 points per game. The men in Blue and Gold had four drives deep into Tiger territory called back, two of these drives within the eight yard stripe. The Tigers had one touchdown run and several nice gains called back. The penalty statistics revealed 105 yds against the Gauchos and 40 against COP, but this does not include the distance of the play nullified by the penalty.

Even the Tiger fans, who received a poor bit of officiating at the San Jose State game which cost them the 2C2A title, came up with the chant of "The referee's

Gamma Sigs Win; Look Impressive

The intramural basketball tournament got off to a flying start last Thursday evening in the men's gym, as six of the 24 teams met in the opening games.

Gamma Sigma Pi set out to prove that they will be a power in this tournament by entering two teams and winning both games by large scores. The "A" team, led by Bob Bothner with 18 points, Guido Del Bello with 14 points and Harris Seed with 12 points, completely overwhelmed Tau Epsilon Phi, 81-21. The "B" team scored exactly twice as many points as Sigma Tau Gamma, winning 21-14. Bob Chapman was high scorer for Gamma Sigma "B" with 12 points. Dick Harmon and Brick Reid showed well for the losers.

In the last game played, Sigma Alpha Kappa, after a slow first quarter, went out in front of Delta Sigma Phi, and won going on the long end of a 38-16 tally. Aldridge and Pentoney led the winners with 15 and 12 points respectively.

TENNIS

Entries are now being accepted in West Hall 110 for the intramural singles and doubles Tennis Tournament.

All male students except those who played varsity tennis are eligible to compete. Games will be played on Mondays, Wednesday, and Fridays at the Municipal Tennis Stadium. In the event of conflicts in schedules, games may be played at the convenience of the players.

Play starts Monday, November 29. Mr. Lyle Reynolds, Gaucho Tennis Coach, will be in charge.

Kappa Sigma Leads Intra Play-Offs

Coming from behind late in the second half, Kappa Sigma scored once and made the conversion to seek out a 33-32 victory over the Muirites, and thus went into the lead in the Intramural Touch Football play-offs for the college championship. On Wednesday they had defeated a strong Dogger House aggregation by a score of 14-6 on a touchdown pass from Abernathy to McCarthy, and a 20-yard run by Bob Smith. The Dogger House score was made by Hahn on a beautiful 30-yard run behind effective blocking.

In the wild-scoring game with the Muirites, Kappa Sigma went out in front as Bob Smith ran the opening kick off for a touchdown. Before the game was many minutes older, Fred Bahl connected with the first of four touchdown passes for the winners, this one to Malone. Dick Stratton came right back for the Muirites when he ran the next kickoff all the way for a score, and then repeated the run in the second half to put his team in front. In between he passed to Hanson for another six points. Bahl, however, kept pitching strikes, twice to Barr and once to McCarthy for three touchdowns, and then sewed up the ball game, as the score stood 32-32, by finding McCarthy in the end zone for the extra point.

In the second game on Thursday, Dogger House played head-up ball to defeat Sigma Phi Epsilon in a closely contested affair, 13-6. Scoring first early in the first half on a 30-yard pass from Royce to Ware, and making the conversion good, the winners went out in front and were never headed. Sig Ep stayed within striking distance when they scored in the first half on an interception play that had to be seen to be believed. Snyder blocked a pass that had just left Gmur's hand. The ball bounced into the air, was juggled momentarily by Gustofsen of Sig Ep, and caught by McDonald who scored on a 15-yard run. Dogger House came back with another touchdown pass from Kutch to Ware, and that was the ball game.

Previously, Sig Ep had defeated the Muirites, 19-7, as George

Stevenson found the range with two touchdown passes to Gene Snyder, and Quentin Sims scored once on a short dash over center. Sims was particularly effective on end-around runs, preceded by Snyder who paved the way. The Muirite score was made on a short pass from Stratton to Beverage.

With two games still to be played this afternoon at 3:15 at Cabrillo Field, the standings are as follows:

Kappa Sigma	2	0
Dogger House	1	1
Sigma Phi Epsilon	1	1

Civil Service Now Recognizes SBC as Accredited School

Santa Barbara College today chalked up another step in its advance to nationwide recognition.

