San Jose Series Climaxes Steward's Basketball Career

EL GAUCHO

WIN or LOSE By OZZIE OSBORNE

As the Green and White cagers wind up their basketball season this weekend with the San Jose Spartans, it might be well to do a little going over the local's record to date.

Opening their 1942 season, with no practice games under their belts, the Gaucho cagers swept through Fresno State 26-25, 46-45, little Bill Leveille leading the locals by amassing 27 points during the series.

On to San Jose State, the locals splitting the dual there 41-31, 30-28 Coach Walt McPherson's boys almost dropped both games to the Gauchos, but Spartan guard Bill Hellbush sparked a last minute scoring spree, which left the locals 2 points to the red at the red at the final gun.

Returning to the home grounds, Wilton's charges rested a day, and then engaged the San Diego Aztecs, dividing the dual by dropping the opener, 29-39, but copping the finale 32-29. Thus the locals embarked on their 2C2A season, playing six conference games in 9 days, winning 4, losing 2.

The famous colored Broadway Clowns then invaded Green and White territory, but the Staters won the tilt hands down 33-25, giving the dusky pros such a warm time that they had no incentive to live up to their record of crowd-amusement.

In a two-game series with Pepperdine college of Los Angeles, the locals again dropped the opener, 29-26, but found the range in the nightcap, downing the southerners 34-24.

Grooving back to 2C2A tilts, the locals dropped one of the most bitterly contested games in the history of the school, splitting with Fresno State 41-36, 37-36. The final game of that series was actually won by the Gauchos, but the score was kept in error, and the resulting tally showed the locals minus a few points.

Once again the Broadway Clowns trotted on Gaucho hardwood, this time avenging their earlier defeat at the hands of the Wiltonmen, 39-37, Lowell Steward ringing up 10 digits.

In another non-conference tilt, the locals split with the Loyala Lion basketeers, dropping the first 42-37, but copping the second, 33-20.

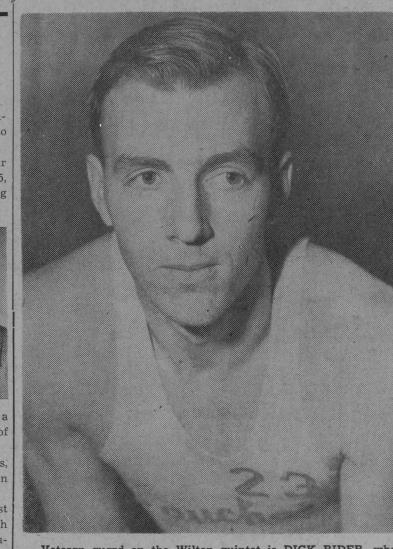

Traveling southward to the Border City, the locals again split a 2C2A tilt, edging out San Diego, 34-33, in the first, dropping the second 18-28. This was also another shady series as far as the locals were concerned, the southern officials being very, very anti-Gaucho, and in one instance shoving a local player to the ground- result . . . Staters-Aztecs hold civil war in southern gym. However, the gendarmes were not really called out to stop the riot, as earlier reports indicated.

Dropping their first series of the season, the locals were swamped by potent San Francisco State, 48-53, 43-42. The Golden Gaters had amassed a record of winning 18 out of 20 games prior to their local engagement, and owing to the fact that neither San Diego nor Santa Barbara would be able to attend the Kansas City | tournament this year, both coaches nominated the Gaters as the west coast representative. The Frisco series was the cleanest ever played on the hardwoods here, and sportsmanship was at a peak throughout both games.

And now, tonight and tomorrow night the Hilltoppers will end their 1942 series with San Jose, as will Lowell Steward, who winds up his collegiate basketball career then. Steward has been one of the local's mainstay offense aces all season, and has been rated as one of the outstanding defense players in the conference.

In 18 games, both conference and non-conference, the Gauchos amassed 628 points to their opponents' 627, averaging 34.9 points per game . . . not a bad average at all!

STEWARD JUMPS

Finding the range in last week's series with San Francisco State (which the locals dropped 48-53, 43-52), Porky Steward jumped into first place on the Hilltopper scoring record, by ringing up 20 points during Friday's tussle and 12 the following night, earning a season total of 163. Bob Sherman, Gaucho forward, is in second place with 148 digits to date, closely followed by dynamic little Bill Leveille, claiming 136. According to the dope sheet, the locals must sweep this allimportant San Jose series to be assured of being in the championship runoff, and then will have to keep their fingers crossedagainst the not too probable possibility that the Spartans would take four straight games from the Aztecs.

By downing the Spartan cagers twice in a row, the Hilltoppers would finish the series with eight victories and four defeats for a season mark of .666. By winning three out of four from San Jose, the San Diego Aztecs would finish with the same percentage, and the result would be a tie between the Gauchos and the Aztecs for loop honors.

