Controversial Marcuse On Student Uprisings

By STEPHEN AMDUR UCSB Philosophy Department

A generally well-dressed, restrained audience of 1500 heard Professor Herbert Marcuse, President of the Pacific Division of the American Philosophical Association, deliver the first Hans Meyerhoff Memorial Lecture, "Beyond One-Dimensional Man," last week.

Marcuse, author of 'Reason and Revolution: Hegel and the Rise of Social Theory" (1941), "Eros and Civilization: A Philosophical Inquiry into Freud" (1955), and "One-Dimensional Man: Studies in the Ideology of Advanced Industrial Society" (1964), interpreted recent student uprisings in the light of his theoretical writings. A strong Hegelian influence dominated the structure of his address.

Marcuse argued that the Establishments in both the Western and Soviet blocs refuse to apply philosophical reason to an analysis, critique, and improvement of their own societies; sublimate erotic energy into language, politics, industry, philosophy, and art that have no relevance to human needs and social problems.

Creating thereby one-dimensional societies in which the social forms transform all statements that imply radical criticisms of the social presuppositions of the status quo into innocuous or ridiculous gestures that fall down neatly along the one-dimensional axis of that society.

CONTEMPORARY SOCIETIES

Marcuse then considered contemporary societies or movements that go beyond onedimensional man, Hetentatively suggested that Cuba and the Maoist movement within China may be such.

He found a clear illustration of a movement beyond one-dimensional man in the recent movement among Western European and American youth. He argued that in their slogan

"all power to the imagination," the rebellious French students, who were as influenced by the surrealist Andre Breton as by Karl Marx, moved, like the American 'yippies," to transcend "the irrational rationality of the status quo" and to thereby restore reason and philosophy to a humanistic critique of society.

EROTIC ENERGY

He further argued that American youth, in the increased sexuality of their dress, behaviour, language, and music (acid rock replacing Beethoven), are engaged in desublimation, a restoring of erotic energy to culture. Noting that Freud held that the sublimation of eros is essential to civilization, Marcuse argued that "the desublimation . . . today is not an undoing of civilization, but only of its repressive and exploitative aspects."

For these reasons Marcuse, while indicating his belief that at this point in history "revolution is impossible without the working class, and impossible with the working class." described the student uprisings as "an opening of one-dimen-sional society" and an attempt to desublimate into social realities the one-dimensionalized ideals of Western society.

Marcuse, who characterized the rhetoric of the American Establishment as "an Orwellian language of unprecedented brutality," spoke calmly but forcefully, in the dignified academic manner appropriate to the occasion.

He concluded by stating that, while he believes the Western universities are in need of radical change, he would not side with those on the Left or Right who believe that the universities ought to be dissolved; and urged his audience to perpetuate the memory of Hans Meyerhoff by working to extend the Meyerhoff Free Speech Area of UCLA to the entire academic com-

Council Hears UMAS Attack, Condemn EL GAUCHO Policies

By PEGGY BURNSIDE EG Staff Writer

Spear-headed by UMAS, a group of students attacked EL GAUCHO policy during Leg Council Wednesday evening, specifically condemning the lack of coverage concerning recent UMAS events.

Jim Bettinger, Editor, accompanied by Rick Roth, City Editor, and Rich Zeiger, were present to reply to charges.

UMAS has established a grievance committee, which presented a resolution demanding an immediate response to their complaints. If this response is not forthcoming on the

Pre-Enrollment Starts Monday

Now that mid-terms are mostly over, here's another mind-blower; pre-enrollment filing begins by mail on Monday. The Winter Schedule of Classes is on sale in the Bookstore with all the courses you want, and some you don't, at times which would make Bella Lugosi cringe.
Filing is to be done by part of EL GAUCHO, UMAS is demanding that EL GAUCHO funds be re-allocated in order to subsidize a newspaper published by Mexican-American students, or that a minimum one-half page in each copy of

JUAN ARROYO UMAS Vice President

EL GAUCHO be devoted to minority group affairs on this campus.

The apology published in Wednesday's paper for not covering last weekend's UMAS Conference, was not regarded as sufficient. According to Joel Garcia, UMAS spokesman, an "apology is fine ... but there have been many apologies in the Garcia said they "haven"t received satisfactory answers. There is gross insensitivity to Mexican - Americans on this campus."

INSULTED

In relation to the recent conference and the failure of EL GAUCHO to cover it, he said that 'this is not the first time; we haven't been covered on previous occasions. We're insulted. EL GAUCHO hasn't really made an effort to relate to us."

A photograph concerning UMAS activities which was 52 per cent in favor of it.

printed on the back page of EL GAUCHO early this week was cited as "tokenism" by Castulo de la Rocha. The exact nature of the charges was questioned by Paul Sweet, A.S. President, who sought to determine whether EL GAUCHO was being accused of "racism or not doing its job properly." Garcia answered that "we're not saying EL GAUCHO is racist; we're not saying that."

When Jim Ashlock, Administrative Vice President, suggested that the UMAS complaint should be carried to the Communications Board, Garcia said "we have used the means which are established. You drive our backs up against the wall. You leave us no alternative. We don't want the run-around through committees. We want a response,"

BSU COMPLAINS

A few members of Leg Council also brought up complaints against EL GAUCHO, before returning to the UMAS complaint, Tom Crenshaw, Non-Affiliated Representative, reported that the BSU "received very little publicity during Black History Week" last year. Zeiger, Editor at that time, replied that EL GAUCHO had covered Black History Week and had even issued a supplement.

Quiet and subdued, though visibly upset by the attack, Bettinger said, "I don't know what to say. I recognize we've made mistakes; we've screwed up, but we're not consciously trying to ignore minority groups."

TOO MANY MANANAS

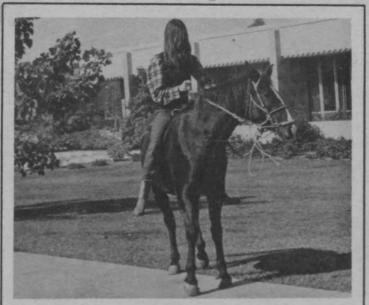

Garcia retorted that "We've been given manana too much. If it's an unconscious thing you better be conscious of it. EL GAUCHO is supposed to relate relevantly to current issues as ethnic relations. We want a commitment." (Continued on p. 12, col. 1)

Approximately $33,000 has been allocated from the $1 fee increase approved by UCSB students last spring.

At that time, the Educational Opportunity Program (EOP), Upward Bound, Community Aid Board (CAB), the Class of '70 Indian Project, the Racial and Ethnic Workshop, Project Genesis and United Mexican-Project American Students (UMAS) asked for monetary assistance.

EOP, under the direction of Deans Reynolds and Payton, has been allocated $20,000 which is matched by the Regents five to one, giving EOP a total of $120,000. This program pro-vides scholarships and maintains an office on campus staffed with counselors.

During the summer, Upward Bound was able to conduct a six-week program on this campus for minority high school students from the assistance they received. The students received their first introduction to the University, in the hopes

University too Political For EG Polled Students

Last week EL GAUCHO polled students and faculty members in an effort to determine the general consensus on several controversial issues which directly affect the University.

Concerning the relationship of politics and the governing of the University, 85 per cent of the random sampling that responded held that politics is playing too large a part.

