GRIDSTERS WILL PLAY REDLANDS TEAM TONIGHT

With a chance to break even on wins and losses for the season by winning both the next two games, football players of Santa Barbara State College will take the field tonight in Redlands against the University of that city determined to win the first of the duo. The contest will be the second night affair this season for the Roadrunners, having met Occidental early this year in the Rose Bowl.

It seems as if Santa Barbara will find trouble again with passes when it faces the Bulldogs. Two well thrown passes by California Christian last week were responsible for the defeat of Santa Barbara and tonight they will encounter the same kind of an attack, if previous games by the southerners mean anything, as they are sure to in the style of play used.

Redlands holds a 26-13 victory over Cal Christian and has beaten San Diego, 7-0. It lost by a close score to Cal Tech which all goes to show it has a team that is, on paper, a touchdown or two better than the Olive and White. This doesn't mean a thing to the Santa Barbara players, however, since they have a reputation for upsetting dope, and if they fight as they have shown they are capable of tonight, the Bulldogs are sure to emerge from the fray a great deal the worse for the encounter with the scrappy Roadrunners.

With the exception of "Frenchy" Williams, the Santa Barbara players are in good shape for the encounter tonight. Williams still is nursing a sore side but will probably be able to get into the fray for at least a while. His inability to play last week was something of a handicap to the Roadrunners since two guards

Have You Noticed?

"Awright" Jones?

Doc Ellison donning his glasses for the final number of the Freshman Day program?

The two new men in circulation — Coach Luke Trimble's friends?

That the cafeteria floor did not prove to be a huge success toward the end of the evening?

But that the roof gardens were well patronized?

Dudley Buck, the young scoutmaster?

The elementary school pupils monopolizing space in the quad?

Edmund Kelley and Bob Hunt, the original kindergarten twins?

The popularity of the Deans' meeting!

Many students enjoying the various expressions on the faces on the faculty members as much as the Frosh program itself?

LIBRARY BELOW ATTENDANCE IN OTHERSCHOOLS

The number of students who study in the school library, in comparison with the total enrollment of the college, is somewhat below the average number in other schools, according to President Phelps, who has just completed a survey of our library and has gathered some statistics on the attendance at other college libraries. In accordance with the data compiled by a number of other colleges, State should have on the average 10 per cent of its total campus enrollment in the library at most hours of the day. Instead, the library attracts at the most but 8.5 per cent of the total number of students, and has even gone down to 5.8 per cent a period for the eight periods in a day.

The greatest number of students at one time in the library during the checkups last week was 110 during the third period Monday. Monday is usually the heavy study day, with Friday being taken more as a day of rest. The average number of students each period for Monday is about fifty, while but 34 gather in the library Friday to give it the lowest average of the five school days.

Further statistics gathered by President Phelps show that each student studies in the library, on the average, but 2.5 hours a week. This is far below what it should be, he says, and the library should be used about an hour a day.

'MARCH HARES' IS CHOSEN BY ACTORS

"March Hares," by Harry Wagstaff Gribble, has been definitely chosen by the College Players as their first play of the year, according to Harold Jones, manager of dramatics.

"March Hares" is a three-act comedy which was put on last year at the Little Theatre in New York, where it had a very successful run. For some time Jones has had this play in mind but was unable to secure the right to produce it until recently.

The play is not only a comedy but is decidedly funny. The story is about Jannet Joffrey and her fiancé who run an elocution school. They quarrel and each invites in a friend to make the other jealous. The situation becomes very involved, but the author has thought out a clever and surprising ending.

The cast of the play has not been definitely decided, although rehearsals are being held. The play will be given for one performance at the Lobero Theatre on January 4. The College Players would like to play more performances, but the rental fee of one hundred and fifty dollars a performance is too great for the college to give more than one performance.

School Enrolls 368 Women and 216 Men

Sixty-three percent of the total registration of Santa Barbara State is women, according to President Phelps, who has just completed a survey of enrollment figures. There are 368 women and 216 men enrolled on the campus, or a total number of 584 students.

