Work of UN Committees Told By Lecturer; UN Membership Costs Little, Gives Large Dividend, Said Mrs. Roosevelt in Local Talk

by Pat Malvey

An expectant and curiously hushed overflow crowd pampered the Santa Barbara High School auditorium last Friday to hear the nation's "first lady," Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, speak.

Against a bevy of all-nation flags, making an impressive background, Mrs. Roosevelt spoke informally about the "United Nations Nobody Knows," for 45 minutes. She explained that the tour was instigated in Richmond, West Virginia, as a series of regional conferences for the United Nations, to bring the work of the U. N. a little closer to the average citizen.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has given the greater part of her life to seeing the ideal of world peace and understanding grow from a dream to reality, has many long years of experience and United Nations work to draw upon for memorable experiences. She talked of some of the ways to create better understanding among the peoples of the world, and how much the special UN committees have done toward meeting this goal.

FAA and its work with agriculture in India was particularly impressive to Mrs. Roosevelt. Through exchange of ideas, knowledge and production material, it was possible to raise the yield of food to a standard where it had not previously been in generations. Someday, because of the shared efforts and understanding of all peoples of the free world, India will be able to take her place among the free world.

UNESCO was also discussed by Mrs. Roosevelt. This agency is an attempt to create better understanding among the scholars of the world, through the medium of exchange of ideas and materials. As to the United States' standing in United Nations, Mrs. Roosevelt made the comment that "we need so little, and if we can continue to help other nations take one step up from where they are, we will be helping to increase the markets of the world we will soon be needing for our expanding commerce."

Some of the smaller things about UN committee daily work were brought up by Mrs. Roosevelt. It is her feeling that the opportunity for the council to be friends among themselves is valuable in creating better understanding among their representative powers, because members of the General Assembly differ so much in language, personality and concept of how to look at the world.

To support the United Nations cost us (as a nation) about 61 cents per person . . . a very little, or as Mrs. Roosevelt put it, "a cheap kind of insurance for peace." In dividend return, that of understanding, this is a worthwhile venture.

"Biologists Struggle" Topic of Talk Today; Lincoln Controversies Discussed Last Week

Today's lecture will feature Dr. Garrett J. Hardin, chairman of the biological sciences department, associate professor of biology, and a winner of a Ford Foundation fellowship grant. He will speak on, "Biologists Struggle with 'Race'" at 4 pm in PH 100.

Abraham Lincoln and the controversial events associated with his life were presented in last Wednesday's lecture by Jay Monaghan. Mr. Monaghan is consultant for the Wyles Collection at the SBC library and a noted authority on the Civil War president.

Lincoln's Religion

A point of controversy about Lincoln concerns his religion. In his early speeches, he mimicked bombastic frontier preachers, and this levity plagued him when he ran for Congress against the popular evangelist, Peter Cartwright. To defend him and keep the record clear, Lincoln wrote a letter for publication, admitting that he belonged to no church, but adding that he had never scoffed at anyone's religion and, in all sincerity, would not vote for any candidate who had. Religion became a big issue in the campaign.

Romantic Legend

The speaker discussed Lincoln's success as a lawyer, pointing out that, contrary to popular opinion, he was often unsuccessful as a trial lawyer, but definite figures are difficult to obtain since many of his cases were settled out of court.

Mr. Monaghan also spoke about the Ann Rutledge-Lincoln romance, which is still one of the most disputed incidents in the life of this great man. The legend was repeated for over a quarter of a century in the little town where they had lived. The story was first published during Lincoln's presidency, and he did not deny it, but it has been embellished elaborately by fiction writers.

Lincoln's Writings

The lecture was brought to a close with a few quotations of the Great Emancipator's proverbial jokes. In speaking of his literary style, Mr. Monaghan said that part of his power lies in his use of the English language, especially the strength and force of his verbs.

