DEDICATION OF ART MEMORIAL

MEMORY OF MISS STRUTHERS HONORED

The memoriam to Miss A. Irene Struthers, a former member of the Faculty of the State College of Santa Barbara, was dedicated at a special meeting of student body and Faculty on October thirtieth. The memoriam was donated on the part of student body and faculty.

Miss Struthers was the Art Director of the Santa Barbara State College, 1916-1922. During that time she was an inspiration to all who worked with her or knew her, and she inspired an especial love for art in the college. Miss Struthers was the one who started interest in artistic work as a part of the curriculum of a teacher's college, which has culminated in the competent and enlarged Art Department of the college at the present time. Miss Struthers was on a leave of absence at the time of her death, of influenza in 1922, studying more advanced art work.

The memorial, which consists of a bronze tablet inscribed to her, and a section of the bas-relief of the parthenon which is a companion-piece of the one to the right of the door leading to the Art Department. This new section is on the left of the big door, leading to the Art Department.

Besides this memorial given by the student body and faculty, there were given at the same time a number of very valuable art books which were the especial property of Miss Struthers. These were given to the college by Miss Struthers' father, and accepted for the college by Mr. Wolf.

SWIMMING SEASON OPENS FOR WOMEN

The first swimming practice for women was held at the Bath house last Wednesday evening between the hours of 7 and 9. Two classes are being formed for instruction. The beginning class will receive instruction from 8 to 9, while the advanced class will be coached from 8 to 9. Those qualifying for the advanced class must be able to swim across the plunge and to dive with some form.

Mr. Austin, instructor in swimming, will coach the women. Satisfactory arrangements have been made for reduced rates for instruction and for use of the plunge.

According to Miss Philipa Jones, who is manager for swimming, good material has turned out. More than forty girls have signed up for the classes and the sport promises to be a profitable as well as a popular one.

WAKE UP AND TURN OVER!

Paint the town red!

Let 'em know you're alive!

Come down to the Arlington at 4:30 this afternoon in a car if you have one. If not, come anyway. Line up in a long line and proceed down State street with the greatest possible amount of noise and racket. Help advertise the San Luis Poly football game to the townspeople and let 'em know we're a going concern.

If you haven't a car, come down anyway—there'll be plenty of room for the racket.

It's the last chance—the last home game.

Come, make it a monster parade!

The sky's the limit!

LITERARY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Forum held its first meeting of the year last Monday night in the director's room of the Public Library. Only former members and their invited guests were present. A business meeting was held first at which Eleanor Zerby was elected vice-president of the club, and Irene Youngken secretary of the club. An outline of the year's plans were made by the president, Dorothy Edmondson. The first study will be of contemporary American life as viewed by prominent American and British authors. This topic was chosen following the suggestion of Dean Ashworth, as offering material that is both new and profitable. A complete and interesting bibliography of books on this subject has been compiled for a review of the club.

A review of Margot Asquith's "My Impressions of America," was made by Frances Dearborn, and much heated discussion of Mrs. Asquith's criticisms of American people and institutions followed the report. As judged by the interested reception of this first report, following Forum meetings promise to snap with their condemnation and justification of the criticisms of American life as set forth by foreign writers.

J. C. STUDENTS TAKE ENGLISH EXTRANSE EX.

Formal English Examinations were taken by Junior College students a week ago last Tuesday. Failure to pass this examination will make it necessary for the student to take a special course in English composition for one semester. The examination which covered two hours, required the student to write a theme containing approximately five hundred words on any one of several topics suggested.

The examination papers have been sent to the University of California for correction. Students taking the examination are eagerly awaiting the results.

EXHIBITS GIVEN FAVORABLE COMMENT

The recent members of the Wanderers of the Corridor have noted with great appreciation the exhibits which have been shown by the Art Department and the Needlework Department of the Home Ecs. These exhibits ranged from delicate bits of decorative needlework on lavender and shell-pink lingerie, to impressionistic toys, depicting the famous jump that the cat made over the moon. The exhibits have been shown during the past two weeks in the show-cases around the corridor, and have provoked much commendation and admiring envy.

