ALPHA PHI GAMMA CONVENES HERE; TWO GAMES WILL OPEN NEW COURT

DOUBLEHEADER CAGE BILL SET FOR FLYING A

Playing their first home game this season, the Roadrunner basketballers will meet the U. S. C. Dental College quintet Saturday night at the new Flying "A" court.

Little is known of the invading team except that it is coached by "Casey" Gilliland, former mentor of the local college, and that it was defeated by the Occidental casaba tossers who last week vanquished the Roadrunners at Glendale.

The Hilltoppers are improving rapidly and with the probable addition of Bert Clemore, a fast forward, to the squad, the local team should play their best game so far this season.

The team has been playing more smoothly in practice this week, and seems to have hit its stride. In a practice game Wednesday night, the Davismen trounced the Recreation Center team, 28-25. The showing of the Roadrunners against Oxy last Friday seems to have bolstered up the spirit of the fellows and added greatly to their game. From all advanced dope, the bicuspid bruisers are in for a tough evening.

Second Game Billed

Another fast game will be played when the Recreation Center team meets the Hollywood Y. M. C. A. quintet. Hollywood pruned Coach Smith's proteges earlier in the season in the southern city when Smith was handicapped by having only second string men for the game.

As an added feature, Coach Luke Trimble has arranged to

MISS WEBER

POPULAR GIRL FINDS JOY IN SOCIAL WORK

By Marie Cochran

It is a well-known theory that young ladies shy just a little bit from disclosing their real age. Yet, Miss Weber is able to claim two titles, that of the most popular young lady on the campus and also that of a person who promptly gave her birth date—May 11, 1910.

"To say that I was surprised would really be putting the emotion I experienced too mildly," and Miss Weber used a much stronger word, "astonished, and yet I was the most thrilled and happy person, to think there were some people on the campus who considered me the most popular girl of their acquaintance."

Miss Weber was born in Fillmore, California, adding one more to the rank of native daughters. She was christened Virginia Louise and until she came to Santa Barbara in 1925 Fillmore and vicinity was the bounds of her travelings. Since then she has journeyed on pleasure bent to Catalina, Tia Juana and has also toured California.

She Is Engaged

Virginia is engaged to Ivan Cook, a graduate from the local high school, who is now an electrician for the Shell Oil Company and attending night school at the University of Southern California. She plans to teach for several years, however, before her marriage, and also keep up her piano work, for which she is well known, both on the campus and in town. She held the position of pianist in high school and also in college. She has also been Glee Club accompanist and song leader for the student body.

There are many things which girls hold as their ambition, but Miss Weber gave one that in itself is different. It was only after being asked definitely con-

WEBER, GILLUM MOST POPULAR STUDENTS HERE

Following an exciting race for top honors which has extended over the past few weeks, Virginia Weber and Virgil Gillum are acclaimed the two most popular students at Santa Barbara State College as a result of the balloting in the big Eagle popularity contest just concluded.

Both winners led their competitors in the final vote by comparatively few votes, and the final outcome during the counting was uncertain until the last ballot had been credited. The two leaders were opposed in the finals of the contest by Laura Breska, Helen Cooley, Sally Leonard and Betty Procter in the feminine division, and by Wesley Dickinson, Llewellyn Goodfield, Ted Neidermuller, and Fred Pierucci in the masculine division.

"RED" GILLUM

CIVIC LEADER BIG HERO IN TIME OF FIRE

Who remembers the night when "Red" Gillum parked on the roof of Rockwood Inn, valiantly endeavoring to save a part from burning by sitting on it? It was during his freshman year that Virgil Harold Gillum, a resident of Summerland, distinguished himself by climbing on the roof of the Rockwood Inn at the time of its destruction by fire and aided the firemen in a hopeless task.