Provost Pins Seven Coeds

Newly elected members of the Colonel's Coeds will receive their pins at a formal review of the ROTC Battalion at 8 am on the Mesa tomorrow. Presentation of the pins will be made by Provost Williams. After this ceremony the ROTC Battalion will pass in review for both the new and the old Colonel's Coeds.

New members receiving their pins are: Honorary Colonel Mary Nizetich; Honorary Majors Lynn Haschke, Donna Wolf, Judy Woods, and Virginia Clark; Honorary Captains Julie Norby and Marian Tams.

Since "eyes right" will be executed while passing in review, the Military Science Department anticipates 100% attendance for the first time this semester.

Charities Committee To Study Donations; Needs Student Leader

A committee for charities is now being organized and needs a chairman, according to Dave Hodgkin, AS President. The chairman's job will be to organize a small committee to take over the work of charities collections on campus. The committee will investigate the different charities and decide upon which charities will receive our help. The committee will also decide whether the presently conducted drives are functioning or whether one main drive should take place.

The chairman will be a non-voting member of the legislative council.

Anyone who is interested and enthusiastic may file an application in the AS Office or contact Teddy Tye or Dave Hodgkin.

Frosh-Soph Dance Set At Carrillo Friday

Friday, Nov. 20, is the date for a Freshmen-Sophomore sponsored dance. The event, under the direction of the class presidents, Chuck Eckert and Jim Roberts, is open to all students.

Kurk Lamb and his combo will supply the music, and will feature dancing from 9 to 12 pm. The dance is to be held at the Carrillo Auditorium and tickets may be purchased at a $1.00 per couple at the student ticket booth or at the door.

BUSSES SCHEDULED SATURDAY TO TAKE ROOTERS TO LAST GAME OF SEASON; GAUCHOS MEET AZTECS AT SAN DIEGO

The Gauchos draw to a close their 1953 football season as they attempt to conquer the San Diego State Aztecs, as they did last year, this Saturday night down in the Aztec Bowl.

Rooters' busses have been arranged to transport students to San Diego for the game this weekend.

Tickets for the bus may be purchased for $6.85 from the song leaders or the Graduate Manager's office before noon on Thursday.

The busses will leave the parking lot on the Riviera campus at 11:30 Saturday morning, and will arrive in San Diego about 6 pm. They will leave after the game and will arrive in Santa Barbara early Sunday morning.

This game, which will also be the final of the season for the Aztecs, will show the efforts of both teams to better their season records, specially the Gauchos who are in a triple tie for last place in the Conference with Pepperdine and Los Angeles State.

Sal Padilla, who has shown his ability to pass and rush effectively during the last few games, is expected to strengthen the Gauchos offensive again this weekend. Back with the travelling squad will be halfback Gary Morris and quarterback Bob Morton who were out of action last week due to injuries. In the line Chuck Miller and Charley Green will make their last stands with the Gauchos at the tackle and end position respectively.

The Aztecs, who have won two, lost one, and tied one, and who stand in second place in the CCAA standings, are led by an experienced array of backfielders. Norm Nygaard shows his powerful running style against the Gauchos while in the air quarterback Paul Held and end Bob Lyon mesh into a threatening aerial attack which may cripple SBC's last game. However, if Padilla and Green in the air plus Morris and Don Hay on the ground, are assisted by the rest of the blocking squad, the game might bring the Gauchos home with large hopes of working towards a more successful season next fall.

First Dramatic Event Of Year Sparked by Flanagan and Welch

by Jack Nakano

As I left the theatre, I overheard a lady say to her escort "Say, that was good!" That comment succinctly describes the play I saw last Friday at the Riviera Auditorium and which played successfully two other nights.

Mary Jane Flanagan, like the play, got off to a slow start but later mastered her role and breezed along with confidence. Giving excellent support in his calm and stable way was Gary Hess who initially gave the audience the impression that he had no feeling. Later, however, as his part became more complex, a complete realization of his own cowardice, showed forth. Shirley Kent, portraying the dry witted secretary, could have had more acidity in her delivery. However, whenever anger or annoyance overcame her, she shined.

