

Committees on U.C. Minorities Are Established

By CAROLYN F. PAUL

Disturbed by the lack of results the University of California Student Affirmative Action has produced so far, the Assembly Ways and Means subcommittee voted yesterday to create committees on each of the nine campuses which will report directly to the legislature recommendations on how the university's affirmative action goals can be better met.

"The university doesn't have a good track record on enrolling students from under-represented minority groups," said Assemblyman Peter Chacon who initiated the action.

U.C. Student Regent Hector Lozano told the committee that since 1975 there has been an average increase of five Chicano students per year, per campus. "What good is there in establishing programs and changes when actual enrollment continues to show a severe under-representation of Chicanos in the university?" said Lozano.

The campus committees will be composed primarily of black Chicano and female faculty members, students and administrators. They will assess existing affirmative action programs and related services on both the graduate and undergraduate levels, set out numerical goals and timetables and make their recommendations in an interim report to the legislature by November 1980.

Representatives from these campus committees will also serve on a statewide committee.

The Assembly subcommittee also decided to allocate only $150,000 of the $600,000 U.C. requested for the establishment of a graduate student affirmative action program.

The subcommittee also temporarily suspended any decision on the university's request that the state totally support the undergraduate affirmative action program at University of California, as it does for the state and community colleges.

The graduate student affirmative action program proposed to the subcommittee by

Court Orders Barwig To Face Rape Charge

By MEG McCANDLESS

Mark Barwig, assistant basketball coach at UCSB, was ordered to stand trial on rape charges at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing on Monday.

April 24 was the date set by Municipal Court Commissioner Thomas Adams for Barwig's Superior Court arraignment.

According to Deputy District Attorney Robert Calvert, the purpose of a preliminary hearing is to "show that there's enough evidence that there's a strong suspicion of a crime and the defendant was the one who committed the crime."

The preliminary hearing began March 31. Calvert said the reason this hearing continued longer than most was because, "I felt I wanted to bring in a lot of witnesses and show the judge lots of facts," Calvert said.

The next step in the judicial process, according to Calvert, is Barwig's arraignment on April 24. "My guess is that he'll plead not guilty and there will be a trial," said Calvert.

Approximately six weeks after the arraignment, there will be a Readiness and Settlement Conference, Calvert said. "That will be to basically decide what to do. If the parties can't agree on a course of action, the case will go to trial," Calvert explained.

"We're ready to go to trial. My plan is to plead not guilty at the arraignment and to go to trial," said Barwig's attorney William Duval.

Although the courtroom was closed during Barwig's preliminary hearing, it will be open to the public during his arraignment, Calvert said. "A motion was made and the courtroom was closed. Only court personnel, the defense attorney, defendant, prosecuting attorney and witnesses were allowed in the court," Calvert said.

In response to Adam's decision to arraign Barwig, Athletic Director Ken Droscher said, "At this point in time the Athletic Department has undertaken no option or plans in light of the action taken place surrounding the Mark Barwig allegation. I have no relevant comment now since there has been no shedding of new information."

University officials have similarly refrained from speaking out or taking action on the Barwig case. According to Assistant Vice Chancellor for Personnel Robert Cameron, "There is no specific policy" regarding university employees arrested for alleged crimes.

"Precedents in the past have been that the courts are in power to judge guilt or innocence. It's different with acts perpetrated against the university, however," Cameron said. In those instances, the usual procedure is temporary suspension pending an investigation, according to Cameron. Once the investigation is concluded, the university decides on a course of action.

The university has traditionally refrained from entering into matters being handled by the courts in order to give the

Election is Endorsed By I.V. Council

After an emotional debate over whether a motion should be presented in writing before a vote could be taken, Isla Vista Community Council voted Monday night to endorse the upcoming advisory election and to recommend separate ballot measures for proposed Goleta and Isla Vista cityhood in the election.

Introduced by Council Member Ralph Baker, the motion asked Supervisor Bill Wallace to include separate measures for Goleta and Isla Vista incorporation. This, Baker explained, would preclude the possibility of Goletans and Isla Vistans determining each other's options for incorporation.

However, Council Member Pat Boyd refused to vote on the motion until "we can get something in writing." Baker argued that there was no need to place the recommendation in writing because "it is pure and simple." Although Council Member Scott Johnson agreed to put the motion in writing in order to facilitate a

Congressional Race Carmen Lodise Campaign Focuses on Price Control

By JOE MANSON

Advocacy of price controls to fight inflation will be the centerpiece of Isla Vista resident Carmen Lodise's campaign to unseat U.S. Representative Robert Lagomarsino in the November election.

Lodise, a former teacher of economics, maintains that only such controls on all items can stop inflation quickly and fairly, and that the American people have strongly favored price controls for the past several years. "Every week that goes by without prices being frozen means 500 to 1,000 more votes for me," said Lodise.

Lodise faces no opposition in the June 3 Democratic primary, and is certain to face Lagomarsino as the acknowledged underdog. "By November, I think I can be in the lead," he said.

According to Lodise, Lagomarsino has not offered a comprehensive solution for inflation, and the Carter administration's plans for balancing the federal budget and controlling credit are not effective remedies for the problem.

"The issue of price controls vs. balanced budgets and fine tuning of the economy is the highest priority issue of this election year," said Lodise in a press release.

Wages or profits should not be controlled, according to Lodise, however, he believes that labor and management can settle those levels between them.

Lagomarsino has refused an invitation to debate inflation remedies with Lodise this month. He said that such a debate should not be held until the general election campaign begins.

Regarding the crisis in Iran, Lodise is highly critical of the current administration's decision to allow the deposed shah into the United States. He believes that Carter misjudged the Iranians' resentment toward their former ruler. Furthermore, he charges Carter with engaging in a cover-up with the claim that the shah was allowed in this country for "humanitarian" reasons.

"It was said that the shah needed access to one of only six machines in the world for treatment, so he had to come to the U.S.," said Lodise. "But actually there are 2,600 of these machines."

Some of Lodise's proposals include creating legislation that permits some direct control by voters over federal government expenditures through a system of initiative and referendum, and establishing community advisory boards to provide him, if elected, with input on national issues.

Lodise said he has already raised over $1,000, and that he expects to raise enough monies to effectively challenge Lagomarsino. A party to kick-off the campaign is planned April 17, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Isla Vista Town Hall.

Campus Groups Organize Campaign To Increase Student Voter Turnout

By LESLIE DEWEY

Students from various campus organizations are attempting to change the low-turnout of student voters in the Santa Barbara county elections by registering all students to vote for the June 3 primary.

"We hope to get 5,000 students registered by May 5, the last day to register to vote," said Jim Knox, A.S. external vice-president in charge of the campaign.

"Many students tend not to vote because they're not living in any one place full-time," said Knox.

According to Knox, student volunteers will be registering voters in the dorms and Isla Vista every Monday and Thursday until May 5. The biggest push, however, will be from April 14-18 when students file their registration packets. "We're trying to get six people registering students each hour during that week," he said. "We may be able to get 4,000 students to register while they're filing their cards."

In a memo to faculty members, Knox requested them to give a five minute presentation in each large class, which would include stressing the importance of voter registration by students; handing out registration forms to students, and discussing both sides of the argument of the possible impacts of Proposition 9 (Jarvis II). Each presentation would include one or more of these aspects, depending on the professor's preference.

"We've had good support from the faculty in allowing us to come in and give presentations," said Knox. "However, most professors are most interested in our just stressing the importance of registration. The time factor is a problem."

