A.M.S. Members And Guests Attend Osborne Dance Tonite

Associated Men Students and their guests will dance to the music of Will Osborne and his orchestra, the first "name band" to play for community dances, tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the Civic Auditorium.

"This will be the first big well-known band that has come to Santa Barbara in a long time and are hoping that the students will make the most of this opportunity to enjoy the music and dancing," stated Harvey Schechter, social chairman of A.M.S. "The committee is planning to pay half the admission price which is $2.40 per couple. About eighty tickets were ordered and by last Monday over 35 couples were planning to attend."

Previously the A.M.S. "Pajama Top Parade" was to be held here at school but plans were cancelled when the social committee found out that arrangements conflicted with the community dance at the Civic Auditorium.

Sponsors invited to attend are Dr. Glenn Derflinger, Dr. Chesley Mathews, Mr. Harrington Wells, Mr. William Hayes, Mr. Stanley Williamson, Mr. Terry Dearborn, Dean C. D. Woodhouse, Dr. William Ellison, Dr. Elmer Noble, and Dean Charles Jacobs.

Mr. Osborne will open the series of outstanding orchestras playing here every weekend. Others to appear in the future will be Paul Martin, Carmen Cavallero, Ray Herbeck, and Joe Reichman.

Gaucha Jamboree To Be Held Next Friday Night at Phelps Field

School spirit on this campus is expected to soar when all Gauchos gather together for a gala Gaucha Jamboree, November 9 at Phelps field. Highlighting the Jamboree will be a gigantic bonfire and rally with old Gaucha songs and yells mingled with the newer California favorites being led by yell leader Bob Schottland.

Preceding the activities on the field will be a softball game between the undergraduate team and the faculty. The game will take place on the Riviera campus on the playing field at 3 p.m.

Following the baseball game, an automobile caravan will leave the Riviera campus for Phelps field. Rally committee chairman Jean Calderon requests that all cars be decorated with the university colors of blue and gold.

Dinner will be served on the field at 5 p.m. by members of the associated women students. Florence Record and Willowdean Wigger are in charge of the menu for which tickets will be sold in advance.

Entertainment from Hollywood is planned in addition to a five-piece band which has been organized on campus.

After the Jamboree a basketball game will be held in the Community Center between the Gauchos and a service team.

Noted Naturalist To Speak Here

Comparing the story of Summer and Winter in the snow-capped mountain ranges of western America, John Claire Monteith, nationally known lecturer and naturalist, will speak in the auditorium fourth hour Tuesday.

Mr. Monteith has given similar lectures at many colleges and universities, including Stanford, Ohio State, and University of Minnesota.

The lecture will be illustrated by a natural color motion film, entitled "Alps of America." The winter scenes include shots of skiers performing in the Canadian Rockies near Banff and Lake Louise, in the back country of the High Sierras.

Contrasted with the scenes of the American Alps in winter are the charms of the mountains for man in the summer. It is then that the glaciers may be approached from the Columbian ice cap of the Arctic circle in the north, to the peaks of Mt. Ranier, Mt. Hood and the Yosemite. Here is pictured the last stand of wild animal life still existing in America. Natural history, geography and geology form the background for the Monteith lecture and pictures.

Associate Professor of Music Featured In Ventura Tonight

Hubert Klyne Headley, associate professor of music, will present a recital of his own works in a special Ventura concert series program at the junior college auditorium tonight. This will be Headley's first concert since his recent discharge from the army, although many of the compositions were written while he was still in the service.

H. KLYNE HEADLEY
To Present Concert Tonight

The young American composer's works have been widely recognized and performed by such notables as Jose Iturbi and Pierre Monteaux, and have received attention in the yearly festivals of American music sponsored by Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York.

Among Headley's larger works are the "California Suite," performed for the first time in 1939 by the San Francisco Symphony, and "Argentango," a concerto for piano and orchestra, introduced by Jose Iturbi and later broadcast on the Standard Symphony hour. Selections from the California Suite have been given numerous performances since the work was first presented.

