PICNIC-SWIMFEST HELD TODAY

DR. LESTER B. SANDS
Duties Change

Dr. Sands Retires as Registrar; to Resume Instructing Classes

Dr. Lester B. Sands, registrar at UCSB, has been transferred from his administrative position to full-time status as associate professor of education.

It was pointed out by Dr. J. Harold Williams, acting provost, who made the announcement, that Dr. Sands has long preferred teaching to administrative work, in both of which fields he has had extensive experience. The transfer to full time teaching duties comes at his own request and upon the recommendation of Dr. Irving Mather, chairman of the Department of Education and Psychology.

A new registrar for the college will be announced shortly according to Dr. Williams.

As a member of the education staff, Dr. Sands will replace Dr. Charles L. Jacobs, retiring as professor emeritus.

Dr. Sands, who was born in Brooklyn, New York, attended the US Naval Academy from 1924 to 1927, then went to Stanford University where he received his BA degree in 1929, MA in 1933 and EdD in 1939.

From 1931 to 1940 Dr. Sands was school principal in the public schools of Alameda and Palo Alto. He became associate professor of education at De Pauw University in 1944 and later was Dean at New Mexico Highlands University. In July 1946, he became Registrar at Santa Barbara College and was subsequently given the additional title of associate professor of education for part-time teaching assignments.

Dr. Sands, who will teach courses in the history of education and audio-visual-radio education, is currently preparing a book on secondary education. He is the author of numerous articles, published in educational periodicals, including "The Place of Visual Aids in the Curriculum," "Presenting the Fundamentals in Colored Motion Pictures," "Producing a School Movie" and "Improving the Education of Mathematics and Science Teachers."

Westmont College Seeks S.B. Campus For School Site

A formal request to open negotiations for the acquisition or use of Riviera campus after Santa Barbara College leaves it next summer was made at a meeting of the University of California Board of Regents in Los Angeles by Westmont College.

A communication from Mrs. Alexander Kerr of Los Angeles secretary of the Westmont Board of Trustees, was to be presented to the meeting asking that talks be opened between the two institutions.

The Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce executive committee, meeting yesterday, composed a telegram to the UC Regents asking for the prompt opening of negotiations. Signed by Chamber President Dr. David L. England, it said:

"We understand a communication from Westmont College will be presented to the Regents wherein is expressed a desire to open negotiations for the Riviera campus.

"We recognize many questions will arise in the consideration of this communication. This wire will serve to record the very strong recommendation of the Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce that proper steps be taken promptly to bring such negotiations to a mutually agreeable decision."

Meantime, Russell Bell was appointed chairman of a committee to aid Westmont in its problems. He was planning to name a committee of interested officials and businessmen to cooperate with Dr. James Forrester, president of Westmont, in seeking the move from the college's present site in Montecito to the Riviera.

Story-Book Romance To End for Ex-Coed On 'Bride and Groom'

A romance that was interrupted by the war will result in a marriage at last when Evelyn N. Sandrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sandrock, 1704 W. Arrow Blvd., Fontana, California, becomes the bride of Randolph C. Saugstad, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Saugstad, 410 Sewell St., also Fontana, between appearances on the "Bride and Groom" program that will be heard over the ABC network Friday, July 9.

Evelyn's folks operated the local grocery store in Fontana, and Randolph always made sure he lingered over a coke. A romance was started, but he went into the Navy for several years. On being discharged, Randolph learned that Evelyn was a student at Santa Barbara College. Without lingering, he bee-lined to Santa Barbara, proposed and got a "yes."

After they've received many valuable gifts at the program in Los Angeles' Chapman Park Hotel, the Saugstads will be sent

Wisconsin Modern Dance Group Here For Concert July 27

The Wisconsin Dance Group of modern dancers will be presented by the Executive Committee of the Summer Session on Tuesday, July 27, at 8:30 pm in the Riviera auditorium. This will be the one artist series event of the summer.

Press criticism has included such comment as "An exciting project. The group's contribution is sincere and valuable"—Louis Horst, Editor of Dance Observer, and "One cannot help but find dance exciting in the hands of these talented personalities"—Louis Kloepper, University of Wisconsin.

