Sloan Resigns Post as Rally Committee Head at Council Meet, Thursday

Chairman Says Studies Suffer, Student Solons Hear Harder Story of Fresno Incidents, Open Parliamentary Position

• The resignation of Rally Committee Chairman Harry Sloan was accepted by the Student council at a regular meeting of that organization yesterday afternoon in Room 80, Pine hall.

Sloan stated in the resignation, submitted to President Doug Duckham just before the meeting, that the pressure of a full time

Service Frat Pledges New Men at Dinner

Honorary Organization Shows Active Calendar For Christmas Month

• Alpha Phi Omega, the national honorary service fraternity, will hold formal pledging ceremonies at a dinner meeting at the El Cortijo next Tuesday. An elaborate program has been planned and an outstanding speaker will be present.

Those planning to attend include Captain Paul A. Jones, dean of men; William Ashworth, dean of lower division and sponsor; Wilton Wilton, new sponsor; R. F. McFarland, scouting commissioner; and E. W. Williams, local scout executive. The list of pledges includes Bob Arthur, Ben Ezaki, Preston Henley, James McSkimming, Ref Cunningham, Joe Glass, James McGrath, Tom Aparacio, Charles Gawthrop, James Westcott, Stan Osling, William Powell, James Woody, Ernest Nighswonger, Wayne Bartholomew, and Lewis Moore.

On December 14 the local Psi members are going to attend the pledge initiation ceremonies of the Chi chapter at U.C.L.A. Plans are being formulated for the west coast chapters to hold a convention during the spring semester.

Alpha Phi Omega inaugurates a new policy on the campus this year by planning to decorate a Christmas tree, to be placed in the foyer of the auditorium at the foot of the steps leading up to the library. Boxes will be provided at the base of the tree for donations of food, clothing, and toys.

It is the earnest wish of the service organization that the student body will enter into the Christmas spirit and contribute these things which are needed by many families in Santa Barbara. The chapter is co-operating with the Neighborhood house in this worth while endeavor.

Word has just been received from Scout Executive E. W. Williams that the fifty-foot motor sailer, which is to be the official Santa Barbara State college Sea Scout ship, is being completed and will be located in the Santa Barbara harbor by the beginning of the spring semester. At the present time, it is being completely overhauled at San Pedro.

Players' Club Holds Ritual Wednesday

• The Players' club will hold an important meeting compulsory to all members, pledges and initiates to be held at the home of Rosalind Bradbury, 2660 Puesta del Sol, at 7:30 next Wednesday.

The formal initiation and pledging will be in charge of Norman Becchio, president. Violette Glahn is in charge of the program.

The News in Brief

• SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 1—An official list issued at the Salt Lake County hospital today listed 21 dead as a result of a freight train crashing into a school bus. Authorities here estimated the casualty list at 26 dead and 12 critically injured. The bus included students from the Jordan High school, ranging in age from 12 to 18 years.

With visibility reduced by a sleet storm, the 82-car freight train, traveling at an estimated speed of 60 miles an hour crashed into the loaded bus at a rural grade crossing.

PARIS, Dec. 1—Waves of violence following lockouts and dismissal of at least 200,000 workers throughout France spurred Premier Edouard Daladier to drastic action against labor agitators today. It is expected that jail sentences and fines of 500 to 1,000 francs will be imposed on offenders to Daladier's reconstruction plans.

Ten thousand French shipyard workers were effected today by the job and a heavy course, plus his chairmanship, has proven more than he could handle to the degree that he wished.

In addition to holding his post as head of the Rally committee, Sloan has been serving as president of Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity. He will continue in this position, however. His resignation, coming at the end of football season, sees most of the year's work of the committee completed. As has been the custom in the past years, the great majority of the work allotted to the rally group falls during football season.

The work of the Rally committee this year has been very successful. The highlight came during the Homecoming weekend when the committee took charge of the annual parade and rally-revue on November 5. This season also saw the largest attendance at rallies that Santa Barbara State has ever had. At the first rally of the season the College auditorium was completely filled for the first time in history.

The problem of selecting a parliamentarian for the council was also discussed at the council meeting. Bob Lyman, sophomore class representative, was appointed to head a committee to select someone to fill the post.

Coach Spud Harder was also present at the meeting and completely reviewed the activities of the football team and the College rooters at the Fresno State college game in Fresno on Thanksgiving day. The purpose of his talk was to clarify the council on several of the reported occurrences on the trip.

DZD Sponsors Fashion Show At El Paseo

• More than 300 guests viewed the fashion show and supper dance sponsored by the Delta Zeta Delta alumnae association which marked the initial opening of the newly decorated patio at El Paseo Thursday night.

The buffet supper was served at 7 o'clock. During this time members of the sorority modeled sport clothes, lounging pajamas, afternoon, hostess, and evening gowns from the Jack Rose shop. Street, sport shoes and evening sandals were from Rodenbeck's. The coiffures of the models were arranged by Marcel et Pierre. After the show card games were played in the St. Francis room and dancing was held in the Gold room.

Mrs. John Porter was chairman of this affair and she was assisted by Mrs. Reid Prince. The models were all active members of the sorority and included the sponsor Mrs. Byron Abraham, Betty Palmyres, Carol Lambrecht, Miriam Hendy, Janice Daly, Helen Whitaker, Rosalind Beebe, Jean McSkimming, Winifred Nichols, Margaret Parks, Myrtle Holt, Alice Boeske and Grace Williams.

Resigns . . .

• Harry Sloan, Rally committee chairman, proffered his resignation this week as head of the group. The reason, he stated, was the pressure of a full time job.

Little Theater Bills One-Acts December 15

Hile Announces Definite Date for Presentation After Viewing Rehearsals

• Definite presentation of three student directed one-act plays on Thursday, December 15 at 8 p.m. was announced Wednesday after Frederic W. Hile, director of the local drama department viewed rehearsals of the plays and coached the actors personally.

The productions to be presented are "Blood on My Hands," written by Bob Hatcher, State college student; "A Woman of Character," by Estelle Brown; and "The Stepmother," by A. A. Milne. Student directors respectively are Jimmie Fullerton, Rosalind Bradbury and Jeanne Duran. In addition to directing, Mrs. Bradbury and Fullerton will portray roles in their plays.

20 Cent Admission
Tickets of admission to the trio of one-acts will be priced at 20 cents, with the proceeds going to the debate fund. Music and background will be provided by the College orchestra under the direction of Robert Louis Barron.

Original plans had called for presentation of the abbreviated dramas today in the Little theater. Prohibitive price of royalties necessitated changing of plays in some instances and postponement of presentation for two weeks.

