

Sears Wins Position As AMS President by Margin of Five Votes

Russell Loses in Close Runoff Race; Bailey, Joham Take Vice-Presidencies; Quinn Gains Secretary-Treasurer Post

By the slim margin of five votes, Bill Sears won the presidency of the Associated Men Students over Bill Russell in Wednesday's election. Sears collected 145 votes to 140 for Russell.

Close elections featured all of the other races for A.M.S. positions. For the first vice-presidency, Charles Bailey came in slightly ahead of Fred Baer, while Howard Joham nosed out Marvin Sands to take the office of second vice-president.

When Don Ripsch withdrew his name from the official ballot, Pat Quinn automatically became secretary-treasurer of men for next year.

Runoff Necessary

Due to the number of candidates running for each office, the runoff election was necessitated on Wednesday after the results of Friday's balloting had been disclosed. Only office uncontested was that of social chairman, the position going to Al Sprague, senior and varsity letterman on the football squad for the past two years.

In the presidential campaign, two candidates, Waldo Phelps and Bill McArthur were defeated in the preliminary. In the first vice-presidential race, third candidate Elmer Martin lost out and for the second vice-presidency Frank O'Neill's name was taken from the ballot. In the primary election, Bob Hatcher was a candidate for the office of secretary-treasurer.

Sears' Record

Sears, newly elected president of men, is in his sophomore year; was vice-president of Sigma Alpha Kappa social fraternity the past year, served as a member of the Social committee and was sophomore representative on the Associated Students council. As an athlete, Sears distinguished himself on the first string Gaucha basketball squad and the freshman quintet.

Chief claim to local fame of Bailey is his work on the football and basketball squads for the past two years. Bailey is a product of Santa Barbara and has been treasurer of Sigma Alpha Kappa the past year. Quinn has held office in the cabinet of the Industrial Education department while at the College.

33 Women Join Phrateres

During an elaborate candlelight ceremony Friday evening in the Music hall, 33 women were initiated into the Nu chapter of Phrateres, international college womens club. Gail McMillan, president, was installing officer.

In special rites, Miss Wilma E. Lowley of the financial office and Doris Wolfe, pianist, were initiated.

Following the rituals, a business meeting was held to discuss plans for the formal dance to be held Friday evening, May 12, at La Hacienda, with Doug Hoag's orchestra playing. All Phrateres members, members of the social clubs and their guests are invited to attend.

Campus Actors Bill Modern 'Julius Caesar'

Drama Group Schedules Two Performances of Shakespearean Tragedy

Modernization of Shakespeare in the manner of Frederic W. Hile will take place in the College theater on the evenings of Wednesday, May 17 and Thursday, May 18 when the campus drama department presents "Julius Caesar" in modern dress.

In addition to his directorial duties, Hile will borrow a leaf from the book of famed Broadway producer-actor Orson Welles and appear in one of the lead roles, that of Brutus. The production will be the final one of the year for the local Thespians and will follow the successful presentations of "Kind Lady" and "Craig's Wife."

Portraying shrewd Marcus Antonius will be Clyde Cadwell, one of the best of the College's Shakespearean actors in the opinion of Hile, while Carl Jorgenson, last seen as Craig in "Craig's Wife," will emote as Cassius, sly conspirator against the life of the Roman emperor.

The emperor's place on the stage will be filled by Robert Scalapino, a newcomer to campus theatricals, but noted for his work in other forensic activity. Irving Manspeaker, also a new face to local audiences will take the part of Decius Brutus, while veterans Lloyd Borstelmann and Jimmie Fullerton and newcomer John Bestall carry many of the supporting roles.

Georgia Mae Krebs and Esther Horner play the only two actual women's parts of Calpurnia and Portia respectively, but Winifred Nichols and Virginia Snipes will enact page boys.

Musicians Elect Officers

Members of the Music department met during second period, Tuesday, to elect officers for the coming semester, with President Bob McDonald presiding.

Bill Matthies was elected president, Frances Smith for vice-president and social chairman, and Ruth Hutchings, secretary-treasurer.

This department will entertain members of the College Symphony orchestra at a reception in the Music hall after the concert, Thursday May 25.

If Beck is moderate and leaves the door open for negotiations between Germany and Poland the specter of war once more will have been banished.