All students holding Associated Student Body cards will be admitted free of charge. Tickets are now available upon presentation of ASB card in the Graduate Manager's office. Faculty tickets are obtainable at a reduced rate of 60c while the regular admission charge will be 90c. Those interested in going are urged to purchase tickets as early as possible.

Marion Hammond Appointed to Fill Speech Vacancy

Miss Marion Hammond, formerly of the Kern County public schools was recently appointed to fill the vacancy in the UCSB Speech Department, according to Acting Provost J. Harold Williams.

A former member of this faculty, Miss Hammond will teach Phonetics and Speech Correction.

She is a graduate of Santa Barbara College in 1941 and was an instructor here from 1943 to 1946. Since 1946 she has been speech coordinator for the Kern County schools.

Miss Hammond received her MA from the University of Iowa last year. She has been prominent in speech work in California, serving as chairman of the Speech Education Committee of San Joaquin Valley and as a member of the Speech Association of America.

Governor Turns Actor to Keyote State Centennial

California's Governor Earl Warren has turned movie actor to keynote the state-wide significance of California's three-year centennial celebration.

The State's Executive appeared before the cameras at Paramount Studios in Los Angeles for the filming of 'California's Golden Beginning.'

The picture is being made by the California Centennials Commission in cooperation with the State Department of Education and the motion picture industry.

off to the Hotel Samarkand, Santa Barbara, by Emcee John Nelson for a honeymoon. They will live in Fontana.

DEAN PAUL A. JONES

Dr. Jones on Leave Of Absence; Dr. Hayes Acting Dean of Men

Dr. Paul A. Jones has been granted a leave of absence for one year as Dean of Men at the University of California, Santa Barbara College, and Dr. William E. Hayes has been named acting Dean of Men to take over his duties.

The leave of absence has been granted, according to Dr. J. Harold Williams, acting Provost, on the advice of Dr. Jones' physician. During the period Dr. Jones will also have an opportunity to complete articles and a book on which he is working.

Dr. Hayes, who is now a guest instructor at the University of Oregon's first Summer Session, will return here August 1, to take over his new duties.

With the exception of one class, Dr. Hayes' work in the Department of Education, where he is assistant professor of education, will be handled by Dr. Kathryn R. Burkart, lecturer in education, who is on leave of absence from the Los Angeles County school system, where she is a curriculum coordinator. Dr. Burkart conducted Dr. Hayes' classes while he was on leave of absence recently to go to Korea as educational consultant for the U. S. Department of State. Dr. Burkart is also working in the clinical Summer school at the college.

Dr. Hayes, who joined the staff of the local college in 1945, has two bachelor's degrees, one from New Jersey State College and from Rutgers University, an M.A. from Columbia and the degree of Master of Education from Duke University, and a Doctorate in Education from Columbia.

Play Nights Held Every Wednesday

Student "Play Nights" will be held on the Riviera campus every Wednesday evening beginning at 7:30 pm.

Activities, which will all take place in the vicinity of the men's gym, will include volleyball, tennis, badminton and shuffle board. At 8:15 there will be folk dancing and at 8:45, social dancing.

Gauchos to Swim, Play, Eat at Affair This Afternoon at 4

This afternoon starting at 4:00, one of the outstanding social events of the Summer Session will take place in the form of the Picnic-Swimfest. The afternoon from 4-6:30 will be given over to sports and games at the park, and free swimming at Los Banos Del Mar will be held from 5-6. Some of the games and sports to be offered are volleyball, croquet, badminton, horseshoes, cards, and table tennis. Prizes will be awarded to the winner in each of the individual events, and there will also be awards for the winners of several novelty swimming events.

At 6:30, to the strains of music over the public address system, a picnic dinner will be served. Hot dogs, potato salad, potato chips, coffee and ice cream will be on the bill of fare. Plates, cups, forks and spoons, and napkins will be furnished to the hungry Gauchos.

Social Chairman Dink Sheehan announced that the affair will be free to holders of ASB cards, but that a charge of 60 cents a person will be collected for non-holders. ASB vice-president Frank Kirkland promises that the sports and swimming program alone will be worth the price of admission.