Various articles from both departments were lent to the downtown stores and were especially featured in the Window Week exhibits in these stores.

MEN'S CLUB HOLDS LIVE STAG PARTY

The Yacht Club headquarters at the foot of State street was the scene of one of the season's best parties last Wednesday night. Professorial (?) dignity, scholarly reserve, and class feeling were laid on the shelf, and if noise is any indication of a good time, the "gang" surely must have enjoyed themselves. The occasion? Why, the Men's Club Stag Party, the first one of the year.

Supper was served at 7 p. m., to appropriate strains from the famed Hollingsworth orchestra. The varied program consisted of: Reading, by Dr. Stockton; slight-of-hand, Mr. Peters; Songs, A. Fouche; Talk by Mr. Hayward, the speaker of the evening, and a reading by Mr. Ashworth.

Among other features of the evening were two exhibitions of Indian wrestling, (Lo, the poor Indian), one by the Lightweights, "Sonny" Schoen and "Flip" Brotherton; the other by the Heavyweights, Fred Seegert and Al Henning. The winners received prizes of inestimable value (pumpkin pies).

HILLTOPPERS MEET CAL. POLY 2 MORRO

SAN LUIS TEAM TO ATTEMPT COMEBACK

The State College football team will meet California Poly of San Luis Obispo at Pershing Park tomorrow afternoon for the second time this season. Mindful of the 22 to 6 defeat bestowed upon them by the Hilltoppers, the Polytechnic squad will come south with intent to do harm to the record of the Santa Barbara boys.

Since the early season game between the two squads, Poly has met defeat at the hands of the Stanford Frosh team, a score of 33 to 0 pointing out the fact that San Luis has improved considerably since the first game.

That early season game, too, was really won on the breaks, for San Luis outplayed the local boys during a great portion of the game. Tomorrow's game should prove to be a stiff fight, notwithstanding reports that the San Diego game was to be closely fought.

Coach O. J. ("Casey") Gilliland will have all his regular string to start. Keim, Linder and Dials, who dropped from sight early last week, have once more returned to the fold, and are working out nightly.

WONDER WHO IT IS— GUNTHER?

Why doesn't the Faculty take up markmanship?

The other day one of the students in a prominent instructor's class went to sleep. Now, going to sleep is not such an overt act in itself, but when one is so rude as to snore—well, that calls for speedy retribution.

The justly irate professor threw a piece of chalk at the blissful miscreant, but misjudged his aim and hit another student just dozing off.

The Enterprising Reporter suggests that markmanship be so perfected by the Faculty that in such a case as the above, the instructor be able to wake both birds with one piece of chalk.

COLLEGE REMAINS OPEN ON MONDAY

The college will not be closed on Armistice Day, according to word from the office. It is stated that the state requires that schools remain open on this day. Periods will be shortened, however, for a special program at 11:30.

APPRECIATION VS. FINANCE

When the first issue of The Eagle appeared on the campus, very little comment was heard, and that little was unusually critical and unfavorable. The second issue caused the same negative response. Now why? Simply because, due to an unsufficient appropriation by the student council, The Eagle was forced to a rigid economy which barely permitted the edition of four pages.

The first two issues, each of four pages, contained little more than the most important items of student news and advertising. Many department heads complained because articles that were of especial interest to that department only, were necessarily omitted.

The third issue of The Eagle blossomed forth with two extra pages, and with particular appeal to the student body. Everywhere favorable comments were heard; nowhere condemnation. Back of this issue lies a story. In the first three issues advertising more than doubled; consequently the last issue had six pages, not because we could afford it, but because we were forced by lack of space for ads, to add an extra section. In cold cash, The Eagle lost $17.95 on the actual cost of the last issue. The Eagle cannot survive with a weekly deficit of ten to twenty dollars.

