Student royalty to reign over day's festivities

Beachcombers' Holiday, a new event on campus, will be celebrated from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Presiding over the day's activities will be a King and Queen who will be crowned Friday night at a dance in the Old Gym from 8 to 12 p.m.

Individual living groups have selected their candidates for Queen to be presented in Campbell Hall today from noon to 1 p.m.

Judges from Santa Barbara will choose three finalists, and students will elect the Queen from the finalists. Polls will be open Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Center of Saturday's festivities will be Campus Beach, where booths, sponsored by living groups, will offer food, games and entertainment in the form of a melodrama and a Western skit.

In addition to a pie-eating contest and sack races, a surfing contest open to both sexes will be held. Preliminaries will begin at 10 a.m. and last until noon. Finals will be conducted at 2 p.m.

The winning surfer will receive a perpetual trophy and will be able to choose a shirt from the Clothes Colony or the Village Green.

Signups for this contest are in the AS Office until Wednesday.

Residence halls will receive 75% of the proceeds while Camp Conestoga will receive 25%.

Cranston slated to speak in Campbell Hall tomorrow; attendance limited to faculty, student body members

Alan Cranston, candidate for the California Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator, will speak in Campbell Hall tomorrow at 8:15 p.m., under Associated Students sponsorship.

Tickets are not required for the talk, but attendance is limited to students and faculty.

Cranston was elected California State Controller in 1958, and in the 1962 election for the same office received the heaviest majority ever given to a candidate in a contested statewide election.

ANTI-HITLER

Cranston first became involved in politics in 1936 when, as a foreign correspondent for International News Service, he covered events in Europe and Africa. Returning home he gave lectures across the country, finding time to write an anti-Hitler critique of "Mein Kampf" which sold 500,000 copies.

In 1940 Cranston became a leader of the Common Council for American Unity, an organization opposing discriminatory immigration practices. Two years later he was appointed Chief of the Foreign Language Division of the Office of War

Information in the executive offices of President Roosevelt.

BEST-SELLING AUTHOR

He wrote "The Killing of the Peace," a study of the failure of the League of Nations listed as one of the New York Times' ten best books of 1945.

Cranston later became active in the world peace movement, serving as national President of the World Federalists. He consulted with Nehru and other world leaders on the necessity for disarmament and strengthening of the U.N.

Determined to restore Democratic Party leadership, Cranston co-founded the California Democratic Council in 1953 and was President until his election as Controller.

Campus mourns Phelps

Campus flags flew at half-mast Friday for former UCSB president Clarence L. Phelps, who died May 7.

Phelps was President of Santa Barbara Normal College, UCSB's original campus, from 1918 to 1946. He was named Provost Emeritus at a testimonial banquet in his honor in 1958.

He earned his BA and MA degrees at Stanford University, and fulfilled the requirements for his Ph.D. there, but was not granted a degree because of residence requirements.

After teaching at San Jose Normal School, Tempe Normal School in Arizona, San Diego and Fresno Normal Schools, Phelps came to Santa Barbara as head administrator in 1918.

At that time the college was a two-year normal school limited to the preparation of teachers of home economics and manual arts. In 1921 it became Santa

The CDC is supporting Cranston in his present campaign for Senator.

Campus publications seek '64-65' editors

Editorial positions for EL GAUCHO and Gaucho Guide for the 1964-65 academic year were declared open for application at the Publications Board meeting Thursday.

Applicants for both positions must present a letter of application to Rachel Gulliver before Thursday, stating their qualifications.

Members of the Board, Marcia Knopf, EL GAUCHO Editor; Rachel Gulliver, La

Cumbre editor; Rick Govea, KCSB manager; and Charles Lee, Spectrum editor; will make the selection.

EL GAUCHO applicants must submit a 'String book' of the stories they have written for newspapers to the EL GAUCHO Office by this afternoon, for review by the Board members.

Criteria for newspaper editor are: previous experience on EL GAUCHO or other newspapers, especially in editorial capacity; have attended UCSB for at least one year; have a 2.0 GPA; and be an upper division student at the beginning of next year.