"Red" traces his existence back to the year 1909 when the most eventful day of his life and of Piru's, that small town dimly located between Santa Paula and Los Angeles, dawned. He only lived there until so-high, after which he moved to Summerland. "Red's" high school alma mater is Carpinteria, where he was, respectively, athletic manager, yell leader, and student body president.

It was this local training that secured for him the position of yell leader of the college for two years. He was athletic manager last year and managed basketball during his freshman year.

Collects Ads

According to Miss Bishop, editor of La Cumbre, Mr. Gillum's present ambitions are to collect advertisements for the pages of that publication. Despite this inauspicious start, Virgil intends to become a business and civic leader and is now furthering his acquaintances with the leaders of today through the medium of the Seaside Oil Company where he has worked for three years.

When asked if he had traveled much during his twenty years, Mr. Gillum was frank in answering, "Too poor, but I have been to Reno, Nevada, and am proud to say I am still single."

SHORT PATH TO CULTURE FOUND IN DRAMATICS

By Doris Rodehaver

"How can I become cultured?" Hundreds of young people are asking themselves this very question. Some go to college, but are dissatisfied there, because the work is so specialized. One of the quickest and most successful ways to culture is through drama, yet how many people go blindly along never realizing the great possibilities which are calling through this art?

In order that the uncultured person seeking self-betterment may find his I. Q., I have formulated the following questions. By this simple method anyone can determine his latent possibilities. Test yourself, then read the answers below.

Questions

1. What is March Hares?
2. Who is the director of drama at S. B. S. C.?
3. Of what significance is the date January 31 beside being the last day of the semester?
4. Who is Alvetta Van Tuyle?
5. What is the College Play-ers.
6. Who is Mr. Bahman?

The answers to these questions are simple and when one really understands them, he will have a broad understanding of life.

Answers

1. March Hares is a comedy to be given by a group of col-

SEVEN CHAPTERS REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL MEET

Delegates from seven chapters of the western section of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary co-educational journalism fraternity, will open their annual convention at the State College this afternoon with registration at 5:30 o'clock in the quadrangle and the women's club room. The convention will extend over a two day period, and will be concluded with a motor trip through Santa Barbara and Montecito tomorrow afternoon.

Following the reception this afternoon, committee meetings will start at six o'clock. A banquet will be held this evening in the new home economics hall. H. E. Potter of Fresno State College, who is western vice-president, will be toastmaster. A musical program will be presented by several college women singers, the Revelettes, a trio composed of Miss Anita Cochran, Miss Dorothea E. Peterson, and Miss Betty Procter. William Ashworth, dean of men and sponsor of the local Pi chapter of the fraternity, will speak. Dancing will follow the banquet.

Continues Saturday

The convention will continue Saturday morning with an assembly at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Marie Cochran will preside. Clarence L. Phelps, president of the college, will welcome the visiting members. The meeting will be then turned over to Mr. Potter, at which time reports will be read by the various committee chairmen. Election of officers and the choice of next year's convention city will follow.

Two local newspaper men will address the convention on certain phases of journalism, G. A. Martin, managing editor of the Morning Press speaking on "The Newspaper Game," and Lynn

Have You Noticed?

- The coolish weather?
- And the popularity of the handkerchief?
- The great silence reigning over the Beta Sig pledges?
- The co-op selling marble sized oranges for five cents each?
- That the separation of the cocky elementary school pupils from the college students in the new dining hall is quite the relief?
- The pleasure in eating in the new dining hall?
- That Arde Pierce retains his curly hair in the wet weather?
- That nobody knows Larry Parma's great grandfather was the Duke of Parma, Italy.

Be sure and save the fourth period of next Thursday open for a very pleasant and unusual program in the auditorium. Though its nature will not be divulged until the students are gathered in the auditorium and the doors locked, the Eagle has had a secret representative on hand at all meetings of the committee in charge, and the paper is now ready to say that the program is one, the like of which has not been seen at the college in years, if ever.

