'Image' Slides Today's Talk

"Painter's Image" is the subject of William E. Dole's lecture today, to be held in the new classroom lecture room at 4 p.m. Dole is chairman of the department of art at UCSB.

Dole will offer observations on the nature of the "image" in painting before showing slides illustrating how this idea operates in the work of a painter. The slides will present medieval and contemporary examples of art, including slides of Dole's own paintings.

Function of Art

According to Dole, art has a function of operating as an "image" aside from the considerations of elements involved in the discussions of art. "Sometimes this seems like a species of magic as it is not capable of analysis in the same way design is," relates Dole.

Painter Dole was the first recipient of the Plous Memorial Award for outstanding performance in a creative activity. This award fund, established in memory of Or. Harold J. Plous, assistant professor of economics, who died in London in 1957 while on sabbatical leave, provides a cash honorarium for an annual lecture or performance to be given by the recipient.

Commercial Artist

During World War II Dole served as a technical instructor in the U.S. Army; after the war he worked as a commercial artist. He joined the UCSB faculty in 1949 and has been chairman of the art department since 1958.

Dole has had several one-man shows throughout the United States and two one-man exhibitions in Europe. His most recent show was held at the Bertha Lewinson Gallery in Los Angeles last spring.

Exhibition

Dole has organized the "Amerika Haus" exhibition for the U.S. Information Service in Berlin. His own work is represented in this traveling exhibition which is currently showing in the third biennial exhibition in the Santa Barbara Museum of Art.

DISCRIMINATION STATEMENT IN

A statement declaring that a fraternity or sorority has no discriminatory clauses in its constitution has been sent to UCSB from University President Kerr's office for all the UCSB fraternities and sororities to sign, the Dean of Students office reported late last week.

All the Greek societies on the UCSB campus will be asked to sign this statement. Any which decline to sign it, and therefore admit they do have discriminatory clauses, will then be informed that they are subject to the Regents' ruling concerning discrimination and must eliminate their discriminatory clauses by September, 1964.

The Dean of Students office declined to permit El Gaucho to see the statement. The office is now conferring with the Greek organizations on campus concerning the statement. It is expected that the statement will be released to El Gaucho for publication in the very near future.

Required R.O. May Be Killed

The Regents of the University of California announced Friday that they are looking for a way to drop compulsory ROTC on all the University campuses. University President Clark Kerr said it is time for a change. UCSB's Chancellor Gould commented that he is in favor of the Regents' action.

The Regents voted Friday to inform the Department of Defense that the University wants to abandon the compulsory military science program. Kerr was directed to meet with defense officials and to report their views to the Regents at their March meeting.

Also at the Regents' direction, Kerr appointed a seven-member faculty committee to review the ROTC program, now mandatory for male freshmen and sophomores without prior military training. Dr. Stephen Goodspeed of UCSB was named to the committee.

Use of University Facilities, Organization Status Defined

by Arlen Collier, Editor

Regulations concerning student government, student organizations and the use of University facilities were issued late last week by President Clark Kerr. The new regulations on student government go into effect immediately, the other two before Feb. 1, 1960.

In a letter accompanying the new changes, Kerr spoke of the reorganization of University administration and said that it is in line with the new decentralization policy "of giving Chief Campus Officers increasing responsibility for affairs on their respective campuses. This decentralization has itself required a review and reformation of governing statewide rules and policies in each of the affected areas."

The new directive on student government states that "the President has felt no need to prescribe a detailed code governing the activities of student governments. Nor has it seemed necessary to impose uniformity among the campuses as to most aspects of student government."

"It is important," it goes on to say, "in a University which has grown so large and complex that some guide lines be established. The purpose of this directive is to spell out the administrative responsibilities for the essential limitations which have always existed on such governments."

Student Government Rules

Seven specific regulations are listed:

1. Chief Campus Officers have the primary responsibility for conduct of student affairs, fiscal soundness, and compliance of student government with the general rules and policies of the University.