The upper division claims over 35 per cent of the total number with an enrollment of 210 students, and President Phelps expects it to enroll to about 40 per cent by next year.

SORORITY HOLDS BIG HOMECOMING AFFAIR

By Helen Cooley

The first annual Phi Kappa Gamma homecoming, held last week end proved to be a splendid success, with twelve former students joining the active sorority members for the three day celebration.

The homecoming entertainment opened with a luncheon at the Galleon Tea Room Saturday noon. Following the luncheon, a bridge party was enjoyed at the home of Miss Viola Peterson, 1300 Laguna street.

Saturday night the alumni members entertained with a Buffet supper dance at the Margaret Baylor Inn. The following guests attended the dancing party: Alfaretta Keating, Bernice Gange, Eleanor Warren, Dorothy Kimes, Mildred Sample, Etta Gotchall, Grace Misch, Mildred Wright, Doris Stanley, Edwina Kenney, Viola Peterson, Emma Osner, Helen Cooley, Gladys Thomas, Genevieve Moore, and Helen Donnelly.

Francis Petler, Walter Catlin, Dan Britton, Albert Plantamura, Charles Raffeto, Fred Humphrey, Floyd Kenney, Marvin Young, Carl Cobb, Carl Lewis, Ray Gilbert, Marvin Cobb, Alan Jacobs, Jack Vince, Roland Lakin, Thomas Keating, Francis Williams, Gilbert Martin, Cecil Hickman, and Arthur Trumbull. Dr. and Mrs. Blaisdell were sponsors for the evening.

The alumnae group was organized into an alumnae chapter at a meeting held Sunday with Miss Bernice Gange being elected president and Miss Edwina Kenney, secretary and treasurer.

Miss Jessica Lemmon was hostesses at a reception and tea honoring the sorority given at her home on Wellington avenue Sunday afternoon. About sixty friends of the sorority were Miss Lemmon's guests. Sunday evening a theatre party, followed by a supper at El Cortijo, was enjoyed by the active and alumni members. A slumber party was held at the home of Miss Mildred Wright Sunday night. The homecoming was brought to an end with a breakfast lunch Monday morning. The out of town alumnae members present at the homecoming included two former A. W. S. presidents, Miss Bernice Gange, who is now teaching in the Inglewood High School; and Miss Eleanor Warren, who is now

GOOD PROGRAM IS PRESENTED IN FROSH DAY CELEBRATION

By Howard Lane

The freshmen celebrated their day yesterday in the auditorium with a fine program.

"Awright" Jones, was alright as master of ceremonies. Myrtle Adams, "the crooning soprano from Goleta," captured the house early in the program by her singing of old time ditties.

The greatest feature of the morning came last. It was the famous Zeeg Flop Fillies Chorus rushed here direct from the "Emporium," in Peoria, or so it was announced by "Awright" Hal Jones, and it also was alright. The girls were six famous freshman campus beauties. The orchestra accompanied them well and the whole act proved a fitting climax for the program.

A regular Shakesperian tragedy opened the program. Every one was finally shot, although the motive for it all was rather obscure, but so is Shakespeare. Therefore it was everything "Awright" claimed, a real tragedy!

The third number was one of those endless Virginia Reels, which was supposed to be a talkie in one act, with sound and necessary "defects." The sound came from the trusty fiddle of "Tiny" Cash. The actors wore the conventional long dresses and overalls.

A frosh quartet sang three or four numbers which were good. They looked rather frightened, but pulled through once they got started.

The Denno brothers, Harry and Ray, came fifth on the program, and, as usual, they were good. In fact it has come to such a point that they are expected to practically star any program that they are in, and they nearly always do. This time the Zeeg Flop Fillies beat them by a few pair of legs, and divers actions, that usually accompany such appendages.