The matter rests with the student body. Do you want a paper like the last one; full of news and laughs for everyone, or a little paper like the first two editions, chock ablock with ads, and little else? If the students want the staff to continue to publish The Eagle, it's high time to act. Pass a resolution that the students subscribe to the paper, each and every one, for a dollar a year, and then everybody come across with his dollar. Then with three hundred dollars at our back, watch The Eagle's flight!

NEED OF MEN'S LOBBY

With the approach of the winter season the need of a proper haven for the men of the college is becoming more and more apparent. The state economy program has made it impossible for the school to furnish adequate library facilities, and in stormy weather the patio is a cheerless region in which to prepare for recitations.

The difficulty, in so far as it effects the women of the institution, has been nicely taken care of by the opening of the A.W.S. clubrooms, which furnish a cheery spot for study and relaxation. Why could something similar not be put at the disposal of the men?

Men do not go in for embroidered pillows and fancy curtains, but they should have a place where a few chairs and a table are at their disposal, away from the noise and confusion of the corridor or student body office.

It should be borne in mind that at the time of the opening of the A.W.S. rooms the entire school "did its bit" gladly in giving the girls their quarters and in making them comfortable and home-like. With the same spirit of cooperation it should not be a difficult task to assemble the fur-

The men's club should make the obtaining and furnishing of such a room a part of their campaign for the year. It would be a bit of constructive work, and something that would benefit not themselves alone, but the students of coming years.

Student Opinion

The Cafeteria: What It Should Be

The cafeteria of the State College is an important factor in the daily routine of the college. Situated as the college is on the hill far from any restaurant or cafeteria, students are compelled either to bring their lunch or eat at the cafeteria. Naturally a hot lunch is preferable, so that the majority of college people take advantage of the "help yourself."

Now comes the dig: It has long been realized that the cafeteria operates under limited means; but twenty-five cents for a lunch certainly offers very little leeway in the choice of delectable food. The majority of the students have expressed the desire to pay more and get a wider choice. This is the general opinion we have found, after due inquiry put to the students throughout the school.

Our own suggestion is given without, perhaps, sufficient insight into the resources of the Home Economic Department, we freely admit, but we still think that the following plan could be adopted: The cafeteria should be run on the "pay by piece" plan instead of the present way of buying certain prescribed things for a net sum of twenty-five cents. We realize that the plan of offering varieties of food would involve extra expense, but we feel that in a short time the amounts consumed could be figured accurately, so that little waste would occur. Starting modestly, as the cafeteria is small, we would suggest a daily menu of: two kinds of meat, a vegetable, a salad, two desserts, and coffee, tea, and milk, all these things being sold by the piece at a reasonable price. This method would at least give the patron a choice and he could then have the advantage of eating as much or as little as he pleased, depending upon his appetite and the state of his pocket-book.

THOSE BENCHES

You can't listen to two people talk at once.

You can't sit in a class room and follow the latest developments of the Pumpkin Pushers' Prowess which is being described graphically and in detail just outside the door, and at the same time follow your instructor through the devious pathways of Economics or English Lit. through which he is endeavoring to lead you.

It can't be done.

So for this reason we advocate that those benches which are just in front of the classrooms 43 and 44 be left unoccupied or at least QUIET during recitation hours. If you MUST talk, occupy the benches down by the office, or those at the front of the building, and leave the classrooms some measure of peace.

If we don't do this soon, more drastic action will have to be taken. How about it?

ATHLETIC NOTES

SAN DIEGO THROWS SAND IN COLLEGE MACHINE, 38 TO 13

The San Diego State College football team, backed by a liberal supply of beef and fight, hung crepe on the hopes of the Santa Barbara State College eleven last Saturday, taking the Hilltoppers into camp by the score of 38 to 13.

Captain Jack DeLand, true to the precedent set in the past two games, made his Paul Revere 80-yard run to a touchdown early in the first quarter, after San Diego had failed to penetrate the local goal line after four attempts and a wide drop-kick.