2. The Chief Campus Officer must approve any changes of faculty, administration or alumni on governing boards of student government. He must also approve finance changes.

3. Each constitution of the various governments must have the same preamble. This is the preamble adopted by UCSB last year.

4. Student governments and their subsidiary agencies may not take positions, without the express consent of the Chief Campus Officer, with reference to off-campus political, religious, economic, international or other issues. This is because students with widely varying viewpoints contribute financial support to student government.

5. Student newspapers may take editorial positions with reference to the issues of the day if they make it clear in so doing they do not represent the view of the University or of the student government.

6. Chief Campus Officers may make regular audits of the finances of the student governments and exercise control over expenditures, and require that all changes in the existing constitutions of student government have their formal approval before being submitted to a vote of the student body.

7. Policies concerning collegiate athletics will be separately handled later.

Organizations

Student organizations fall into three categories under the new directive: (1) Student governments and their councils, boards, commissions, committees, and similar subsidiary agencies; (2) Recognized student organizations; (3) Off-campus student organizations.

Recognition may be granted to any student group which meets the following standards:

1. Active membership in the organization must be restricted

UNIVERSITY EDITORIAL . . .

President Clark Kerr slapped student government in the face yesterday.

The student newspapers of the statewide University vigorously protest his action.

The University has a long tradition of strong, free, independent student government. The President's directive recognizes this—"continuation of this tradition is a major aspect of University policy."

How does the President's directive implement such continuance?

It rewrites the preamble of student government constitution to put each student government under the thumb of the chief officer of each campus.

It forbids student government to speak out on crucial off-campus issues.

It subjects amendments of student government constitutions to prior approval by campus officials.

We do not contest the legal right of the President to assert his executive authority over student government.

But this does not mean we should not protest his action. It is unjustified, ill-considered, totally unnecessary.

Pre-censorship of amendments to student government constitutions by campus officials is an infringement on your freedom of expression. It is as destructive a policy as pre-censorship of the press.

To prevent student governments from expressing student opinion on off-campus issues is absurd. In these times, what issue is really off-campus?

The president's directive represents "maximum" control of student government. If we are "good," we may get some of the provisions toned down. But what kind of independent action is that?

It might be well to ask the president just what he wants to do with student government.

He says he wants to continue the University's "fine tradition of self-government."

In practice, he acts to abrogate this tradition. What are students to think?

If they think at all they will protest the President's action. If they do not protest, they deserve what they're getting.

Student work displayed included that of UCSB senior Lawrence Hauben; Donald Lent, 1959 graduate and holder of a Woodrow Wilson scholarship at Yale; Harry Batlin, class of '59; Donald Wright, former UCSB student; Maurine McCartney, 1959 alumna, and Michael Dvortcsak, a former student.

Tiger Talk

"Papa Tigers, Teddy Bears and Immortality" will be the topic of Dr. Fred Hagen's reading Friday night. Hagen will speak at 8:30 p.m. at the Foreign Students Club meeting. The meeting takes place in the Garfield Auditorium at the corner of Bath and Padre Streets in Santa Barbara.

Required ROTC . . .

Tary Science Program, Woolsey stated that such committees have been formed many times but nothing ever developed from them. "A committee being formed to study the possibility of compulsory ROTC being dropped is like lilies coming up every year," he said.

The Regents made it clear that their action had nothing to do with Berkeley student Frederick L. Moore Jr.'s 60-hour hunger strike against Cal's ROTC program. Petitions bearing the names of 1,000 students and faculty members supported Moore's protest.

Kerr, noting that other land-grant colleges had made drastic modifications in their programs, said, "It would seem time for a change."

Powell Speaks

The Hispanic Society of Santa Barbara, in its close co-operation with UCSB, calls upon the faculty's leading authority in Hispanic history as the speaker at a luncheon meeting today at Restaurante del Paseo.

Dr. Philip W. Powell, professor of history, has played a key part in the development of the Hispanic Civilization program at UCSB since its inception in 1953 with the helping hand of the Hispanic Society.

