CAMPAIGNS ADOPTED FOR ANNUAL ELECTION; CANDIDATES TO SPEAK

Little Competition Found Among Office-Seekers; To Vote Next Week

Starting a new precedent in the matter of acquainting the Student Body electorate with the candidates, it was decided in Council meeting yesterday that the office-seekers will appear before the assembly in the student body meeting next Thursday and the candidates for president will give campaign speeches. The object of the action is to acquaint the students with the officers.

The election will take place next Friday. Little competition has been noted, the offices of vice-president, publicity manager, editor of The Eagle, and manager of dramatics, oratory, and debating being uncontested.

Henry Batchelder and Fred Jacobs are in the running for the A. S. B. presidency. Ester Janssens is the only candidate for vice-president. For secretary, Grace Miksch and Frances Cattaneo have announced their candidacy. The office of treasurer is being contested by Jack Vince, Keith Gunn, Oran Booth, and David Dickie. Harold Furman will have a clean sweep for publicity manager. Elizabeth Campbell and James Dinwiddie seek the editorship of La Cumbre, and Alfred Tomlinson is the only candidate for editor of The Eagle. Edith Comstock stands alone in the race for manager of dramatics, oratory and debating.

Spanish-French Picnic to be Held in Hills Wednesday

Following the success of the Spanish-French picnic in the hills above the Riviera last year, another such outing is being planned for the students in the Spanish and French classes of the college at the same place next Wednesday evening at 5:30 p.m. The picnic site is on Francesca Road above the Sheffield Reservoir.

Francis Peteler initiated the project and is in charge of the affair. What the program of entertainment will be has not been definitely decided, but plans are being made to put it over big. About forty-five students are expected to attend the picnic. Fifty cents will be charged.

Pianist Resigns

Marjorie Scofield, who was elected college pianist at a Student Body meeting early in the semester, has tendered her resignation of that office to the Council, it was reported at a meeting yesterday.

Miss Scofield's reason for resigning was given as inability to attend assemblies due to outside duties.

Eight Foot Electric Sign To Advertise College Night

A new innovation in advertising college functions will be initiated in advertising College Night which will be held on the campus near the end of the month. The words, "College Night" will blaze forth from the site of the new administration building just south of the gymnasium every night for a few weeks prior to the big night, if plans initiated by Carl Wirths, member of the College Night committee on publicity, and passed by Mrs. Miller at a meeting of the publicity committee last week, materialize.

Arrangements are being made for the construction of the letters of the sign each separately in the woodwork shop at the present time. The letters will be approximately eight feet high and will be painted white. They will be propped up on the college hill where everybody can see them and they will be illuminated at night by footlights. In this manner it is hoped to tell the world about the celebration to be held here.

Former C.E.S. Instructor Promoted in Oklahoma

In a recent letter from Miss Kathryn M. Long to the Credentials Committee former associates were pleased to hear of her promotion for next year.

Miss Long has been director of Elementary Education in the Teacher Training department at the School of Education in Stillwater, Oklahoma, for the past two years. Miss Long will have direct supervision of a department of over one thousand students who are fitting themselves for the teaching profession.

Alumna Weds

Gladys Buck, '23, who was taking a post graduate course at the college before Easter, was married to H. H. Crawford, Daily News linotypist, on April 19.

Mrs. Crawford taught in the Honda School District for a year after receiving her teacher's certificate here. She is residing with her husband at 420 Coast Highway, this city.

Men's Glee Club Sings

The Men's Glee Club sang before an education week meeting of the Masons at the Masonic Temple last Friday evening. The whole club sang three numbers; James Dinwiddie assisted with a xylophone solo, and the quartet sang two numbers to round out the performance.

Glee Sings to Exchange

The Men's Glee Club sang before a luncheon of the Exchange Club at the lobby of the Carrillo Hotel yesterday noon. At the recital announcements were made of the Glee Club dance to be held tomorrow and College Night.