A broad general knowledge of journalistic standards is also necessary. Recommendations from the present editor and members of the Editorial Board will be considered in the selection.

The Editor of EL GAUCHO receives the amount of his incidental fees plus $450.

The position of Handbook Editor has been newly created as part of AS President Bob Andrews' campaign platform. The new "Gaucho Guide" combines the former Chimes handbook with more comprehensive information.

Signups open

Signups will be held this week in the AS Office for membership next fall in the Speaker's Bureau. Students of social junior rank and above are eligible.

Popular trio will perform at County Bowl Saturday

Peter, Paul and Mary, one of the highest paid singing acts in the country, will appear at the Santa Barbara County Bowl Saturday night.

The group is sponsored by the UCSB Charities Committee. Tickets may be purchased at the AS Cashier's Office for $2.50, $3.50, and $4.50.

With such hits as "Lemon Tree," "500 Miles," and "Puff, the Magic Dragon," the trio has become one of the nations most popular recording groups.

The singers are the first to have three albums on the top ten sales list, they have sold out concert halls across the nation, and have given command performances for Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Peter, Paul and Mary rarely receive less than $10,000 for a one-night concert, which puts them close to the same dollar category as Belafonte and the Kingston Trio.

For this reason, they probably will not make another appearance in Santa Barbara.

EDITORIAL

A myth: absolute property rights

Property rights or human rights -- which do California voters value most? Essentially, this is the question posed by the California Real Estate Association-backed amendment to the state constitution. It allows "absolute discretion" in the disposal of property.

Unfortunately, when the amendment's backers --who seem to have been scared into action by the passage of the 1963 Rumford Fair Housing Act--discuss the "absolute" right of disposal of property they neglect the other side of the coin, which is the right to acquire property.

This latter right is theoretically guaranteed in Article I, Section I of the state constitution, yet other laws had to be passed to implement California's promise of equal opportunity for her citizens.

The Hawkins and Unruh Acts, passed in 1959, aimed at the core problem of discrimination in housing. More recently the Rumford Act (which has yet to be given a chance to work) broadened the writ within which the state could protect the dignity and freedom of its citizens. If the constitutional amendment were passed most of the effectiveness of these laws would be negated.

It is hard to swallow the contention of "absolute discretion" resting with the property owner in any case. Although there may be "absolute" principles upon which man can anchor his life, the unrestricted use of property is not one of them. Zoning ordinances, building and safety requirements, eminent domain, and inheritance laws, to name a few, restrict the discretion of the property owner to do with his property as he wishes.

The Rumford Act is no more a restriction on an owner's discretion than the above. It prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, religion, color, or national origin but other subjective standards, applied to all, are acceptable. Financial status, personal integrity, children, etc. remain valid criteria.

The proposed amendment would perpetuate the injustice of racial discrimination and is a threat to individual freedom. It must be defeated at the polls this November.

Stretching it

Editor:

Having just read Mr. James Pelzer's letter in Wednesday's paper, I find myself in deep despair. Although Mr. Pelzer said quite clearly that he is "assured that the John Birch Society is not fascist," I somehow got the idea that he was kidding.

He was (is?) concerned about the resemblance of the Birch Society to the Nazi Party. He even listed his points of comparison. This is where I became troubled, for here I learned that Jesus Christ was indeed a fascist. Mr. Pelzer's own criteria prove that this is true.

While the Nazis had seven organizers and the Birch Society eleven, Christianity had 13: Jesus Christ and his twelve apostles. While both the Nazis and the Birch Society had martyrs, according to Mr. Pelzer, I am sure that they can't begin to compare with Christ as a symbol of a martyr. Why, Christianity makes these other two organizations seem like small time operations.

Hitler hated Jews, Welsh hates Communists, and Christ "hated" the Devil and the sins of man. Furthermore, he points out, both the Nazis and the Birchers have used extensive rhetoric as propaganda for their movements. But these can hardly compare in scope or quantity with the Bible, the propaganda of Christianity.

