

Daily Nexus

Vol. 64, No. 33

Wednesday, October 26, 1983

University of California, Santa Barbara

One Section, 16 Pages

Campus Rules Are Reviewed By Committee

By BOB BETTS
Nexus Reporter

The UCSB campus rules and regulations are currently under review by the Campus Regulations Revision Committee which has been revising the document for a year, Director of Student Life Leslie Lawson said.

The committee is revising regulations regarding non-university speakers, literature posting and distributing, and other speech and advocacy issues, UCSB Student Lobby Director Robijn Van Giesen said.

The previous revision of the campus regulations was in August, 1979, Lawson said, and the current revision process began in the fall of 1982. "We hope to get it submitted by November 1 and printed by January 1," she said.

The Regulations Committee has held two public meetings this week to receive student input, mainly from Associated Students, Lawson said. The Student Lobby has been most active in the student input, she said.

Once the revision process is complete, any further changes "have to be very substantial in order to be changed," Van Giesen said.

Lawson said any changes made after the revision period involve a meeting of the Revision Committee. "The committee makes a recommendation to the vice chancellor, which then goes to the chancellor, to General Counsel (the legal advisor to the regents), and to the president of the university for approval," she said.

The Campus Regulations Applying to Students' Activities and Organizations is divided into two parts: campus activities organization and student conduct and discipline, Assistant Vice Chancellor for Student and Community Affairs Ernie Zomalt said.

"The discipline section is about the same," Zomalt said. However, there will be a new records management process that will involve a committee which determines whether a student's record can be expunged of minor infractions to protect them from future discrimination, he said.

Lawson said this change is very significant. "Students that received discipline during their freshman year couldn't purge their file," she said, adding that all law schools, for example, require a student's disciplinary record.

People who wish to do any kind of soliciting at the long lines on campus during registration, and filing, will first have to receive approval from the Activities Planning Center, Lawson said, referring to the lines as an "involuntary audience."

Bands will no longer be allowed to perform in Storke Plaza during daytime hours (12-2) because of the noise, Lawson said. However, the UCen lawn will be "beefed up for performances" and become available three times a quarter, she said. This restriction does not include night and weekend performances, she added.

The library mall is open to soliciting 25 feet away from the building and restricts any amplification, Lawson said.

In addition, banners will no longer be allowed above the bike tunnels, Van Giesen said, but he noted that "some student groups

(Please turn to pg.12, col.3)

TOM TRUONG/Nexus

Student debate and discussion arose in front of the UCen yesterday in reaction to a sign held by two UCSB students, Adjeveno (left) and Amenophis. The two do not represent any organized group on campus, but wanted to make a public statement about the invasion of Grenada. Although the subject of the poster was the Grenada incident, heated discussion among the students also focused on Lebanon and Israel, Central America and the issue of American colonialism.

U.S. Forces Invade Grenada

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — Nearly 2000 U.S. marines and paratroopers invaded the Caribbean island of Grenada in lightning airborne strike Tuesday, under orders to protect American residents and "restore democracy" in the tiny Marxist-ruled state.

President Reagan called the swift pre-dawn operation "completely successful" in its initial stages. But armed Grenadian resistance continued through the day, and casualties were reported — as of 9 p.m. Tuesday night, at least two American soldiers, three Grenadians and 12 Cubans were killed, and 20 Americans were wounded. The Americans clashed with a Cuban work force that had been extending a runway at the point Salines airport. 30 Soviet advisers and 600 Cubans were captured in the invasion, U.S. officials said.

Reagan said the 1,900 Marines and Army Ranger paratroopers, who were later backed up by 300 troops from six Caribbean nations, seized the two main airports on the mountainous, 21-mile-long island.

Medical students who makes up the majority of the estimated 1,000 Americans on Grenada were reported unharmed, although pinned down by the continuing fighting.

U.S. helicopter gunships circled the St. George's medical College, apparently drawing fire from Grenadian snipers, American student Mark Carpenter reported by ham radio.

"Every time a gunship goes over, there's fire all around us," Carpenter said in a broadcast monitored by the Associated Press.

The Soviet Union demanded that U.S. forces withdraw immediately from Grenada. The British government expressed reservations about the attack. And medical school officials and another American ham operator on the island insisted U.S. citizens had been in no danger from Grenada's new authorities.

Two Projects Slated To Study Isla Vista Cityhood Proposal

By JAMES ALEXANDER
Nexus Reporter

Controversy existing over the possible incorporation of Isla Vista has prompted further study of the issues involved.

Two reports, one written by the county and the other by UCSB, propose in depth research of the possible consequences of I.V. incorporation.

The county research could be done through an Environmental Impact Report focusing on the economics of I.V. as a city, Environmental Planner Dan Gira said. It is the economic issues that are causing the biggest uproar, he said.

The university is planning a "financial feasibility study" on the possible effects of I.V. incorporation, Assistant Vice Chancellor for Student and Community Affairs Ernest Zomalt, said.

Isla Vista Community Council Chair Marc Borgman stated his belief that UCSB's prime contention is not financial but political.

Borgman cites UCSB opposition to I.V. incorporation as a major stumbling block to cityhood. Zomalt, however, feels justified in the university concern for student attitudes and housing in I.V.

"We as a campus are trying to get a handle on what is in (the community's) best interest," Zomalt said.

Having outlined a revenue sheet for I.V. as a city, Borgman points to a $465,000 surplus each year as a measurement of stability. This surplus does not include revenue from offshore oil platforms and federal housing grants, revenue that could amount to over $800,000 each year.

Zomalt agreed that short term estimates look favorable. It is the long term effects that UCSB is probing, he said.

If I.V. becomes a city, the state would allocate $57 for every registered voter in the city. This amounts to a sum of $638,286. However, after the 1990 census this amount will drop to $19 for each resident of the city, only totaling to about $323,000. These figures take into account that the I.V. population is not expected to change appreciably, Borgman said.

Revenue from a gas tax would be figured in a like manner, he said. At this time the city would receive $444,249, but after the census this sum is reduced to approximately $172,000. Borgman explained. Differences such as these must be carefully checked and evaluated, Gira said.

The proposed revenue I.V. might gain from the Holly oil platform is another controversial issue. Gira questions the possible effects of gaining revenue from this well. The loss of potential income might deprive Goleta of needed money for an incorporation of its own, he said.

Due to these uncertainties, the university opposes incorporation, Zomalt said. It would be the "worst thing in the world to have a bankrupt city on our doorstep," Zomalt said.

Looking at possible political effects of incorporation is another topic of study, Zomalt said.

If the proposal succeeds, governmental fragmentation might take place, Zomalt said. Fragmentation would cause a slew of agencies to be formed, thereby paving the way for an inefficient bureaucracy, he said.

For this reason UCSB supports "the largest municipal facility on the south coast," Zomalt said.

Borgman argued that fragmentation will not occur and Gira agreed. But, Gira said, if Goleta and Hope Ranch were to one day incorporate themselves fragmentation could result.

Because of the controversy involved with this issue, the Division of Environmental Review has received letters from I.V. residents addressing the proposal, Gira said. These letters, primarily from older homeowners, generally oppose incorporation, he said.

Mentioned in many of these letters is a fear of inadequate police and fire protection resulting from I.V. cityhood, Gira said.

Borgman believes that instead of less efficient

(Please turn to pg.16, col.1)

Cheating Study To Address A Major Concern

By LAURENCE ILIFF
Nexus Reporter

Professor of Anthropology Brian Fagan has been chosen by Chancellor Robert Huttenback to prepare a detailed analysis of cheating and dishonesty at UCSB, and devise concrete steps, as Fagan said, "to make cheating much tougher."

Huttenback believes that cheating is a major concern on this campus and that through Fagan's study, the UCSB community will have a better understanding and awareness of it. "My hope is that the problem is not so great," he added.

Fagan agreed to accept this position in addition to a full teaching load because "it's very important," he said.

"There's no use in talking about academic quality if cheating is prevalent because it undermines the whole process; either you have a university or you don't," Fagan said.

Fagan sees classroom dishonesty as a difficult and complex thing to study because, "people don't talk about it, a lot of people choose to ignore it," he said.

Brian Fagan

His appointment as special assistant to the chancellor is in response to what he feels is a growing concern among students and faculty about dishonesty, and he commented, "I think there are increasingly strong feelings about the evils of cheating." He said this attitude is true at UCSB and throughout the country.

Huttenback said he chose Fagan because he was head of a relevant committee last year, has always done an excellent job in the past, and because of his "ability and experience," Huttenback said.

Fagan said he does not know if cheating is currently on the rise and this is one of the questions he will address in his study of the problem at UCSB. "My guess is that dishonesty has always been here, it's just become a big concern," he said.

Fagan is now beginning to collect information concerning dishonesty from a variety of sources. The information will be gathered from formal questionnaires, informal interviews with large numbers of students and faculty, and comparison with situations at other universities.

The report will be written during the next six months. Fagan said he will gather massive student input, and will talk with anyone who would like to contribute input.

Through this information gathering process, Fagan hopes to get an accurate picture of the dishonesty situation on this campus. He will then write a definitive study that specifies

(Please turn to pg.12, col.3)

headliners

From The Associated Press

State

Dunphy Stabilized

TV news anchorman Jerry Dunphy and a co-worker, wounded in a hail of bullets fired by a car, may have been victims of a random "drive-by shooting," a police investigator said Tuesday.

ABC spokeswoman Gaylynn Monroe said the 62-year-old Dunphy "apparently was just millimeters away from death" when one of the bullets passed through his neck Monday night.

"We have nothing to indicate they (the gunmen) knew it was Jerry Dunphy" when they opened fire on his dark blue Rolls Royce convertible at an intersection near the ABC-TV complex in Hollywood, Lt. Ed Henderson of the police major crimes division said Tuesday.

Dunphy — a TV news fixture since 1976 — was in "satisfactory and stable condition" Tuesday at Hollywood Presbyterian Medical Center, Monroe said. He was shot once in the neck and once in the left arm.

The other victim, makeup artist Sandra Marshall, 36, was shot once in the right arm and was in stable condition at the hospital, Monroe said.

A Merced County man was ruled incompetent to stand trial on a charge that he threatened President Reagan in a meeting with a Los Banos priest.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Coyle committed Santos Cruz Santiago, 32, to a federal facility at Springfield, Mo., Monday.

Santiago was placed in a Merced psychiatric facility after his arrest Aug. 9 on a charge that he made a verbal threat against the president, blaming him for being indifferent to the poor.

Santiago stated: "Stupid Reagan. If people would back me, I'd shoot him right in the forehead with a .45," investigators said.

Nation

Reagan Rearranges Commission

President Reagan fired half the Civil Rights Commission to make room for his own team of conservatives Tuesday in a move that effectively puts the gadfly agency out of business at least temporarily.

Outraged civil rights groups said the three ousted members, appointed by two previous presidents, were guilty only of criticizing the administration's record.

A bipartisan effort was launched in the Senate to reconstitute the commission as an independent arm of Congress, and House Democrats unanimously approved a statement "strongly" disapproving of Reagan's action, which it said was taken "without cause."

Reagan's surprise move came after five months of wrangling between the administration and congressional liberals over the makeup of the independent commission.

In one stroke last May, Reagan proposed three nominees to replace members held over from the Carter and Ford administrations. The holdovers are Mary Berry, Blandina Ramirez, and Murray Saltzman.

In firing the holdovers, Reagan called on the Senate to confirm his appointees: Morris Abram, John Bunzel, and Robert Destro. They all share Reagan's belief that quota systems and mandatory busing are inappropriate ways to end racial discrimination.

The firing leaves the commission without its required quorum of four, meaning it cannot even meet until at least one more member is confirmed by the Senate.

Reaction to Reagan's move was swift.

"We are appalled by the abrupt firing of three dedicated servants of civil rights," said John E. Jacob, president of the National Urban League. "The administration's move is an insult to the civil rights community and to the Congress which has been searching for ways to preserve an effective Civil Rights Commission."

Joaquin Avila, president and general counsel of the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund, said the firing was "both illegal and destructive to the fabric of civil rights."