The man who made the story come to life was Arlan Welch. The minute he stepped onto the stage, the dialogue became snappier and all of his fellow actors were lifted up and they showed that they were amused along with the audience. He gave the play the lightness that it needed; however, he was excellent in his poignant showing of a man who was in love when he gave forth with his monologue to Woody on his frustrated attempts to secure the attention of Agatha Reed, and also his gay mood as he sprinkled the room with rose petals in anticipation of his dream coming true.

Supporting Cast

Also outstanding were Kathleen Caldwell as the busybody Miss Shackleford, Jeannie McGarraghy as the knowing daughter Ginny Merrill, Miriam Birch as Agatha's "old" friend Ellen Griswold, Jack Jones as the domineering Claude Griswold, and Carol Bredsteen with an interesting characterization of

INTERNATIONAL DEBATE SCHEDULED; UCSBC TEAM MEETS OXFORD DEBATERS

An international debate event will be presented to the public on Nov. 18 when a touring debate team from Oxford University, England, will appear with the leading student debaters from Santa Barbara College of the University of California. The debate will take place at 8 pm in the Santa Barbara College Riviera auditorium.

WAC Officer Posts Open

The Military Science Department has received information that a limited number of commissions in the Women's Army Corps (WAC) may be granted to qualified students who anticipate graduation in June 1954. Such commissions may be granted with or without concurrent call to active duty.

Active duty in the WAC offers attractive pay (total - $338.58 per month), opportunity for travel, and useful training toward a civilian career. Inactive duty usually necessitates attendance at four 2-hour evening training periods a month, for which the participant receives approximately $30.00 a month.

It is hoped that a commissioned member of the WAC can be brought to this campus if interest warrant it. Women students who wish to inquire further into the possibility of a WAC commission should see Captain Mercer M. Doty, Military Science Department, at their earliest convenience.

RRR DIRECTORS

WANTED—Capable Directors for the Road Runner Revue. Anyone who is interested and thinks they have the qualifications are asked to submit their applications to Melida Horn and Jack Christoferson of the Special Events Committee.

The "RRR," presented in March, runs for three nights. It consists of skits and musical numbers.

State Control Debated

The subject for the evening's discussion will be "This House Believes in the Principle of State Control of Vital Public Services." This will be a mixed team debate with one member of each university team debating on each side of the question.

Representing Santa Barbara College will be William Hoisington and Peter Kane, and from Oxford University will be Patrick Mayhew and John Peters. Hoisington and Peters will take the affirmative side of the question and Kane and Mayhew will take the negative.

First Appearance

This will be the first California appearance of the Oxford debaters who will arrive here after debating Brigham Young University, Utah.

The Oxford students are sponsored on their tour by the Institute of International Education and the English Speaking Union. UCSBC sponsors for the event are the Committee on Drama, Lectures, and Music; the Associated Students; Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity, and Pi Sigma Alpha, national honorary political science fraternity.

Student Tickets

The price of admission will be 25 cents for students will be made to cover incidental expenses. Tickets are available at the Speech Department or the Graduate Manager's office. They will also be available at the auditorium box office on the evening of the event.

CAL NEWS

DAVIS, Nov. 5—Pressure for high marks, crowded classrooms, and "everybody cheats" were the main reasons given for cheating in a 30-state survey. A new honor system to wipe out these causes has started here.

UCLA, Nov. 5—Mutual tolerance and respect were declared the keys to better relations among the Daily Bruin, Student Legislative Council, and the President's Cabinet, when the three groups met last night.

BERKELEY, Nov. 5—An editorial comment: Charity should be charity and not taxation. See El Gaucho editorial.