Views were sharply divided over the ROTC issue as to whether or not it belongs on a college campus. Forty-six per cent felt that it does, while 44 per cent were against it; 10 per cent expressed no opinion. Of those who answered affirmatively, 55 per cent believed that it should be offered for credit.

In response to the questionable legality of the Regents' ruling on Cleaver, a clear-cut majority of 80 per cent felt that it was an infringement upon academic freedom.

Isla Vista residents were given a chance to voice their opinions concerning present housing conditions. Fifty-seven per cent were satisfied with them, whereas the 43 who were not, specified their major complaints: falling-apart furniture, noise, plumbing, broken plaster, high rent, roaches, and lack of storage space.

Support of a rent strike in I.V. was closely split, with only

Financial Aids: 80% of Students

Gray is more than just a color to Associate Dean Peggy Harlan, UCSB's chief financial aids officer; to her it's a way of thinking.

Her philosophy: things are not usually black or white, when it comes to deciding whether or not a student deserves a loan or a scholarship. This personal approach has earned Dean Harlan the nickname, "the gray lady."

During her 15 years in the hustle and bustle of financial aids, Mrs. Harlan has tried to keep in mind "environment as as academic achievewell ment."

The last five years have been especially busy ones for her staff. A previous "gradual transition" tempo abruptly changed in 1964 when the Work Study Act was passed. The bill is designed to give needy students wages for 10 or 15 hours of work per week on-campus. The 1965 Higher Education Act, a newlyapproved fee increase in UC tuition and a greater influx of applicants also have made their marks on financial aids.

About 80 per cent of the student body is involved at some time in the financial aids program, and the staff maintains more than 8,000 active files. A variety of scholarships and loans are available to these applicants.

Regents scholarships, prestigious awards for two or fouryear periods, are the only awards granted solely on the basis of outstanding academic record and high degree of promise. A President's scholarfor example, adds the qualification of financial need to the academic requirement.

A multitude of other financial aids, all highly coveted, are handled by the "gray lady's" staff. California state scholarships, alumni scholarships, and specialized awards from service clubs, foundations and community agencies are some of the forms of aid.

Under Work Study, a feder-ally-supported program, students can work up to 15 hours a week, earning the prevailing wage, while attending classes.

Enrolled students who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents may receive loans of up to $1,000 per academic year--interest free while a student--under the National Defense Education Act, These can be repaid at three per cent interest over a period of up to 10 years.

Repayment can be cut in half if the borrower goes into teaching, or even "erased" if he enters a specialized field, Short term loans, interest-free, are also available.

All applicants for scholarships must apply before January 15 on a single form rather than specifying the type of aid they desire. "One application makes it simpler for the student not to miss any opportunity -- it opens all doors for him." the financial aids officer emphasizes.

Might Men of Media Upset Sweeties?

ISSUE: What and why and where and when is the Beer Bowl?

Let it not be said that Santa Barbara and EL GAUCHO lack tradition. We are traditionally maligned by Leg Council. Our budget is traditionally cut by these same gnomes of the nadir, and we traditionally (for the previous three years) have challenged Leg Council's Clowns to try their skill and brawn on the football field. They haven't been able to top us intellectually, but we believe in trying everything to help them.

For those 12,000 of you who missed last year's mobilization of the mouths,

Presently the Communications Clan (EG, La Cumbre, and KCSB) holds a 2-1 lead in the series but is a six point underdog in this year's contest. As in years gone by, Athletic Director Cactus Jack Curtis has consented to allow Campus Field to be used for the epic encounter, which will take place Sunday afternoon at 1.

Interestingly entitled "The Beer Bowl," this classic confrontation is aptly named. In addition to the pride of UCen, third floor being at stake, the losing team, FROM THEIR OWN POCKETS (not some budgetarily hidden "slush" fund), must supply enough of the sudsing brew to totally inebriate the entire winning team. With the budget that Council gives the media men, we can't afford to lose.

Though coaching an underdog team, Communications' coach, Lee "Lame" Margulies, when asked if he thought that crippling injuries to all his starters would impare the effectiveness of his team, commented, "I think that, even with the crippling injuries to all my starters we can manage to lose."

However, A.S. President Paul Sweet disagreed. Claimed Sweet, honorary coach of the Legislative Lechers, "They don't even have to show up and we'd lose."

The quantlet has been thrown, the challenge issued. It now remains for Fate to decide whether the mighty men of media in their journalistically-yellow teeshirts can overcome the wounds and the rankings, and give to the powder-puff blue attired Lechers their just rewards.

A final word of warning to Paul's Sweeties: As ye are slow, so shall ye weep.

Fatal Cut

In printing the letter from Profs. Abbott, Silverman, and Steiner you cut the second of three paragraphs, and it seems to me that the letter is less than lucid without it. I've no desire to make a stir in a relatively small matter, but do you think that you could pring that paragraph?

With the publication of Dr. Thomas Bouchard's statement in Friday's (October 25) EL GAUCHO, the community now has access to full and accurate information about New University Conference, The undersigned members of NUC assert that their conception of the organization is that contained in Dr. Bouchard's statement, and hope that he ersatz or slanted versions of our nature.

Full of (It) Heroes

Let me tell you about these two heros I got. First, hero #1 cut an opening in the wooden fence at the I.V. campus entrance on the street next to El Colegio, Up to this date that fence had the sole purpose of separating me from the quickest walking distance to Malcolm X North Hall--unless I was in a fence hopping mood. So thank you -- hero #1.

Hero #2 is Ken Newton who in Monday's El Groucho stated that his thing is being real with people. That's where he said he's at, and I think it's an all right place to be. Thank you hero #2.

It's refreshing to hope that UCSB is more than 12,000 bodies growing sideburns and fraternity suntans that all fit into place. I don't feel like explaining why I'm me, but sometimes you're really an Up-Tight Gaucho when I don't fit into your norm. You never lose your cool you great white gaucho! You never eat carrots in the library, you never talk to the janitors, your deodorant never fails!

I betcha my two heros are real people because what they did is about people. And that's why they'd be heros even if I disagreed with their conclusions,

Or maybe they fooled me; I'm gullible, And maybe I'm wrong and maybe I just don't know, Big deal, I'd rather get burned by my optimism than be 100 per cent correct. If this bothers you, take your pristine objectivity and forget about my letter. Maybe you're too used to having dead men as your heros, 7 o'clock news makes plenty of "grade A" heros and bad guys for every occasion.

Anyway, just remember that students are potentially Helloable, professors are potentially naive, and our friendly campus by the sea is full of potential heros. I'd be more specific, but I've got to go. My deodorant

Hey! It Worked!

Saturday six hundred people fanned out through Isla Vista picking up garbage and junk, and tonight I.V. is now beautiful -- it has never looked so good. I want to thank all those people who did the job that some said would be impossible to do. Those doubters now know that Isla Vistans are not too lazy and apathetic to do things for their community. The fraternities, sororities, independents, tutoring project kids, Scouts, and all the grade schoolers from Isla Vista School proved that to them today.

The next phase of the clean-up campaign is obvious: now that I.V. is clean let's keep it clean. Use the trash cans which are being placed around town. Tell your apartment manager he should arrange for more pickups if your own trash cans are overflowing. There should be no more Trash-Ins -- now it has to be an individual

Again, many thanks to all the Beautiful People who made Isla Vista beautiful.

