RED AND WHITE AND JUNIOR CLASS WILL CELEBRATE THURSDAY

Junior Day Foretold To Be Best Class Show Yet Held on Campus

Red and White! These colors may suggest Stanford, Santa Claus, or cosmetics to different types of minds about the campus; but they mean a lot more than that to the Juniors as the college will learn to its complete satisfaction next Thursday.

After the Freshmen and the Sophomores have left the campus to bask in a riot of color and lots of it, the Juniors are going to uphold their pride and campus status by not only endeavoring to out-decorate and out-entertain the lower classmen, but, they declare, by actually doing it.

Little is known about the plans of the Juniors, but it is rumored that decorative activities will be confined to the court and the gymnasium and a thorough job will be done. Several surprises are hinted that will make this a very different kind of a celebration. These however, will remain surprises until they are disclosed next Thursday.

Ester Janssens, in charge of the celebration in general and head of the program committee, declares that the day is going over big if Junior co-operation means anything, and we believe it does. The assembly program to be presented in the gymnasium the fourth period next Thursday will be a vaudeville entertainment displaying the varied talent known to exist in the class. "Junior Jumbles" is the title of the program which promises to be something different also.

The delayed results of the Song and Yell Book selling contest held before Christmas by the Pep Committee will be announced at this time.

Henry Batchelder is in charge of a committee to decorate the court in the class colors. Judging by the size of his committee, the court will be amply decorated. Mary Ellen Chapman is head of the committee to get the gymnasium dressed up for the entertainment and Janice Kennedy, president of the class, is in charge of the dress decorations to be displayed Thursday by the Juniors.

Next Week

Monday—5:30 p.m.: Inter-sorority dinner. Night, Fraternity meetings.

Tuesday—Fourth hour: Dean's meetings, Faculty meeting. Night: Forum meeting.

Thursday—Fourth hour: Student Body meeting, Glee Club meeting.

Saturday—7:30 p.m.: Basketball game, Bakersfield Junior College, here.

COLLEGE FUNDS GIVEN GERMAN STUDENTS APPRECIATED

The gift of $400,000 from the college students of the United States and several other countries to the students of Germany in the reconstruction period following the world war will be considered as a loan by the German students and the entire amount will be paid back in the form of annual student contributions to the International Student Trust Fund according to a report recently submitted by Mr. Reinhold Schairer, director of the fund, to the various colleges and universities of the country, including Santa Barbara State College, who contributed to the relief fund.

This financial aid from other countries has made it possible in Germany to form a German Students Co-operative Association to provide educational opportunities for students with limited financial backing. The main function of this association is to provide employment for the German students. During the last four years it has provided full time employment for more than 100,000 students. This represents a very extraordinary development in Germany where it was formerly considered beneath the dignity of a student to engage in manual labor.

By means of other co-operative agencies among the students, this association has also reduced the cost of living for the German undergraduate nearly fifty per cent and has made it possible for 20,000 students every year to secure an education. Mr. Schairer reports that the German students are very grateful for the funds given them by the American students.

CHEEVER TO INSTRUCT ART CLASSES FOR MR. BROUGIER

Mr. Brougier, art instructor, has been forced to leave the college for the rest of the semester because of severe illness. Walter Cheever, well-known California artist, will take his place.

Mr. Brougier has been ill for the past two months. Miss Croswell, head of the department, has been taking his classes in hope that he would soon return, but the continuance of his illness made it necessary to secure a temporary instructor.

Mr. Cheever was trained at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. He studied there for eight years during the period the school was at its height. Mr. Cheever is known for his excellent portraits and landscape work, which has been exhibited at the California Art Club.

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW ADMINISTRATION BLDG HALTED UNTIL JUNE

Temporary Buildings Will Be Erected to House Excess Enrollment

Construction of the new administration building has been postponed until June, because of the delay in formulating plans, specifications, and bids, which cannot be completed before that time, President Phelps stated yesterday. Temporary buildings will be erected to accommodate the 500 to 600 students which are expected by President Phelps to attend here next fall.

The only actual construction progress which will take place before June, President Phelps stated, is excavation work and grading for the building and the filling work to be done on the road connecting the site with Alameda Padre Serra road. This grading will be done in the next few months, the best time of the year for such work, as the ground is wet. Another survey will be taken soon, and the contract will be promptly let.

Road Forms Letter "S"

The road leading from the administration building site to Alameda Padre Serra road is in the form of a letter "S," which, according to President Phelps, can be seen from everywhere.

