At present, there are two scholarships open to all upper class students, one for men and one for women. The scholarships are given by the faculty of the College and will be awarded primarily on the basis of scholastic attainment to date and need.

Jack Richards, president of the Associated students of Santa Barbara State college, will act as official host to the student body presidents of 11 other colleges as the Southern California Presidents association convenes tomorrow in this city.

Program of the meeting will be opened officially at 2 p.m. with a general business meeting of the representatives in the A.W.S. club-room. During the meeting, guests of the presidents will be entertained by Alpha Theta Chi, social sorority, at the sorority house, 2010 Grand.

The delegates and their guests will dine at Restaurante del Paseo at 6 p.m., during the course of which discussion will be held concerning the convention of the Pacific States Presidents' association to be held on Santa Catalina island during the early part of May.

Arrangements have been made to have proceedings of the dinner broadcast over a local radio station, according to Richards.

The convention at Catalina will include three days spent on the island by the presidents who are now in office and their chosen successors. One day, previous to their departure for the island, will be spent in Los Angeles, where they will be taken on tours of movie and radio studios and entertained at special events planned for them.

Tomorrow night at 8 p.m., the delegates will attend the final Santa Barbara-San Diego State college basketball game at the Armory.

Delegates to the meeting of the association will represent San Diego State college, Redlands university, University of Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, Pomona, La Verne, Occidental, Whittier, Cal Tech, Chapman College and Loyola university.

The Pacific States Presidents' association, of which the delegates meeting tomorrow in Santa Barbara are members, includes the student body presidents of colleges throughout California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Utah and Colorado. It is this entire group which will attend the May convention in Catalina, according to Richards.

Women Learn Of Personality Development

Featuring a talk on the progress of personality clinics in the American educational systems by Mrs. A. R. Maaste who is conducting a course on personality development at Santa Barbara high school, the regular monthly meeting of the Associated Women students was held Tuesday, fourth hour, in the auditorium.

Mrs. Maaste, who has conducted courses in Oregon State college and also in several colleges in South Carolina, stressed the fact that any girl can be more attractive than she is, and that through a personality clinic women can be taught correct diet and posture and other means of making themselves more pleasing persons.

Business of the meeting included the presentation of emblem awards to new members of Las Espuelas, sophomore women's honor organization. These include Jean Cook, Dorothy File, Ann Hutton, Margie Larsen, Ruthe Suggs and Dorothy Sullivan.

Two members-at-large from the student body were also elected to serve on the A. W. S. nominating committee. These were Miss Suggs and Raina Chancey.

The meeting, which was conducted by Faye Thompson, president, concluded with the singing of the State college victory song and the Alma Mater led by song leaders Donna Lambert and Angelyn Stewart.

Robert Staub Tells of Experiences In Escaping Nazi-Dominated Homeland

By HARRY STEWART
El Gaucho Editorial Associate

Marching for five days without sleep or food, riding on a jammed cattle train, working in a lumber mill high in the Pyrenees and undergoing machine-gunning by Italian planes were a few of the experiences of Robert Staub, transfer student from the Sorbonne in Paris, while he was trying to evade the conquering Nazi armies.

Staub and his mother were forced to flee Paris when the Germans came within shelling distance. Again they were compelled to move from their refuge when the menacing armies pressed further south. This time they had to go by foot since all of the trains were commandeered by the French army.

Walking together for five days with hundreds of other refugees, they were occasionally machine-gunned by Italian war-planes. Once a plane came so close that the pilot could be seen grinning as if he were enjoying his job, Staub relates.

Finally they reached Toulouse after riding on a cattle train packed with peasants trying to escape the Germans. To obtain food they were

New Swing Group Heads Talent Show

Gauchos Attend First Artist Bureau Assembly Tuesday, Fourth Hour

Featuring a new college band, the first Artist Bureau assembly of the semester will be held Tuesday fourth hour in the auditorium, according to Don Estey, director of assemblies.

Bill Watson, Richie Watson, Mel Dennis and L. C. Beck will make up the personnel of the recently organized jive group. Playing surprise numbers and medleys, the organization plans to concentrate on swing arrangements.

MATTSON OVERSEES

Douglas Mattson, director of artist bureau assemblies, will act as master of ceremonies. Skits, gags, and an hilarious dialogue pattern are promised for the occasion.

As guest star, Ruth Travis, formerly of Santa Barbara State college, will sing several popular numbers. A comedy selection will comprise part of her routine.

Typical Olson and Johnson act will be given by Jimmie Fullerton and Mattson. With comedy foremost, the script includes gay stories and impossible situations.

Dick Miller, tenor soloist, will sing a choice group of latest hits. Surprise numbers will be prevalent among his selections.

TRIO PERFORMS

Men's trio comprised of Chuck Widener, Jim Henry and Miller will present arrangements of popular tunes lending easily to harmony.

Artist Bureau assemblies were inaugurated on the campus for the first time last semester by Estey. Three assemblies featuring student talent were presented last term and three additional entertainment meetings are being planned for this semester.