The latest assistance of the Society has come with the establishment of the annual $500 Francis Price Award in Hispanic studies, awarded to student Sasha Schmidt this fall for the first time. The award is named in honor of one of Santa Barbara's distinguished citizens who has devoted much of his private life to the Spanish backgrounds of California history.

Frosh Float

Those interested in helping to build the Freshman Class homecoming float can sign up in the AS office, according to Steve Smith, freshman vice president.

Language Honorary

Alpha Mu Gamma, foreign-language honorary, will meet today in the Huddle at 3 p.m. All interested students are invited.

Key to World Peace Found In Modern Woman—Gould

"Today, men are so engrossed in the arms race and in the scientific possibilities that open the way to more and more devastating weapons that it is left to woman to nurture the humane passions which will ultimately provide the possibilities for peace," Chancellor Samuel B. Gould told 300 women from five Western states at a Saturday-night banquet of Zonta International in Santa Barbara.

Gould said that "whereas man's historical position as a male has in essence been a static one in the Western world, woman's position with its steady succession of changes has been supremely dynamic."

The Chancellor used the term "superwoman" in terms of woman's growth and what he called the "contrasting immobility of man."

Historical Growth

Tracing historically the growth of position of the American woman in the various areas of daily life, Chancellor Gould pointed to the fact that "in 1920, there were 8,000,000 women holding jobs; by 1955 there were more than 27,000,000, or 30 per cent of the labor force. Today, married women outnumber single women in paying jobs.

"It is estimated that women control up to 70 per cent of the nation's wealth; that they have 60 per cent of the savings accounts and are the beneficiaries of 70 per cent of the insurance policies; that they represent more than half the stockholders in the big gilt-edge corporations; that they own close to half of the nation's homes; and that at least three-quarters of the nation's purchasing power is funneled through them."

He went on to say that "American consumption is dominated by the tastes and standards of the American woman. . . . The economic will of woman is powerful.

Makes the Decisions

"In her creative role as consumer she decides on what everyone will wear, how the house will be furnished, what foods will be eaten, what cars will be bought, where vacations will be spent, how money will be budgeted and what schools will be attended."

In discussing the place of woman on the international scene, Dr. Gould explained that "by virtue of her emergence through revolutionary changes in society, the American woman stands as a major proponent of the cause of world peace. . . . There is wonderful simplicity in woman's approach which springs from her innate sensitivity for the individual human being.

See Problems

"This causes her to see the problem of international understanding as one in which a person of one country must develop an understanding of a person of another country.

"While woman is not the sole champion of this approach, she is more sympathetic to it and embraces it more readily than man, who is more inclined to meet issues head on and to move impatiently or even truculently toward the points of tension."

Frosh Council

Signups for Freshman Council end today. Applications for positions on Frosh Council are available in the AS office and are to be given to Frosh Class officers or residence hall assistants.

DEBATE NOVICES GET FIRST TEST

The novice section of UCSB's debate squad will get its feet wet in the first tournament of the year at El Camino JC next Saturday.

Four members of the University's speech squad will journey to El Camino in Los Angeles to debate in the Annual Novice Tournament. The national topic is: "Resolved that Congress should have the power to reverse decisions of the Supreme Court."

The purpose of the tournament is to give novices an opportunity to gain experience in actual competition.

Attending the meet with UCSB are the teams of Carol Walien and Pat Preuss, and Norman Holt and Tony Smernes. The tournament will consist of four rounds of debates with certificates awarded to the best debaters.

This tournament is one of the many the UCSB debate team will be participating in this semester. Scheduled next is a debate at Los Angeles City College where the entire team will participate.

Secretariat Needed

Girls are needed to work as an Associated Students secretariat. Members will work in the AS office a few hours each week typing and mimeographing.

Interested persons should contact Barbara Hull in the AS office on Monday, Wednesday or Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Grades

Office of the Registrar announces that Friday, Oct. 30, is the last day to remove incomplete grades. The 30th is also the deadline to withdraw from courses without grade penalty.