OUTING CLUB LEAVES ON WEEK END ISLAND EXCURSION SATURDAY

Fish Predicted to Receive Refreshments During Week-End Trip

By HAZEL SCOLARI

Agonies of mal de mar fail to daunt the jolly crowd of brave crusaders who are setting sail tomorrow for the islands. This is the annual trip and this year it promises to surpass any trip heretofore in the number of students hazarding the voyage and the amount of fun to be expected on the other side.

The trip will cover a period of two days, tomorrow at 5:30 a.m., and returning Sunday evening. Ira Eaton's "Sea Wolf" is being utilized by the adventurers. The report is that it is a very easy riding boat, so that with a very smooth sea beneath it there should only be a small percentage of roll call indispositions.

Some forty students in all will make the trip. Of these about fifteen are girls. Oran Booth will head the expedition and he promises that whoever goes will get double his money's worth.

On Saturday the program includes a trip to Painted Cave, Valdez, Hazard's Dry Harbor, Creva, and probably a stop will be made at Lady's Harbor. The party will camp at Fry's Harbor. On Sunday the points which will be taken in will be Needle's Eye, Pelican Rock and Bay, Seagull Rock, China Harbor, and an excursion will very likely be made to the top of Mt. Diablo, the highest mountain in the Islands. Fishing, swimming, and other sports will be in order as well as hiking.

Arrangements for food have also been completed. Miss Severy is in charge of the preparation of the menu which will be offered. The

Names of Student Body Delinquents Will Be Published Soon

Due to a laxity among the students in paying their Student Body dues for this semester, a motion was made in Council meeting yesterday to publish the names of more than twenty students who have not paid these dues a week from today.

This measure was taken as a last resort to enforce payment of the dues. Much of the laxity has been a result of a misunderstanding among the students as to the necessity for payment. Many of the students are misguided by the belief that because they are special students, they may enjoy the benefits of the student body dues without paying them.

The situation will be remedied next year by refusing to allow the students their semester program cards before the dues are paid.

Orchestra to Play at Congregational Church

A trio of the college orchestra composed of Phyllis Randall, (director), Gene Conklin, and Isabel Vaughn will play at a Music Vesper Service at the Congregational Church Sunday. Since the performance of the orchestra at the stunt program at the Lobero Theater two weeks ago, it has been gaining in popularity and has been invited to play in a number of programs.

Last Monday evening the orchestra presented a recital before a meeting of the Omnibus Club at the Masonic Temple. According to reports, the concert was well enjoyed.

The members of the orchestra are as follows: Violins—Phyllis Randall, Paul George, Edwin Mabe, Francesca Luck, Grace Coffin, Franklin Anderson, and Francis David; cornets—Vincent Pelletier, Lucien Stark, and Edward Smith; cello—Gene Conklin; trombone—Harold Furman; piano—Isabel Vaughn.

Men's Club Invites All to Picnic at Paradise Camp

The Men's Club will be hosts to the college and everybody else a week from Sunday at Paradise Camp. Sixty-five cents apiece or $1.25 per couple will be the charge for the expenses of food for the affair.

Although there is no barbecue pit at the camp, a pit will be constructed for the broiling of meat to make a real outdoor picnic out of the event. The menu has been left strictly to the discretion of Ted Marshall, who has been named chef by the Men's Club.

Games and swimming in the Santa Ynez River will be the order of the day. The picnic is open to everybody.

Lydia Sprecker to Teach War Veterans in South

Miss Lydia Sprecker left last week for the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home in Los Angeles where she will teach occupational therapy to the injured veterans of the World War.

Miss Sprecker, who is a member of the Phi Chi Alpha Sorority here, was given a farewell party and presented with a Japanese print by the sorority at its last meeting.

Sorority Barbecues

Members of the Phi Kappa Gamma Sorority held a barbecue at Hope Ranch Beach last Sunday. The women spent the time in swimming and playing ball, practicing for the challenge game with Delta Zeta Delta to be held soon.

Women to Sing

The Women's Glee Club will sing at the weekly luncheon of the Exchange Club next Thursday. The trio of the Club will sing next Sunday at a Music Vesper of the Congregational Church. Isabel Lyons, Nancy Howerton, and Phyllis Randall constitute the trio.

