Ruch Speaks At Seminar

A complex new theory, accounting for the loss of water in plants and leaves of plants, was presented this week at the bi-monthly science department faculty seminar held Tuesday evening in the A.W.S. club-room.

Dr. Emmet Martin, an authority on the subject, has made many studies on the evaporation of water, including the effects of temperature, humidity and the wind.

A startling result of his study was the discovery that the wind has a cooling effect on leaves, even on the hottest days. It has been known to cool them as much as 20 degrees centigrade.

The next seminar meeting scheduled for May 20, will be conducted by William R. Rauch, a recent addition to the science department faculty. He will speak on Cryptography in national defense.

DR. WILLIAM MAXWELL, member of the English department, will tender his resignation as an instructor at State college at the conclusion of the present semester under the California State law which requires retirement of teachers at the age of 70.

Dr. Maxwell Retires from Post After 16 Years of Teaching

After sixteen years as a member of the Santa Barbara State college English department, Dr. William Maxwell, professor-extraordinary, will become professor emeritus at the close of the present college semester. Dr. Maxwell celebrates his 70th birthday on May 22 and thereupon is tendering his resignation as a member of the English department under the California state law which requires retirement of teachers at the age of 70.

Sixteen years ago when Dr. Maxwell first came to Santa Barbara, the student population then totaled 300. Through the passage of years he has seen the institution grow to its present record enrollment of 1727.

Dr. Maxwell was born in Yolo county, California, in a small settlement called Buckeye where he spent his childhood. He graduated from Woodland's Hesperian college and attended the University of California for two years transferring to Stanford because his opportunities for employment were greater there.

During his college years he did both gardening and short order cooking, but states he preferred the latter. Shortly before graduating from Stanford in 1900, he let that university for financial reasons and did not return for fifteen years.

In that interim, he served as a street sweeper, a position granted him this to accept a reporter's position famous California senator, but left secured through a classmate Wallace Irwin.

As a reporter on the old San Francisco Report, he covered such actor Fair. He also spent a year on boss, and Mrs. Cramer against Sen. the Honolulu Advertiser.

Returning to San Francisco, he began studying law, was admitted to the bar and became associated with a prominent civil lawyer, John A. Wright. "But I wasn't the sort of lawyer who was of any use to a client," Dr. Maxwell reminiscedly admitted.

Following his brief but colorful career as a lawyer, Dr. Maxwell returned to the University of California. Religion then became his paramount interest and he entered the Unitarian School of Theology in Berkeley, completing this course and becoming an ordained minister. Since there was no Unitarian pulpit available, he next enrolled at Washington State college. He remained there for two years and later returned to Stanford where he took his Master's degree. His doctorate was received at the University of Washington.

While a reporter in San Francisco, he met a young music teacher who in 1904 became Mrs. Maxwell. The couple have three children.

2C2A Squads Clash in Track Finals Tomorrow

Fresno Rates as Easy Winner over Conference Rivals

Hot Duels in Store for Track Fans in Sprints; Quarter Mile Dash; Heinberg, Bess, Kilroy Pace Hilltopper Spikemen

By GEORGE STEPANIAN
El Gaucho Sports Editor

Some of the greatest track and field athletes on the Pacific coast swing into action tomorrow evening on the new La Playa stadium oval when the four members of the California Collegiate Athletic association, Santa Barbara, Fresno, San Diego and San Jose, have at each other in the conference track finals. Starting time for the meet has been set at 8 p.m. sharp and admission will be 10c to students with student body cards.

Sparta Netmen Boast of Great Record

Sweeping through its three dual meets with its conference rivals with comparative ease, Fresno's powerful band of cinderpath men are prohibitive favorites to walk off with the meet.

CLOSE RIVALRIES
Despite the "no contest" aspect to the meet as far as competition for the team championship is concerned, the conference setto will be flavored by some of the closest rivalries ever seen in Santa Barbara.

Heading the list will be the quarter mile dual between the defending champion, James Tripp of San Diego, Captain Jim Tripp of San Jose and Dan Peterson of Fresno. All hit the 440 yard dash in 50 flat or better.

Hovis Bess, the Gauchos' 2C2A sprint champion, will have his hands full in defending his title. Chief opposition in the 100 yard dash is expected to be furnished by Bill Morgan, Bess' teammate who hit 9.8s in the Fresno meet last week, and Howard Davies, San Diego's lanky speedster who has flashed the century in 9.5s.