Speakers Win Denver Honors

Ranked in the upper brackets in both debate and discussion, student representatives Leigh Silliphant and Gilbert McKeon and faculty chairman W. Charles Redding returned to the campus this week with new laurels from the annual Rocky Mountain speech conference in Denver, February 13, 14 and 15.

Of approximately 600 speakers in debate and discussion at the conference, Silliphant received eighth in debate and tenth in discussion, both with an official rating of excellent.

McKeon distinguished himself by presenting one of the best after-dinner speeches at the conference's closing banquet.

Branded by Denver papers as the prodigal son returning with success, W. Charles Redding gained widespread recognition for his talk before the faculty conference on "Aristotle and the Present Crisis."

forced to pick potatoes out of the fields and eat them raw. In Toulouse they heard the news of the Armistice.

Even though forced to take a job in a lumber mill on the Spanish frontier, Staub wrote letters to various places in an effort to locate his father, who had been with the French army. The two finally became reunited in Marseilles.

The student's father, Hugo Staub, is a noted European criminologist and has written several books on his field of sociology. Judge Westwick of Santa Barbara heard of him and offered him a job in his sociological laboratory here. Through Westwick's efforts the two Staus were able to come to the United States where the elder will also be associated with Dr. George E. Outland in the sociology department of the college.

In Lisbon they found thousands of refugees who were unable to obtain American visas, even though they offered hundreds of francs for them. They were mortally afraid that they would never get to America, a country which the younger Staub said they called the "miracle land."

"Everyone in France dreams of

"Juba" and "Jive" will feature the Jamboree concert of the Gaucho band Tuesday evening in the auditorium. EVELYN ZINN demonstrates a step from her own choreography developed for Dett's "Juba Dance", while in the background the Gaucho Trumpeteers, SYD LAGRANDEUR, NINO BAUDINO and LELAND KENISTON, "give out" in warmup for the concert.

Bennink, adviser. Nancy Lee Haskin at the same time was chosen secretary, Dorothy File, historian and Ruthe Suggs, publicity chairman.

Under the direction of Maurice Faulkner, band instructor and Harrison Hopkins, student director, the concert will be highlighted by the presentation of a descriptive fantasy, "From Africa to Harlem", by Bennett, depicting the development from jungle rhythms to modern arrangements. The composition will feature the "black stick" technique of clarinetist Herbert Fredlund.

Evelyn Zinn, college dancer, has developed her own choreography for Nathaniel Dett's "Juba Dance", as another feature item on the program.

'Milky' Phelps Returns to Starting Lineup

'Red Devil' Five Features Fast Breaking Offensive

By GEORGE STEPANIAN

El Gaucho Sports Editor

"They never come back."

That ominous phrase always directed at champions attempting comebacks will be prevalent tonight and tomorrow evening at the National Guard armory when Coach Willie Wilton's 1939-40 2C2A champions, make a last desperate attempt to pull the 1941 basketball crown out of the fire in their two game series with the league-leading San Diego Aztecs.

Three games behind the high-flying Southerners, the Gaucho cagers winning both tilts.

By knocking San Diego over twice, the Green and White five will be in position to slip into a first place tie should the strong San Jose Spartans, who have already beaten the league-leaders once, duplicate their feat.

ATTACKS DIFFER

Two diametrically opposed types of play are used by the respective squads; the Gauchos with their slow, deliberate break and the Aztecs with their terrifically fast-breaking, perpetual-motion system of play.

In the initial series between the two aggregations in the bordertown, the Red Devils, with their savage, constant attack, succeeded in wearing down the Santa Barbara defense.

However, as pointed out by railbirds, the Aztecs will be at a disadvantage on the armory court because of the slippery floor and nearness of the walls to the basket, which may tip the scales in favor of the locals.

The status of Milton "Milky" Phelps, the Aztecs' Little All-American forward, is still doubtful. Latest reports indicated that the great San Diego forward was going to see action against Wilton's charges. Phelps had played in only two conference games, both against Fresno, when he injured his knee.

INVADERS' LINEUP

Coach Morrie Gross of the Aztecs plans on starting John Sellwood, sorral-topped flash and Bill Patterson.

Seniors Take Forced Exams

Examination for graduating seniors in constitution and American government will be given April 15, fourth and fifth hours in room 42.

Students planning to take this test must signify their intention to do so by leaving their names in the office of William H. Ellison, head of the social science department, before April 9.

For all graduating seniors who have not taken political science 101, a 2 unit course in American political institutions, or history 102A and B, a six unit course of history of the United States, the examination is given to comply with a ruling of the State College Presidents' conference of December 16 and 17, 1940. This arrangement required that the satisfaction of the state law on Constitution must be made in the state college from which the student graduates.

Parking

Police Patrol Mission Ridge

Motorists of the College are reminded that parking infractions on Mission Ridge road, above the college, are likely to be checked upon by the Santa Barbara City police department.

The area where the infractions occur is the property of the City and not of the College; therefore it is stressed that special care should be taken in parking cars there. Recently drivers have neglected to park parallel and off the road, necessitating issuance of several citations by the police department.