Acting Provost J. Harold Williams reported that United States Civil Service Commission had extended full recognition to this college in determining eligibility and academic credit for its applicants.

Dr. Williams was informed of this action in a letter from C. F. Wilson, Executive secretary of the Central Board of Civil Service Examiners at Denver, Colo.

"In view of the information that degrees are now conferred upon graduates of your college by the Regents of the University of California, you may be assured that all possible credits will be given to students at your institution in examination by this Board," Mr. Wilson stated.

The question arose when an application submitted by a Santa Barbara College student for the Engineer Trainee examination was returned with the notation, "academic study not completed in a school of recognized standing."

This started a chain of correspondence between the Provost's office and the Civil Service Commission which eventually cleared up the situation. It developed that the Civil Service Commission was following a list of accredited institutions contained in a bulletin of the United States Office of Education compiled before the present status of Santa Barbara College as a part of the University of California was fully clarified.

if only in numbers. There was a time when people wouldn't think of walking around with a handful of pennies weighing heavily on one side, but those days, out in the cruel, harsh world, these coins have become indispensable.

And so, when we labor delightfully over a platter of turkey, mince pie and cranberry sauce next week, we shall give thanks, not only for the cranberry sauce, mince pie and turkey, but also for the good old 5-cent candy bar. A society founded on such stability, is great indeed!

coming from runs of magnificent style. On one occasion the runner had eight man interference ahead of him, with only the Gaucho secondary of five men against him.

The only play which the Gauchos could not stop was the safety-valve run. COP's fullback would come through the line at left guard, LeBaron handing the ball to him there. If the Gaucho defenders had closed the hole, LeBaron simply took the ball back from the fullback on a spinner and pitched it out to the halfback going around end with three man interference. Either way, the Gaucho line-backers were trapped. The play also worked against San Francisco and Montana U. to the tune of 32 to 14 scores on preceding weekends.

Last Home Game

The San Diego State fracas marks the last Gaucho appearance at home this season as they close out their year against Willamette College of Salem, Oregon, at Bakerfield next weekend. The game, a charity affair, will be played at

subject of Dr. Adam's lecture was "Unfinished Symphony: Arnold J. Toynbee."

Explaining his distinction between the aesthetic value and the scientific value of Toynbee's work, Dr. Adams stated: "Pages of remarkable classical and biblical erudition, flashes of stimulating insight and intuition, passages of magnificent prose, are contained therein for the aesthetic enjoyment of the reader, but the 'system' involving questionable 'scientific laws' and a questionable 'empirical method' melts in the hands."

"We may criticize in a dozen ways," Dr. Adams continued, "but the creative achievement, like his creative individuals, deserves the admiration of men of good will."

In a similar vein, Dr. Adams outlined Toynbee's answers to such questions as: How do civilizations grow? How do civilizations stop growing? How do civilizations disintegrate?

Dr. John Michael O'Gorman, assistant professor of chemistry, will give the next lecture on December 1. His subject will be, "Unleashing Atomic Energy: The Collaboration of Many Minds to Produce Destruction."

"I would be deeply offended if I didn't know you were making a big joke," said the Timid One worriedly.

"Ah, I can picture the scene now," said the Oaf, as the blonde tried desperately to gouge out his right eye. "This time we'll plant huge cakes of dry ice in the quad pool, so that when the students arrive Monday mornings they will find the pool bubbling and steaming. About the pool, dressed in the blood-stained sacrificial robes, the High Llamas will chant incantations. Then, every five minutes, young virgins will be hurled into the bubbling water. Silence will prevail, morning silence, a silence broken only by the noise of bubbling water, soft-spoken incantations, and the soft maidenly spashes that arise when tender, young bodies disappear beneath the surface. It will be tremendous. The of the publicity. Why, we might even make Life Magazine."

"I can see no value in your saying these terrible things," said the Timid One. "And, anyway, where would you find—"

"Enough," said the Oaf, as the blonde sank her teeth into the left ear. "We must all try to understand each other." Then with a smile of Christian charity, cuffed the blonde lightly before taking her acne-scarred face in his hands, and kissing her up the forehead.