DASHES CLOSE

The 220 yard dash is expected to be even tighter with Bess staking his conference crown against Howard Thomas, Fresno flash who beat Bess last week in 21.8s and Tripp who has hit 21.7s. However, Bess was at a disadvantage against Thomas in the Fresno meet, having run a hard 440 yard dash a few minutes before the 220 yard event.

The distance events will be predominately Bulldog, and will feature three of the outstanding distance men on the coast, if not the country. Ace of the outfit is little Bobby Madrid, who has run a 1:55 880, 4:16 mile and 9:20 two mile. Aply backing him up, and dangerous threats to usurp King Madrid's distance crowns are the Cazares brothers.

THOMAS FAVORED

Close battles are also expected in the barrier races with Thomas of the Bulldogs accorded an edge in each race. Giving him a battle every step of the way will be "Flying Freddy" Eisert, defending 2C2A hurdle king who finds himself in the position as underdog to successfully defend his title. Walt Kilroy and Pinky Mohr of the Gauchos. Kilroy showed that he was in rare form last week as he skimmed over the high hurdles in 15.2s and the low hurdles in 25 flat, his best time to date.

Raisin City Netters Rate as Favorites

FRESNO, May 8—Rated as one of the strongest aggregations on the coast, Fresno State college is confident it will walk off with the 2C2A tennis championships to be held in Santa Barbara tomorrow morning at the Municipal Tennis stadium.

Pacing the Bulldog squad is its first singles player, Dean St. John, who boasts of a well nigh perfect record in inter-collegiate competition. Fresno's claim to the 2C2A crown lies in the fact that it knocked over San Jose, last year's champions, 7-2, in a match held earlier in the year.

Other entries for the Bulldogs include William Peterson and Jim Hammond in the first singles and Julius Orlandsky, ex-Los Angeles City college flash, and Ken McCarthy in second doubles.

GABE CAZARES, smooth striding Bulldog distance ace, is one of the favorites in the mile and two mile runs tomorrow night at La Playa.

Aztecs Make Bid for 2C2A Golf Crown

SAN DIEGO, May 8—One of the southland's most promising young golfers will head San Diego State's golf when it meets the four California teams in the annual 2C2A spring sports carnival in Santa Barbara tomorrow.

Bobby Gardiner, who shoots in the low 60's on his La Jolla home course and plays with the biggest names in the business at pro-amateur tournaments, will be number one man for the Aztecs, replacing Henry Le Barron, Jr., last year's top man.

Gardiner has carded three low 60's in the last month, is a current contender in the San Diego county open, and has been praised by both Ben Hogan and Horton LeBaron shoots consistently in the 72's and 73's.

San Jose Mermen Bring Powerful Team

Spartans Appear Easy Winners of Swimming Crown

SAN JOSE, May 8—Determined to successfully defend its 2C2A swimming title, San Jose State college is sending a powerful 13-man squad to Santa Barbara where they will compete against the other conference members in the annual Spring Sports carnival.

1940 CHAMPS
From last year's championship team, Windsor and Foster will be out to protect titles won last season at Fresno. Foster is conference breaststroke champion while Windsor won the diving crown. Weitzenberg and Jock Porter took seconds last year in the 100 and breaststroke, respectively.

San Jose waltzed off with the swimming title last year, amassing 95 points to Santa Barbara's 21 and Fresno's 19. The Spartans captured every first and second in the individual events and relay race.

This year the Spartans are enjoying another good season, having won seven and lost one, the one defeat coming at the hands of Stanford's mighty Indian team. Victories were scored over California, Utah State, Utah university, Webber and Deseret gym teams of Salt Lake city, Stockton Junior college and the San Francisco YMCA.

DEFEAT STOCKTON

Latest Spartan win was over Stockton Wednesday, a meet in which the Junior college matadors established three new national junior college records, in the breaststroke, 400 yard relay and 220 yard swim, yet were defeated.