SIGMA DELTA PHI

Atmosphere of South sea islands was brought to mind at the "Mystical Isle" party of the sorority held Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry C. De Vigne, 2607 Puente del Sol.

Guests were greeted in island fashion, with leis and flowers. Sorority members wore white with leis in silver and rose. Carrying out the theme were palm leaves, magnolias, soft music and hula girls. Refreshments were served on leaves on the floor, according to native custom.

Carter Relates Peru Athletic Experiences

Gaucha Track Mentor Replaces Coast Guard Officer at AMS Meeting

Describing his experiences while coaching in Peru, Nick Carter, State college track mentor, substituted for the Coast Guard officer scheduled to speak before members of the Associated Men students assembled Tuesday, fourth hour in room 80.

Carter was asked to organize track and field athletics in Peru in 1936 by members of the Peruvian government. At the time of his arrival in that country there were no coaches available. When he left there were eight foreign athletes coaching and 30 natives who had been instructed in the rudiments of coaching by Carter during his three year stay.

SOUVENIR EXHIBIT

Several interesting articles picked up by Carter in South America were shown, including an alpaca skin rug large enough to cover a single bed, and a smaller throw rug with stripes of colors running from reds to green. These were natural colors taken directly from the alpaca.

During his stay in Peru, Carter saw several native teams win championships in boxing, baseball and football. The country now ranks third on the continent in track and field, while the basketball and football teams are rated higher. Soccer, which they call football, is the national game of all of South America with fencing coming second.

Students of Peru are forced to go long hours to school and have no athletic facilities, it was pointed out by Carter. When they want to have school recreation they block off the street in front of the school and play there.

FORMER COACH

Carter coached at State college during the years 1934 and 1935 before he went to South America. He returned to his former position again in 1939.

AMS president Howard Eckles announced during the meeting that police examinations for those interested in being placed on the eligibility list will be given at the police station, Saturday, March 1.

Fourth Estate Slates Party

Reverting to their childhood days, members of Fourth Estate will stage a kids' party Wednesday night at the home of Natalie Stewart, 3 Alameda Padre Serra.

Obligatory for the affair are kids' costumes with all day lollypops being the price of admission.

Following a short business meeting, traditional childish games will be played and an informal dancing class held after which there will be regular dancing and refreshments.

Margie Wetmore, social chairman for the organization, has appointed the following committees for the party: entertainment, Ruth Suggs, James Lytle and Syd Cohen; cleanup, Marie Zappone, Willard May, and Miss Wetmore and invitations, Muriel Wolfe, Mary Lou Royal and Eleanor Pound.

Pu Ko How Fetes Seven Prospectives

Open house for prospective members of Pu Ko How was held Tuesday night at the home of Dorothy McGill, 626 De la Vina.

A red, white and blue motif was carried out in refreshments and table centerpiece. Games played included tiddly-tennis, blackjack and pack-straws. Wanda McAdams received the prize for highest accumulative score and the Pu Ko How "handicap run" prize for pipe-cleaner horses.

Guests at the affair were Dean Lois M. Bannink, Beverly Bates, Maxine Sudbury, Jean Lutgze, Mary Lou Trojan, Aladeen Brown, Edith Barker, and Miss McAdams.

Poley McClintock wept as he turned over his drums to Fred Waring on the "Chesterfield Pleasure Time" program, but Waring got a big bang out of it. He's no pitcher but he has a mean baton average.

Fred Waring Announces Halt In Production of College Songs Pending ASCAP-BMI Peace

Santa Barbara State was all set for a new song. Having heard the job Fred Waring was doing for other colleges and universities in adding new blood to their time-worn anthems, turning out fine alma mater and pep songs and giving them a rousing introduction on his Friday College smoker programs, Gaucha representatives wrote him asking "How about one for us?"

MANY REQUESTS

Waring said, in effect, "Whenever we can fit you into our schedule". It seemed that the line formed on the right and that it was pretty long, since requests had been piling up since his introduction of the idea over a year ago on his series. But now it looks like the answer is up in the air. Waring's schedule juggling has stopped.

The whole project is at a standstill pending settlement of the differences between ASCAP and the radio broadcasters. Santa Barbara and other interested colleges and universities, together with disappointed Maestro Waring, are among the victims of the current ASCAP radio battle.

Waring, among the many performers who are also creative members of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, has had his work banned from the air.

"Until such time as an agreement is reached between the principals in the ASCAP-BMI controversy, we are forced to file all requests for future consideration. The situation is extremely embarrassing to our radio unit, since we are also prohibited from even playing or singing any of the college songs written previous to December 31, 1940, on any of our current programs."

RADIO SCHEDULES

Fred Waring's "Pennsylvanians" are presented every night of the week, excepting Saturday and Sunday, over leading NBC stations by Liggett and Myers Tobacco company, makers of Chesterfield cigarettes.