All students who plan to attend the picnic, whether holders of ASB cards or not, should sign up and get tickets at the Graduate Manager's office before the deadline of 4:00, Thursday, July 8.

New Car Outlook Is Poor as Sharp Drop In Output Recorded

The sharpest drop in U. S. motor vehicle output since the war took place in May.

An estimated 335,000 new cars and trucks were turned out during the month. This compares with 438,000 in April and the postwar peak of 492,000 built in March.

Chief cause of the low output was a 14-day strike that closed one major producer's plant on May 12. The plant did not re-open until June 7.

Other reasons were the effect of the April coal strike on steel supplies, and the fact that another large automobile firm, engaged in a series of model changes, had not brought all its plant back to normal output during May.

In the first five months of 1948, U. S. firms built 2,053,000 motor vehicles, including 1,464,000 passenger cars. The total was 5.3 per cent above that for the same period last year. Until May, output had been running almost 10 per cent higher than the 1947 rate.

Industry officials point out that continuing steel shortages will limit motor vehicle output through the rest of 1948. But they are hopeful that they can exceed last year's total of 4,797,000 cars and trucks.

Letter to Anthropological Society Tells of Grunion

Dear Colleagues:

To dispell any fears you may have for my safety among the Santa Barbarians, I will begin by saying that I am in good health. In truth, the natives are quite peaceful here, with one small exception. The exception is noted in the aloofness of one of the minor totems of the tribe, which is called "Native Sons of the Golden West," in the tribal patois. Members of other totems have told me that the overwhelming pride of this particular group is due to the tribal legend that their forebears came to this land before all other men.

Sorely Tempted

I realize that some of you will be sorely tempted to class their behavior as an imported manifestation of our own D.A.R. (as I was at first tempted myself) but the complete differentiation of the Santa Barbarian culture from our own, admits of no foreign influence of any sort.

All this is aside from my primary purpose, however, as you well know, and I regret that I must disappoint those of you who await my arrival with specimens of the long-sought grunion. I regret even more that I must tell you that, as a result of my sojourn here, I no longer believe that such a species exists. This will shock you, I am sure, but I trust that my reputation will be sufficient guarantee that I say this in no hasty, ill-considered manner, but only after long and careful investigation.

No Grunion

The grunion does not exist, or at least exists nowhere except in the alcohol-befumed minds of the wild tribes of the region. The purely nominal Christianity of the people here has led me to believe that the grunion was their ancient god and the grunion hunt the only remaining religious festival in his honor carried on in public. The belief in god-like legendary animals is so prevalent among primitive tribes of the sort found here that the point is not worthy of further expansion.

Another interesting side of the festival is the bacchanalian tenor it invariably assumes. Only the young take part, due mostly to the discomfort of the gathering places, and with the falling of darkness, a holiday mood seizes all, as characterized by much drinking of two vile native concoctions that they call akme and lugga-logga. Strangely enough, the natives insist that these brews are exactly compounded according to our own recipe for beer. Needless to say, this statement is entirely ridiculous. Another characteristic of the festival is the heightened erotic behavior of the young savages, which I hesitate to go into here, in deference to the gentlewomen of the society.

Grunion Run

To continue, however, the festival increases in its fury till it reaches a climax in what the natives call the "grunion run." There is obviously some sort of mass hypnosis at work in this instance, for all the young savages dash into the surf (and I quote) "to catch grunion." Many of the barbarians carry buckets, to show how far the delusion has gone in some cases. The young warriors run up and down, shouting hoarsely while the maidens (I use the term hopefully) stand at the water's edge and give vent to numerous high-pitched squeals.

No amount of disappointment will convince the savages that their prey does not exist, nor will reasoning with them avail. They are firm in the belief in the existence of the grunion, which is doubtless the cause of the strength of the many rumors that we have heard concerning its existence. I regret to say that many of our fellow countrymen have been led into adherence to this heathen belief, mainly through lack of the scientific approach. They have first been duped by the natives into drinking their uncivilized liquors, after which the best among them see grunion, especially by moonlight.

I, myself, as an experiment, drank a portion of akme followed by a portion of lugga-logga, following which I spent a most pleasant evening playing hop-scotch with a unicorn colt and a rather large rabbit. The rabbit won, naturally, being more adept at that sort of thing.