"It's a peculiar thing," he stated, "that with no instructions whatsoever, the engineers designed the road in the form of an 'S.' It was not intentional; in fact, it is the only way the road can be surveyed. It is the most unusual development I have ever seen."

President Phelps brought out the fact that this road would serve better for an insignia than the "S" planned for the mountain side in back of the city. This, he stated, is because the "S" on the mountain would not be readily visible like the road design.

To improve the appearance of the "S," the curves at each side of the letter are widened. This is done primarily for safety, however.

Thomas Shoemaker Dies; Funeral Held Wednesday

Thomas Shoemaker, husband of Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker, who is studying here in the home economics department, died last Monday morning. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 10:30 at Gagnier's.

Mr. Shoemaker was sick for several years with tuberculosis, ending in death Monday.

The student body of the college sent three victor palms, symbols of immortality, to the funeral. Miss Park and Miss Price, together with a group of students, attended the last rites.

A valuable pin, evidently valued as a heirloom, is in the possession of Mrs. Steele. She requests that the owner see her immediately.

Roadrunners Meet San Jose Tonite And Saturday In Northern Court

Team Confident of Close Scores

The Roadrunners are journeying north today to meet the phenomenal San Jose basketball quintet in the northern gymnasium in a double encounter, the first game of which will be played tonight and the final battle will be staged tomorrow night.

The squad journeying north today is practically the second string lineup, Anderson, center, and Williams, forward, being again on the bench, but Mobley and Clemore will be in fine condition for the encounters.

The team has been surviving some stiff work-outs in the past week and it is believed that San Jose will not find us as easy as she did last year when the speedy northerners returned home with 39 points after a 39 to 31 game.

If the squad holds San Jose, it will be elevated in the eyes of the sporting world in California; because the San Jose quintet is well-known as a well-trained team that is fast on its feet. It held the Stanford varsity quintet to a margin of nine points in a recent encounter and has stood well against several other well-known teams in the north.

Coach Gilliland has been running a new lineup through several plays in the past week, and the squad is confident of a close game if not a victory. The following eight men are included in the party that left this morning: Curtis, left guard; Mobley, right guard; Vandam, center; Clemore, right forward; Morehead, left forward; Linder, right guard; Keim, right forward, and Larsen, left guard.

Instead of playing the University of California 145-pounders a week from tomorrow as was originally scheduled, the Roadrunners will meet Bakersfield Junior College in the local gymnasium on that date.

Dr. Moore Inspects College Physiology Labs Here Recently

Dr. Katherine Moore, head of the physiology department at the University of California, inspected the physiology laboratories here Wednesday afternoon. She expressed the need of more equipment at the local laboratory.

According to Miss Bishop, physiology instructor, the visit of Dr. Moore is not an official inspection from Berkeley, as actual connections between state colleges and the university were severed at the first of this school year, but is merely of advisory nature.

These inspection visits are usually made once a year by instructors from the University of California.

Previous to visiting here, Dr. Moore inspected the Pasadena Junior College, which is known for its well equipped laboratories.

SORORITIES TO DINE; IS GET-TOGETHER FOR SOCIETIES

An inter-sorority supper will be held next Monday evening at 5:30 p.m., preceding the individual sorority meetings. The supper, which will cost each woman thirty-five cents, will be an informal get-together affair for the women of the different sororities to become acquainted with each other. The supper will be held in the cafeteria and Miss Edith Churchill will provide the meal.

Miss Ester Janssens, president of the Delta Zeta Delta, is in charge of the supper. Although no program has been arranged for the diversion of the party, several impromptu stunts will be introduced. It is planned to have these get-together affairs for the sorority women more often.

COLLEGE MAY SEND A DELEGATE TO SAN JOSE CONCLAVE

Whether or not the college will send a delegate to the conference of Junior Colleges of the state to be held at San Jose two weeks from tomorrow, will be decided at an early Student Body meeting. According to a recent letter received from the San Jose officials, the conference will be a get-together affair in which the presidents of the various Student Bodies of the Junior Colleges will meet to discuss current problems.

It is the opinion of the council that the local college cannot afford to be left out of this conference, but the main problem before the Student Body now is the finances of the trip.

A round-trip ticket to San Jose would cost almost the total amount that is now left in the general fund of the Student Body treasury. If a student from the college is planning to make the trip to San Jose at this time, he will greatly simplify matters by seeing Dean Pyle at once.