Classed by Hile as "a potentially great drama," "Blood on My Hands" is a deeply moving story of the civil war in Spain. Presentation of the theme will be aided visually through the original stage set designed by Jed S. Blake, production manager.

Clever Drama
"A Woman of Character," featuring a cast of women only is clever drama much on the order of last year's Broadway hit "The Women." The third play in the set, "The Stepmother" contains powerful action and straight drama.

Due to lack of interest of freshmen in trying out for the roles, Hile explains, many parts were given to experienced actors. In the original plan, freshmen were to have received preference for all roles.

Olga Steeb, internationally known concert pianist and teacher, has been Mrs. Priest's most recent piano instructor.

K.-P.'s Give 'Pied Piper'

• Final arrangements for the presentation of the "Pied Piper" will be made at the Kindergarten and Primary department meeting Tuesday night at the Phi Kappa Gamma club room.

The play is an original version of the Pied Piper of Hamelin, songs, scripts and dances being composed by some of the department members. It is sponsored by the local play club and it will be given at the Lobero theater, Sunday, December 11, as the annual Christmas benefit play for the Santa Barbara school children.

Faculty Members Attend Lincoln Meet

• Dr. William H. Ellison, director of the Lincoln library, and Miss Rea McPeak, assistant director, drove to Glendale Saturday, November 19 to attend a meeting of the Lincoln Fellowship of Southern California.

The meeting was held in the historical room at Forest Lawn Memorial park, and commemorated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Gettysburg address.

Dean Jones, Merle Vance Request All Collegians to Cooperate in Spending Survey; Half Million Spent in 1937

• During second period this morning, a comprehensive survey of student expenditures will be taken in every class and in the library, under the direction of Merle Vance, head of the A.M.S. project. The survey is made each year to determine students' buying power within the local community.

A questionnaire of employment, financial status and total yearly expenses will be passed out asking students to give accurate estimates in an effort to make the survey a complete success.

Success Last Year
Last year the canvass revealed that State college students spent over $500,000 yearly in Santa Barbara and represented the major buying power of this district. With the increase in enrollment this fall, even a larger figure may be expected, Vance stated.

Students who do not have second period classes or any classes in the morning may fill out the questionnaire in the library sometime during the day. Dean Paul Jones urges the cooperation in this manner to make the survey complete and accurate.

Many Questions
Included in the survey are questions involving living arrangements, employment, living expenses, clothing expenses, car ownership and operation, entertainment costs and miscellaneous expenses.

Students are asked to join in this expenditure survey voluntarily, Vance declared, and in a cooperative mood. In that way, the financial status of the average Santa Barbara State student may be compiled.

Mrs. Priest To Play Piano In Concert

• Liszt's "Hungarian Fantasy" will be played by Mrs. Anita Cochran Priest, local pianist and college instructor, at the symphony concert presented by the Santa Barbara State college orchestra, Thursday evening, December 8, in the college auditorium. The performance will begin at 8:30 p.m., with Robert Louis Barron, orchestra instructor, directing.

Mrs. Priest came to Texas, Santa Barbara in 1925 from Denison, Texas. She comes from a musical family and received her early training from her mother. Later she studied for several years with Roger Clerbois, pianist, and Harold Gregson, organist, both local musicians.

The late John Smallman was her private instructor in choral directing, and for the past eight years, Mrs. Priest has been choir director and organist at the Unitarian church.

She graduated from the University of Southern California in 1932, with a bachelor's degree in education, and has been on the State college music faculty since 1935. Under such distinguished instructors as Dr. Howard Hanson, Dr. Bruno David Usher, Julia Howell, Pauline Alderman and William Hartshorn, Mrs. Priest has done extensive graduate work in music at U.S.C.

Olga Steeb, internationally known concert pianist and teacher, has been Mrs. Priest's most recent piano instructor.

Publicity Is Meeting Topic

• Gavel and Key members will hold a dinner meeting next Tuesday at the Barbara hotel to discuss current school problems.

Discussion will center around the present operation of the Publicity department. Walter Bradbury will explain the system as it is and methods for revision will be considered by the organization.

Jack Kitchen, president, remarked that the Gavel and Key group is not dissatisfied with the present publicity setup, but feels that a general conference will possibly improve the set-up.

Delta Zetes Hold Christmas Breakfast

• Delta Zeta Delta sorority members and alumnae will give a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Byron Abraham, 1721 Santa Barbara street on Sunday.

The breakfast will be served in an informal buffet style and the Christmas theme will be carried out in decorations.

Parking Again Subject at Welfare Meet

Austin To Lead Probe Into Problem of Student Cheating in Examinations

• Continuing in their attempt to alleviate all parking problems members of the Welfare committee will meet Monday afternoon in Doug Duckham's office to discuss success of the present methods of handling the situation.

The committee also expects to receive at the meeting an answer to their appeal for a service organization to help enforce the parking plan laid down by the committee.

Cheating Probed
According to Chairman John Austin, there will be a discussion of examination cheating and ways of curbing it. Another item that will receive the attention of the committee will be the question of the new student court, which has been formed to try cases of cheating in classes and general misconduct on the campus.

The new court is composed of the dean of men, dean of women, chairman of the Welfare committee, and the presidents of the associated men and women students.

Benefit Permission
Any student organization wishing to put on a benefit of any sort must first secure the necessary approval slip from Dean Bennink's office, according to Austin. He explains that this is necessary because in the past many benefits have been put on without any information concerning the money taken in or in what ways it was spent, and that in many instances the organization putting on the benefit has actually incurred a loss rather than a profit.

Austin also warns all students that fail to observe the new parking rules that are now in effect, that they will be subjected to a fine of 25 cents if they receive a ticket for parking in zones allotted to faculty members.

A.W.S. Plans Assembly

• The annual A.W.S. Christmas program will be presented Tuesday, December 13, second hour in the auditorium. The assembly will be open to both men and women. The program will include a juggler act put on by Miss Elizabeth Sehon's dancing class, community singing, and organ selections by William Mathias. The glee club under the direction of Mrs. Helen Barnett and the A Capella chorus under the direction of Mrs. Anita Priest will sing several songs.

This same program with a few additions will be given on Wednesday, December 14, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium, and will be opened to the public.

The A.M.S. and the A.W.S. are planning to sell Christmas tags December 13 and 14, according to Mary Alice Halferty, A.W.S. president.

Miss Sehon Obtains Rates for Students

• Argentinia, Spanish dancer, and her Spanish ensemble will appear at the Fox Arlington theatre Monday evening, December 12. Miss Elizabeth Sehon has obtained special rates of 65 cents for college students. All students interested in getting tickets should watch the bulletin board for an announcement or get in touch with Miss Sehon.

