Pro-Palestinian Activist Inaugurates New Center

■ Ashrawi Cites Israeli Occupation, New Borders as Causes of Palestinian Hardship, Urges End to Violence

BY JULIA RUBIN

Dr. Hanan Ashrawi delivers the inaugural lecture for the Middle East Studies Dept. to a packed Campbell Hall on Sunday.

[The Israelis] blame us for the shooting and killing of our own children. ... There is no nation on earth that sends children out to die.

— Dr. Hanan Mikhail Ashrawi
founder of the Palestinian Initiative for the Promotion of Global Dialogue and Democracy

Most speakers need to lecture before receiving a standing ovation. Dr. Hanan Mikhail Ashrawi received hers before she approached the podium to speak.

Ashrawi, founder of the Palestinian Initiative for the Promotion of Global Dialogue and Democracy, gave the inaugural lecture for UCSB's Center for Middle East Studies (CMES) on Sunday afternoon to a nearly full Campbell Hall audience.

History Professor Stephen Humphreys, in his introduction of Ashrawi, described the occasion as both telling and auspicious because the lecture commemorated the opening of the CMES and fell on Palm Sunday and Passover.

In her lecture, Ashrawi focused on Palestinian hardships as a result of the Arab/Israeli conflict, which has led to Israeli occupation in Palestine. In 1988 the Palestinian National Council accepted a two-state solution that would give 22 percent of historical Palestine, including the West Bank, Jerusalem and Gaza, to the Palestinians; 78 percent of this land would go to the Israelis.

Ashrawi said that since occupation, Palestinians have experienced intrusions in their home and increased violence from shelling and assassinations. Ashrawi, who alluded to many beatings she has suffered as a result of her activism, described the frustrations felt

A California Highway Patrol officer records the accident at 755 Embarcadero del Norte. On Friday morning, Dylan Conroy allegedly crashed his Ford into the corner of the Alpha Tau Omega house.

Driver Crashes Car, ATΩ Party

BY BRENDAN BUHLER
Nexus Correspondent

A drunken driver ran into the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house at approximately 2:45 a.m. on Friday morning. No one was injured, and the driver was arrested by the California Highway Patrol.

The driver, sophomore UCSB student Dylan Conroy, was taken to the county jail where his blood alcohol level was determined to be 0.11, CHP Officer Kevin Coomer said. CHP questioned and released the passenger.

Conroy was allegedly driving his red hardtop, late-1960s Ford Mustang east down El Colegio Road when he turned right onto Embarcadero del Norte, CHP Officer Mark Darelli said. After turning onto Embarcadero del Norte, the Mustang hit the rear end of a parked green Ford Thunderbird. Approximately 75 feet later, the Mustang collided with a parked Chevy Z71 pickup truck, dislodging the truck's hubcap, flattening its tire and warping the tire's rim.

Near the end of the first block of Embarcadero del Norte, Conroy's Mustang went over the right-hand curb, lost a hubcap, clipped a tree, missed a telephone pole, went through the bushes and onto Cervantes Road. It then went over the curb, lost a second hubcap, went through another set of bushes and over a lawn before crashing into the corner of ATΩ and damaging the fraternity's fence.

The Mustang's front end was smashed in, and the car was leaking antifreeze from its radiator. ATΩ's house sustained minor damage to its concrete wall and fence.

ATΩ hosted a party Thursday night, which was winding down at the time of the accident, senior geography major and ATΩ member Joe Koenig said. Koenig was in a room on the second floor when the Mustang crashed into the house.

"We didn't see what happened — we felt what happened," Koenig said. "It was like an earthquake."

Locals Petition for I.V. Inclusion in Goleta Cityhood

BY LADAN MOENZIAI
Staff Writer

With the deadline for boundaries of Goleta Now's cityhood proposal approaching in less than a month, local activists took to the street this weekend to solicit support for Isla Vista Too!

On Saturday, approximately 25 members of Isla Vista Too! — a local coalition formed to support the incorporation of I.V. in the proposed city of Goleta — went door-to-door in I.V. to gather signatures for submission to the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO), the governmental body responsible for drawing city boundary lines.

Isla Vista Too! hopes to gather at least 5,000 signatures in order to exceed the number of signatures gathered by Goleta Now!, an organization that has petitioned to incorporate the 93117 zip code areas, excluding UCSB and I.V., in a cityhood measure on November's ballot.

I.V. homeowner and Isla Vista Too! supporter Rob Gibson said local residents will have more representation if they are included in the city of Goleta.