Granada Bills Nazi Film

The Warner Bros. studio wardrobe department was faced recently with the unique necessity of having to provide all uniforms for a picture for the first time in the history of the film industry.

Ordinarily when a motion picture requiring certain types of uniform—army, navy, police, national guard, or even commercial air line pilots—goes before the cameras and it does not have the uniforms in its own stock, the wardrobe department, of the producing company will simply get on the telephone, call any one of a score of costume rental houses in Hollywood and the uniforms will be on hand the next morning, ready for use.

Warner, however, had to manufacture every single one of several hundred uniforms that were used during the filming of "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," which opens tomorrow at the Granada theatre, with Edward G. Robinson, Francis Lederer, Leon G. Turrou, former F.B.I. agent and Paul Lukas in its principal acter acted as technical advisor, while direction was in the capable hands of Anatole Litvak.

College Press Completes Dr. Outland's Book Publication Marks Forward Step as Largest Venture to Date

Publication last week by the Santa Barbara State College Press of Dr. George E. Outland's new book, "Boy Transiency in America" marked another stride forward in the general progress of the college, in that it is the largest publication undertaken to date by the College Press.

Briefly, Dr. Outland's book delves into the causes of "why boys leave home," based on the information obtained from case histories. It is expected to prove of great value as collateral reading and a reference work in courses in social sciences in schools and colleges, as well as having a definite interest for the lay reader.

Dr. Outland's book is described as a "compilation of articles dealing with youth wandering in the United States", and includes many articles written by the instructor in the past on the subject of boy transiency. Dr. Outland was formerly supervisor of the Boys' Welfare department for southern California of the Federal Transient Service. Most of his data for the book was gathered from personal interview and investigation into the background of thousands of young migrants with whom he came into contact at the Los Angeles bureau.

The many tracts which Dr. Outland has written in the past in this field are well known in educational and sociological circles, and are especially timely now in view of the fact that the federal government is again investigating the problem of transiency with the view of a possible reestablishment of a national plan to care for migrants.

Publication of "Boy Transiency" marks the second venture into the field of book publication on the part of the State College Press. The first to be presented was "The Status of the Junior High School in California", a 60-page work written by Dr. Charles L. Jacobs, and released by the shop last year. Dr. Outland book comprises 150 pages, put out both in cloth and heavy paper binding, and is being distributed at present by the campus book store, according to John T. Porter, head of the print shop, in charge of the publication. The price per copy of the book is $1.00.

AMS Holds Annual Hobo Brawl Today

College Men Meet at Hendry's Beach for Dinner, Games, Swim

Several hundred men students—beards and all—will gather at Hendry's beach this afternoon for the annual Hobo brawl. Games, swimming and a dinner of barbecued steak with all the trimmings will serve to attract one of the largest crowds in years, according to A.M.S. president DeWitt Trehwitt.

Under the direction of Charles Bailey, chairman of the games committee, teams from the various men's organizations on the campus will compete for the coveted cup awarded each year to the group garnering most points. Teams so far entered represent Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity, the Org, Beta Sigma Chi, Gamma Sigma Pi, Tau Omega and the freshman class. All other organizations wishing to enter teams may communicate with Bailey.

Ten man teams from each organization will compete in a tug o'war, bull in the ring, an obstacle relay, and a sack race. Dinner will begin at 4:30, with Ed Cravotto in charge of the barbecue. The steaks will be prepared Spanish style.

General chairman of the affair is Bill Sears, newly-elected A.M.S. president. Tickets may be purchased from Waldo Phelps, Al Sprague, Sears, Trehwitt, and Fred Baer or in the office of Captain Paul Jones, dean of men. Price for the meal is 25 cents.

If you can't come for supper, come for games," states Trehwitt, in requesting the participation of all men of the College in the annual Brawl. All men will meet at the beach at 2 p.m. and the Brawl will last until 6.

General chairman of the affair is Bill Sears, newly-elected A.M.S. president. Tickets may be purchased from Waldo Phelps, Al Sprague, Sears, Trehwitt, and Fred Baer or in the office of Captain Paul Jones, dean of men. Price for the meal is 25 cents.

AWS Plans Mothers Tea

Plans for the annual Associated Women Students' mothers tea are well underway, according to Martha Booker, first vice-president of the A.W.S. and general chairman of the affair.

