10th ANNIVERSARY DANCE CONCERT OPENS TONIGHT

500 Visitors See 'Hit' Open House

The college Open House held last weekend on the Riviera and Mesa campuses attracted approximately 500 visitors from Santa Barbara and from out of town, including students from the other University campuses.

Various departmental exhibits proved interesting to visitors as well as to Gauchos who took advantage of the opportunity to learn about the activities of departments other than their own. The Alumni Dinner, at which Dr. Paul Perigord was the speaker, was attended by 100 persons, and over 130 high school seniors from the tri-county area participated in the annual play day sponsored by the Women's PE department as a part of Open House activities. Miss Elizabeth Schon, chairman of the Open House, stated that she felt that the affair was a very successful beginning of a tradition which, after the spadework necessary in the early stages of planning is completed, will become an important permanent part of the UCSB year.

Concert Wednesday Fetes Mozart Work

The Mozart Sonata in B Flat will be the featured number on the program to be presented by pianist Lillian Steuber in her concert in the Riviera Auditorium on May 27 at 8:30 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music and the University Extension.

The program will also include compositions by Soler, Schumann, Chopin, Talma, Griffes, Weiss and Riegger. A special rate on tickets is available to Gaucho students and tickets are obtainable in the office of the Graduate Manager and the office of University Extension.

Dorothy Preble to Address Psych Club Tonight

Helpful hints on beauty, charm and personality will be interspersed with a scholarly discussion of the psychological effects of improved appearance at the meeting of the Psychology Club tonight, when Dorothy Preble, owner-director of the well-known Preble School of Charm in Hollywood, will be guest speaker.

Besides her work in training professional models and movie stars, Miss Preble has had an extensive career in clinical psychology. All interested students are invited to hear her talk, which will take place in Pine Hall 100 at 7:30 p.m.

$1000 in Prizes Offered in I.A. Project Contest

Prizes with a total value of $1000 are the stakes in the annual Project Contest now being sponsored by the Industrial Arts Club on the Mesa campus. Grand prize will be awarded for the best entry in each division, and the blue-ribbon winner in the entire contest will receive a sweepstakes prize.

Judging of the entries, which will represent industrial art work turned out by IA students during the past year, will take place on June 1, and awards will be made at the annual Industrial Arts banquet on June 4, according to Maurice Kopp, chairman of the contest committee.

Nominations Open For AMS Positions

Nominations are still open for six posts in Associated Men Students for next year, Dink Sheehan, AMS vice-president, announced this week. Elections will be held next Wednesday, May 26.

Offices to be filled are president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, sergeant-at-arms, and historian. Qualified candidates may run for office by submitting petitions signed by 100 male students. Petitions are available at and should be returned to the office of the Graduate Manager.

STRAIGHT OUT OF the old West, Harriet Beu, Bernice Lavelle and Pat Sparrow give a preview of the "California Suite," which will be presented in the Spring Dance Concert tonight at 8:30 in the Riviera Auditorium.

Terpsichoreans To Present Varied Program

A variety of dances is on tap in the tenth anniversary of the Spring Dance Concert to be presented by the Women's Physical Education department in the Riviera Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30. As a special feature, outstanding dances of the past decade will be repeated.

The program opens with a march, followed by a series of abstract dances which includes an interpretation of Gershwin's "Preludes," directed by Pat Sparrow. Already previewed at Open House is the "California Suite," complete with can-can girls and gold rushers. The "Negro Suite" opens with a primitive dance done by Shirley Curry and continues through the work song and cakewalk. Also on the program is the "Children's Hour," with the story of Little Boy Blue told in dance, and a number of unique stage setting called "Merry-Go Round."

Intricate Routine

The Dance Composition class, under the guidance of Miss Jean Bellingier, is credited with the choreography, and the dance company are members of the Dance Workshop and the PE department. Many complicated routines have been worked out, including one called "Accents" in which the girls accompany themselves on drums.