Responsibility Needed

I have just finished reading EL GAUCHO's issues of 21-25 October and have come to the conclusion that things are pretty dead here in Hong Kong. We 12 UC students, participating in the Education Abroad Program, attend classes, eat meals, and generally lead contented lives, with nary a sign of student discontent. Meanwhile the University of California suffers from severe overexposure to the people of California, and its students continue to demand change--unfortunately bringing along the inevitable wrath of Gov. Reagan and

It is extremely difficult for any of us to have a clear picture of just what is going on in California at this time. Our only sources of information on the Presidential election are Time and Newsweek and slight references on the BBC Overseas Radio Service. And as for UC, we know only what we read in UCSB's paper. We did get advance notice of BSU's takeover of North Hall, however, in the Hong Kong English Daily, 'South China Morning Post,"

Nevertheless, we have had our own heated discussions about developments "in the outside world." We are all concerned about the Regents' September resolution on Eldridge Cleaver's presence at Berkeley; we are quite unsure of the black students, reasons for 'Aiberating" North Hall at Santa Barbara; and I myself am wondering how my home campus will greet the Regents when they visit San Diego for a post-election

Eight thousand miles away from California make us very uninformed, but we seem to have some kind of perspective on UC's problems. It is my personal belief that UC will survive yet another challenge to its procedures and customs, but if anything is to be learned from the present confrontations, it is that the students must quickly develop some tact. Too often, student groups decide on a response to a crisis without fully realizing its implications.

Now that student uprisings are front-page material for all "outside" newspapers, it is time for student leaders to plan their strategies with an eye to the public. If they sincerely want their legitimate complaints to be resolved, they should be willing to tread the road of revolt with a bit more insight into the public reaction to their demands.

ELECTION 1968:

VIEW

PRESIDENT-ELECT RICHARD M. NIXON

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Republican Richard M. Nixon, completing an epic comeback from political oblivion, narrowly won election Wednesday as the 37th president of the United States

He immediately pledged full efforts "to bring the American people together."

Squeezing past Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in the critical late-counting states of Illinois and California, Nixon harvested 287 electoral votes—17 more than needed to succeed Lyndon B. Johnson as president and to return the White House to Republican hands after eight years of Democratic rule.

However, the Nixon victory was so narrow-he received only 43 per cent of the popular vote-that it failed to generate a big enough Republican resurgence to crack Democratic control of Congress. Republicans did, however, pick up four House and five Senate seats, as well as five governor's chairs.

As tabulating of the avalanche of nearly 70 million votes near-ed an end, the popular vote lead teetered between Nixon and Humphrey.

With 96 per cent of the total vote tabulated, the count in mid-afternoon showed: Nixon 30,446,028; Humphrey 30,175, 835, including votes from two slates of electors in Alabama.

Third - party candidate George C. Wallace received slightly more than 9 million votes--about 13 per cent of the total. The former Alabama governor's emotion-charged campaign threatened for a time to plunge the election into the House, but he carried only five states--all in deepest Dixie.

Even as the last votes were being counted, both Johnson and Humphrey promised cooperation and unity in the shift of executive power to Nixon and his running mate Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland. The change-over will come with their inauguration January 20.

From his Texas ranch Johnson wired congratulations to Nixon and promised to "do everything in my power to make your burdens lighter.

"I hope that our people will turn now from the divisive contentions of the political campaign to a united search for peace and social justice," Johnson said.

Humphrey also sent a telegram to the president-elect saying, "You have my support in unifying and leading the people.

"I am confident," Humphrey say, "we shall be able to go on with the business of building the better America we all seek-in a spirit of peace and harmony."

Conceding defeat, Humphrey in a quavering voice told several hundred cheering supporters in a Minneapolis hotel, "I've done my best. I've lost. Mr. Nixon has won. The democratic process has worked its will so let's go on with the urgent task of uniting this country."

A half-hour later as the stock market advanced win word of his victory, a smiling Nixon flashed the victory sign with upraised hands and told a jubilant crowd in a New York City hotel that "Bring us together" will be the motto of his administration.

He reaffirmed his pledge to cooperate with Johnson in the post-election period "in bringing peace to the world." The Vietnam war was an overriding issue of the turbulent presidential campaign, and Nixon said before the election he would go to Saigon or Paris if necessary to get peace negotiations "off dead center."

Then the man who lost to John F. Kennedy by 120,000 votes in the 1960 presidential race-but came back to become the first candidate in this century to win the presidency on a second try-headed for three days of rest in Key Biscayne, Florida.

En route he planned to stop in Washington to visit former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, whom he served eight years as vice president. Eisenhower is recuperating in Walter Reed Army Hospital from a series of heart attacks.

At the 55-year-old presidentelect's side were his wife, Pat, and their two daughters, Tricia, 22, and Julie, 19. They were with him during most of the 50,000-mile campaign effort that was beamed at "the forgotten American...the nonshouter, the nondemonstrator...the angry American with legitimate grievances against his government."

Nixon pounded away at those grievances: "The longest war in American history, the highest taxes in American history, the worst crime wave in American history, the highest increases in prices in a generation, the lowest respect for America we have ever had,"

Humphrey and his running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, after winning the Democratic nominations in a convention held under armed guard because of Chicago street disorders, began their campaign with polls showing them 15 percentage points behind Nixon and Agnew.

Yet in the final weeks they closed the gap so rapidly that professional pollsters said the race was too close to predict a winner.

While vote-rich Illinois and California put him over the top, Nixon laid the foundation for his victory by capturing crucial border states and sweeping virtually all Midwest, Mountain and Far West states.

He carried 30 states in all and was ahead in one other.

Humphrey, whose strategy was built on winning the big industrial states, carried New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Texas, and seven other states, plus the District of Columbia. Nixon grabbed New Jersey and Ohio -- and the Democratic hopes collapsed.

In one oddity, Humphrey carried the home states of all four major candidates-his own, Minnesota, Nixon's New York, Agnew's Maryland, and Muskie's Maine.

CRANSTON COMPARES SELF TO RMN, SEEKS PEACE

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- Senator-elect Alan Cranston quietly put aside Wednesday the rancor of a bitter election campaign and set his first task in Washington as striving for peace in Viet Nam.

Meeting newsmen on his morning of victory, the 55-year-old veteran of California Democratic politics grinned as he claimed a kinship with Republican President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

"We both came out of the valley of despair and political defeat," said Cranston, the former foreign correspondent who lost two elections in the past four years--as did Nixon in the past eight.

Cranston, state controller from 1959 to 1967, defeated Max Rafferty, the fiery anti-hippie state super-intendent of public instruction, by some 340,000 votes out of more than seven million cast in Tuesday's election.

Two hours earlier Rafferty conceded the election and said he was "going back to my job as an educator." Sometimes smiling and sometimes serious, Rafferty said he sent "a traditional congratulatory telegram" to Cranston.

The 51-year-old Rafferty said he had "only myself" to blame for the loss, which followed a June 4 primary upset of incumbent Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, following a campaign in which many Kuchel supporters accused Rafferty of smearing the senator.