Then came the great Belasco success, "And So It Goes," and it sure went over big if numerous laughs and loud applause mean anything. Ben Romer and Harold Gunderson were typical of the usual forlorn husbands who were unlucky enough to get domineering wives. Jack Vigors was a very heart-breaking sight in his absolute adoration of his fiancé, Phyllis Cole. Margaret Barnett acted perfectly natural; it was so good that we already feel sorry for her future husband. Gunderson's wife was almost as overbearing as Romer's if it is possible for two people to be that nearly alike. And Helen Forsythe made a very excellent maid.

The finale, of course, was the wow of the program, and further predict that the Zeeg Flop Fillies will soon be seen on the talking screen.

GIRL SINGERS FEATURE HOP IN NEW HALL

The Military Hop, the first dance to be held in the new cafeteria, last Friday evening was attended by a capacity crowd of students and faculty members.

The decoration consisted of many war posters advertising liberty bonds and loans, posters calling for volunteer service, and other war propaganda. Many colorful and humorous posters made by Charles Huber adorned the walls.

During the evening the Revellettes entertained with a medley of popular war songs including, "Over There," "Till We Meet Again," "K-K-Katy," and concluded with the popular "Singin' in the Rain" as an encore. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Frank Greenough's orchestra.

Committees for the dance were as follows: Laura Breska, decorations; Ann Sampson, programs; Dorothea E. Peterson, refreshments; Whitelaw Birss, floor committee, assisted by Eddie Davens, Stuart Thompson, David Watson, William Pensinger; William Pensinger, clean-up, and Charles Huber, publicity. The floor committee attended the dance in military uniforms.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Fish, Dr. and Mrs. Ellison, and Miss Florence Clark were patrons and patronesses.

COLLEGE J. H. WILL PRESENT TWO PLAYS

"Sir David Wears His Crown" and "The Birthday of the Infanta" have been chosen by the Junior High dramatic class as their first plays of the season in the college auditorium Tuesday morning and Wednesday night. The first of the two plays is the sequel to "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," which was given last year by this group of players.

The class is composed of the members of the eighth and ninth grades who are interested in dramatics. The plays are directed by Robert Wormser, English teacher of the college junior high school.

LETTERS OF COMMENT

WE HAVE just received a letter from one of the members of the student body which reads as follows:

Editor of the Eagle:

On the trail of the lobster one discovers the turbid footprints of the past and realizes that this season has promoted more than the usual share of muckraking. This causes an entirely undesirable reflection as to the prudence of the Santa Barbara State College student body.

Surely there are other means of rousing the student out of his lethargic slumber than by the antics of a few desecrated adolescent individuals who metaphore with dirty hands. Writers who cloak their personal spleen under anonymous cover and give vent to personal sneers in print are as cowardly as the craven who fires from ambush upon the defenseless.

Please deliver us from such yellow intolerance or button up the Eagle and scour its feathers.

We appreciate the zeal of the author of this letter and thank him for his interest in the betterment of student body affairs. No doubt he is referring, in his allusions to unsigned letters, to the recent exchange of remarks on the matter of feminine and masculine looks. We agree with the author in regard to the first letter which should have borne a signature, but we did not think it necessary for some of the others to have real signatures. The reason why the matter was continued so long as it was was to give all parties an equal chance to express their opinions. The women had a legitimate right to answer the accusations against them, which they did. Then, in order to remove any ill feeling that might still remain, we found a little humor to close the matter.

Inasmuch as the letter we have just received would be apt to cause personal discomfiture to the author among his campus acquaintances, we have, though he was perfectly willing that it go into the paper, withheld his name.

We rise in defense of the anonymous contributors. Though they be unknown to the general readers, their names must be known to the editor before their letters will be printed. However, we do say that signed letters give more weight to their point than do unsigned letters.

Our contributor deploras the purpose of some of the letters to shake the students out of their lethargic state, but he does not offer any suggestions. He makes some rather pointed statements, and we certainly admire his willingness to have his letter signed.

NEW ZEALAND SCHOOL WANTS COLLEGE DATA

The name and influence of the State College as an educational institution of note has spread across the Pacific Ocean to New Zealand.