Lastly, Mr. Pelzer said that he was glad to discover that the Birch Society is not a political party. But again he seems to have employed the bitter tool of sarcasm. Indeed, Christianity is quite compatible with the definition of a "party" as used by Mr. Pelzer and Mr. Hitler since it is also a movement which has yet to achieve the victory of its goals.

The comparisons that I have made are just as valid as those Mr. Pelzer has made. Come now, Mr. Pelzer, haven't we both stretched things just a little?

KENT VALLETTE

'Shortsighted'

Editor:

As was pointed out in the April 27 EL GAUCHO, there are genuine and sincere objections to the Collier Bill which, it is claimed, would set higher education in California back nearly 100 years. Most of these objections are based on the valid assumption that the bill would alter the favorable situation which now exists for University of California students.

Yet, it is incredibly shortsighted to ignore the possibility of what will happen if increased funds are not found to support a rapidly expanding U. C. Apparently, the state legislature is not going to permit allocations for higher education to expand at anything like what President Kerr would like and increased enrollment demands.

In addition, understandably, the voters of California are becoming increasingly reluctant to approve even the most deserving school bonds in the best of economic times as the recent narrow passage of Proposition 1A after an initial defeat has demonstrated.

If the public purse will not underwrite the expansion of our multiversity several courses are available. First, increased private contributions or subscriptions could be relied upon. California could ask for federal aid for education on a massive scale.

The necessity for expansion could be eased by increasing the entrance requirements and hence slowing the increase in enrollment. Of course, the quality of instruction and the amount and adequacy of facilities could be allowed to deteriorate.

Finally, the students could be called upon to share the expense of their education either by increasing the incidental fee, as was done by the Regents last summer as a stopgap measure, or by some long-term loan plan

If we assume that no more public funds are available in the near future, as seems to be the case, it has come to a matter of priorities between other plans for maintaining high quality higher education in California. Surely we must select shortly, because remaining oblivious to the problem or indecisive is actually the selection of one of the least favorable of the alternatives.

It may be heresy, but it seems to this student that it is time for enlightened student leadership to unselfishly perceive the long-term interests of higher education in California and support the Collier Bill or some similar measure.

GARY MOSELLE

Smear tactics

Editor:

If James Pelzer's obvious immaturity were all that was indicated by his remarks on the John Birch Society (ELGAU-CHO, May 6), then any further comment would prove pointless. But his innuendo is symptomatic of a disease that plagues far more than just letters to college newspapers.

Pelzer attempts to discredit the Birch Society by citing "similarities" between it and the German Nazi movement.

His remarks amount to the same despicable smear tactics that have been used against the Birch Society time and again. It would be as easy and as fallacious to draw a parallel between the Communist and Democratic Parties.

The method of quoting Hitler or Lenin out of context and then placing the quote against one by an American political figure is as common as it is deceptive.

I recently saw it done by a magazine that printed statements by Goebbels and lined them up side by side with similar ones made by John F. Kennedy. Does any intelligent person think on account of things like this that Kennedy was a fascist--or that Welsh is?

If the Birch Society hates the Communists, does this make it, as Pelzer implies, comparable to the Nazis, who hated the Jews.

As John Rousselet was careful to point out in his lecture here, there is room for reasonable disagreement with the John Birch Society. I, for one, find myself at odds with the Birch Society on many issues.

There are many Americans who disagree with the Society. This does not make those Americans Communists--neither does it make the John Birch Society fascist.

Pelzer would doubtless want to call himself a liberal. Liberal indeed! His letter is typical of bigots, both left and right, who shun facing the real issues because it is so much easier to wallow like pigs in the squalor of their limited perceptions, feeding on the garbage of their specious arguments while snorting hate slogans and throwing mud at their opponents.

It is unfortunate that the American political picture is so clouded by the fog of slanderous nonsense generated by Pelzer and people of his ilk.