Prices for cars, food, and housing accelerated in September, pushing overall consumer costs up 0.5 percent in the biggest one-month increase since May, the government reported Tuesday. However, inflation for the first three quarters of the year was still at the slowest in a decade.

Both private and government economists said the recent pickup in prices was no cause for alarm. But White House spokesman Larry Speakes injected a note of caution.

WEATHER — clear with local north to northeast winds decreasing during the morning. Highs near 80.

A walk on the beach at sunset ... the perfect cure for the midterm blues.

TOM REJZEK/Nexus

World

Marines Told 'Shoot To Kill'

U.S. Marines were ordered into sandbagged bunkers Tuesday and told to "shoot to kill" anyone approaching their camp after three trucks that officials feared might be filled with explosives drove nearby.

The Pentagon said the death toll from Sunday's terrorist bombing of a U.S. Marine command post rose to 207 as six more bodies were recovered and one man died of injuries in a hospital in West Germany.

The suicide strike was carried out by a man driving a truck packed with a ton of explosives. It was the bloodiest attack against the U.S. military since Vietnam.

The Marine commander, Col. Timothy Geraghty, told reporters 20 bodies were still in the rubble. About 70 Americans were injured, many of whom are being treated in military hospitals in West Germany, Italy and Cyprus.

French spokesman Lt. Col. Philippe De Longeaux said 33 French troops were killed, 15 wounded, and 20 were missing in the bombing at a French command seconds after the attack on the Americans.

About 300 Marine troops arrived at the camp to replace their fallen comrades, and the Marine commandant, Gen. Paul K. Kelley, arrived to inspect the jagged concrete wreckage of the Marine building.

Attacks by rebel exiles based in neighboring countries are taking a heavier toll on Nicaragua's already battered economy, bringing even more hardship to housewives and the man in the street.

"It can't hurt us politically, and it can't hurt our morale. In fact, the reverse is true," said Deputy Finance Minister William Hupper. "It will bring us together. But yes, it can hurt all phases of the economy."

Nicaragua claims that since January, the CIA has been secretly supporting the Nicaraguan Democratic Front rebels based in Honduras and the Revolutionary Democratic Front based in Costa Rica in their fight to overthrow the leftist Sandinista government.

In September, the rebels switched from military to economic targets, blowing up fuel tanks, damaging or wrecking power plants and bridges, and burning crops, and increasing damage to the economy, until then estimated at $120 million. Newer figures are not yet available.

An attack Oct. 11 on the Pacific port of Corinto destroyed more than 3 million gallons of fuel, drastically reducing the country's oil reserves and skyrocketing the price. Nicaragua has no oil and spends $150 million a year — 20 percent of its import budget — buying it abroad.

The tanks and fuel lost in Corinto belonged to Esso, a local subsidiary of the American oil company Exxon, and Esso is paying for it. But the company has refused to let its ships carry oil to Nicaragua any more.

The Mexican labor movement will demand a 72 percent increase in wages next year, but will not request emergency raises despite a government decision to cut subsidies for three basic products, labor chief Fidel Velazquez said.

Velazquez, veteran president of the Mexican Workers Central, which represents 4 million workers, told reporters the current minimum wage of about $3.70 a day "is not enough to cover 30 percent of the consumer needs of the workers."

Daily Nexus

Catie Lott
Editorials Editor

Elizabeth Nelson
County Editor

Ruth Lafler
Copy Editor

Vanessa Grimm
Editor-in-Chief

Robin Stevens
Managing Editor

Greg Wong
Photo Editor

Becky Dodson
News Editor

Heidi Drewes
Campus Editor

Ed Evans
Sports Editor

The Daily Nexus is published by the Press Council and partially funded through the Associated Students of the University of California, Santa Barbara daily except Saturday and Sunday during the school year, weekly in summer session.

Second Class Postage paid at Santa Barbara CA Post Office Publication No. USPS 775-300.

Mail Subscription price $30.00 per year, $15.00 per quarter, payable to the Daily Nexus, Thomas M. Storke Communications Building, P.O. Box 13402, Santa Barbara, CA 93107.

Editorial Office 1035 Storke Bldg., Phone 961-2691.

Advertising Office 1041 Storke Bldg., Phone 961-3828.

Printed by Santa Barbara News-Press.

Editorial Matter — Opinions expressed are the individual writer's and none others. Cartoons represent the opinions of the individuals whose names appear thereon. Editorials represent a consensus viewpoint of the Daily Nexus Editorial Board. Editorial opinions expressed in the Daily Nexus do not reflect those of the University of California, Santa Barbara, its faculty or student body. Complaints concerning the editorial content of the Daily Nexus should be made to the editor in Storke Communications Bldg., Rm. 1035 (961-2696). All items submitted for publication become the property of the Daily Nexus.

Advertising Matter — Except as clearly implied by the advertising party or otherwise specifically stated, advertisements in the Daily Nexus are inserted by commercial activities or ventures identified in the advertisements themselves and not by the University of California, Santa Barbara. Advertising material printed herein is solely for informational purposes. Such printing is not to be construed as a written or implied sponsorship, endorsement or investigation of such commercial enterprises or ventures. Complaints concerning advertisements in the Daily Nexus should be directed to the advertising manager in Storke Communications Bldg., Rm. 1041 (961-3828).

The University of California, in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, or age in any of its policies, procedures, or practices; nor does the University discriminate on the basis of sexual orientation. This nondiscrimination policy covers admission and access to, and treatment and employment in, University programs and activities, including but not limited to, academic admissions, financial aid, educational services, and student employment.

Inquiries regarding the University's equal opportunity policies may be directed to: Raymond Huerta, Affirmative Action Coordinator, phone (805) 961-2089.

Opinion

Grenada

A memorable week for the Reagan administration.

Since Sunday 207 Marines have been found dead in Lebanon. Halfway across the world a surprise invasion of Grenada — one of the tiny Caribbean islands — has added three more Marines to the death list.

These two separate incidents, although occurring thousands of miles apart, have an uncanny similarity to one another. Place them alongside El Salvador, Nicaragua, Vietnam and we gain a clear picture of a re-occurring pattern — American intervention, American futility and American loss of life.

President Reagan's latest actions and the most blatant example of U.S. involvement based on self-serving interests, occurred in yesterday's invasion of Grenada. The island, supporting a population of 110,000, was taken at sunrise by approximately 1,500 U.S. Marine and Army Ranger Paratroopers. These units were also aided by a small contingent force drawn from six Caribbean allies who were flown in on U.S. planes after the initial assault.

The invasion was ordered as a result of the politically unstable situation in Grenada stemming from last week's military coup and murder of Prime Minister Maurice Bishop along with several of his cabinet ministers. Bishop's Marxist regime was then replaced with what the Reagan Administration has labeled a "hard-line Marxist" regime. The President quickly moved to quell this new government, citing the restoration of "order and democracy" as one of his prime motivating factors.

With this latest military action, Reagan once again seems intent on embroiling America in a cause for which this country has no means of justification.

The only legitimate motive calling for action on Grenada would have been to ensure the safety of the 1,000 U.S. citizens living there. The well-being of the American residents, however, had been assured by the new government of Grenada and further confirmed by U.S. consular officials visiting the country. It was for the sole reason of ensuring their safety, according to our government, that 1,900 men were deployed to the Caribbean.

It is apparent, however, in light of yesterday's invasion, Reagan's cold war rhetoric of us vs. them was the prevailing factor behind his actions. Fear of Cuban and Soviet encroachment, loss of democracy, and forestalling further chaos have become all too familiar themes for the various fighting fronts America now finds herself uncontrollably swept up in.

As a world power the U.S. can not return to a policy of total isolationism. We have a definite role and duty toward helping mold future generations and a better world which will be passed on. Taking an active part in shaping the world, however, should not be synonymous with U.S. imperialism. Using force to reform the Grenadian, or any government to this administration's will — especially at the cost of American lives — is a road which should be bitterly familiar to us all.

CISPES

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Last Thursday the U.S. House of Representatives voted to cut funding for the CIA's support of rebels who are trying to overthrow the government of Nicaragua. The Senate will consider the issue next, and they are expected to approve the funding as requested by President Reagan. This policy has been justified by the Reagan Administration by appeals to the "domino theory," that is, they allege that Nicaragua is supporting the rebels in nearby El Salvador. Whatever the goals of the U.S., however, the goal of the Nicaraguan rebels is clear, overthrow of the Sandanista government.

It certainly is not clear why the U.S. should be supporting these rebels.

No evidence has been supplied to prove the allegation of support for the Salvadoran revolution. Neither has any acceptable reason been provided for why the Sandinista government should be overthrown. Reports of visitors to Nicaragua describe a country trying to rebuild itself with a mixed public/private economy, and a government that enjoys tremendous support from the population. The government has established a timetable for elections to be held in 1985, the first such elections in Nicaragua in over 50 years.

Despite the lack of evident reason, the CIA's support for the counterrevolutionaries seems to be growing. This summer documents were discovered on the body of one of the pilots of a bombing run on Managua airport that linked the operation to the CIA. More recently, a major oil refining station on the Caribbean coast of Nicaragua was destroyed by skillfully set underwater explosives.

The Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES), is a group of North Americans who oppose the provision of military aid to the government of El Salvador by the U.S. We feel that these attacks on Nicaragua are unjustified, and that they represent a continuation of anti-democratic U.S. foreign policy in the region.

In an effort to learn more about the current situation in Nicaragua, and to encourage discussion of U.S. policy, CISPES will sponsor a slide show titled "Nicaragua Today" at 8 p.m. on Thurs., Oct. 27, in Phelps Hall 1420. We hope that everyone interested will attend and participate in the discussion. We have an obligation as citizens of the most powerful nation to inform ourselves, and to vote in an informed manner.

Thomas Clifford

tomorrow; hopefully, I'll get some mail today; hopefully I'll graduate this June — these are all commonly used and quite incorrect. Hopefully is an adverb. Is the rain hopeful? Do I have hopeful? Am I hopeful that I'll graduate or do I graduate hopefully?

The sentences should read: I hope it won't rain tomorrow; I hope I get some mail today; I hope I won't have too much homework; I hope I'll graduate in June. So how do you use hopefully correctly? Like this: I looked out the window hopefully (hopefully modifies looked). Hopefully I opened the P.O. box, thinking there might be some mail (hopefully modifies the verb opened). "You're not going to give us another assignment are you?" the student asked, looking up at the teacher hopefully (hopefully modifies looking up).

So hopefully I write this letter to the Nexus, and maybe I won't be the only person I know who uses hopefully correctly.

Take responsibility for yourself. Next time you want to use hopefully incorrectly, substitute it with "I hope."

Katherine D. Zimbert

Library

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Everyone who uses the library, has the opportunity to help make information contained in our library much more accessible to all its users and thereby facilitating the educational process for everyone.

Under the terms of the State of California Information Practices Act of 1977, library personnel cannot legally release the name of a person who has checked out a particular book unless that person has signed a waiver allowing them to do so. We have an excellent library, but duplication of books and journals is very rare. This means that the confidentiality of library circulation records makes a checked out book unavailable to another user until it can be recalled — a process which can take up to three weeks! This delay may be avoided if the person who has the book checked out has signed a waiver allowing his name to be released to a person seeking the book. Often the original borrower has finished with the book or if not, is willing to let another library user see the reference for a short time to obtain a vital piece of information, to xerox a passage or simply to complete a citation.

You can certainly appreciate the usefulness of this cooperative spirit by placing yourself in the position of the second borrower who has a term paper due in two days and finds a vital reference checked out of the library.

If you have not already done so, we urge you to sign the library information waiver which is available at the Loan Desk. Please have your library card with you for identification. Your signature allows the library personnel to release your name to a second library user who needs to see a specific reference you have checked out. It does not allow the second user to find out the entire list of materials which you have checked out. You would not have to give up the book so solicited, but it is usually no inconvenience to allow the second user a brief look on an emergency basis, and this helpful act may save you the nuisance of having the book recalled.

By law you cannot, of course, be required to sign a waiver, but the arguments above show that it is advantageous to you and to all other library users for you to do so. Thank you.

S.J. Peale, Chairman
Academic Senate
Library Committee

Adverb

Editor, Daily Nexus:

William Markham did well in writing about the demise of the adverb, (10-25-83) but as I hopefully read his column, I did not find a eulogy for my favorite abused adverb — hopefully. So here it is.