Early this week President Phelps received a letter from the Manual Training Centre at Napier, N. Z., asking that it be supplied with handbooks and pamphlets on the work of the Industrial Education Department. The southern schools wants to compare its methods of teaching woodwork with those employed in America, and chose the college here as a representative institution.

The Industrial Education Magazine, a national publication, gave the Napier school its first knowledge of Santa Barbara State.

Alpha Phi Gamma To Hold Pledge Party

Invitations to five prospective members to Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalism fraternity, were sent out early this week requesting their presence Monday night at the home of Dora Woods at 1620 Garden street. Acceptance of the invitation will imply willingness to enter the period of pledgship to the fraternity.

The regular pledging ceremony will be followed by games, dancing and refreshments, according to information received from Lucille Powers, social chairman of the organization.

Phelps Speaks

President Clarence L. Phelps was the special speaker at the Lompoc Rotary Club luncheon last Tuesday. He spoke on "Goodwill." Mr. Phelps has been a popular speaker with several clubs lately.

Art Department Has Hard Times Dinner

Members of the Art Department and their friends were entertained at a hard-times dinner party between the hours of five and seven-thirty Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Margaret Le Vey on West Arrellaga Street.

About thirty art students and their guests enjoyed the dinner and the short program of dancing and songs that was held directly after. Mrs. Crosswell, head of the department, was guest of honor at the affair.

Howard McKibben Is Elected President

Howard McKibben, star end on the varsity football team this year, was elected president of the senior class in a special meeting last Tuesday in the auditorium. McKibben is also vice-president of Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity. Lucille Powers, a member of the Eagle staff, and social chairman of Alpha Phi Gamma, journalism fraternity, was the other presidential candidate.

With but one candidate being nominated for each of the other offices, the following officers were elected: Effie Moorman, vice-president; Margaret Webster, secretary, and Lucille Powers, treasurer.

WORK CONTINUES ON OUTING CLUB CABIN BUILDING

Again the Outing Club cabin was the scene of labor when sixteen students spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday in construction work. The group left Saturday afternoon taking with them the supplies with which to finish the cabin. The time was spent in putting added touches of beauty around the cabin and completing the roof. The labor was delayed Sunday when it was discovered that there was a shortage in roofing paper and a rush trip was made back to town to get the material. Mr. Ambrose of the Ambrose Lumber Company kindly opened up the yard to let the Outing Club have the necessary material. The roof was finished before the group left Monday afternoon.

President Phelps and Mr. Tilton again gave their services on Sunday and Mr. Tilton helped start the barbecue pit. Clayton Sheesley, who was president of the Outing Club for two years, visited the workers and was very much pleased with the progress of the cabin. Ted Marshall, another well known Outing Club member, came over Sunday to see the progress.

The Outing Club is planning another trip over to the cabin this week-end to give more of the members a chance to see the cabin. This trip is being made instead of the one that was originally planned to Foster Glen.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor:

Many freshmen are revolting at the indignity of being made to wear beanies on the punishment of being paddled. They all agree that to wear these green caps is in itself no indignity, but the delight in which a few sophomores take in paddling their lowerclassmen seems to effect such a wholesome spirit of revolt on their part that action will probably soon take place by the beanie wearers.

It has been rumored that the sophomores are trying to pass a law that will permit them to use a paddle throughout the year. This also has found no favor among the freshmen, and it will take just a few more public paddlings to so enrage them that they will rally their forces and declare themselves free of the beanie wearing. There has even been talk of the freshmen passing a law compelling the sophomores to wear some insignia of their class. It seems that sophomores had better take heed of the situation before the tables are turned and they have to suffer the indignity of being paddled before the public.

—A Freshman.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor:

Just a suggestion which might aid in ending all the controversy relative to outside people attending college dances. It seems to me rather unfair that we women should have the right to ask outside men while the men must take a college woman or stay away. Why not at the next dance exclude all outside men and women, alumni included? Of course certain exceptions might be made in the case of individuals who are engaged to some one off the campus and these people given special invitations, but for all others no invitations.

Just a Student.