ALPHA PHI GAMMA

DURING the past few years, journalism has made an unprecedented growth in popularity among the colleges of this country. Starting in the middle west, it has quickly spread to other sections, until today we have outstanding courses in journalism in nearly every state.

Professor Harrington, in his book "Essentials of Journalism," says that more and more the college trained men are creeping into the staffs of our daily press. Very often from the newspaper office, these men branch out into other businesses, much better equipped, perhaps, than they would otherwise be because of their journalistic training. They have learned something of human behavior, they have gained a knowledge of natural trends and tendencies in this country and the world, they have learned the power of the printed word, and above all, they have learned the importance of truth and fairness in relation to their fellow men.

With the growth of journalism in colleges and preparatory schools, school publications began to appear. At first, from small printed sheets containing the high points of the week's news about the school, the college sheet grew, true journalism fever was fermenting out news from all parts of the institution, and today there is hardly any big college without its daily newspaper. Many of the big university papers compare equally with many of our big town dailies, with pictures, inspiring messages of editorial opinion, poetry, feature columns, attractive page makeups, and sparkling news stories.

Like most all lines of study in college, the journalism section organized fraternities restricted to promising school newspaper workers. With the organization of these fraternities in the separate colleges, there was a movement toward amalgamation, and soon there grew up national fraternities with chapters scattered among the leading scholastic centers of the "fourth estate."

Some years ago there was organized among a few of the smaller colleges of southern California what was known until recently as Omega Xi Alpha, journalism fraternity. Last year this western group of chapters became affiliated with Alpha Phi Gamma, another journalism fraternity with chapters in the eastern and middle western states. The affiliation of these two branches established the present Alpha Phi Gamma as a leading honor fraternity.

Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma most heartily welcomes the delegates from the other chapters at this annual convention of the western branch. May your short stay in Santa Barbara be pleasant, and the convention a big success.

Simpson, managing editor of the Daily News, speaking on "The Reporter."

At 11 o'clock there will be round table discussion on the "Non-Professional Field." Robert Smith of Pi chapter will speak on "What is the Value of a Journalism Fraternity?" and Channing Manning will address the convention on "Where to After the College Newspaper."

Exemplification of the ritual of Alpha Phi Gamma will be next, after which photographs of the convention will be taken. At 12:30 o'clock luncheon will be held at El Paseo.

A scenic tour of Santa Barbara and Montecito beauty spots under an experienced guide will occupy most of the remaining part of the afternoon.

BIRDS-I-VIEW

By Larry Parma

And the Cal Christian game. In honor of Referee Dempsey and his good work the following ditty has been composed by the Committee of Seventeen. It is sung to the tune of the Trojans' famous battle song.

Verse 1.

Ref on for C. C. C.
Ref on Ref on
To Victory.

Another one.

Ref on for Triple C
Ref on Ref on
For Salary.

Grand Finale.

To Victory,
For Salary.

It is usually sung from the third row, obligatto, largo, and slightly blotto (under the weather). Such a rendition is unusually effective, hardly ever failing to cause Mr. Dempsey to swear, blush, bluster, and call a technical foul on S. B.'s good old captain.

And that's as far as we go in

Getting back to the Army and Stanford. Though Stanford didn't display the same stellar brand of football they used against Cal, they nevertheless beat the Soldiers by 21 points, upheld the honor of the West, and wrung the confession from Capt. "Larry" Jones, eastern mentor, that the Cards were the best outfit his team has tackled this year. Which goes to prove that no one man team ever beat Stanford, and the chances are never will as long as Warner coaches them. Kaer, Drury, Imlay, Gibby Welch, and the Red Knight from Louisiana all tried and failed. Four out of those five were All-Americans and the offensive threats of their teams. If they couldn't knock over Warner's house of Cards, no team using that system can.

And that's as far as we go in a Card game.