"Hopefully it won't rain

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

Opinion

Ellen Goodman

"Here's Henry"

When they announced "Here's Johnny" the other night, most of the audience knew where Carson was coming from: the lawyers. The estranged Mrs. Carson had just asked for $220,000 a month in temporary support.

Here, indeed, was material for a monologue. While his lawyers cringed, Johnny picked up his cue.

Once in childhood, he explained, his hero had been Babe Ruth. Then, as a young professional, he had looked to Jack Benny. During the past week however, he had latched onto a new hero: Henry the Eighth.

Now, under the circumstances we can understand Carson's nostalgia for the good old days when a man could sever his attachments so neatly. Henry after all had six wives. Johnny has had three. Two of Henry's wives ended up beheaded, while one of Johnny's will end up heading her own fortune.

The catalogue of expenses Joanna Carson claimed are enough to support a minor principality, or princess-ship. The most stunning revelation is that she is used to spending $37,000 a month in jewelry and furs and $5,000 a month for clothing. I cannot figure out how you spend that much on furs without buying an entire zoo, but there it is.

The request for $2.6 million a year surely makes Joanna Carson a candidate for the hit parade of top ten spenders. Who can resist the temptation to award her the title of money-grubbing divorcee of the year?

But if this is going to be a dialogue instead of a monologue, someone should present the other side. In the role of devil's advocate — although I would get paid more as either of the Carson's advocate — allow me to suggest this: If the Carsons were still married, we would regard her as no more than the over-indulged wife of an over-indulged performer. It is only upon divorce that the wife of a rich man is classified as a greedy harpy who is "trying to take him to the cleaners."

Is it more outrageous for Joanna to be awarded $220,000 a month by Johnny than for Johnny to be paid $1.5 million a month by NBC? If the wife of a pauper is a partner in his nothingness, isn't the wife of a millionaire a partner to his millions?

What is at stake here isn't just a fur allowance but a conflict in our attitudes toward the economics of marriage. This conflict runs through the newly published study on "American Couples," by Philip Blumstein and Pepper Schwartz.

The two researchers asked lots of questions about the role of money in couples' lives. They report that couples who are truly committed to a future with each other are more likely to pool their money. Indeed, they concluded, "If we were going to use one major indicator to determine when these couples became solidified as a unit it would be the point at which they joined their resources." At some moment money was no longer yours and mine, but ours.

At the same time, the researchers note, "the amount of money a person earns — in comparison with a partner's income — establishes relative power." Each person may continue to keep track of his or her share in "our" money.

Whatever conflicts lie latent in marriage tend to surface immediately in divorce. It's not just the former couple who experience them, but anyone observing the messy process.

On the one hand we think of long-term marriage as partnership, two people working as one mutual fund. If they split, surely the fund should be split. This theory is the law in California.

On the other hand we understand the way the economy works. Whether we are Johnny Carson or Johnny Carson's chauffeur, we are being paid as individuals. They weekly paycheck bears one name.

In the end, I favor the partnership theory, but not because of what happens when people separate. I favor it because of what it takes to hold a marriage together. As the authors of "American Couples" said, "There are many centrifugal forces that tug at relationships. To endure, couples need countervailing forces. One is financial interdependence."

We still need to maintain marriage as a shared venture, something which people nurture together, something that is larger than one or two paychecks. That's true whether the joint income is $15,000 a year or $1.5 million a month. We can only support that ideal by treating it like a partnership when it dissolves.

As for Johnny Carson, if Henry the Eighth is his role model, he better hustle. Henry died at 56. Carson is 57 and only ending his third marriage. Is there a fourth Mrs. Carson in the wings? Somebody better lend her a history book.

Ellen Goodman is a syndicated columnist.

John Finley

Solving Water Shortage

In recent months, a number of groups and individuals have attempted to explain why there is a shortage of housing and a problem with high rents in the Isla Vista/Goleta area. Listed below are a number of supposed causes along with suggestions as to what we can do about them.

#1 UCSB Unlimited Enrollment

According to Ed Birch, vice chancellor of student and community affairs, the higher enrollment at UCSB is due first to an increased demand for college education, and second, to an increase in popularity of the UCSB campus. While not denying that the increased enrollment has contributed to the housing shortage and higher rents, I would question whether it is in the best interest of students to become involved in trying to limit enrollment at UCSB since they would be putting their own future education in jeopardy. Besides, it seems rather inconsistent to limit enrollment at a tuition-free university.

Proponents of limited UCSB enrollment include Citizens for Goleta Valley who, by the way, support Donna Hone (one of its founding members), David Peri, and Carrie Topliffe for Goleta Water Board.

#2 Landlords and Unregulated Housing

It is true that landlords have contributed to higher rents in Isla Vista and Goleta, but it should be pointed out that the housing shortage is the main reason why they have been able to continue to increase rents. The alternative posed to students as a solution is rent control. According to a recent U.C. Regents study, rent control would encourage apartments to become run down in Isla Vista, where at present only 14 percent of the apartments are well-maintained. Rent control would also encourage non UCSB students to descend upon I.V. In a recent survey the UCSB population in I.V. has declined from 66.4 percent in 1970 to 56.5 percent in 1980.

Going after landlords with rent control is definitely not in the best interest of students. Proponents of rent control include the Isla Vista Community Council (IVCC) which is the I.V. Cityhood bunch supporting Carrie Topliffe for Goleta Water Board.

#3 Goleta Water District Moratorium on New Connections

Did you know that it's been ten years since the water moratorium was voted in, and the Goleta Water Board still hasn't figured out how to solve the water-shortage problem. It makes me think they're not seriously trying, especially when they held a dinner and square dance last May, celebrating the 10th Anniversary of the Water Moratorium, and the success of their "no-growth" philosophy in the Goleta Valley. It was sponsored by Citizens for Goleta Valley, the same group that protested to the Board of Supervisors last year (3-21-83) that UCSB had exceeded its enrollment limit by 200-250 students. I guess they're waiting until after the elections to mount their next campaign against us.

So what are our alternatives? Limit UCSB Enrollment—Would you like to volunteer to drop out? Slap Rent Control on Landlords—Forget it! I.V. is almost a student slum now. Elect a Water Board Committed to Solving the Water Shortage. YES! UCSB students have an opportunity on November 8th to vent their frustrations over the housing shortage and high rents by voting for candidates committed to solving the water shortage. Our water district is being held captive by a "no-growth" board majority that is asserting too much control over our lives. We need to make a statement. Let's go to the polls and free ourselves from tyranny. WATER IS LIFE — DON'T CONTROL IT!

Mr. Finley is a 1983 UCSB graduate with an M.A. in Musicology.

Chris Miller

Marines Must Leave

The Marines must leave Lebanon. Peace cannot be achieved with the present mix of American military force and diplomacy. Last Sunday, more than 200 Marines and sailors were killed in an early morning attack on the U.S. battalion command post at Beirut Airport. The Marines must depart, to be replaced by a new solution to the political problems of Lebanon.

Since the first Marine contingent arrived in Lebanon in September 1982, the U.S. military presence has been contradictory.

Under the mandate providing for a multinational peacekeeping force, American, French and Italian troops were charged with overseeing the withdrawal of the Palestine Liberation Organization from Beirut, Lebanon's capital. Once the PLO left Beirut, the Marines left Lebanon.

Two weeks later, they returned. The new Marine mission was to shore up Lebanon's central government and help contain factional fighting raging in Beirut.

Over the summer, artillery mounted in the hills above the airport base began pounding Marine positions. President Reagan gave his commanders permission to fire back, and on Sept. 19, a navy flotilla arrived off Lebanon's coast to begin shelling the hills outside Beirut Airport.

From yesterday's peacekeeping force of a few hundred, the few thousand Marines today have become a statement of U.S. resolve to maintain its particular interests in Lebanon. The Marines are no longer neutral, despite the administration's arguments to the contrary.

Whoever perpetrated last week's tragedy meant to call this bluff. Our presence in Lebanon confirms that, as always, the United States is a partisan in the Middle East, if never before a participant in the factional strife. We are Israel's ally. We are becoming Lebanon's ally.

The Marines were introduced into a situation in which they could never be effective. In the last year, 24 ships bearing foreign flags have entered the waters off Lebanon. Over a dozen are American. Combined with Italian, French and British forces, the Marines bring to 5,400 the number of foreign troops stationed in Lebanon.

So far, these foreign troops have been unable to calm fighting among the Christian Maronite Phalangists, the Moslem Druze and the Lebanese army. Other groups involved in the conflict are Shia and Sunni Moslem sects, whose members, historically at odds, occupy districts in Beirut and northern Lebanon.

One territory at stake is the northern Chouf Mountains, normally controlled by the Druze under Walid Jumblatt's National Salvation Front. There, the Maronite-Christians had taken over the large village of Souk-el-Gharb, only to be threatened by the Druze. The Phalangists were rescued by the Lebanese Army, which wanted to prevent the Druze from securing the Chouf for themselves or for Syria, their sponsor.

It was the Chouf Mountains that the American Sixth Fleet began bombarding in mid-September, in the belief that it was the Druze who had fired upon Beirut Airport.

Where has Israel been all this time? Israel's invasion of Lebanon in June 1982 to evict the Palestine Liberation Organization prompted some of the present chaos. By invading Lebanon in June 1982 to evict the PLO, Israel sought a secure northern border, a buffer zone between it and an aggressive Syria. Should Lebanon's government be stabilized by persuading the Syrians to leave, the Israeli objective will have been accomplished by the United States.

Two obstacles prevent an immediate withdrawal of the Marines. One is the recent congressional agreement allowing Reagan to keep the Marines in Lebanon for up to 18 months without further Congressional approval. The other is the administration's foreign policy.

President Reagan has revived a traditional policy of military intervention in countries whose internal divisions have no clear advantage for the United States. Yesterday, American forces invaded Grenada, where a hard-line Marxist government has taken over after the prime minister was killed in a coup. In Central America, as in Lebanon, U.S. military personnel play a one-sided role in a conflict indigenous to the nations upon whose territory it is being acted out.

The only U.S. role in Lebanon can be a diplomatic one. American interests are best served not by leaving the Marines in Lebanon, but by pushing harder for a negotiated political settlement. The first step is to withdraw the Marines.

U.S. Ambassador to the Middle East, Robert McFarlane, now the new national security advisor, helped arrange a cease-fire in Lebanon in mid-September. Should the cease-fire continue to hold, the way may be clear for a national reconciliation.

McFarlane and other mediators proposed including Lebanese President Amin Gemayal, the speaker of the Lebanese Parliament, Kamal al-Assad (a Shia Moslem), the prime minister, Shafik Wazzan (a Sunni Moslem), three members of Jumblatt's forces, and two others. No agreement has been reached so far, but the U.S., and all factions involved, have to keep trying — without the Marines.

Each of these interests has different plans for Lebanon. The United States must secure a free, independent Lebanon for its own reasons, as well as for the long-term stability of the region. If the Syrians and the factions within Lebanon can be convinced that this reason is valid, even without the Marines, an equivocal peace in Lebanon could be accomplished.

Chris Miller is a UCSB junior majoring in political science and history.

$10⁰⁰ and up
Shampoo, haircut, blow dry
 (Goleta Salon Only)
964-7781

DéCut
HAIR EXPRESS

For Women... Men
 5776 Calle Real • Close to campus
 Between Fairview & Patterson
 Weekdays 9:00 a.m. • 8 p.m.
 Saturdays 8:30 a.m. • 4 p.m.
 964-7781 Schwartzkopf

Goleta Valley Water District Candidates

Hone Maintains Board's Direction

This is the first of a eight articles featuring each Goleta Water Board candidate running in the Nov. 8 election. The eight candidates are running for the three seats opening on the board.

By STEVE LIST
 Nexus Reporter

Donna Hone, Goleta Valley Water District board member for six years, currently up for re-election, said she wants to maintain the board's public policy direction, and considers herself "largely responsible" for the progressive policies which the board has adopted.