Many Kuchel loyalists worked actively for Cranston, a bald former track star, although Kuchel himself refused to endorse Rafferty refused to endorse Rafferty.

The first post-victory telephone call Cranston made was to Kuchel -- the 16-year Senate veteran who first was appointed to Nixon's old seat. '¶ thanked him for his golden silence during the campaign and he graciously offered the use of his staff in the transition period before I take office."

He noted the first telephone call he received Wednesday was from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) who aided Cranston's campaign.

Complete unofficial returns from the Secretary of State gave Cranston 3,615,261 votes or 51.8 per cent to Rafferty's 2,275,679 votes or 46.9 per cent.

Cranston said he thought the key to his victory was "the people of California want unity and peace."

Throughout the campaign he and Rafferty exchanged bitter comments on social strife in America, campus unrest in California, and the conduct of the war in Vietnam. "Smear" and "lie" became everyday words in their campaign. However, Cranston said Wednesday, "I'm now forgetting all those things . . . from now on I represent all of California."

Cranston said he will consider Nixon's proposals on their merits and believes, referring to Vietnam, "Nixon is sincere in his hopes to end that war."

Cranston and Kuchel come from the same generation of California political pros who drew their power from factions of both parties. He promised to carry on many of Kuchel's programs which often were criticized by Rafferty and more conservative California Republicans.

His background is that of a liberal. Cranston was founder of the California Democratic Council, which helped launch the antiwar presidential movement in California this year after it had split with Cranston.

Cranston said he's certain to disagree with California's senior-senator-to-be, Republican George Murphy, on some points. "But I am sure we can work together particularly in carrying on the water and conservation programs so ably carried by Tom Kuchel."

91st Congress: Little Change From 90th, GOP Overestimates

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Democrats retained firm control of Congress in Tuesday's election, making Richard M. Nixon the first president, since the start of the two-party system, to take office without his party in charge on Capitol Hill.

Although the Republicans scored a net gain of at least four Senate seats, it was not enough to overcome the Democrats' holdover margin from the 90th Congress.

If Democrat Wayne Morse loses, and he is trailing in a tight Oregon race, the new Senate lineup will be 58 Democrats and 42 Republicans.

In the House, the GOP barely dented the big Democratic majority, picking up a net gain of four seats which left it on the short end of a 243-192 lineup. This was in amazing contrast to pre-election claims by the GOP of a gain of 20 to 30-and to private Democratic expectations of a loss of 10 or 12.

Other presidents have found themselves with the enemy party entrenched in Congress during their terms of office, but none has had to start out that way before.

In 1916 Woodrow Wilson failed to bring a Democratic majority into the House with him, but with the help of independent party members the Democrats were able to exercise con-

In the Senate, Republicans won seven seats from the Democrats but the latter cut their losses a bit by taking two seats that had been held by Republicans, although no incumbent was running.

Democrat Alan Cranston won the California seat vacated by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel's primary loss, and Iowa's Democratic governor Harold E. Hughes won the seat of retiring Sen. Bourke B. Hickenloop-

The Republicans scored their gains in Arizona, Florida, Maryland, Ohio, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania. The GOP victory in Arizona will bring Barry Goldwater back to the Senate in January.

The near stand-off in House races was a disappointment to Republican leaders who had talked confidently of picking up at least 20 seats and possibly even the 31 it would take to put the Republicans in control.

Not since the 83rd Congress in the first two years of Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration have the Republicans controlled Congress, and they have done it only twice since 1933.

One possible explanation for the low turnover rate in the House is the likelihood that Democratic soft spots were all but eliminated in the GOP sweep two years ago when the Democrats lost 47 seats. They may be near their rock bottom low now which can hardly be comforting to the Republicans.

The Republicans were able to take only nine seats from the Democrats in Tuesday's voting. Redistricting in Indiana, North Carolina and New Mexico helped account for four of them.

Two others were normally Republican seats in upstate New York returning to the fold, and another was in a Connecticut district that habitually swings back and forth. The remaining two, in Maryland and Virginia, apparently were affected by local considerations.

In return the Democrats took five seats from the Republicans. Four of them-two in New York, one in Missouri and one in West Virginia-had been vacated by GOP incumbents who either retired or ran for other offices.

The other race pitted two incumbents against each other in Ohio: Democrat Charles A. Vanik and 83-year-old Republican Frances Bolton; Vanik Vanik moved into Mrs. Bolton's district because redistricting had placed a preponderance of Negroes in his old Cleveland district. As expected Louis Stokes, a brother of Cleveland's Negro mayor Carl Stokes, won in the new district.

Negroes also won in new districts in St. Louis and New York City. Democrat William Clay became Missouri's first Negro Congressman, and Shirley Chisholm, also a Democrat, became the first woman of her race ever elected to Congress when she won in New York.

With Adam Clayton Powell re-elected in Harlem to the seat denied him by the 90th Congress, nine Negroes have been elected to the 91st, a record high.

Among the newcomers to the next Congress will be Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, former pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals and James W. Symington, son of Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington. Mizell, a Republican, won in a new North Carolina district and Symington, a Democrat, took a seat in the St. Louis suburbs vacated by Tom Curtis, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for the Senate.

Another noteworthy winner was Allard K. Lowenstein who led a movement to deny President Johnson renomination and played a key role in getting Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy to make his presidential bid. Lowenstein, a Democrat, making his first try for public office, won in a Long Island, N.Y. district vacated by a retiring Democratic incumbent.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)--Hubert Horatio Humphrey fought back the tears of defeat Wednesday and promised President-elect Richard M. Nixon, his support in unifying and leading the nation.

The strain of the grueling campaign and the ultimate defeat was finally beginning to show on the Vice President's bravely smiling face as he graciously conceded defeat at noon (EDT) before television cameras and hundreds of shouting loyalists.

Rising at 8:45 a.m. Minnesota time, Humphrey ate his breakfast and awaited the grim news that most of his supporters had seemed ready for when he went to bed hours after midnight.

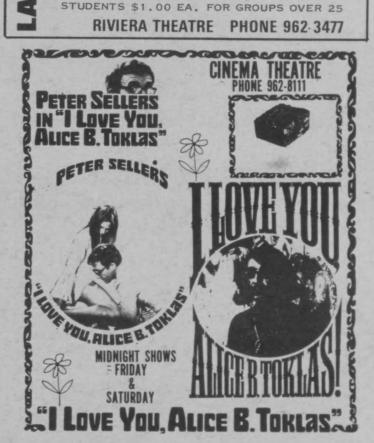

It came. The news services and television networks gave Nixon Illinois and the presidency. For the second time--and presumably the last--in eight years Humphrey had been turned back in his effort to crown a long public career with the nation's highest prize. In 1960 he was drubbed in the primaries by John F. Kennedy. In 1968, branded a sure loser almost from the moment of his nomination by bitterly divided Democrats last August, he battled down to the wire and almost made it.

He telegrammed Nixon shortly after phoning him, "You are the winner in this election. My congratulations." His voice quavered then and nearly broke. But he pushed on: "Please know you will have my support in unifying and leading the nation." MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)--George C. Wallace, whose attempted blockade of the Electoral College proved as ineffective as his memorable GOP Controls Assembly; Monagan Next Speaker?