In the Christmas edition a sad mistake was made in the publishing of the All-American teams. Due to a copyreader's error, the name of "Typhoon" Hal Polley was given as first string center and captain. This was due to a misunderstanding. Lawrence M. Pollard, dynamic center, was the choice for the center birth and captaincy. His stellar playing and great field generalship places him second only to Heinecke of Stanford on the coast. Perfect, in passing, sure on tackling, and marvelous on defense, he was truly the outstanding center at State.

Freshman Marries

Miss Betty King, a freshman, surprised her friends on New Year's Day by introducing her husband, Alton Charles Derrick. The two young people have been married since October 20, 1929, but decided to start the New Year right by announcing the news. Derrick is employed in Santa Barbara, and Mrs. Derrick has her home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Derrick is still attending the college.

Student Opinion

EDITOR PANNED

Dear Editor:

On the editorial page of the Christmas edition your paper featured reprimand that was grossly biased and unjust. The Glee Club was charged, amid a generous display of literary talent, with purchasing their tuxedos in Los Angeles for the sole purpose of saving three dollars.

Please be advised that the Glee Club, with the advice of their director and a representative of the Home Economics Department voted to accept the offer of the out of town merchant in view of the following facts:

First, unexpected difference in quality of material that the Los Angeles house, as specialists in tuxedos, could offer at the same price. It was the opinion of those interested that the low priced suits offered by the local firms would be barely satisfactory, whereas those of the Los Angeles house promised good service for the investment.

Second, the suits of the most interested local house were to be made up and shipped from Chicago, while the Los Angeles company with a crew of tailors in readiness took the measurements and then made up the suits.

The third fact, and by no means the least, was that the Los Angeles house was the only one that could have the suits ready for the Christmas formal dance. The members of the club were particularly anxious to have their suits by then for this is one of the few formal affairs of the year.

It seems odd that the Eagle, as a campus institution with what little information it had, would turn on an organization whose every effort is concentrated on the interest of the college. It would be well to remember, too, that this is often at the expense of the Glee Club members' time, money, and grades, but never of any cost to the student body.

This is not an apology for the Glee Club, for it seems certain that anyone possessing all the facts in the case can find ample justification for the action of the club. Condemnation without full possession of facts seems grossly unjust. Sincerely, Tom Keating.

SHORT PATH TO CULTURE

lege students this year at the Lobero Theatre.

2. Harold Jones is director of dramatics, and he is getting fine results from his cast in March Hares. Jack Viggars, who was to play the part of the butler, has dropped out, and Jones is in search of a new actor. If you passed the above test 100 per cent you might apply. Provided, of course, you're a man. It might be of interest to know that Harold Jones is no relation to the leading character in O'Neil's play, "Emperor Jones."

3. Friday, January 31, 1930 is the date of the play, March Hares at the Lobero, 8:30 o'clock.

4. Alvetta Van Tuyle is the director of last year's college play. She is well known in Santa Barbara for her work interpretation of the leading character in "They Knew What They Wanted" at the Lobero Theatre last season. Miss Van Tuyle has been in Hollywood since the close of school last spring, but returned here recently. She has been given the lead in the next Lobero play, "Ned McNabb's Daughter," by Sidney Howard. She is interested in this year's production.

5. The College Players is a mythical organization remotely connected with dramatics and Gene Harris.

6. Mr. Bahman is the present director of the Lobero Theatre. He has been very generous in granting the college group use of the theatre and furniture. A novel futuristic set is being designed which will add to the eccentric charm of the play.

How many questions were you able to answer? Of course this is only a sample of my new short cut method to culture. To really get this refinement one must see and hear "March Hares" at the Lobero Theatre, January 31, 1930. This is not a talking picture. Harold Jones, Dorothea Peterson, Sally Leonard, Eddie Davens, and other famous people in person. Don't miss this great chance to gain culture in one night.

FINALS IN BOXING TOURNEY AT GAME

By Gibby Martin

An innovation in State College sports will be made Saturday night at the basketball games at the Flying "A" court when the finals of the boxing tournament that has been in progress at the college will be fought.