Students supporting the voter registration are generally opposed to Jarvis II, according to Knox. "We're trying to register every student on campus, but it's hard to divide the Jarvis II issue and voter registration, so we're not going to," said Knox.

UCSB Chancellor Robert Huttenback, a member of Citizens for California, an anti-Jarvis II organization, spoke at a meeting of the canvassers Monday. "We're trying to get the campus-community in order. It's surprising how self-destructive some people are when it comes to Proposition 9," he said.

Huttenback advised those at the meeting to make sure all students are registered, and to get students to work with their parents to defeat Jarvis II.

"Jarvis II benefits the rich and damages the poor," said Huttenback. "If all students, faculty, staff and alumni from the University of California voted, it would be quite a force," he said.

With the June primary drawing closer, voter registration crews are coming out in force. Registrars hope to register 5,000 students by May 5.

The State

SACRAMENTO—The Senate Industrial Relations Committee is hearing a bill by Democratic Senator David Roberti of Los Angeles. It would require firms employing at least 100 persons to notify the state employment department 1 year before they plan to close their plant. The bill would also require payments of an unspecified amount to employees and communities. Ford Motor Company recently closed its Pico Rivera plant, and the Libby Company shut down a Sacramento operation.

LOS ANGELES—Like Daniel in the lion's den, Rep. John B. Anderson on Monday vigorously defended his proposed 50-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax before Los Angeles audiences, insisting it would conserve ten times more fuel than President Carter's 10-cent-a-gallon hike. At UCLA, speaking to an estimated 2,000 students who greeted him with a full minute of applause, the underdog Republican presidential candidate said he had been warned that he would be "skinned alive" if he mentioned the gas tax idea in automobile-oriented Southern California.

SACRAMENTO—An age-old requirement of rape law — that a woman resist her attacker unless she would be putting herself in physical danger — would be repealed by a bill approved by a California assembly committee. The measure is sponsored by Democratic Assemblyman Mel Levine of Santa Monica. It was passed Monday by the Criminal Justice Committee without debate or dissent and sent to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE—The long-standing border dispute between California and Nevada goes to the nation's highest court next week. Attorneys for the two states are scheduled to argue their positions Monday before the U.S. Supreme Court. Nevada is challenging the recommendation by Special Master Robert Van Pelt that the border be left as it is. It claims Van Pelt's arguments would, in effect, allow the federal government to take land from a state. Nevada says that's unconstitutional.

HEADLINERS

The Nation

WASHINGTON—Vowing to make Iran pay "increasingly heavy costs" for holding American hostages, President Carter on Monday broke diplomatic relations with Tehran, cut off virtually all remaining trade between the two countries and imposed other economic and diplomatic sanctions. As he has since the U.S. Embassy in Tehran was seized by Iranian militants last Nov. 4, the President rejected use of military force. But he did not rule out future military action if the hostages are not released soon.

WASHINGTON—In a move signaling resumption of an arms race in space, the Soviet Union rocketed into orbit last week a target satellite that an anti-satellite "hunter-killer" weapon is expected to try to destroy within a few days, Defense Department officials said Monday. The resumption of testing of the anti-satellite weapon — possessed only by the Soviets — would end a two-year moratorium during which the United States and the Soviet Union have negotiated toward a ban on such arms.

WASHINGTON—White House officials, who asked not to be identified, say the U.S. wants Iran to have no doubts that military force could be the next step if the American hostages aren't released. However, Defense Secretary Harold Brown said yesterday that the Pentagon still fears that military action might bring harm to the hostages.

NEW YORK—The striking transit unions in New York city today were fined $1 million for violating a no-strike injunction. The judge in the State Supreme court in Brooklyn said he would impose additional and harsher penalties if the leadership of the Transport Workers Union and Amalgamated Transit Union fail to order union members back to work immediately. Meanwhile, Mayor Edward Koch urged the walking and biking commuters to keep going, "as painful as it is." The strike today entered its second week.

The World

TEHRAN—Iran is considering a state of emergency and what's termed "A holy war of self-denial" in response to President Carter's sanctions and the breaking of ties with Tehran. President Bani-Sadr warned Iranians yesterday they must realize Carter means business, saying "It is a war." Bani-Sadr spoke after Iran's governor-general met with the Revolutionary Council and proposed declaring a state of emergency. The governor-general, Hassan Habibi, said a belt-tightening holy war is under consideration for the duration of the Iranian revolution. His statement contrasted with the remarks of Ayatollah Khomeini, who dismissed Carter's moves. Khomeini called the sanctions a "good omen" because they mean the U.S. has lost all hope of controlling Iran.

ISRAEL—Israeli commandos shot their way into a kibbutz dormitory Monday, killed five Palestinian guerrillas and freed five children and a baby sitter who had been held hostage for nine hours. One toddler died in the children's house at the border kibbutz of Misgav Am, where a soldier and a kibbutz worker were slain earlier. Three children, the baby sitter and 11 soldiers were wounded. Lt. Gen. Raphael Eitan, Israel's chief of staff, ordered the attack, with the approval of Defense Minister Ezer Weizman, after four hours of fruitless talks with the Palestinian raiders. Eitan and Weizman reached the scene soon after dawn.

NEW DELHI—High officials of Vietnam, Cuba and the Soviet Union arrived in New Delhi for talks with Indian leaders. Aides in Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government called it a coincidence, but diplomats from other nations speculated that the simultaneous visits represented a Soviet attempt to gain wider support for its military intervention in Afghanistan. India has refused to condemn the invasion.

TEHRAN—Three American ministers who thought at first that they had seen all of the 50 U.S. hostages when they conducted Easter services for them at the captive embassy on Sunday compared notes Monday and found that they had seen only 31. The question of whether the remaining 19 had simply chosen not to meet with the visiting clergymen or were prevented from doing so remained open, although one of the clergymen said that the discrepancy bothered him.

Campus Police, CSOs Offer Bicycle tips for Safe Biking

With the weather getting warmer and the days getting longer, more of us are buying new bikes or fixing up our old ones, riding to classes and for pleasure. The Police Department and the Community Service Organization would like to remind everyone of a few important tips:

—Be courteous on the bikepaths: Use hand signals, slow down, stay to the right of the center line. And don't ride through "no bike" areas. CSOs will be out during the first week of school, reminding people of these simple courtesies. During the following week, however, officers will be issuing citations to those caught violating bike regulations. Although they may seem to be an inconvenience, these regulations reduce the chance of your being a victim of an accident.

—Think of others, especially the handicapped. Bikes in "keep clear" areas such as doorways, walkways, and firelanes, are hazards for pedestrians and can prove an insurmountable obstacle to a person in a wheelchair. The CSOs will move your bike into the racks if it's parked illegally, but if you park it on a wheelchair ramp, it will be impounded.

—The days are getting longer, but it's still dark by 10 or 11 at night. If you plan to stay at class or at the library until then, you'll need to remember your bike light.

—If you are buying a bike that seems unreasonably cheap, be sure to get a receipt, and if possible, contact the CSOs before you buy — we can tell you if the bike has been reported stolen. This will protect you from buying stolen property (which can result in your losing your investment and can even get you arrested).

—Bike thefts are on the increase. Always lock your bike with a good lock and a sturdy chain or cable. Lock it to the bike rack (not to a tree, a fence, a sign, or a wheelchair ramp), and not simply to itself.

—Be comfortable riding your bike. Use leg clips, keep brakes adjusted, secure books and other objects in baskets or book racks, adjust the seat to your height, be careful that long scarves and skirts don't get caught in wheels or chains. Many bike accidents are caused by mechanical failure or by foreign objects getting into the works.