Argentinia has recently performed in New York and is booked for a return engagement as soon as she finishes on the west coast. She will be at the Arlington for one night only and is well worth seeing, according to Miss Sehon.

TECHNIQUE CLASS CONVENES
• Technique of basketball meets Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, seventh period, in Room 93 of Ridge hall.

• Appointment cards for pictures for La Cumbre, college yearbook, were distributed to boxes of seniors and faculty members this week by Richard Moore, the book's senior editor and assistant Shirley Cort. Appointments will be made starting Monday at Bartel's Photo studio, 470 State street.

Price for the pictures is $1 a sitting, which includes a choice of four proofs. If appointments cannot be met, Moore states, he should be notified immediately so that the time may be changed.

Roland Weatherhead was appointed to the position of assistant editor of the annual by Editor James Stanley yesterday.

Follett Issues Report on Grid Finances

Season Returns Indicate Deficit of $7,615.32 With Bills Outstanding

• With the closing of the 1938 football season for Santa Barbara State college, the financial report of the games was announced yesterday by Don Follett, graduate manager.

This season the budget was $7,615.32 higher than the income to date. This deficit is due to the fact that the expected income fell short of the budgeted income.

The situation looks something like this in Follett's office:
Total income to date $10,083.87
Total expenses to date 17,699.19
Total deficit to date 7,615.32

Original Budget
When asked as to what will be done in the situation, Follett stated that the deficit will have to be made up by a budgeted amount to offset it in any new athletic budgets; as may be seen, the budget was cut down to meet the falling income (original budget: $19,640.00). There are still several outstanding bills payable as well as several hundred dollars of income due from Fresno State college.

While disclosing the financial report on the entire season Follett also revealed the individual game reports. In study of these later reports Follett adds that they do not coincide with the season figures as there are expenses faced during the year which may not be accounted to the individual games.

Home Games
Reports on the individual home games are as follows:
Occidental:
Gross Income $1858.38
Immediate Expenses $535.15

Whittier:
Gross Income $675.03
Immediate Expenses $924.37

Willamette:
Gross Income $951.76
Immediate Expenses $1762.01

San Jose:
Gross Income $1450.66
Immediate Expenses $1520.08

Cal Aggies:
Gross Income $429.03
Immediate Expenses $478.70

San Diego:
Gross Income $1006.61
Immediate Expenses $1344.26

Social Club Gives Dance

• A hayride followed by an old-fashioned dance will be given by Tous Les Temps, newly organized girls club tonight. The dance will take place at the farm bureau auditorium in Goleta.

The club and its guests will be entertained during the evening, the event being under the supervision of Eddy Lloyd. The decorations are handled by Dorothy Ulrich, Mary Dunham, Gerry Hoyt, Barbara Parker, and Harriet Paxton, and the refreshments by Betty Webb and Harriet Boardman. Music for dancing will be furnished by a nickle-odeon.

Betty Doolittle, president of the association, expects the gathering to be very successful, the affair lasting until 12 p.m.

W.A.A. Schedules College Cabin Trip

• The W.A.A. is planning an overnight trip to the College cabin in Paradise camp, for this coming Saturday and Sunday. All women interested are to sign up in the college gymnasium by noon today.

Marie Glover is in charge of this event and Miss Kinsel will be the groups sponsor.

State Hears Budget for Bi-ennium

President Phelps Presents Requests At Sacramento

• President Clarence L. Phelps presented Santa Barbara State college's budget for the next two years at a budget hearing personally conducted by governor-elect Culbert L. Olsen in Sacramento early this week. According to President Phelps, who returned to Santa Barbara on Wednesday, this was the first time, to his knowledge that such a hearing had been taken charge of by a governor.

The budget presented "was figured on a percentage basis and was based directly on the growth of the institution with no other attempts at increase," the president's announcement stated. Approximately fifteen minutes of discussion of the budget by the hearing committee followed with no criticism of special items and no assurances made.

At the same time, representatives from the six other state colleges in California presented budgets. These included San Diego, Fresno, San Francisco, Chico, Humboldt, and San Jose.

Growth of the college has increased materially in the last six years, according to Phelps, necessitating a proportionately increased budget. For the past two years, enrollment figures reveal almost a 50 per cent increase, with 1361 students enrolled at the college this year. If past figures are any criterion, it is expected that the enrollment figure for the spring semester will hit the 1500 mark.

While in Sacramento, President Phelps contacted Assemblyman Alfred W. Robertson, who has been working on an investigation of the state's withdrawal of $550,000 from the funds for the proposed new State college campus on the Lead-better beach site.

The allotment by the State had been made to supplement the $450,000 expected from PWA funds to construct the new college. The reason

Music Majors Give Dinner

• The music department will give a dinner followed by a business meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Helen Barnett, 1107 N. Nopal street at six o'clock. This gathering will replace the regular meeting Tuesday morning. Donald Sykes, Darling Rutherford, and Doris Wolfe are making all arrangements for Monday's dinner.

At the meeting, at which Robert McDonald will preside as president, final plans for the reception the department is giving for the orchestra were made. The reception will be held after the concert the orchestra is presenting Thursday night.

The program for the music department's spring semester activities will also be discussed. After the meeting, a musical program will be presented.

Jr. High Department Hears Speaker

• Following tradition, the Junior high department held its regular meeting last night at 7:30 p.m. in the Gaucho room. The evening was of a strictly professional nature with a speaker and refreshments.

Members of the group were asked to bring white elephants for Christmas boxes. Last year boxes were presented to two families. The group hopes to do as well or better this year, according to Miss Elsie Pond, adviser.

• Education is a big business. With that statement in mind the Associated Students are making the second annual expenditure survey of student expenditures for the college year this morning during second hour. The survey which was first held in 1937 is being held again in order to present a more stable picture of student financial problems. Chief purpose of the survey is to inform townspeople of the importance of the college to their individual occupations. The survey is varied in slight degree from the one of last year on items which were found difficult to estimate. The report is to be made in purely a subjective manner and students will be depended upon to give accurate and full information. Since the main purpose is demonstration of expenditures in down town business it is expected that the details will be noted carefully on this division. In addition to the section which deals with individual expenditures for men and women survey is being made of general items which effect both sexes. This general group should indicate items from which expenditure of the two sexes could be compared. A division which is quite important to El Gauchos bread and butter is a study of the number of persons that read the college newspaper and its advertisements in preparation for expending funds.

