Conference Approves Morelli

Dr. Charles Jacobs, Wells Present Eligibility Case at Oxy

JACOBS REPORTS

Other Business Changes Coaches Attendance Regulations

After much discussion at the conference meeting held at Occidental college on Saturday, October 2, Bob Morelli, State halfback, was reinstated by the eligibility committee. Dr. Chas. Jacobs and Harrington Wells represented State college at the conference in pleading Morelli's case.

Other Decisions

Other business of the meeting included the placing of one member of the coaching staff of each institution as representatives on the conference board, without voice or vote, except where opinions are asked. This excludes representatives of the coaches and managers associations who usually sit in the conference meeting discussions.

Jacob Reports

Dr. Jacobs' statement on the Morelli incident to El Gaucho is as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to report that the recent meeting of the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic conference, Bob Morelli was unanimously declared eligible. There seems to be much misunderstanding about the Morelli case. According to a strict interpretation of conference rules, he was ineligible. Morelli could not be played without the granting of another year of competition by the eligibility committee of the conference. The question about Morelli raised by the representative of Redlands was perfectly fair and the stand taken by Occidental that he be kept out of the game against their team was wise and to our benefit. There should be no hard feeling, therefore, against these schools because of their action in this case. On the contrary, it should be held to their credit that when the case was explained and thoroughly aired, they in cooperation with other schools, of the conference voted to allow Bobbie his final year of competition."

World News

VALENCIA, Spain, Oct. 5.—A pirate submarine which attacked a British destroyer in the Mediterranean was believed sunk by other of England's destroyers off Cape San Antonio, although the British admiralty failed to comment on the event. Seven of Britain's warships and several flying boats had been seen conducting an intensive search in that region which culminated in an explosion and the rising of a column of smoke from the surface of the sea.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The eligibility of Hugo L. Black for membership on the supreme court was being weighted today by the other eight justices. The decision of the court is not expected until their next session on Monday, when Chief Justice Hughes will tell of the court's attitude.

The case of Justice Black and his former relations with the Ku Klux Klan have no precedent in the history of the tribunal, thus the court will enter a new path in answering the challenges of Albert Levitt and Patrick Henry Kelly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The world series will open tomorrow in a hurling duel between two southpaws, Carl Hubbell of the Giants, and Vernon Gomez of the Yanks. The Yankee stadium will be the scene of the '37 series games, with more than 50,000 fans expected for the opener.

Speech Bureau Plans Year

Hile Directs Club Debates on Phi Kappa Delta Question

In its initial meeting last Friday afternoon the newly formed Bureau of Speech and Entertainment directed by Mr. Hile, got off to a good start by planning a program for the entire year. It was decided to hold an "all-school" extemporaneous speech contest for boys and girls alike. Possibilities for the awarding of a prize to the winner were discussed.

Start Series

For the Spring semester, an inter-class debate upon the Pi Kappa Delta question for the year: "Resolved that The National Labor Relations Board shall have the power to decide in all cases affecting Capital and Labor." There will be a series of inter-class debates, as many as necessary, to select a class team and class champions. All classes, freshmen through seniors, will be included in this series.

Approve Letter

A circular letter to the service clubs of Santa Barbara concerning the object of the speech bureau and the possibility of furnishing speakers to these organizations was read and approved.

Harry Nethery and Tommy Hart were appointed to contact members of various clubs in order to obtain the sponsorship of a contest trophy. All those interested in the extemporaneous contest are asked to come to Mr. Hile's office in rear of the health cottage on Tuesday afternoon, October 12, at three-thirty.

Men's Club Stages First Annual Camperee

Holding the first annual camperee at Camp Drake, the Men's club will leave the campus at two o'clock Saturday afternoon and in doing so will for the first time begin their social activities for the year during the fall semester.

The affair will be held at the expense of the Men's club, and will last until Sunday evening. All men enrolled in school are invited but must sign up in Dean Wm. Ashworth's office before Thursday night in order to attend.