"Being part of a city gives local empowerment. This means we could have more control over I.V. issues — like living standards," he said. "Landlords are opposed to the I.V. vote because they want to leave student tenants powerless

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Gas and Electric Co. insiders say the utility's bankruptcy filing was timed to put maximum blame on Gov. Gray Davis and avoid being disadvantaged by the governor's apparently successful negotiations with Southern California Edison, a newspaper reported Sunday.

PG&E Corp. Chair Robert Glynn decided days before Davis' televised address on the energy crisis Thursday evening to file for bankruptcy immediately thereafter, the San Francisco Chronicle reported, citing unidentified sources inside the utility.

Davis was not made aware of the company's plans — which included giving last-minute raises and bonuses to 6,000 top PG&E executives and workers — until after it filed for protection Friday morning.

After months of contemplating bankruptcy, sources told the Chronicle that this was the most advantageous time for the utility to move forward with its plan. Any further delay, and it might have been pressured to forgo $9 billion it hopes to recoup from California ratepayers.

"We had this thing ready to go long before that," PG&E spokesperson Greg Pruett said of the bankruptcy filing and its timing to Davis' speech.

Glynn told a different story on Friday, blaming the filing on the inability of Davis and other state lawmakers to reach a political solution.

"We listened carefully to the [governor's] statement and the commentary that followed, and this decision is the result," Glynn said.

Davis later lashed out at PG&E, declaring that his administration has "moved heaven and earth" to try to avoid Chapter 11 for the utility serving 13 million Californians.

"PG&E's management is suffering from two afflictions: denial and greed," Davis said in a statement Saturday.

"The governor was led to believe that we were dealing in good faith, and clearly that was not the case," added Steve Maviglio, the governor's spokesperson. "Instead of looking in the mirror, they pointed fingers."

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the standoff over the detained crew of a downed American spy plane entered its second week, top Bush administration officials said Sunday a quick resolution was crucial to avoid further straining U.S.-China relations.

Continued delay in sending the 24 Americans home could have repercussions on Capitol Hill, said members of Congress, citing a possible trade fight later this year and an upcoming decision on U.S. weapons sales to Taiwan.

The administration refused again to apologize for the collision between a Chinese fighter jet and the U.S. plane, which was forced to make an emergency landing on an island in southern China. The Chinese jet and its pilot are missing. Over the weekend, the Chinese military took a tough stance on who was to blame.

Secretary of State Colin Powell said the United States was "sorry" about the pilot's fate, as he used a word the administration has generally avoided. But he emphasized the United States should not and will not apologize for the collision of the planes.

Both Powell, Vice President Dick Cheney and the president's national security adviser, Condoleezza Rice, said an extended standoff threatened to make it harder to repair relations between the two countries.

"I don't want to put a timetable on it. Every day that goes by without having it resolved raises the risks to the long-term relationship," Cheney said on NBC's "Meet the Press." Administration officials were careful to avoid spelling out specific consequences of further delay.

OESTERSUND, Sweden (AP) — European Union agriculture ministers started three days of talks Sunday with a debate on how to make food safer, but worries over foot-and-mouth disease followed them to their Swedish lakeside retreat.

The talks were originally planned as a chance for the 15 ministers to escape everyday business at EU headquarters in Brussels, Belgium, and reflect informally on the future of farming. Instead, the meeting will be dominated by the foot-and-mouth epidemic.

Tensions over the disease continue to mount in some countries, and on Saturday about 200 farmers, angry about the precautionary slaughtering of animals, clashed with police in Kootwijkbroek, Netherlands. One man was arrested after he tried to run over a policeman with a bulldozer, said a town official.

Ministers will once again consider a wider use of vaccination to halt the advance of the virus, and Britain will give a briefing on its fight against the outbreak, which has infected over 1,000 farms there. Other ministers will outline their strategies for keeping the disease at bay.

European governments have resisted vaccination because inoculated animals carry similar antibodies as those infected with the disease — meaning countries that vaccinate lose their disease-free trading status on world markets.

CAMARILLO, Calif. (AP) — Gas prices at the pump shot up 7 cents in the past two weeks, the first such rise since early January, an oil industry analyst said Sunday.

The price increase was due mainly to seasonal demand, said analyst Trilby Lundberg.

The average price of gasoline was about $1.54 a gallon, up 0.71 cents from March 23, according to the Lundberg Survey of 8,000 stations nationwide.

Prices had fallen more than 5 cents per gallon since Jan. 15 as the winter season reduced driving, which in turn reduced the demand for gasoline.