Wednesdays' programs are presented at 4 p.m., Pacific time, and at 8 p.m., Pacific time, on the other four nights. Also sponsored by Chesterfield cigarettes are Glenn Miller's "Moonlight Serenade" and Professor Quiz.

Both are heard over CBS stations. Miller's fifteen-minute program may be heard in Santa Barbara Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at 7, while the quiz program is released at 6:30 p.m. Tuesdays.

Las Meninas Holds Cotton Party

Featuring a cotton-calico theme, Las Meninas, Phraters sub-chapter, entertained new women interested in the organization with a party held Monday evening in the music hall. Evening's entertainment included games and refreshments.

Georgia Krebs Begins Rally Group Work

New Leader Lists Staff Positions for Roadrunner Revue

Reorganization of the Rally committee has been undertaken during the past week under the direction of Georgia Mae Krebs, newly-appointed chairman, with special emphasis being placed upon preparations for the 1941 Roadrunner Revue to be staged May 7, 8, 9 and 10 in the College auditorium.

In a meeting held early in the week, committee members discussed scripts which had been submitted for consideration and decided upon a theme around which to base this year's presentation.

THEME SECRET

It is preferred to keep the theme secret until a later date, however, Miss Krebs stressed.

Applications are still being accepted for positions on both technical and entertainment staffs of the production, with several already under consideration.

These include the letters of Doug Mattson and Robert Payne, asking for the directorship; Harry Stewart, publicity and Harriet Richards, makeup. Positions available, in addition to the ones mentioned, are technical director, music director, costume designer, stage manager, ticket sales manager and script writers. There is a great need for the latter, according to Miss Krebs.

REVUE TRYOUTS

Talented students of the college will be given an opportunity to try out for spots on the program of the combined novelty and musical show next Friday at 3 p.m. in the auditorium.

All positions on the technical staff of the Roadrunner Revue must be approved by the rally committee before they become official.

Also being planned by the rally committee are activities dealing with the baseball and track teams during the approaching seasons.

"During the past, no one has paid any attention to these teams and it makes me mad," said Miss Krebs. "But I think they deserve a little attention, so something will be done for them this year," she stated.

PE Women Bill Concert

Third annual dance concert will be presented by the women's physical education department in the college theatre April 1 and 2, it was announced this week by Miss Elizabeth Sehon, department head.

Jane Hunt is student chairman and Mrs. Marion Anderson is faculty adviser of the concert which will feature creations by the Orchesis dance group and classes of dance composition and advanced modern dance.

Co-instructor of the numbers with Miss Sehon is Miss Margaret DeHaan, member of the department and adviser of the Orchesis group.

Selected from the department as staff chairman for the concert's production are Shirley Curry in charge of tickets; Kathleen Shigley, patrons and patronesses; Frances Boynton, usherettes; Maxine Roberts, costumes; Jean Blakemore, properties and Ruth Suggs, publicity.

Hod Dons Trim Six Hits, 42-30, In Major Upset

Predicament of State college's varsity basketball squad took its toll in the intramural games of the past week. Only four games were played in the competition.

Upset of the week was a 42-30 trouncing that the lowly Hod Dons administered to the Six Hits last Thursday. Six Flitter Bill Morgan rang the hoop for 16 pointers to lead the swishers.

The I. E. lads came roaring back into the picture Tuesday night by lacing the routed Gamma Sigs outfit, 34-26. The Industrialites' new sensation, Bill Dufek, sunk 16 tallies in the fray.

A red hot college Y team ran wild the last half to plaster the Sig Alphas, 42-16, in the only game played the past week. Sleeth paced the winners with 18 points.

Failure to appear for scheduled games cost the Beta Sigs and Hod Dons their entries in the league. It was the second forfeit for both teams, thus they were dropped from competition.

Next week brings the intramural basketball competition to a close. Club De Squinco, winners of the football flag, continue to pace the standings, being closely pushed by Dirty 7's and the Host club. The last week promises to be the hottest of the race.

Softball Loop Opens Soon

State college's intramural softball league is scheduled to open Monday, March 10, at the new turf diamond at Phelps field. Competition will be conducted on the identical basis as the rest of the major sports.

Games are slated to be played at 4 and 5 p.m., respectively and will be called at the end of the hour of playing time regardless of the number of innings played. The team ahead at that time will be declared the winner.

Deadline for entries is Friday, March 7, which is a mere two weeks away. Organizations and teams should get their entry blanks from the P. E. office or G. F. "Frenchy" Liegert.

Intramural Board Reschedules Meet

After two months of diligent attempts to hold the finals of the intramural track, the intramural board has tentatively scheduled the meet for the third week of May, in hopes that Jupe Pluvius will have abated his fury by that time.

With the weather situation wreaking havoc with all the outdoor athletics at present, it is felt by the board that the late scheduling of the meet will facilitate increased opportunity for all to compete for the awards.

Green and White Spikemen Continue Enforced Hibernation

Coach Nick Carter's Gaucho track squad, champing at the bit in its desire to get in a couple of extensive workouts before the opening of the 2C2A campaign, resumed its enforced hibernation this week as a heavy dew continued to enshroud the city of Santa Barbara.