The question of the water moratorium, which put a stop to rapid development in 1973, is the most important issue in the upcoming year, Hone said. The moratorium keeps Goleta out of "a hole we could never crawl out of" by balancing water supply and water demand.

"Goleta is a plum waiting to be picked. It has tremendous areas of undeveloped land which are buildable from a developers' point of view," Hone said. Rapid urbanization occurred in Goleta during the late 60s and early 70s, which resulted in a water deficit, she said.

Hone described the current pressure to experience similar rapid growth as "enormous." The moratorium is necessary until new water sources are found, she stated.

The importation of state water is also an important issue, Hone said, since the Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors has reserved an additional 8,000 acre feet of state water for Goleta, which could be used for rapid development. The city presently uses about 14,000 acre feet of water annually, so the reserve represents more than a 50 percent increase in available water, she said.

The reserve, however, is only an entitlement, Hone said, which must be approved by the board before the water is piped in. This entitlement is maintained by Goleta residents through a tax surcharge, Hone explained.

Holding on to this reserve water is "simply a delaying tactic to force us to continue to pay for something we don't want (water for rapid development) ... and for the opposition to figure out a way to force it down our throats," she stated.

An alternative method to increase local water supplies, Hone said, would be to sell our state water entitlement to (Please turn to pg.16, col.1)

Donna Hone

SPIKE'S PLACE
 SKINS • SPIRITS • STUFF

"Drink a Dink!"

DINKEL ACKER NIGHT
WEDNESDAY • OCTOBER 26

IT'S A "DRINK A DINK" PARTY
 ON WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26
 T-SHIRTS, HATS, PRIZES & PLENTY OF DINKEL ACKER
BEER at 99¢
 6030 Hollister Ave., Goleta • 964-5211

CASEY'S GARAGE
 Foreign Car Specialists

Routine Maintenance
 To Major Repair

6398 HOLLISTER AVE. Ph. 685-2279

CAN YOU BUY GOOD TASTE?

Yes! Now you can acquire good taste for a couple of bucks. Just wear shirts and visors that say "Dos Equis." After all, those are foreign words. And anyone in college knows people who wear stuff with foreign words and alligators have good taste. So, order your kind of good taste in Dos Equis sportswear today. And remember to eat your peanut butter and jelly sandwiches over the sink.

Order by mail. Send to "Dos Equis Offer" P.O. Box 10102, Portland, Oregon 97210. Send check or money order. Add 10% or $1 minimum, whichever is greater, for postage and handling.

Yes, both my socks match, so rush me the following "Your Kind of Taste" Sportswear.

Allow four weeks for delivery.

T-Shirts	Size	Qty.
Muscle Shirts	Size	Qty.
Baseball Jersey	Size	Qty.
Sun Visor	Size	Qty.
Golf Hat	Size	Qty.

$4.50 Tan
 $4.50 Black
 $6.00 White/Red
 $3.00 White/Red
 $3.50 White/Red

DOS EQUIS
 THE UNCOMMON IMPORT.

© 1983 Cerveceria Moctezuma, S.A.

As a Marine Officer, you could be in charge of a Mach 2+ F/A-18A, a vertical take-off Harrier or one of our other jets or helicopters. And you could do it by the time you're 23. But it takes a special commitment on your part. We demand leaders at all levels. We teach you to be one. If you're a freshman or sophomore, ask about our undergraduate officer commissioning programs. If you're a junior, check out our graduate programs. Starting salaries are from $17,000 to $23,000. And you can count on going farther...faster.

Go farther... faster.

Maybe you can be one of us.

*The Few.
The Proud.
The Marines.*

Marines

See your Officer Selection Officer, Capt D. H. Sexton or call (213) 468-3376 collect.

The Blue Angels' A-4 SKYHAWKS at an arms length wingtip-to-canopy separations.

The "Knife Edge" maneuver at closing velocity of 1000 mph.

The F-14 TOMCAT

The F-18 HORNET

Blue Angels

Together with an array of the best aircrafts in the world, the Blue Angels put on a spectacular show this past weekend at N.A.S. Point Mugu.

Photos by Tom Truong

The SR-71 BLACKBIRD with its after burners engaged.

A Female Drug Culture: Overuse And Addiction

By GINA GLENNON
Nexus Staff Writer

Society is witnessing the acceptance of alcohol and drug use by women with little concern for their health, Sandra Lee, member of the Santa Barbara Victoria Counseling Center, said.

Women and drug abuse was the focus of Monday night's lecture held in the Victoria Counseling Center, which specializes in treating compulsive behavior.

According to Lee, traditionally and presently, women are encouraged to drink and use drugs, however they are condemned once they are addicted. What has been denied is the connection between the chemical (alcohol and drugs) and the addict, Lee added.

The woman herself and her potential health hazards have been largely ignored throughout history, and instead, emphasis has been put on her role as simply wife and mother, Lee explained.

As an example of this perceived role, Lee referred to the London gin epidemic which occurred in 1700 when restrictions on gin were lifted. In the 18th century there was a decrease in the population and children were dying at early ages. Even though women were victims of alcoholism, due to their roles as mothers they were cast as the killers, Lee explained.

Women's use of drugs and alcohol is not based on their individual needs, but fits into a larger societal problem, Lee said. As economic conditions are changing the society, the increase of alcohol use among women has been three times more than among men in the last 30 to 40 years, and the trend is accelerating, Lee explained.

In 1979, the prescription drug market exceeded $1 billion, Lee said. At present, 60 percent of all doctor visits are made by women and the ratio of women to men who receive prescriptions for tranquilizers is two to one. Eighty percent of all legally obtained amphetamines are bought by women, Lee added.

A major factor in prescription writing is economic, Lee said. More patients means more money, therefore little time is taken to explore patients' lives and their use of alcohol. Some doctors don't explain the nature of the drug they are prescribing and how it will interact with other chemicals, she added.

"It's okay to say no to your doctor" and to reject chemicals he/she may prescribe to you as the answer. "We need to take the responsibility ourselves regarding these health issues," Lee said.

On the issue of taking personal responsibility, Lee recommended reading some of the books available on drug education, referring to three books in particular: The Invisible Alcoholic by Marian Sandmaier, The Female Fix by Muriel Nellis and The Tranquilizing of America by Huges Brewin.

Most people don't realize the addictive nature of many drugs, Lee said. Women drink for various reasons. Some women drink and use drugs to feel more feminine, and some drink during a crisis not understanding that the depressant effect of alcohol will in fact make the crisis seem worse, she said.

Secretive drinking is a big danger factor, Lee said. Women who become addicted to alcohol usually do it at home, so addiction becomes a slow successive process, Lee explained. It is hard for women to see themselves as hooked on alcohol or drugs and even harder for those around them, she added.

A study done by the California Women's Council on Alcoholism, showed that California women drink more than women in any other state, Lee said.

The media influence the public by spending enormous amounts of money to promote the use of alcohol and cigarettes, and by making their advertisements appear romantic, elegant and sophisticated, she explained.

STOP THE COMPUTER CENTER BLUES! RENT A COMPUTER, AND WORK FROM YOUR ROOM!

- NO MORE CROWDS
- WORD PROCESSING AT HOME
- TECHNICAL ADVICE
- IMPROVE GRADES!

apple IIe
$7.00/day rental*
$1000.00 total sale price

Morrow MD-3 includes complete software, 2 drives
$7.00/day rental*
$1899.00 total sale price

corona
IBM pc compatible w/word processing
$11.00/day rental*
$2995.00 total sale price

ACTRIX, complete computer system
w/printer, modem, software
$9.00/day rental*
$2190.00 total sale price

*based on monthly rate

- * COMPLETE SERVICE CENTER *
- * COMPLETE PERIPHERALS SUCH AS *
- * PRINTERS, TERMINALS AND MODEMS *
- * AVAILABLE FOR RENTAL OR SALE *

ENTECH COMPUTER RENTALS & SALES

EDi

104 W. ANAPAMU ST. 966-7917
SUITE E

In the Beginning, God created the Dough and the Sauce...

And the Dough was formless and void...

So God said, "Let there be Woodstock's!"
And there was Woodstock's...
And it was good.

And God said, "Let there be whole wheat crust, and an abundance of good things to cover the expanse thereof!"

And it was very good!

WOODSTOCK'S PIZZA PARLOR • 328 EMBARCADERO DEL NORTE • 965-5905
Free Delivery to a Limited Area • We Listen Exclusively to KTYD 99.9 FM

Pussycat Theatres Present

The Film The Entire World Has Been Waiting To See!

The Devil in Miss Jones Part II

Starring ANNA VENTURA

Co-Feature: The Greatest Little Cathouse In Vegas

Adults Only

Goleta: ROXY, 964-0011, 320 S. Kellogg Ave (Off Hollister), Open Daily 12 Noon

Annual Meeting Held For Authors

By RAY BALDERAS
Nexus Reporter

With comments ranging from serious to humorous, 22 authors gathered at an annual meeting last weekend to discuss several aspects of writing, including the pleasure of writing and themes and characters from their works.

The event, "Breakfast with the Authors," was held at the Holiday Inn in Goleta and was sponsored by the Santa Barbara County Schools' Library Committee.

One of the predominant themes in many of the stories is that no matter how glorified or idolized movie stars, presidents, and other great figures seem to be, they are actually just like "everyday" people.

Mel Boring writes stories which portray the remarkable people who build incredible constructions like the Panama Canal and the Statue of Liberty as people who are "just like us," he said.

This approach brings history closer to children because the children are not simply in awe of the builders, he explained. They can fully appreciate the considerable effort and time it takes to build large constructions. This approach makes children feel as if they could one day be as successful, Boring said.

One of the authors, who started to write children's books late in his life, was Tom Ernesto Bethancourt who was a jazz musician in New York until he was 41, he said.

He was writing a story for his daughter in between playing sessions, when a publishing editor that happened to be sitting at the bar noticed he was writing, Bethancourt said. She asked if she could read a few pages and eventually the author's first story was published.

Eve Banting writes stories with heavy themes that are suited for young adults and teenagers, she said. One of her most serious themes deals with the struggle to maintain a good and understanding relationship between a mother and a daughter who has decided to be a surrogate mother, she explained.

Lorenz Graham, who recently earned his Ph.D. in Humane Letters, says that it is important for children to realize that "people are people" in order to avoid prejudices that can cause human suffering. People should learn to "live together in peace" instead of a world where destruction can break out anytime, Graham said.

The authors had much to say about the rewards and methods of writing. Some writers have set aside a few scheduled hours a day to write, while others write more sporadically, they said.

Nancy Robinson, for example, said she wrote one book in three weeks. She debated ending her writing career, but she finally decided to continue writing, she said.

Robinson has created 16 shows in a series called Author to Author in which many aspects of writing were discussed. Her books have universal themes such as love and friendship and are categorized as easy readers, so foreign students read them to improve their English.

Authors of children's books are "trying to reach out to children," says Ross Olney, who feels that writing children's literature touches children and affects their future.

KIOSK

TODAY

EDUCATION ABROAD PROGRAM: Information and applications for study in Israel for 1984-85. Meeting today at 4 p.m. in UCen 2292.

PRE-PROFESSIONAL STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS: Council meeting today 5 p.m. Cheadle.

DEALING WITH DEATH PART 2: Prose, poetry and lyrics. Presented by SB Writers' Consortium 7 p.m. Oct. 26, Impresario Coffeehouse 13231/2 State St., in Arlington Arcade.

RADIO CHICANO MEETING: Wed. 6 p.m. Latinos interested in Radio check us out! Bldg. 406-El Centro.

MUJER (MOVEMENT FOR UNITY JUSTICE EQUALITY AND REVOLUTION) 2nd general meeting Wed Oct 26 6:30 p.m. bldg 406 all women welcomed.

SURF TEAM MEETING: Come to Girvetz Hall, room 1108 Wed. at 8 and See if you made it on to the team. We'll discuss this year's officers and upcoming contests.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB: Organizational meeting today at 6 p.m. in Polis Lab (Ellison 2614). Informal get-together w/ refreshments afterwards. All interested welcome.

ARAB-AMERICAN ASSO. Sponsors a lecture by Prof. Nancy Ghaeegeev on "Islam & Power in Architecture" tomorrow, Thurs. Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. UCen meeting rm. 7/2. This is a FREE event.