The tea will be held Sunday, May 21, from 4 to 6 p.m., in Ebbett's Hall, and all mothers and house-mothers are invited to attend.

During a meeting of the A.W.S. executive board this week, the following committee chairmen were appointed: hostesses, Mary Alice Halferty; properties, Thora Lindstrom; food, Betty Peden; service, Marjorie George; decorations, Ethel Colvin; invitations, Virginia Rogers; program, Josephine McBride, and miscellaneous, Mary Ellen Putman.

Kappa Omicron Phi Elects Miss Baxter

Kathryn Baxter was elected president of Kappa Omicron Phi, national honorary home economics sorority, when the group elected new officers for the fall semester, Tuesday night, at the home of Miss Baxter. Installation will take place at the next meeting.

Others elected include Shirley Cort, vice-president; Mildred Peterson, recording secretary; Ethel Colvin, corresponding secretary; Vivian Hughes, treasurer; Jane Nelson, historian, and Helen Wicker, publicity.

Last night's show was presented before a capacity audience while the performance Wednesday afternoon was given for students of Santa Barbara high school. Few changes will be made for tonight's performance, according to Director Carlos Bee, because of the smoothness of last night's show.

Cast Members

"Club de la Noche", written by Bert Fitzpatrick and Jean Smith concerns itself with the rivalry between two night club owners for patronage and the love affair between Judy Fulton and Mike Reagan, vocalists at "Club de la Noche." Capably filling the two lead roles are Gerry Pilling and Don Estey. Bee doubles as an actor in the piece, playing Lee Baker, master of ceremonies; Alfred Artuso, sporting an Italian accent and derby is Curly Curletti, cafe owner; Jean Smith is debutante Terry Grayson, soft-crooning rival of Judy; Paul Gazin is seen as Steel Simon, purveyor of yellow journalism and Ted Tod, portray Caron, publicity agent for the club.

Berated and boundedly bodacious as ever, the Three Stoges, Pat Kelly, Lloyd Borstelmann and Bud Burdick fit naturally into the roles of three Russian song writers, while Johnny Austin, conductor of the "Collegians" play, himself.

Specialty Acts

Among the specialty acts presented during the course of the evening are Mel Dennis, trumpeter; Janine Rupertus, in "Dance Moderne"; Brad Tozier, violinist; The Four Tops, female quartet; Ossie Walton, tenor; the Weldwood chorus; boys; the A Cappella Choir under Mrs. Anita Cochran Priest; Marjorie Low, accordionist; and Jim Stanley and George Booth, two piano team. Sweet, faculty advisor.

This school, as are many others, is suffering from a sense of values that is, in many, of its forms, pure illusion. It is as customary as it is wrong for our students to evaluate college as one long series of Beard Growing contests. Things of these types are allowed to assume a position of prime import which overshadows even academic learning. I have been told on numerous occasions, "If you don't like the student ideas of happy fun games—get out, leave this school." There can be no more false concept of what our college stands for than this. To believe, as do some of our student "leaders", that participation in student functions, of such dubious value as Beard Growing, should be a condition of staying in school, is to believe we come here to grow beards and if we do not we should be disbarred from academic learning! Such a concept shows a narrow, biased personality with no perspective on life.

This utter disregard for the real reason for which we attend college, namely academic learning, is evidenced as an attitude that carries far over the hirsute adornments. It is discouraging to note how many false values in student life, apart from classroom, are held. While giving the Beard Growing a good working over it is wise to note two other aspects. The so called "contest" was started when this school was akin to a Ladies Seminary—about nine-tenths women. It is now unnecessary to impress femininity with hair on the face, we should have outgrown such juvenile actions.

Secondly, there has been a discrimination in forcing people either to grow hair, to be excluded if they work, or compulsion in the form of masculinity placing cosmetics by force on their fellow Men's faces if they did not either work or wish to grow hair. Compulsion by physical force destroys the purpose of a contest, makes a tradition no longer a tradition, but a law which is being forced down your throat.

From any standpoint Beard Growing gives an unclean appearance, is outmoded and outworn as being a function, and is undemocratic as—when applied by force.—B.M.