Taking the ball on the 20-yard line, Hollingsworth made a short shoestring pass to DeLand, who pranced his way through a good portion of the San Diego team for the first touchdown of the game.

Jimmy Anderson duplicated DeLand's feat in the final quarter, by taking a pass from Dials and dashing 50 yards down the field for the Hilltoppers' second touchdown of the game. DeLand kicked goal.

The appearance of Orland Dials in the lineup following a week's absence from school, was accepted with glee by the local crowd, but an incident that made a poor impression on the crowd was the manner in which Captain Perry of the San Diego team persisted in slugging the colored boy, until he (Perry) was finally removed from the field.

The Lineup:

San Diego	Pos.	S.B.S.C.
Fitzpatrick	L.E.	Linder

TAFT EASY FOR HILLTOP ELEVEN

TWENTY TO NOTHING ON SAWDUST FIELD

Handicapped by a playing field several inches deep in sawdust, the Santa Barbara State College football team succeeded in downing the fast Taft High School eleven on October 27, by the score of 20 to 0.

Following Taft's kickoff, on the first play, a pass from Dials to DeLand netted a touchdown, the fleet-footed captain dashing nearly 80 yards for the first score of the game.

Orland Dials, Jimmy Anderson and DeLand were responsible for the three Hilltoppers' touchdowns, while DeLand kicked two goals.

The entire game was well-played, but the deep sawdust hampered both teams when it came to end runs or line bucks.

Jack Vince at full-back showed the Oil-Town something about the art of punting, his kicks gaining the Hilltoppers considerable yardage. Captain Lapley at Center was the outstanding star of the Taft team.

The Lineup:

OUTING CLUB BEGINS HIKING SEASON

Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, the Outing Club left on a short jaunt to Inspiration Point. Out of a list of about thirty who signed up, only thirteen faculty and students appeared for the start.

Shortly after five-thirty, just at sundown, the hikers began to arrive in groups of two and three, all just enough tired to do full justice to an urgent appetite. During the supper Mr. Ashworth furnished amusement for the party by very cleverly imitating the Buddha at Samarkand. The tentative program, which is soon to be posted, was laid before the club at this time, and very enthusiastically received.

Those who enjoyed the outing were: Mr. Ashworth, Mr. Wolf, Lucile Dexter, Leona Bowers, Helen Pratt, Adelaide Abbott, 'Betsy' Dunbar, 'Kity' Hutchinson, Barbara Higgins, Esther Janssens, Beth Teall, Carol Dawley and Ted Ellsworth.

COMMUNITY MECHANICS MEN ENJOY PICNIC

One of the most successful picnics the college has ever held was the one given by the Community Mechanics Department at Camp El Capitan, which is on the beach twenty miles north of here. This location is more than a beach, for there are plenty of shade trees about, where one can make a hasty retreat if the sands blister the lily white. Under one of the trees Chief Cook Verett, helped by his able assistant, prepared a meal consisting of steak, potato salad, coffee and pie. There was plenty to eat, and all gave praise to those responsible for preparing the meal.

Sports were a-plenty, and all had their time at swimming, hiking, clam digging and last but not least, dancing on a rugged floor, with regular music.

Everyone stayed till sundown and left with the hopes of again having a perfect day.

COLLEGE ELEVEN TO MEET MISSION TEAM ON ARMISTICE DAY

The Hilltop football squad will meet the strong Mission Athletic Club eleven Monday at Pershing Park in a game that is attracting much interest from the fans of the county.

Although the Mission squad is ranked as a semi-professional organization, because of the fact that many of its members are professional players, the Mission club is starting out to form an amateur organization in Santa Barbara, every cent of its share of money taken up at the gate going into a club fund instead of being divided among the players.

The game will likely be played on a 60-40 basis, the winning team taking the long end of the purse. It is believed that the college share of the receipts will be used to purchase emblems, gold footballs or something, for the team members.