BIKE CLUB: General meeting tonight 7 p.m. in the UCen to organize the century.

AS Status of Women: Meeting today, Wed. Oct. 26 at 4 p.m. in Phelps 3526. All interested are welcome to attend.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS: Meeting Wednesday Oct. 26 7 p.m. Girvetz 1115 Topics: Crisis in Lebanon Future Plans.

GAUCHO FOOTBALL BOOSTER CLUB meeting tonight at 9:30 in Girvetz 1124. Please come.

COUNCIL OF PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS: Meeting today at 4:55 p.m. in the 5th floor conference room Cheadle Hall mandatory!

URC/FAITH AND THE INTELLECTUAL LIFE: Luncheon gathering for Christian faculty and graduate students 12:10 today UCen 2272; Roger Rapp, religious studies.

UCSB ADVERTISING CLUB: Meeting Weds. 4 p.m. Girvetz Hall Rm 1115.

"ATMOS-PURE"

HOW'S YOUR AIR QUALITY TODAY?

*Was It
-In a stuffy or smoke filled room, did you find it hard to concentrate?
were you tense, drowsy, or unattentive?
*Or Was It
-The best air you can remember breathing, near the crashing surf, on a mountain hike,
a run through a forest, or after a rainstorm?

Air Pollution and Artificial Closed Air Systems force modern man to breathe air lacking in beneficial ions. However, in the quest for improving the environment, a breakthrough has come about in the kind of air we breathe. For more information on how IONS affect your life, send a Self-Addressed Stamped envelope with the coupon below. Your own "ATMOS-PURE" ION GENERATOR can be obtained at special introductory prices during the month of October if you include this ad with your order. (Special offer expires October 31, 1983) AP-25 (single emitter): $39.95* (Regular Price: $49.95) *price applicable toward higher output models on exchange within 30 days of delivery.

*plus shipping at $2.00 per unit.
*California Residents add 6% sales tax.

GUARANTEE: "ATMOS-PURE" Air Ionizer will reduce or eliminate odors, smoke, dust, and pollen in the air. Products are warranted in workmanship and materials for a period of one year. You will be satisfied with your "ATMOS-PURE" or you may return it for a full refund within one month of delivery.

To order, send your check or money order with this ad. Or phone now and reference this ad (VISA and MASTERCHARGE orders will be accepted. Please include your card number, date of expiry, and interbank number for MASTERCHARGE). Your product will be shipped within 21 days of receipt of order, including literature and instructions.

For information only, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ZMS PACIFIC, P.O. Box 31034, Santa Barbara, CA 93130
Or Call 963-1644 (24-hour service for orders only).

Dear Freddy-Bob

Roskey/Ashby

A.S. PROGRAM BOARD
MILLER HIGH LIFE
KTYD 99.9 FM

A.S. PROGRAM BOARD, MILLER HIGH LIFE, & KTYD PRESENT

ROMEO VOID
PLIMSOULS
BUSBOYS
UN-TOUCHABLES

FALL DANCE CONCERT

FRIDAY NOV. 4th 7:30 PM
ROBERTSON GYM, UCSB

MAIN FLOOR DANCING $7 UCSB STUDENTS / $8 GENERAL
BALCONY $5 UCSB STUDENTS / $6 GENERAL
TICKETS ON SALE TODAY

A.S. TICKET OFFICE (UCen 3rd FLOOR), MORNINGLORY MUSIC (I.V.)
MUSIC GALAXY (5 POINT CENTER), ARLINGTON TICKET OFFICE (S.B.) JAILHOUSE RECORDS (VENTURA)

DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT •

Ace's of Goleta

INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE!

Premium Wines Reduced to WHOLESALE

Must Reduce Stock for New Varieties Arriving
—SOON—
SALE LIMITED TO SALE ITEMS IN STOCK

CHECK OUR SAVINGS ON LIQUOR, BEER & WINE EVERYDAY
Hours: weekdays 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Fri. & Sat. til 11 p.m., Sun. til 8 p.m.

Ace's of Goleta
7127 Hollister Ave., Goleta
685-2200

DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT • DISCOUNT •

Olympic Reading Contest Scheduled As Fundraiser

By DENISE WILLIAMS
Nexus Staff Writer

In an effort to encourage children to read and raise funds for the March of Dimes, schools throughout Santa Barbara County will participate in the March of Dimes Reading Olympics beginning Nov. 1.

"The purpose of the olympics is to encourage students from kindergarden to ninth grade to read more than they do," Michael Aquino, field representative for the March of Dimes in Santa Barbara said. Along with this goal, he explained, the students will also be helping the March of Dimes.

"The Reading Olympics is an ideal way to stimulate reading for pleasure among our young people," Honorary Event Chair Vernon Cheadle, said.

The students recruit sponsors among friends, relatives, and neighbors, who pledge money to the March of Dimes for each book (other than schoolbooks), they read during the Reading Olympics month. The children may read any kind of book that interests them — mysteries, adventures, westerns, science fiction, and novels.

Over 50 percent of the students who join the Reading Olympics voluntarily read an average of 12 books in the one month program. Aquino, explained that if a child reads 10 newspaper articles, it counts as one book.

The children are enthusiastic about the program, though it is "a little confusing for the younger ones," Jean Meyer, teacher of first through third grades at the Montessori Center School said. The students are aware of other children who have special disabilities, she added.

Meyer felt that the March of Dimes Reading Olympics would help participants to increase their appreciation of their own abilities while helping other children. Her students, for example, were already learning sign language and beginning to realize "that it is pretty exciting that they can see and hear," but that there are other ways of communicating, she said.

The March of Dimes currently supports 21 projects in the local community which are involved in trying to prevent birth defects through research, public health education, and medical services, Aquino said. One of the these projects includes the support of a certified midwife for the Childbirth Services program in Isla Vista. Funds raised through the Reading Olympics will also help these programs, he added.

Participating students will receive a variety of awards and honors, and the schools and classrooms will be given certificates of appreciation.

The event is sponsored in the community by the Santa Barbara News Press, who took care of the printing and postal expenses, Helen McGinnis, director of the March of Dimes for the coastal California chapters said.

The Reading Olympics has been held nationally for about 6 years, but this is the first time it is being done in the Santa Barbara county, Aguino said. Adams Elementary School, Crane School, La Cumbre Junior High School, Montessori Center, Our Lady Mount Carmel, Devereux in California School, and Vista del Mar School will all begin the program this November. Other schools such as La Colina Junior High School and Saint Raphael School will begin the program in the coming months.

BEST FILM OF THE YEAR
BEST DIRECTOR OF THE YEAR
N.Y. FILM CRITICS

STANLEY KUBRICK'S CLOCKWORK ORANGE

TONIGHT
Wednesday, Oct. 26
6:00, 8:30, 11:00
CAMPBELL HALL - $2.00

SPONSORED BY G.L.S.U. & A.S.

MTCC METROPOLITAN THEATRES CORPORATION

the movies

SANTA BARBARA

FRANCIS FORD COPPOLA
PRESENTS

NAPOLEON

ABEL GANCE'S 1927 MASTERPIECE

MUSIC COMPOSED AND CONDUCTED
BY CARMINE COPPOLA
A ROBERT A. HARRIS IMAGES FILM ARCHIVE PRESENTATION A UNIVERSAL RELEASE FROM ZOETROPE STUDIOS

70MM

OCTOBER
21 & 28 only!

ARLINGTON CENTER
1317 State Street
966-9382

CALL THEATRE
FOR SHOWTIMES

CHRISTOPHER WALKEN
NATALIE WOOD

BRAINSTORM

...The Ultimate Experience

GRANADA
1216 State Street
963-8740

downstairs

WOODY ALLEN
MIA FARROW

Zelig

Pure Gold TODAY NBC-TV
Bravo
Brilliant THE NEW YORK TIMES

upstairs

Stephen King's
THE DEAD ZONE

How the future began

THE RIGHT STUFF

Sorry no passes, no Early Bird Special, no Bargain Nites

CINEMA
6050 Hollister Ave.
967-9447

THE RIGHT STUFF

THE BIG CHILL

In a cold world you need your friends to keep you warm.

COLUMBIA PICTURES

THE BIG CHILL

In a cold world you need your friends to keep you warm.

COLUMBIA PICTURES

Tom Cruise

NEVER SAY NEVER AGAIN

SEAN CONNERY

FAIRVIEW
251 N. Fairview
967-0744

NEVER SAY NEVER AGAIN

Tom Cruise

NEVER SAY NEVER AGAIN

SEAN CONNERY

SEAN CONNERY
is JAMES BOND in NEVER SAY NEVER AGAIN

ANY SEAT $2.50

David Bowie The man who fell to Earth

MAGIC LANTERN

968-3356
290 Embarcadero Del Norte

Also: QUADROPHENIA

CATHERINE DENEUVE
DAVID BOWIE
SUSAN SARANDON

the Hunger

ANY SEAT $2.50 ANY TIME 9:00

EDDIE AND THE CRUISERS

965-6188
RIVIERA

Near Santa Barbara Mission opposite El Encanto Hotel
Sun. 2 p.m.

OPERA on Film "TOSCA"

NIGHTLY 7:00
SUNDAY 3:00, 7:00
sorry, no passes

FANNY & ALEXANDER

A FILM BY INGMAR BERGMAN

It's as far as you can go.

Flashdance

MISSION THEATRE
618 State Street
962-8616

Fri. & Sat. only 12:00 midnight

"WOODSTOCK"

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S VACATION

$2.00 ALL SEATS!

CHEVY CHASE

Jonathan's Class
DAVID BOWIE
SUSAN SARANDON

TWIN DRIVE-IN

Memorial Hwy. at Kellogg
Goleta 964-9400

3 'R' Rated Adult Features

Risky Business

"MAKING OUT"
"NAUGHTY FRESHMEN"
"HOLLYWOOD HIGH Part II"

UNDER FIRE -R-

CALL THEATRE FOR DETAILS

MR. MOM

ROMANTIC COMEDY!
DUDLEY MOORE
MARY STEENBURGEN

DRIVE-IN AIRPORT
Hollister and Fairview
964-8377

Also: "HOUSE WHERE DEATH LIVES" -R-

Stephen King's THE DEAD ZONE

EVERY SUNDAY!
SWAP MEETS

SANTA BARBARA SWAP MEET

Santa Barbara Twin Screen Drive-in 907 S. Kellogg Ave., Goleta
7 a.m. to 4 p.m. For information 964-9050

MONDAY & TUESDAY
$2.75 ADMISSION ALL DAY LONG!
-EXCEPT CINEMA #1-

MISSION THEATRE-$2.00 admission always!
MAGIC LANTERN THEATRE-$2.50 admission always!

Thanks to you...
it works...
for ALL OF US

United Way

You Think You're Smart?

Prove It.

We're hiring the best engineers and computer scientists we can find. Because we're Lockheed.

Lockheed-California Company Sign up for a personal interview will be on campus November 2. at your placement office.

Lockheed-California Company
Burbank, California 91520

Cheating Steps...

(Continued from front page) concrete ways to curb dishonesty. Fagan will be assisted by an advisory group of students, faculty, and staff.

After the report is written, Fagan expects the recommendations to be implemented next year. He said there is "strong commitment by the administration," adding, "I think we will see a lot of tightening up, cheating will be much harder."

Last year Fagan served as chair of the Student Faculty Conduct Committee, and he has 15 years experience teaching undergraduate classes.

While chair of the Conduct Committee, Fagan said he saw many cases of academic dishonesty, and he hopes to address all types of cheating, including plagiarism, swapping of classes, and the stealing of other people's work.

Fagan sees the cause of dishonesty as academic pressure coming from a variety of sources that are difficult to pin down, but including increased classroom competition, too much work given to students by professors, students overloading themselves with too many units, and parental pressure.

Campus Rules...

(Continued from front page) have no other visible means to display what they're doing."

Lawson said that the banners over the bike tunnel issue is still very negotiable.

Van Giesen said the committee is being very cooperative, "They're being incredibly receptive to the students — it's refreshing to have that kind of cooperation. Every question and problem we have with them we are resolving."