Slight Voting Lessens Chances Of Democracies

In any democratic government whether it be student or adult it is tremendously important that the citizenry exercise their only part in the government—their privilege of saying who shall represent them. When only 34 per cent of the registered voters vote—as happened in the recent Los Angeles city election, a minority is running the government, just as surely as Fascist minorities are running many European countries. Whether that minority is looking after the best interests of the majority is beside the point—the situation is not representative.

Too often our most chronic objectors to the workings of democracy do not take the trouble to vote; in other words they belly-ache about a condition for which they are responsible.

In the recent city election a record vote of 75 per cent was cast; regardless of the result this is a record which should stand as an achievement and a goal for other elections. 75 per cent is far from perfect but it is a significant start toward ballot democracy.

The only reason why democracy will ever fail, will be the decision of the American people that they no longer want it. The best way in which they can do that, is to continue to allow small minorities to decide all elections.

The question—and it is old as the hills—is how can we get people to vote? The answer, as we see it, is through constant education and a creation of interest. There are many people who will salute the American flag yet will not take the trouble to vote. That is lip service to America but death to democracy.

There is an old proverb which may yet hold good: "Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote."—R.S.

FLUX de BOUCHE

Tomorrow night is the night of the year for the Delta Zeta Delta's for then they will throw their annual formal at the Mar Monte Hotel. Jan Westwick has asked Frank Meredith, Betty Palmyra will escort Dick Williams, Violette Glahn and Bob Long will make a new twosome. Margaret Miles will be well taken care of by "Utang" Palmer. Jean Holman and Claire Stewart will make a new combine. Carol Lambrecht is rumored to have asked Tom Wharton, and Janice Daly is taking Carlos Bee. "She-she" Parks is dragging the old flame Al Mansfield, and Jean McKimming is said to be on the verge of apoplexy trying to think of the right young man to ask. Leonard Clements and Barbara Clavel are one of the nicer looking couples around campus. Bob Scalapino is in the groove with Yvonne Nelson. Frank Rafferty has been seen quite a bit with Eleanor Brahms recently. Doug Duckham will forsake the local cuties this week-end for Jean McKeon, a Tri Delt from U.S.C.

DeWitt Trewitt is feeling very expansive now that Petie McKinney is back from Cal for a short visit. Grace Williams is gracing Jimmy Long with her presence Saturday night at the afore-mentioned formal.

The Sigma Alpha Kappa fashion show and tea this Saturday afternoon promises to be one of the gayest parties of the year, with the Five-Footers making a special exhibit of clothes for midget femmes. The Sig Alphas are figuring to make this one of the best in years and every real social climber should be there.

Johnnie Wilson the 6-foot 1-inch, All State Football player who drives the '39 Mercury is the same one who played two years in pictures. The blond boy is easily the catch of the year for some aspiring collegians. "Greek" Valos is really in the fat as far as Evadna Robbinc is concerned. "Whitey" Hallen's hair no sooner grows in then we find the young lad back frisking around with Gerry Pilling. Dwala Branyon is tottering on the fence with Ted Tod

WHAT'S YOUR BEEF?

Editor, El Gaucho

Dear Sir:

I dedicate the following bit of doggerel to those individuals on the campus who scoff at the beardless. The time explains itself so I won't go into any more detail.

A MAN WITHOUT A BEARD
A man, they say, is one who can grow a beard upon his pan.
If he can grow one long and rough then he is considered tough.

For those who work and toil all day, they must shave their beards away. For this, they are considered mice for thinking of beards not quite so nice.

Pity on the working man,
Who daily scrapes his stubble
Removes with care each tiny hair
With a steel blade and soapy bubble.

The man who has his work to do
Must shave until his chin is seared.
Have pity on the working man,
He cannot grow a beard.

Editor, El Gaucho

Dear Sir:

Last Friday there was a meeting of the Associated Men Students dedicated to a discussion of the Whiskerino. The meeting was brought about by a group of sincere students who believe that their rights as members of the A.M.S. were being trampled upon. The decision of the group was overwhelmingly for the retention of the traditional contest.

As one of the few members of the A.M.S. who witnessed every step of the meeting from the registration of the complaint with the Council to the adjournment of the meeting I should like to set down a few comments.

1. Procedure of the complaint and of the special meeting were carried on with credit to the administration.

2. The complaints brought before the meeting were to a certain extent reasonable and to an approximate amount irrational.