GLEE CLUB DANCE IS SCHEDULED TONIGHT, RECREATION CENTER

Is Open to Public; Large Crowd Is Expected to Attend Social

The second dance to be given by the Men's Glee Club during the college year will be held tonight at Recreation Center, starting at 9 p. m., with Greenough's Orchestra furnishing the music. Special feature surprises by the Glee Club will be the main entertainments of the evening.

An extensive campaign for advertising the dance has been carried out by distribution of window cards, windshield stickers, and canvassing of the business district for advance ticket sales by members of the club.

The dance will be supported by the Exchange Club which will have a representation attending the affair as was done by that organization at the last Glee Club dance. This support is in return for a short concert given by the Glee Club yesterday noon before the weekly meeting of Exchange Club members. Tickets were sold at that time.

Proceeds of the event will go toward defraying expenses of the Glee Club members on tomorrow's island trip.

The committee arranging for the dance is James Dinwiddie, chairman, Clifford Leedy, and Henry Batchelder.

Excellent music, peppy Glee Club features, and Diehl's punch will individually add to the success of the evening, and, according to the committee chairman, the event will eclipse all of the others of its kind and variety and methods of entertainment.

Plans Are Made for Glee Club to Attend Contest

Arrangements are being made by the Women's Glee Club to attend the Eisteddfod Contest of glee clubs in various colleges in Southern California at the University of Southern California a week from today.

A candy sale was held by the club in the corridor Wednesday morning to defray expenses of the trip.

Southern Branch Professor Visits on Inspection

Professor Blanchard, of the English department of the University of California, Southern Branch, visited the campus on a tour of inspection Monday. He attended the morning classes in English and public speaking.

From Santa Barbara Professor Blanchard went to Bakersfield Junior College.

VOTE INTELLIGENTLY

Election time will soon be here again. That means that it's time to warn the students to do their duty at the polls.

The students should bear in mind when casting their ballots that those whom they elect will have the reigns of student government in their hands next year. They will enact measures in Council and perform duties in their various offices that may vitally concern the students next year. Many of these duties will be left strictly to the discretion of the officers, and the students may not have much voice in them after the officers are installed. For that reason, special care should be taken in selecting the officers.

The students will reign supreme for one day when election time comes, and their decisions will have vital consequences. For that reason it is a duty for every student to vote and vote intelligently. If you don't know who you are going to vote for, find out. If you don't find out, don't vote. If you vote, and you certainly should, vote intelligently.

COMMUNITY SINGING

Community singing as a ceremony to close the college year appropriately is the best project yet advanced for a tradition to leave pleasant memories of their Alma Mater in the minds of the students.

It is well known that community singing is one of the most powerful means of arousing pep in a group of people. It gives the individuals a feeling of commonness and adds unity to the group, thereby stimulating the morale to a large extent. Every student should co-operate to help put the project across big.

A Freshman was heard to inquire as to the class a candidate, whose petition was on the bulletin board, belonged to. When he learned that the candidate was a Freshman, he announced that he would support the candidate without further inquiry. Just another outcome of inter-class rivalry on the campus.

THE EAGLE SQUAWKS

WHY NOT TRY ANOTHER METHOD?

It appears that one of the remaining threads which holds pep to the campus is inter-class competition. But everyone admits that it is over-emphasized. Why not develop, then, a rivalry from another angle—from an aspect which would not hinder the unity of the college?

Recently the Phi Kappa Gamma baseball squad challenged the Delta Zeta Delta. Furthering this plan, the creation of a Greek letter league would arouse a rivalry which would materially pep the student body and yet cause no detrimental antagonism.

A similar plan is in effect at Stanford University. Inter-fraternal athletics stand foremost among the events of the calendar. Apparently this plan has caused no disturbance in the Stanford spirit.

However, one difference is to be noticed. Stanford, being a large institution, would not be affected by small fraternal bitterness, whereas here any antagonism among fraternities would be reflected in the unity of the campus.