Headley received his Bachelor of Music degree at the College of the Pacific music conservatory and his Master's degree at Eastman School of Music, where he studied with Dr. Hanson, Bernard Rogers, and Herbert Elwell, all outstanding American composers. Three years after he completed his graduate work at the Eastman school he was awarded the coveted Edward MacDowell fellowship in musical composition.

A second concert will be presented by Headley in Palm Springs January 30, when he will appear on the artist series there. He will tour the East next summer.

Senior Class Plans Annual Breakfast

In their second meeting of the year, held last Tuesday in room 10, the senior class discussed plans for the annual breakfast, the monthly senior bulletin, and a proposed annual pamphlet. Gordon Griffiths, president, urged all seniors to attend the senior breakfast, Sunday, November 11, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Jane Abraham, 1721 Santa Barbara street.

This affair will be one of the biggest senior events and is the first senior social function, Griffiths indicated. Tickets are fifty cents each and will soon be on sale by class officers.

Kathryn Dill, editor of the monthly senior paper, urged any students interested in journalism to volunteer for work on the bulletin. The first edition of the paper has gone to press and will probably come out around the first of November, according to Miss Dill.

The editor went on to explain about the contest which is being held to determine a name for the bulletin, with the person submitting the winning name to be awarded a free ticket to the senior breakfast.

Officers discussed publishing a pamphlet in June which would show pictures of and tell the activities of the previous four years. This publication would be for seniors only and would be put out by the senior bulletin staff.

Yacht Club Holds Special Meeting

Faculty members of Santa Barbara college have been invited to attend a special meeting of the Gaucha Yacht club, in the A.W.S. room at 7:30 p.m.

Under the leadership of Commodore Wes Gray and Maureen Caldwell, secretary-treasurer, the club has been enjoying an active season. Regular meetings are held each Thursday in room 80 at 12:30 p.m. and are open to all interested students.

At the last meeting, members agreed to establish a Penguin fleet for active competition with other Yacht clubs. Colored movies were shown and the club colors were changed to blue and gold. Over thirty students have passed their tests and become members.

Applications are being accepted for three representatives at large to the Red Cross board of directors. Persons interested in these positions should submit their applications to Ray Puissegur, student body president, by Wednesday, November 7, at 4 p.m.

Red Cross Chapter Entertains At Hoff

Black cats and dimmed lights lent atmosphere to the Hoff general hospital Halloween party Saturday, October 27. Members of the college chapter of the American Red Cross participated. The function was planned by Red Cross workers at the hospital who also took care of the decorations, with the assistance of several patients.

Refreshments were served by Helen Williams, chairman of the group, who was aided by Mrs. Carl Nelson, faculty advisor.

The second in a series of ward parties at Hoff will be held November 4. The program will be provided by the entertainment committee, headed by Sally Dunlap. Buses will leave the campus at 1:30 p.m. and proceed down Valerio, stopping at Olive, Garden and State streets. Members of the Red Cross are urged to sign in the dean of women's office as soon as possible.

Sophs Discuss Plans For Student Dance

Planning the coming student body dance which the sophomore class will sponsor November 20, was the main topic of discussion in the sophomore class meeting, held Tuesday, in room 80. According to President Ross Everman, this dance to be held at Rockwood, will be one of the best affairs of the year. With "winter" its theme, the dance will be a sport and date affair.

Mr. Walter C. Conrad was introduced as class advisor, and Eleanor Zankich, secretary-treasurer, made a report, after which class dues were collected.

Sorority Tea Fetes Sponsors

Faculty members and sorority sponsors and patrons were entertained by the eight campus social sororities at a tea Sunday afternoon October 28, at Marymount school on Mission Ridge.

Coffee, tea, punch, sherbet, and cake were served the guests as they made new acquaintances and renewed old friendships.

Chairmen of the various committees were Marion Forst, Sigma Delta Phi, invitations; Marianna Richardson, Alpha Theta Chi, decorations; Barbara Webber, Gamma Delta Chi, hostesses; Katherine Nordstrom, Delta Zeta Delta, refreshments; Peggy Upson, Phi Kappa Gamma, clean up; Marge Higley, Chi Delta Chi, equipment; and Reva Hansen, Delta Sigma Epsilon, budget.

The event replaced the separate sorority teas formerly held throughout the Fall semester.