SACRAMENTO (AP) -- Republicans secured control of the State Assembly Wednesday, leading both Gov. Reagan and lower house GOP leader Robert T. Monagan to predict brighter days ahead for Reagan's "Creative Society."

They left no doubt that Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh will be replaced when the 1969 legislative session opens January 6 with a 41-39 Republican majority.
The 45-year-old Unruh lost out in his statewide campaign to retain the 42-38 edge Democrats held going into voting day, which also meant his retaining the poweful speaker's job he has held longer than any man in state history.

Republicans forged their take-over of the lower house for the first time since 1958 by re-electing all their incumbents and narrowly overturning three Democrat incumbents -- Frederick J. Bear of San Diego, David Negri of Granada Hills, and Caucus Chairman Winfield A. Shoemaker of Lompoc.

The governor also was asked if he would support Monagan, the 48-year-old minority leader since 1965, for speaker in 1969. He said it was a legislative matter but added, "Bob Monagan has been a darned good minority leader and enjoys,
I'm sure, the support of the bulk of the legislators of our party....'

Later he invited photo-graphers to his office to take pictures of him with Monagan.
In a separate statement and news conference, Monagan said he expects no difficulty in winning the necessary 41 votes to assume Unruh's role as speaker, and relegate his long-time adversary on the floor to the minority leader's role.

DETROIT (AP) -- Detroit radio station WJR stated Wednesday it has learned Michigan Gov. George Romney will join the Cabinet of Presidentelect Richard M. Nixon.

The station said Romney will probably become secretary of Commerce in the Nixon Administration, but said it is possible he would head either the Department of Housing and Urban Development or the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Another prominent Republican governor, Nelson Rockefeller of New York, was also named by the Detroit station as a member of Nixon's cabinet 'either as Secretary of State or Secretary of Defense--most likely the latter," a station spokesman said.

Nixon did see the sign and remember it.

Shortly after his election win Wednesday over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Nixon told a crowd of supporters 'Bring us together" would be the great objective of his administration at the outset.

The Republican said that the placard that touched him most was one he has seen at Deshler last month.

Crisis

Although biologists and ecologists have been emphatic in describing the effects of the population explosion as almost immediately forthcoming and utterly disastrous, the intellectual community has done little more than barely acknowledge these facts.

It is ironic that, during a year of such frenzied political activity, four million people will starve to death almost unnoticed. Two billion people are hungry at this very moment. Few Americans could sit in a room with a child and watch it starve to death, but the death of several million children this year from starvation is a distant, impersonal, hard-tograsp event.

Those people who entertain the illusion that the world's billions can be fed in future years with some sort of Tomorrowland - like agricultural technology should open their eyes to the brutal reality that the world's population of 3.5 billion people will double in 37 years, while world agricultural production increases (depending on the weather) at a rate of approximately one per cent per year.

To quote Dr. Paul Erlich, Professor of Biology at Stanford University, "There is not enough food today. How much there will be tomorrow is open to debate. If the optimists are correct, today's level of misery will be perpetuated for perhaps two decades into the future. If the pessimists are correct, massive famines will occur soon, possibly in the early 1970's, certainly by the 1980's. So far most of the evidence seems to be on the side of the pessimists and we should plan on the assumption that they are Student activism was the necessary catalyst for the initial successes of the civil rights movement in the early 1960°s. Student support of Eugene Mc-Carthy dumped Johnson and (hopefully) will finally succeed in dumping his war. The hour is late to prevent the world from strangling itself to death. It is essential that students immediately and vigorously participate in this most essential of protest movements—the protest against the population crisis.

MICHAEL METCALF Chairman Population Crisis Comm.

Don't Dictate

May I say that I agree with the spirit of what you express in your editorial "The Door Swings Both Ways." It does indeed. I see no reason to let suits and ties, or a lack of them, stand in the way of good relations between students and faculty. I consider choice of dress a matter of personal preference. Let's not dictate, let's talk to each other.

Whatever became of the plan that residence halls or individual student groups would ask faculty members to become "fellows" or "associates," invite them to have a meal once in a while and have them stay around for a couple of hours of conversation? When questionnaires concerning this project were sent around (about two years ago?), I indicated my willingness to participate occasionally. Nothing came of it as far as I know before I left for Europe where I spent last year. Has this plan been developed?

I heartily concur with you that no one can lose if such a plan or a similar one were realized. We certainly should not only see our majors and graduate students. This campus has become, through its very rapid expansion, rather decentralized, and what happened quite naturally and informally at a place like Oberlin College will take some effort at UCSB where most of the faculty does not live within walking distance of the campus and where there are six times as many students.

You speak of "psychological blocks" on both sides. Let me say that I can't quite believe that, and that I hope rather fervently that you are wrong. I should be delighted to do my share, within the limits of my obligations (teaching, research, family), to help create an atmosphere on the campus that would make a repetition of your editorial unnecessary.

Toughest Tests Here for Frosh, Varsity Footballers

Yearlings to Host Brubabes Today

By LIN LORING EG Sports Writer

UCLA's frosh footballers, resembling the varsity Rose Bowl contenders of last year, invade UCSB today at two. The young Bruins are heavily favored to repeat last year's victorious performance.

A winless Gaucho eleven will have to play as well as pre-season predictions said they could if they hope to upset the undefeated UCLA squad. The Bruins have conquered the likes of Berkeley, Stanford, and Southern California in their quest for a perfect season.

In last year's encounter the Gaucho freshmen were handed a 13-0 defeat by the Bruins. A UCSB letdown in the second stanza saw the Bruins tally twice. The first TD came after the Gauchos fumbled to the Bruins on the UCSB eleven yard line. The second UCLA score came on a two yard plunge capping a 47 yard drive.

Carl Lemons, from San Jose, continues to be the backbone of a sterile Gaucho offense. He has raised his rushing average from a first game 2 yards a carry to a current 3.9 yards a carry. The total UCSB offense has a three game average of only 2.6 yards a play.

Leading the freshmen receivers are flanker Mike Anton and tight end Bill Fisher. Anton has nine receptions for 82 yards while Fisher has rolled up 70 yards on four receptions.

The Gaucho defense has been kept busy as UCSB's opponents are averaging 17 more plays a game. Headed up by back Jim Mitchell, the defensive unit has allowed its opponents an average of 3.5 yards a play. In last week's battle with Cal Poly, Mitchell intercepted three enemy aerials for 105 yards. He returned the third interception 88 yards for the Gauchos' lone touchdown of the afternoon.

UCSB's frosh will have to capitalize on Bruin mistakes while minimizing their own if they plan to up-end UCLA.

Not to Mention The Beer Bowl

Bowl Bid at Stake As UOP Invades

By BILL GRAHAM EG Sports Staff

UOP's roaring Tigers roll into Santa Barbara today to face the red hot Gaucho footballers in a Campus Field encounter set for 8 p.m. tomorrow night.

Sporting a 5-2 record and a four game win streak, Pacific will be out to avenge last year's 24-20 loss to UCSB. The Gauchos are also currently riding a four game win skein, the first of such length since the 1965 Camellia Bowl season when they won five in a row.