President Doug Oldershaw urges all men to attend and asks those who have cars to take over as many as can be transported safely.

A campfire and program will be presented Saturday night, with swimming being the feature attraction over the week-end.

GIRVETZ SPONSORS S.A.K.

Sponsorship of the Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity will be filled by Dr. Harry Girvetz, political science instructor, was the decision of the group at the meeting at the home of Harry Nethery.

Dave Pollock, president, was in charge of the meeting and led the discussion of rushing procedure.

Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity Invites State Teacher Into Society

E. E. Ericson, industrial education instructor, has recently been elected to Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary men's education fraternity, according to notice received from Alpha Epsilon chapter of the fraternity at the University of Southern California.

The fraternity has only three off campus members, but Mr. Ericson's outstanding work in his field elected him to the honor. He has recently received a number of recognitions in the field of education, including appointment to important state commissions on educational subjects and invitations to lecture at eastern colleges.

GAUCHOS PLAY HOST NEXT WEEK

Santa Barbara State College will act host to her first Sub-regional Progressive Education Association conference on the 13th and 14th of October.

The Progressive Education Association is a national organization the aim of whose conference is to allow parents and teachers to come in closer contact and discuss their different views on education.

The Progressive Education Association is an institution which has done much in organizing new methods of schooling for this modern age.

Among the discussion leaders and group chairmen are many influential educators and teachers from out of state colleges as well as local persons of importance.

These Educational conferences have been held in different cities over a period of three years, and have proved so successful that to relieve the congestion at the Los Angeles conference, the Santa Barbara Sub-regional Conference was called.

Students as well as parents and teachers are urged to attend.

Miss Baker Speaks to Pre-Nurses

Pre-nursing students heard a talk by Miss Baker, new superintendent of nurses and head of Knapp School of Nursing, yesterday morning. Miss Baker discussed requirements for entrance to schools of nursing, stressing the rising requirements of schools. Also she told how to select a good school.

Later in response to questions she told students of the fields of nursing open to young women,

Rally Committee Sponsors Pep-Meet As Harder, Booster's Prexy Speak to Students

Featuring the State college band, an all-college football rally will be held in the auditorium tomorrow night at seven o'clock. Head Coach "Spud" Harder will address the student body in discussing the team's chances against Arizona State of Tempe on Friday night.

Petie McKinney

McKinney Directs

Under the sponsorship of the student body rally committee headed by Petie McKinney, and including the yell and song leaders, and class representatives, plans for the pep meet promise an interesting program. In addition to regular yells and songs under the direction of Bob Cornwall, Jack Kitchen, Harriet Ridenour and Margie Bush, Ted Canfield, president of the local Boosters' club will speak.

Features Surprise

Yet in the process of formation is a surprise feature on the musical entertainment, with Fred Lambourne's orchestra aiding in the novelty, rally committee heads stated.

Other events scheduled include the flashing of Gaucho songs on the screen, for student singing under the direction of the song leaders. Women in the rooting section are urged to get their caps immediately at the Jack Rose Shop.

Use Bleachers

In attempting to organize a State rooting section, local students will sit in the bleacher section for the Tempe game, with the band in the center surrounded by the women's and men's rooting sections. All women in their section are being asked to attend a practice tonight at Peabody stadium, with the men being required to wear white uppers and green caps to be allowed seats in the favorite section Friday night.

Pom-poms and men's green caps will be on sale outside of the administration building today. Official members of the rally committee include Dr. Helen Sweet, Petie McKinney, Jack Kitchen, Bob Cornwall, Harriet Ridenour, Margie Bush, Paul Davis, Bill Stow, Frank Ellings, Ronald Crary and Barbara Sharp.