Phi Lambda Mu Holds Meeting

Phi Lambda Mu, honorary music sorority, met for the first time this semester Wednesday evening, October 26, at the home of Betty Hendershot, president, 1740 Olive street.

Viva Hoobler and Peggy Schuman were elected as recording secretary-treasurer and corresponding secretary, respectively.

A tentative date, December 16, was set for the annual Phi Lambda Mu recital, and plans were discussed for a tea for new women in the Music department, to be held on Tuesday afternoon, November 6, at the Gamma Delta Chi house.

College Given Prized Costumes

Bringing with it the romance of ages past, visions of luscious ladies in hoop skirts and bustles, a complete costume collection dating from the times of Queen Anne arrived in the Art department last week, a gift of its organizer, Mrs. Max Schott. The collection is an extremely valuable one, having been sought by leading museums throughout the country. A portion of the collection may be seen in the foyer of the Art department, where fan accessories are displayed.

On display is a fan which belonged to the Empress Josephine and other examples from the French empire period. Especially unusual is an Austrian fan featuring portraits of Maria Theresa, wife of Francis II. There are Spanish fans thick with black lace, English fans made of carved ivory, round Victorian fans and Japanese fans delicately painted in the best oriental style.

The entire costume collection is at present under the care of Delta Phi Delta, honorary art fraternity, who will present the outstanding pieces to the student body in a fashion show during the spring semester.

EDITORIAL

Despite the fact that government expenditures are being drastically reduced, the aftermath of war carries grave responsibilities that must not be shirked, and in facing this task, every American's help is needed.

A substantial army and navy must be maintained until order is restored throughout the world. Millions of homes are waiting for boys who have been away too long. We must bring them back quickly. A fair estimate of the cost to bring our forces home is $1,400,000,000.

We cannot pay our debt to the wounded. We can only do our best. The hundreds of thousands of men who face a future beset with handicaps look to us for help. Hospitalization, treatment, artificial limbs, vocational training for these 500,000 American boys will require the expenditure of many millions of dollars in the next year.

Returning soldiers and sailors must have a stake to start again in civilian life. The law provides up to $300 per man. If our reduction in armed forces goes as scheduled, this item will add up to more than $2,000,000,000.

Apart from the need of money to finish the job of paying for the war is the danger of inflation. The difference of $50,000,000,000 between earnings and goods and services available during 1945 must be substantially absorbed by savings, or competition for available goods will push prices through ceilings, which would mean inflation.

The Victory Loan drive is being conducted next week, November 2 through 9. We, as Americans, hold a stake in the future that can be claimed only by a whole-hearted participation in the drive. The all-over goal is $11,000,000,000, and every contribution, no matter how small, is going to help fill it. The need for the money has been clearly demonstrated. Let's Finish the Job!

—Betty Osterman.

TODAY IS THE DAY . . .

That you turn in your suggestion of a new title for this column . . . There will be ballot boxes available in front of the student body office and in the Industrial Education office today and Monday . . . Don't forget, first prize is that beautiful gold and silver trophy.

Here is some information about the industrial division that may help you to choose a name.

The Mesa campus consists of 105 acres of land, upon which stands a new building containing 72,000 square feet of floor space, and which cost over a half million dollars to construct and equip. This building contains thirty shops, laboratories, and classrooms.

Courses taken are of two main types. The first is industrial arts which is a phase of general education utilizing the tools and equipment of industry. Through this medium certain objectives can be attained more easily than in the formal classroom. Students who take these courses are preparing to become teachers of shop subjects in junior high and high school. Most of the students in the department follow this curriculum.

The second type of education offered is industrial technology. This is designed to give a broad technical background of mechanical work in conjunction with science and research. Graduates are prepared to enter preferred employment in industry, or to enter technical sales and service industries.

Most of our work is done in the shops and in the drafting rooms. Some of the subjects taken are metal work, wood work, mechanical drawing and designing, printing, auto-

Charter members of the newly formed Ad Club held their first meeting in the A.W.S. room Tuesday evening, October 23. Officers elected were president, Georgia Dicken; vice president and social chairman, Dawn Walker; secretary-treasurer, Larry Mosher. President Georgia Dicken appointed Bobbyann Kubly publicity director and Manuel Banda representative to council. A constitution was formulated and voted upon by the members.