Respectfully,
F. Saltbottom Elder

Veterans Not Liable For Draft Under Deferment Rules

The Santa Barbara Army and Air Force Recruiting Station has been flooded with calls for information on the draft, Capt. Bert M. Cottrell said today, and to inform young men of their status under the peacetime draft bill, he released a definite order from the Adjutant General of the Department of the Army, outlining exemptions and deferments.

Exemptions in peacetime, according to the order are:

1. Veterans with at least 90 days of service between Dec. 7, 1941 (Pearl Harbor) and Sept. 2, 1945 (V-J Day).
2. Veterans with 12 months of service or more between Sept. 16, 1940, and effective day of Act.
3. A veteran with more than 90 days of service but less than 12 months of pre-Pearl Harbor and post V-J Day service, if the local board determines.
  - a. That he is a member of an organized unit of a reserve component, provided a unit is reason-

Race Track Receipts Down; Can't Beat Horses--Jacks

Although the Hollywood Park race track has been attracting banner crowds this meeting, I strongly suspect that the final financial figures will be less than what they took in last year. The reason will be that Jacks hasn't made it out to the track this year. It has been no secret that the various owners have depended in the past on my contributions to pay for their horses' feed bills. The only objection that I have to this is the fact that I would be willing to bet that the horses on which I bet are never fed. I came to this conclusion when a horse on which I had made a small wager, stopped during a race to munch on the grass that grows around the rail of the track.

Race System

Most fans have a system that they follow when they bet on the races. Not to be outdone, I have several systems, none of which have worked to date. The two most popular systems are the "racing form" system and the "jockey" system. The first consists of spending hours pouring over a racing form, figuring out past performances, speed ratings, condition of track, weight carried, and the many other items contained in a racing form. After working some six hours picking out the eight winners the next day, you are usually touted off your horses by some "expert" who claims that "your nag ain't got a chance." The bright spot in this situation is the fact that "your nag ain't got a chance," and there is always the chance that the tout has made a mistake and given you a winner.

Next System

The second system is when you bet on the jockey instead of the horse. This is quite a simple procedure. You simply pick out the jockey that has been riding the most winners, and bet on whatever horse he is riding. You would be surprised how much money you can lose by following this system. I wouldn't be surprised, because I have lost plenty.

A close friend of mine asked me the other day why I hadn't gone out to the track lately. I replied that I had finally realized the futility of it all, and wasn't going to waste my money any longer. The truth of the situation is that the last two times that I planned to go out to the races, I have been sick in bed. This didn't alter my decision to stay away from the track—it only helped it. There are many better uses for my money. Gambling is a bad habit. You can't beat the races. Hey, Herman. I've got a hot tip in the second race tomorrow. Let's go out to the track.

ably accessible to him without unduly disrupting his normal pursuits and activities, including attendance at regular enrollment in college or university courses.

b. Or a member of a reserve component if no unit is available.

4. Non-veterans not falling in the above categories but who are members of organized units on the effective date of the law are exempt from induction and such exemption remains effective as long as their membership continues with satisfactory participation in scheduled drills and training. The term "organized unit" is defined as a unit in which the members thereof are required satisfactorily to participate in scheduled drills and training as prescribed by the Secretary of Defense. It is contemplated that the definition of "satisfactory participation" must include the following:

- a. At least minimum adequate facilities available.
- b. Adequate equipment available for training purposes.
- c. Minimum of 48 drills per year with pay.
- d. Adequate instructor supervision.

Vacationing Scribe Reveals Secret of Daily Cal Coverage

By George F. Outland

In the interest of improving the efficiency of the already too-efficient Gauchos, a reporter was sent to the office of the Daily Californian, student voice of the University of Santa Barbara at Berkeley.

The first item that struck the reporter's notice was the complete difference between the two sheets. The DC has an office in which the entirety of Santa Barbara could be lost, with sixteen typewriters and umpteen million eager, willing reporters, assistants, assistants to assistants, etc. The Gauchos has a medium sized telephone booth for an office, luxuriously equipped with three mowing machines and two editors. No staff, of course.