Kenner Talk, Films On Tomorrow Noon

Films of Norman McLaren and an explanatory talk by Dr. Kenner of the English Department will be offered at tomorrow's noon program sponsored by the Assembly Committee. This is the fourth of a series of noon programs which are held every Wednesday in the Arts Building.

"Two of McLaren's films which delve into the subjects of feeling of space and cameraless photography will be shown at the program," according to Mary Stojkovich, chairman of the Assembly Committee.

Kenner Talks

Dr. Kenner will discuss the films and the unusual qualities demonstrated. The two films are about three minutes in length.

McLaren is noted for experimenting in unconventional film making and has developed a process of drawing the sound accompanying the film.

Tomorrow's noon program will be held in Room 1426 of the new Arts Building.

Gould Next

The next Wednesday noon program, Nov. 3, will be an informal discussion with Chancellor Gould.

Cordobes Clips Mark But UCSB Drops 2

Roland Cordobes set an unofficial UCSB record for the 3.8-mile race at 20:01 but finished second to Cal Poly's Jack Wofford in a time of 19:20.2 as Poly and L.A. State defeated the Gauchos in their first league match.

Poly won with a low score of 33, followed by State with 43 and UCSB with 48. Cordobes's mark supplanted Bill Collins's best of 20:08, according to coach Nick Carter.

Cal Poly won the race on the strength of placings 1, 3, 4 and

7. Their fifth man was far down in the pack at 18th. Poly's Eduardo Chavez led the race for over a mile and then was jumped by Wofford and Cordobes and finished a tired man in spot number four.

The Gauchos have a return meet with Poly on Saturday morning with high hopes of upsetting them. The local harriers were hampered by the loss of the No. 3 man, Dick Aced, who is out for the next three weeks with a broken bone in his foot.

St. Clair, Tunncliffe Show 'Extra Stage' in S.F. Loss

by Jerry Tune, Sports Editor
The always explosive Gauchos have added a new stage to their offensive rocket in the form of the double-wing spread and they unveiled this in their 28-14 loss to unbeaten San Francisco State Saturday.

Coach Ed Cody has been working on this new part of his offense last week and brought it out against the Gators. Although the Bay City bunch was too much to handle, the Gauchos showed an easier time in taking advantage of Jim St. Clair's passing talents.

St. Clair threw for 220 yards in the game, including touch-down passes of 65 and 53 yards to Fred Tunncliffe. He completed 11 for 16 passes in the second half and five straight in one stretch.

Tunncliffe was not any less remarkable. After catching a St. Clair pass of 40 yards in the air by leaping high, he ran another 25 yards with a stumbling step almost parallel to the ground.

His other TD catch came after a good fake on a stop-and-go pass where he got behind his man for a 53-yard pass from St. Clair with only five minutes left in the game.

The first half gave promise of a rugged defensive duel, with punting being the key to forcing errors out of the opponents. Finally, with 1:46 to go in the first quarter, big Hank Marshall broke loose for six yards after a Phil Kirkpatrick fumble gave the Gators the play before.

Tunncliffe had punts of 48, 47 and 38 yards and was matched by the Gators' star quarterback, Jim Sochor, with boots of 48 and 37, among other punts.

Within five minutes of the second half the game had seemed to pull a complete switch and the score read 14-6, the Gators' favor. San Francisco went 74 yards in six plays, capped by Marshall's second TD run, a 33-yard jaunt around right end with a pitchout. Three plays later the Gauchos scored on Tunncliffe's leaping catch-run of 65 yards after almost having his feet hit from under him in a battle for the ball with a Gator safety man.

Before fans were through talking about the last score, a Sochor-to-Edgar Rawlins pass of 57 yards gave the Gators a 20-6 lead, five plays after UCSB had got in the game.

Brisslinger's Boot Ties College Mark

Word has come from Dan Hill, director of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, that Frank Brisslinger's 48-yard field goal against the Cal Aggies ties the 1959 collegiate record. A Maryland player kicked one the same distance in his first game of this year.