According to Doug Duckham, A.S.B. president, and Merle Vance, survey leader, the report should show at least a twenty percent increase over last year on the basis of enrollment alone. With such an increase the comparative fiscal conditions of the 1938 students and those of 1937 will aid materially in boosting state college prestige with townspeople. Also this method of investigation may be followed on other courses to reveal a great deal of information important to the welfare of El Gauchos and his growing herds.—F.D.

Changes Needed To Recognize Party Sides

• Every editor and columnist, great and small, has taken the opportunity to express his evaluation of the recent mid-term election. One evident fact must be apparent to all—liberalism, with a few notable exceptions, was beaten decisively at the polls.

The reason is not hard to explain; the only way in which liberalism can become victorious is by the unification and organization of its forces. In many cases the issues were so camouflaged and twisted that the real fundamentals were obscured.

This should bring all factions to the same decision; namely, that both the Republican and Democratic parties are antiquated and divided among themselves. How can such men as Fiorello LaGuardia and Herbert Hoover align themselves on the same side of the fence? How can such men as Walter George and President Roosevelt both adhere to the same platform?

As President Roosevelt said in a recent Maryland speech, it is the right of anyone to choose whether they are going to be liberal or conservative, and it is no disgrace, which side they choose; but the nation must not be confused by men pretending to be liberal and acting conservative.

One way to clear the existing confusion, is for two new parties to be formed, the Liberal and the Conservative parties. This would give both politicians and the people a chance to definitely align themselves on one side of the fence. Today, the Republican and Democratic platforms are not greatly different; it is the majority within each party which makes the policies of the two parties radically opposite. However, the important thing is that in each party there are active minorities actually sabotaging the efforts of the majority. The old parties are irrevocably split; probably the best chance Liberals have to align themselves and the best chance for representative government to function as it should, is to give the United States two new parties.—R.S.

Officials, Townsman Exhibit Favorable Attitude to Survey

• Similar opinions given by administration heads of the school and business men of the town on the student expenditure survey which was sponsored this morning by the A.M.S. and given by Merle Vance, project head, were expounded yesterday.

Don Follett, graduate manager of State, thinks the survey is an excellent idea. "We should find out, for the benefit of the students and business men from downtown, just what the students contribute to the city," he stated.

"These surveys have been taken in the past, and they prove to be a great benefit in establishing prestige of the college in the eyes of the townspeople," Follett continued. "The Chamber of Commerce has invited us to release the results of these facts on its program over the radio at a later date."

Marvin Light of the Light-Good-year Tire company, thinks the results of the survey would be very interesting, and that it would be quite astounding if the business men actually knew how much the college students really spend in Santa Barbara.

"This survey is emphatically important for both the townspeople and those connected with the school," said Doug Duckham, student body president, yesterday. "It shows the citizens just how much we mean to them, since the college is the greatest industry in town, one of the functions of this survey is to obtain figures to prove it."

Dean Paul Jones says it is very valuable for everyone concerned. According to Jones, last year's figure of $375,000 spent in this town, should be raised to about $450,000 this year. He cites as his reason, the greater number of students enrolled.

Declaring that this undertaking is valuable to the community and that the students' expenditures tend to increase business, says John M. Howard, president of the Rotary club, the results will be very interesting to the people of the town.

President Clarence L. Phelps believes that periodically, a thing like this is very worth while in checking up on how much time the students spend on their studies as compared with their social activities.

Female Modes Cause Alarm

By BILL SPARROW

• Feminine fashions, trends, and modes have become so important during the last decade or so that it has become impossible for men to ignore them any longer.

However, to members of the opposite sex, feminine fashions are unpredictable, inexplicable, a headache. The male population is steadily going daffy trying to keep abreast with the times concerning the wearing apparel that seems to change style over night. One day his "best girl" may be a cute little number with a page boy bob, Mexican sandals, a wool skirt and sport jacket. . . . tomorrow, much to his consternation, she is apt to blossom forth as a glamorous conglomeration of style with her hair piled up skyscraper style, high heeled pumps, and sort of slinky in a tight fitting fall suit of wine or pink or whatever that purplish-red color is.

Unreadable to Males

The result of all this is inevitable. . . . a feminine fashion expert has just got to break down and create a little information on the subject for male consumption. When a college man picks up a newspaper attempting to broaden his scope of the feminine world, and glances over a feminine fashion column something not unlike the following is bound to smite him directly between his visionary elements:

at the Alpha Spinster Phoo sorority tea last Sunday afternoon new fall fashions for midday were definitely on parade. Sports apparel held the spotlight with a decided emphasis on suede and tweed for the sports loving co-ed.

"The highlight of the affair was Luceethia Lithiawinkle stunningly arrayed in a chic little "mash down" felt bonnet and a sports ensemble of ducky peach back hand stagger-stitch lap-grained tweed, set off by a fluffy, ultra-feminine jacket of chartreuse shark skin super-embossed with green pansies and lavender fish" . . . and it's no wonder it leaves us drooling.

Male Column

Here is the only practical way out: Some columnist possessed with a spirit of benefiting humanity will have to reel out a painless column of feminine style written so the average male citizen can comprehend it without going completely nuts. We suggest and present for your approval the following:

FEMININE FASHIONS FOR FELLERS, by Franklin Femmesnoper . . . Hi-ya gang, as we gather a gander at the frills around the campus lately, we wonder. Somebody once said that the length of a young lady's skirt should be like a class recitation . . . short enough to be interesting, but long enough to cover the subject. It seems that the fashion experts are getting a little short of subject because skirts are definitely up!

But then nobody seems to care and there is something about the new shorter skirts that have a tendency to improve a gal's . . . uh . . . proportions. The subject of skirts is getting rather ticklish, so how about hats?

Mad Hats

The very mention of women's hat styles about drives a man to drink, but we all think they've got something in that classy new model copying the exact style of the men's favorites . . . my gal's got one that goes swell with my new sport coat . . . but then we're here to talk women.

The romantic male should without fail take his femme's formal into consideration when buying flowers . . . after all it wouldn't be proper to try to pin a corsage on her shoulder when there's no dress there and we really go for flowers on a luscious damsel's "caw-few-er."

Well, that's all for today chums, but speaking of hair, remember to leave the top up on your roadster for the dance this week-end because there isn't a bandana made to enfold the circumference of the new "up-style" hair do.

Walter O. Robinson of St. John's university, Brooklyn, is conducting a course in grammar and diction for the administrative officers and guards.

THE SYD

A Tale of Idealism and Disillusionment
Gauchos Athletes are Gentlemen
Bus Bolas Organizes a Boxing Team

• Upon our immediate entrance to these portals, we were forcibly struck by the financial position of the men students at Santa Barbara State college. Everywhere we turned, we were confronted by men, willing to work, to do anything in order to continue their formal education. In the beginning, we wondered how all would find a means of support, with such an apparent lack of jobs. With no apparent depreciable decrease in enrollment, however, it seemed to us that every man had found his niche.