Costumes were designed and

Slim Margins Stymie AWS Election; Runoff Slated Today For 4 Posts

Split voting with narrow margins among the candidates for six offices in the Associated Women Students election Wednesday resulted in a runoff vote being set for today on all but two of the positions. Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and AWS president Barbara Abbott, noting that only 300 voted Wednesday, urges all Gaucho women to go to the polls today.

The 1948-49 presidency of AWS is still in doubt, with a runoff due between May Nakanishi and Joy Hart. Lola Erickson and Beverly Small are finalists for first vice-president, and Marcheta Bissett and Pat Cascadden for second vice-president. Dorothy Dash and Lois Rippel are runoff candidates for treasurer.

Elected were Shirley Lerner as secretary and Gerry Weldon as counselor.

Three polls will be open today on the Riviera campus under the direction of President Abbott, serving with her on the Election committee are Lois Culverwell, incumbent second vice-president, Donna Thomas, incumbent treasurer and Gertrude Gally, president of Crown and Scepter.

Dorothy Runde Is New C.R.A. Prexy

Dorothy Runde was elected president of the College Recreation Association in elections held on Tuesday. She will hold office during 1948-1949.

Other new CRA officers are Fletcher Along, vice-president; Bonnie Sly, publicity chairman; Francis (Kewpie) Guess, treasurer; Dick Roth, corresponding secretary; and Helen Loomis, recording secretary.

Voters also passed amendments to the CRA constitution which changed election procedure and revised the member clubs' officers.

N'Awleams Jazz Concert Slated

The "tailgate" jazz of old New Orleans will be presented in an hour-long record session in Pine Hall 100, next Tuesday by Mr. James Walters of the Biology Department faculty. The concert takes place at 4:00 p.m. and all Gaucho jazz-lovers are invited.

Mr. Walters has been collecting records of this oldest form of jazz for several years. Most of the discs to be played Tuesday were recorded in the twenties and feature such artists as King Oliver, Louis Armstrong and Jelly Roll Morton.

Phrateres Opens Nominations for Fall Officers

At a business-with-pleasure meeting of Phrateres last Monday night, the group nominated candidates for next year's offices. Nominations will remain open until AWS elections are definitely over.

Those now on the list include, for president, Elaine Wells and Dorothy Adameck; for vice-president, Lois Buchan and Merilee Robertson; for secretary, Mary Beallessio, Winifred Woods and Mildred Moffit; for treasurer, Ann Warner.

Elections will be held on May 24 in the Quad near the mailboxes, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. In case of an AWS run-off election, Phrateres president Alice Thomas announced, the Phrateres election will be postponed until further notice.

In addition to nominations, the meeting featured group singing led by Winifred Woods. Elaine Wells played two piano solos, and Las Meninas put on a mock tragedy skit.

Deadline Nears For Applications For Editorial Positions

Deadline for application for editorship next year of El Gaucho, La Cumbre, the handbook, or the humor magazine, and for positions on the publicity board, has been set at noon on Wednesday, May 26.

All applications must be turned in by that time to Phyllis Pittroff, chairman of the Press Control Board, in the El Gaucho office, for final action by the board, Wednesday afternoon.

Louderback Slated to Give Earthquake Lecture this P.M.

"Earthquakes, What They Are and How They Act" is to be the subject of a lecture this afternoon by Dr. George D. Louderback, noted authority on earthquakes, at 4 p.m. in Pine Hall 100. The lecture is free of charge and an invitation is extended to students, faculty and townspeople.

Dr. Louderback has come here at the invitation of Provost Williams and with the cooperation of the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music as the first of a series of distinguished speakers from other Cal campuses who will give lectures here from time to time. It is hoped that such talks will eventually be incorporated as a regular part of the college schedule.

A native of California, Dr. Louderback attended the University of California where he received his Bachelor's and Doctor's degrees. He joined the faculty of UC in 1906 and later became a member of the UCSB advisory administration board, editor of the Bulletin and Seismological Society of America, dean of the College of Letters and Science at Berkeley for ten years, and director of a geological expedition to the interior of China.