STEADY PWN

By GEORGE STEPANIAN

This is THE week for Coach Willie Wilton and his Gaucho cagers, for tonight and tomorrow night, the 1939-40 2C2A champions tangle with a red hot San Diego quintet in a series that will definitely decide whether the Green and White five is going to get a share of this year's title or whether it is going to be supplanted as champions by the Red Devils.

Regardless of which way the games turn out, it won't alter our opinion that this year's Gaucho squad is the greatest in local cage history, better than last year's championship aggregation.

Lack of decent training facilities has been the nemesis of the Gauchos. Sailing through the early part of the season with nine wins in their first 10 games, the Hilltoppers appeared unbeatable. Then the Army took over the only full-sized gymnasium in Santa Barbara, the National Guard armory, for a period of three weeks.

Practice sessions were reduced from an average of 15 hours per week to two or three hours a week. The results proved disastrous. In the next eight games, the locals won only two, dropping twin losses to both San Diego and San Jose, the latter a team they had whipped twice earlier in the campaign.

We have heard a wide divergence of opinion on the downfall of the Gauchos in the last three weeks. Various students who claim to be "in the know" maintain that there is dissension on the team; others just as vehemently hold to the theory that the Hilltoppers are overtrained, stale.

However, a thorough study of the Gauchos last few games has convinced us that the above theories are nothing more than pure fancy. In the four games previous to Monday evening's game with the inept Whiskered Wizards, the Gauchos were either tied or one point behind at halftime. Each time they blew up in the second half.

Team dissension or staleness doesn't account for second half blowups. On the contrary they would lead to an apathetic brand of ball from the very beginning of the game.

Lack of training, however, does tell in the second half. Only a team not in the best of shape tends to lose effectiveness in the latter stages of the game; and the Gauchos, because of lack of training facilities, are not in the best of shape.

Despite the various hardships that have beset the Green and White hoopsters since mid-season, we're still sticking with them against the Aztecs. In that 50-19 win over the Whiskered Wizards, the locals once again unleashed their vaunted high scoring attack. We have a hunch that they're going to perform as effectively against Sam Dago.

That 20th century haircut the Gaucho cagers administered to Lew Bedell seemed just the thing for him. Monday night against the Whiskered "washouts", Bedell ran wild to ring the gong for six points in half as many minutes. Guess that Samson gent wasn't so tough after all. He folded up when he got a haircut.

Redlands Wins Tilt

WHITTIER, Feb. 20—Nosed out in the waning moments of the game, 47-43, by an inspired University of Redlands five, Whittier college dropped its second Southern Conference game of the season and with it the championship to the powerful Bulldog aggregation last Friday evening.

Initial meet of the season is against Ventura Junior college, Saturday, Feb. 28 in a triangular meet involving both the varsity and frosh squads. The meet is scheduled for Phelps field and will begin at 2:45.

With the Long Beach Relays only three weeks away, the Gauchos are at a definite disadvantage in attempting to defend the college quarter-mile relay championship they won last year.

Only one man, Bill McArthur, is missing from last year's quarter-mile championship quartet. The other three, Hovis Bess, Bill Morgan and Burdette Gandy, return for another crack at the relay title. McArthur's place is expected to be taken over by van Buskirk, transfer from Chaffey Junior college.

The Gauchos appear to be strongest in the sprints and weights, weakest in the middle distance and javelin events.

Back for the sprints are Bess, conference 220 champ, Morgan, who placed fourth in the conference 100, and newcomer van Buskirk.

Wolf Heinberg, who holds the shot put school record at 47'4" and has hurled the discus over 130 feet, returns as does Gail Squires. Hank Behrens up from the frosh squad has already hurled the discus 133 feet, a mark which was good enough to place second in the conference last year.

The javelin is expected to be immeasurably strengthened when Bob Sherman, who has hurled the spear around 170 feet, turns out for the team. Sherman is at present on the Gaucho varsity cage squad.

The mile and two-mile runs, weakest of the events last year, appear fairly well fortified this season with Al Rich, a 4:38 miler from Riverside Junior college, and George Soule, who turns in close to a 10 flat two mile, out for the squad.

Carter has lined up an attractive schedule this year, featuring such meets as the Long Beach Relays and Fresno relays as well as such conferences as U.C.L.A. and the usual conference foes, Fresno, 1940 champion, San Diego and San Jose.

The new La Playa track, said to be one of the fastest on the coast, is slated to be dedicated on March 29 against the U.C.L.A. Bruins.

Because of the recent rains interfering with practice sessions, Carter urged all track members to work out in the gymnasium if the track again became too muddy.

Wilton Schedules Two More Games

An additional two games were added to the Gaucho cage schedule when Coach Willie Wilton revealed that the Green and White five would tangle with the strong Pepperdine college aggregation Monday and Tuesday evenings in a two game series.