Refineries are also beginning to shift production to special environmentally friendly formulas required in some states. That, plus a routine decrease in refining capacity because of scheduled maintenance, also contributed to the price hike.

It's time to take charge.

Professors control class size, grading and which kinds of sexual favors make up an acceptable bribe, but students hold the ultimate power: the ability to end class early.

Professors generally pay no attention to time and dismiss class only when their students begin making their "time to go" noises.

However, most professors don't realize that we can produce these noises at any time. It all begins with one strategic desk slam or backpack zip that begins a domino effect. A shockwave of rustling hits the professor, and the transfer of power is complete.

It might be rare, but in those beautiful moments when a class functions as a cohesive unit, magic happens and lecture ends fifteen minutes early.

Monday's forecast: Hazy and boring in the morning, but a shockwave of desk slamming thunder will clear up your afternoon.

Senior philosophy major Keenan Lampkin said inclusion in the Goleta cityhood measure would ameliorate some of the housing problems in I.V.

"I'm out here today to fight a good fight. There are many unfair practices by landlords in I.V. We pay these astronomically high prices, and the standard of living here does not justify these prices," he said.

Landlords would be held more responsible if I.V. were part of a city, Gibson said. "You can get away with things in counties that you can't get away with in a city," he said.

Peegen Soutar, I.V. Recreation and Parks District director, said the petition's purpose is to designate I.V.'s place in the city of Goleta.

"We want to demonstrate to LAFCO that I.V. is interested in self-governance. If we are left out now, annexation by Goleta will not be likely in the future," she said.

Soutar said UCSB students and I.V. residents should realize the benefits of I.V. inclusion and take part in the cause.

"The average UCSB student will have the opportunity to have more control of this area," she said. "These next couple weeks, people need to be really aware about this issue."

Isla Vista Too! supporters will be collecting signatures through the April 26 LAFCO meeting, where a decision will be made on the final boundaries for the November ballot. The meeting will be held at 5 p.m. at 105 E. Anapamu St.

How to Choose?

Problematic and Promising, the New A.S. Election Code Revamps the Voting Process on Campus

Well, it's that time of year again — the flowers are blooming, the grass is greener, and next year's candidates for student government will soon spring up for election. The excitement in the air is almost overwhelming. But before you all bolt wildly for the polls in a democratic frenzy, it is important to know that a few things have changed since last spring.

The Associated Students Elections Committee made two significant alterations to the 2001 Election Code (E-Code): A candidate preference system on the ballot, replete with first and second choices, has eliminated the need for a run-off election, and students are now allowed to run for office with a party affiliation next to their name on the ballot. There is little to say about the latter modification; it is simply a bad idea.

With the possible exception of the Student Action Coalition, this year's "parties" do not live up to their name in any meaningful way, shape or form. They lack consolidated platforms and risk drawing students away from digging up information for themselves. There is simply no reason to create political parties at a university. We are a small, close-knit community, and any candidate worthy of office should be strong enough to stand as an individual. Students would be well advised to ignore the party listings on this year's ballot and pay more attention to the election committee's more intriguing revision — the ballot.

The revised ballot system, though problematic, makes the electoral process much easier for students. Every voter is allowed to mark a first and second choice for each office. If no one candidate receives a majority of the votes (50 percent plus one), the two receiving the most first choice votes go into a "run-off." Your second choice will be counted in the run-off if 1) your first choice did not make it, and 2) your second choice is one of the two individuals remaining. This procedure is less time consuming for voters, but also less democratic.

The obvious problem with the new E-Code is that many individuals will not have a say in the "run-off" vote tally simply because it is impossible for them to predict the eligible candidates. This is not say that preferential voting is impossible. The elections committee hints at the system of ordinal voting used by only a few countries around the globe, such as Australia, Ireland and Sri Lanka. However, unlike their UCSB counterpart, these systems allow voters to make a complete list of preference among all candidates versus picking only two, and the system then uses a complicated sliding scale to assign weighted votes. In short, these systems ensure that no vote is completely wasted. The system at UCSB is imperfect because it is overly simple. Nonetheless, given the state of electoral affairs on campus, the 2001 E-Code seems to be a step in the right direction.

A single ballot that eliminates the need for a run-off is perfect for this university. Last spring, 31 percent of eligible voters turned out for the first round of student elections. When the run-off rolled around a week later, only 13 percent mustered the energy to drag themselves to the polls a second time. Not cynical yet? Consider the fact that these figures represent a relatively large turnout for the student body at UCSB. A system of preferential voting will save all students time and energy and hopefully encourage greater turnout in the one election. The problem remains for the elections committee to develop a more inclusive system of ordinal voting, but students should take greater interest in their government.