3. The specific motion brought under consideration was a very foolish move by the complainants as it would have destroyed the entire Whiskerino rather than modulating its enforcement.

4. While certain periods of booing and hissing were out of order the fault was just as much with one party as the other.

5. The charge that the contest is undemocratic was unjustified since the minority was attempting to assume a privilege which would have endangered a majority decree.

6. The remarks made by Lloyd J. Borstelmann were out of order but were very popular with the assembly.

Of these points the first five are self-sufficient while the sixth could be elaborated on profitably. The question is this: Was the motion by Bill Morrissey, welfare chairman, to be considered a motion by an individual or an opinion delivered by the campus committee on traditions? If it was the first it was legitimate, if it was the second we should like to know how the committee on traditions became antagonistic to traditions.

Morrissey as an individual we respect for rushing in where angels and wisemen fear to tread. Morrissey as welfare chairman raises a number of questions.

THE SYD

"Ladeez, and Gentlemen, presenting—"

In the process of watching a swarm of bees circulating about a newly-painted pillar in the Quad the other day, we paused to reflect whether or not the small insects were responsible for the buzzing going on in our head. On second thought we decided in favor of the hum of campus activity. We feel throttled by the amount of action taking place, what with elections coming off every other day, Roadrunner Revues, Julius Caesars, radio programs, student council meetings, but why go on? Every so often we ask ourselves, is this really an educational institution, or is going to class merely an interlude, one of the necessary evils attendant in going to college so that we may take part in extra-curricular activity.

Indirectly, one of the Bees did have something to do with the buzzing, namely one Carlos, director, actor and chief hair-tearer of this year's Roadrunner show. We were fortunate enough to see a prevue of the talent parade on Wednesday, in company with a few hundred more or less high school students. We don't doubt that by tonight's performance all of the rough spots will have been ironed out and the show will be a smoothly functioning unit. In any event, the performance we saw showed undeniable talent of all types and genuine ability on the part of the principals.

Although we run the risk of sounding like a press agent, we'd like to tell you of some of the performers who impressed us. First, and foremost, the ingenue and hero, Miss Gerry Pilling and Don Estey. The young lady will make you forget ordinary college theatrical units when she sings the professional-sounding ballads of Bert Fitzpatrick. Estey, too, has that sparkling something, a vivacious quality that truly "puts over a song" as we say in show business. In our opinion the duet between the two is one of the high spots of the production.

Next in line for our plaudits would be the above-mentioned Bee, personable young fellow who introduces the numbers and ad libs such lines as "You ain't a-lyin' Gwendolyn." His partner in spontaneity is Miss Jean Smith who does well by herself in the role of the "other woman."

The Morons of Mirth, usually referred to as the Three Stooges, are as slap-happy as ever, making the most of a well-worn repertoire. In the main the specialty acts reveal a great deal of talent. Especially commendable is the harmonizing of the Four Tops, a quartet of coeds, the unusual tenor of Ossie Walton, and the artistic hula by Miss Elbie Vincent. The Weldwold boys in sarongs are a terrific hit and the girls of the chorus perform creditably.

The man who seems to be getting the least amount of credit for the production is the man who is perhaps mostly responsible. We refer, of course, to Bert Fitzpatrick, who shies at the name Wilbert. In fact, Mr. Fitzpatrick, who is an unobtrusive fellow, shies at almost everything complimentary. Bert wrote the script for "Club de la Noche" and added a number of songs for good measure. Each is the type of ditty that you'll try to recall, because you'll be extremely enthusiastic while you're listening.

All in all, we'd say a good show, and a big hand for the people who had any connection with it.

We became more confused than is our wont at Wednesday's session of the student council. Morrissey attempted to point out to us the advantages of his proposed Activities Control Board and some of the members of the Intra-fraternity council pointed out objections. The Board, its exponent claims, will specify conduct of the various campus organizations, cutting down any inactives and building those coming up. Probably a good idea, but it seems to us just another problem in our rather confused student government, which contains too many agencies now. Then again, it might be worked into some sort of Utopia with every student in school holding some office or other. Or is that anarchy?—S.C.

After a Fashion

By ROSALIND BRADBURY

Hello . . . Clara Mae? . . . glad to catch you at home. We have all been so busy with Revue rehearsals and so forth, that I thought you might be out. Yes, it has been a full week but it looks like the Revue will be worth it.