Both games will be played in the National Guard armory. Between halves of the first game, fans will be entertained by a group of crack Japanese fencers from Oxnard. They were secured through the efforts of Ken Dyo, State college student.

Call for Wrestlers

All State college students interested in wrestling are asked to contact either Coach Willie Wilton or George Valos.

As the 2C2A Spring carnival is being held in Santa Barbara this year, Wilton is anxious to have a team to represent the Gauchos in the intercollegiate competition.

HARRY HODGETTS, crack Aztec defensive guard, has been assigned the task of stopping the Gaucho's great little forward, Tommy Guerrero, tonight.

Gaucho Tennis Squad Opens Play Monday

Santa Barbara State's tennis team opens this season's competition in a series with Pepperdine college on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Matches will be played at the Santa Barbara Tennis stadium, with Monday's play scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. and Tuesday's at 1:30 p.m.

Squad members who will comprise the team meeting Pepperdine will not be decided until the completion of the elimination tournament now in progress. During the past week, Dewhirst defeated Beck, 6-0, 6-3, Moss defeated Carrasco 6-4, 6-4, McCampbell defeated Simpson 6-0, 6-2, and Koury defeated Dewhirst 6-1, 6-2.

Tennis Coach Terry Dearborn has conceded, however, that the seeded veterans Mike Koury and Ed Dory are likely to be among the starters.

Other squad members who will be striving for a place on the six or eight man team include Edward Allen, Levitt Beck, Gilbert Carrasco, Lorenzo Dall'Armi, Morton Dewhirst, Robert Finn, Bob McCampbell, Charles Moss, Joseph Simpson and Leonard Svenson.

Tennis enthusiasts will have the opportunity this season to witness the college team in action in a number of interesting intercollegiate matches, according to Coach Dearborn, who announces the season's schedule as follows:

Feb. 24-25, Pepperdine College at Santa Barbara; March 7 or 8, University of Redlands at Redlands; March 13, Ventura Junior college at Santa Barbara; April 11, San Francisco State college at Santa Barbara; April 12, San Jose State College at Santa Barbara; April 24-26, Ojai Tournament at Ojai; April 26, University of Redlands at Santa Barbara; May 10, 2C2A Spring Sports Carnival at Santa Barbara.

Spud Harder Releases 1941 Gaucho Horsehide Schedule

Rain has been playing havoc with the Gaucho CCAA baseball champion's practice sessions for the past two weeks, making it necessary to cancel the tilt scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at Laguna ball park with Loyola University. Coach Spud Harder has been forced to depend on a few workouts, between sprinkles, at a local recreation center as a method of conditioning his charges for their first game to be played Saturday, at Pershing Park, against Cal Poly.

This week the Faculty Athletic Committee passed and approved Coach Harder's twenty-four game schedule. Repeating the plan of last year's schedule, the members of the CCAA league will play a double round of games, the Gauchos' first league games being with San Jose on March 14 and 15.

Most telling loss from last year's squad will be the failure of Jim Fitzgerald, all-conference pitcher, to return to school. Fitzgerald hung up a record of eight wins as against only one loss.

However, Harder has Cliff Wrightson back for duty in the number one hurling spot. Wrightson, also selected on the all-conference team last year, won eight games and lost but two.

Petropolis Leads 2C2A Scorers

Angelo Petropolis, Fresno State's high scoring forward, continues to pace the 2C2A scorers after the first eight conference games with 91 points and an average of 11.2 points per game. Next in line is Dick Mitchell, San Diego's leading scorer, with 71 points. There are four conference games left.

The leading scorers:

	G	TP	Avg.
Petropolis, Fresno	8	91	11.2
Mitchell, San Diego	8	71	8.8

son at forwards; Dick Mitchell, number one scorer, at center; and Kenny Hale and Harry Hodgetts at guards against the Gauchos.

Held in reserve are such satellites as Jim Ahler, husky center, who was plain poison to the Hilltoppers in their initial series, Andy Echle, 1939-40 all-conference center, who only plays second fiddle this year, and Herb Tompkins, All-Southern California transfer from Compton junior college, who spells Sellwood at forward.

The Gauchos' lineup will be its usual starting five of Paddy Caudillo and Tommy Guerrero, forwards; Lowell Steward, center; and Larry Brewster and Dick Rider, guards.

Of added interest will be the scoring battle between Mitchell and Patterson of the Aztecs and Guerrero and Steward of the Gauchos. Mitchell leads in scoring with 71 points with Steward and Patterson next in line with 65. Guerrero trails with 64 points. All four men have participated in eight conference games.

Meanwhile Hale of San Diego and Brewster of the Green and White five have a private battle of their own to settle; a battle to see who is going to be the highest scoring guard in the conference, a title Brewster won last year.

At present Hale leads Brewster with 63 points to the latter's 60. Hale is San Diego's great sophomore guard who bids fair to grab off an all-conference berth in his first year of 2C2A competition.