The campus regulations will be revised every three years, or as needed, instead of the original two year interval, Lawson said.

"Originally we decided on the two year period after some massive changes that required a short review period; now we are just fine tuning the document — three years is plenty good," she said.

Van Giesen is generally optimistic about the revisions. "Students are winning for once, making positive gains — instead of being kicked in the teeth," he noted.

Student Lobby member Lori Granick said, "It's going very well. The administration is being very responsive and willing to work it out — they seem happy to get our input." Granick added that the current campus rules are "written in a form that's very negative. We're trying to change it into a more positive form."

"There are many ambiguities," Van Giesen said, "things are not clearly defined and the potential for them to be abused is great."

Dinner Features Arab Cuisine

The Arab-American Association of UCSB wishes to announce that it is having an Arabic potluck on Saturday, October 29th at 6 p.m. The potluck will feature dishes from all over the Middle-East.

The AAA is a non-profit cultural and social organization whose purpose is to acquaint Americans with the people and culture of the middle east. AAA hopes to bring the two cultures closer together with such events as the potluck, films, lectures and more.

The potluck is to be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Aijian, 956 Via Fruteria, Santa Barbara. Please call Majda Campo at 968-5361 for more information and reservations. The deadline is Thursday, October 27th. The cost is $3 if a dish is not brought. Everyone is very welcome!

There's room to grow at Excellon!

Excellon is the world leader in the application of its technology - precision positioning using electronic controls. Our printed circuit board drilling and routing equipment is the first choice of over 50% of the production market. Our laser imaging products, just introduced this year, have gained attention worldwide as have our microprocessor-controlled hybrid assembly machines. These products as well as others still in the research and development stage promise to maintain Excellon's proud reputation as an innovative producer of high quality equipment.

During our company's twenty year history, we have grown from a small group of creative and dedicated pioneers in a new industry to nearly eight hundred employees still dedicated to Excellon's future.

Excellon is seeking superior individuals to become part of the bright future we see ahead. Through our TECHNICAL STAFF DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM, we are planning for the leadership needs of our growing company.

New graduates move directly into various challenging positions working side-by-side with our experienced staff members. These assignments provide unique opportunities for training and experience leading to responsible positions at the end of the program.

Southern California's nearby beaches provide the perfect setting for swimming, boating, bicycling and sunbathing. It's just a few hours drive to the mountains for skiing or to the desert for year round sunshine. Opportunities for cultural enrichment are also convenient and plentiful with theaters, concerts, dance and art exhibitions all around the city.

To learn more about exciting careers at Excellon, come and see us when we visit your campus. Or write to Patricia Doherty, Excellon Industries, 23915 Garnier Street, Torrance, California 90509. We are an equal opportunity employer m/f/h.

Excellon Automation
A Division of Excellon Industries
An Esterline Company

Volleyball

Gauchos Win Weekend Matches

By ED EVANS
Nexus Sports Editor

It was a victorious weekend for the Gaucho women's volleyball team, as they gained two victories at home over U.C. Irvine and Santa Clara University.

Irvine's Anteaters came into the match last Friday with a .500 record, having already lost to the Gauchos previously this season. Based upon this it seemed that the Gauchos would be in for an easy night. This was not the case however, at least not in the early stages of the match.

The Gauchos were having some difficulty with their serving in the first game, and seemed to be a little flat emotionally. This was in contrast to the team from Irvine which was so psyched up that the players on the bench shouted and celebrated every side-out earned by their team.

Despite their problems the Gauchos managed to tie the score at 9-9, then Irvine played their ace. In this case the Irvine ace was outside hitter Linda Kelley. Kelley went back to serve with the score tied, and did not leave the service area until she had served six straight points and Irvine had taken the first game 15-9.

The beginning of the second game looked much like the first, with the Gauchos only able to stay even with the Anteaters. With the score tied at three each, the Gauchos began to assert themselves. They won the next five points in a row taking a 8-3 lead.

Irvine made a run, but could not catch the Gauchos. The UCSB team won the second game 15-8. This set up at least two more games, before the match could be decided.

The third game of the match looked like a rout in the beginning. Anne Hansen back to serve for the Gauchos, served the first six points and the Gauchos had a 6-0 lead.

GaUCHO Gridders Win Scrimmage

By PHIL HAMPTON
Nexus Sports Writer

The last time UCSB finished a football contest with more points than the opposition was on Nov. 20, 1971. The Gauchos defeated the Broncos of the University of Santa Clara that day 28-22. But that victory is old news.

The more modern and significant news is UCSB's 14-6 victory (well, almost) over Cal Poly San Luis Obispo's redshirts and freshmen. Cal Poly, fearing a loss of eligibility to many of its prime varsity candidates of the future, asked that the game only be considered a controlled scrimmage. Therefore, the Gauchos do not receive a notch in the win column for their efforts and their record remains 0-2.

Sure, the confrontation was only a scrimmage. No officials. No first downs. And no game clock. But each team was allowed a total of 60 plays from scrimmage, and the Gauchos came out on top. Surely there is room for at least some type of moral victory. Especially after 12 years of a dormant football program.

The UCSB players certainly did not treat the match-up as a scrimmage. When asked if his team played with the intensity and enthusiasm that accompanies a game situation, a grinning co-coach Sut Pauloa responded with frankness, "You bet they did. The old rivalry seemed to blossom," referring to his days in a Gaucho uniform and the no-love-lost situation that prevailed in UCSB-Cal Poly SLO games. "They really went after each other," added Pauloa.

Pauloa felt the scrimmage was a perfect opportunity for his club to work on its execution, something the team has lacked in its two previous contests. In addition to the pass blocking being "100 percent better," the line blocking on running plays also saw much needed improvement.

George Patterson's ef-
(Please turn to pg.14, col.3)

Sports
Editor Ed Evans

This was an important stretch for the Gauchos. It was during these six points that they began to really show excitement and enthusiasm for the first time.

Irvine came back to tie the score at 6-6, and then took a lead 8-7 before things got serious. A series of long rallies, outstanding points and exciting moments enabled the Gauchos to take control.

With Sato diving to keep ball alive, Cindy Cochrane and Lisa Moore playing tough at the net, and Laurie Adams serving winners the Gauchos took the third game by a 15-11 margin.

Game four was to belong to the Gauchos. Using their great athletic ability they won the points that they needed to, as well as the game 15-11. This gave the Gauchos the win in the match with three games to Irvine's one.

After the match Coach Gregory praised the play of the team, and especially Moore and Adams, who came off the bench to make contributions.

"Laurie Adams and Lisa Moore turned the play around in game 3," Gregory said. "Their energy and enthusiasm spread to the other members of the team."

On Saturday the Gauchos put on a clinic as they completely dismantled the team from Santa Clara University 15-4, 15-11, and 15-2. The two weekend victories gave the Gauchos a record of 26-10 for the '83 season.

The Gauchos will be away this weekend as they travel to Tennessee to play the nationally-ranked teams from the University of Tennessee and the University of Kentucky, in addition they will play four other matches while they are on their eastern swing.

WOODSTOCK'S PIZZA PARLOR

Presents

THE FAR SIDE By GARY LARSON

Early physics

4 FREE SOFT DRINKS WITH ANY PIZZA

ONE COUPON PER PIZZA • EXPIRES 11/2/83

FREE DELIVERY 968-6969

To A Limited Area
928 Embarcadero del Norte

HIGH PERFORMANCE RUNNING & COURT SHOES

26⁹⁹ EACH

YOUR CHOICE:

NIKE "EQUATOR"
1982 Price 46.99

NIKE "INTERNATIONALIST"
1982 Price 48.99

NIKE "LEATHER CORTEZ"
Slightly blemished
If perfect $42

NEW BALANCE "420Y"

NEW BALANCE "T401"

ADIDAS "ATLANTA"

SPECIAL GROUP

2 PAIR FOR $30 SHOE SALE

FOR

MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN

FEATURING SUCH BRANDS AS:

NIKE & ADIDAS

Some models slightly blemished

SPECIAL GROUP HOODED SWEAT SHIRTS

12⁹⁹ EACH

FROM NIKE, ADIDAS & RUSSELL

Some slightly blemished

SPECIAL GROUP SWEAT PANTS

9⁹⁹ EACH

FROM NIKE & RUSSELL

Some slightly blemished

Canterbury RUGBY SHORTS

2 FOR $20

OR 12⁹⁹ EACH
Discontinued colors & styles
Some slightly blemished
If perfect $19

Canterbury RUGBY PANTS

2 FOR $30

OR 19⁹⁹ EACH
Some slightly blemished or discontinued colors
If perfect $33

DON'T MISS OUR PRE-SEASON SKI SALE GOING ON NOW!!

Quantities, sizes limited to stock on hand. We reserve the right to refuse sales to dealers

PRICES GOOD THROUGH 10/30/83

Copeland's Sports

1230 State Street
Downtown Santa Barbara

Mon, Tues & Sat 9:30-6
Wed-Fri 9:30-9:00
Sunday, Noon-5

Movement, Music & Fun... We have classes for everyone!

- ★ Beginning
- ★ Intermediate
- ★ Advanced
- ★ Stretch Classes

"We now offer classes 7 days a week"

Phone 683-2022

147 N. Fairview

Fairview Center

THINGS TO DO TODAY
YEARBOOK PICTURE!!

- Freshmen
- Sophomores
- Juniors

Have Your FREE Picture Taken by Professional photographer
 Susan Walter

in the UCen Main Lobby
Monday - Friday
Oct. 24-28, 8:30-1 and 2-5
NO APPOINTMENTS NECESSARY
 Free sitting Free $1 coupon
 & Free full color poster

For all underclasspersons who have OR plan to purchase the 1983 La Cumbre

FRESHMEN who bought Freshman Record
PLEASE HAVE YOUR FREE PICTURE TAKEN

SENIORS

Due to a RECORD turnout the past few days a few extra days are available for your FREE Yearbook Portrait Sitting!

Please schedule your appointment with receptionist Bonnie McLean at the UCen for Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

VARDEN'S Professional Photographer
 Susan Walter is on campus now 8:30-1 & 2-5 pm Daily in the UCen Main Lobby Area.

SPECIAL $1 COUPON GOOD AT THE PUB TO ALL SENIORS WHO HAVE THEIR PICTURES TAKEN & WHO HAVE PUR-CHASED THE '84 LA CUMBRE! ALSO A
FREE FULL COLOR POSTER!
 961-2386 La Cumbre • Storke Tower Rm. 1053

Football...

(Continued from pg.13) evidence for the offensive fective runs and Steve Marks' two touchdown passes of 30 and five yards provided substantial line's progress. The Gauchos face the other Cal Poly school, Pomona, this Saturday at

Pomona. Like UCSB, Harder Stadium Saturdays
 Pomona is a team with only club status, having dropped its NCAA program last year. The remaining games for the Gauchos (all to be played in Pomona (again) and the El Toro Marine Base team.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Tim Silva

Determination, as well as athletic ability seem to be the key to the success of this week's UCSB Athletes of the Week.

The male athlete of the week for this week is Tim Silva.
 Silva, a senior, has been the top performer on the Gaucho men's cross country team throughout the '83 season. His efforts have led the Gauchos in every one of their meets thus far.

In last weekend's meet against Fresno State, Silva was again the top Gaucho finisher. His fourth place finish broke up a strong Fresno team and helped the Gauchos finish close in the final team tally.

Liane Sato

The female athlete of the week is Liane Sato. Sato is the starting setter on the Gauchos' women's volleyball team, and as such she runs the show. Only a sophomore, Sato is recognized as one of the best in the nation at her position, and is a possible All-American in '83. Her role for the Gauchos is similar to that of a football quarterback, it is her job to run the Gaucho offense.

Sato in last weekend's action played her usual role to near perfection. She made good sets and passes and played surprisingly tough at the net to lead the Gauchos to a pair of wins.

Sponsored by

Harwin Trophy Company

Shibuki Gardens & Sauna

BOTH NOW LOCATED AT 6576 TRIGO RD. • 685-4617

intramurals

This page was prepared by the Intramural Department.
 Special thanks to the Pacific Beverage Company for sponsoring this page.