San Jose's complete list of entries is as follows: 300 yard medley relay, Taylor, breaststroke, Foster, breaststroke, and Weitzenberg, free style; 220 and 440, Wempe and Eagan Hoffman; 50 and 100, Don Thompson, Weitzenberg and Bill Johnson; Diving, Windsor; Backstroke, Taylor and Porter; Breaststroke, Foster and Roger Frelier; 400 yard relay, Wietzenberg, Johnson, Thomsen and Taylor.

BOBBY MADRID, peer of distance runners in the 2C2A, is favored to cop both the mile and 2-mile runs for Fresno State tomorrow evening.

Spartans Prep For Golf Title Defense

SAN JOSE, May 8—Anticipating a tough battle with San Diego State college's powerful golf squad, San Jose State college is sending its strongest squad to Santa Barbara in an effort to successfully defend its 1940 2C2A golf championship.

The Spartans seasonal record is five wins and two losses. Wins were chalked up over the University of California, University of Nevada, U. S.F., St. Marys and San Francisco Junior college.

The two losses came at the hands of Stanford university and Modesto junior college.

Top men are Captain Warner Keeley and Jack Bariteau, consistent shooters in the low seventies, sometimes even going below into the 60's.

Bariteau achieved his greatest success in the Stanford match, defeating Bud Brownell in match play. Brownell, only a sophomore at Stanford, is one of the best on the coast. He recently won the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate golfing championship.

San Jose Gridders Join Air Corps

SAN JOSE, May 8—Disaster again struck in the grid ranks at San Jose State college. Still stunned over the loss of Bud Nygren, all-conference halfback, to the army, the grid squad was again hit hard with the announcement that George Wagner, quarterback, George Hearn and Jim Wilson, linemen, had all taken the army air corps examinations and would leave school.

San Jose at the present time has completed 15 of its allotted 30 spring practice days. Highlight of the sessions will be an inter-squad game to be played two weeks hence.

Green and White Track Aggregation Bows to Powerful Bulldog Squad

Raisin City Spikemen Run Wild, Walk Off with Meet, 96 1/4 to 34 1/4; Morgan Gets Lone Local Win in 100 Yard Dash

Completely overwhelmed in all phases of the meet, Coach Nick Carter's Santa Barbara State college track and field forces, bowed, 96 1/2-34 1/2 to one of the strongest cinderpath aggregations on the Pacific coast, Coach Flint Hanner's undefeated Fresno State college squad, last Saturday evening in a meet on the fast Ratcliffe stadium oval. The Bulldog's win gave it the dual meet California Collegiate Athletic association track and field championship for the second consecutive year.

Bill Morgan saved the Gauchos squad from an ignominious shutout by winning the only event the Green and White squad took from the Bulldogs, the 100 yard dash, in the fast time of 9.8s. Morgan's time tied the school record set up earlier in the year by Hovis Bess, the Gauchos' 2C2A sprint king, who ran in the quarter mile dash against Fresno, taking second place to Dan Peterson in 50.3s.

Howard Thomas, former Pasadena Junior college hurdler, was the hero of the day from Fresno's standpoint. He set a new meet record in winning the 120 yard high hurdles in 14.8s, won the 220 yard dash a few minutes later in 21.8s and then returned to win his third victory, the 220 yard low hurdles in 24.8s. Elaborate and well-planned stalling tactics on the part of Fresno's officials enabled Thomas sufficient time to gain enough rest between events to accomplish his triple victory.

Bright spots on Santa Barbara's side of the ledger was Wolf Heinberg's fine toss of 46 1/4" in taking second place in the shot put to Ed Lawton of Fresno who won it with a throw of 47'8". Walt Kilroy's seconds in both hurdle races to Thomas, each time exceeding the best time he has made all year, and Burdette Gandy's fast 220 yard dash mark of 22 flat.

The squad includes Howard Nagel, first singles; Henry McCollum, second singles; and Bob Barth and John Brink, first doubles.

Green and White Nine Tangles with Whittier Poets Today

STEP DOWN

By GEORGE STEPANIAN

All roads lead to Santa Barbara this weekend as the American Riviera is turned into an athlete's paradise...

The tennis championship is also figured as strictly Fresno by virtue of its convincing 7-2 win over the Spartans in a match earlier in the year.

The track meet will have a strictly "southern flavor", the majority of the spikemen hailing from Los Angeles and vicinity.

The Gauchos, hosts of the carnival, strangely enough, have to be content with second and third places in the two-day competition...