The Ad Club was initiated to satisfy the need of correlating school publicity with the students who are interested and willing to help publicize school affairs.

Organizations desiring poster work should obtain requisition blanks from the graduate manager's office and return them at least two weeks in advance.

Ad Club is a non-profitable organization. Money collected for work will be placed in a fund for new equipment.

Council Corner

Executive council members met Wednesday afternoon, October 24, to discuss several important campus issues.

Idea of the Gaucho Jamboree was presented by Bob Schottland, rally committee member, which will take place November 9, at Phelps field. Sponsored by the rally committee, under the direction of Jean Calderon, chairman, the event will include a rally, picnic, bonfire, singing, and a practice basketball game with a service team.

Formation of the Ad Club was approved and it was decided that poster sizes, and distribution of the publicity would be left up to the suggestion of the club, to be reported through the activities control board.

Parking violation of student automobiles was discussed and it was stressed again that students abide by the rules that have been set up.

Organization of an interrelations group with the high school was presented by Ray Puissegur, for the purpose of closer coordination of the two student bodies. Student body president, A.M.S. president, A.W.S. president, social chairman, and athletic manager will be the representatives from this campus to the organization.

REVISION: THE SUN IS MY UNDOING

By SALLY HERBERT

It's funny how the very mention of the word "beach" fills me with excitement. I say it's funny, for I have never, in all my eighteen years, spent a day in the company of sand and sun which has been what most would term "idealistic." Yesterday's episode gives me occasion to relate more of the details on this subject.

At precisely nine a.m. I bounded from my bed with but one thought in mind, that being to join the crowds which were undoubtedly making the most of a glorious sun shining down on the shores of Santa Barbara.

After a hurriedly prepared and eaten breakfast, I was on my way to meet the bus which would take me seaward. The inauguration of my unfortunate incidents began at this time.

Boarding the local instrument of conveyance, I settled back to view my companions. To my utter dismay I discovered that the very girls I had hoped to impress during my first months at college were surveying me with not too favorable glances. In that instant I silently vowed never again to appear in public attired in my much too scantily made shorts. Needless to say I escaped with the least possible conspicuous-ness when I reached my destination.

On seeing the ocean my buoyant spirits returned. I found a spot midst colored towels and blankets where I placed by belongings and made ready to expend the entire day. As I turned to wave at a passing friend, I received not only the returned salutation, but also a handful of sand one of "mommies precious darlings" had thrown for amusement. I brushed myself off with fitting dignity and resumed my former position of relaxation.

My "home-brewed" sun-tan oil wanted attention. It got it! Flies from all vicinities voted to hold their first meeting of the year on my back. Messengers informing the others of this congregation were stationed strategically on my legs and arms. No amount of turning, brushing, or swatting seemed to cause them disturbance for any great length of time. Relief seemed close however as I was planning on a little nourishment almost immediately.

My plans were NOT carried out. For some reason which is still unexplained to me the only eating place within the radius of two miles was closed. I mean to start a diet in the not too distant future, but I had certainly not arranged to have its beginning then. Satisfying my hunger with a long, not too cool, drink of water I dodged my way through a rough game of football back to my now water-soaked, sand-covered towel.

So that my tan (and I use the term loosely) would be evenly dispersed, I turned from stomach to back, back to stomach for the remainder of the afternoon.

Now after a cold bath, (my roommate's washing exhausted our supply of hot water) I am ready to anoint myself with grease in the hope of bringing at least partial relief to my aching, sunburned limbs. As I execute this last feat I am only subconsciously aware of my action for there is a matter of supreme im-

"Sports in Shorts"

By GEORGE LEYVA

The Casaba court will be blazing with fire and determination again, after a three year shortage of manpower which brought the one time winners of fourth place in the national basketball competition to a standstill. With no shortage of men and a considerable amount of new and good material the Hilltoppers should make a name for the newly reorganized University of California Santa Barbara college, which has been the underdog in inter-collegiate competition for the past two or three seasons.