If you are traveling after dark, there are a few additional things you should be aware of:

—CSOs provide an escort service for students, staff and faculty members walking or riding alone after dark. They are available from sunset to 6 a.m., and we'll walk or bike with you between any two points on campus or in I.V. There may be a short wait during busy hours. The phone number for the CSO escort service is 961-3446.

—If you find yourself in an area on campus that seems to you dangerously dark because of burnt out light bulbs, let the CSOs know by calling 961-2433 between 9 a.m. and noon.

Saxon's Letter

Over vacation, each of the University of California's students received a letter from U.C. President David Saxon warning of impending tuition should Proposition 9, Jarvis II, pass in June.

Saxon has since been barraged with criticism from many students and state politicians because the action was viewed as overtly political and because Saxon used about $45,000 in state funds to finance his action.

We feel that Saxon deserves much of this criticism. While the spirit of the letter may have been admirable, we feel it was a misuse of state funds to send it.

Saxon basically stated a political view in his letter and the State Constitution specifically holds that "the university shall be entirely independent of all political influence and kept free thereof in the administration of its affairs."

Saxon claims he sent the letter out of a moral obligation to inform the students of possible tuition.

While it would be silly to pretend that passage of Jarvis II would not have an impact upon the university, we feel Saxon could have picked a more appropriate manner in which to inform the public of what was essentially his own opinion.

While we do not feel that $30,000 of the money used for the letter should be removed from the university's budget for next year as one assemblyman has suggested, we do hope that actions like this will be avoided in the future.

Khomeini and America

The situation in Iran has already placed severe strains on America's patience and ability to accept the decisions of the Ayatollah Khomeini. Yesterday's ruling by Iran's religious leader to not accept the 50 American hostages from the militant students has strained this patience even further.

After more than four months of captivity, it seemed several weeks ago that a possible resolution could be achieved through working both with Khomeini and Iran's new President Bani-Sadr. The situation became even more hopeful when the students agreed to relinquish the hostages to the possession of the ayatollah himself. These actions were viewed with the belief that perhaps this was the first move towards the eventual release of the imprisoned hostages.

Yesterday's actions, however, negate these hopes. Once again the blame must be placed on the ayatollah, and the ayatollah alone. The students were willing to give up the hostages, and were refused.

With these latest actions, the earliest possible release date now possible will be in June when Iran elects its parliament. Even this seems doubtful when it is viewed against Khomeini's latest move.

It seems apparent that Khomeini is not willing to negotiate as he has stated earlier, but only wishes to use the hostages as something to base his power upon. His latest actions clearly show both an unwillingness and desire to waylay American attempts at relieving the tense situation.

President Carter's moves to break all remaining ties with Iran seem justified after such an action by Iran's leaders. America's moves to retaliate are limited, and President Carter has taken the only actions possible in such a situation. In such an unstable situation, the president has taken the right course in showing America's dissatisfaction while at the same time avoiding any direct confrontations.

We approve of the president's actions and hope that some peaceful and acceptable resolution may soon come about. We also hope that Iran will begin to accept America's willingness to negotiate and work towards the eventual freedom of the 50 hostages in the Tehran embassy.

Palestinian Message

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Tonight, at 6 p.m. and 9 p.m., the Organization of Students will offer the UCSB community the uniquely valuable opportunity of viewing The Palestinian. Produced by Oscar-winning actress Vanessa Redgrave, this film portrays the Palestinian people not with the political distortions of the U.S. media, but with dignity and respect for Palestinian history.

Expelled by force from their homes and land in Palestine in 1948 and 1967, and subjected to untold misery and brutality because of the Zionist colonization of their homeland, the Arabs of Palestine have never renounced their right to live in peace and independence in their usurped homeland, Palestine.

Because their national movement represents a progressive, anti-colonial solution to the conflict, the Palestinians must confront an unholy alliance of various right-wing forces. Along with Zionism and American Imperialism, Arab reaction conspires against the Palestinians — his so-called "peace" treaty with Zionist state — is only the most recent example of reactionary Arab attacks on the Palestinian people. In 1970 King Hussein of Jordan had thousands of Palestinians, including civilian-refugees, massacred; and in 1976 the Syrian army, under orders from President Assad, participated in similar atrocities in Lebanon.

The film, The Palestinian, shows the Arab people of Palestine in their true dimensions — not as "terrorists" who destroy anything civilized.

In Lebanon and wherever they are the Palestinian people have established a wide variety of institutions — medical, educational, social, political, and military. All of these give cohesion to their nation in exile, united democratically under the banner of their Palestine Liberation Organization.

The Palestinian shows this nation through its institutions striving for justice, independence, freedom, and peace. In spite of all reactionary attacks such as the two month bombardment of the Tel az-Zaatar refugee camp near Beirut, the survivors of Tel az-Zaatar, like the survivors of Deir Yassin before them, have no intention of capitulating to the forces of Arab reaction and Zionist racism. The Palestinian demonstrates that the forces of justice and liberation are stronger than the combined forces of their enemies, American tank, F-15's, cluster bombs, and napalm notwithstanding.

Renter's Tax

Editor, Daily Nexus:

In a time when the only thing that rents seem to do is go up, up, up, it is nice to know that there is some compensation available. The compensation of which I am referring is known as the "California Renter's Credit Claim," the "Renter's Tax Credit," or most commonly the "Renter's Rebate."

The renter's rebate is a tax credit that was approved by the California Legislature as a credit against state income tax. The credit is available to all renters including non state-income tax payers, and to those renters who are recipients of public assistance, (AFDC, SSI, Food Stamps, etc.), and which will not be deducted from that assistance.

As a renter you may claim the tax credit this spring when you file your tax returns for 1979. It is not necessary that a renter has a tax liability and actually pays taxes to claim the credit, but it is necessary that a renter file Form 540RC (the Renter's Credit Claim) or a tax return in order to claim the credit. If you have already filed your tax statement, and did not make your renter's tax claim, you may still do so by completing form 540RC and a short amended version of your tax statement, form 540X. Both forms are available from the Franchise Tax Board, (an office is in Santa Barbara at 41 Hitchcock Way) or form the Community Housing Office, Building 434, on campus.

It is definitely worth ten minutes of your time to fill out the Renter's Credit form. The credit is $60 per person for single renters, (each roommate may collect the tax credit), and $137 for married couples filing joint returns.

You qualify for this credit if you were a renter on March 1, 1979. In order to collect the full tax credit, a person is required to have been a renter for one year. Students who rented for only the nine month school year and lived with their parents during the summer months may collect $45. The $45 figure is derived from the formula of $5 credit for each month a person was a renter in 1979. This same formula pertains to people who

Editor, Daily Nexus:

I've often wondered why the initiative process has been made so confusing for voters. In my voting experience alone, I can recall a number of propositions where no meant yes and yes meant no and unless read carefully, would certainly be misunderstood. It seems like the best way to ascertain how the voting public feels about a particular issue is to ask them in as straightforward a way as possible. One almost wonders whether the initiative authors are consciously trying to confuse and frustrate the voters into voting for something which they don't support.

With Prop. 10, the landlord initiative, a measure qualified for the June ballot, one need not wonder, one knows there is a campaign underway to confuse and deceive the voting public. Prop. 10 is a rip-off and a fraud.