True, most of the men we know lived and still live on a bare subsistence, but all seemed to be making the most of the situation in as pleasant a manner as possible under the circumstances. The very thought of sacrifice seemed to bring with it a certain spirit, undefinable, yet quite evident.

This esprit du corps brought with it and inculcated into the men of the campus the idea "If I have anything, I'm lucky to have it, so I might just as well share it with my neighbor." We could quote examples on end of men who developed this sense of what might be termed social responsibility. Greed and selfishness seemed to have no part in the makeup of the State college man. The more we thought about it, the more the idea intrigued us. Naivete had us well in tow.

The first inkling of suspicion seeped in when we looked at the figures the library issued concerning missing books. At one time, the librarians must have had the same idea we had about the unselfishness of the average State college student. They probably thought that we were all here for an education primarily, as witness the hardships undergone in the process of assimilating knowledge and incidentally a degree.

As we recall, the toll for last year was in the neighborhood of 800 books. Naturally, our ideas about social consciousness were knocked into a cocked hat. The students on this campus didn't give a hoot for one another or for the ideals of true camaraderie. Instead of taking a chance on reading the material in an assigned text, Mr. Gauchos Student proceeded to stealthily "borrow" the book, making sure of his grade in a course at the expense of perhaps 30 others. Many hangers-on who don't crack a cover all year, and take chances on cramming for finals, found at the end of the year that cramming was no longer possible because someone had gotten access to all of the knowledge for himself.

Comes the return of idealism. A campus service organization unobtrusively and without fanfare placed boxes all over the grounds so that missing books might be returned. No questions would be asked. If a book had been lost, strayed or simply had not been returned because of a heavy fine which the offender had not been able to meet, it could be slipped into one of the boxes when no one watched. A perfect plan, you will agree, for the State collegian to redeem himself in the face of ever-growing roots of cynicism.

This week, the boxes were collected, and as far as we have been able to find out, not a single book made its way back to the library shelves. We hate to use the term "socially unconscious"—in fact, we hate to use the term "unconscious" as applied to the people of the campus—but, what other conclusion can we be expected to reach?

Lest anyone misinterpret the squib we ran Wednesday concerning the Fresno trip, we would like to say that the conduct of Spud Harder's men was never questioned. We referred specifically to the carryings-on by students and other fans who followed the Gauchos. Harder has in his possession many letters from hotel managers wherever the Gauchos have played attesting the gentlemanly behavior of his eleven and asking that their hotel be selected when local athletic teams travel.

As we write Mr. Bus Bolas intrudes. Mr. Bus Bolas has made public the fact that he is a socially conscious individual by running unsuccessfully for the chairmanship of the finance committee. This time, Mr. Bus Bolas is organizing a boxing team and won't we please give him a plug? Bus, you revived our faith in man with your announcement about organizing something, so if this is your idea of a plug, here it is.—S.C.

PROPAGANDA

That's all it is. But the weather isn't exactly conducive to clear, reasonable expression. Somehow or other, I am going to attempt to get a reaction to symphonic music from a student group that has a very decided apathy in this appreciation. THIS

Is all being done in the interests of the Santa Barbara State college symphony orchestra, so that when they present their concert on next Thursday night, more than a handful of locals will turn out to hear their work. I realize at the outset that the average mentality at this institution isn't capable of appreciating and absorbing good music, but for the time being I'll skip that premise.

SYMPATHY

With symphony is hard to develop, it's something like accustoming yourself to a particularly boring professor, in order that you can get anything out of his course. The deep, underlying "things" of classical and semi-classical music are beautiful and worthwhile striving for, as the corresponding benefits of a scholastic course. The boring professor part comes in with the approach and the attitude of the general public.

PERSONNEL

Of this year's symphonic group would indicate that it is one of the best "passel" of musicians that have yet been gathered under the roof of the old, beaten down Music hall. This isn't propaganda. The personnel is replete with stellar performers and the Music hall is beaten down. And to top it all off, Mrs. A.C. Priest—our own Mrs. Priest—who has been making herself famous as a piano artist, will be on hand as guest soloist for the evening.

ROAD

To recognition as to whether or not you really enjoy the deep, underlying "things" is sure when you feel the ease and restfulness and warmth and the deep reflection that is caused in your subconscious mind in the presence of good music. The ease and warmth and restfulness is considerably like the feeling after a nice Thanksgiving dinner and a couple of fresh, foamy beers. Get it!

ANYWAY

You can bet that you won't waste a minute of the time during the concert on Thursday night when you do go. Probably the only lost time will be during intermissions when you lapse back into the usual inane drivel that I and you use most of the time during the regular daytime.

Drury Speaks On France

Patrick Drury, State student, spoke to the International Relations club meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. Harry K. Girvetz, sponsor. Subject of his talk was the popular front government of France.

Drury, who has been in France, told of first hand experiences in observing the development of political movements in the European scene. He also spoke on the problems concerned with the present labor-government crisis.

Plans were made for a dinner to be held at the Pekin Low cafe where the club will gather to hear a talk on the Sino-Japanese war. According to Robert Scalapino, president, attempts are being made to obtain the Chinese consul for the speaker.

The dinner is to be open to students who may not be members of the club. Mark Jones and Frances Hoelscher are in charge of arrangements.

Departments Schedule Varied Programs for Meetings Next Tuesday

5 Major Groups Gather During Second Hour; Motion Picture, Speaker, Musician On Tap; Organizations Combine Meets

Five of the eight departments giving majors at State college will hold regular monthly meeting during second hour on Tuesday. Presidents of the organizations have planned varied programs of entertainment for their groups.

ART DEPARTMENT

The Art department will hold its regular meeting in Room 43. Eudora Baldwin, president, will have charge of the meeting. Fred Greenough, graduate of the College Art department and present art instructor in one of the Carpinteria schools, will show a motion picture concerning children's art activities.

L. E. DEPARTMENT

Sergeant Tom Keating, well known State college graduate and local police officer, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Industrial Education department in Room 90, Ridge hall, according to a statement by Malcom Woodhead, president of the department. Keating will speak on ways and means of apprehending criminals.

At this meeting all members of the Industrial Education department will be requested to fill out tentative program cards for next year. This is done to make sure that the office will know the requirements of the department, and can schedule classes that will be needed.

As part of routine business, a $25 appropriation will be put through to reserve a page in the annual.

HOME ECONOMICS,

LIBERAL ARTS DEPARTMENTS

William Mathias will give a recital of Christmas music on the Hammond electric organ at the joint meeting of the Home Economics and Liberal Arts departments in the auditorium.