Dr. Louderback has devoted his work chiefly to basin range structure and West Coast stratigraphy, fault lines, and earthquakes.

Speedy Action Sought On Goleta Transfer

An effort to hasten the War Assets Administration in a decision on disposition of the proposed campus at Goleta will be made by UC Comptroller James H. Corley during a trip to Washington at the end of the month.

According to present plans, University officials wish to move the UCSB campus to Goleta by a year from September. A delay by WAA in processing the final decision would probably mean that the campus could not be moved until later.

In the meantime, pending the expected favorable decision awarding the 400-acre site to the University, preliminary studies are being made on remodeling existing buildings at Goleta and on new, permanent construction

MORE COUNCIL JOBS
Among the Council positions open for next year, for which applications are now being received by president-elect John Caldwell, are student-at-large on the Finance committee, student-at-large on the Board of Athletic Control, athletic manager, Activity Control Board chairman, and chairman of Artist Series Board. Anyone wishing to apply for one of these posts should write a letter stating his qualifications to Caldwell, in care of the Associated Students office in West Hall.

"Moonrise," a lately previewed Hollywood fillum, is a dud, strictly a dud! The story concerns the son of a murderer, who is tormented into killing a man himself—naturally, there is a girl in it. She is a schoolteacher, who sticks to him to the sticky final fade-out. Even the sheriff is fond of the murderer, because the corpse was a louse, anyway. The whole thing happens in some obscure place down south, in case anybody's interested.

Dane Clark, Gail Russell and Ethel Barrymore are starred. Clark and Miss Russell turn in fair performances, but audiences who go to see Ethel Barrymore will have a very legitimate squawk because the superb actress is utterly wasted in the role of an Ozark granny who is on the screen for two, only two, measly scenes. When Barrymore is in a picture, we want to see Barrymore. Oh, well, the moon may rise, but we can always look for the dawn!

Tom Padden

In the remaining two issues I shall attempt to present a subject which is deserving of much more time and space than it is possible to have. However, I feel that the implications of what I shall discuss are of such far-reaching influence on our national welfare that even a brief and unscholarly treatment is better than nothing, for the matter is mysteriously one of the most undiscussed in our land.

In the five fiscal years of war, from July 1, 1941, through June 30, 1946, the U. S. Government spent 370 billion dollars. Of this total, 169 billion was covered by current tax receipts. The balance, 201 billion, had to be met by borrowing. Of this figure, 128 billion came from non-bank investors, mainly great corporations and investment houses. The remaining 86 billion came from banks, both Federal Reserve and commercial. Non-bank investors, including individual citizens, paid cash for the bonds with which the Government borrowed money; the banks, however, paid nothing.

Abracadabra

Bonds were simply given to the banks, and through the machinations of our banking system, those bonds became the basis of almost unlimited credit expansion. To appreciate fully the position of the banks with regard to bonds, a long exposition dealing with the intricacies of our monetary system would be required. However, I am perfectly safe in disregarding the why's and how's in order to point out effects which are apparent.

Basically, the net effect is this: for every bond which the Government gave to the banks, a potential credit expansion of 5 or 6 times the amount of the bond lay within the bankers' hands. In other words, through a complex use of bonds, the banks were enabled to lend and invest fantastically increased amounts in any way they saw fit and, of course, could draw interest from these loans and investments. And the bonds, regardless of who held them or how they were obtained, continued to earn 2 1/2% interest.

Aladdin Was A Tyro

Now, when one considers that the banks took 86 billion in Government bonds during the war, it becomes apparent that through bankers' magic, the banks had a potential money and credit creating power of over 430 billion dollars, which is enough to buy the entire country, lock, stock and barrel. And at the risk of repetition, I will mention interest again, for the same banks were thereby entitled to a yearly interest payment of $2,150,000,000.00

Again in other words, the bankers got the bonds for nothing, but were entitled to create for their own use 5 times the amount of the bonds in credit, and at the same time they received 2 1/2% yearly interest on the bonds they continued to hold. In 1946 the banks still held 83.3 billion in bonds, and today the figure is not far from that. Thus one can see that while debt may be considered a private evil, it certainly has been a bountiful blessing to bankers.

