To decide the vice-presidency, a re-vote will be necessary between Barry Simmons, 231, and Stella Mae Smith, 130, due to the fact that Mr. Simmons failed to obtain a majority of votes cast for the office, as stipulated in the new constitution.

Officers Elect of 1936-37

Once again the smoke of campaign battle has cleared away and the successful candidates who have been elected to lead us through the coming year are brought before us. Out of a total enrollment of 800 students, approximately 583 votes were cast, which proves that a majority of the students are interested in choosing their leaders.

To those candidates who were victorious in the election: Denning McArthur, president-elect; Rena Sacconaghi, secretary-elect; and Harry Sloan, yell leader, we wish to extend our most sincere congratulations and best wishes for success during their coming term in office.

To the nominees who were not so fortunate as to have been elected, we remind them that there are still many appointive offices to be filled and that there are also other numerous campus organizations which need the services of men and women of their caliber.

Concerning the position of vice-president, a revote will be held today between Stella Mae Smith and Barry Simmons, who did not receive the necessary majority of votes to carry him over the top. The polls will be open from 8:30 o'clock until 4:00 o'clock this afternoon and all students are urged to vote as soon as possible.

In accepting the high honor bestowed upon them, each officer elect should bear in mind the trust and confidence reposed in them by the members of the student body and should so conduct their actions that nothing but credit will reflect back upon them and upon our institution.

In making their decisions let them remember to carefully consider all angles of the matter in hand before coming to a definite conclusion and to do away with any personal prejudice or outside influences which might sway their judgment.

Cooperation with their fellow officers, classmates and advancement of our own institution should be numbered among their prime objectives.

Practical Joke?

(The Daily Northwestern)

Nocturnal prowlers in the vicinity of the north campus are being treated to strange sights. Lights are burning in many of the fraternity houses far, far, into the night. As one approaches closer, sounds even stranger than the sight of the lights greet one. Stamping feet, queer tribal yells, shrieks of laughter and hysteria; all these are heard, occasionally interspersed with the hollow clap of hard wooden paddles shaking | qualified for that university's new hands with freshmen posteriors.

Then one smiles and understands. It's the open season on freshmen on the north campus, and the sky is the limit. Our more traditionally minded brethren jokingly refer to the period as "Hell Week." Fundamentally, Hell Week is sound. At least it is as sound as most things on a college campus. The chief objection to it is the extent to which it is applied. A period of stress in which sleep is a forgotten element does not bring out the true characteristics of a freshman. To set up such a standard as judge of anyone's virility is insane. The ability to absorb a paddle is a queer qualification for friendship.

Jack Hylton, English maestro, famous for his orchestration of "Just A Gigilo," is following his countryman, Ray Noble's precedent, by organizing an orchestra made up of American musicians. His new program, "Youth Shall Have Music" is not to my mind, nearly so good as Ray Noble's "Refreshment Time" because he wastes time with novelty numbers which do not strike the public's fancy. If he would play more arrangements such as his of "Love Is Like A Cigarette," an outstanding hit number made truly beautiful by Hylton last week, he would enjoy greater popularity. Upon the selection of a second winner by the judges, after the rather embarassing disqualification of Lloyd Lewis because his essay was not original, we learn that the fortunate youth is Owen D. Matthews of Portland, Oregon.

Owen, an Eagle Scout, graduated from high school last year but was unable to go to college for lack of funds, although he wanted to badly. Not so long ago he went to the International Scout Jamboree, held in the spring of 1933 in Godollo, Hungary. There he met many scouts from other countries. In two weeks they became great friends and Owen learned that they all wanted to remain friends. After the conclusion of the meet and since their return to their respective countries, Owen has corresponded with eight of them. All eight are living in different countries at the present time. They have been exchanging stamps, songs, literature and various articles pertaining to their respective countries.

Owen says, "After these contacts, how could we want to go to war against each other?" He believes that, "If the United States sent picked groups of youths to similiar international gatherings, expenses paid, it would open the eyes of guilty conscience, says Dr. youths the world over as to the Sherman, Chicago psychol-futility of war. Upon their return to America they should deliver lectures in schools and to older organizations, telling the thoughts of youth in regard to war with other countries. Not to be outdone in the mad race of American undergraduates to organize, Ohio State students have formed the University Society for the Promulgation of Cribbing (unrecognized, so far, by the Dean's Committee on Student Affairs) and their researches have brought to light many esoteric and devious ways of confounding the unwary

The commoner methods, such as cuff-writing, are frowned upon by the USPC, which is interested rather in investigation like that done by a NYU researcher who discovered that crib notes could be written with grapefruit juice on glasses or watch-dials.

Another favored method is known as "the scroll." The despairing student makes his notes on a long to two match sticks and rolls up

The "pedal transfer" is recommended in cases where a pal needs aid. A note is prepared, and one foot is placed upon one's knee. The note is then slipped into the shoe Youth Peace Meet and the whole device, leg, foot, shoe and note, placed close to the drowning man, who drops a pencil nearby and extracts the life-saver.

There are other ways of confusing the instructor, the society reports, citing the case of a member who had been annoyed by an overly suspicious proctor. The examination fell on the first of April, and the game was therefore legitimate. Noticing the student's repeated glances at a large watch, the instructor demanded to see it. Written on the dial were the words: April Fool."

Baffled, the instructor retreated, and the student immediately resumed his long looks at the watch. The canny proctor decided that this was a part of the strategy, and came back for a second inspection. This time the slogan was: "Fooled

In the most discouraging show the Gauchos have put on at an All-Conference meet in two years, our boys failed to garner enough points to give them the third place that they were favored to annex. Louis Trigueiro accounted for the only new Frosh mark by throwing the jayelin 177 feet 6 1-4 inches.