Because of the fact that the game comes on a legal holiday, a large crowd is expected to turn out. Public schools, however, will not be closed for the day.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY
ARMISTICE DAY

There will be no holiday for Armistice on Monday, November 12, but special exercises commemorating the day will be held. A special assembly will be held in the gymnasium at 11 o'clock. At this time the Riviera school children will present a program in honor of the event. Mr. Matthews of "The Morning Press" will speak on the significance of the day, from the standpoint of a man who was overseas. Mr. Matthews was in Paris at the time of the signing of the Armistice, and his descriptions of the ensuing celebrations are said to be extremely interesting.

The schedule for the assemblies and conferences for the next two weeks is as follows:

Tuesday, Nov. 13—Student Body Assembly.

Thursday, Nov. 15—Student Committee Meetings.

Tuesday, Nov. 20—General Assembly.

Thursday, Nov. 22—Department Conferences:

CREDIT TRANSFER
PROBLEMS STUDIED

Definite means for securing transfer credits in teacher training from the State Teacher's College to the University of California will be discussed and decided upon at a meeting of the Committee on Educational Relations which will meet on November 25 in the office of the President of the University, in Berkeley.

This meeting is the response to a need long felt in the Teacher's Colleges throughout the state. At the present time, teacher's college courses are not readily transferable to the university. The purpose of this meeting is to bring about a definite agreement between the University and the Teacher's Colleges which will provide for recognition and transfer of credits, so that students from the Teacher's Colleges may not have done work in vain in such institutions, if they desire to transfer.

The Committee of Educational Relations is composed of the President of the State Board of Education, two members from the State Colleges, meeting with representatives from the University of California. President Phelps has been appointed on the board this year as one of the State College representatives.

Revived

In a court case not long ago the Frenchman's description of a bathing dress was referred to, viz: "Something that begins no where and ends at once."—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Phelps explained the mysteries of getting recommended to the special unrecommended students of the college, at a special meeting Monday noon.

About This Time of the Year

Once there was a
Young man who took
A course from Mr.
Guenther in Civilization

And when he took
An exam he was
So afraid that he
Was going to flunk
That he almost
Dropped the course.

But,

When he got his
Paper back with a
Five plus
He was so startled
And happy and
Relieved that he Developed Heart
Trouble and so
He had to drop
The course
Anyway.

GLEE CLUB COMPLETES
ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Election of officers in both Glee Clubs has now been completed. Lack of time during the meetings of each club delayed the choosing of officers. The Women's Glee Club elected Miss Jessie Lemmon as president. Miss Emile Watson was chosen librarian.

Earlier in the year Fred Seegert was elected to serve as manager of the Men's Glee Club. Ralph DeBolt was recently elected president of the club.

According to Mrs. Barnett, Music Director, the Glee Clubs will, in the near future, combine to present a concert.

FACULTY TO PRESENT
"MID-TERM HOLOCAUST"

In a few days the faculty will present a little drama entitled, "The Mid-Term Holocaust." This drama is presented each year, and is intended to symbolize the semi-annual sacrifice of students to the omnipotent spirit "Flunk," who poses under the pseudonym of "Exams."

This year Mr. Guenther has been cast for the leading part of "Funk," and no one can doubt the advisability of so casting him. Upon being interviewed by a reporter, Mr. Guenther claimed that he would "read into his part a superior, sardonic, impersonal humor, and that he would strive to render his role to the best of his undoubted ability."

The Eagle believes that Professor Guenther will adequately interpret the juvenile lead, and so is preparing to clean up the wreckage that the leading man is sure to leave.

Dr. Stockton will, as usual, interpret the part of Superior I. Q., and promises to bring his large audience to tears and abject submission.

Prof. Guenther and Dr. Stockton will be well supported by the rest of the faculty, some of whom promise to interpose rare bits of humor into the drama. (Chief of Police Wall has deemed it advisable to withhold the names of these teachers, as the students would be apt to commit murder on any faculty member who tried to make "exams" seem funny).