The modern record is 56 yards and this was set by a Denver player in that Rocky Mountain air that can help boost the ball along. However, the all-time record is over 60 yards, but this was set in the olden days when the ball was rounded and when many field-goal kickers, such as the famed Charley Brinkly and Pat O'Dea, drop-kicked the ball.

almost entirely out of the double-wing spread and went to the Gator 36-yard line before their rocket fizzled.

The Gators then went 67 yards in 11 plays with State's Simpson, second punch of a fullback duo, running the same fullback pitch-out play for 12 yards, and that jacked the score to 28-6.

Four plays later the Gauchos launched another thrust, going 70 yards with Tunncliffe's great faking ability brought into a 58-yard effort. Pete Westerlind grabbed St. Clair's conversion pass to close out the scoring.

Yesterday's Games Tell 'Mural Story

With yesterday's biggie between the SAEs and the Kappa Sigs now history, the winner has a comparatively easy week. The SAEs, however, could have trouble with the Lambda Chis but the Kappa Sigs seem a solid pick against the winless Sig Pis. Another crucial between the Deltas and the Lambda Chis yesterday could have a bearing on the race.

Through the first two weeks both the SAEs and the Kappa Sigs had clean slates until their meeting yesterday and this very well might have decided the race.

Pima, Yuma and Navajo all remainder undefeated in the hall ranks with Pima's unblemished record of 3-0 a shade better than the others.

The SAEs beat the Deltas 19-15 last week in a must game and the Kappa Sigs beat the Sig Eps 25-0 in a traditional battle to set up the big battle for first place. The Kappa Sigs, going into yesterday's game, were the highest scoring fraternity team, averaging 28.3 points per game. Also last week the Lambda Chis beat the TEPs 30-0.

Pima continued its winning ways by posting a victory over Modoc, 27-6, and is still pressed hard by Navajo, Yuma and Apache, who played a 0-0 tie with Ute last week. Sequoia beat Maricopa 19-7, Ute beat Modoc 32-6, the Apaches beat Sequoia 19-0 and Maricopa beat Canalino 19-6 in other games.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(THROW THESE QUESTIONS INTO THE POT AND SEE WHAT COOKS*)

If your studies led you to believe you could strike oil by drilling a hole right in the middle of the campus, would you (A) keep still about it so people wouldn't think you were nuts? (B) sell stock in the proposition to all your friends? (C) get an oil man interested in the idea, even if you had to give him most of the profits?

A B C

"A watched pot never boils" means (A) the man who made such a statement never watched a pot; (B) if you don't want the stew to boil over—watch it! (C) you can't hurry things by worrying about them.

A B C

If you saw a girl perched up in a tree reading a book, would you say, (A) "Timber!" (B) "Is the light better up there?" (C) "Will that branch hold two?"

A B C

Assuming cigarettes could talk, would you listen to (A) a filter cigarette that talks only about its taste? (B) a weak-tasting cigarette that talks about its filter? (C) a filter cigarette that lets its advanced filter design and full taste speak for themselves?

A B C

Next time you light up, take a moment to think about what you really want in your filter cigarette. Most men and women who think for themselves choose VICEROY, the cigarette with the most advanced filter design of them all . . . the one cigarette with a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (B) in three out of four of these questions, you're a pretty smart cooky—but if you checked (C), you think for yourself!

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

to bona fide students, faculty members, and employes of the University.

2. The purposes and activities of the organization must be compatible with the educational objectives of the University.

3. The organization must not discriminate as set forth in the regulation adopted by the Regents on July 17, 1959. (See editorial, El Gaucho, Oct. 15.)

4. The organization must have an active adviser who is a faculty member or senior University staff member, except that if the organization is a living group it may have an adult adviser approved by the Dean of Students.

5. The organization must not be affiliated with any partisan political or religious group, nor have as one of its purposes the taking of positions with reference to off-campus political, religious, economic, international or other issues.

Off-campus student organizations are those which do not qualify for recognition above, or which have not applied for it, but which restrict their active memberships to students, faculty members and employes of the University and have an active adviser who is a faculty member or senior University staff member.