El Gaucho Receives Many Publications

Now on file in the El Gaucho offices are additional school publications numbering twelve in total. Those now included are the Occidental, from Occidental college; the San Diego State Aztec, the Modesto J. C. Collegian, Long Beach Junior College Viking, Whittier college "Quaker Campus", San Jose State College Spartan Daily, the Bakersfield J. C. "Renegade Rip", the Loyolan from Loyola college, the Fresno State Collegian, the L. A. J. C. Collegian, the Daily Californian from U. C., and the St. Marys Collegian.

Complete copies of both the morning and evening editions of the Santa Barbara Daily News are also kept. All files are free to student use at any time.

Students Hear News Editor

C. Laurence Smith Speaks on Modern Chinese Troubles

C. Laurence Smith, city editor of the News-Press, spoke on China in the modern crisis before an assembled group of liberal arts, history and English students yesterday morning in the auditorium. The talk was centered on the economic conditions of China and on the speaker's personal experiences.

Smith cited the lack of development in China in matters of transportation and communication. One example he gave was the position of the two commercial centers, Canton and Shanghai, with no railroad between and long distance telephone facilities only a year old.

Larry Smith spoke of Chiang Kai-Shek as the military missionary leader of China. According to Smith Kai-Shek has an army of 10,000,000 men ready to fight with equipment supplied by Russia.

Japanese Noted

Speaking of connections with the Occidental world Smith pointed out the effect of Japanese domination of China on British and American export of long staple cotton. Also he brought out the importance of Chinese ore deposits in foreign trading.

Blackening Black

It is obvious that Black's opponents could find nothing in his personal record or his official record that was in any way questionable until they discovered his former membership in the Ku Klux Klan. He was not popular with his present enemies at any time, however, and for quite different reasons. He developed a tendency to curb the antics of the utility companies in his state. It is quite certain that Samuel Insull disliked Black immensely. His brother power interests likewise nursed a grudge against him, and tried to start an anti-Black movement in his state to defeat him in his campaign for the Senate. The citizens of his state returned him with a convincing majority, so the efforts of the power group went unrewarded. Whether it was known that he was a member of the Klan at that time or not is unknown, but it is safe to predict that not a peep would have come from his opponents on that score because of the political power of the Klan in the South. Some quite respectable people in the South have belonged to the Klan.

The power group have a long memory, and while they could endure him in the Senate, they definitely did not want him on the Supreme Court. They have considered that Conservative lawyers, their lawyers, make the best judges, and so when Roosevelt appointed Black to the bench, the reactionary press worked frantically to find something against him. They dug up his membership in the Klan and howled for his scalp.

It is significant that Samuel Uttermeyer, an outstanding lawyer, and a leader among the Jews, in commenting on Black's address over the radio said that he was quite satisfied with Black, and the Catholic church has raised no protest either. For his opponents to inject religion into the campaign against Black is a damnable piece of villainy for there is not a shred of evidence that he has ever discriminated against any religious faith or against members of the colored race.

While the predicting business is bad at any time we believe that the members of the Supreme Court, though they may prefer another man as their associate, feel slightly nauseated with the hub-dub and twaddle being retailed against him, and on next Monday morning Chief Justice Hughes will probably dismiss the matter with the brief words: "Motion denied." —J.C.S.

Tradition Versus Laxness

There has been a great deal of talk concerning smoking in the quad, but so far no one seems to have paid much attention. However, it is intended to be taken in earnest, No one is concerned with the morals involved, but the tradition was established for a purpose. Since the founding of the college until recent years there has been no objection voiced. However, since there has been recently, we are putting it to the students in the hope that something can be done. Don't think that State is trying to be prudish or different from many other universities and colleges. There are few which do not have a similar regulation, that is that one place on the campus may be different from the rest.

There should be no necessity for a patrol prohibiting smoking in the quad, but since there is this necessity, the Gavel and Key, honorary men's organization, is functioning in this capacity. Gavel and Key is not functioning as a single unit, but as a coordinating unit. Cooperating with it will be the fraternities, Beta Sigma Chi, Gamma Sigma Pi, Sigma Alpha Kappa, and Tau Omega, Sophomore Squires, Junior Knights and Block "S".