Intramural Standings

Floor Hockey Coed:
 Montral Sham Rocks 2-0
 Conspicuous Consumption 1-0

Floor Hockey Womens
 Zip-A-Dee-Do-Dah 2-0
 The Snapshots 2-0

Floor Hockey Mens B:
 Downey Chatsworth 2-0
 Up and Coming 2-0
 Died Laughing 2-0

Floor Hockey Mens C:
 Diarrhea, Alias Shit 2-0
 Andrew's Revenge 2-0

Ultimate Coed:
 Elephant Stampers 2-0
 The Other One 2-0
 Inebriated Nachos 2-0

Non Dairy Creamers 2-0
 Disc Equations 2-0
 Flying Diaphragms 2-0

Ultimate Mens B:
 Zone Men 11 2-0
 Last Place 2-0
 The Greased Pigs 3-0
 Brain Police 2-0

Ultimate Coed:
 Conquistadores 21-0
 Cap 2-0
 Grateful Chodes 2-0
 Pelicans 2-0
 The Felchers 2-0
 Haven't Those Guys
 Graduated Yet 2-0

Football Coed:
 Neighbors 2-0

Football Womens B:
 Incompetents 3-0
 Renegades 3-0

Football Mens B:
 Older Fatter The Coalition Returns 2-0
 Warriors 2-0
 Los Chingas 3-0
 Hurry up or we won't get it in 3-0
 Slammers 2-0
 In Search of Pigs 2-0
 The Powered 2-0
 Mutant Testes 2-0
 The Pits 2-0
 Stingy Fingers 2-0

Football Mens B:
 The Powered 2-0
 My Helmet is on Fire 2-0
 Green Hunters 2-0
 Ling Cods 2-0
 Stank Finger 2-0
 Lambda Chi 11 2-0
 Sigma No 2-0

Football Mens A:
 Stop The Bus 3-0
 Beaver Valley Athletic Club 3-0

Coed Volleyball:
 Untouchables 2-0
 Ground Beef Heads 2-0
 The Doctors 2-0
 In Passing 3-0
 Dynamo Hum 3-0

B League
 Mighty Mashers 2-0
 Pownding Leather 2-0
 X-ray Spikers 2-0
 Gross Profit 2-0
 Creamed Hamburger 2-0
 Facial Creams 2-0
 Long Hard Spike 2-0
 Hydra 2-0
 Kidlat 2-0
 Spiked Punch 2-0
 Divers 2-0
 A Team Called Malice 2-0
 Chargers 2-0
 Little Rascals 2-0
 Slime 2-0
 Mine, Mine, Mine,
 Yours 2-0
 The Bangers 3-0
 The Netters 3-0
 No Fun Aloud 3-0
 Best BJS 3-0
 Glickstein Fud-Inc. 3-0

C Leagues
 Spores in the Forest 2-0
 4 Playu 2 2-0
 Bullwinkler 2-0
 Bumps and Logs 2-0
 Als Alstars 2-1
 KO Swingers 2-1
 Gummy Lambs 3-0
 The Scammers 3-0
 Disadvantaged 2-1
 Madness 2-1
 Ethies 2-1

A League
 Mark Sacks
 Matt Gallfoyle

B League
 Spence Tower
 Jeamme Van Bus kirk

Bowling not available at this date.

Above, Brian Montgomery and Dave Massie, took first place in the Intramural Doubles Volleyball Tournament last weekend. The B division was won by Lowell Woodberry and Ed Ball.

CLASSIFIED ADS

PAY FOR 4 DAYS AND GET 1 DAY FREE

Lost & Found

LOST: Lady's Elgin watch sentimental value. If found call 685-5403 Stacy.

Lost: Blue Parakeet named Spot. Longtime friend and companion. If found call 968-1745. Reward and Gratitude.

Lost: Parker and Cross silver pens. If found, please call Ola at 685-8826 Thank you.

REWARD for lt. grn. backpack lost on Storke Field Fri. Oct. 21. Contact Brian 968-0381.

Special Notices

GET A TERRIFIC ALLOVER SUN TAN WITHOUT BURNING - even if fairskinned, with NEW U.V.A.1 Excellent for acne control. SUN TIME SUN TANNING CENTER 5858 Hollister Ave. 967-8983.

Gross National Productions MONSTER MASH Two demented bands It's a graveyard smash dance. Borsodi's, Sat. Oct. 29. $2.

★ TODAY ★
RIDE THE BULL AND WIN $600 IN PRIZES
 ★ ALL WELCOME ★
FINANCIAL MGT. ASSOCIATION
 presents
ANNUAL INVESTMENT CONTEST
WED. 10/26 NOON
UCen Pavilion
 David Kelly 685-2894

SMOKERS vs NON-SMOKERS
 Reconcile Your Differences. See ad in today's Nexus for ATMOS-PURE Air Ionizers.

SPOOK A CUTIE! with Kappa Delta's GHOST-O-GRAMS on sale TODAY at the UCEN 11-3pm; 7-9pm at the library. We Deliver!

VIDEO PRODUCTION WORKSHOP HOW VIDEO WORKS, NOV. 5, 6, & 7 or 9. HOW TO WORK IN VIDEO. 966-7033. ALSO: 3/4in. & 1/2in. EDITING EQUIPMENT RENTAL & VIDEO PRODUCTIONS.

MAD MONSTER MASH
 COME JOIN THE HALLOWEEN FUN
SATURDAY 9pm - 2am in The PUB
 *2.00 w/costume
 *3.00 w/out costume

Sponsored by:
 APISU
 BSU
 EL CONGRESO

Personals

NANCY
 Yes you in Geography!!! I thought longingly of you today while typing IMs and looking at PB sitting on my desk, waiting. WE MISS YOU!

Laurie H- I'm so glad to have you as my GAMMA PHI LIL' SIS. Get psyched for revealing!

AGD DEE DEE - I will send no rhyme before its time But hi, and do, simply put, Have a nice day ---Your Dignified "Big Bro".

Conrad,
 For the flowers, secrets, chocolate, notes, kite, story, sunset, friendship... merci mon nouvel ami.

Jean
 Gamma Phi Beta Pledge:
MELINDA Z.
 I'm keeping an eye on you! LOVE, You Big Sis.

Hey ORIBS: Happy Birthday to the best little Bro ever! Welcome to UCSB. Big Sis Drib.

KEN (NICK)
 I had the best weekend thanks to you! You are THE major bigus dickus in the sky. Missing you already, M.

PHI-SIG LIL' SIS' JODY R.
 Congratulations! We amde a great choice. We know you'll put out a lot.
 LOVE, YOUR BIG BRO.

To a special GAMMA PHI GAL
 Sarah H. Good luck on mid-terms. Get psyched for Halloween. Love Your Big Sis.

DREIBELBIS Your ma and pa wish you a very Happy B-Day and wish they were here. Love, D-Parents!

GAMMA PHI PLEDGE ANDREA I'm so happy you're my little sis! Have a great day!! YBS!

G PHI B PLEDGE SHARON I am so excited to have you as my little sis, you are the best!! Luv, YBS.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA presents their personal TUCK-IN-SERVICE! $2.00 for 20 min. Includes flower, massage, bedtime story (nice or nasty).

LISA M. - Welcome to UCSB & G PHI BI Love, YBS.

Business Personals

$600
RIDE THE BULL TODAY
FINANCIAL MGT. ASSOCIATION INVESTMENT CONTEST
UCen Pavilion NOON
ALL WELCOME

COME PLAY!!!
 The A-L-L Discovery Game. Explore your relationship to self & others in a safe, warm, small group setting with much laughter. Call Laura 965-4622.

Do you need money for school? Many scholarships & grants are unused every year. For information contact: INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP SERVICES, PO Box 40280, S.B. CA 93103. PH 569-0598.

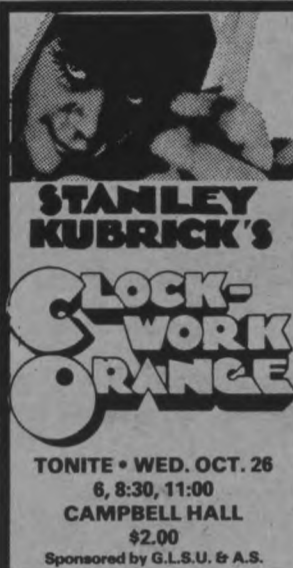

CRIMINAL DEFENSE EXPERTS DRUNK DRIVING & DRUG CASES FREE CONSULTATION. REPUTABLE & REASONABLE. WE SPECIALIZE IN CRIMINAL LAW. 963-5424.

HAIRSTYLES by Daniel M/F. My place or yours. Licensed with much experience, here at UCSB $6. Call 968-5280, can be less!

STRIP - "OH" - Grams 966-0161
 Professional male and female strip - tease dancers for all occasions.

Movies

A CLOCKWORK ORANGE TONIGHT
 Wed. Oct 26, 6:30, * 11 pm. Campbell Hall. $2.00

STANLEY KUBRICK'S
CLOCKWORK ORANGE
TONITE • WED. OCT. 26
6, 8:30, 11:00
CAMPBELL HALL
$2.00
 Sponsored by G.L.S.U. & A.S.

Help Wanted

Girl or Guy -21- Bartend & It. work. Attitude more important than experience. Full or part-time. Call Larry after 3 pm. except Sun. & Mon. - 964-8232.

HELP ME INSTALL MY LAWN Weekday afternoons 20 hrs/wk, boatwork tool 968-1172 eyes.

Looking for 10 people who seriously desire to earn substantial money - own hours - will interview from 9:30 to 11:30 on 10/27/83 room 202 - Bdg. 402.

Need 100 people to earn money - no investment necessary - explanation meetings on Thursday 10/27/83 at 12:00 & 2:00 in room 202 - 2nd floor - Bdg. 402 - Arts & Lectures Bdg.

SANE, A disarmament lobby, is hiring activists for its SB office. Work to halt the Arms Race. Call 962-2683 for info.

TYPISTS NEEDED AT UNIVERSITY
 Compu-Time Earn Extra $$$
 Call 968-8242 or stop by.

Real Estate

Why rent if you can buy? A 2 bedrm. Condo in S.B. with payments starting at little more than rent. Call Ed Fuller. SAN ROQUE REALTY 687-1551.

For Sale

CALIFORNIA OPTICS rep. in town. Good prices on Vaurnet Lenses, wayfarers and ski glasses. Call Daniel, 968-0797.

Spinnaker's Galley
 ★ Snack Attack ★
2 BIG RIBS or
1/4 CHICKEN
SALAD, FRIES BREAD
ONLY $3.75
FOR TAKE OUT
 phone
968-RIBS
955 Embarcadero
Del Mar

Fender Rhodes electric piano. Good shape $600. 78 Fiat super brava, white, mint cond. 69k $4000. Home 968-2994. Work 968-3511 ext. 6175 or 6142.

PIONEER CAR SPEAKERS * AMP $200. ELECTRIC GUITAR $95. 10 SPEED UNIVEGA $150. SUEDE BOOTS SIZE 9 WORN ONCE $35. 968-2195 NITES.

WINDSURFER - Rocket 99 mylar sail, UP mast, adj. boom exInt. cond. $900. 968-9771

Super clean 6'8" Progressive single fin. Ideal for big winter surf. Great beginner board. Only $80 OBO! Call 968-1434 and ask for Erad.

WETSUIT RIP CURL T32 FULL 1 YR OLD $90 SURFBOARD 6'6" ALPA SNGL FIN EXCELLENT $90 968-7411.

FOR SALE: APPLE II - COMPUTER
 2dr, 64k, 80col, monitor, modem, printer and more! Call Steve at 685-1522 after 7pm.

MUST SACRIFICE TO BUY A CAR Awesome Concept CE1 speakers $350 (cost $935 new) Sony Betamax w/15 tapes & timer $325. Jenson Tube spks. for car or home $65. Ramsay 968-2889.

Autos for Sale

Chevy Luv, 76, runs good, 101k, shell, stereo, new tires $2700 or best offer, 968-4498.

Chevy Luv, 76, runs good, 101k. Shell, stereo, new tires $2700 or best offer. 968-4498.

LANCIA BETA CEP '77 5sp. 32k xint. cnd., met. blu P/S, P/B, A/C $3995/obo 962-9335 eve/wknd.