However, in spite of the superiority of its equipment the DC has no news. Publishing weekly during the summer, it was quietly taking its midweek siesta when a rumor that the Stanford Axe had been "borrowed" swept through the office. With the agility of a drunken centipede, the Daily Cal staff sprung into action. After picking themselves up from the spill which resulted from the spring, the staff began to work smoothly and effectively.

It seems the Axe was stolen, but was dropped because of its weight, and later found and returned. All this was duly recorded in the columns of the DC, and the staff went back to their siesta. At that point El Gaucho's reporter, in the manner of all good newsmen, filed his story in the wastebasket and joined the hibernating bears.

Veterans Top Graduates at Cal Campus

More than one-half of the students who received bachelor's degrees for work completed on the Berkeley campus of the University of California a year ago were veterans—1,474 out of a class of 2,769. These figures are part of a study recently completed by Thomas B. Steel, Registrar of the University.

The medium age for these veterans who graduated in 1946-47 was 25 years and one month. Studies made from 1900 to 1939, Steel said, showed that the average graduate during those years was twenty-two and a half years old. Now, because of the large numbers of older veterans, this average age has been raised to 23 years and 11 months.

Twenty-nine percent of last year's graduates were married, and 39 per cent of these were veterans.

Auto Firm Shows How to Reduce Gas Consumption

Tests by one automobile firm show you may be able to cut your car's gasoline consumption 70 per cent.

Proper lubrication and engine tuneup saves a 10 per cent fuel waste.

In city driving, another 60 per cent saving was made by reasonably moderate braking and acceleration at stop lights and intersections, in contrast to quick stops and starts.

The moderate driver, in a 10-mile trip in city traffic, was only one and one-half minutes slower than the "hurry up" fuel waster.

In rural driving, a 50-mile speed was found to use 50 per cent less fuel than a 70-mile speed.

MOVIE-PEST SAGA COMES TO CLIMAX AS JOE LEAVES SHOW

(Part Two)

It wouldn't seem right if Joe didn't seize this opportunity to find better seats. After purchasing the popcorn, he searches the entire theatre with his loud shouts for two seats. He locates two quite a distance from his old seat, and rather than risk losing them to someone else, wildly waves his arms about trying to attract the attention of his date. Afraid she doesn't see him, he gives a loud whistle; this attracts everyone's attention including that of his date. She leaves all these happy around her, dragging her coat and all it catches with her, to join Joe.

Added Attraction

Joe alone was bad enough, but with the popcorn as an added attraction he is in a class by himself. With the rattle of the bags and loud munching on popcorn added to his stage-whispered comments on how dumb the detective is or (if he has seen the picture before) what happens next, his enough to drive any self-respecting moviegoer to drink.

Not content with vocal disturbances alone, Joe's physical activities add to his general nuisance value. The people sitting behind him stand a slim chance of seeing the picture on the screen as Joe moves back and forth in his seat, helps his girl friend on and off with her coat when she decides she is too warm or too cool, drops his hat several times, and helps locate his date's shoes when they are ready to leave.

At Last

Upon his departure the people about him breathe an audible sigh of relief and say to themselves, "at last that pest is gone." They should know better, for back comes Joe with the usher, in search of his gloves. It is only after a vain search through several rows of seats that Joe suddenly discovers his gloves in his coat pocket and starts to leave the theatre, only to stop when he hears the usher's almost inaudible mutterings.

We will draw a curtain of darkness over the scene as Joe complains loudly to the manager about his inconsiderate and impolite employees.

Foreign Language Importance Told By Military Head

The importance of training college and university students in the basic fundamentals of foreign languages as a vital requirement for national security in the event this nation is ever forced into another war was stressed today by General Jacob L. Devers, Chief, Army Field Forces, with headquarters at Fort Monroe, Virginia.

General Devers pointed out that a working knowledge of foreign languages is essential so that American troops would be able to deal intelligently with personnel of any foreign allies that country would have in a future war as well as a necessity in questioning prisoners of war of a foreign foe and in relations with enemy civilian nationals when enemy territory is occupied.

Relating his own experiences while serving in North Africa, Italy, France, and Germany, General Devers stated that many of the difficulties encountered in dealing with Allies of the American Forces could have been more expeditiously and efficiently resolved if there had been a common meeting ground of language.