When there is the entire campus in which to smoke, with the exception of the quad, we see no reason for either faculty or student lack of cooperation. When you smoke in the quad you are breaking an established tradition and are not supporting your student body. Does this mean you? —T.C.

Departments Gather for First Time on Tuesday

Members of the Home Economics department met for the first time this year in Pine Hall yesterday morning. A special welcome was given to all new girls and transfer students.

Officers of the club were introduced. These included Barbara Bennett, president, Eva Metzger, vice president; Pauline Stoops, secretary; Martha Barker, treasurer; Winona Benson, historian; and Irene Minikin, publicity.

Barbara Bennett reported, to the group, on the Home Economics convention held in Kansas City this summer. Miss Krueger spoke to the girls on planning their curriculum. Plans for a tea honoring all new girls to be held October 17 at the practice house were laid.

The art department held its first department meeting Tuesday, 5th period. Newly elected president, Dorothy Crookham, presided at the election of the following officers: vice president, Sheila de Richebourg; secretary, Eudora Baldwin; treasurer, Fred Seegert.

Secretary Eudora Baldwin read the minutes and then turned the meeting over to the social chairman, Jean Anglemeyer, who reported on the social calendar for the year which included a pot-luck supper for October 12, and a Christmas formal.

Mrs. Croswell urged the freshmen, upper classmen, and faculty to get acquainted. The students were reminded of the coming exhibit of the department on October 13-14.

Elementary department students held a special election to fill the offices of historian and social chairman yesterday morning. Irene Baptiste will be historian while Sherman Logan will take the other office. It was also voted that the president, Dave Rumbaugh, should be empowered to form an elementary department fraternity.

Mrs. Laura S. Price, director of the department, gave a short talk on the many points of interest and useful suggestions for a modern teacher.

An elementary department social gathering will be held October 23 on the campus.

With the exception of two graduates who were married the entire group of graduates from this department has been placed.

Questionnaire

Should students be allowed to smoke in the quad
BOB MOORE:

I don't approve of smoking in the quad as it has always been a tradition on our campus that there would be a "No Smoking" rule—there are plenty of other places to smoke but in the quad "No."
ADELLE BAKER:

I don't like to see students smoking in the quad when the Gaucho club is used for that purpose.
ALICE FREEMAN:

As long as men are smoking anywhere on the campus why should the quad be excluded? If it is considered bad taste there, what is there to prevent it being bad taste anywhere on the surrounding territory. Why limit the quad?
PEGGY CHEEVER:

Personally, I've never had any desire to smoke, but I believe the men should be able to smoke any place they wish to. The girls are allowed to smoke in the Gaucho room, that should be enough for them.
JACK NEEDHAM and FREDDY BAIRD:

Traditions are all right, as far as they go, but this one is an old one, and I think we should be able to smoke any place we care to, the quad being no exception.
JEAN BASTANCHURY:

I don't smoke, it might stunt my growth. Heck, they can smoke in the quad, but look at me, they'll never grow up either.
VERDELLE CONNELL:

I don't see what difference it would make if you smoke in the quad. But if there has been a tradition for years, not to smoke, it would be nice to uphold it.

College President Dies of Injury

Following a fatal accident Dr. Edward W. Raffety, acting president of the University of Redlands, died at the Redlands Community Hospital, Wednesday, September 29. The accident occurred three days previous when the auto he was riding in was wrecked.

Dr. Raffety had been at Redlands for ten years when he came as a professor of religious education. He was a graduate of several theological schools holding five degrees. This was the second year he had acted as president.

Phi Kaps Celebrate Founders Day at Theatre Party

Phi Kappa Gamma social sorority celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of its founding last night. The group met at the school cafeteria for dinner and a short business meeting, then proceeded to the Fox Arlington for a theatre party.