Today is opening day for campaigns, and tomorrow marks the first day of two weeks of candidate debates. So try to subdue the apathetic impulses and collect a little information for yourselves. Go to the debates, but beware of buzz phrases such as "increasing awareness and diversity," "spreading A.S. visibility and accountability" and "unity in the community" — they are all noble goals, but candidates often lack concrete ideas to support them up. Finally, above and beyond anything else, remember to show up at the polls on election day (April 24), because this year, you only get one chance.

Closed Door Meetings Pass Off New NAFTA as FTAA

JESENIA CHAVEZ

My name is Jesenia Chavez, and I am a concerned Chicana U.S. citizen. I am a UCSB student from southeast Los Angeles. Thanks to the wonderful North American Free Trade Agreement in 1998, both my parents lost their jobs at Westlock Corp. and Belwith International Inc. The factories where they worked laid them off after almost 20 years of service. Just before a lot of the workers could complete 10 years of service in order to receive their pensions, they were laid off. These companies, located in the City of Industry, had the ability to relocate along the border and pay four people with the wages paid to one well-paid worker in the United States. Something must be done about this unfair treatment.

In the seven years since the passage of the NAFTA, it has proven itself to be a complete failure. Evidence of NAFTA's failure includes a decline in real wages, despite an increase in worker productivity, and crisis-level environmental and public health conditions in the border region. The transformation of the United States' trade surplus with Mexico to a trade deficit for the first time ever has been staggering for Mexico. Our federal regulations are being dismantled at taxpayers' expense thanks to "investor-to-state" provisions that allow corporations to sue our government directly. Yet I hear nothing from the media or in political debates about the ongoing negotiations for NAFTA's expansion under Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA). On the weekend of April 20-22, the commission will be meeting in Quebec, Canada. This "NAFTA for the Americas," if allowed to go forward unchallenged, will only extend this disastrous legacy throughout the Western Hemisphere!

No one knows about the FTAA because the negotiations are being conducted in secret, and only people with security clearance (transnational corporation representatives) are allowed to see any specific information about the negotiations, or even the position that our own government is taking. Furthermore, only Congress has the right to set terms for treaty negotiations of this type. Yet these have been going on for nearly five years, and the presidential administration has done nothing to brief Congress on the FTAA, much less obtain authority to negotiate in the first place.

"NAFTA for the Americas" will be complete in the next three years. It is disturbing that these important negotiations have reached an advanced stage without the knowledge of citizens and elected officials. It's high time that the American people demand that Congress get involved and put the negotiations on hold until we find out what's going on behind those closed doors. I recently attended a RAZA women's conference at UCLA. There I watched an excellent film, "Maquila: A Tale of Two Mexicos," which clearly shows the environmental depletion caused by these factories and how the corporations take no accountability. These workers are making $40 a week and can barely scrape by. Just below the border people cannot even provide food, shelter and clothing for their families. Is this progress?

For all of those people who are tired of our nation entering secret trade agreements that contribute to vast environmental destruction, as well as the erosion of worker and human rights, join the struggle. Student Lobby, an Associated Students group at UCSB, is organizing a delegation of students and community members to travel to the San Ysidro/Tijuana border on April 20-22. We will be holding teach-ins to educate ourselves and the community about the effects of the disastrous policies of the FTAA. Let's take back control of our borders and control of our country!

ASHRAWI

by many Palestinians.

"I bear with me the pain of a whole nation in captivity," she said.

Palestinians fought against what they saw as Israeli exploitations of power by continually appealing to the United Nations, Ashrawi said, but the U.N. vetoed these appeals.

Fighting has continued despite efforts at peace and nation building, such as the 1991 peace process.

Recent skirmishes led to 428 deaths; 138 of them were children under the age of 18, Ashrawi said.

"[The Israelis] blame us for the shooting and killing of our own children. ... There is no nation on earth that sends children out to die," she said. "Nobody's child should be the target of sniper fire."

Newly drawn boundaries have disrupted Palestinian life, Ashrawi said. Families have been separated, and children are unable to go to school because not every village has its own.

"We have been treated like inhabitants," she said. "[The peace] process was losing substance. It had no relation to reality. [Israelis] controlled every entrance and exit to every city. We felt this peace process had become extremely punitive. ... Every aspect of our lives has been entirely disrupted."