University Facilities

The regulation on use of University facilities will supersede Regulation 17. It does not apply to regularly organized and scheduled courses, institutes, conferences and other University programs for educational, research or cultural purposes.

The California Constitution provides that the University "shall be entirely independent of all political and sectarian influence." In order to preserve this constitutional independence, University facilities shall not be used in ways which will involve it as an institution in the political, religious and other controversial issues of the day.

Regularly scheduled membership meetings may be held upon University facilities without prior approval (but subject to local regulations regarding room scheduling) by the following groups:

1. Colleges, departments or other organizations of the faculty.
2. Organizations of faculty members or of University employes.
3. Student governments and their subsidiary agencies.
4. Recognized student organizations.

Special meetings or events may be held only with prior approval by the Chief Campus Officer or representative by the same above groups plus off-campus student organizations and recognized UC alumni organizations.

Other organizations may on occasion be granted permission by Chief Campus Officers to hold meetings or events using University facilities.

Off-campus speakers can be invited on campus only with permission of the Chief Campus Officer. This does not apply to off-campus centers or faculty clubs.

Facilities shall not be used for political activity of an off-campus nature unless the Chancellor establishes rules which give the opposition like opportunity to speak and it is limited to the campus community.

Facilities cannot be used for the purpose of religious worship, exercise or conversion.

Five general limitations have been set up regarding the use of University facilities:

1. University facilities may not be used for the purpose of raising money to aid projects not directly connected with some authorized activity of the University, except that athletic facilities may be made available to public agencies for athletic events to which a nominal charge is made for admission when adequate facilities are not available elsewhere in the community and except that the Chancellor may authorize a limited number of fund-raising campaigns by recognized charitable or public-service agencies.
2. Only student athletic, forensic, dramatic or musical activities shall be open to the public without specific prior approval by the Chancellor.
3. Only with advance permission may literature be distributed free or sold in connection with such meetings or events.
4. Sponsors of meetings or events on campus shall avoid implying in any way the University of California's sponsorship or endorsement of such meetings or events.
5. No special meetings or events shall be authorized which will result in interference with the regularly scheduled academic program of the University.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Catherine

Dear Mr. Bradley:

Last week Slough View painted a very moving picture about Catherine, the poor little rich girl.

If you'll remember, you told your readers how Santa Rosa Hall girls ruined her college career and sent her packing to an exclusive girls' school.

Well, Mr. Bradley, per usual your information is twisted. Catherine left school against her wishes because her parents insisted. She had tears in her eyes when she left, but only because she wanted to stay.

She was blackballed by a sorority, yes. You neglected to tell your readers why. If you really do know the reason, you also know it had nothing to do with gossip.

As for her reputation, this too is a figment of your imagination. Catherine was not snubbed by Santa Rosa Hall girls, and she did not have the reputation of being loose or a flirt, at least not in Santa Rosa Hall.

Mr. Bradley, this is the third article you have written attacking Santa Rosa Hall. If you have some reason for holding a grudge against us or our government, why don't you simply get it off your chest?

The article on Catherine was inexcusable.

Santa Rosa Hall girls are no different from other girls. We are any better nor any worse than other girls on this campus. We have been the subject of unfounded scorn long enough.

Linda Garver
President
Santa Rosa Hall

(Ed. Note: "Catherine" was not only one person, Linda. There are many "Catherines" around, some are still here. Look around you. Last year one of these "Catherines" sat down at a table in the dining commons with four other Santa Rosa girls and some boys, and the other girls got up and left. It does happen. You were right when you said Santa Rosa girls are no different from other girls. Santa Rosa should not be content with this, but try to be better. Going out of your way to be nicer to some of the "Catherines" around would be a good beginning.)

Responsibility

Editor, El Gaucho:

Are we depriving ourselves of effective self-government by allowing disinterest, apathy, and irresponsibility toward student body affairs to continue?