The organization was founded October 1, 1924 and received its charter from President Phelps on March 27, 1925. Miss Alice Bradley was its first sponsor.

In the business meeting plans were discussed for a benefit bridge to be held soon to which other sororities on campus and other guests would be invited. The event is scheduled to take place in November. The group was invited to a weekend party at the homes of Theda Call and Clare Call on October 23 and 24. The Homecoming float and breakfast were reported on by the committees in charge of arrangements.

Members in attendance were Clare Call, Gwelda Loyd, Theda Call, Lesbaly Fitzgerald, Ruth McCullough, Madine Arundell, and the sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Schön. Alumni present were Frances Ann Warnekros and Mildred Byers.

Frosh Football Forces Downed by Bakersfield

Valley Team Takes Advantage of Breaks to Win, 14-0; Wallack, Pitcher and Joham Put on Best Exhibition for Frosh

The Gaucho freshman pigskin toters made an unsuccessful debut in their initial battle against outside competition last Friday night when Bakersfield J.C. downed them 14-0 on their own field. By taking advantage of a Frosh fumble on the visitor's 20-yard line, and then connecting with a long scoring pass, the Valleysmen hung up their margin of victory in what was otherwise a fairly close game.

The work of little Ben Wallack, 147 pound half-back, furnished what spark there was in the Gaucho team. His several timely gains from scrimmage and runbacks of punts aided the Freshman cause a great deal.

Score on Pass

Bakersfield's first score came in the second quarter. Harper heaved a long one to Barbosa of the Renegades, who was seemingly covered by the Gauchito's Ben Pitcher. As he was about to knock down the pass, however, he stumbled and fell, and Barbosa gathered the pigskin in his arms and romped over for a touchdown. The second tally came in the third period when fullback Montgomery of Bakersfield ran twenty yards to score after the recovery of a Frosh fumble. Barbosa converted both times.

The local's passing showed up well at times, as Pitcher and Wallack completed several nice ones. But none of these came at the right time and with their running attack working seldom, they never threatened.

Joham Shines

The work of Howard Joham at the center and end positions was outstanding in addition to the excellent playing of Pitcher and Wallack. Guards Pete Arburra and J. L. Watson, End Jim McCoy, and Quarterback Harold Gerrish were also outstanding.

Poor blocking stood out as the main weakness on the Peagreener squad. Coaches Fredburg and Sanderson plan to emphasize this during this week's practice. Their next opponent will be Ventura J. C. on October 15.

A Gaucho sticker, put out by Bill Russell and Jerry Ruiz, managers of the General Petroleum station on State and Sola streets, has made its appearance on the State College campus.

Drawn by Dorothy Poole, a state college student, the sticker pictures a Gaucho, lariat and all, doing his stuff on horseback. The emblems are especially adapted for car windows and may be obtained merely for the asking.

When the Gauchos take the field against Tempe Teachers of Arizona Friday night, they will find themselves up against a comparatively light, but tough, team. The Bulldog's showing against the strong University of Arizona squad last week proved that they were nothing to be sneezed at. While any one of the men pictured above may prove to be a fly in the Gaucho soup, Marvin Palmer, co-captain, will probably bear the closest watching.

Week-end Gridiron Battles Furnish Surprising Scores

San Diego's 3-0 Defeat of Occidental Proves to Be Pleasing Score to Staters

Of all the football results over the week-end, the most gratifying to Santa Barbarans must have been San Diego State's 3-0 victory over Occidental. Three points is not very much to win by. In fact, it is not much better than a tie game. So, if comparative scores and statistics mean anything, the Aztecs are less than slightly better than the Gauchos.

This was the only Southern Cal conference game scheduled last week, but three other conference members fought outside opponents. Whittier was upset in a last half spurge by Pomona's surprisingly strong team. The score was 13-7. Redlands opened its season in poor fashion by taking a sound 27-0 thrashing from Loyola, while little La Verne squeezed a victory out of Glendale J.C.