Did you notice the adorable wine silk dress that BETTY PALMAY-MESA had on the early part of the week? It was a semi-dirndl style and had a full skirt and perky puff sleeves. The neckline and patch pockets were attractively trimmed in narrow bands of royal blue velvet and wide strips of white lace. Very good looking. It seems that regardless of the many new trends that have come in this spring, the dirndl still holds a place in the world of fashion.

WINIFRED NICHOLS looked lovely the other day in a skirt and sweater of a soft light blue shade. She has a certain freshness and neatness about her that this particular shade of blue accentuated even more. The skirt was finely pleated and the sweater was the softest of clipped angora and buttoned up the front with tiny white buttons. A white blouse in a ribbed material was worn underneath the sweater and the collar was turned out over the sweater.

There are two of our coeds that I see walking together quite often who are especially eye-catching in their tweed jackets that are tailored in a chic manner. The jackets are worn with skirts and sweaters in soft shades, and although the jackets are not alike in weave or identical in style one has the impression of two well-groomed young ladies. The young ladies, by the way, are both named Carol — CAROL BEULOW and CAROL LOVE.

Have you noticed that evening wear to be correct must be in the extreme? It must either have a very sweet and little-girl effect and be made out of soft and fragile material, or it must be brightly, almost flamboyantly, gay and be in materials that rustle and swish daintily or those that cling in true sophisticated manner.

Speech Head Lists Leading Competitors

Sloan, Scalapino Pace Forensic Aspirants in Intra-Mural Competition

Battle for the accumulative forensic trophy began to warm once more as the total points for the year 1938-1939 were announced yesterday by W. Charles Redding, director of forensics. Points totaled cover all intramural and intercollegiate competition of the past year.

With the oratory contest this morning remaining activity Harry Sloan, representing Sigma Alpha Kappa and Bob Scalapino, representing Gamma Sigma Pi, were struggling to a close tally. Sloan leads the newly elected Associated Students by 25 points with 260 to Scalapino's 235.

The next four ranking speakers with possibilities of attaining third place for the year were J. T. Daniel, Alice Benson, Raymond Baez and Frank Douglas. Daniel, student manager, leads this group 135 to Benson's 125, Baez's 105 and Douglas' 100.

Benson is ineligible for the oratory contest because of her victory in oratory last fall. Daniel announced that he did not anticipate competition further than the first preliminary because he is slated as chairman of the final program.

Seven other speakers with totals of 50 points or more are Vernon Duncan 80, Ray Allen 75, Waldo Phelps 70, Elbert Phelps 65, Bob Perry 65, Leesa Bertall 65, and Jim Trindle 50. Over thirty speakers have smaller totals.

Requirements for the oratory contest require the submission of an original manuscript on May 15. The oration will be delivered from memory three days later. No limit on subject matter is made. Final contest will be held May 22.

San Jose Thinclads Meet Mathermen; Doped to Take Locals

Northerners Hope to Win Fourth Victory, Race Against Time to Defeat Telegraphic Foe, Drake

Heading south with the avowed intention of annexing one more win to their record of three straight, the Spartan cindermen from San Jose State will engage the local thinclads at 1:30 on the Phelps field oval in a meet that is doped for a San Jose win on the basis of past performances.

San Jose defeated Fresno's fine squad by a margin of 16 points, and last week the Irvingmen went down to the lop sided score of 35-96 to the Bulldogs.

Coach Tiny Hartman will bring 16 men on the trip to meet the Gauchos. These men will also be running against a phantom foe, for it is on the results of this meet that their telegraphic cinder contest with Drake university is to be decided.

Burdette Gandy, sprinter, will be back in the local sprint division, his leg having healed sufficiently to allow him to run. With him in the 220 and 100 will be Morgan and McArthur. On the basis of McArthur's performance last week, the Gauchos stand at least an even chance to win the 220.

The usual trio of Mosk, Stauss and Oakes will enter the 440, but the fat times scored by the Spartans makes more than a third spot for the Hilltoppers unlikely.

Ericson and Beckman will run the mile, while George Soule will attempt to take first spot in the double. It will be a good race, but Joe McNabb, Spartan distance man, has he edge, having recorded a time of 9:44 at Stanford a couple of weeks ago.