On the other hand, San Jose might be able to duplicate their action of last year-knocking the locals out of the runningand win all six of their remaining 2C2A tilts, to claim undisputed leadership of the circuit. Some believe the Spartans up to this task, and label them as the "darkhorse" of the season, but the Wiltonmen are not among the group, and will be gunning for a double win over the northern cagers. To insure the locals against possible scoring threats by the Spartans, veteran Gaucho guards Alton Ballard and Dick Rider FRESNO, Feb. 27-Fresno will undoubtedly cause the nor-State's football stock soared this therners much difficulty. Rider and Ballard have been instrumental in keeping offensive scoring to a minimum this season, and time and again their work meant the difference between a win and a loss for the Hilltop-Starting lineup for the locals will consist of Bob Sherman and Bill Leveille in the forward slots, Porky Steward at center and Alton Ballard and Dick Rider at guards. After having finished their gruelling series with San Franisco State, the Hilltoppers looked forward to a week of solid practice in preparation for their Spartan encounter, but blackouts cancelled practice Monday and Tuesday. The locals are not in need of offensive scoring practice, as their average of approximately 35 points per game will testify, but Wilton stated that the boys are in need of defensive practice and passing drills. McPherson's charges started the eason out rather slowly, being hampered continually by blackouts, and having military forces camped in their gym. Since then, however, the Gold and Whiters have had plenty of pratice games, and now hold a record of three wins and three losses in the California Collegiate Athletic association hoop circuit.

Actual War Reveals Glaring Civilian Defense Defects

The war has come, with all its actualities, to Santa Barbara. Last Monday night this city experienced a blackout which lasted for approximately four hours. During the four hours that the lights were out and Santa Barbarans were wondering I?", meaning me. So the fellows just what was going on, several glaring faults in the home defense set up were revealed.

1. Despite the fact that one of the most repeated warnings says "Hey, let's you and I and given to civilians is "Stay Indoors," hundreds of civilians were our girl friends go out and get a roaming the streets. Air raid block wardens, instead of order- double decker ice cream cone!" ing these people off the streets, in many cases permitted their By that he meant let's get four friends to congregate on the street corners with them.

2. There was much confusion resulting quite naturally as a result of having too many people with too much authority.

3. There was no way to tell official cars from other cars, except for the large E on the windshield. Blackout lights were cause we are gentlemen and not able to be seen, and the E's could not be read. ## Suggs-estions

"Thumbs up!" cried Santa Barbara on December 7. Now she repeats the flaunt despite attempted shelling at her outskirts. With the same valiant theme that characterized Britain's staunch Businss-as-usual slogan, the Channel City girds herself with the calm assurance characteristic of the war's early days. The movement, be assured, started long before the war's beginning. December 7's episode merely gave it impetus.

Located on the brink of disaster, the riviera center of America must change its tune of come-ye-hither-tourist to confidently carrying on within its own citizenry. And she is doing just that. Without too much fuss, she is incorporating precautionary measures with defense efforts.

of Commerce who have named it, appropriately, Thumbs Up! A true morale-boaster to the city which is already confident, Thumbs Up has the effect of underscoring the attitude which is inborn and which has grown in our beloved California city. We'll take this chance to second motions made by sister cities, namely Fresno and others, of complimenting the Junior Chamber and pledging our support of the campaign.

(Note: It is significant that Santa Barbara's request for military guard is minute compared to the majority of inland cities who feel the need of functional protection.)

Gaucholand is Greek-letter- conscious these days . . . pledging season being officially inaugurated today. The groups for this time if for no other during the year, are definite. Entirely separate are the Alphas, the Betas, the Chis, et al. They gather in the clubroom in their own little cliques and cast furtive glances 'round as they talk of "who went which." Velly interestin' . . at the moment. Soon all fluff will have flown The season proper, continues through April, Hell Week (called Panic Week by sororities) is slated for the 20th through the 26th. Attention, waning in the spectator stands, will revive about that time as the campus and downtown focuses on the antics of new Greeks.

Of importance to each and all will be next Thursday's council meeting. There, details of the budget for 1942-43 will be ironed out. With an anticipated lowered enrollment and certain static expenses, the outlook is anything but cheerful. The major problem boils down to this: football or not? If we continue sponsoring the gridiron sport with its huge expense account (which, we might add, is inevitable) then the lump of extra-curricular activities can not be continued in their present form. We'd suggest that you take a glance at the figures listed below, weigh the importance of each activity and turn up at the meeting Thursday to discuss you points. It will be held on the Mesa campus.

wishes to thank former student O'Reilly for classing us as a national journal; wishes to apologize for almost starting another Civil War.)

In Re: Lynchings

May I clarify my position on "Department" dues? As far as I know, no Department Head at ed the unrelenting dictum of the State issues "commands" of any . . power" is.

are in effect commands but the As the hour grew late, the sen- Department Head is merely a tries, realizing the possibility of group adviser. Therefore, by dean all-night alarm, announced finition, (as well as legally) the that although no cars would be department head has no "power" allowed to leave, all who wanted to "command" or thus make to walk would be escorted in a "mandatory" the payment of dues group past the sentries. Some 60 by students or anything else for cannot help.