BERKELEY, Nov. 6 — King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece were honored at a special University meeting November 8. STUDENT UNION COMMITTEE TOURS GOLETA CAMPUS; MEMBERS SEE PLANS

Members of the Santa Barbara College Student Union Committee of the Associated Students this week toured the future Student Union facilities on the new UC SBC campus at Goleta and reviewed detailed conversion plans with Ray Ford of the University Architects and Engineers office.

Finance Plans

The financing plan for the alteration of the former Marine base post exchange into a spacious and fully equipped Student Union is now under consideration by the Regents of the University.

Among the services to be housed in the conversion project will be a self-service bookstore, coffee shop, coeducational lounge, Associated Women Students club room, recreation room, government post office, student council chamber, and other rooms as yet unassigned.

Office Space

Office space will be provided for the Graduate Manager, student body officers, El Gaucho, La Cumbre dark room, desk space for the class officers.

The large recreation room will accommodate card tables, ping-pong tables and other such items. The area may later be utilized as additional space for an enlarged cafeteria.

Committee Members

Members of the Associated Students committee working on the project are George Allen, chairman; Dave Hodgkin, student body president; Priscilla Simms and Melida Horn, legislative council member-at-large; Pamela Smyser, El Gaucho editor and committee secretary; Bill Thomas, freshman representative; Jim Roberts, sophomore representative, and Bob Lorden, Graduate Manager. J.A.D. Muncy, SBC business manager; Helen E. Sweet, Dean of Women; Ellen E. Bowers, counselor of women students, and Dr. Lyle G. Reynolds, Dean of Men, were also present at the meeting.

Charity Begins Where?

Last week, the Legislative Council of ASUCSBC took a step forward when President Dave Hodgins announced the organization of a Charities Committee to study the on-campus drives of various charities and make recommendations to the student council for approval.

A recent drive on this campus pointed out the need for a new policy concerning the organizations that hold out their hands for help. The Community Chest, certainly a worthwhile organization, staged a one-day drive on campus and received less than $5 from the more than 1500 students at SBC. As many have pointed out, the students are asked to give at their living groups, Greek houses AND on campus, three times for one organization.

The University regulations state that there may be four drives for charity per year, which means that the student may be asked for donations 12 times per year. There are few students who can afford to be this charitable.

At both UCLA and Berkeley, the Associated Students hold one drive per year, under the direction of a special committee, which is responsible to the Legislative Council. The committee then allocates the money to various organizations, with the approval of the elected representatives of the students.

There are many for and against this system. Those in favor of the method point out that this one drive per year means that the individual need only contribute once, and the donation is made through the college. Less bother and, on the whole, less money is involved.

Those opposing the system say they would rather give small amounts spread out over a period of time, rather than a larger donation all at once.

Another objection that has been raised is the arbitrary apportioning of funds to certain organizations, with the individual student having no say in how the money is spent. Those dissenters would rather choose the charities to which they contribute.

However, this distinction is abstract rather than practical, as the college is allowed four drives per year, of which, two are set by University regulations, and two by the Legislative Council.

El Gaucho would like to suggest that the committee seriously study the systems of several other campuses of the University of California and that of Santa Barbara College before making any recommendations to Council. If the present system is continued, there are many improvements to be made.

We would also like to suggest that the students of this college think about, talk about the problem, and let their elected representatives know what they want.

Easy Come . . . by Joanne Kyger

With the passing of Sadie Hawkins day, the Santa Barbara woman now rests in peace, the subtleness of her drive having been allowed to manifest itself for one day in a fruitful and rewarding search for mankind.

As always, one accepts this occurrence with its superficial sense of fun and its deep rooted psychological background and perhaps even looks forward to its repetition next year. However, since the sequence of its events is not (according to Biology 1A lecture) what we have been taught to think of as being normal in the scheme of things, it came almost as a shock when a group of collegiate bachelors huddled at one end of the tables at the snack area intoned over their coffee cups in anemic breaths, "We like it this way. Lets have it forever."