Fresno State has as many southern spikemen on its squad with such satellites as Art Cazares, Bob Madrid and Julius Orlandsky...

San Jose and San Diego depend less on southern flashes than the Gauchos and Bulldogs, the Spartans only having two men...

Every La Paya track record is slated to go by the boards when the crack spikemen from the four institutions tangle against each other.

Seven 1940 2C2A title holders return to defend their individual crowns. Of the seven only two, Bobby Madrid, mile and two mile king...

The other five have to undergo severe competition before they can again lay claim to a conference championship.

"Flying Freddy" Eisert will have to live up to his name to successfully defend the hurdle championships.

Herschell Holtzclaw, discus champion, also has an impressive field to beat including Bob Holmesley of San Diego...

Lowell Steward and Joe Little, co-high jump kings, will have to be at their peak to outleap Duette Mills...

Swimmers

Culprit Swipes Swim Suit

Coach Terry Dearborn and his swim squad were up all hours of the night in vain search for one of the squad's black silk racing suits...

As the missing suit has been scheduled to play an active part in tomorrow's competition, Dearborn is anxious to have the suit returned...

Invaders Rate as Favorites to Dump Gaucho Baseballers

Whittier Holds Eleven Game Win Streak; Tomer Hurls Opening Fracas Against Poets, Locals Place Reliance on Defense

Stepping from one frying pan right into another one that's just as hot... that is what Coach Spud Harder's varsity nine is doing...

The three game series is rated a tossup with a slight edge going to Coach Chief Newman's lads because of the amazing record that they have compiled...

Slaughter Caltech. By slaughtering a weak Caltech nine last week in two games, 26-6 and 18-2, the Poets ran their string of consecutive victories up to eleven...

It will probably be the defense of the Gauchos against the offense of the visiting aggregation but the Poet nine will be running into some of its toughest pitching opposition...

Tomer pitches. Wilbur Tomer is slated to go to the mound this afternoon in the first game of the series and will tangle with either Captain Johnny Hales or Bobby Tidd...

An all-sophomore infield and a senior outfield make up the Quaker starting nine. The members of the team and their batting averages for the season are: Eddie Farnum, catcher, .341; Walt Hoehn, first base, .337; Jack Oberdier, second, .175; Max Dressler, short stop, .250; Jack Mele, third, .329; George Curtis, left field, .379; Dave Pluss, center field, .500; Ralph Haney, right field, .353; Johnny Hales, pitcher, .312.

Bulldogs Enter Swim Finals

FRESNO, May 8—Hurling a deft at San Jose State college's stranglehold on the 2C2A swimming title, Fresno State is entering a strong seven man squad in the conference swim finals at Santa Barbara tomorrow at the beautiful Coral Casino pool.

Main threat of the Bulldogs is Bill Isaakson, sprint lish, who is entered in the 50, 100 and 220 yard dashes besides swimming a relay lag in the 440 yard relay.

The complete list of Fresno is as follows: 300 yard medley relay, Willis Scott, back stroke; Vernon Black, breast stroke; Bill Isaakson, free style; 220 yards, Isaakson, Jim Plaugher, John Parker; 50 yards, Isaakson, Harold Diehl; 100 yards, Isaakson, Parker, Plaugher, Diehl; 150 yard back stroke, Scott, Alen Turnbull; 200 yards breast stroke, Black; 440 yard relay, Scott, Isaakson, Diehl, Plaugher.

Phil Storm Paces Gaucho Nine Batsmen

Nearing the close of the 1941 baseball season, with only the Whittier and San Diego series to go, statistics were released this week on the batting and fielding performances of Coach Spud Harder's Gaucho baseball team.

Leading the squad is Phil Storm, newcomer from L.A.J.C. who at the beginning of the season was shifted to the outfield and since has been batting at a .302 clip. Besides leading in percentage, Storm has hit the only home run of the season to date and leads in the runs batted in department.

The figures released indicate that the Gauchos are the weakest that they have been at the plate for the past two seasons. It is highly improbable that they will wind up their 1941 campaign boasting of six men who can better the .300 as they did last season.

Close behind the leader with a mark of .290 is hustling Walt Lohman, third-baseman while in third place is found Bob Stansbury at .288. Stansbury has proven himself the iron man of the squad by having caught practically every inning of every game, but his batting mark does not compare with his .379 of the 1940 season.