Landlords and developers will be spending millions of dollars over the next couple of months to convince voters that Prop. 10 is a statewide rent control measure — a compromise which will protect tenants and console landlords. Don't be fooled! These fraudulent tactics are an attempt by landlords to turn around today's support for rent control and use it to serve them. Prop. 10, if passed, would void all current rent control ordinances at the next general election. Instead, rents would be tied to the Consumer Price Index which is presently at 18 percent, in effect legalizing rent gauging. The landlord-sponsored initiative would usurp local control by precluding local elected officials from passing rent control through the initiative process and compete with the landlord's hefty advertising budgets. (In the June election for Prop. 10, it is estimated that landlords will outspend tenants 10 to 1).

The issue around Prop. 10 is bigger than rent control. The real estate fatcats are using your rent dollars to assure bigger profits for them and higher rents for you. A vote for Prop. 10 is a vote for your landlord.

If you're interested in getting involved in the No on Prop. 10 campaign or would just like to learn more about it, come to the Prop 10 Political Coffeehour Wednesday, April 9, from 5-7 p.m. Parke Skelton, Southern California Coordinator for No on Prop. 10 will discuss the statewide strategy for the campaign and how local groups and individuals can get involved. John Gilderbloom will discuss how the initiative would affect local housing measures if it were to pass in the June election.

The event, sponsored by Network, will be held at Borsodi's Coffeehouse, 938 Embarcadero Del Norte in Isla Vista. For more information, call 966-2503.

Housing Policies

Editor, Daily Nexus:

I am writing to complain about the discriminatory housing policies at this university.

I applied for housing in late February 1979, but was turned down because all the available housing spaces were filled.

As a result, I am living at Tropicana Garden this year. The housing is more than adequate, but also more expensive (approximately $300 more a year).

I now am trying to get on-campus housing for my sophomore year, but the present housing policy is making this almost impossible.

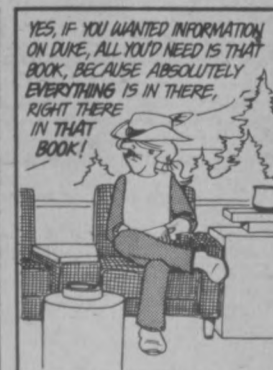

The student housing office has allocated 60 percent of the available space for freshmen, leaving 40 percent for returning students. Under the present housing policy, the priority is given to those students who already live on campus.

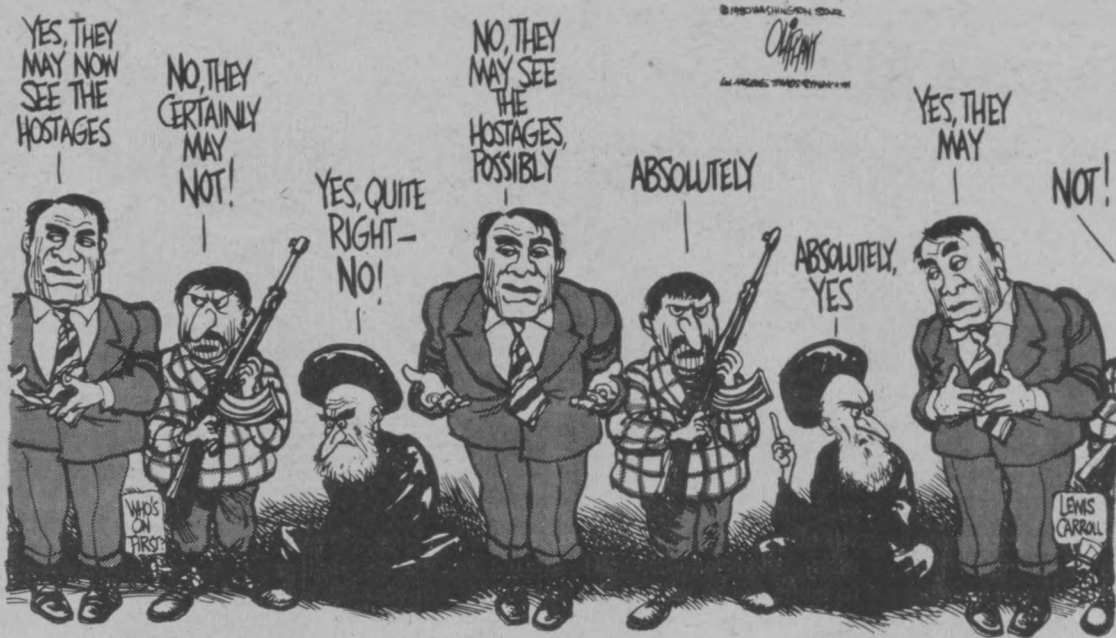

The office has said it will take all the applications from the students on campus, and if it has more than the 40 percent space allotted, it will

by Garry Trudeau

DOONESBURY

Tropicana Hassle

hold a lottery to determine which students will be given a contract. Then a waiting list will be made from the remainder of on-campus students. Finally, after all the above has been done, the housing office will establish a waiting list for the off-campus students.

I have no objection to the 60 percent space set aside, but I do feel I am not being given a fair chance for housing. I guess I feel cheated. It is unfair that I will be penalized for the next three years because there were not enough spaces for on-campus housing when I applied. I sense that because I was not able to obtain on-campus housing for the first year I am subsequently penalized financially and socially.

I also do not see where the housing office, under university rules, has the right to discriminate against off-campus students. Student housing should serve the students — all the students — not just those on campus.

Fortunately, some change has been made. The new apartments (for juniors and seniors) which will open in the fall of 1980, will accept applications from the entire student body. These apartments, however, will not be enough to solve the problem.

I strongly urge the housing office to change its current policy, so that it would allow all eligible students to qualify for on-campus housing. I suggest that the housing office should accept applications for all the dorms, and if there are more applicants than space, a lottery should be held to determine which students receive contracts.

moved to California during 1979.

Unfortunately, the renter's rebate does have some restrictions. If you live on property that is exempt from property taxes such as public housing, church-owned property, or a dormitory, you are not eligible for the tax credit.

In a time when rents have risen out of sight, it is nice to know that there is still some compensation to be found. It is definitely worth your while to file for the credit claim. After all, how often can you receive up to $60 for a few minutes effort. But hurry, the filing deadline is April 15.

Interns Needed

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Spring quarter represents the third quarter of a pilot project involving student interns working in Isla Vista community agencies. The past two quarters have indicated that those students working as interns advanced on either with the agency they interned with or a related community agency. The internships provide a valuable resource for the community agencies while exposing the students to professional experience.

There are intern positions available with the Isla Vista Youth Project, Human Relations Center, Medical Clinic, Planning Commission, Community Development Corporation, and the Isla Vista Newspaper.

If you are an interested student of junior or senior standing and you would like to see the energy behind the growth of Isla Vista, contact Gary Burdick at 961-3906 for more information about the particular agencies. Academic credit can be obtained depending on your particular major. Isla Vista exists because of the people and the effort involved within the community agencies. Find out more about I.V.

Improvements Sought Housing Survey Results Will Provide Important Information

By LESLIE BYRD

Results of a housing survey sent to Isla Vista students last quarter are being tabulated by the Isla Vista Community Council and the UCSB Community Housing office.

"The survey was circulated due to a strong need of accurate tenant information regarding the housing crisis," said Lee Marking, associate campus and community planner. Due to the problems of finding, financing, maintaining and improving housing in the Isla Vista community, the survey was aimed at providing information related to such problem areas so that action could be taken where needed.

"One of the things that will help us is that we will be able to check the validity of an instrument such as the housing survey. It is a relatively inexpensive way to get a good, quick and detailed reading on the community," Marking said.