James Thurber, America's leading humorist has worried about the predicament of his sex for some time but finally with a resigned respectability has accepted the inevitability of women and urges abandonment of the loose term "man" for it is no longer inclusive or scientifically correct.

According to him, there is man and there is woman and woman is going her own way.

The most frightening study of mankind is man, he says, who has failed to run the world and therefore woman must take over if the species is to survive. Thurber finds it easy to discern in the male physiognomy the symptoms of the extinction which threatens his sex: an air of uncertainty, an expression of futility, a general absence of "hold" and a passive resistance to sex.

The only reason Mr. Thurber pictures woman as savage in his work is that they have failed to come up to the level that he thinks they can reach. He says he would like to see a matriarchy—"as a matter of fact, girls are bigger and stronger these days and most of them wear a size 10 shoe. Maybe nature is working it out."

Perhaps we don't want it that way. Maybe we would like Sadie Hawkins day just once a year, but it looks like it's being jammed down our throats if we like it or not. Man will cease to be our enjoyment. He'll be our responsibility.

PIN NOTES . . . by Ruth Meyers

DOGPATCH DOLTS . . . Have you ever seen a "scrounger" looking bunch than the Delta Sigs who were selling tickets to the Sadie Hawkins Dance? They certainly deserve congratulations for doing a fine job on the dance AND for having nerve enough to go around last week looking like something out of "Tobacco Road."

WELL-DONE . . . Bill Tuning's poem "Search" which has been selected by the National Poetry Association for their Annual Anthology of College Poetry; Sig Ep "Rusty" Buchanan's banjo playing which won him the finals in the Harry Babbit show and a new car.

MAD, IMPETUOUS FOOLS . . . Nancy Kralick who is engaged to Larry Evans of the Navy; Bobbie Rolfe, Theta, pinned to Sig Ep Harley Bragg.

CAMPUS CORRUPTER . . . John Dickenson is urging everyone to try his free Chesterfields. He's "Rep-At-Large" for the company.

MY FAVORITE . . . Talent on campus is that of Kurk Lamb, Hal Brendle, and Brooks Coleman. They supply the ideas for our band stunts which are some of the most original in the Cal schools. Not to be overlooked is the Gaucho Bear who never fails to get laughs shooting ray-guns or waving at Colonel's Coeds.

Gridmen Lose 26-13; Gator Passes Fatal To Gaucho Hopes

Paced by the passing of Maury Duncan, San Francisco State College rolled to a 26-13 victory over Santa Barbara College last Saturday night on a rain-soaked field at Cox Stadium.

The Gauchos controlled the ball through the game, but could not contain Duncan, whose three touchdown passes and eight completions set a new San Francisco State record for the season.

For Santa Barbara, the main consolation was an improved rushing attack which gained 198 yards — their best showing of the season. Leading the Gauchos' effort was Sal Padilla who carried the ball 25 times for a net yardage of 95. Fullback Don Day also added considerably to the Santa Barbara total with 66 yards in 10 tries.

The defeat was Santa Barbara's fourth of the season against two victories and one tie.

Strong Kirby Shoe Five First Gaucho Foe; Outstanding Schedule Features Midwest Tour

The Gauchos will open the 1953-54 basketball season Nov. 21 with an exhibition in Ventura against the Kirby's Shoes. Los Angeles AAU quintet, and move into California Collegiate Athletic Assn. competition against Los Angeles State in the Channel City, Jan. 8.

Coach Willie Wilton's cagers open their week-long Midwest jaunt Feb. 2 in Detroit against the Wayne University Tartars and will play the University of Akron, Lake Forrest College and Washington University of St. Louis before returning.

In addition to the 28 games already scheduled, Wilton is negotiating for a home and home series with the Santa Maria Dukes of the National Industrial Basketball League.

MARV ASHBY, veteran center on the Santa Barbara College football team, suffered a broken bone in his right leg during the San Francisco State game last Saturday. The loss of Ashby will seriously hamper the locals in their final tilt against San Diego State.