In response to Ashrawi's lecture, a man sitting near the back of the theater shouted, "But they're killing babies," referring to the Palestinian violence toward Israelis.

Ashrawi responded that certain individuals had taken the matter into their own hands. She said she did not support that course of action.

"'Stop the Violence' — I've never heard this statement more than in the last few months," she said. "Okay, stop the violence, but stop the Israeli violence. ... This is not a war situation. This is not a war, this is an occupation. ... Stop this pounding and battering of a people because we will not submit."

Martin Luther King - Civil Rights Leader 1912 - 1968

"Our actions must be guided by the deepest principles of our Christian faith. Love must be our regulating ideal. If we fail to do this, our protest will end up as a meaningless drama on the stage of history. We must not return violence under any condition. This is the way of Christ. It is the way of the Cross."

Mahatma Gandhi - Indian Philosopher 1869 - 1948

"Jesus, a man who was completely innocent, offered Himself as a sacrifice for the good of other, including his enemies, and became the ransom of the world. It was a perfect act."

Ronaldo - Voted Number One Soccer Player in the World

"I am considered the best football player in the world - the 'Number One'. But the greatest man that ever lived in this world is Jesus Christ, the son of the Living God. He is the real Number One."

Jesus Christ-

"I am the way, the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father but through me."

Book of John Chapter 14, verse 6

YOUR DAILY HOROSCOPE
By Linda C. Black

Today's Birthday (April 9). Your mission this year, if you choose to accept it, is to amass a small fortune. If you already have a small fortune, amass a big one. Your charms are dazzling in April, as you well know. Don't get distracted from your main theme, which is money. Learn the rules of the game in May. Learn the tricks of the trade in June. Get support from family in July. Let somebody love you in August, but don't overspend on romance. If you can stay focused until November, you'll make a bundle! Don't spend it all on travel in December, or on a good cause in February. The point is to retire rich, remember? One year of great success, and you can.

To get the advantage, check the day's rating: 10 is the easiest day, 0 the most challenging.

Aries (March 21-April 19) - Today is a 7 - You may be feeling stressed financially. This doesn't necessarily mean you don't have enough; you may just want more - for toys. This is a perfectly good reason, so create a plan.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) - Today is a 6 - Don't let somebody else's lack of foresight send you into a tizzy. You don't need to develop an ulcer over something that isn't your fault. Even if it is your fault, relax. And call for help if you need it.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) - Today is a 5 - Get your friends to help you with a big project. Together, you'll have it done in no time at all. If you go out tonight to celebrate, don't stay out late. You don't want to make tomorrow even more difficult.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) - Today is a 7 - A dream may be out of reach, but love should be close at hand. You're getting the better part of the deal. Love close at hand is worth at least two or three dreams. Besides, with the former, you're more apt to get the latter. Or, come up with something nice that you can have right now.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) - Today is a 6 - You're rarin' to go, but you're dragging an anchor. Distant horizons beckon, but there's work to be done at home. You think you're miserable now? Just imagine how you'll feel on Wednesday if the job isn't done by then. Hustle!

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) - Today is a 6 - If everybody would just leave you alone so that you could concentrate, you'd be fine. But, no, they have to bug you with their incessant questioning. Maybe you could get some peace and quiet if you locked yourself in the bathroom. It's worth a try.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) - Today is a 6 - You'd much rather spend the day in fantasy than reality, but that's not a good idea. You'll profit more by doing what's needed, even if you don't feel like it. How much self-discipline do you have? You're the only one who can answer that question - through deeds, not words.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) - Today is a 6 - True, you're powerful. You may need every bit of power you can generate. The pace you've set is so intense, it would quickly wear out a lesser mortal. Even you may be pooped by the time this day is through.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) - Today is a 6 - You're a bold, out-front sort of person - most of the time. Right now, however, you'd be wise to hold back. Although you're anxious to proceed, odds are good you're overlooking something. Check your calculations one more time.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) - Today is a 6 - If you and your friends could hang out all day, doing whatever you felt like, you would be a happy camper. Yeah, camping. That would be perfect! But it's unlikely to happen - not today, anyway. Console yourselves with plans for the future. Wait a while, and go after the sun gets into Taurus.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) - Today is a 7 - An idea you want to try may not go over big with the boss - at least not yet - so don't even talk about it while it's still in the formative stage. Make your presentation later, when you really know what you're talking about.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) - Today is a 7 - True love awaits, but it's tantalizingly out of reach. Part of your problem could be that it's Monday, and you have to go to work. Don't pass up the chance tonight, even if you have to drive a ways to get there.