The survey consisted of questions regarding ages, occupational status, race and the number of persons living in each household. Individual information, such as the total amount and methods in which money was spent by the residents, was also included. According to Marking, such information about finances is important for developing community services, transportation and financial assistance programs.

Marking stated that the information obtained from the survey can be used for three major purposes. First, it will provide the UCSB and Isla Vista housing services demographic information about its residents. Furthermore, since the last existing survey of Isla Vista residents took place in 1975 and the last complete survey was in 1970, the IVCC will be able to schedule more accurate planning with student interns. Finally, the Community Development Corporation, a non-profit organization that establishes housing and business growth in the area, will also be able to operate more effectively.

Both housing services offered a drawing of eight gift certificates to Hobey Baker's Restaurant for students answering and returning the questionnaire.

According to Marking, approximately 4,000 households were sent surveys and over 28 percent of the residents responded. It is expected that the results will be released by next quarter.

Undergrad Papers To Be Published

Undergraduates doing original research and writing projects are invited to submit papers for possible publication in "Discovery" — UCSB Journal of Undergraduate Research later this spring. The deadline for submission of camera-ready manuscripts is Friday, April 25, 1980. Interested students should come to the editorial office in Girvetz Hall 2326 to obtain the basic information concerning publication and to leave information about themselves and their work. Faculty who are supervising undergraduates doing original research and writing projects are encouraged to bring this to the attention of their students.

UCSB Fraternities Host Formal Rush

By MARK McADAMS

UCSB's six fraternities will open their doors to interested men during a formal fraternity rush from 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on April 9 and 10, and from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. on April 11.

Rushes must have a current UCSB registration card in order to be admitted into the houses.

According to Barbie Deutsch, Greek Affairs advisor, the three days of rush will "give a student an opportunity to find out what fraternity life is really about."

Deutsch added that a student's participation in rush does not obligate him to join a fraternity. There is also a formal registration process and no expense involved for the rushee.

Under the supervision of rush chairman Mark Winkler, the event is being sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council. IFC supplies all publicity concerning rush in "an attempt to develop a coherent, well organized Greek system," Winkler said.

A flyer with a map indicating the locations of the houses will be available at information tables on Wednesday and Thursday at the UCen from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m. and at the Ortega, De La Guerra and Francisco Torres dining commons from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Winkler stressed that prospective members should make a point of visiting each house in order to get a complete picture of the fraternity system. He noted that each house has a different personality and that all fraternity members are definitely not the same.

Deutsch said that the unique fraternity living situation enables a person to live and interact with other people. She also commented that it provides instant resources in the form of knowledgeable upperclassmen.

Winkler said that a fraternity offers a chance for friendship and an opportunity to develop leadership skills through campus and community service.

In the event that a rushee does not find what he is looking for at any of the six houses, he may wish to investigate a new fraternity that is coming to UCSB this quarter. There will be an informational meeting on Sunday, April 13 at 7 p.m. in UCen 2253.

Leg Council to Vote On Proposed Ballot Measures Tonight

A.S. Legislative Council is scheduled to vote on four proposed ballot measures for the April 29-30 election at its Council meeting tonight.

The proposed measures include a constitutional amendment which, if passed, would increase Associated Students fee each year in direct proportion to the rate of inflation. Currently, any fee increase must be approved by 20 percent of the student body in a special election.

According to Rep. Sherry Studley, author of the bill, the measure would protect A.S. employees and groups whose salaries and funds are annually decreasing due to inflation. Studley cited KCSB and its employees as one example.

However, Studley admitted that the measure could meet with opposition from the Regents. "We'll have to justify it to the Regents," said Studley. "It would set a precedent. I don't think any other U.C. Campus has done it."

Sponsored by External Vice-President Jim Knox and Rep. Jim Reeves, a second ballot measure proposes to eliminate special elections for all Legislative Council members, with the exception of the positions of president and vice-president.

Currently, A.S. spends approximately $2,000 on each special election. If this proposed constitutional amendment should pass, future vacant positions would be filled by a ad hoc committee composed of three council members and four UCSB students.

"Each special election takes a lot of time and energy of a lot of people that could be used for more important things," said Knox.

Dr. Alice Cox, assistant vice-president of academic affairs, consisted of 19 programs designed to build up the eligibility pool for outreach information-disseminating programs and five student support service projects such as counseling and tutoring.

The program was not supported by the Commission on Post-Secondary Education which is the legislature's advisory board on matters involving higher education.

CPEC budget analyst William Pickens told the legislators that the graduate student affirmative action proposal was not as carefully planned as the Partnership and Partners Program the university has established in junior and senior high schools.

Before the legislature appropriates $600,000, the university should survey the number of students in the existing graduate programs and try to determine why some schools, such as Hastings, have higher minority enrollments than others, Pickens recommended.

Assemblymen Gary Hart (D-Santa Barbara) and Chacon approved the $1.9 million allocation, but Bill Leonard (R-Riverside) and John Vasconcellos (D-San Jose) have not yet decided which way to vote and Jim Ellis (R-San Diego) was absent. The item requires three affirmative votes to move it from the subcommittee to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

accused an opportunity for a fair trial, according to Betsy Watson, spokesperson for Chancellor Huttenback.

"The handling of this case is not distinctly different from the handling of any case involving the arrest of an employee or a student," said UCSB Vice Chancellor Edward Birch.

"If in fact Mr. Barwig is found guilty, our job is to look at the evidence with a fresh eye and decide then whether or not he can continue with the university. We will keep a very close eye on the process. When the process is completed we will decide then what our action is to be. That is our role: to watch and act responsibly when the courts decide," Birch concluded.

Ballot Measures

effective legal aid for UCSB students will also be voted on. The bill would establish a lock-in fee of $1.50 per student to fund a legal aid program. However, the fee would be part of the Associated Students fee, which would not be increased.

A final proposed ballot measure would enable students to vote on whether or not they want to increase their registration fee by three dollars in order to fund Cal PIRG, a student activist group, aimed at representing student rights and interests. The increased fee would be voluntary for students at time of registration.

Volcano Endangers Nuclear Power Plant

(ZNS) While earthquakes and eruptions are shaking up the Mount St. Helens area in the southern part of the state of Washington, very little attention is being paid to the fact that a fully operating nuclear power plant is located just 30 miles away from that newly-active volcano.

The plant in question is the Trojan Nuclear Power Plant, located 38 miles north of the city of Portland.

Earthquakes are regarded as such a real possibility from the current volcanic activity at Mount St. Helens that major insurance companies — including Allstate, State Farm and Safeco — have all announced that they will not write new earthquake policies to anyone residing within 50 to 100 miles of the volcano.

In the meantime, two water and power officials in Eugene, Oregon, say they have uncovered a 10-year-old seismic study which forewarned of possible earthquake hazards near the Trojan site.

John Bartels of the Eugene Water and Electric Board says that a 1970 study, done by the Oregon State Geology Department, was apparently suppressed after it warned of a possible unstable plate structure in the area encompassing the Trojan Nuclear Plant.

One of Bartels' colleagues, Rick Hillman, says that earthquakes 100 times more powerful than the Trojan Plant was designed to withstand have occurred along other portions of the same plate.

The two Eugene officials are calling for a new hearing into the earthquake stability of the Trojan Plant as a result of the study and the new eruptions of Mount St. Helens.

The Atomic Safety and Licensing Board of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission has been holding public hearings in Portland, Oregon.