Gone Are the Days

Before the depression, the Government never collected more than 3.5 billion in taxes, and even in 1941, after we began to spend on

FABLES OF OUR CLIME

There was once a young Freshman who had come to college to major in candid photography. He found that college life was all he had pictured from reading "Tom Brown at Yale," and more. He did very well in his photographic work, getting many fine candid shots through swinging doors, in rearview mirrors and the like.

But the studies that he was required to take outside his chosen field only annoyed him, and we must confess, dear reader, that after he had exhausted the possibilities of snapping his classmates at their slumbers and his instructors with their mouths open, he developed a bad habit of cutting classes. What is more, at the end of the semester his textbooks were as good as new.

As the time came for final examinations, he was troubled.

"Why didn't I study?" he thought. "If I flunk out I will not be able to take Photography 105, 'Shooting on Sorority Row.' And with a heavy heart he went in to take his final in Psychology IA.

As he leafed unhappily through the 27 pages of closely typed questions an idea came to him. Out of the entire course he remembered just one fact: In answering questions, one's first impulse is generally correct.

"I will take the test by instinct," he said to himself. He went quickly through the examination, marking pluses or minuses as the impulse seized him.

He got the highest "F" in the class.

Moral: Sin not according to instinct, but according to Altus.

Color Blind Science Faculty Builds White Green House

Since I am the only guy on the Gauche staff who has never taken a science course, our "let's face it, kids, ya gotta round out yer personalities" editor sends me over to the science department to find out what is that little white glass house out in back of the bookstore.

I tell her it looks just like any other little house out in back of, but she says get on over there and interview the science department.

This I do.

I find out that Dr. Cornelius Muller is the guy who builds the thing so I find him and say what is that little white house out in back of the bookstore? And Dr. Muller says that he just builds the thing and I should see James Walters who is only a B.S. and can afford to speak to guys from the Gauche staff.

James Walters is a nice guy and tells me that the white glass house is for growing plants for botany courses, but then he shows why he is a B.S. and not a Ph.D. when he tells me that the little white house is a green house. I am not even a B.S. but I can see the thing is white.

However, I do not wish to insult such a nice guy as James Walters so I thank him and slip over to see Dr. Karl Grossenbacher, who is also a botanist.

Karl Grossenbacher (who is a Ph.D.) tells me that the little house (which is white to make it cool in summer!) is full of plants and lilies and stuff to be used by the guys who are taking botany courses and plant fuzziol... phiziol... phyllos... and course where they grow plants under conditions which they will never grow under in normal life. One of these guys has been doing his plant study work up at the botanical gardens and finds it a little bit difficult to take care of his plants because it is so far from school. I tell him I could stop by and water them for him when I am walking to school from where I park my car. He thanks me but says that is not necessary.

He tells me also that it is necessary to grow plants for study in the lavo... laboratories and that this can not be done in the laboratories because plants are very susceptible to illuminating gas and while it does not make much difference if the students die from too much gas because the school is crowded anyway, it is difficult to replace plants which die.

This takes care of the interview. I thank him and start for the door when James Walters comes in and he nods to me. I smile and go on out. At the door I stop and look back. Karl Grossenbacher is standing over James Walters and James Walters is repeating:

I will not confuse Gauche reporters. The little house is white. I will not confuse Gauche reporters. The little house is white. I will not confuse...

Picturesque Views

By Phyllis Pittroff.

The new budget was presented at Council meeting last Tuesday night. It will receive final Council approval next Tuesday, and will go before the student body for discussion, possible change, and ratification at the Roundup the following night.