Student-faculty committee for Cranston organizes here to promote Senate bid

The formation of a "Student-Faculty Committee for Cranston" at UCSB was announced Friday by Michael Lustig, University area coordinator for the United States Senate campaign of State Controller Alan Cranston.

Organized for the purpose of promoting Cranston's bid for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, the "Student - Faculty Committee" aims at getting the Cranston name and the Cranston record known as widely as possible.

"We feel that a distinguished liberal record in public affairs, a complete grasp of both domestic and foreign issues and an eloquent style of expression are the makings of a great United States Senator -- and these qualities are brought together in the person of Alan Cranston," Lustig said.

"We urge people to examine the Cranston record, to read Cranston's writings, to hear Cranston speak, and to judge for themselves the quality of the candidate."

Members of the "Student-Faculty Committee for Cranston" include Doctors Harry Girvetz of the Philosophy Department; John Cotton of Psychology; Keith Aldrich of Classics; William R. Comstock of Religious Studies; Gordon Baker, William Ebenstein, and Peter Merkl of Political Science.

Also included on the Committee are James Gregg, Graduate Fellow in Political Science; Leo Flynn, Graduate Assistant

County students support Rocky

Santa Barbara County Students for Rockefeller held their first organizational and strategy meeting Saturday, May 2, at the Rockefeller for President Headquarters in Santa Barbara.

UCSB students serving on the committee are: student coordinator Doug Miller, junior political science major; Brian White, senior English major; Mary Himmelhoch, graduate speech student and championship debater; Barbara Rambo, secretary of the University Republican Club; and Randy Siefkin, senior political science major and newly-elected member to the National Executive Committee of the Youth for Rockefeller.

Other members of the group are: John Dell and Maureen Frantovich, students at Santa Barbara City College, and Bob Davies, Westmont College student and former Treasurer of the Santa Barbara County Young Republicans. The advisor is UCSB economics professor Herb C. Kay.

The committee functions mainly as manpower for the Rockefeller campaign - to help man telephones and switchboards at the Headquarters, to sponsor a Bumper Strip Day, and to promote enthusiasm when Rockefeller comes to Santa Barbara on May 26.

Lee is appointed 'Spectrum' editor for 1964-1965

By JUDY SOBOL
Staff Writer

Charles Lee, recently appointed 1964-1965 editor of "Spectrum," campus literary magazine, declares that his main objective is to interest young West Coast writers to contribute to the magazine.

Lee, a Junior English major from Santa Barbara, was appointed by the Publications Board on April 30. He was on the "Spectrum" staff last year and has done some writing on his own.

Distributed all over the United States and in Africa and Europe as well, the magazine includes poetry, articles, and fiction. Etchings and reproductions also appear.

"Spectrum," which is printed at the beginning of each semester, is supported by the Associated Students and by its own sales.

Lee urges anyone who wants to work for or contribute to "Spectrum" to contact him through P.O. Box 1762, Goleta, California, 93019.

At a retreat last Saturday, new and old members elected officers and planned their activities for the coming year. The new members will be honored at a banquet later this month.

Chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service, next year's Crown and Sceptors will be Patricia Bower, Diane Eaton, Gail Grigsby, Ann Grogan, LeeAnne Horine, Cherry James, Kathie Nicholson, Karen Pilot, Dottie Pipkin, Robin Ratcliffe, Donna Smith, Kasia Stefanek, Karen Strohm, and Penny Weidaw.

Wall named chairman of Chem Department

Dr. Fredrick T. Wall, currently research professor of chemistry at the University of Illinois, has been appointed to the UCSB faculty as chairman of the chemistry department, effective fall, 1964.

Wall received his Ph. D. in physical chemistry at the University of Minnesota; since 1937 he has taught and conducted research in physical chemistry at the University of Illinois.

His most recent research has been concerned with theoretical physical chemistry, involving a study of sizes and shapes of large rubber-like molecules and the rates at which chemical reactions occur.

Wall is author of a book on "Chemical Thermodynamics." He has written over 100 scientific articles.