Vernon Duncan, president of the Liberal Arts group, will sing several numbers, accompanied by Mathias.

Martha Booker, student head of the Home Economics department, will have worked together to organize the program. The purpose of the combined meetings is to give more students the opportunity to hear Mathias play.

ELEMENTARY DEPARTMENT

Meeting in Room 80, Pine hall, the Elementary department will discuss the establishment of a loan fund for the benefit of those members of the Elementary department who are in need of financial aid. This loan fund will probably go into effect in the near future.

A report will be given on the progress made on El Visitadore, the Elementary department publication. The staff, under the leadership of Margaret Mellinger, editor, with Richard Moore, president of the department, and Mrs. Laura Price, faculty sponsor, acting as advisers, has been working on the publication for the last several weeks.

The rest of the meeting will be taken over with routine business.

Alice Benson Wins Place in Contest

Alice Benson, State college representative to the state-wide collegiate W.C.T.U. contest held at Glendale Sunday, captured fifth place in competition with outstanding speakers from ten colleges.

Pomona won first place and a prize of $50, with Occidental, La Verne, U.C.L.A., and Santa Barbara State placing in the order named. All the contestants received their prizes of $25 each for winning their individual college contests at the conclusion of the finals.

"All the orators were excellent," states Miss Benson, "and I consider it an honor to have been asked to speak."

Players Bill Full Schedule Of Rehearsals

January 18 Set for Little Theater Run Of Kelly Production

With stage direction rehearsals out of the way, Frederic W. Hile this week begins concentrated practice on the production of "Craig's Wife," by George Kelly, which will be presented for a local run in the Little theater on January 18.

One of the biggest tackles made yet by the local Thespian group, the play is the story of the domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craig and their subsequent outcome. In the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Craig will be Carl Jorgenson and Winifred Nichols. Jorgenson has appeared locally in "Whistling in the Dark," "Hell Bent for Heaven," "Macbeth," "Michael and Mary" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" while Miss Nichols revealed her outstanding ability first in "Macbeth" and followed these with excellent performances in "Michael and Mary," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and more recently in "Kind Lady."

Major direction problem will be in the over-stocked business, fast dialogue and characterization, although Hile reports that his cast is advancing surprisingly well in accomplishing these ends. In place of the conventional more or less old fashioned stage setting that has been employed by directors for this show since its inception, a modern, smart set will be employed.

Other cast members who carry much of the action and temperament of the piece are Jean Smith, Rosalind Bradbury, Pauline Weston, Esther Walters, Elbert Phelps, Francis Johnson, Diana Cram, Bill Hurst, and Lloyd Borstelmann. Don Essey has been appointed as assistant director for the production.

Work on the set parts will start under the supervision of Jed S. Blake, technical director, with George Booth, Trent Bessent, Herbert Lowenstein, Robert Campbell, Arthur Suffolk and Clyde Cadwell, stage crew members assisting.

Alpha Gammas Hold Party

Entertaining all members of the staffs of El Gaucho, La Cumbre, and the student handbook, Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity, will be host at a Skirt and Cord party tonight at 8 p.m. at the home of Margaret Mellinger near the San Marcos Trout club.

The evening will feature games and dancing and follows the fraternity's tradition of rendering assistance to the college publications in providing inter-publication social contacts.

Walter Bradbury will act as general chairman for the party, in charge of games and programs. Leona Rasmussen is in charge of refreshments. Other committees are music, James Stanley and Bruce Steele; transportation, Bill Sparrow; invitations, Bob Williams and Dorothy Hornor.

Traffic Code Service Group Men Police

Prosecution of the new traffic code set up by the Welfare committee began Wednesday with committee members in charge of administration until a service organization takes over. The Gavel and Key will be asked to carry out these duties at the organization's meeting Tuesday.

Main feature of the new system is numbering of faculty member's cars with corresponding numbers marked in zones all over the campus. Violation of parking rules will result in the exacting of a 25 cent fine payable in Graduate Manager Don Follett's office. Two fines will result in the car being barred from the campus.

Crown and Scepter Sets Breakfast

Crown and Scepter, women's service club, will hold a breakfast, followed by a business meeting in the faculty dining room next Wednesday at 7:15 a.m.

A report will be given concerning the success of a recent candy sale. A discussion of the annual Crown and Scepter scholarship cup award to the woman who has highest scholastic standing at the end of the year, will be held.

This club was organized last year by Ann Seymour, 1938 winner of the Honor Copy of La Cumbre, as a service group. During this semester the club has among other things assisted with homecoming events, worked with the A.W.S. on receptions, and recently helped organize a new social club, Tous Les Temps.

Frances Hoelscher, Dorothy Hornor, Louise Jackson, Velma Jean Jones, Pauline Michael, Leona Rasmussen, Rena Sacconaghi are charter members. Irene Baptiste, Martha Booker, Evelyn Brannan, Mary Alice Halferty, Bernice Jacobson, Christina MacKellar, Jean McArthur, Rosie Pagliotti, Dorothy Roberts, Katherine Riley, Virginia Ulrich, Betty Westcott, members who have joined since the organization was formed.

Deans Excuse Xmas Workers

Classes will end Friday, December 16 for Christmas vacation and will begin again on Tuesday, January 3, it was announced by Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar.

Leaves of absence for Christmas employment will be issued from the offices of the deans when the work for the vacation period depends upon employment during the week before vacation. These leaves do not excuse the students from required class work and instructors will use their own discretion regarding make-up examinations.

Gnome Club, Art Department Assemble for Christmas Formals Saturday Evening

Christmas will be the theme of the Gnome club formal tomorrow night which is to be held at the Carpinteria Women's club. The decorations will be carried out in red and silver. The bids will carry out the Christmas theme in the club's colors of green and white. Bids are $1.50 for members and outsiders and may be purchased from any member of the club.

Pat Rich is general chairman for the dance, Barbara Leach, music chairman; Lorraine Shaw, refreshment chairman; Sue Baat, decorations; Virginia Moss, receiving; Kitty Kelly, clean-up; and Kay Casebeer, bids.

Patrons and patronesses will be Miss Phebe Steer and escort, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abraham.

A formal dance sponsored by the Art department will be held at the Montecito Country club tomorrow evening, from 9 until 12. Music for the evening will be furnished by Mack's orchestra. All art and music majors and minors and their guests are invited to the affair, tickets being $1 per couple. Dark suits are requested.

Margaret Parks, social chairman of the department, is in charge of all arrangements. Dance programs for the evening will be in the form of artist's palettes. They are being handled by Crystal Lund.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Crosswell, Mrs. Ruth M. Doolittle, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cheever will act as receiving patrons and patronesses.