Referendum Shows Yale to Be More Intemperant Than Before

By NEW STUDENT SERVICE

At Yale there is no end to referendums. The latest is on the prohibition question. It has come about in this way: Irving Fisher, a Yale professor appeared before the U. S. Senate and told that body that Yale was dry, that drinking was on the decline at the college, and that the Yale News was all wrong in its opinions. (The News has been opposing prohibition).

"Is zat so?" replied the News in effect, and called a referendum on prohibition. The ballots being sent out by the News contain the clause, "Do you think prohibition has decreased the amount of drinking in the University?"

The faculty and students at Yale voted four to one that prohibition had increased rather than decreased the amount of drinking at the University.

Says the News, "these figures are the sound evidence which more than twenty-five hundred voters gave in one day's balloting. The too obvious conclusion is that the law is not only unpopular—it is openly violated on a large scale. The referendum has changed idle talk into concrete facts."

Elementary School Column

By the Children of the Sixth Grade

The Children's Literature class is interested in finding out what books children enjoy and like the most. The best way to find out seemed to ask the children themselves. So Miss Pond asked the children in the Sixth Grade to write a book report of the books we have read in the last year and whether we liked them. Miss Pond has taken two of the girls over to the literary class to read their reports.

For a long time the boys in the upper grades have been working on their boats in the shop.

The other day some of our teachers took the Sixth Grade out to Hope Lake and we had a regatta out there.

There were three prizes, gold, silver and bronze.

Sherman Birss got the first prize, Warren Fenzi the second Wilbur Gilliland third. Mr. Jacobs, Mr. Griffin and Mr. Ericson were the judges.

The upper grades have been working with harmonicas for the last month or so. The other day we presented the harmonica band which consists of thirteen harmonicas, a tambourine and a drum. We played a march. Then two girls played a harmonica duet. There were a few piano solos, a dance and two songs.

There were prizes given for the best of all the different music.

The tournament was given for the fathers and mothers and friends to show what the Elementary school has been doing in music.

The girls of the upper grades are stenciling handkerchiefs, scarfs, table runners and other things useful and decorative. We have fixed a shelf in our case specially for the exhibition of stenciling and now it is quite full. Nothing is supposed to be taken home until June, when we are to have a sale.

Mobley and Robins Named Royalty of Campus Court; Much Excitement Last Day

Allen Mobley was proclaimed king and Dorothy Robins was named queen of the campus after the votes of the popularity contest last week were counted Friday afternoon at 4:15. Mr. Mobley won among the men contending with 13,994 votes in his favor and Miss Robins won among the women with 50,870 votes chalked after her name. Eleanor Warren was second in the race for queen with 48,570 votes.

There was practically no competition in the race for king, nearly all of the men runners up withdrawing in favor of Mr. Mobley on Friday. The competition between Miss Warren of the Junior Class and Miss Robins, Freshman, was very keen, however; especially during the last minute of the contest when backers of both candidates dug for climaxing sums to cinch the contest. Norman Ault was chief voter in favor of the Freshman candidate, but Miss Warren's favorites were enlisted from the ranks of many bystanders. Practically one-third of the entire amount raised, slightly in excess of $100, was subscribed during the last minute of the contest, which feature did not detract from the interest of the proceedings.

Runners up in the contest were Eleanor Warren, Bernice Haberlitz, Mac Watson, Isabel Vaughn, Eleanor Hicks, Ester Janssens, and Mabel Sorem as queens and Norman Ault, Lyman Curtis, Harold Furman, Francis O'Reilly, Allen Keim, Henry Batchelder, and Jack Vince as kings.

The king and queen were crowned at the annual May Dance at the Woman's Clubhouse last Friday evening with ample ceremony. The losing contenders in the contest served as attendants of the royal pair during the coronation.

Funds raised in the contest will be used in financing future Student Body social affairs. It is believed that the annual graduation dance at Samarkand Hotel can be held free of charge at the end of the year.

