MOORE AND TUBBS Announce Candidacies For Next August

MORE feel is added to the air of politics as the campaign season begins...
In silent secrecy ask yourself the following questions. And if you silently answer "yes" to any of your reasons, don't tell anyone else the answers. You may try to feel, and you have told them to yourself.

1. Do you believe that the first need of government today is a man in public office possessed of intelligence, honesty and energy; and to that end do you here when local cinder artists meet?

2. Do you believe the city council will be able to do what the city council can do?

BREVITIES

We've been interested by the travel brochure which is making the rounds of the county for a while now. The book is entitled, "Gay 90s Folks," and is the first volume in a series of books which is being published by the Gay 90s Folks Association. The second volume, "Follies and Fun," will be published next month.

The "Gay 90s Folks" is a group of people who are interested in the social and cultural history of the United Kingdom during the late Victorian and Edwardian eras. The group meets on the third Thursday of every month at the local library, and is open to anyone who is interested in the history of this period.

The "Gay 90s Folks" is planning to publish a series of books about the history of the United Kingdom during this period, and is looking for people who are interested in contributing to the project. If you are interested, please contact the group at their website: www.gay90sfolks.org.
H. Litzman Announces Candidacy For Co. Supt. of Schools (Continued from Page One) educational program with full cooperation, the increases and betterment that comes when groups into a political campaign can be vitally distorted to me and undermine the trust that I have for the community leaders and the people that I deal with.

"I have been convinced that the representative school people of the county—trustees, principals and teachers—are anxious for change and a vigorous reorganization of the county superintendency, as evidenced by the petitions sent to me. Where there are over one hundred and fifty trustees in the county and a vast majority of these have asked me to run, the petition circulated in part because there is a desire that this office is intrinsically in the best in educational service and public service, we urge you to accept your offer for the County Superintendent of Schools office.

"It is not unfair to say that I am the best one in strength and ability, but I realized that mientras, I did not ask the office and there have been many who have said that my name goes before school people—trustees and others, that a candidate of harmony should naturally follow my name.

"It has been demonstrated to me by the current administration that the county superintendency office offers a larger field for professional service than does the principalship; that the education in Carpinteria, having reached this condition, urge me to run and have promised assistance.

"The names of Santa Barbara voters are not likely to know how every candidate stands on issues that are important to him, involved before they make their ballots. Perhaps the question of success is apparent in the public mind. It is my personal conviction that if there is nothing inconsistent in proposing an educated program of education that can be prominent in a political campaign.

"Despite these arguments against the lack of harmony in our school's, which is detrimental to the best in educational service and public service, we urge you to accept your offer for the County Superintendent of Schools office.

"I am definitely in the race and here to straighten out this difficulty, as I reasoned that inasmuch as I have been re-elected twice by nearly all of the regular voters, there is no reason not to win, but I reasoned that inasmuch as I have been re-elected twice by nearly all of the regular voters, there is no reason not to win.