Aztec Gridders Begin Practice

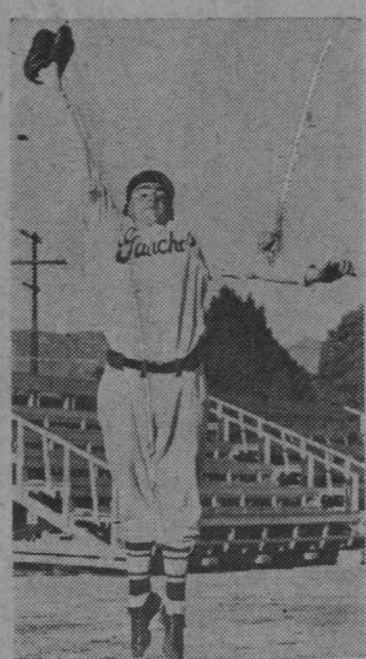

SAN DIEGO, May 8—Coach Leo Calland kept his Aztec gridders stepping through their practices in spring practice scrimmages here today as he prepared them for the annual "Soup Bowl" game on May 21 against a crack Alumni team.

Chief feature of the San Diego grid squad's attack was its emphasis on wide sweeping end runs and intricate pass plays.

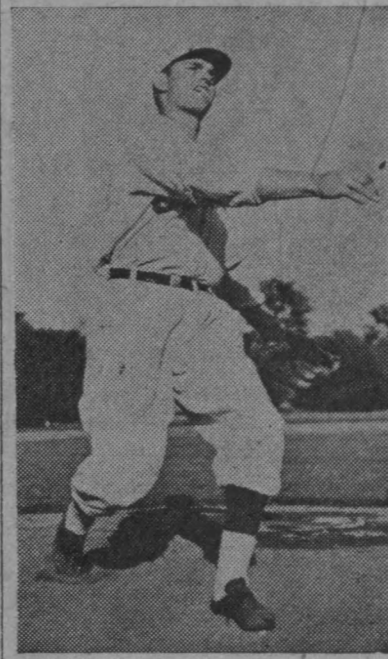

Kelly Seay, big 215 pound transfer, Carl Frisco, triple-threatener from South Gate, and big Bob Homesley, 210 pound transfer who is at present on the Aztec track team, will make their initial appearance before Aztec fans. Homesley played at a line position on the Herbert Hoover, San Diego high school team.

Barking signals from his quarterback berth will be little Jerry Spitzer, a crack transfer from South Bend, Indiana.

Santa Barbara Horsehidiers Split Series With San Diego

Hurling the opening game today against the Whittier Poets is big Cliff Wrightson, left while Mickey Bertram will handle the first base sack. Bertram has gone through twenty-three games consecutively this season without committing an error.

Adamson Hurls Shutout Win In First Game

Walt Lohman Hits Triple in Ninth Frame for Victory

The Santa Barbara State Gauchos neither advanced nor fell down in their quest for their second 2C2A baseball championship when they split a crucial series with the league leading San Diego Aztecs last week-end at San Diego by scores of 2-0 and 7-10.

Instead, the split now finds the Gauchos in a position to wrest the first position if they can defeat the Red Devils in their next two games series which will be played here next week.

As a result of their win in the first game, the Green and White moved within one-half game of the first place spot, right behind the Fresno Bulldogs who had moved atop the pedestal by virtue of the Gauchos's victory.

Bill Adamson, side-armed twirler, chalked up his eighth victory of the season when he pitched shutout ball in the first game of the series, besting Bill Nettles, Aztec chucker, who also pitched scoreless ball until the first half of the all important ninth. It was in this inning that diminutive Walt Lohman broke up the tight pitching dual by clubbing out a triple, driving in two Gaucho runners who were on base at the time.

The Bordertown squad jumped back into a tie for first place with Fresno in the second tilt when their hitting in the clutches made it possible for them to drop Coach Harder's charges to the tune of 10-7. The contest was a free slugging affair, the two teams garnering twenty-four hits between them.

Big Business Power Threat To Liberal Thinking in U. S.

The point of view that Big Business actually rules this country has constantly been expounded by a small minority of Americans. This group holding a correspondingly small voice throughout the nation, was given unexpected support last month with final publication of the complete reports of the Temporary National Economic Committee, commonly known as the monopoly investigation appointed by Congress.