Employee Speaks Out On Tests

Mary Lerner started work at the Lawson Milk Company to supplement her husband's income and help pay for her studies in college. She rose quickly to a management position. When a series of thefts occurred at the store, Ms. Lerner and the other employees were subjected to lie detector tests. Her anxiety seemed to influence the results. After a second test she was demoted at a reduction of pay and transferred to another store. Her husband protested this decision and Lerner was ordered to take a third test. Excerpts from the of-

Senate Award Nominations

Nominations for four awards for excellence in teaching at UCSB were called for this week by the Academic Senate's Committee on Effective teaching.

Two awards to regular faculty members are designated as the Academic Senate Distinguished Teaching Award and, added this year, the Alumni Association Distinguished teaching award.

Students are encouraged to nominate teachers whom they feel have been particularly effective in getting their material across to students.

Nominations should be submitted to Girvetz 1230 by April 10.

ficial transcript describing this experience follow:

"This time, when I went for the polygraph I was directly accused. As soon as I entered the operator's office, I was accused of deception. When I protested that I had not been lying, the operator replied that if I thought that, I was only deceiving myself. The questions in the interview this time were so leading and suggestive that I was thoroughly shocked and intimidated.

"I was asked: How is your credit status? What was the most serious thing you have ever been taken to the police station for? (I have never been taken to the police station for anything.) Have you ever told a serious lie, personal or otherwise? Did you take the money from Lawson's? Did you take Beware! Rumored that Suzi Harris has escaped Marin and stalks campus in search of trouble & men. Armed w/ travel agents & vivarín -- Considered Dangerous!

I am a young man, friendly, and attractive, who keeps placing ads because he cannot believe that there are no eligible women on campus. I am seeking a young woman who is fairly slender and attractive, unattached, and who wants to develop a lasting relationship. I am seeking a woman who is sincere, communicative and who knows what she wants in a man. So, if interested, please respond to Box 2145 Goleta (Ellwood) 93018 or call 968-9580. It is understandably hard to get women to respond to these ads: I'm just dissatisfied with other means of meeting people and have really wanted to meet a woman to whom I can relate. Having placed these ads in person at several area newspapers, I am not hiding anything. If you are curious, it cannot hurt to just call.

At Nationals

Swimmers Finish Eighteenth, Join Elite UCSB Top 20 Club

By MARK LEWELLEN
More over water polo and volleyball, UCSB now has another team among the top twenty in the nation. The Gaucho swim team finished 18th at the NCAA meet at Harvard last month.

U.C. Berkeley won the title with a total of 234 points, followed by Texas with 200 points and Florida with 200 points. The only three teams to defeat the Gauchos this year all finished in the top ten: Berkeley was first, USC sixth and Stanford 10th.

"We were very well represented," said coach Greg Wilson. "It was very noticeable we were there.

We scored the second-highest point total of any UCSB swim team (1968 was highest) and our performance at conference and Nationals will greatly help next year's returning team and incoming freshman."

UCSB qualified nine swimmers for the nationals, a feat only 17 of the 63 competing teams bettered. Since the scoring system of the Nationals gives points only to the top 12 contestants, the large number of Gaucho qualifiers would not help UCSB unless some of them had outstanding performances.

Bruce Stahl came through with three outstanding performances. He finished fifth in the 50 freestyle, 10th in the 100 freestyle and was a member of the 12th place 400 style relay team.

Stahl qualified second in the 50 freestyle with a time of 20.09, but unfortunately, that turned out to be more of a detriment than an asset. The top two qualifiers took the middle two lanes of the pool, which happen to be the slowest because of the pool's unique backwash system. In the final race, Stahl's time fell to 20.14, which was a fifth place finish.

In the 100 freestyle, Stahl barely qualified for the consolation race, which contains the seventh to 12th place qualifiers, with a twelfth place finish. However, this put Stahl in one of the outside lanes and he won the consolation race, good for seventh place, with a time of 44.48.

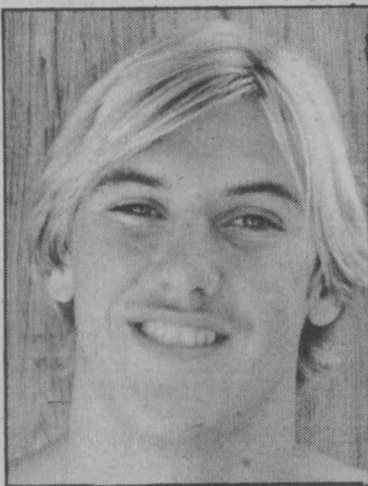

The 400 freestyle relay was the only other race in which UCSB scored points. The Gaucho team qualified 10th despite swimming almost a full second faster in the consolation race, finished 12th to bring the Gaucho final score up to 19 points. Stan Fujimoto led off with a 100 freestyle relay time of 46.3, followed by Mike Newman in 44.9, Paul Goodridge in 44.5 and Stahl finished in 43.8, to give the Gaucho relay team a time of 2:59.5.

The 400 medley relay team of Brent Krantz, Gilles Plancon, Goodridge and Stahl was six-tenths of a second away from gaining more points for the Gauchos. However, they finished 15th with a time of 3:21.2.

The 800 freestyle relay team of Skip Moorehead, Newman, Goodridge and Stahl finished 18th with a time of 6:45.66. Goodridge also finished 20th in the 100 butterfly in 49.58, the 50 freestyle in 20.97 and the 100 freestyle in 45.44.

Fujimoto, the third Gaucho competitor in the 50 freestyle, tied for 22nd place in 20.55.

Other UCSB swimmers who swam in the Nationals were Dan Harvey in the 200 breaststroke, who finished in 2:09.31, Ken Neff in the 100 backstroke, who was timed in 52.76, and Krantz, who placed 26th in the 100 backstroke in 52.4.

In Eleventh Inning, Gauchos Score Run, Edge by Loyola 9-8

The UCSB baseball team won their fifth game in a row and their last 12 of 14 yesterday, when they survived an eleven inning, come-from-behind 9-8 decision over Loyola Marymount at the campus diamond Monday afternoon.

The Gauchos are now 15-8-2 overall and 4-2 in the Southern California Baseball Association.

At the end of the third inning, the Lions led 5-0 when UCSB started their comeback, something they have been doing rather well lately. Their last four games have all been come-from-behind victories.

UCSB got on the scoreboard in the fourth inning when leftfielder Jeri Dietz collected an RBI double. In the fifth, the Gauchos scored two runs, compliments of Mark Sauer, a centerfielder, and shortstop Jimmy David.

The score at the end of the six was 8-3, after Loyola scored two runs in that inning.

UCSB made it even closer by scoring three runs in the eighth, with a two-run single by first baseman Rick Clark, and an RBI single by Dave Jorgensen.

UCSB tied it up with two in the bottom of the ninth, after a ground-out RBI by Maury Ornest and a ground-out base hit by Clark.

In overtime, the score stayed at 8-8 until the 11th, when, with bases loaded and one out, Jimmy David lined a single to left field, scoring Dietz from third base.

Don Pierce picked up his fifth consecutive decision in five starts, pitching three no-hit innings, striking out three and giving up two hits.

UCSB scored 14 hits and committed four errors, while Loyola had 11 hits and one error.

UCSB head coach Mike Simpson was elated after the victory.

"It was another example of our ability to come back, another total team effort, with clutch hitting in the early going, combined with fine pitching performances from Dave Walsh and Don Pierce."

Rick Clark had four singles, including three runs batted in.

This was the second of the two teams, and the Gauchos have won both encounters. The other meeting was earlier in the season, when UCSB defeated the Lions 5-3 in the finals of the SCBA tournament Mar. 16.