Hoag's Orchestra Plays for Annual Christmas Formal

Doug Hoag's eight piece orchestra will furnish the music for the Christmas formal Saturday evening, December 10 at Rockwood from 10 to 1.

The color scheme of red and silver will be carried out in the decorations and programs, according to Social Chairman Betty Palmaymesa. A huge Christmas tree will be the center of the decorations.

Beta Sigma Chi fraternity members will be hosts for the evening. Tuxedos and dark suits will be in order for men. Sport clothes will absolutely not be accepted.

Guests cards may be obtained from Dean Bennink's office. The charge for these will be $1. Due to many requests from those attending student body dances, the social committee is asking that there be no jittersbugging at this formal.

The band will feature several Christmas songs during the evening. Miss Palmaymesa is in charge of the programs; Margaret Parks, the decorations; Bill Lambourne, the orchestra; and Dolly Emmons, publicity.

Jones Asks For Pictures

All men are expected to deliver a snapshot or photograph of themselves to the Dean of Men's office immediately, according to Dean Paul Jones. This picture is to be placed on permanent file with their scholastic records.

Main reason for collection of the photos is to aid service to students who may desire recommendations at a future date. Requests have been made for information concerning former students that has been difficult to obtain because of insufficient cooperation of the students while in college.

Earlier requests made this semester have already added considerably to the files in the Dean's office.

Coach Harder Releases Statement

Football Head Declares That Team Standing Out Of Town is Excellent

The following statement was released last night by Coach Spud Harder:

In order to clear up any mistaken impressions formed as the result of recently published articles I wish to make the following statements.

At no time has any member of the coaching staff or of the graduate manager's office ever received any complaint in any form from hotel managers concerning the conduct of the Santa Barbara State college football team. In contrast, this office, along with that of President Phelps, has often received letters of congratulations upon the fine conduct of the boys.

At no time during the past five years has any hotel ever stated, or had cause to state, that they would not welcome our squads.

The following hotels and their respective managers I am sure will certify that Santa Barbara State teams are always welcome:

San Francisco
Empire hotel; Jack Bailin, mgr.
Sir Francis Drake; Don Burger (former mgr. Hilton hotel, El Paso, Texas)

Fresno
Hotel California; Andrew P. Dron, mgr.

Hotel Fresno; M. E. Hutchins, mgr.

BECKTS

By FRANCIS BECCHIO

• While we await the post-season varsity-alumni grid battle, let's join in on the heated discussion over U. S.C.'s choice of Duke university as its Rose bowl opponent.

Many unkind, and to this writer, unfair, salvos have been fired at the Trojans because of their selection of Duke—why?—we can't figure it out. What's wrong with Duke as an opponent? Absolutely nothing in the view of this writer and in expressing this opinion we recall a certain Columbia team, with a less impressive record than the 1938 Duke eleven, which traveled west with the criticism of its selection crashing into its ear drums, only to make chumps of the soured gentry of the press by upsetting the highly touted Stanford Indians, 7-0.

It's certainly not fair to heap criticism upon the Trojans for selecting Duke, thereby casting reflections on the great season record of Wallace Wade's boys. For the sake of argument let's agree that Texas Christian university would be a more formidable opponent. The Trojan officials advanced as their reason for picking Duke the desire to have a truly Eastern representative thereby keeping up the tradition of the bowl classic as an east-west battle. A good enough reason, yours truly says, besides, whoever played the game, it still wouldn't make any difference as far as national championship ratings go.

Speaking of Duke's supposedly weak schedule, since when has T. C.U.'s games this year been against the greatest teams in the country. Every team the Horned Frogs played lost previously and S.M.U.'s Mustangs, whom they played for the conference title, lost to Pittsburgh and weak Marquette, which lost to Arizona. And incidentally, Pitt defeated S.M.U. by a bigger margin than T.C.U. and Duke beat Pitt, 7-0.

To bring up another point, since when is a team weak when it goes through any kind of a schedule without having a point made against it? A record not chalked up every year by a major team. So those of you who feel that U.S.C. picked a soft touch for their Rose bowl rivals, don't bet too much on that assumption, for the Trojans will have to score to win and Duke hasn't been scored on. The writer likes Duke 7-0.

FOOTBALL EXIT

Now that the Duke-U.S.C. game discussion is off our collective chests, let's shift from football, which is rapidly fading out of the picture, to basketball, which sport is expected to have its greatest year here on the hill.

We can't tell what the team is going to do until we've seen them perform, but from all indications, Coach Willie Wilton, really has something, but he'll need it, for State faces the toughest basketball schedule in its history.

Our point in bringing up the cage sport is to urge your support for the forthcoming campaign. Basketball has been the poorest backed of the major sports, which may have had considerable to do with the Gauchos' poor showings in the past. Let's turn out en masse from the opening game and prove to those critics of ours who opine that State's student-body

Grads, 1938 Squad Gird For Big Tilt

Former Stars Rule Present Grid Crew As Favorites Over

By ALFY ARTUSO

• One of the greatest football games in the history of Santa Barbara State will take place Saturday night, December 10, at 7:30 at La Playa field, when the Gauchos of old will do battle with this year's varsity gridders.

The grads will be led by those two great Little All Americans Howie Yeager, halfback excelsior and Doug Oldershaw, the Gaucho mauler, Donk Hart, stellar center; Frank Hayman, cast-iron guard; Danny Mulock and Al Young, All Conference ends; Earle Fredburg and John Twaddell, great tackles; Bobby Morelli, thrill-master extraordinary; Doc Kelliher and Harold Sanderson, powerhouse fullbacks and Wee Willie Wilton, one of the immortals of U.C.L.A.'s football history.

Seven Coaches

Seven of the alumni have been coaching so they should be in the pink of condition; these include: Sandy Sanderson, Tommy Hart, Pete Hathaway, Doc Kelliher, Mert Miller, Danny Mulock, Ollie Seelie, Wilton Wilton and Al Young. Because of their experience the Alumni have been made favorites, however, the varsity is gunning for this game with all barrels loaded to capacity.

The varsity had a much needed layoff the first part of this week but resumed practice last night. Both squads are expected to be in top physical shape. Most of the Alumni have been working out for the past month. The starting line-ups have not been decided upon as yet but two very strong aggregations will be fielded.

Other Alumni

Other alumni who have not been mentioned but who will try out for the team include: Wayne Bartholomew, Lester Clemons, Bud Cummings, Don Follett, Sid Gardner, Bill Gray, Keaster Hale, Bob Hathaway, Nate Johnson, Gibby Martin, Bob Rezonico, George Schultz and Sid Smith.