In the whole it's a pretty fair budget—certainly an improvement over last year's. The Finance and Pre-Audit committees are to be congratulated for handling a very tough job very well. The budgets submitted by the various activities totaled over $6000 more than we will have to spend, and F. and PA. managed to pare and trim that amount without making anyone too desperately unhappy.

Music Control Board, which starved along on $300 this year, will have $1200 to spend next year. Drama, Speech and Radio, El Gauche, La Cumbre, and the Social Committee all have more money to spend.

The Athletics appropriation is almost exactly the same as last year's—$12,027. On football, according to the budget, we expect to spend $20,866, but because of the extra gate receipts promised for the four-campus games at Berkeley and the Oregon game, only $606.40 of this will be taken from ASSB funds, compared to $2723.70 for the past season.

By dropping cross country, golf and fencing, and by an agreement among the coaches to take cuts in every sport except boxing, which was upped about $400, the Board of Athletic Control managed to juggle their budget to include a $2800 salary for Don Gill, the trainer, who will go on full time status after his graduation in June. Included in the $1275 in medical supplies which Gill will have to spend is $400 for adhesive tape. I don't know, maybe I don't just understand football.

They have added wrestling, at $330, to the roster of sports. Yet they dropped fencing, the only sport in which we have consistently—for eight years, I believe—held championships. The fencing cups fill the display cases in the Ad building. Why not keep fencing and forget the wrestling? Why not spend our money on sports we have proved we can excel in?

What's in a name? Gamma Sig Dave Brownell and his Los Angeles gal friend, Virginia Brown, have announced their engagement. How "Brown" can we be? And the third finger, left hand belonging to Cellete Olivera has a ring, denoting that she and Don Vanderford, Sigma Pi, plan to be married soon. Surprised is the word for describing how the Delta Sigs felt Monday night when they learned that Dorothy Melander and Cliff Comstock have been married since March 5th. Emmy Nelson is flying around in the clouds, report her friends—and the reason is somehow connected with the new SAE pin which Al Blanc, from Cal, recently bestowed upon her. Tau Gams finally received chocolates from Pat Cozzens announcing that she and Dick Bowdy are planning to walk up the aisle soon.

UCSB DROPS FINALE TO BROTHER BEARS

With Phil Jacks

Those of you who are true sports fans attended a majority of the Gaucho sporting events. No doubt there was some incident in one of the games that particularly stood out as far as you were concerned. Here is your chance to put down on paper what you saw, as you saw it, and maybe even win a prize.

Write Letters

Here is what we are asking you to do. Think back over the past year, and pick out the one athletic event or incident that you think was the highlight of the sporting season. When you have done that, grab a pencil and a piece of paper and write it down. It doesn't have to be a complete game. It might be a thrilling touchdown run, an outstanding mile relay race, or a home run with the bases loaded. Make it the one thing that gave you the greatest thrill in sports here at the College this year. The three best letters will be printed in El Gaucho, and the one selected as the most outstanding effort will be awarded a prize that is as yet undetermined. The winning entry will be selected on the basis of originality and color, and all entries must be limited to 100 words. Turn in all letters to me at the El Gaucho office. Start 'em coming!

Swim Carnival

After taking a look at the list of events scheduled for the Swim Carnival next Thursday, you can be sure that we will be on hand. Besides the usual swimming events there will be plenty of laughs in store for those students who attend this free affair. The Carnival will be one of the highlights of the athletic season, so plan on attending. It starts at 3:00, but you had better get there early as the seating space is limited.

RELAY MEN SECOND IN SPECIAL EVENT AT COAST RELAYS

Last Saturday afternoon at the Pacific Coast Relays the Golden Gaucho mile relay team set a new UCSB record in taking second in the special college class event. The quartet of Stan Moore, Dick Kampmann, Sam Cathcart and Al Deline cut 3.9 seconds off the old time of 3:24.6.

The Blue and Gold team fell 2.1 seconds behind winning George Pepperdine, but they beat out San Diego and San Jose State colleges, who had placed ahead of the Gauchos at the all-conference meet. Nine teams in all were entered in the run.