JUNIOR DAY

The Juniors are accepting the unwritten challenge by the lowerclassmen to celebrate a day next week with as much festivity as was displayed by the lowerclassmen while they reigned on the campus.

The Frosh started celebrating this year with unprecedented enthusiasm and upon a more gigantic scale than was ever exhibited before in our opinion. The Sophs did their best to show the college they were still king while they had their chance, but now the Juniors are trying to ascend the throne.

The red and white class, ever since it entered the college as green Freshmen, has displayed a great deal of pep in its class days when it has practically out-celebrated the competing classes every time. This year, however, a very high standard has been set; and if the Juniors mean what they say when they mention their day next week, we're sorry for the student who can't be at college on that day.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL

There is a great deal of discussion in college circles at the present time about the entrance of Grange of Illinois and Nevers of Stanford into the professional football field. This unexpected turn of the game is being viewed with apprehension by various university heads in the country who believe there can be seen in this acton of Grange and Nevers a breaking down of the original purpose of the institutions of learning throughout the country; namely, that of molding the minds of students to prepare them to take over the important positions in life.

Many remedies for the situation have been suggested; some radical, others conservative enough, but all aiming at the cause of the present status of the game in the eyes of the public and accounting for it by the wide publicity given the players and the choosing of various sectional and inter-sectional champions among the universities.

The situation at present is very acute and the results of the various conferences being held at the present time among the colleges to arrive at some agreement whereby schedules for next year's grid season will end in fewer spectacular contests will be very interesting, to say the least.

ROOTERS' CAPS

Where have the rooters' caps which were displayed so frequently during the football season disappeared to? Have they become worn out, have they gone out of style by Paris or London decree, or are they just too colorless for the season?

A majority of the students would forget that we have rooters' caps in this college if they weren't seen on a few Freshmen who have more college spirit than any of the upper classmen have ever displayed.

If these caps are worn only at games and celebrations, they will last a long time; but they won't advertise the college as much as they should. Why not wear them oftener and let the townspeople know how many students are attending the institution on the hill above them. The greatest service a student could do for this college would be to get it well recognized. This would be a difficult task for an individual, but it would be simple through co-operation. Let's do our bits by displaying the college caps more frequently.

There's at least one consolation about the mis-focused roadrunner designs which decorate the sweatshirts of the lettermen. And that is that the excessive fat which these roadrunners appear to have may come from the big feed and clean-up they pulled off at Redlands a few weeks ago!

Why Children Should Have Self-Government

If children are able to govern themselves they will not have quarrels or fights. A child is the root of an adult. If children are able to govern themselves when they are young it is quite probable that they will make fine men and women, and be able to help the world when they grow up. On the other hand, if children do not have self-government, they will not be fine men and women. After all, war is caused because people have not learned how to govern themselves.

If children do not have self-government they will try to order other people around. They will think that nobody can tell them what to do and what not to do. If they have self-government, people will

Great Scandal is Averted! Staff Lacks Funds!

Journalism rule: "Good journalists, as well as writing news, often create news."

In the wee morning hours of yesterday, when the editorial staff found itself somewhat short of copy for this issue, this rule was almost applied—yes, almost applied, which might have been much to the misfortune of the college.

How near the new arches being constructed on the front of the court came to destruction will never be definitely realized—except by the editorial staff of The Eagle. The world will never hear the true, bare facts of a conspiracy outlined to dynamite the arches.

This is what happened. The Eagle staff, meeting the trouble of no news this week, decided it would create some. So the editors left the office and searchingly walked down the corridors, with their "nose for news" covering a wider range than usual.

Suddenly an idea popped. "Why not wreck them arches? The news would be fresh, and it'll scandalize the paper."

"But how can we do it?"
"Dynamite 'em."
"But where'll we get the money to buy the powder?"

But the near-disaster was averted. Everyone was broke.

Student Body Will Decide Upon College Pennant At Meeting Soon

Three designs for college pennants and a design for a large college banner were submitted to the council yesterday by Warren Atwood, who was appointed to interview several Los Angeles pennant firms during the Christmas holidays.

The various designs have in common the inscription "Santa Barbara State," although this wording is arranged in different types and formations. The designs will be ordered by the Pep Committee and submitted to the Student Body for choice of a particular design. The proposition that the students be allowed to choose the pennants they like from from the assortment was rejected for the reason that a uniform college pennant was more desirable. This assortment will be submitted to the Student Body at an early meeting.