The series of monographs published by this body gives more complete and authentic information proving the concentration of economic power in the hands of a few large corporations than has ever before been documented. Supplementing this point of view, concrete evidence is offered indicating that the main weapon used to expound this propaganda is the daily press. The TNEC reports show beyond refutation that the press has the same economic point of view as other corporate interests and thus defends reactionary economic and political theories in its presentation of the every day news.

Newspapers and magazines with very few exceptions have always aligned themselves against liberal movements, such as labor unions, government regulation, public ownership, more equitable distribution of income, etc. In order to maintain a pretense of fairness, papers have not editorialized in news columns so much as they have used the more subtle method of suppressing certain stories while playing up others. Editorials and syndicated columns, such as that of Hearst's Brisbane who had 30 million subscribers sold to papers throughout the country by the powerful news services show no tendency to oppose the economic interests. Many millions now mold their political thoughts on the ideas presented by such columnists as Pegler, Lippman, Sikorsky, and others.

The greatest influence, however, in causing our powerful publications to uphold conservative views is their dependence on advertising for existence. Money from subscriptions is a minor factor in covering the running expenses of a paper. Of greatest importance is income from advertising placed by powerful business organizations. To lose those would be to lose the paper. Advocacy of liberal theories must be forgotten, or else.

Such is the economic setup of the most powerful molders of thought in America. In the face of such an influence, it is astonishing that any liberal thinking remains in this country today.—T.W.

Appeal for Open-mindedness Camp Callan Incident Brings

To quote from the San Diego State college newspaper, "The Aztec", "one final word on the Camp Callan situation" is in order. But rather than resort to the practice of digging up dead issues, it is more fitting and proper that the far-reaching consequences of this controversy be brought to light.

Because readers of daily metropolitan newspapers are still wont to believe religiously, even in this age of propaganda and moulding of public opinion, in what they see in print, only one side of San Diego State's controversy last week was accepted.

A condition such as this is shameful. Merely because the attitude voiced by a few Aztec men, vociferous enough to make their protests and opinions heard, provided "good copy", their attitude was interpreted as representative of the entire San Diego State college student body. The fact that this publicity made public the voice of the minority seems at this time only a mockery of the Democracy that recognizes the intelligent minority even in the face of majority opinion.

Because of the mutterings of a few, all San Diego college men were condemned and branded "whining, snobbish and lame-brained" in newspapers of cities remote from the scene of the controversy.

"These 'patriotic' writers have unwittingly made the same mistake that a small minority of our college men recently did—that of judging an institution by the individual", said an "Aztec" editorialist.

"A few of our college men took an unfair attitude in assuming that Camp Callan reflected the attitude and moral tone of a small number of undesirable army men," the editorial continued.

In light of this latest consideration from the source of all the mutterings and grumbings, the entire "controversy" appears adequately explained for exactly what it was—merely a misunderstanding and an unfair seizure of incomplete and unverified facts.

However, now that the situation will be forgotten, it need only be used as a reminder of the ease with which, in times of continued emphasis upon national defense, statements, acts and opinions can be misinterpreted and twisted to promote whatever cause is currently desired.

Therefore, it is our prayer that both writers and readers will accurately and fairly weigh every fact before stooping to the inane practice of branding institutions and individuals with unforgivable names.

P.S.P.A. Poll . . .

Student Body Prexies Vote Oomp Co-eds Still Tops

Personality is still doing BIG business at the same old stand when it comes to men choosing THE gal.

Nineteen tallies were cast for an ideal date, "a number one personality with average looks." The voters included 47 headmen from the western region, attendants at the Pacific Student Presidents association eighteenth annual convention held at Santa Carolina island last weekend.

Confidential questionnaires were supplied the men who represent Washington, Oregon, New Mexico, Idaho, Nevada and California colleges and universities. The information was used in a date bureau which furnished coeds from the University of Southern California, Whittier, U.C.L.A. and other colleges in the Southland. Events of the social nature included beach parties, luncheons, swimming, boating, golf, hikes and a dinner-dance at the St. Catherine hotel.