Coach Mather Plans For Track and Field

• With the cross country season completed, Coach Dimmie Mather is making plans for the track and field season, which gets underway after the Christmas holidays.

The recent undefeated season of the harriers gives indication that State will be well bolstered for the distance events. Coach Mather stated that the Gauchos should come up with a well-balanced team, one that will give good account in the 1939 season.

U.C.L.A. vs. O.S.C.

• One important Pacific coast conference game remains to be played, the U.C.L.A. Bruins meeting the Oregon State crew. Oregon State is now in third place, but a win for the Californians will give them a tie for third with the Oregonians. The game is slated for a week from tomorrow.

State Students To See Big Game

• The largest number of State students to attend a big game will be in the stands at the Los Angeles coliseum tomorrow afternoon for the intersectional titanic between the University of Southern California Trojans and the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame.

The contest is one of the most important of the year for both teams, with the national title being the prize for Notre Dame if the Irish triumph, and a big chunk of prestige going to the Howard Jones crew if it wins.

The Irish have been made slight favorites because of their undefeated and untied record, but the Trojans are considered the best underdog bet of the 1938 campaign.

Fencers Meet L.A. College Tomorrow

• The Gaucho Fencing team inaugurates one of its greatest years tomorrow night in Ebber's hall when they play host to a team from Los Angeles City college.

The dual meet will be run off in three classes, with three men from each school making up a team. The classes of competition are foil, sabre, and epee.

Representing State will be Marlin Nelson, coach, Jack Gross, Bill Wagner, Bert Powers, Bill Hurst, Everett Tozier, Fred Popham and Jack Hart.

Oracles Set For Dinner, and Show

Six Winners Guests Of Elmer's Cafe, Granada Monday

• Everything is all set for the big football prognosticators' dinner and theater party next Monday evening. All season long, the self-styled grid dopsters have donned their thinking caps in an effort to earn a luscious steak dinner at Elmer's cafe and the chance to see Deanna Durbin in "That Certain Age" at the Granada theatre, as the guests of Elmer Schwarzbarg and Howard Ralston, respectively.

It was particularly because of the kind generosity of these two men that so much interest was evident in the Students' Football Selection committee meetings, held each week throughout the recent pigskin campaign. And thanks to the writer's selection of Oregon State and Duke last week, your sports editor also gets in on the party, beating Elmer in a close race. Elmer has promised to fill the boys Monday night—we can almost taste that delicious food already. And at the Granada, a special short subject, appropriate to the occasion will be shown, Pete Smith's "Grid Rules," along with the second feature "Torchy Blane Gets Her Man."

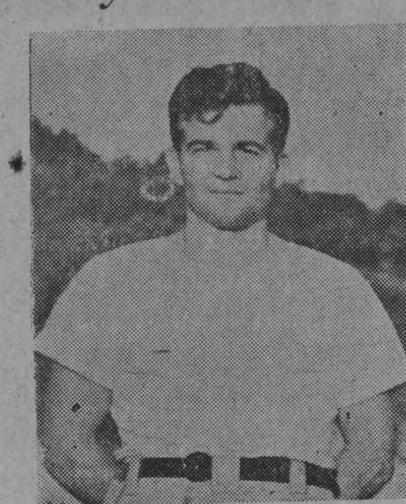

And the lucky prognosticators, who make up the official Students' Football Selection committee, are: Lloyd Borstelmann, George Soule, Bob Reynolds, Tom Wharton, Joe Glass and Syd Cohen. We'll see you Monday night at 6:30 o'clock at Elmer's.

Sports Critics Pick Sugar Bowl as Best

• Sports critics throughout the nation have tabbed the Sugar bowl game as the outstanding of the more than half-dozen bowl contests to be played throughout the United States New Year's day.

Texas Christian university's undefeated and untied Horned Frogs will meet the powerful Carnegie Tech eleven from Pittsburgh. Tech dropped one game this year, a 7-0 decision to the national championship bound Notre Dame team.

Busy Man . . .

• Coach Willie Wilton is keeping quite active these days, what with trying to get the alumni grid team in shape as well as mentoring the varsity hoopsters, who open their season tonight at Ventura.

Dons Clash in Playoff Game Here Tonight

Vaqueros Battle Jordan High of Long Beach at Peabody Stadium, 8 p.m.

• Santa Barbara High school's undefeated and untied Dons make their final home stand of the 1938 season tonight when they battle Jordan high of Long Beach in a crucial C.I.F. playoff encounter at Peabody stadium.

Coach Clarence Schutte's proteges are favorites to down the Southern gridders, but not before a tough battle ensues. Jordan's principal threat is a backfield ace, Glenn Shoop, who has burned up the Long Beach gridirons with his sensational touchdown runs.

Remembering what another highly touted star, Frankie Albert of Glendale, did to them last year, the Vaqueros hope to nullify Shoop's effectiveness by breaking through the Jordan line to stop their great back before he gets underway.

One of the largest crowds the current season is anticipated for this big game, which is to be played 8 o'clock. State students, with their body cards, will be admitted for 25 cents, high school officials announced.

Cagers Meet Ventura J.C. Five

Practice Game Set For Southern City; Locals are Favored

• The lengthy practice sessions of the basketball squad are even longer than usual this time of year, because Coach Willie Wilton must round into shape in record time a representative State team. In fact Wilton must have his boys lined up by tonight in time for a practice game with Ventura J.C.

The Gaucho prospects have played several practice games with city teams and the "deadeyes" are gradually getting into form. The team play will be ironed out when Coach Wilton is able to determine the extent and ability of his material.

Prospects Good

Looking over the men out for the team, it would seem that State is in for a great basketball season, but it is too early to hinder the good prospect by over enthusiastic prophecies.

The team will probably be anchored by several "star" veterans returning for more action. These are: Al Young, voted most valuable man last season; Bill Russell, high point man last year; Harold Eastham, Buck Bailey, Carl Hallen and Frank Fujii.

Future Stars

Great things are expected from Tom Guerrero, transfer from LA CC and picked as a forward on the All-Southern California Junior college team last year; Ignacio "Paddy" Caudillo, captain of the Compton J.C. squad the past season; Lawrence Brewster from Long Beach Junior college and recipient of honorable mention as guard on the All-Southern J.C. team, and Don Ripsch and Gordon Gray.

Up from a very successful freshman season comes Bill Sears, captain and high point man, Bob Lyman, Warren Conrad, and Fred Beckman.

The official Gaucho season will be inaugurated in two weeks when the Staters meet the strong Compton J.C. outfit.