GRIDSTERS WILL PLAY REDLANDS TEAM TONIGHT

had to play almost the entire encounter because of inexperience of substitutes.

The probable starting lineup of Coach Hal Davis' team tonight is as follows: Ralph Johnson, center; John Davis and Ray Denno, guards; Al Wade and George Barth, tackles; "Gibby" Martin and "Gabby" McKibben, ends; Fred Imes, quarter; Cec Hickman and Bert Clemore, halves; and Fred Pierucci, full. Other players who are likely to see action are Art Trumbull at center or end since he has been working at both during the past week, Williams at guard; John Anderson at tackle, "Spud" Sawyers at end, and Walt Barnett and Thayer Kessler, backfield.

REBELLIOUS SPIRIT AMONG FRESHMEN

IN COMMENTING upon a letter written by one of the freshman class, and published this week under the student opinion column, we sympathize with the author if he and his mates have suffered the indignity of being publicly paddled. But, we add, if those frosh had worn their caps as ordered to, they would not have been punished.

Let not the frosh think that they are being mistreated by being forced to wear the beanies. At many of the larger colleges and universities the frosh are forced to do many other things than just wear green caps. At the University of Washington the frosh must wear caps; they cannot speak to any co-eds on the campus; they cannot smoke cigarets on the campus but they may suck on corncob pipes; they cannot wear cords; they must keep to regular campus paths and cannot walk on the grass; they cannot loiter or sit on the steps of a certain hall. AND THE FRESHMEN HAVE TO ENFORCE THE RULES THEMSELVES! At the University of California, among other things, freshmen are not allowed to wear cords. The University of Oregon forbids the frosh from wearing cords and from working on the college newspaper.

All in all, the frosh at Santa Barbara State are lucky, in that all they have to do is wear green beanies.

PANTHERS TAKE TO WINGS AND DEFEAT ROADRUNNERS IN OWN ELEMENT BY 13 TO 6

It's the old, old, story. A Roadrunner team that should have won did not, and the California Christian College eleven defeated State, 13-6, last Saturday in Los Angeles.

Outclassed on the ground, the Panthers took to the air and obtained two touchdowns for their pains. The Hilltoppers' defense against the Southerners' tosses was weak, allowing their opponents to gain as many yards on passes as they did from scrimmage. On the other hand, Santa Barbara's aerial attack was its usual sorry fiasco, only one pass being completed.

Long Pass' Nets Score

The locals kicked off, forced Cal Christian to punt, and then started a drive from the Santa Barbara 40 yard line. Three times first downs were chalked up for the Roadrunners, but an intercepted pass on the ten yard line ruined Green and White scoring chances. The battle waged in midfield until late in the first quarter, when Thompson fell back to his forty-four yard stripe and heaved a twenty-five yard pass to Newberry, who dashed the remaining thirty-five yards over the goal line. Cal Christian failed to convert. With a minute left to play in the first half, Santa Barbara had the pigskin on the Southerners' eight yard mark, but a fumble, recovered by the Red team, sent another scoring opportunity vanishing into thin air.

Santa Barbara kicked off to open the second half, and Cal Christian returned the ball twenty-five yards to the thirty-five yard line, where they punted to State's twenty-two yard mark. The Roadrunner safety fumbled and the Southerners recovered. On the second down, Thompson rifled a pass to Newman who caught the ball for a touchdown. The conversion was made on a pass. Score: S. B. O. C. C. 13.

Sawyers Runs Back Punt

State's lone tally came early in the fourth period. Sawyers ran a short kick back through a broken field to C. C. C.'s twenty-yard line. Four plays made it first down on the four yard stripe, and then two line thrusts took it over, Kessler making the touchdown. The nearest State could come to the goal line after that was the twenty-eight yard line where an incomplete pass ended scoring threats for the day. The second half was featured by much punting, neither team able to approach their opponent's goal with the exception of a touchdown by both teams. This was in direct contrast with the first half when the ball was constantly being carried into enemy territory by both aggregations, and several times

The following articles are waiting to be claimed in the lost and found department of the main office:

A kasha coat, a pair of gloves, a package of sandpaper, an "Outline of World Literature," a "Practice Handbook" for English, 2 French grammars, a Woodworth's "Psychology," a history syllabus, an economics syllabus, an "Outline of Economics," a chemistry experiment note book, an automotive instruction book, and a book "Making Things with Tools."