Felt Megaphone S to Be Given Yell Leader

A felt megaphone S to be given to the Yell Leader to be put on a white sweater and worn at the games is to be ordered by the Council soon as a result of action taken by that body before Christmas. A large megaphone for the use of the yell leader will also be ordered.

WEDDING BELLS RING NEW YEAR'S EVE FOR PEP CHAIRMAN

Warren Atwood etux! That is the phrase that is dazzling the eyes of the college this week. And it is doubtful if the college will recover soon.

The exciting event took place New Year's Eve at Hollywood when Warren Atwood, chairman of the "Pep" committee and prominent student, married Miss Cretia Spies of Ontario, California. Francis Williams was best man. The Rev. Rogers, pastor of the Hollywood Methodist Church, officiated.

Miss Spies (or rather, Mrs. Warren H. Atwood) is a graduate of the Pomona Business College. The two have known each other for many years, Mr. Atwood meeting Miss Spies when he lived near Ontario.

According to rumors and what can be obtained from possible sources about the college, the excitement of the wedding occurred at Greenwich Village in Hollywood. Both Mr. Atwood and Mr. Williams positively decline to state the particulars, although Williams says to ask "Atty" about Greenwich Village for advice to newly-weds!

STUDENT OPINION

This column is conducted by The Eagle for the benefit of the students. All letters are requested to be as brief as possible. They must contain the name of the writer, although it will be suppressed if desired. Place communications in The Eagle box. The Eagle will assume no responsibility for views published.

Editor of the Eagle:

Ever since school started both faculty and student body officers have urged us to attend general assemblies. Last Tuesday the assembly, as soon as the necessary announcements had been made, was turned over to the "pep" committee. And as soon as the announcements were made another interesting event occurred. All but two of our faculty left. No doubt our faculty is a busy group of people and no doubt they were justified in leaving the assembly, but it certainly is encouraging for the students in a college who are holding a meeting to create more interest in school affairs to have most of the faculty leave that meeting in a body. Yes, sure it is—maybe.

A FROSH.

Editor's Note: We are advised by a faculty member who is a staunch supporter of well-attended assemblies that the faculty left the meeting with the understanding that it was to be a purely student meeting, a yell practice. It has always been the custom for the faculty not to attend any purely student activity of this nature, and after the announcements had been made, the members tip-toed out, feeling that the students would rather be left to themselves. The editor thus feels that there is no affronting on the part of the faculty.

Editor of The Eagle:

Whoever was responsible for the crowd that turned out to see the Oregon game is in line to be knighted into college sainthood. The gang that packed the stands at the gym the Monday night after Christmas was by no means small; in fact, sardines would have felt uncomfortable in that gallery.

It was good stuff, that big crowd. Let's fill the gym up each game like that Monday night gang.
X. Y. Z.

Dear Editor:

Sometime ago a movement started to outline a letter "S" on the side of the mountain. A few weeks after, probably when the excitement died down, the proposition was forgotten.

I don't see any reason why a thing like that should be dropped. Whether it is the spirit of the college or the lack of a place to put the letter that caused the downfall of the idea, I don't know; but I believe there are both requisites for the letter.

Two organizations started out on the proposition. Why don't these organizations revive the work that started so well? All the men of the college want for this plan is leadership; they will do the rest. INTERESTED.

"Why do they call these dentist's offices dental parlors?" asked a certain Freshman.

"Parlor is the old-fashioned name for drawing room," replied the dentist.

ROADRUNNER CAGERS TRIM BULLDOGS AT REDLANDS

The Roadrunners defeated the fast University of Redlands squad in the southern gymnasium the day after college closed last year to the score of 44 to 12. The local team was in excellent shape and proved a formidable scoring machine which the Bulldogs could not meet.

Bert Clemore, eminent forward for the State aggregation, was pronounced high point man of the game with 19 points after his name. Frenchy Williams, the other forward, and Jimmy Anderson, local center and captain, seconded Clemore with 11 and eight points respectively to their credit.

Redlands played a fast game and showed ample familiarity with the plays, but the Bulldogs failed to locate the basket with as much frequency as the Roadrunners.

The lineups and individual scores are as follows:

Redlands	Position	Santa B.
Bell, 2	RF	Clemore, 19
Lund, 5	LF	Williams, 11
Calvin, 1	C	Anderson, 8
Wilson, 1	LG	Curtis, 3
Marke, 2	RG	Mobley
Substitutes: Jeffries (1) for Marke; Keim (1) for Curtis; Morehead (2) for Williams.