Community Singing Is Planned to Clinch College Year

Initial plans for a student community singing social on the night of June 2 are being formulated by the Pep Committee. The event will be held on the college lawn from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Being probably the final informal event of the year, the Pep Committee is asking that the entire student body plan to attend. College, popular, and the old American melodies will be sung. Among those planned are the College Grand, There's a Long, Long Trail, the Howling Hundred, Love's Old Sweet Song, Ginger Up, Santa Barbara, Dixie, There's a College in This Town, Fight for Old S.B., America, Rah for the College, Till We Meet Again, Carry Me Back to Old Virginny, My Old Kentucky Home, I Want to Go Where You Go, Who, That Certain Party, and Show Me the Way to Go Home.

College Humor Not Funny Any More, Opinion

College light magazines, the New Student reports, are rapidly deteriorating in the minds of the students. They are funny no more. And, in addition to their attempts at humor, there is a tendency to emphasize political and campus subjects to a greater extent.

The Daily Trojan, in a recent editorial, outlines the matter of weakening college humor thus:

"What is the matter with college humor? College humor should be the best type of humor that is to be found. Instead, what is it? Pick up any college publication of a humorous nature, and what do you find? Clever drawings—yes; clever word twistings and puns—yes; risque stories and jokes—a great many; but real humor—there is none there.

"College people do not know how to be funny. They think that humor lies in leg shows and in questionable allusions, in drunken men (preferably fraternity men), and in "necking." The real sources of humor are unknown to the college man and woman who writes for the humorous publication put out at college. The humor that the college man puts out would gain him a place on Whiz Bang and its equals any time—it would never gain him a position on Life, or Judge, or Puck, or any of the publications that are really funny.

"Not one joke or story or cartoon in twenty in a college joke book is FUNNY. They border on humor, to be sure, but they are not funny. Lacking humor, the books are filled with suggestive material. Faculty members, do not censor college publications; give courses in how to be funny, in what is funny, in the business of a humorist. The humorist has a definite place in life; recognize it and train him as you train the playwright, the story writer, and the essayist. If you cannot teach him how to write his stuff, you can at least teach him what it is."

What She Thought
Daughter—Father, Jack said some sealed proposals came to your office today.
Father—So they did, dear.
Daughter—Were any of them for Bill Junior—"Pa, can we see sound?"

Annual May Breakfast Is Enjoyed by Seventy-Five Tuesday

The Home Economics annual May breakfast was enjoyed by approximately 75 students and faculty members Tuesday morning in the college court. The court was beautifully decorated with crepe paper streamers and general May Day effects. Elizabeth Campbell was in charge of the decorations and the favors, comprising rose bouquets wrapped in crepe, that were given to each of those who participated.

The balance of the menu as previously announced did not please the class in dietetics and was hence changed for something more in keeping with the reputation of the department. The dishes served included sliced oranges, creamed eggs, muffins, coffee and jam.

Aside from the members of the Home Economics Club that were announced last week as having a part in the management of the breakfast, the following men shared in the clean-up: Fred Jacobs, David Dickey, Clayton Sheesly, Lyman Curtis, Harry Moore, and James Peel. Kathryn Kueffer was in charge of the breakfast.

The latest member to be admitted to the Absent-Minded Club is a fellow who marked his name on one collar, dittoed the rest, and sent them to the laundry.

Sororities to Play First Baseball Challenge Game Next Week

An intra-campus women's baseball game will be held next week, probably on Friday afternoon, between the Phi Kappa Gamma and Delta Zeta Delta sororities following a challenge made by the Phi Kappa Gammas last Monday. The date of the game will be one agreeable to both teams, which will be decided soon.

A recurrence of the exciting and close-scored game held between the sororities last year is anticipated. The present challengers were the victors in that encounter.

The T.B.C.'s, whatever that means, have challenged the winners of the inter-sorority game in another game in which the challengers will bat off-handed and run backwards. The T.B.C.'s are presumed to be the same group of men players that challenged the winners last year and defeated them after a hilarious battle.

The line-ups of the competing teams will be announced later.