He received the American Chemical Society Award in Pure Chemistry for 1945, and is a member of the National Academy of Sciences. He is also current national director of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Wall and his family will move to Santa Barbara this summer.

PROPOSED expenditures for 1964-65.

New budget outlined biggest portion to IAC

Proposed expenditures for 1964-65 were recently released by the Finance Committee after a record high budget of $195,000 was formulated.

Intercollegiate Athletic Commission will receive the largest portion while Community Services which includes Contact, Honey Bears and the Speaker's Bureau will receive the smallest portion.

Assembly Committee, Awards Committee, Gauchito Band and Director, Publicity Committee, Rally Committee, Forensics, Model United Nations and AWS which are grouped under Student Activities will receive 14.5%.

UCSB publications, EL GAUCHO and La Cumbre, and KCSB were apportioned 22% of the budget, and the AS Business Services Office and AS Insurance was allotted 14.1%.

Miscellaneous, which includes Alumni Affairs, AS Bus Service and College Cabin, will be given 2.1%.

Unappropriated reserves represent the difference between the total budget and the AS income figures. It will be allotted to activities for which there are no reasonable figures available and for activities that are not presently anticipated.

Film on history of communism will be shown

"The Truth About Communism," an AS-sponsored film, will be shown tonight in Campbell Hall at 8 p.m.

Actor Ronald Reagan narrates the film, which traces the history of Communism, beginning with a quote from Karl Marx's "Communist Manifesto."

Newsreel films showing Lenin's return to Russia to seize power in 1917 are shown, as well as scenes of slave labor camps during Stalin's "reign of terror."

Pictures taken in Budapest during the Freedom Fighters' 1956 rebellion are also included.

The 78-minute film uses Communists' words and actions in order to present a factual history. Khrushchev is quoted praising Stalin as "the greatest genius of mankind" in early speeches, and condemning him as a butcher in later speeches.

Admission to the film is $25.

New teachers to be advised

Students planning to work for teaching credentials should consult an advisor in the Education Department about prerequisites for the fifth-year programs, and also about major requirements, according to the School of Education.

New credential laws specify the number of units in majors and minors and the appropriateness of certain majors and minors.

Not more than six semester hours of course work taken to satisfy general education requirements can apply toward fulfillment of requirements for either a major or a minor.

English 1A-1B and an additional course in English composition, satisfied by English 106G, are now necessary.

A list of courses required for elementary teaching credentials is available at the Education office.

experience in the Philippines.

He earned his BA degree at Western Reserve University and his MA and Ph. D. at Stanford. He taught at the University of Arizona and Denver University before joining the UCSB staff in the fall of 1957.

His works include "Hunter Deep in the South," "End of a War," "Charcoal Horse," "Heroic Love," and "The Mothers."

The award established in memory of Dr. Harold J. Plous, assistant professor of economics at UCSB, is conferred at the end of the spring semester for the following year.

RHA Animals nip Delts in intramural softball playoffs

In a sterling pitchers' duel, Mendocino - Merced Animals defeated the Delta Tau Delta baseball team, Friday in intramural action. Final score was 2-0.

Both Mendocino - Merced runs came across the plate on the legs of Bob Kahan. In the first inning, Kahan singled and went to second on a passed ball.

Kahan went to third base on a ground out. Mike Shea then singled Kahan in for the first time. Shea also singled Kahan in with the second run.

The second came in the sixth inning. Kahan walked, proceeded to second with a slippery stolen base. Another ground out put him on third. Shea capped the scoring with his single.

Excitement still hung in the air. The last inning, the seventh, came with a Delt flourish. Due to errors and a walk, the Delts were able to load the bases.

Animal pitcher Dick Doran then set the Delts down with out a run on three infield fly balls. During the game, he struck out four, as did his opponent, Ray Bosch.

Next game for the Mendocino - Merced team is today at 4 p.m. behind Robertson Gym.

Girl tankers finish season

by BOB STOLL
Sports Writer

The UCSB Women's Intercollegiate Swim Team concluded a successful season last Saturday at Pomona by walking away with first place in the All-Southern California College Championships.