Lack of student concern and the failure to rectify a situation brought about by students has caused the loss of one of the few traditions that we have here at UCSB. The annual Barbary Coast carnival has been, in the past, a worthwhile part of student activities . . . not the unruly problem to which it has been allowed to disintegrate.

A great number of those students most active in Barbary Coast have expressed dissatisfaction with it as it existed last year. They have realized the need for definite steps to be taken to reorganize and rebuild Barbary Coast into the appealing and worthwhile thing that it should be.

There is a tremendous need for control, especially in regard to individual and group conduct. Those students have expressed their willingness to institute stringent regulations and penalties for individuals and groups.

And yet, it appears, more students found it agreeable to avoid taking the responsibility for an event which has been sponsored, organized and conducted by the Associated Students. It is much easier to do away with the problem than to devise and execute a constructive remedy.

There has been legitimate basis for the opposition to Barbary Coast . . . but how much opposition was the result of an apathetic attitude of the students? How much irresponsibility used the guise of "being under administrative pressure"?

A petition for referendum is being circulated in an effort to ascertain the number of students who would support a reorganized Barbary Coast. Perhaps this is an effort to determine whether or not there is enough student interest on this campus to conduct and maintain any activity which requires responsible support.

It should be more than evident that failure to accept responsibility for ourselves and our actions will soon result in the removal of any activity requiring student self-government.

KERR'S DEEP FREEZE . . .

Student government on the campuses of the University of California has been placed in a deep-freeze. The regulations handed down from the office of the President have brought the motivating force behind student government to a sudden stop.

The surface reasons for a student government on a campus are few. It relieves the administration of having to plan in detail after-classroom activities. It provides a voice for student opinion in the handling of their affairs. These things could be done in other ways much easier, hiring extra help or taking polls.

So the main reason goes far beyond these trivia. President Kerr summed it up in the opening of his regulation: "Through this mechanism students have been given valuable experience."

Leaders of Tomorrow?

Students, who participate in student government are looked upon by many as the nation's leaders of tomorrow. It is by this participation they gain the experience in government so necessary in the furtherance of a democracy such as ours.

Also by this participation, and this seems most important, they mature through the responsibilities given them. Responsibilities to the University, their fellow students and themselves create in the participant a mature awareness which makes him a valuable asset to his community when he leaves school.

The President goes on to say, "Continuance of this tradition is a major aspect of University policy." This sounds fine. Later on the front page of his regulation he explains very logically that "some participation by faculty, alumni and administration in student government must exist."

All this is very acceptable. But when the page is turned and the content of the regulation is examined the high-sounding phrases which preceded become meaningless. Kerr has made UC students government a "mama's boy" who must ask permission before wiping his nose.

Student government has been relieved of all responsibility for making any decisions. Responsibility for student-government actions now rest entirely with the Chief Campus Officer. Relief of responsibility is also relief from maturity.

UCSB Fortunate

Santa Barbara is extremely fortunate in light of these new directives to have as its Chancellor a man of the calibre of Samuel Gould, who believes in placing so much responsibility with the students.

The UC administration and the Regents are afraid someone might "rock the boat" a little. George Orwell or Aldous Huxley could easily have written these rules. The only thing that seems to be missing is a picture of "Big Brother" and the "soma pills."

(This is the first of a series of articles on the new regulations to appear in El Gaucho. The directives will be covered in greater detail in succeeding issues.)

PREJUDICE, PART TWO . . .

Last week President Kerr's office got the ball rolling on Greek discrimination by sending down a statement for all the UCSB fraternities and sororities to sign.

While the statement has not yet been released to El Gaucho, it reportedly states that the fraternity or sorority has no clauses in its constitution which discriminate on the basis of race, religion or national origin.

If any fraternity or sorority refuses to sign the statement, it admits that it does have such a clause. The group must then get rid of the clause by September, 1964.

If only the time given the groups to humanize their entrance requirements were not so long, the statement would be a good thing. If the University said, "Sign this statement or get out of the University now, and stay out until you can come up to our standards," then the move would be effective.