Southern Track Team to Meet World Competition

Due to the popularity of the Trojan track team this year, offers have been received by the team to enter several national collegiate meets to be held in various parts of the country and the team has been invited to tour Japan during the summer to compete with the University of Tokio and represent the United States in other foreign track meets, according to announcement in the Southern California Daily Trojan recently.

Should Dean Cromwell's team accept the invitation to enter the Chicago meet of the National Collegiate, it will meet some of the best competition in the world and some records are due to be broken.

"That was a howling success," said a man when the Glee Club finished a recital.

A little advice! Don't study after 10 o'clock. The light is bad for the eyes.

Cal Poly Game Called Off Last Night

Owing to a quarantine ruling at the State Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo, the Cal Poly team will not meet the Roadrunners in baseball tomorrow as was scheduled. This change came as a long distance call from the northern institution late yesterday.

Roadrunners Did Not Play Ventura; Reports Are False

Contrary to newspaper reports the Roadrunners did not play Ventura Junior College in baseball last Saturday. The game was scheduled tentatively with the neighbors, but it had never been definitely announced.

After the game with Cal Poly tomorrow at West Peabody field, the Roadrunners will journey south to meet the Loyola Lions. Then the long-delayed Cal Christian game will be staged at West Peabody on the Saturday following to conclude the season for the local squad.

The team has been drilling rather strenuously lately and should have no difficulty in coming out on top this season. The remainder of the schedule is not particularly heavy and with the increase in efficiency that has been noticed since the Frosh game two weeks ago, the season should be quite successful.

Fishing Poor in Santa Ynez River This Season

Paul George established a record that is due to stay with him for a life-time. He went fishing in Gidney Canyon on Gibraltar Lake last Saturday and caught a fish slightly over eighteen inches in length while he was sleeping on the bank. Incidentally, that was one of the very few fish caught in the Santa Ynez River last week end.

It is reported that "Spud" Sawyers dampened his hooks in Bear Creek and drew out the limit without any trouble.

College Students Plan to Enter Carpinteria Tennis

Several of the students and faculty are planning to enter the annual Aliso Tennis Tournament at Carpinteria on Saturday, May 15.

Virginia Colton and Joanne Alessi will enter the mixed doubles. Flip Brotherton is arranging for some of the men to participate. Dr. Ellison is also planning to enter.

History of Education Is Subject of Address

Dr. Evans addressed the students at the general assembly last Tuesday on the "Beginnings of Public Education."

Tracing education from its start in England during the reign of Henry VIII, Dr. Evans outlined the steps from aristocratic education to the modern school system.

Students Challenged by the Faculty in Another Net Tournament

The faculty still isn't convinced that it is minus the tennis championship of the campus. So "Doc" Ellison, in his usual progressive aggression, determined to show the student body that it is only half of the campus.

So he allied himself with Mr. Ericson and challenged the student tennis world. "Flip" Brotherton and Michael Abbot answered the call, with the result that the contest is on.

The plan is this: Four singles matches will be played, Ellison versus Brotherton, Abbott versus Ericson, Ellison versus Abbott and Brotherton versus Ericson. The play will culminate with a doubles match.

"Doc" defeated Brotherton 6-1, 3-6, 6-4 and Abbott 6-4, 1-6, 6-3 in the prelims Wednesday and yesterday.

DeGroot Will Remain Here During Summer Session

Dudley DeGroot, new physical education instructor here next year, will remain on the campus the summer following his contract. It is expected that DeGroot will both study and instruct.

Contrary to a statement made in The Eagle last week, DeGroot will not come here this summer.

Furman and Asakura Are To Lead Baseball Nine

Harold Furman was elected captain of the baseball team this year and Takazumi Asakura was chosen manager at a meeting of the varsity squad held just prior to the game with the University of Southern California Freshmen. Owing to their experience on previous teams of the college, these men should prove efficient officers.

Ikey (coming down stairs with revolver in hand): Hands up, Mr. Burglar, I got you covered.

Burglar: Twenty-five dollars for the gun.

Ikey: SOLD!