They wanted the virtue of reserve in their dates, and sentimentality got 11 ayes. At the other end of the scale, 10 men preferred boldness, six the "cut-up" type and four liked 'em flighty. Five nodded uh-huh to bashfulness and an equal number wanted glamour—"a number one on looks, average personality."

Jack Richards, Associated students president, Mrs. Richards and Howard Eckles, president elect, represented the Santa Barbara Gauchos at the confab.

Dancing held top honors as to the "what" of dates, parties coming in second, bull sessions, third and binges, fourth. In order, the next preferred were shows and bridge. A quiet evening with the family and church (on Easter!) received two votes each.

To the question, "Do you drink?" 30 checked cocktails, 22 milk, 18 sodapop and 16 beer. There were three teetotallers.

With answers ranging from "I can be persuaded" to "Hell no!", they replied to the question, "Are you adverse to parking?" Three said nuthin' doin' and one objected only on the grounds of his status—married.—R.S.

Just for fun . . .

Keeping cool during the heat wave is harder than selling bicycles to Alpine climbers.

The thermometer reached 95 on Wednesday. I reached 97—97 bottles of soda pop. It got so warm that one Good Humor man threw all of his milk-nickles in the street and sat in back of the truck himself.

Psychologists say that the heat is imagination. That if you just forget it, you'll be cool. Which is as easy as chopping kindling with a rubber axe.

A mailman got so hot that he had to carry a portable fire extinguisher to keep putting himself out.

Lots of folks found that they could keep cooler by opening the oven door.

If this keeps up, asbestos suits and fireman's hats will be just the thing for the spring formal.

Things are getting pretty mixed up.

Who's on who's side in this war? And where are all of these places you read about in the newspapers? Talk about confusion. Marks on a phone booth wall are clearer. Every country has to fight on a different front so that some friendly nation won't tap them on the shoulder with a knife.

Every press release that emanates from a foreign capital usually has less foundation than a Rose Bowl parade chair. These censors abroad say that so much of the red pencil would not be necessary if only we could see it their way. Concentration camps are really lots of fun, and the Nazi army is firing blanks. After all, they don't want to hurt anybody, it's just their idea of a good time. Sort of a "Strength through joy" project.

Adolf is like a man with an armload of packages. Every time he tries to pick up one, another falls on the ground. If he had another arm everything would be all right. But there doesn't seem to be any Ersatz for flesh and blood.

He's caught like a fat man in a revolving door and can only go in one direction.

From the Shoulder

BY THE EDITOR

We have long suspected . . .

Several members of the student legislative council of lacking the strength of their convictions. It is sometimes called a lack of intestinal fortitude too. But whatever the terminology employed in describing that which is synonymous with courage, some of the executive group don't have it.

To be specific and abrupt, we refer to those council members who have not yet discarded the adolescent habit of making statements about a person when he is not present to defend himself and, when he does arrive, altering their viewpoints to coincide with his for fear of possible consequences.

On the spur of the moment, we can recall two instances in which this has occurred this year—the first, not terribly important in its consequences and the second, more influential and far-reaching than is apparent at the moment.

Some time ago, controversy over the actions of the public relations office of the college arose and mutterings were muttered and aspersions hurled left and right. However, all these verbal calisthenics occurred while the public relations director was absent.

With the arrival of this person, the few who still upheld their former positions were made to look ridiculous by the suddenly-disappearing support which one moment was a reality and the next a mere rumor.

Again last night . . .

during a four-hour meeting in which was being discussed the budget for next year's activities, the financial request for administration of these activities aroused much discussion.

Once again mumbles and grumbles were in order and the discussion grew quite intelligent and open-minded. But the catch—the representative of the faction in question had not yet appeared. So the legislative invertebrates felt free to voice their honest opinions. That is, until the representative arrived.

Still attempting to be brief, we ask that the students whose $10 student body fees are dissected and appropriated notice especially the number of votes cast in favor of and in opposition to the proposed budget at last night's meeting. During the period of discussion before the vote was taken, the opinions voiced indicated that the final vote would be, proportionately, just opposite.

We have no desire . . .

to discuss herein the allocation for administration. We have only the desire to bring to the attention of the students whose money is being spent the manner in which the spending might possibly be done.

If student council members who are supposedly representatives of the student body aren't courageous enough to at least be consistent, then student government has become a farce instead of a necessity.