This year, although there are no camellias at stake, there may be some roses. If the Gauchos can beat UOP tomorrow night, the officials of the Junior Rose Bowl will extend an invitation to UCSB to play in the prestigious post-season game. The visiting team in the JRB will probably be West Texas State, a 6-2 team, led by Eugene "Mercury" Morris, the nation's leading rusher.

But first, the Gauchos must beat UOP, a colorful team with impressive wins over Miami of Ohio, Utah State, Colorado State, and San Jose. The Tigers, by the way, have already faced West Texas State, losing 23-7.

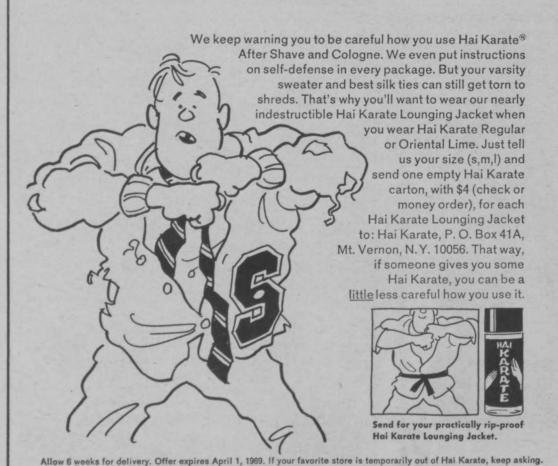

In speaking of Pacific, Gaucho center Rich Becker remarks, "They are a defensively oriented team. They take their eleven best men and put them on defense, and then start to put together an offense."

This strategy seems to have worked quite well, as UOP has allowed less than 15 points a game, and has turned in shutouts their last two outings to run their streak to 10 consecutive scoreless quarters.

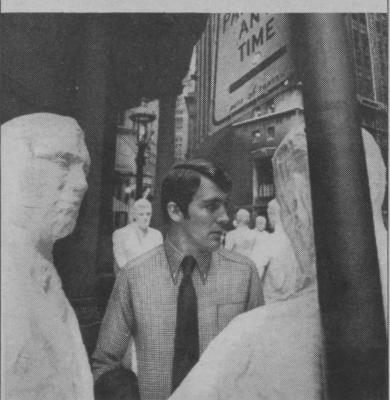

This is a defense led by safety "Rumbling" Rudy Redmond and tackle Bob "the Tree" Heinz, both candidates for All-Coast.

But the Tiger nicknames do not end there. Quarterback "Ace" Ackley is an adequate passer and a fine runner, Tony "Never Die" Plummer teams with Al Namanny and Chuck Camy to round (Continued on p. 11, col. 1) its four game streak.

Curtice is clicking on 52 per cent of his passes for 12 TD's, while Broadhead has gained 735 yards and eight scores. Wide receivers Jim Priest and Steve Moore lead the pass catchers with 41 receptions and eleven secures between them.

interceptions with five.

UCSB's powerful offense is grinding out over 400 yards per contest compared to Pacific's 297, but the Gauchos have not faced a defense as tough as UOP's since their opening game against El Paso.

In the event the game turns into a defensive battle, kicking will play a large part in the outcome. Here the Gauchos appear to have an edge. Dave Chapple is punting the ball at over 40 yards per boot, has missed only one PAT out of 29, and has a 35 yard field goal to his credit.

The Tigers counter with Stefan Schroeder, an 'on and off' kicker. He is punting at a 35 yard average, has hit on only 11 of 16 PAT's, but is the NCAA record holder with a 59 yard field goal against Colorado State in the light air of Denver. How he fares at sea level remains to be seen.

The Gauchos have been great the past month, but like Cassius Clay when he toured Europe two years ago, have been accused of running a 'bum of the week' club. Tomorrow night's game against Pacific is the whole season for UCSB. They rose to the occasion against El Paso, and now they must do it again. A bouquet of roses is at stake.

tied Westmont three weeks ago, as did UCSB on Wednesday.

In that game, one that was decided in the final minutes of play, Coach Zoltan von Somogyi's crew salvaged a 2-2 tie.

The Gaucho's gained and held a 1-0 lead throughout the first half on John Merrill's free kick from 35 yards out. However, Westmont succeeded in luring goalie Ortiz away twice and scoring quick shots from across the field. Gaucho Dave Hollingsworth forced a tie in the last three minutes of play as he broke away in a sprint and buried the ball into the net.

The game strategy of closing Westmont's scorer, Steve Gay, from outside passes proved decisive. "Their whole team panicked when they could not get the ball to him. Larry Miller played fine defensive work against the big boy, " commented you Somogyi.

Ph. 968-4810

"Our entire team, once again, played an excellent game," said the coach. "Most of the play took place around Westmont's goal, and we had many more shots at the goal than our opponent, but scoring is what counts."

Tomorrow, von Somogyi intends to stay with the 4-3-3 offensive attack, but hinted that the defensive array of a 3-4-3 might result if the Gauchos gain a two point advantage.

"Loyola defeated us last year with a strong scoring attack. They have a number of foreign students and an excellent coach from Turkey, but I am not worried about our play. I only hope we will have a great turnout of support for our players after this long hard season."

Ph. 967-4801

Gauchos Set for Pacific Polomen

"We've got to beat UOP," states coach Rick Rowland of the UCSB water polo squad which entertains the Tigers here tomorrow at 2:30 p,m. As the season rapidly draws to a close, the UCSB squad is looking to better its season record of 16-7. They'll have to be careful, however, for the UOP team has an upset in mind.

Coming off a second place finish in the West Coast Water Polo Tournament last weekend, the Gauchos are hopeful that they'll beat UOP as they did in that tournament, 5-2. And since in the championship game with Irvine they 'played their best water polo this year,' Rowland is hoping to come out victorious this weekend.

Rowland had words of warning, however. He asserts that UOP is "a very capable team," and the Gauchos will have to "play four quarters of water polo" to beat UOP. He went on to flatly state the Gauchos "can" win if they get too overconfident."

Immediately after the varsity concludes its game against the UOP squad, the UCSB Frosh will play the UOP reserves. This contest, scheduled for 3:30 p.m., promises to be a close battle also.

Two weeks from tomorrow the Gauchos will again host a big tournament, this time the Pacific Coast Athletic Association tournament. In this tourney, some of the best teams in the nation, including the numbers 1 and 2 ranked teams in the nation, San Jose State and UC Irvine. The UCSB team will be a little busy for the next two weeks.

Distancers Scheduled to Run In Nevada Meet Tomorrow

You might say the chips are down this weekend for coach Sam Adams' Gaucho harriers. Better yet, you might say UCSB will be laying their cards on the table. You might even say this weekend is a big gamble.

Anyway, you might be right, for this weekend the harriers take their campaign to the town that Howard Hughes made famous, Las Vegas, Nevada. Among other things on their minds is a triangular meet with Nevada Southern and Cal Poly Pomona.

"This isn't going to be one of our tougher meets," confided Adams, "so we'll probably take it pretty easy this week. The big meet will be next week when we travel to Fresno for the first Pacific Coast Athletic Association conference meet."

Adams will be going with most of his regulars including Dave Blemker, Keith Jeffers, Greg Ratliff, Bill Word, Steve Denney George Young, and Irvin Brown.

-- AND NOW LADIES & GENTLEMEN THE COACH IS WARMING UP THE TEAM FOR THE KICK OFF."