The girls started off their season with a victory at the All-Cal Intramural Sports Day at Berkeley, and then went on to upset the UCLA squad in a dual meet.

In their only loss of the year, the Gauchettes took a second at the San Fernando Valley State College Invitational Meet.

In this, their initial year of competition, the girls were not able to line up a full schedule of meets, but they should have no trouble next year.

The participants for the 1964 season were Lynne Bowsher (butterfly, blackstroke), Cece Brown (backstroke, IM), Patti Jacquemain (diving, freestyle), Lyn Leone (freestyle), Tina Meecham (breaststroke, freestyle), Pat Ruuska (freestyle, butterfly), Captain Diane Thibault (breaststroke, butterfly), and Joanne Vorster (backstroke, freestyle).

Senior Patti Jacquemain and Pat Ruuska, national record holder, were singled out by Coach Gerry Walklet for their fine performances this year.

Any women interested in competing next year should contact Cecilia Brown, 8-3551.

Horsehiders keep fourth place via Indian victory

After losing a ten inning game to UC at Berkeley Friday, the UCSB baseball team broke a nine game losing streak with a 3-2 win over Stanford Saturday. Earlier Saturday, the Gauchos had lost 4-0.

By virtue of the win, UCSB maintains its delicate hold on fourth place. Its overall league record is five wins and 12 losses. This places it ahead of Stanford and California, Cal is 5-13, while Stanford is 4-14.

In the Cal game Friday, it was Larry Colton's bases loaded single in the tenth which scored the win run. Earlier, Cal had racked up single runs in the fifth and sixth. In the seventh they made two, and a three-run ninth inning kept them in the ball game.

UCSB also scored in the ninth. This one run gave UCSB a temporary 7-4 lead. The biggest Gaucho inning however, was the seventh. Gaucho bats unloaded for four runs then.

With the added run in the ninth, UCSB still could not hold back Cal. After having gone through two pitchers, the Bears brought in Ray Ford for UCSB in the ninth. He finished the game.

UCSB mounders were Mike Foster for six, Jim Grant for two and Ray Ford. Cal also used many pitchers, ending up with a total expenditure of five.

Four hits was all the Gauchos could garner in their shutout loss in the first Stanford game. Three of these were picked up by Pickens. He had a double and two singles.

UCSB got back on the beam in the nightcap, as they smashed a hit in every inning of the seven inning tilt. The game was not wrapped up till the last inning, however.

With one run in the ninth, Stanford closed the gap to 3-2, but Gaucho pitcher Ford staved off the onslaught. He went all the way in the win.

In the third, UCSB made two of its three runs. Ford made first base on a wild pitch. He had struck out, but was able to reach first due to the wildness.

Ramsey then walked and both advanced on a sacrifice bunt. Goehring pushed them all across the plate with a single.

The Cal Bears were held to fifth place by two title producing wins for USC. The Trojans played Cal Saturday and by virtue of their double victory, gained a berth in NCAA District 8 Baseball Finals to be played later in the month.

Golf team comes up with good showing at tourney

Varsity golfers ended regular dual and tournament play for the season on a good note Friday by placing a creditable fifth in the Southern California Inter-Collegiate Tournament held at Vandenberg Village.

The tournament was a best three out of six scores affair.

Netters seen as dark horse team

UCSB will go into the NCAA Tennis Regionals as the dark horse -- this is how the experts tab Gaucho chances in the Regionals to be held at Los Angeles State.

According to pre-tourney seedings, Pepperdine should finish first, UCSB second, and Los Angeles State third. However, they also point out that even though Pepperdine has downed UCSB twice this season, the Gauchos could rip their way to the number one spot.

Lee Reid, Don Gaynor, Lee Dompe, Steve Janson, and probably Bill Carroll will represent UCSB at the Regionals. All will play singles and doubles except Dompe, who will sit out singles, and Janson, who will sit out doubles.

Lew Garbut was high man for the Gauchos at 148 for 36 holes. Dave Goldsmith tallied 151 for 36 in the UCSB effort.