Moore led off the event, running his quarter mile in 50 seconds flat. Kampmann made the lap in 49.2, followed by Cathcart at 51.5 and the anchor lap of Al Deline was another 50 flat.

The four men comprising the team will receive silver belt buckles as a reward for their speed.

Earl Engman, another Gaucho to break a college record this season, failed to place in the hop, step and jump. He jumped a foul jump that was just an inch short of the winning mark though. Leo Jennings, Gaucho strength in the broad jump, hit 22 ft. 5 in., but he too failed to place.

Mel Powell was entered in the 100 meter dash, but he too failed to place. The winner of the event, Lloyd LaBeach of Panama, tied the world's record. Powell ran one of his fastest races, but was not timed.

Northerners Nip Gauchos 2-1 As '48 Diamond Season Ends

By Geo. F. Outland

With exasperating sureness, the Cal jinx came home to roost last Monday night as the Golden Bears eked out a 2 to 1 victory over Los Gauchos baseball team. Last year the Bears won an all too similar victory by one run—an

The Gauchos stepped off to a one to nothing lead in the third inning when Tom Dailey hit, followed by Lou Munson who also got a safety. Scott forced Dailey at third, but a moment later Joe Blake's bingle sent Munson romping home with the tally.

Comeback

The Bears could do nothing until the seventh when they managed to push across the tying run. In the next frame the winning run got on first by an error, and was later scored.

In the bottom of the eighth Joe Blake got on with a walk, stole second, and went burning for home on Bud Gmur's short single to left. However the throw home was perfect, and Blake was cut down.

Pinch-hitter Hal Abbott got on in the ninth with two down, and Blake up, but was retired trying to steal second, to end the game and the season.

Gaucho Nine Wins 15, Loses 17; Out-Scores Enemies by 20 Runs

A quick run-down of the just concluded baseball season shows that the Gauchos won 15 and lost 17, but outscored their opponents 228 runs tallied to 208 countered against.

The 15 games won were taken at the expense of Whittier (1), Loyola (2), San Jose (2), San Diego Destroyer Base (2), Camp Cooke (2), USC (1), Cal Poly (2), El Toro Marines (1), San Diego (1), and Fresno State (1).

The 17 games that the diamond men lost were dropped to the Alumni (1), Whittier (1), San Jose (1), COP (3), USC (1), Cal Poly (2), San Diego (2), California (2), UCLA (2), and Fresno State (2).

struck out ten. Two neat double plays also helped him out of the hot spots—Munson to Gmur and Scott to Munson to Wrightson.

Six of the men on the Gaucho squad and assistant coach Hal Chauncey are graduating this year. Centerfielder Joe Blake, shortstop Frank Bushman, right fielder and pitcher Oren Skeith, pitcher and right fielder Lefty Thomas, pitchers Dale Scott, Bob Elliot have all played their last game for the Blue and Gold.

noted by positions, has made the selection an impossibility thus far. If the teams continue to hold back their squad lists, the All-Star teams will have to be selected from the lists that ARE turned in. Mr. Kaywood is certain that the team captains do not wish to deprive their star players of the recognition that they have earned, so once again he urges that the men responsible hand in their rosters.

Sig Eps, Sloppy Side Win 'Mural Crowns; Play-Offs Due Soon

Both Sigma Phi Epsilon Purple, and Sloppy Side AC successfully got by the last hurdle in their march to the intramural softball titles in their divisions. The Sig Eps ran roughshod over a willing but outclassed Delta Sigma Phi nine to the tune of 15-3, while the Sloppy Side boys were having a little trouble with the Mighty Midgets, but still managing to emerge on top 11-7.

There are still no definite plans concerning the approaching play-offs. There is a possibility of a play-off between the top two teams in each division, with the winners meeting for the College championship. This, however, is also in the planning stage.

Dick Kaywood is having his share of troubles with the selection of the All-Star teams. The failure of the team captains to turn in a list of their players,