Fortress and Kilroy will battle it out in both hurdle events, and Fortress and Crow will be in the broad jump.

BILL MCARTHUR, fleet half-back will perform for the Coast team against the Valley gridders in Wednesday's gigantic of spring practice.

Netmen Show Well at Ojai

Ed Doty and John Moore, Gaucha net stars, pulled an upset when they defeated Dave Freeman and his partner Engles in the first round of the Ojai tournament last week. Engles was former junior Double Champion and was slated for a victory over the Hilltop pair.

Coach Paul Jones displayed pleasure over the showing of his team and stated that the locals have the edge to win the 2C2A tournament to be held in conjunction with the sports carnival here on May 19 and 20.

Ed Doty in particular displayed a fine brand of tennis, and may have gone higher in his later matches, had not the strenuous nature of the earlier play tired him.

Bert's Berth

By BERT POWERS

This week end the local track fans will have one of their few opportunities to view the Gaucha contingent when San Jose treks down to try to do what Fresno did last week, and that was sumpin' bad. San Jose has taken the Fresnoites into their Spartan camp already, and that's worse. The Mathermen went down to a bitter 96-35 score last Saturday at Fresno.

The football situation seems a lot brighter than in many weeks. With many of the regulars switching over from track to sneak in a few workouts, and various other varsity men coming out of hibernation from whence we know not, Phelps field has finally assumed the appearance of a COLLEGE team in the midst of spring practice.

We're over the blues that have assailed us all year, and are almost ready to predict that the Hilltop squad will be a threat to any ball club when the season rolls around.

The morale, that intangible little something that often spells victory or defeat, is at the highest peak we have seen since enrolling last fall. The fellows are all in good spirits, and are really aying into it this week of practice.

A boy who has not been played up in the publicity notices, but who will attract plenty of attention next fall is Carl Cords, 190 pounds of tough human, 6 feet 3 inches in length. Cords is one of the hardest workers on the Gaucha squad, and that fact alone, coupled with his record of All-State center from Montana Mines, is enough to insure his seeing a lot of time on the gridiron come Autumn.

We're in a quandry. Not that us being in a quandry is an unusual state of affairs for us, but this situation is rather new, and therefore of some interest.

We're not quite sure who won that Gym meet which was reported as lost by the locals last week. Oxy thinks they did and Coach Elmer Noble and his boys are certain they did.

It seems that it was a matter of scoring. The Oxy boys agreed to the recognized A.A.U. method, five points for first place, four for second, three for third and 2 for fourth. Only they used a five, three, two and one system, which Captain Don Brown states as being a unique experience in his somewhat lengthy gym career.

The difference in methods used would account for either a win or loss by the locals. If the A.A.U. system was the order of the day, the locals won by a margin of eleven points, which still gives them an undefeated season. Well, anyhow, it's the first competition we have ever heard of that both sides won.

Horsehiders Defeat Marines In Opener

Gauchos Gather Easy Win; Three Games Remain

After successfully taking the Marines well in hand on the latter's diamond yesterday, the Gauchos prepare for three more games before termination of their season, another pair with the soldiers of the sea and one with the town team of Pasadena on Laguna field Sunday afternoon.

Yesterday's affair ended in a 6-0 win for the locals, who had no need to put on pressure throughout the game.

The Marines, who gathered but three hits until the ninth, tagged Wrightson for a trio in that period, but couldn't capitalize on them. Merlo and Graham each picked up a pair of hits.

Score by innings:
Santa Barbara 100 032 000
Marines 000 000 000
Batteries: S.B.—Wrightson, Wilson. Marines—Stout, Berry and Traw.

The game scheduled Sunday came after Bakersfield Coca-Cola wired it would be unable to appear. Pasadena is apparently a strong outfit, having played the White Sox during spring training, and holding them to a 3-2 and 8-5 scores. Danny Cox, ex-big-league hurler, will be on the mound for the southern contingent.

Team scheduled to meet the Pasadenaians will be composed of Mickey Berman, first base; Eddie Markham, second base; Don Ripsch, third base; Jackie Fitzgerald at short stop; Lynn Graham, left field; Dave Morgan, center field; Peirino Merlo, right field, and Doc Wilson behind the bat. Pitcher will be either Gurdy Gardenhire or Cliff Wrightson, as Jim Fitzgerald will probably take care of the hurling duties in the last game against San Diego Saturday.