"The inability of American troops to communicate with their foreign allies, and the inability of our Allies to express themselves to our troops led to frequent misunderstandings which caused friction and even delays in the prosecution of the common war effort," he said.

Recreation Program Offered for All at Recreation Center

An extensive recreation program has been announced by R. J. MacDonald, Recreation Advisor for the City of Santa Barbara, for the summer. The program is sponsored by the Civic Recreation Center, and is held at the Civic Recreation Center.

Every Monday night free movies are shown in the Baylor Room, and include a variety of films. Each week a special feature will be shown. Show time is 8:30 p.m.

Each Wednesday and Saturday in the Recreation Center Auditorium from 9 to 12, dances are held for the young couples. Admission is twenty-five cents per person.

On Tuesday nights bingo is played for groceries as prizes. Anyone may attend these bingo games starting at 8:30. The lucky winners can beat the high cost of food.

Tuesday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., golf lessons are given in the Recreation Gym by Mr. William Irvine, College golf coach. Come out and correct your grip, stance, and swing. All lessons are free. Balls and clubs are furnished.

Beautiful Homes Shown During Garden Tours

A tour of beautiful Santa Barbara and Montecito gardens, under the sponsorship of Miss Pearl Case, will be conducted this afternoon beginning at the Recreation Center at 2:00 p.m.

The garden tours series of which this is a part open to the interested public the grounds of some of the most lovely residences in this district. Many of these cannot be seen in any other way.

Tickets may be obtained from the office of the Graduate Manager for twenty-five cents or on presentation of an ASB card.

OCTOBER 13, 1944: Defying broken mirrors, spilled salt, and black cats, Santa Barbara College coeds will entertain the marines at the first dance of the season at the Goleta Base. (noble gesture).

MAY 11, 1945: Last college dance at the Biltmore Redistribution Center will be held tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 10:30. (Too bad, girls, but it couldn't last forever!)

NOVEMBER 1, 1946: A course in motor mechanics is being offered to college women thru the auspices of the American Red Cross. (Now, let's teach them how to drive!)

Former Instructor Given High Job by Type Corporation

John T. Porter of Santa Barbara has been appointed Pacific coast representative for the department of education, American Type Founders Sales Corporation, it was announced by John A. Backus, department manager. He will make his headquarters in the company's Los Angeles offices, at 470 East Third Street.

Mr. Porter was graduated from the University of California, Santa Barbara College, with an A.B. degree and special secondary credential in industrial education. Prior to joining ATF he was instructor in industrial education at Santa Barbara College, where he lectured and supervised laboratory work in printing estimating, typography, typographical layouts and design, printing plant management, photo-lithography, typesetting machine operation, and advanced press work.

During World War II, Mr. Porter was a lieutenant commander in the Navy, in charge of production for the Navy News, Philippines edition, a 30,000 circulation, 4 to 8 page daily tabloid newspaper.

All backfield men, ends, and centers who plan to go out for the Varsity Football squad next Fall are requested to see Mr. Kelliher in the Men's Physical Education office.

Beaver Delegate to New York to Study UN Operations

Walter S. Beaver, a senior at Santa Barbara College, was one of the delegates from 73 American colleges who attended the third annual Intercollegiate Institute on the United Nations, sponsored by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations last week in New York City.

Beaver represented the local branch of the United Nations Association at the Eastern session. He is a member of the board of directors of the association, which hopes, because of Beaver's attendance at the conference, to establish an organization on the local campus.

Young men and women from all parts of the country were received by UN officials, including Andrew Cordier, executive assistant to Secretary-General Lie, and Byron Price, assistant Secretary-General, for first hand study of UN operations. The institute has gone on record as recommending the inclusion of the study of UN in every school curriculum.

Beaver, who will give a full report of the conference at a local board meeting, is now visiting his parents in Columbus, Ohio.

"For tops in smoking pleasure you can't find a better cigarette than Chesterfield."

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

Liggett & Myers buy the ripe, sweet, mild tobacco... that's the best cigarette tobacco. They always pay the top price.

I have been a steady Chesterfield smoker ever since I started smoking 30 years ago.