Lee Davis of USC's winning team was the tournament medalist, with 142 for 36 holes.

Tournament standings found USC in first, Fresno St. in second, UCLA third, San Diego fourth, UCSB fifth, and Los Angeles State in sixth.

UCSB ended the season dual competition with an 8-5 won-lost record.

Next on the agenda is the NCAA Regionals, to be held the 18th and 19th of this month on the home course of Cal. State at Alameda. It has not yet been decided who will represent the Gauchos.

ON CAMPUS--STUDENT OWNED

Finance Committee head reports budget surplus

"Students should realize that they own the facilities in the Student Union Complex," said Tyler Glenn, Finance Committee Chairman, discussing the Committee's functions.

The annual budget, which is made up each spring by the Finance Committee, consists primarily of the $15 Associated Students fee collected each semester from each student at registration. One-third of the fees goes to the Intercollegiate Athletic Committee; the rest provides for the support of the offices and businesses of the Student Union Complex.

Last spring's budget totaled $188,148, of which $130,581 was appropriated. Next year's budget, in which about $174,000 is appropriated, will be submitted for approval to Legislative Council tomorrow in a special budget session.

REMAINING FUNDS

In addition to the budget, the Finance Committee is in charge of the unappropriated reserve. This reserve is made up of the difference between the budget and the amount of fees collected, and is used to fulfill requests for funds which come up during the year. It is the job of the Finance Committee to review these requests and to determine whether or not they are necessary.

According to Glenn, students never seem to realize that this reserve fund is available for the use of student organizations. He reports a surplus this year, and explains that surplus funds at the end of the year is common.

Members of the Finance Committee are AS President Bob Andrews; two Leg Council members, Gail Grigsby and Al

TYLER GLENN

Arkush; two members-at-large, Kris Giebler and Barbara Riley; and a non-voting secretary, Jane DeBriyn. The faculty advisors are Robert Lorden and Maxwell Pellish.

Among Glenn's personal duties as Finance Committee Chairman is working part-time in the AS Business Office, a job for which he receives a salary. His main function there is to answer questions of students concerning AS finances. In addition, he handles financial records.

He also supervised the task of getting committee budgets into the Finance Committee at the beginning of the spring semester. These budgets are allocated to certain categories of expenditures and the committees are expected to remain within the bounds of these categories.

NUMEROUS POSTS

Glenn is a member of the Student Union Policy Committee, the Personnel Board, the Executive Cabinet, the Intercollegiate Athletic Committee, and University Center Board, the last two being joint student-administration boards serving as advisory boards to the chancellor. He is also a non-voting member of Leg Council.

Glenn, Senior class vice-president, is an economics major planning a business career after being a navy supply officer for for three years. He is a member of Blue Key, and has served as treasurer of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

He feels that his job gives him an overall view of student government in action. One of the most interesting parts of his job is being a member of IAC and University Center Board.

"The experience of working with administrators," Glenn says, "is especially valuable to me for my future career in business."

"It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness."

Library to establish Muslim subscription

"Mohammed Speaks," the Black Muslim newspaper, will be ordered by the library, according to Donald C. Davidson, head librarian.

A gift subscription would be accepted, he stated.

Davidson said that, while the library had not been "formally asked" to subscribe to the controversial paper, he feels its point of view is one students should be acquainted with.

Although space in the newspaper room of the library is limited, the library staff wishes to carry papers representing all points of view.

A subscription to "The Weekly People," a Socialist paper, is still in effect, and a subscription to "The Freedom Press," a strongly conservative publication, will be renewed if sufficient student interest is expressed.

Blood donations open tomorrow

Students who wish to donate blood for Larry Adams may do so tomorrow, Wednesday, and Friday at the Tri-Counties Blood Bank, 902 Laguna Street, Santa Barbara from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Cars will leave from the bus stop area of the SU at 3:30 p.m. for students who need transportation.

Donors should not eat anything except bananas within 4 hours of giving blood. A permission slip from parents is required for students under 21.