The office is anxious to have students claim their articles to make room.

Football Men Guests Of Dempster Players

Through the courtesy of the Ann Dempster Players, who opened an engagement at Recreation Center last night, twenty members of the varsity football squad received complimentary tickets for the first performance of "Mary's Other Husband."

The play was a comedy, presented in a fine manner, and was enjoyed by all.

only fumbles or gallant stands prevented touchdowns.

Cal Christian gained one hundred and fifteen yards from the line of scrimmage. They lost four yards and were penalized thirty-five. Five southern passes out of eleven attempts were completed for total gains of one hundred and sixteen yards. Eight first downs were made by Cal Christian. Total net yardage: one hundred and ninety-two.

State made two hundred and thirty-one yards from scrimmage, while losing nine. One pass out of five tries was good for ten yards. Penalized six times, the Roadrunners lost thirty yards.

Nine first downs were credited to the locals. Total net yardage: Two hundred and one.

BIRDS-I-VIEW

Tricky Dick Glover, former State backfield ace, kicked up his heels and scampered in and out and roundabout the Whittier eleven Armistice Day, to help Oxy beat the Poets. It was the first time Glover has been "hot" this year, but it surely was his day. He scored two touchdowns besides converting all four Oxy scores.

Oxy's stock dropped several points when Pomona defeated the University of Arizona 15-13. It was the Wildcats first defeat this season, Occidental being numbered among their victims. However, Pomona should not be given too big an edge because the Tigers outplayed Arizona completely when they met, but lost because of the well-known breaks.

As usual Pomona and Occidental will battle for the conference championship. Santa Barbara will tackle La Verne for the cellar position. If the Roadrunners lose they will have the distinction of starting from the bottom up, anyway.

Thanks to the influence of "Nimble" Trimble, legendary hero at his old high school in Chicago, promising material will be diverted to State next semester in the form of the Bodine Brothers. Both boys are husky, hefty, and handsome. They have excellent gridiron records both at high school, and at the University of Utah, where last year they were awarded their letters.

Eddie Rodman, golfer par excellence, recently got a birdie on the La Cumbre links. It was not the kind you think it was though. Monsieur Le Rodman swung a terrific swing at the ball, and produced an effect that only a hard wrongly hit golf ball can give. Through the air at a height of approximately five feet screamed the pellet. Dimly, through the blue haze caused by Golfer Rodman's language, one perceived a flock of birds. They rose in alarm as the ball neared, but one was too late. The little white ball hit the fowl as he took to the air, disemboweling him completely. Golfer Rodman had his first "birdie."

Due to obvious hints of fraternity politics, dirty work, and like thinks, entirely without foundation, our Football Beauty Contest has been called off, with Frenchy Williams, leading. After careful consideration the prize has been awarded to "Doc" Ellison, sturdy old faculty athlete, who succeeds in standing the numerous youngsters of the S. B. tennis club on their heads in the ladder tournaments on local courts.

Inasmuch as dear old State will soon be entering the Pacific Coast Conference, next week will find in this column exclusively the first All (something or other) team of the season. Suggestions by my readers will cheerfully be accepted. Place in a sealed envelope and drop in the nearest Eagle waste paper basket.

Ambrose Co. Donates Flooring For Cabin

Members of the Outing Club were pleased early this week to learn that 600 feet of lumber has been given to the club by the Ambrose Lumber Company, thru the efforts of Oswald Higgs, one of the club members.

The lumber, representing a sum of nearly twenty dollars, will be used for the sub-flooring of the Outing Club cabin on the Santa Ynez river. This gift by the Ambrose Company will rush along construction on the cabin, according to Higgs. The lumber will be taken over to the river by Noel Misemer on his trailer.