The Gauchos continue the SCBA play when UCSB takes on the Cal State Los Angeles Diablos. CSLA has a 2-2 league mark. The two teams meet on Friday in L.A., then play a double-header at noon on Saturday at the campus diamond.

Daily Sports Update

The Stanley Cup playoffs of the National Hockey League started last night in eight cities. The pairings are Vancouver—Buffalo, Pittsburgh—Boston, Edmonton—Philadelphia, Hartford—Montreal, Los Angeles—New York Islanders, Toronto—Minnesota, St. Louis—Chicago and Atlanta—New York Rangers.

Representatives in both sides of the baseball dispute were meeting in New York again today. They had a morning meeting and then adjourned for lunch. Mediator Kenneth Moffett called the morning meeting a good one. Union head Marvin Miller said nothing of any finality was decided on. The players are bargaining for a new contract and have set midnight of May 22 as their deadline for a strike if they do not get one.

President Carter is playing his cards right in the proposed Olympic Boycott in Moscow. Carter sent a message to the president and members of the U.S. Olympic Committee, spelling out Carter's position that the invasion of Afghanistan by the Soviets, not only jeopardizes the security of the Persian Gulf areas, but threatens world peace and stability. The USOC will meet in Colorado Springs this weekend to decide whether to accept the invitation to compete in Moscow. The actual deadline for a Yes or No vote, however, is May 24. A recent story said many USOC members were beginning to move towards defying the White House and sending an American team to Moscow. However, in official statements, USOC officials usually have said they go along with the proposed boycott.

The proposed welterweight title fight between Sugar Ray Leonard and Pipino Cuevas has been postponed from May 16 to May 23 or May 30 because of a slight cut over Cuevas' eye, according to boxing promoter Bob Arum. No site has been chosen for the bout which is supposed to establish one welterweight champ. Leonard currently is the WBC champ and Cuevas the WBA champion.

FEATURE FILM PRODUCTION LEARNING OPPORTUNITY

A few openings are available for interested people to learn the art of 35mm motion picture production by applying as apprentices to various key crew members on a feature film intended for theatrical release. Participants with little or no experience will have an opportunity to learn from Los Angeles professional artists and technicians in class and in intensive production situations.

Camera apprentices will become familiar with the 35mm Panavision PSR 200, camera assistant procedures and lighting and grip equipment use. Editing apprentices will edit their own 35mm copy of a scene in the film, and sound apprentices will become familiar with the Nagra recorder, microphones and recording technique. There is also a general production assistance category.

The film follows a man's search for commitment in his own and others' development as individuals, and the discovery that his own life's meaning is enhanced by coming to terms with the death of the young woman who comes to live with him.

Santa Barbara and Los Angeles acting talent will be used for the production to be filmed around the Santa Barbara area.

Openings are on a weekly basis (Saturdays and Sundays, approximately 9 AM to 6 PM and Monday evening class, 7 PM to 9 PM), beginning July 7th.

The cost is $135 (20+ hours for each week's class and workshop). Registrations are on a first-come, first-served basis.

Please call 969-6925 between 6 and 7 PM by this Saturday to arrange an individual appointment.

Also, if you'd like to appear in a minor speaking or non-speaking part in the film, please send a recent photograph and a paragraph about yourself to: Oak Tree Productions, 545 El Bosque Rd., Santa Barbara, CA 93108.

All materials submitted will become the property of Oak Tree Productions. You will be contacted if selected.

Guidelines For Renting

- 1) Check the house/apartment BEFORE you rent it. Make sure you see the apartment that you will be living in.
- 2) Choose roommates wisely — don't get stuck with a bum.
- 3) Be sure that you understand the rental agreement and ask specific questions about any points you don't understand. Some questions to keep in mind:
 - what is the length of stay required? month-to-month? academic year? 12 months?
 - is subletting permissible?
 - who is responsible for the cleaning, repairs and maintenance of the premises (interior and exterior)?
 - who has the right of entry?
 - what notice is required to terminate the lease/rental agreement?
 - who is responsible for the rent if one or more of the tenants breaks his/her agreement?

Any questions you may have concerning the obligations of the lease should be answered BEFORE you sign a contract. READ AND RETAIN A COPY OF ANY LEASE OR RENTAL AGREEMENT THAT YOU SIGN. The Community Housing Office will be happy to help you with any further questions regarding your and your landlord's legal obligations and responsibilities.
- 4) BEFORE moving in, make sure that the apartment is cleaned to your liking, because once you have moved in, you have, in essence, agreed to accept it as is. Some rental agreements/leases carry agreements by the landlord to have your apartment clean and in good condition at the time that you are ready to assume tenancy, in which case you would not have to accept the apartment if it were not in such condition. Other agreements/leases do not have such clauses, in which case you may try to get such a clause included IN WRITING before you sign that dotted line! Be aware also that even if you move into a dirty apartment, you are responsible for leaving it CLEAN upon moving out.
- 5) Establish a rental file in which to keep all your housing documents and information: e.g., your rental agreement, inventory report, repair requests, correspondence regarding premises, etc. ...

UPON ASSUMING TENANCY

- 1) Within three days of taking occupancy, make a written inventory and condition report in DUPLICATE. Ask your manager/landlord for the forms; otherwise, come into the Community Housing Office and pick up copies of the form from us. It is a good idea to have a witness with you when filling out this form, and be specific and detailed in your report in case of future disputes about its authenticity. When you have completed the inventory, give one copy to your manager/landlord and have him sign and date your copy and retain it for your files. If he/she refuses to sign it, send a copy to yourself by registered mail and leave it sealed when you receive it.
- 2) If a repair or maintenance is required at any time, make your requests IN WRITING and keep a copy of each request; this will aid both you and your landlord in getting these things done promptly.
- 3) Come into the Community Housing Office and pick up our one-page handouts detailing further your rights and responsibilities.

OFF-CAMPUS

Intramurals

Spring Happenings

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you back from the quarter break. I hope your days were pleasant and satisfying ones. After a very successful quarter of Winter Intramurals, I would like to thank you for your cooperation and greet you with a very exciting schedule for spring intramurals. No matter what your interest, I am sure that you will find a sport on our schedule to relax with.

There are two types of programs offered. The first is the round robin leagues which last for the duration of the quarter. Sign ups began during finals week of last Winter quarter and end during the first week of Spring quarter. It is very important that teams come into the office and sign up as early as possible, as the leagues are limited and offered on a first-come-first-serve basis. The second kind of program offered is the weekend tournament. Sign ups for weekend tournaments begin the Monday before the tournament and end at noon that Thursday. Schedules are then made up and posted by Friday. Play usually starts on Saturday at about 10 a.m.

Please feel free to call the Intramural office for more information. The office is in the first trailer next to Rob Gym. Our office is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m.-5 p.m. The telephone number is 961-3253. Please drop in and say "Hi." We'll be happy to answer your questions.

Weekend Tourneys

Off and Running

Sign ups are going on this week for Spring quarter's first IM weekend tournament, the 1st Annual Natural Run. Sign ups end at race time, Saturday April 19, 10 a.m. Budweiser will be co-sponsoring the run and will provide T-shirts to participants. The race will take place over a three or a five mile course around the lagoon. The Men's and Women's surfing meet will take place on the weekend of May 3 followed by the Coed Volleyball doubles tournament on May 10. The Men's/Women's spring football tournament kicks off on May 17 and the tournament season will conclude with the Annual IM Track Meet on June 7. There should be a weekend tournament to satisfy most sports enthusiasts. Sign up early during the week of the tournament as space is limited.