UMAS Charges...

tion of this point; Garcia asked why there was no coverage of the UMAS Conference. Bettinger said, "We are trying to open up these lines of communication, by to which Garcia replied, "Why do we have to open up lines of communication?"

Crenshaw felt that UMAS was "desiring an equitable amount of coverage; that's all." Zeiger said, "What's most important is how Jim can work with you to implement these things."

When discussion was halted, no decisions had been made. It appears that EL GAUCHO is being given some time to issue a policy statement. Communications Board will be taking this matter under consideration at their meeting next week.

REPLACE CLEAVER

Jeff Herman, spokesman for BROTHER, requested $300 to help bring Bobby Seale here to speak in place of Eldridge Cleaver. Council became engaged in heated debate while considering this proposal.

Council point-blanked Herman, demanding to know exactly why Cleaver was unable to appear at UCSB. He replied that Cleaver, sick with the flu and accompanying fever, was advised by his doctor to cancel all public appearances.

Crenshaw challenged Herman on this statement, saying that according to Kathleen Cleaver and the Black Panther Party, he (Cleaver) did not come to UCSB because he doubted

Herman's sincerity.

Herman said, 'I don't know what you are talking about. That's never been pointed out to me." Crenshaw returned. "That's not unusual. Your condescending manner . . . very patronizing, they didn't dig it."

BOBBY SEALE?

Bill James, present at the meeting, asked, "What is the purpose of the Bobby Sealelecture? How can the Associated Students know to sponsor him if we don't know why?" George Kieffer, Executive Vice President, said it was "a mistake to bring Seale," Crenshaw agreed.

Speaking for the BSU, Crenshaw stated that "our image has been shot down by Cleaver's failure to appear; we want tobe careful about how blacks are

REGENTS MATCH

The Community Aid Board was allocated $1500 a year to be matched by the Regents three

An Indian Project, being conducted by the Class of 770, has also been assured $500 a year to be matched by the Regents three to one. A small community of Santa Ynez Indians is thriving in the Solvang-Buellton area, although suffering acute hardship for a variety of reasons. They strongly resent outside control, the federal government in particular. The Class of '70 has aided in the construction of improved living quarters for these people.

The Racial and Ethnic Workshop, under the guidance of Bill James, received $2500, which has been used to purchase the CBS film series "Of Black America."

PROJECT GENESIS

Project Genesis has been able successfully maintain a clothing bank, and a hot breakfast program for grammar school children. They have received $500 from the fee increase matched by the Regents three to one.

UMAS was allocated $550 which was used to sponsor a recent conference here, encouraging Mexican-American students to come to UCSB after they have completed their high school education. They hope to conduct two more such affairs over the next two quarters, requiring additional funds.

Off-Duty Police Armed in SF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)--Po-lice Chief Thomas J. Cahill Thursday opposed any move to disarm off-duty officers, saying, 'this is not the time to reduce protection of the general public."

His recommendations were sought by Mayor Joseph Alioto and two supervisors after a series of shooting incidents involving off-duty policemen.

"Crime is on the increase and an unusual number of criminals and law violators are carrying guns," Cahill said. "There are innumerable incidents of outstanding police work performed by off-duty officers in this department."

A print from the exhibition now showing in the University Center has been stolen, it was reported yesterday.

John Carroll, Assistant Director of the UCen, said that "Galaxy," an abstract painting by Mullican, "was ripped from its moorings: it wasn't just lifted."

According to Carroll, the University Center Art Acquisition Committee has been attempting to build up the collection of art pieces owned by the UCen. "We have been setting aside funds, and eventually we hope to have a good selection." Carroll said.

He added that he would like to appeal to the person who took it to bring it back, no questions asked, to the UCen Director's office, saying that occurrences like this hurt the ability of the UCen to acquire art pieces.

ALENDA

'Chinese Wall' in 'Epic' Tradition

The Santa Barbara Premiere of Max Frisch's bitter historical farce, "The Chinese Wall," is scheduled for a November 14 opening under the direction of UCSB Instructor of Dramatic Art, Eugene Miller.

'The Chinese Wall' represents Miller's continued interest in German "Epic" Theatre, which employs stylistic rather than realistic acting to achieve what has come to be known as the "alienation effect."

"There is no denying Frisch's debt to Bartolt Brecht and the German development of Epic Theatre," Miller noted.
"The play deals with ideas rather than character, so the actors must demonstrate rather than assimilate themselves into a role.

"Sets and costumes do not place us in any particular time or place, since the play really takes place tonight. . in our consciousness, as the play's central character points out."

The play itself deals with the historic struggle between freedom and oppression. Frisch's theme involves the question of whether mankind can survive the "tyranny" of the twentieth century, with rulers armed with weapons capable of destroying humanity.

"The Chinese Wall" is a play about dissent and the suppression of dissent. The maniacal emperor, Hwang Ti, builder of the Chinese Wall, really be-lieves that he can establish the final 'Order" by keeping out the barbarians and destroying the dissenters within.

"This same philosophy of fear," Miller added, "which apparently motivates many of our leaders today in national and international politics, has brought us to the present stage of confusion and chaos in America."

Appearing in the UCSB production of "The Chinese Wall" as Wu Tsiang, the courageous but foolish prince who yearns for Mee Lan, will be Rick Davis. Arlette Poland will enact the role of Mee Lan.

A large cast of more than 40 will support the leading players in this UCSB Main Stage production. Tickets for the presentation may be purchased or picked up at Arts and Lectures box office, on the UCSB campus, phone number 961-3535.

MEE LAN (Arlette Poland), the beautiful daughter of a ruthless Chinese Emperor, falls in love with THE CONTEMPORARY (Jim Liebrecht), in this scene from the UCSB production of Max Frisch's bitter farce of history, "The Chinese Wall," to be presented in the UCSB Main Theatre Nov. 14-16, 21-23.

I.V. Celebrates Armistice Day

The Inter-Faith Forum and Associated Students (JIVE) are sponsoring the first Isla Vista Community Celebration Sunday November 10, in observance of 50th anniversary of Armistice Day.

The celebration will provide an opportunity for a thoughtprovoking look at ideas on peace and community, and will involve such planned events as movies, slides, music, people-games, readings on peace and, at the end, a symbolic lighting of can-

The two sponsors urge every-one who is concerned with the above ideas to come and take part in the celebration. Banners and signs which reflect your thoughts on peace and community are also welcome.

After the events are concluded fires will be lit on the campus beach; those bringing food and guitars are invited to stay to contemplate the day's happenings or whatever they wish.

All interested persons may call 968-8532 or 968-5066 for more information.

Coffee House Provides Space: Arts and Crafts

Borsodis Coffee House has leased the lot at the corner of Seville and Embarcadero del Norte for the purpose of making an open-air showground for artists and craftsmen.

Pavilions have been built to serve as individual stalls for display. The showground will be entitled "The Arts in Congress" and will be continuous throughout the coming year.

The area will be divided in two parts, the front, which faces on Embarcadero del Norte, will be for craftsmen who wish to sell their work. They will be able to rent a stall for $2 a day, $10 a week, or $25 a month. This rental includes electricity for lights.

The rear half will consist of stalls, a stage area, poetry pavilion and a folk dancing area. Here artists, poets and performers are welcome to show their art. There will be no charge to either the artist or the public.