In all divisions except the middleweight the contests have narrowed down to two men. In this class "Frenchy" Williams and "Squirt" Greenough, the pride of the musicians' union, will clash next week in the semi-final, the winner meeting the battling Polack "Whitey" Haberek in the final go.

Final matches will be held in but two of the other divisions Saturday night. In the 135-pound class "Speed" Hobbs and "Dezzie" Hill will mix in what promises to be three rounds of fast action. Both men are classy boxers and fair punchers and should provide the fans with nine minutes of real excitement. The other match brings the larruping lifeguard, "Portales" Foss, and "Army" Kessler together. We predict a victory for the army. He has the advantage in height and reach and is a sweet puncher. Foss is capable of absorbing a load of punishment and should give a good account of himself, however.

Other matches to be held soon are in the welterweight section, where "Young" Catchpole, a promising frosh, and "Cece" Hickman, the grand old man of fistiana, have battered down all opposition. Jimmie Shaug, the brunette terror, and "Widdie" Ezaki, the Summerland hope, will mix for the featherweight crown. The light-heavy section has narrowed down to Bert Clemore and Harold Goodfield, the fighting deacon from south of Market. Inclement weather leaving an opening for Old Man Flu to put in some telling wallops has made the postponement of these matches necessary.

have two of the final matches in the boxing tournament pulled off between the two games. Thayer "Army" Kessler will meet Gates "Portales" Foss in the unlimited class, and Frank "Speed" Hobbs will oppose "Dezzie" Hill in the lightweight argument.

The new court at the Flying "A" studio is in excellent shape and should contribute much toward the playing of the two fast contests.

Coach Hal Davis will probably start Byron Short and Walt Barnett at forwards, Ray Denno at center, Gates Foss at running guard, and Art Trumbull at standing guard, with such men in reserve as Howard McKibben, Thayer Kessler, Larry Parma, Eddie Rodman and Fred Imes.

Delta Zeta Deltans Honor Miss Birnie

Members of Delta Zeta Delta Sorority entertained in honor of Miss Jeannette Birnie last Monday evening in the home of Ella Cornwall on West Victoria street. Miss Birnie left Santa Barbara last Wednesday for Berkeley where she will enroll for the spring semester at the School of Arts and Crafts.

Those attending the farewell gathering were Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, Jeannette Birnie, Emily Van Wagner, Lucille Dexter, Ester Janssens, Carmie Janssens, Helen Smith, Elizabeth Peacock, Ella Cornwall, Jean Neilson, Charlotte Carroll, Dorothy Gibson, Elsie Tietz, Joycelyn Kelley and Isabel Vaughn.

After the greater part of the evening had been spent playing bridge, Miss Birnie was presented with a hammered silver bracelet, bearing the sorority's emblem.

cerning her ambitions that she consented to reveal it. "I like playing the piano, but there is one thing above all else that I want to do. I want to do some sort of work that will give me contact with girls. While I was president of the Girls' League of the high school, I thoroughly enjoyed my work for the opportunities of social contact I had with the girls. I am vice-president of the A. W. S. up here and I enjoy it immensely just for that same reason."

Has Received Award

And one wonders, hearing that, if the reason for her popularity is not just that—her joy in other people. It is almost a certainty when one considers that she received the Exchange Award given by the Santa Barbara High School for the best all-around girl. She also received a scholarship award, but she gives first preference to the Exchange Award.

Besides being student body pianist this year, Miss Weber has a long list of accomplishments trailing behind her through the two and a half years that she has been a student of Santa Barbara State College. During her freshman year she was a member of the Pep Committee and Social Committee, vice-president and social chairman of her class, song leader of the student body, pianist for the Men's Glee Club.