Probable starting lineups:

Santa Barbara	Pos.	San Diego
Guerrero	F	Patterson
Caudillo	F	Tompkins
Steward	C	Mitchell
Brewster	G	Hale

Antagonists of Lend-Lease Bill Make Unusual Bed-Fellows

The lend-lease bill, one of the most controversial issues ever to face the Congress of the United States seems, at this writing, certain to pass. Opposition to the bill is strong in many quarters and for various reasons, but the bill's backers have united in an effort that will not be denied.

Controversy on the issue has brought together strange bedfellows. Republicans and Democrats are united for the bill; Republicans and Democrats are united against the bill. The administration faction is strongly in favor of passing the bill without restricting amendments. Divergent may be the positions of such figures as the Hon. Burton K. Wheeler, Colonel Lindbergh, Norman Thomas and Major Al Williams; yet all are opposed to passage of the bill.

For the public to comprehend the subtle ramifications that go to make up the opinions of these personages and to evaluate their statements is inconceivable. While debate continues in the halls of Congress on Bill Number 1776, the opposition trend seems to be growing. At first, advocacy of the bill was a snowball that picked up everything in its course. Then came doubts by a few and later active opposition.

Many who have taken a passive stand on the bill have become antagonized by the attitude of some of the bill's backers. The expression by Senator Pepper that the United States would participate in the war regardless of the outcome of the bill elicited boating in the Senate gallery. Secretary of Commerce Jones' statement that the United States is already at war, despite his instantaneous retraction, provoked comment unfavorable to the bill.

Out of the welter of confusion, a few pertinent arguments may be considered. The opposition of one group, headed by the conservatives Vandenberg and Taft, is predicated on the belief that too much power will be given to the President and that dictatorship will result. This argument is merely political maneuvering. The President, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy has more power at his disposal constitutionally than the bill would give him. Too, any action for defense must be centralized and a small group made responsible.

The opposition's real argument is the question of what will happen to home defense if the resources of the United States are placed at the disposal of Britain. In the event that Germany, in its next drive conquers England, and the possibility is not remote, the Reich would then control all of the armaments, ships and planes that the United States sends over and would prove an even more formidable foe. Even Secretary of the Navy Knox, an advocate of "all-out aid", admits that sending destroyers overseas would weaken American defense, to such an extent that she could not hope to cope with a strengthened Germany, not to mention a threatening Japan.

Whatever the outcome of the bill, the United States is assured of serious days ahead. And those who claim that England will not need American man power have no basis for their conclusion. If England does advance, she will soon need man power to invade the Continent. Spreading of the war to Africa and Asia also calls for men. And the United States is in the process of training its largest "peace time" army.—S.C.

Moving of Gaucho Club to Old Room 30 Would Solve Problems

Here's a suggestion that might offer a solution to the problem caused by the noise and congestion of the Gaucho club. Why not move it entirely out of Ebbets hall and place it in the now unused and so-called room 30?

Since the I.E. department has moved to the mesa campus room 30 has been unoccupied. It is the white building formerly used for the machine-shop on the north-east corner of the campus. It is well away from other buildings so that the noise wouldn't bother the classes.

The cost of setting up a hamburger and sandwich stand would be nominal. The Coca-Cola machine could be moved and a few soft drinks added. The cafeteria could stay where it is for those who want to have hot food. The new Gaucho club would be for light food and leisure.

Even a nickelodeon wouldn't be amiss since one-half the profits of the machine would go to the student body.

The Gaucho club as it stands is in a terrible state. It is too smoky for comfort and too crowded to find a seat. It is almost impossible to find a chair during lunch time—the time that most students want to sit around and talk. Why not move it to room 30 where there would be more room and the pros wouldn't complain of the noise?—H.S.

Jack Newman

Just for fun . . .

In the good old days a reporter who covered the weather bureau for the newspaper always had difficulty in thinking up new ways to say "it will be warmer and fairer today."

Now he is having even more trouble finding new words to make "rain today" sound interesting. It's getting to be quite a problem. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce used to joke about the "heavy dew" but now that it's heavy enough to carry boats around they're worrying more than a Nazi in Westminster Abbey.

The C of C used to talk about having the policemen wear white duck uniforms. Maybe they ought to now. It seems more apropos.

Southern California needs a new slogan however. Something like "The mud puddle splashing center of the world" or "The Biggest Dew Drops in the world."

This part of California which has always been famous for the development of tennis players, will now probably produce a batch of champion aquatic stars. After all, swimming to school every day should develop the pectoral muscles no end.

Japan suggests that the U.S. keep its hands off the Orient.

It seems that Uncle Samuel objects to the Japanese "Expansionist Ambitions." Just because they're trying to live in both their's and China's side of the duplex, as well as in a couple of houses down the street that belong to smaller people, is no reason for Uncle Sam to get his dander up, think the Japs.

Fact is, Uncle doesn't really care, except that he is allergic to spilled blood. Particularly that of resident Americans.

As it stands now, the U.S. and Japan are subtly slapping each other's wrists with bayonets.

Well, might as well get it off my chest.

Bedell got a haircut.

And what a haircut!