PING PONG TOURNAMENT
If you like to bat the little white pills around, you can sign up now for the co-ed ping pong tournament, starting Tuesday, Dec. 8, from 7 to 10 pm, at the Recreation Center. This establishment is located at the corner of Carrillo and Anacapa.

Teams will consist of one girl and one boy. If you have a team organized you may enter it now by getting in touch with Dick Kaywood in West Hall 110, or the Womens PE Department.

Intramural Basketball

The basketball season opens tonight at 7 pm in the Men's Gym with Lambda Chi Alpha competing against Sigma Pi.

There are seventeen teams in the double elimination tournament. Games will be played from Monday through Thursday, with three games a night.

SBC Rifle Team Fired Against UCLA Varsity

In its first "bigtime" shoulder-to-shoulder competition in two years the Gauchos Rifle Team was nosed out last Saturday by UCLA by a score of 1898 to 1794. Bob Peterson and All-American Dick Tatus paced the winners with individual scores of 389 and 385 respectively out of 400.

Captain Cliff Horn was high man for the Gauchos with a score of 375. The other four members of the UCSBC team were Bob Foss, Tilden Latham, Armand Sansum, and Norman Grim. For the remainder of this semester the riflemen will concentrate on the Hearst National Matches before meeting Cal Poly and Cal.

First Dramatic Event

Miss Birdshaw, teacher of Sex Hygiene.

Of particular quality in portrayal in relatively minor parts was Patricia Lumley as the exuberant Mary Nell Dodge as well as Frank Rowley as the deep thinking Dr. Pitt, Larry Drass as the flighty Professor Dingley, and Sally Hiatt as a bored but dutiful student body representative having to give flowers.

Direction of the Fay Kanin play was snappy while production aspects were adequate. The introduction of music before each act helped to prepare the audience for the mood of the play and should be continued. Perhaps a little more attention to lighting would have lent more to the atmosphere.

AWS Program Given on Monday for Coeds

Mrs. Creut Nieueries will be the first of a series of speakers to be presented for the AWS. The talk will be held on Monday, Nov.
23 at 11 am in the AWS room.

Mrs. Nieueries, who has spent many years in India, will give her first hand views on the problems which are prevalent in India. Throughout the rest of the year the AWS will present women speakers who are outstanding in their work, their careers or their community.

An AWS card is necessary to attend. These cards may be purchased at the Graduate Manager's Office.

Students, Faculty to Tangle at Tennis Net

The traditional student-faculty mixed doubles tennis tournament will take place on Nov. 21 and 22 at 10 am. There will be three games — students pitted against students, faculty against faculty, and a playoff between the winning student team and the victorious faculty team. Trophies will be awarded to the final winners.

The entry fee is 50 cents per person. The place to sign up is the bulletin board outside the Men's Gym, and the deadline is Thursday, Nov. 19.

CCUN Meeting To Discuss Model UN Session

Are you interested in world politics? The California Collegiate United Nations invites you to attend a discussion tonight at 7:30 at Pine Hall 102. The subject of the discussion will be how the CCUN can work on this campus.

Plans for the model UN session in March at UCLA will be presented in conjunction with a report on the UN meeting at Berkeley last year.

CHOICE OF YOUNG AMERICA FOR THE FIFTH STRAIGHT YEAR —

CHESTERFIELD

IS THE LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES . . .

by a 1953 survey audit of actual sales in more than 800 college co-ops and campus stores from coast to coast. Yes, for the fifth straight year Chesterfield is the college favorite.

CHESTERFIELD IS THE ONLY
CIGARETTE EVER TO GIVE YOU PROOF OF LOW NICOTINE, HIGHEST QUALITY

The country's six leading brands were analyzed—chemically—and Chesterfield was found low in nicotine—highest in quality.

← This scene reproduced from Chesterfield's famous "center spread" line-up pages in college football programs from coast to coast.