The theme of The Arts in Congress comes from Borsodi's beloved guru, Paul Klee:
"There must be some common ground somewhere, after all, where artist and layman can meet; once we have reached it, you will no longer think of the artist and his work as something peculiar and out-of-the-way.

'You will realize then that the artist is someone who, like yourself, has been plunged into this confusing world without his consent; someone who, like yourself, must find his way, willy-nilly among the welter of things here below."

For information, contact Robert Borsodi, 968-2414.

Communications vs. Govt. In 4th Annual Beer Bowl

In what is destined to be one of the great titanic clashes in of EL GAUCHO, KCSB, and La Cumbre take on the challenge of the lechers of Leg Council in the fourth annual Beer Bowl

Sunday. Game time is slated for 1 p.m. on Campus Field.

Coached by Lee "Shifty" Margulies, the communication squadron goes into the game six point underdogs, although they hold a 2-1 series edge.

In the other camp A.S. Prexy Paul '4s" Sweet, maintaining his squad of leaderless leaders, will be laboring under the threat that Jim Gregory and Bruce Harger may play.

With veterans like Bill "Versatile and Occasionally Spectacular" Graham at quarterback and Clay "Mouth" Kallam joining Margulies at the end positions, the communicators are expected to feature a running

Originally sponsored by the Free Draft Movement in Los Angeles, "Gold Power's" three brothers include the author, Rhodes, R. L. Alkhamiis as the Christian, and Elamu Goss as the militant. Their performances, according to Jack Kissell of Los Angeles' Open City, are "equal to this superior and difficult play."

Tickets for the production, $1.50 for students and $2 for the public, may be obtained from members of the Black Students' Union. They may be located through the BSU office, trailer number 324A and 324B.

Annual Galloping Gaucho Review Shows Skits, Satire, Slapstick

Would you believe a "Thoroughly Decadent Millie," "The Nearly-Dead Game," or "Take an Indian to Lunch?" These and other humorous skits satirize UCSB, modern morals, TV quiz games, Broadway musicals, politics, and our beloved Regents.

An adaptation of "West Side Story" entitled "The Up-Tight Story" and "The Undergraduate," spoof the marvels of UCSB as seen through the eyes of freshmen. A new production of the annual and classic Cal Club skit will open the show.

Entre-act entertainment also covers a broad spectrum of refreshing acts including a modern barbershop quartet, a blues soloist, the wellknown and popular Coming Attractions, comedy acts, and an unusual presentation by the Soul

Hal Brendle, a candidate for this year's GGP, will direct the stage band which will add color and zest to the scene. Emcees will be Craig Crawshaw and Randy Stewart, directors for this veritable Niagra of talent will be the dynamic duo, Susan Hughes and Bill Wenger, and the show will be stage-managed by the voluptuous Lynn Donalson-Butler.

This exciting, action-packed, ninety-minute thing will happen in Campbell Hall November 13, 14 and 15 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale now: $1 in advance and $1.50 at the door for Wednesday and Thursday; $1.50 in advance and $2 at the door for Friday. Innovative Ideas --Local Parade, Show

Gaucho Homecoming 1968 will feature a festive game day for students, alumni, and other visitors with Saturday high-lighted by a "JIVE" parade culminating in a Pre-Game Show.

Saturday morning is set aside for Community "Open House" on campus and in Isla Vista during which everyone can wander around the campus community and view the House Decorations.

The "JIVE" parade (a kind of Pied Piper Noise Parade) will leave from three formation areas at Anacapa Hall, Francisco Torres, and "Skunk Hollow" (by the old campus Fire House). The Anacapa contingent led by the Goleta Valley Band will be leaving at approximately 11:40 a.m.

Approximately the same time, the Dos Pueblos High School Band (140 members strong) will be leading a group from Francisco Torres through Isla Vista.

These groups will meet on Embarcadero del Norte to follow the UCSB Gaucho Band (which is starting at Skunk Hollow) around the Embarcadero Loop on its way to the soccer field where the Pre-Game Show and rally will be held in conjunction with the Alumni picnic. (See map page 17)

Everyone is encouraged to join the parade at any point along the route, either individually or in groups. A spirit award will be presented to the group displaying the most spirit with judging based on noise, originality, and judges' "impressions."

To be eligible for awards (including a trophy, hot dogs and cokes) a group must carry a banner identifying itself and join the parade before it proceeds past the judging stand at the corner of Embarcadero del Mar and Madrid. Costumes are not necessary but are encour-

Included in the parade will be the cheerleaders, the Homecoming Queen and Court, Vice Chancellor Russell Buchanan Homecoming Grand Marshall, the Great Gaucho Prof, various bands and marching units

Peace Corps Offers Coll Degree Program

Corps and the State University of New York College at Brockport announced completion of arrangements for continuing and extending the unique Peace Corps/College Degree Program to admit a third group of candidates in June, 1969. The members of the first contingent completing the fifteen - month program which combines the upper division undergraduate education with Peace Corps preparation are now serving on bi-national educational development teams in the Dominican Republic. The second group is now in the academic year phase of this joint project and is slated for overseas assignment in Latin America in August, 1969,

The candidates will be selected from the ranks of students in good standing at an accreditheir sophomore or junior year by June, 1969. Those selected will be able to earn an A.B. or B.S. degree and will be eligible for a Peace Corps assignment in one academic year flanked by two summers of fully subsidized and integrated academic courses and Peace Corps training. They will be expected to major in mathematics or the sciences; those who have completed their junior year prior to entrance into the program will have the opportunity for a double-major.

At the end of the second summer armed with the degree, a teaching license, in-depth cross cultural preparation and fluency Spanish the graduates as Peace Corps volunteers will be off on their Latin American assignment.

CLEMENTINE (Martha Harvey) longs for the love of a symbolic prisoner, as her father, THE WARDEN (Ken Kroger), seeks to put a stop to the romance, in the UCSB production of "Freedom for Clemens," one of three German one-act plays continuing this week through Saturday in the UCSB Studio Theatre.

do your contact lenses lead a clean life?

Contact lenses can be heaven . . . or hell. They may be a wonder of modern science but just the slightest bit of dirt under the lens can make them unbearable. In to keep your contact lenses as comfortable and convenient as they were designed to be, you have to take care of them.

Until now you needed two or more separate solutions to properly prepare and maintain your contacts. You would think that caring for contacts should be as convenient as wearing them. It can be with Lensine.

Lensine is the one lens solution for complete contact lens care. Just a drop or two, before you insert your lens, coats and lubricates it allowing the lens to float more freely in the eye's fluids. That's because Lensine is an 'isotonic' solution, which means that it blends with the natural fluids of the eye.

Cleaning your contacts with Lensine retards the buildup of foreign deposits on the lenses. And soaking your contacts in Lensine between wearing periods assures you of proper lens hygiene. You get a free soaking case on the bottom of every bottle of Lensine. It has been demonstrated that improper storage between wearings may result in the growth of bacteria on the lenses. eye irritation and in some cases can endanger your vision. Bacteria cannot grow in Lensine which is sterile, self-sanitizing, and antiseptic.

Let your contacts be the convenience they were meant to be. Get some Lensine, from the Murine Company, Inc.