She was also a member of the Pep Committee her second year and social chairman of her class during the sophomore year, pianist for the student body. This year she holds the position of vice-president to the Associated Women Students, pianist of the student body. She is also a member of the Alpha Theta Chi Sorority to which she was bid in her freshman year. The job of being photographic editor of La Cumbre is also hers.

Miss Weber receives her teaching certificate this coming June, but she is as yet undecided as to whether or not she will go out immediately into the teaching field.

15 STUDENTS TO GRADUATE IN MID-YEAR

At the close of the fall semester, ten members of the general professional or elementary education department will receive their teaching certificates. Of these ten, two, Avis Goodwin and Ruth Stevens will be awarded junior high school certificates. The other members are Cornelia Barden, Charlotte Cannon, Reba Haas, Eleanor Hardeman, Jean Douglas, Mabel Kenney, Estelle Pike, Lucille Powers.

The home economics department announces the graduation of Mrs. Freida Wagner Jones, Mildred Wright and Fannie Schwartz with A.B. degrees.

Helena Maxwell will be the only graduate of the English department, and the first ever to graduate here with an A.B. degree in English since it was made a major subject.

Oran P. Veech will leave Santa Barbara State with special limited credentials in woodwork.

This is probably the largest mid-year class to graduate from Santa Barbara State College, according to Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar.

Sophomore Day Plans Are Now Completed

Plans are now all complete for the Sophomore Day program which will be presented next Tuesday, according to Miss Anita Cochran, manager of the affair. The program has been named the Sophomore Prom, but apart from that bit of news, no definite information is forthcoming from the committee in charge.

Women To Hold First Open House Next Week

The A. W. S. will hold an open house and tea in the women's new clubroom next Thursday between three and five o'clock, according to Miss Elizabeth Peacock, member of the women students' executive board. Invitations are especially extended to men students and the faculty.

This tea will be the first of many, Miss Peacock said. Each Thursday the various groups of out-of-town girls living in houses will give one of the teas.

A more cooperative spirit and friendliness among the girls is the aim of these meetings.

Members of the executive board who have planned the teas are Elizabeth Peacock, Virginia Weber, Jocelyn Kelly, Helen Nauman, Marlyn Jameson, Dorothy Curtis, and Elizabeth Neblett.

All America Hockey Team To Play Here

The All-United States women's field hockey team which is touring the country will play an exhibition game with a team of local players, Sunday, January 19, at 3:00 o'clock, at the Hope Ranch polo field. Anyone interested in seeing the game is invited to attend.

The team has been brought out to the coast by the Los Angeles and bay cities hockey clubs. This week the team is playing the following teams in Los Angeles: The L. A. Reserves, the U. C. L. A. Specials, the Originals, the Pacific Club, and the All Los Angeles team. The game here should be one of great interest to those who enjoy hockey.

FOUR SORORITY ALUMNAE WED AS YEAR ENDS

The weddings of four alumnae of Alpha Theta Chi Sorority took place during the Christmas holidays. The first was the marriage of Lelia Thompson, art teacher at the La Cumbre Junior High School, to Walker Gabbert of Ventura on December 14 at the home of the bride's parents in Pomona. After a honeymoon in the south Mr. and Mrs. Gabbert are making their home on Alta Vista Road.

TRACK OPENS FOR EARLY PRACTICE

Wasting no time in whipping his material into shape, Coach Luke Trimble has issued the call for track men, both varsity and frosh, to report to the gym next Monday at four o'clock. In the hope of being able to round his men into form so that State will take no early season drubbings, "Nimble" will start at once to build up the squad into a formidable outfit. For the next few weeks practice will be held on the junior high field where the sprinters, hurdlers, shot, discus, and javelin throwers, pole vaulters, high and broad jumpers have ample room to work out. Distance men will probably start off slowly, later making use of the Mission Canyon cross country course.

With the toughest schedule in the history of the school lined up, the men have plenty to work for. Occidental and Whittier are two good reasons why every man should be in shape, while the coaches will try to recoup the football defeat at the hands of Cal Christian by means of the cinder path.