And, if you haven't noticed already, it is cut nearly to the bone and appears akin to toothbrush bristles mounted on a billiard ball.

But it looks fine. Much better than in its former Hanging Garden of Babylon state.

Credit for the primary blitzkrieg on Bedell's dome goes to Crash Brewster, the intrepid basketball star.

For it was he who crept up to the snoring Lew with a pair of shears and snipped the snips that will make tonsorial history.

The Vanderhoofs will now probably sleep in shifts—the better to protect each other's hair-do.

Washington's Birthday Revives Memories of Soldier-Farmer

Tomorrow when we celebrate the birthday of George Washington maybe we can think of him more as a man than as an ideal. Instead of remembering only the titles we have given him like "Father of Our Country" and "First in War", etc, let's think of him as a farmer, soldier, statesman, for it was as such that he made his name. As a boy George lived in the country and had few educational advantages. And yet he seriously studied a profession so that when he was just sixteen he was able to undertake the difficult job of surveying part of the wilderness. Later resurveys have shown that he did an excellent job.

When he was not yet of age he was commissioned to perform several military and diplomatic feats that seemed to require an older head, and yet he was successful even in this.

He was still a young man when he inherited Mount Vernon. That was when he began to show his prowess as a farmer for he was one of the first in this country ever to study new methods of diversified agriculture.

As a business man he was equally successful. His farms were profitable, he organized several corporations, opened mines and quarries, and did a considerable shipping business.

Again as a surveyor he laid out the plans for a waterway connecting the Ohio Valley and the Atlantic. Due to the stress of the times these ideas had to be shelved, but they were always in the back of his mind. Washington was one of the first to dream of inland waterways for trading.

As a leader in the movement for independence Washington never envisioned the republic as a conglomeration of thirteen states. Instead he saw it stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

As the leader in our fight for independence he staked his property, his business interests, his life. As the first president he faced problems never faced by any man before or since and it was through his wisdom, patience, and persistence that the new republic was placed on a sure foundation.—H.S.

From the Shoulder

BY THE EDITOR

For the past semester . . .

we've participated in student council meetings as a member and, along with over twenty other would-be legislators, helped create an executive group that has become noted on the campus for its lethargic, lackedaisical spirit.

Since the beginning of the fall semester—way back in September, 1940—the august body which formulates and controls (?) student legislation had met only five or six times until last week's meeting.

However, the practice of overlooking meetings has probably been of no great harm to the student body. We can't look back over a semester's work and point with honest pride to the amount of legislative business conducted by the 1940-41 executives. Especially when we pause at the same time to review the accomplishments of the student council which occupied pine hall almost every Thursday night last year.

But the last straw . . .

has been added to the load this term. In the first place, last week's meeting was the first of the semester, which can be overlooked possibly because of the confusion of registration, et al. But now, with important legislation confronting the politicians, we were told there would be no council meeting this week "because Richards, Follett and Bradbury can't be there."

Is this sufficient reason to halt student government for a week? Merely because three people can't attend one meeting? Especially when the student body elected a vice-president who is capable and yet hasn't had a chance to do more than vote since she took office and the college's publicity director doesn't vote anyway.

Of course, it is nice to have the graduate manager present inasmuch as he acts almost as a chaperon to see that the children don't forget and get themselves into any trouble.

But we don't think this sufficient reason to halt proceedings another week. Or doesn't the student body of this institution have enough business to keep twenty-three executives busy? The 1939-40 student council most assuredly did. Maybe a little boost from the general student body would help fan the spark rekindled last week into a real flame again.

But to return . . .

to more palatable subjects, students of the college will have the opportunity tomorrow morning from 8:30 until 9:30 of hearing a student variety program staged especially for their benefit over radio station KDB. The idea is the brainchild of Archie McPhail, a student affiliated with the station, and it is hoped that the program may become a permanent weekly feature.

Tonight and tomorrow night . . .

the feud between the Gaucho and the Aztec will be revived. Everyone is familiar with the outcome of the two games played in San Diego a short time ago, but in this series we're hoping for a complete reversal.

But win, lose or draw, the Green and White team out there fighting is scrapping for Santa Barbara State college and over 1600 Gaucho students are behind them 100 per cent!

Mr. BIG WEAVE

By HARRY STEWART

Just the kind of a sweater you've been trying to meet for a long, long time. In fact, ever since the time you heard those two gals admiring a guy who had just sauntered by in a tweedy looking sweater that looked like a million bucks.

But it looked like it cost a million bucks too—so you promptly forgot about it—not being a wealthy playboy.

Well brother, as I mentioned once before, "Meet Mister Big Weave"—a real he-man's sweater styled in slip-over, coat, or sleeveless models.

Boasting four distinctive, tweedy shades: Buff, Blue, Brown and Green, plus two collar styles, "Mister Big Weave" was especially planned for every type of sport and casual wear.

Take my word for it—you'll be making a smart move when you move into REG's and get acquainted with this rugged but handsome newcomer.

At $2.95, $3.95, and $5.95, you can't afford to miss meeting "Mr. Big Weave."