Jim Minah, who will be seen in action, this season for the Gauchos has a very broad knowledge of the game and has played from Santa Barbara to Europe. Jim started his basketball career in grammar school but finally gained his fame in three years of high school basketball and latter played for the Elks club which won the California championship in 1940. From this point Jim went into the army and played in the states for a short time and then was shipped to the war front of Africa. While spending three years in the European theater of war, Jim was lucky enough to have time out from the wars and play some basketball. Playing for the "Sicily Blackbirds" Jim was able to prove himself a very valuable man to have on the squad which won fame on the courts of Europe to become the champions of the European theatre of operation.

Murrel Binkley, another service player who looks like an important sparkplug for the Gauchos has played ball with the U. S. Army and also with the Taft Union High school, before entering the service. His career as an army hoopster was highlighted by his team winning the Western Florida open tournament. He also played with a group in England but due to the fact of bombings, the boys didn't get to play much basketball.

Bob Cassier, who was probably one of the finest ball players in the city league last year will also perform for the Gauchos with great efficiency, when they meet stiff competition of the southland "basketballers."

Bill Nason, a tall blond, although not quite as experienced as the afore mentioned players looks like a promising ball player for the Gaucho five.

These boys who will spotlight the "Casaba squad" this year, are to me, the outstanding players on the Gaucho team, and the backbone for the Hilltoppers this coming season.

LETTER to the EDITOR---

Undoubtedly the students who did not attend the first Artist Series event last week and the Marines vs. Cal Poly football game Saturday night had "good excuses."

About 100 students witnessed the performance by Jacques Cartier in the auditorium, and nearly the same number attended the gridiron contest. Interest in both of these events should have been extremely high—yet the turnouts were dismal.

The future of activities on the campus will be jeopardized unless the current situation is improved.

Prospects for a successful football season next year are not very promising when less than one-eighth of the student body attends a game that benefits their program. The Junior Chamber of Commerce agreed to turn over their profits from this contest to a college football scholarship fund—all they expected from the students was a little support.

Plans are nearing completion for a football team in 1946, which has the possibilities of bringing national recognition to Santa Barbara and the college, but the officials in charge will be forced to revise the proposed setup if support is not apparent. A large number of students are demanding the revival of sports, but it appears that the majority will not cooperate even to a minor extent.

Maybe the student body officials are wrong in assuming that the students want first class entertainment when possible—not only sports, but also Artist Series and social events. When the program was planned for this year more money was allotted to nearly every organization with the idea of raising the standards.

The Associated Students cannot afford to go into debt as they were before the war, and other events should not have to suffer because of losses in sports. We are facing a big problem, and there is no reason it cannot be solved to the satisfaction of everyone.

HAROLD MARTIN,
Student Body Manager

(Continued from Page Three) complains about no school spirit, no sports and son . . . Why don't you guys and gals who are yelling the loudest get out and give your school some support!

To the Editor of El Gaucho:

In Ebbets Hall there is a room next to the cafeteria which is a haven for Gauchos. We may drink coffee or coke; sit and enjoy ourselves talking and yelling to our heart's content. No one ever expects to accomplish anything here in the Gaucho Room except a good conflagration with fellow students and a jolly good time. No one complains of the general roar. This is our social gathering place. It is a vital and necessary part of college life.

On the other side of the campus, however, is another room. It is located on the second floor of the Administration building, set off by itself where there will be no interruptions from general campus activities. This place is known as the library. In most colleges it is provided for those who need a peaceful place to study. It is kept so quiet that if anyone gets even a little out of line, all the librarian need do is tap her pencil on the desk to once again assure order. Naturally there is a gentle rustle of paper, the turning of a page or the slight disturbance of someone walking quietly around using the facilities of the library.

At the University of California, Santa Barbara College, there is an entirely different situation. Instead of the quiet, we have a din. THE LIBRARY AT THIS INSTITUTION IS JUST A SECOND GAUCHO ROOM. If indeed we want another room of this sort, let us equip it with a coke machine, a coffee pot and a juke box. Let's clear out the tables and books and have a swell place to dance in spare periods. When we do, though, let's find another room where we may establish a REAL library; a place where there will always be peace and quiet and we may cram in that last ounce of facts that we need for the quizz next hour. Let us make the library at this col-