Trackmen

Due to strenuous meets scheduled for tomorrow and the necessity for being in the very best physical condition, no member of the varsity or frosh track teams should attend the hobo brawl this afternoon.

Spikemen Lose To Fresno Contingent

Gauchos Give Good Performance But Were Badly Outclassed

The Gaucha track team suffered its third defeat of the season at the hands of Fresno Saturday when it came out on the bottom part of a 96-35 score.

Although the Gaucha athletes put up one of their best performances of the year, they were definitely outclassed in almost all phases of the competition, garnering but a single first, that which George Soule, diminutive two miler, picked up in that event.

Bill McArthur, local sprinter, turned in a remarkable performance when he shattered a record of fifteen years standing in the 220. Bill cut the record down to 21.9 seconds, taking the record away from E. O'Neil who set a pace of 22.4 back in 1924.

Results of the meet were as follows:

1 mile: Castner (F.), Hill (F.), Beckman (S.B.). Time: 4:36.
440: Slovak (F.), Nix (F.), Mosk (S.B.). Time: 50.5.

100 yard dash: Nelson (F.), Morgan (S.B.), McArthur (S.B.). Time: 9.6.

120 High hurdles: Zebal (F.), Fortress (S.B.) and Sears (F.). Time: 14.6.

Javelin: Sundahl (F.), Baird (S.B.), Sprague (S.B.). Distance: 202 feet.

Pole vault: Hoffman (F.), Crow (S.B.), Austin (F.). Ht.: 13'.
High jump: Collier (F.), Miller (S.B.) and Austin, tie. Ht.: 6'4".
220: Nelson (F.), McArthur (S.B.), Morgan (S.B.). Time: 21.1.

2 mile: Soule (S.B.), Beckman (S.B.), Austin (F.). Time: 10:21.
Discus: Davis (F.), Campbell (S.B.), Skim (F.). Distance: 134'.
220 Low Hurdles: Zebal (F.), Fortress (S.B.), Sears (F.). Time: 24.3.

Broad jump: Collier (F.), Fortress (S.B.), Jones (F.). Distance: 23'4".

During the first half of the current fiscal year, Princeton university has received gifts totalling $1,09,761.

Syracuse university has a special graduate course for the training of future deans of women.

A Fenn college student is planning the construction of the world's longest pendulum. It'll be 211 feet long.

GARDY GARDENHIRE, Varsity griddy, will serve as either fullback or half on Valley's squad in Wednesday's contest at La Playa field.

Local Gymsters Engage Troy

Topping off a highly successful season, Coach Elmer Noble's Gym squad travels south this Saturday to engage the Trojan varsity and frosh in a meet which the southerners will undoubtedly win.

Although S.C. has a number of top-notchers in its squad, such as Roberts, who represented the Pacific Coast in the Nationals at New York, Coach Noble believes it will be good experience for his boys to compete in this class.

Hall and Captain Brown will enter the all around competition with Stiener, Beatly and Hopmans scheduled for single events. Tilford, another all around man, may be kept out with an injured arm.

In a recently conducted intramural match, Walt Tilford won the college intramural championship with a total of 22 points. His record was closely followed by Hall with 19, Stiener with 18 and Kelly Hopmans with 12. Judging the matches were Captain Brown, Coach Noble and George Depew, Los Angeles City college crack gymnast who intends to enter State in the Fall semester.

Large Crowd Expected at Annual Tilt

Preview Offered On New Gaucha Pigskinners

Capping a season of intensive fundamental drill, play running, and scrimmage, Santa Barbara State's green and white gridiron crew take to the turf next Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in the third annual Coast Valley game at La Playa field.

A large turnout of students and townspeople are expected to see this preview of the Hilltop squad in action and to look over the new material who will be fighting the Big Green's grid wars, and to size up last fall's lettermen in terms of comparative performances.

The teams are divided on the basis of the home town of the players. If a player comes from one of the coast cities, he plays with the coast squad, and if he comes from the Valley or points east he is automatically signed up with the Islanders. The squads have been making rather pointed remarks on each others ability as football men, so a nice cheerful exhibition of assault, battery, mayhem and plain and fancy homicide will be the order of the day when the whistle blows for the kickoff Wednesday.