Bicycles

CRUISERS: SCHWIN 26", 1 SPEED. $85 OBO./EASY RIDER, 26" $50 OBO. Scott 685-2952.

QUALITY BIKES 10 speeds, 3 speeds, Cruisers, all brands. Exc. cond. $50-$100. 685-1207.

Insurance

AUTO-INSURANCE
 25 % discount possible on auto if GPA is 3.0 or better
 Farmers Insurance
 682-2832
 Ask for Lin Sayre

Motorcycles

KAWASAKI 100. Runs good. Includes Helmet and Extra pipe. Must Sell $175. Call 968-6436.

Musical Inst.

DAN ARMSTRONG AMPEG CLEAR
 Body $425 Ibanez Musician $375 Risson 120W Tube Amp $325. 968-6132 John.

JAZZ ALBUMS PLAYED 1X $2.50; BEGINNERS GUITAR & TUBE AMP $80; VW TRANSAXLE - AL 968-5158.

BUNNY FLUTE - ideal for beg - in T level musician $100.00 OBO, call after 6:00 pm. 682-5430.

MXR Doubler/Flianger Rackmountable. XLNT Cond. Must Sell. Call Linc 964-7229.

Photography

DARKROOM EQUIPMENT
 Durst enlarger 35mm-2 1/4", timer, easels, trays, chemicals, developing tanks, filters, misc. $300 obo takes it all. Jeff 961-3828 days, 968-6710 eves.

Services Offered

RESEARCH PAPERS! 306-page catalog - - 15,278 topics! Rush $2.00. Research, 11322 Idaho, no. 206M, Los Angeles 90025. (213) 477-8226.

ON GOING RELAXATION GROUP:
 Learn useful relaxation techniques to relieve stress. Every Mon., Oct 24 to Nov. 21, at SHS in Medical Library 3-4pm. Drop in basis. All welcome.

Tutoring

Spanish tutor available for levels 1-4. $4.50/hr. Margo 968-5524.

WORD PROCESSING INSTRUCTION

Available at Bielski-Ross Secretarial Svc. State-of-the-art WANG PC. Hours to suit you. 964-3303.

Travel

ROUND TRIP

London... from $599.
 Amsterdam... $598.
 Paris... $699.
 Frankfurt... $638.
 Tel Aviv... $874.
 Tokyo... $689.
 Copenhagen... $774.

World Wide Discount Fares
 One Way Fares On Request
T.E.E. TRAVEL
 2922 De La Vina C-2
 S.B. 93105
 (805) 569-0082

SKI UTAH
 OVER
THANKSGIVING
4 DAYS OF SKIING
3 NIGHTS LODGING, LIFT TICKETS, &
TRANSPORTATION
ONLY $209.00
TRIP SIGN-UPS AT REC TRAILER.
Thru Fri., Oct. 28
 • Limited Space •

CARDILLO PROFESSIONAL TRAVEL

(The closest travel agency to campus)
 Book now to be guaranteed space for Thanksgiving and Christmas breaks

Colorado Springs... $150 RT
 Las Vegas... $60 RT
 Albuquerque... $130 RT
 Amsterdam... $669 RT
 Houston... $198 RT
 Kansas City... $198 RT
 San Antonio... $190 RT
 Seattle... $178 RT
 Salt Lake... $189 RT

Call for other destinations
 Restrictions Apply
University Village Plaza
 7127 Hollister Ave.
 (805) 968-2561

Typing

Accurate & quick. Low rates. Same day serv. possible. Turn Pike Rd. 967-6575. Beverly.

FOX PAWS word processing, professional editing, resumes or papers, 963-5303, Lou Ann.
TYPING MY HOME
FAST ACCURATE
NO CHECKS 968-6770.

PROFESSIONAL TYPIST

No job too large or small Pica or Elite type
 964-7304

RIGHT THE FIRST TIME

Papers. Theses. Resumes.
 968-5631

TECHNI-TYPE 966-0225

Specializes In Dissertations
 Theses - Technical/General

WRITING THE BIG ONE?

Call Bielski-Ross for the great look it deserves. 964-3303. Eves. 968-3400.

Miscellaneous

135 FAMILY GARAGE SALE EVERY day. Garage Sale Liquidators. MC/VISA 274 S. Fairview Ave. Goleta. 5100 Carpenteria Ave. Carp. Open Daily.

For Rent

GREAT SUNSETS - one bedroom in I.V., f/unf. Sundeck, carpart, laundry, $420. Lease, call Diana 685-4349.

Donna Hone...

(Continued from pg.6)

another county, and sell our own bonds to gain funds for local projects.

The question of public policy is another important issue in the upcoming year, Hone said. "We feel that people who sit in positions of authority ... on any board are supposed to represent the majority of the people's interest on that board, not their own pocketbook, and not their friends' pocketbook," Hone said.

She and her running mate, David Peri, have "no economic interest" in furthering growth or not furthering growth, she said, but her opponents have a "financial stake" in what happens.

Hone considers the Isla Vista Community Council to be an "important part" of water board decision making. "I feel we should always listen closely to their concerns and input," she said, adding that she is "more aware" of I.V. and university concerns than most people.

Hone is "distressed" by the current overcrowding at UCSB. The university has not "kept good faith" in its agreement with the California Coastal Commission to limit enrollment at 15,000, she said. "The university owes it to the students to provide as much housing as it can." She commended off-campus efforts such as the Rochdale housing project.

Increased student housing on campus is not in the university's long range development plans, and would not be necessary if enrollment was limited, Hone said.

The increased faculty housing at Devereux "is part of the long range development plan of the university ... but it was OK'd under certain conditions, and I don't think those conditions have been met," Hone said.

She also expressed concern that Fortuna Rd., which leads into Devereux, will become a "major thoroughfare" as a result of the development, which will destroy the residential character of the area and produce adverse ecological effects.

Hone is in favor of "anything" that seeks to regulate toxic wastes, and supports California Assembly Bill 1362.

The bill, which was approved by the state Senate in August, would require permits for the underground storage of hazardous materials, set design standards for tanks and provide mandatory inspection for leaks every three years.

"(It) doesn't go as far as we might like, but it is a step in the right direction," Hone said.

"We are dependent upon groundwater," she added, "and once that groundwater is contaminated it is contaminated forever. We must be absolutely certain that that never happens here."

She emphasized that she would like to see the Water Board have a greater role in inspection and regulation of toxic wastes.

Since she is a school teacher, Hone said she feels qualified to sit on the board "because I'm interested and well read on the subject, and involved and active. I am qualified not so much by a specialist's degree as by a feeling that I represent a large segment of the population."

Cityhood...

(Continued from front page)

protection, I.V. incorporation will bring better service, adding that community members may be more receptive to law enforcement officials who are neighbors.

With the necessary signatures collected from the community, the I.V. incorporation proposal is qualified for consideration, Borgman said. The proposal has been submitted to the Local Agency Formation Commission of Santa Barbara, which accepted it as a viable proposal. LAFCO, in turn, sent the proposal to the Division of Environmental Review for Gira to review.

It is the DER's duty to make an "unbiased assessment of the proposal," Gira said. This assessment will determine whether or not an Environmental Impact Report is necessary. Gira has not made a final decision, but he said an EIR will probably be the answer.

"People have to give careful consideration to the overall picture of political, social and economic ramifications of incorporation and not just focus on their own locality," Gira said. An EIR is the "most readily available vehicle" to achieve this overall view, he added.

If Gira approves the report, the EIR contract, estimated to cost from $10,000-40,000, will most likely be offered to independent local agencies, Gira said. However, the DER would still have control over the issues studied in the EIR, Gira said.

After its completion the EIR would be submitted to LAFCO for approval. They will decide whether or not the long term uncertainties have been answered well enough to merit an election.

This election could be in June, 1984, but is more likely to take place the following November, Borgman said. For I.V. to become a city, the proposal must receive a majority of the votes cast, he explained.

Following the turmoil of the early 70s, Isla Vistans faced the prospect of cityhood, Borgman said. The first proposal of incorporation in 1973 was rejected, but it was a sign of "people (trying) to work in the system rather than from outside it," he said.

Throughout these past 10 years, the goal of involved Isla Vistans has been "to be able to gain control of decisions," Borgman remarked. He indicated that these people feel they will do a better, more sensitive, job than those of the past.

For example, Borgman mentioned the condition of I.V. roads. Only once in 20 years have the roads been fixed, he said. According to Borgman, $3.5 million is needed to repair these roads. He pointed to the minor amount of $61,000 spent by the county for repair of I.V. streets in 1982 as an indication of both inefficiency and a lack of funds. Borgman said that in seven years, a city of I.V. could rejuvenate the streets.

After all these years, "Isla Vistans deserve to be able to decide whether or not they should have a city," Borgman concluded.

CALIFORNIA SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

BERKELEY • FRESNO • LOS ANGELES • SAN DIEGO

If you are thinking about a career in the field of Psychology we offer

Ph.D. Programs in Clinical and Industrial/Organizational Psychology

- Part-time and full-time study options
- Intensive field work
- Strong practitioner faculty
- Financial aid
- APA accredited programs
- Career planning information

applications are now being accepted for Fall 1984
 CSPP-Central Admissions Dept. C
 2152 Union Street
 San Francisco, CA 94123 or call TOLL FREE (800) 457-1273
 in Calif. (800) 457-5261

Come see us when we visit your campus on October 28

Hone-Peri for Goleta Water Board to Continue Sound Management of Our Local Water Resources

Donna Hone & David Peri are endorsed by:

- * Sierra Club
- * California League of Conservation Voters
- * Citizens for Goleta Valley
- * Senator Gary Hart

Dedicated to preserving agriculture and our open space.

Moderate growth within our local resources.

MEET DONNA AND DAVID

THURSDAY, OCT. 27
 NOON - 1:30

at the CAL PIRG FORUM
 UCen Pavilion

Hone/Peri for Goleta Water Board, 351 S. Hitchcock, No. 200, Santa Barbara, CA 93105

Lee's

HAIR DESIGN FOR MEN AND WOMEN...

Introductory Offer

$10⁰⁰ OFF
 ANY PERMANENT WAVE

REGULAR $48.50
 Includes Cut

$5⁰⁰ OFF
 ANY HAIRCUT & STYLE

REGULAR Men '15⁰⁰
 Women '20⁰⁰

$2⁰⁰ OFF
 ANY HAIRCUT ONLY

REGULAR '12⁰⁰
 Men & Women

Non-student patrons with coupon please

UCSB students get this special offer EVERYTIME when presenting student I.D.

3625 State St. - Santa Barbara

(next to Tee Off Restaurant)

687-2486

OPEN 7 DAYS & EVENINGS - Mon. Thru Sun.

NOW'S YOUR CHANCE

...TO GET INVOLVED!

AS Commission on the Status of Women

seeks:

women's cross-cultural awareness coordinator

and lesbian issues coordinator

and

YOUR leadership, involvement and action

in MANY OTHER POSITIONS and concerns, including violence prevention, affirmative action, women's health, and more.

Drop by

The Status of Women Office

3rd Floor UCen

(behind elevators)

or phone 961-2490

for more information.

FREE

Kodak Color

ENLARGEMENT!

Buy three, Get the fourth free
 Quality processing by Kodak. Offer ends October 26, 1983. See us for details.

Film so Fast... Forget the Flash!!

VR

1000

The Holiday film

Reduced to $3⁵⁶

each...24 Exp.

TWO 8x10's FOR ONLY $4⁸⁰

From any standard size color negative or color slides. Not applicable to foreign film or copy negatives. OFFER EXPIRES: OCT. 31, 1983

THE ALTERNATIVE COPY SHOP

6540 PARDALL ISLA VISTA 968-1055

OPEN HOUSE
 wed. Oct. 26
 3-5
 Counseling & Career Planning
 Bldg. 478

LEARN HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR COLLEGE EXPERIENCE.
 BECOME FAMILIAR WITH OUR CAREER RESOURCE TOOK AND MEET OUR CAREER PEERS.

 REFRESHMENTS SERVED **

SPONSORED BY: COUNSELING, CAREER PLANNING & PLACEMENT SERVICES