Spikers Improve Mark to 10-4

By JOEL JONES

Many athletic prophecies come true and many do not. Pepperdine men's volleyball coach Kirk Kolgour's recent promise "we'll never lose to U.C. Santa Barbara ever again" happened to be the latter, as the Gauchos destroyed the Waves at Pepperdine's own Firestone Fieldhouse, 15-12, 8-15, 15-10, and 15-9 on Saturday night.

Pepperdine felt confident going into their match with UCSB because the Waves had just upset USC in three games.

The Trojans are on a downward plunge as the Gauchos just beat them too.

The Gauchos victory over the Waves increased its league record to 10-4.

Gary Pearce proved the Gaucho dominance against Pepperdine by combining for 25 kills and four stuff blocks.

Tim Vorkink played well for UCSB, according to Gaucho head coach Ken Preston. Vorkink finished with the unbelievably high hitting percentage of .857. Unfortunately for UCSB, Vorkink may become ineligible for competition because of academic probation this quarter.

The polished performances of outside hitters Jon Stevenson and Greg Porter (both are off-on starters), helped UCSB possess power in its attacking arsenal. Stevensen hit .500 against the Waves, well above his season .306 average.

In addition, setter Scott Steele made excellent use of his dump, or "jungle option," when setting in the front row of the 5-1 offense. He capitalized on six of nine attempts by dinking or hitting with his left hand.

Gauchos serving was a major factor, forcing the Waves into frequent passing trouble, and leaving their setters with no choice but to set high outside; sets which UCSB blocks most effectively.

Of the Pepperdine victory, Preston said, "this was a good win — a real solid match for us."

Going into Saturday's match he was somewhat skeptical, fearing "a letdown after beating USC."

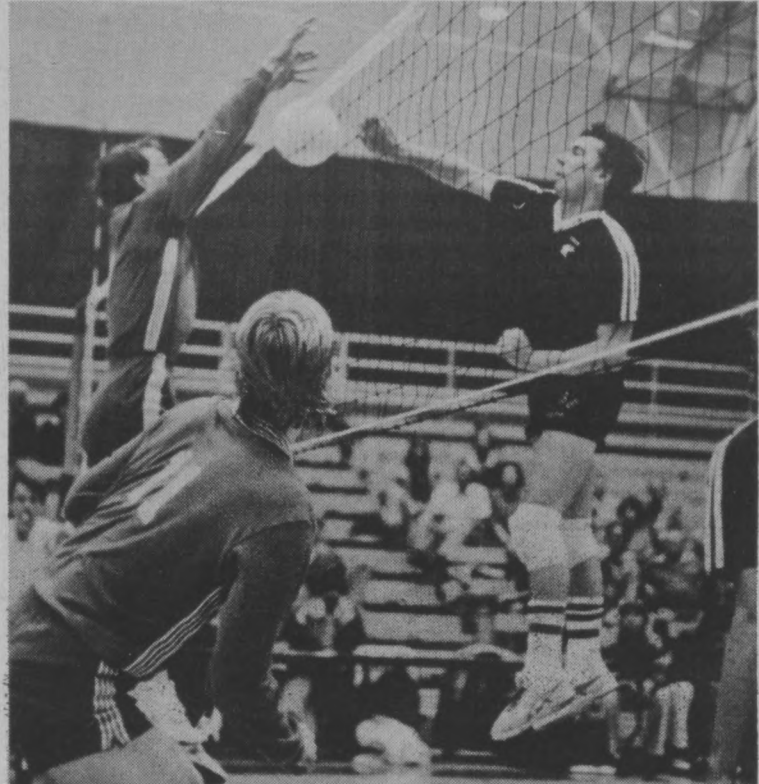

But his fears are apparently unjustified as the high rolling Gauchos continue to gather steam for the Collegiate Classic this weekend in Westwood.

The Classic will be another chance for UCSB to prove its worth against the best teams in the country, including UCLA, USC, and San Diego State.

"This weekend will be the real test," said Preston. The Gauchos will face USC in their opening match on Friday at 6 p.m. at Pauley Pavilion.

If the Gachos beat USC again, UCSB will take on San Diego State or UCLA in the finals on Saturday.

Gauchos Notes: Gary Pearce is the leading kill producer with 251 put-away spikes for the season, while Vorkink has 200 and Mark Roberts 154.

Spiker Jon Stevenson wipes off the ball off a fellow spiker. Wiping off means the ball will be spiked purposely off the blocker's left hand and out of bounds.

vote, Baker began to leave the meeting. When asked by Boyd if he wanted to remain at the meeting to vote on his measure, Baker replied, "no."

After being restrained by Johnson, Baker agreed to remain for the vote. The motion passed with no opposition and two abstentions. Baker left the meeting immediately thereafter.

In other business, the Community Council discussed the possibility of placing upcoming Isla Vista election measures on the county ballot. Previously, these have appeared only on ballots used by I.V. residents.

According to Council Member John Sommers, the advantage of placing Isla Vista issues on the county ballot would be "to reach more people." However, Sommers pointed out, such action would forfeit the 16-year-old vote and direct Isla Vista control of the election.

Johnson opposed a county-wide balloting, saying, "I am not concerned with losing the 16-year-old vote. But a lot of people in this community are not registered (to vote). We would lose a lot of the non-registered population's participation." Council Member Bob Lovgren disagreed with Johnson and said that broader balloting would "legitimize our existence."

In other action, Ann Olson was hired for the position of development coordinator of the Isla Vista community by the IVCC. The position involves "looking for funding, especially after September when we lose our CETA funding...The CDC researches and creates methods to enhance the economic and cultural development of Isla Vista," according to IVCC Administrative Officer Renee Rickman.

merchandise from Lawson's? Between the ages of 15 and 26 did you ever steal money from anyone? How do you feel about taking this test? Have you stolen anything from anyone in the last two years of your life? Have you ever stolen anything from an employer? Do you have trouble paying your bills? Did you take any alcohol or drugs in the last 8 hours?

"When I answered the questions, the operator told me that I had a bad attitude and that he was paid when I walked in the door, he was only trying to help me. That I should tell him everything I knew and that if I didn't, I was only hurting myself.

"Only after being accused and bullied was I strapped in the chair and the test started. Again, I was instructed to stay perfectly still. The operator stood behind me and the questioning resumed.

"After the first run on the machine, I was again questioned. I was told I had a reaction on questions about money and drugs. The operator told me that he would not like to see me prosecuted for taking a large amount of money if I had only taken a nickel or five dollars. He asked if I had ever picked up money from the floor in the store. After I had repeatedly denied taking any money from anywhere in the store, he again asked me if my husband and I had any problems with money. I replied that I had more money now because I had taken it from Lawson's.

"Again, the machine was turned on and I was questioned. Again he said that I showed deception about money and drugs. He then asked while I was on the machine if I had taken drugs for the purpose of defeating the test.

"For the third time the test was run on the machine with apparently the same results.

"After the last time, the operator told me that with my attitude, I wasn't trying to help myself and there was nothing more he could do to help me. He walked out of the office.

"When I returned home, I was crying. All I could say was that I had never felt so abused in my life. I felt violated — as though I had been raped.

"I called Mr. Christenson and he told me that I had failed the test. He said I only reacted to questions on money and drugs. Mr. Christenson said I was suspended indefinitely while they continued their investigation.

"Since then I have been in limbo, not employed, yet technically not unemployed, with no income. My personal record is blemished and I have suffered emotionally from the treatment I received."