The strength of the Roadrunners is as yet hard to determine. Capt. Stan Winters, speedy sprinter, heads the list of return-

Club Will Complete Cabin This Sunday

Members of the Outing Club are planning another visit to their cabin on the Santa Ynez River above Paradise Camp this Sunday. They will leave at nine o'clock from the college.

With Noel Misemer in charge, the club hopes to be able to complete the laying of the floor, which will complete the cabin. Lunches will be taken along in order that no time will be lost in fire building and cooking, according to Miss Dora Woods, president. Jim Williamson is in charge of the transportation. The present membership of the club is now close to 100 students.

ing veterans. If eligibility and hard luck are absent the following men will be available now and immediately after the basketball season: Jimmy Tinkle, Wm. Ezaki, "Ace" Hickman, Wilbur Day, Chet Tubbs, Bob Imler, Charley Van Winkle, Ted Neidermuller, Howard Schuyler, "By" Short, Gates Foss, Fred Greenough, Hubert Sawyers, "Army" Kessler, Ray Denno, and Eddie Rodman.

All candidates will have to bring their own equipment until later in the season when regular uniforms will be issued to the varsity.

DAVISMEN HOLD OCCIDENTAL TO 40-24 VICTORY

The dope bucket was considerably sloshed about and came perilously near being upset last Friday night when the highly rated Occidental basketball team turned back the men of State, 40-24. Doped by the Los Angeles sports writers to win by sixty-five or seventy points, the Bengals were unpleasantly surprised when their margin was cut to sixteen counters. That the Tigers had to work at top speed at all times to win is proved when they abandoned their plan to give every player on the squad of twenty-five a good work out and used only two substitutes. Oxy's basket shooting was much more accurate than the Roadrunners' and was the decisive factor in the win.

Lost and nervous on the spacious Glendale High court that was maximum size, the Green and White team was off to a slow start. Uncertain and ragged playing let the Southerners run up 12 points before the locals could get going. Then Capt. Denno called time, the boys got organized and started to play. For the remainder of the half they outplayed Oxy, stopping their offense, hurrying their shots, and improving with every minute. As State gained momentum, Occidental became bewildered, messed up their plays, made wild passes, and succumbed to the superior playing of the Hilltoppers, who trailed 18-14 as the half ended.

State Starts Stampede

Confident that they could overcome the four point lead and win, the Roadrunners came back and started off with a bang. Four times they worked the ball down under the enemy's basket, only to miss easy set-up shots. Afraid that they would not score in time, the Roadrunners resorted to long shots, their team work was disrupted, and the Orange and Black team moved out in front by twenty points. Never stopping their game fight the State team rallied again as the game drew near its end. They sank two

WEATHER HALTS FIRST COLLEGE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Due to a week of bad weather, play in the first mid-winter college tennis tournament to be held on the State College courts was partially postponed. Wet courts and windy weather effectually broke up the schedule by which matches were to be run off. According to Howard Lane, tournament manager, the first round matches will be practically all played by today. That will leave the week-end for the second round matches, and starting next Monday the slate will be clean for the opening third round matches.

It is expected that by the end of next week play will be finished up to the semi-finals. The Monday after the semi-final matches will be run off, and on Tuesday the finals will be played.

Thus far in the tournament, all favored ones have won. Eddie Davens, seeded one, went into the second round by a default received from Alan Cummings. Then about ten seconds later the referee blew his whistle, disallowed the points, and gave "Army" one free throw. As the final whistle shrilled, Kessler sank another, but it too was disallowed. The lineup for almost the entire game was Denno and Barnett forwards, Kessler center, Foss and Trumbull guards. Short and Imes were also used for a few minutes. The team worked smoothly together, with no outstanding star, with the exception of Barnett who went great the first half. Glover of Occidental with his sure shooting from the foul circle led the scorers with 20 points.