But the students can do what the Regents won't do. There is no reason why the Associated Students must recognize organizations which practice discrimination.

If the students required groups to state that they do not practice discrimination before giving them ACB recognition, they would be showing the conviction the Regents lack.

Legislative Council should adopt this policy for all groups, Greek or otherwise, effective next semester. Any group which could not sign the statement would then move off campus and re-apply after it had corrected its constitution.

Council should take this step as soon as possible, giving the discriminatory groups the rest of this semester to clean up their constitutions.

If they can't do it by then, they can move off campus and continue working on it.

They can come back as soon as they can sign this statement. In the meantime, the students' position will be clear—discriminatory groups do not belong in the Association.

The Regents can play cozy with discrimination if they want to. The students shouldn't.

HOME COMING DON'TS . . .

In this age of indecision and confusion, UCSB has come to a definite decision on at least one moral issue: Stealing is wrong.

The Special Events Committee has made it very clear that any group found stealing materials for a Homecoming float, or any other Homecoming activity, will have to watch the parade from the curb.

What's more, any group that steals anything, no matter what, is automatically out of GGR and all other Homecoming activities.

When Barbary Coast got the axe, a cry went up that Homecoming would be next. The best way to make this prediction come true is to liberate private property for a float.

If that isn't a compelling-enough argument, you might consider the fate of a bunch of jocular hedonists who confiscated some float-makings last year.

They were kicked out of the parade, their GGR show was disqualified, they got hung with a heavy fine, and, still reeling from all this, they were set to working for the city for a day.

Women's RH Host Faculty Members

Girls in Manzanita, Oak and Palm hall have been playing host to members of the UCSB faculty at special "open house" dinners followed by tours of the residence halls and short discussion groups.

Wednesday, Oct. 14, Manzanita Hall entertained Dr. Webb of the Geology department and head of the Re-instatement Committee. Dr. Webb answered questions on probationary rules and regulations and re-instatement requirements.

Oak Hall played host to Dr. Kelley, history department professor. Dr. Kelley answered questions, talked a little about U.S. history and asked the girls questions. One of his questions directed to the women student's was "Are you proud to be at UCSB?"

Palm hall tentatively plans to host Dr. Wilson of the English department. Also planned within the next two weeks is an open house dinner for the head model from I. Magnin and Co. The girls in the residence halls have volunteered to baby sit with the children of any of the professors invited to their functions.

Housing Applications

During the week of Nov. 2-6 the Housing Office will issue re-application forms for the 1960 spring semester to all residence-hall students who plan to continue living on campus.

These re-application forms are to be filled in at the Housing Office and contracts will be issued at the same time. Each student must make his own re-application for housing. No deposit is required from students who are now residents of the halls.

The same procedure will be followed for the off-campus students who desire to live in the residence halls next fall.

The price for the 1960 spring semester is $390 for Anacapa Hall and Santa Rosa Hall and $375 for Las Casitas Halls.

SUBSTITUTE FOR BARBARY COAST

Road Runners' Revue, an old tradition at UCSB that was discontinued in 1951, may possibly be revived, under a different name, into a new show presented by the Gaucho Band, according to Hal Brendle. The whole school will be able to participate in the program that will take the place of Barbary Coast.

The non-organizational show is to be of the musical comedy or revue type and will be presented at the end of March or the first of April.

Brendle, band director, is in charge of the project, and said that he will welcome all interested students to work on the project. He is in need of a director.

Mums From Spurs

Chrysanthemums, the traditional football flower, are available from Spurs for Homecoming weekend. Living groups have sign-up sheets for mum orders. Sign your name and chip in one dollar for a giant yellow Spurs mum on an ornamental backing. Mums will be delivered to your door next Saturday afternoon.

NROTC Program

Of interest to the men was an announcement by Dr. Robinson of the English Department of the coming visit of a Navy representative from Los Angeles who will explain the NROTC program. He will be on campus tomorrow between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. He will answer questions informally outside the Student Union. At 3 p.m. in Room 1124 of the classroom building he will present an explanation of the program.