In the four Coast conference games two minor upsets were pulled. Based on the comparative scores and pre-season dope, Washington State should not have defeated Idaho 13-0, and Stanford should never have lost to Oregon, 7-6. In the latter game, the Indians were greatly handicapped as the result of injuries. Those rambolin', roarin' Golden Bears from Berkeley brought their two game total of points scored to 54 by whipping Oregon State, 24-6. The Trojan's best team in three years lost a tough one to a tough team, Washington, by a 7-0 score.

El Gaucho's next opponent, Tempe Teachers, was tripped up by Arizona, 20-6.

Passing in Review

By TOM WHARTON

How often we hear of unsung heroes. The sporting world used to be crammed full of these unassuming gentlemen, but most of them have been discovered, so that they aren't unsung any more and praise is now heaped generously on their shoulders.

But there's one guy in football who receives so little credit in the public eye, that his scrap book is as empty as the third string tackle's. But he is more valuable than a Yeager or an Oldershaw, and no college team could get along without him.

Who is this miracle man? It's the football scout.

El Gaucho's chief scout and travelin' man is Wee Willie Wilton, assistant to Coach Spud Harder. As each week-end nears, it is Willie's job to pack his duds and head for points far away to sneak a few glimpses at a future Gaucho opponent.

And no easy task it is, for Willie must, without help, make a running account of every play in the game; he must give an accurate description of powerful or trick plays, and he must keep a weather eye open for offensive and defensive weak spots in the scrutinized team's lineup.

A thorough covering of each game requires about eight hours work, including the time spent during the game and the later organization of data. On his return from the game, Wilton gets in touch with Coach Harder and together they reorganize his notes, sketch formations of the opposing team, and map defenses for them.

These completed notes are then mimeographed and distributed among the members of the team to be studied.

This procedure is followed for every game of the season. The mimeographed pamphlets are by no means small and the task of learning them is not easy. The pamphlet for last year's San Diego game was seventy-six typewritten pages in length.

Last week the diminutive coach covered three games in two days. On Friday night it was the Redlands-Loyola battle, on Saturday afternoon, Whittier and Pomona, and that night, La Verne and Glendale J. C. The week before he traveled to Texas to get the lowdown on Texas Mines. Saturday he scouts San Diego for the first of four times this year—last season he scouted them five times.

Coach Willie truthfully enjoys his difficult job, but he regrets never being able to watch the Gauchos play a real game. However, he knows that his work will be more than fully repaid.

NEW SPRINKLER

Something new under the sun—a walking sprinkling machine used to water the gridiron at the University of Nebraska. It's set up at one end of the field at night and by next morning, has traveled the length of the field, propelled by the force of the water.

World Series Starts Today in New York

Experts Give Edge to Yankees; Cliff Melton May Raise Giant's Chances

In case you don't know it, the World Series starts today. And in case your studying has kept you from following the teams in the papers, it's gonna be played between the Giants and the Yankees.

This is probably because, New York, being the largest burg in the world, etc., always has about the best in everything.

Anyhow, it's civil war in the Yankee Stadium today. 70,000 fans will be out to witness the first of at least four, and not more than seven, bloodless battles of bats and balls and strikes and hits and errors. The acme of baseball entertainment, the experts call it. The finest of the season.

Bear Baron Jake Ruppert's Yankees are heavy favorites, not that it means anything. Any prediction in this age of upsets is not worth a loser's profits. But Colonel Jake's boys do seem to have a bit more than the Giants. With Pitchers Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing to lead the way, and the big guns of Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, and Bill Dickey to swing along behind, Mr. Bill Terry will find no easy pickin's.

However, Terry's club is rated by some to be much better than the one that lost to the same Yank outfit last year. The replacing of two tottering stars of 1936 with a couple of No. 1 infielders, and acquisition of Cliff Melton to pitch along side of Carl Hubbell has done wonders for the Giants.

But, as to who's gonna win—run along, lad, and read someone else's newspaper.