JACK DELAND WRITES

Jack Deland, quarterback and captain of the famous champion 1922 Roadrunner grid aggregation, sent Christmas greetings to his friends at Santa Barbara State during the holidays through a letter to Ester Janssens.

Deland is now working for the telephone company at Venice, California, his home town.

Athletes Receive Sweat-Jerseys This Week

Twenty decorated sweatshirts for the Roadrunners have arrived at the college and are being displayed by their owners about the campus. The sweatshirts are gray with the inscription "Roadrunners" with the name of the owner stenciled on the back and a representation of a Roadrunner is sewed in front. These sweaters are meeting a demand for something of the sort that has been prevalent for a long time.

Prexy Doesn't Like Designs on Sweatshirts; Orders Company to Change

Just one glance at the Roadrunners designed on the sweatshirts of the lettermen was enough for Prexy. And he demanded them revised!

Prexy says he wants something on the shirts that at least resembles a roadrunner. He didn't state what he thought the present design looks like, but he did state they are SOMEWHAT out of proportion.

Consequently Prexy secured a correct design of a roadrunner from a pin which one of his friends possessed and passed it on to the art department to be enlarged. He will then ask the Lowe and Campbell Company of Kansas City, which made the designs, to replace them.

Athletic Manager Williams stated Tuesday that the only reason he could see for the mis-design and placing the wings upside down was that in the east the type of roadrunner is different that the roadrunner of Southern California and the company designed them after the eastern bird.

Miss Smart (in market): "Is that headcheese over there?"

LARGER VOLLEYBALL SCHEDULE PLANNED; LEADERS CHOSEN

Due to the fact that a much larger number of women have turned out for volleyball this season, it will be possible to have more games than were originally planned. Previously there have been three games played. These have been between the Freshmen and the upperclass women; the class winning two games being declared the victor.

Now it will be possible to have games first between the Freshmen and the Sophomores, the Juniors and Seniors, Sophomores and Juniors, and between the winners of the first games.

Captains of the three volleyball teams were elected Wednesday afternoon. They are: Juniors, Josephine Bolton; Sophomores, Ebba Franklin; and Freshmen, Helen Gould.

The schedules for volleyball games are being worked out by Miss Kathryn Kueffer and Miss Eleanor Warren.

Frosh Awarded Pennant at Pep Assembly Tuesday

The "Roadrunner" pennant given to the Freshman class for winning the ticket selling competition for the Cal. Poly football game held last month has arrived and it was awarded to the Freshman class by the Pep Committee Tuesday. The pennant is a huge green and white banner with the inscriptions "Santa Barbara State, 1929" vertically at the end and the word "Roadrunners" running the length of it.

A movement is under way at the present time by the Pep Committee to have a classroom for every class. This would afford a place for the Freshman Class to hang the pennant and would tend to stimulate class spirit at the college.

Soccer Game Tuesday

On the first period last Tuesday morning a game of soccer occurred between the morning and afternoon soccer classes who are learning the rudiments of the game from Miss Weage. Because of the earliness of the hour both teams felt full of pep and the game proved very exciting. The first section won all honors of the day by scoring one goal.

The "discovered" singer had received his first audition by the famous master.
"Quite promising," remarked the master, "but I should like to hear an 'h' or two."
"You don't catch me that way," was the reply. "There ain't no higher note than G."

ROADRUNNER FEATHERS MUSSED BY OREGON FIVE: 56-10

Displaying a wealth of action and knowledge of intricate plays and tactics, the fast University of Oregon completed a successful lap in its barn-storming tour a week ago last Monday by defeating the Roadrunner cage quintet 56 to 10 in the local gymnasium.

The Roadrunners were swept off their feet early in the first half when the Webfeet crew started piling up a large score with a whirlwind opening. One play after another succeeded before the Roadrunners could get their claws on the pumpkin.

Throughout the game the northern five showed a remarkable familiarity with the ball and the basket, passing with such rapidity that the Roadrunners could not keep up. In the second half, however, the local squad held the Ducks to 14 points and made 5 points to double its total of the first frame.

Vandam led the scoring for the Roadrunners with five points chalked up to his credit. Okerberg, lanky center for the foreigners, claimed all honors for the game, however, by amassing a total of 19 points for his team. The barn-stormers were successful in 14 of a possible 17 free throws, which fact tells the whole story.

The Roadrunners missed the services of Anderson, Williams, and Mobley who were unable to play in the game. Also Bert Clemore, eminent scoring machine in the Redlands game, was handicapped with a bruised head.