After the play, many of our students will no doubt go into a sort of quarantine for the remainder of the year. The others will sacrifice many hours of study on the altar of "Flunk," to placate his easily provoked wrath, which has proved to be the stumbling block to so many of our upward striving youths.

Nein—That guy Yore was some dreamer, wasn't her.

Nina—Whatta ya mean?

Nein—You know, the wonderful things they're always talking about that happened in the daze of yore.

Mr. Guenther did not hold his classes on Wednesday on account of illness.

HALLOWEEN MASQUE LIVELY PARTY

Last Friday night the "cafe" was the scene of gay festivities. It was very brightly decorated with orange pumpkins and black cats and bats.

Entering thru the chamber of horrors and encountering cold and slimy things, the masqueraders met their hosts with loud shrieks and screams.

A fortune teller's booth was on one side of the room in which Miss Severy told of the future to all who wished to know. Mr. Wolf conceived some ghostly spirits on the blackboard to the amusement of all. Miss Adelaide Abbott and Betsy Dunbar danced a number in cat costumes. After many games and contests the crowd lined up in regular cafeteria style and received some very good pumpkin pie, an apple and a cup of coffee. More games followed and the bunch reluctantly left for home.

Because of the football game the next day the coach asked the football boys to stay away, and as a result the five to one majority of girls prevailed.

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE; WHY IT FUNCTIONS

The Junior College offers the first two years of a regular university course. The work is of college grade and ranks favorably with the same work given at other colleges. Here is available the preliminary study leading to specialization in Engineering, Commerce, Architecture, Agriculture, as well as the opportunity to pursue general freshman and sophomore courses in Letters and Science. As may be expected, these first two years form a basis upon which to erect a superstructure of information and culture, and at the same time develop the capacity for judgment that is expected of the college man and woman. Here a student may enjoy the consecutive, concentrated pursuit of one or two subjects, and gain some slight acquaintance with each of the three great human interests: language and literature, mathematics and science, and history, economics, and philosophy. Since a college education helps to a proper estimate of the other fellow's work, and develops in us "a lasting relish for the better kind of man, a loss of appetite for mediocrities, and a disgust for cheap jacks"; since wise men are most capable of solving the nation's problems, then the best possible training is to be had where such ideas are paramount. The Junior College opens the vista of opportunity and service in the broadest sense. Here is the opportunity for association with your companions in congenial pursuits, and for training in leadership and responsibility in the conduct of affairs. In our complex life, we need more than one way of solving our various problems. We need a logical investigation of the facts, or practical thinking; we require a personal and emotional interest, or imaginative thinking; and we should develop attitudes based upon an ultimate moral principle, or philosophic thinking. In the subject matter of the Junior College course, the student comes in contact with representative men and ideas. A wholesome curiosity about life and life values is thereby engendered. The student reads that he may learn, profiting by the richer experience of those more fortunate and more gifted. All this is the key to a larger sphere of activity for the one who cares to take advantage of it. This, in general, is the scope of the Junior College Plan.

She Might Yell for Mama Though
Soph—Bill's got an eye for business, he has.

Frosh—Why? Did he steal the exam questions?

Soph—No, he bought his girl great big earrings.

Frosh—I'm still in the fog waiting.

Soph—He can grasp one firmly in each hand and she can't turn her head. —Sun Dial.

The Optimist

"I think Dave's doing the most fruitless thing in the world."

"Why so?"

"He's got a job singing in vaudeville—Oh, you know what."

Backward Party Voted Huge Success By Girls

The backward party which was given by the A.W.S. two weeks ago in the cafeteria, was attended by about two hundred girls. It proved an extremely attractive affair.

The dinner which was the first event on the program, was served backward; speeches and entertainment followed; then the initiation of the freshmen. Dancing occupied the rest of the evening.

The Sins of the Children

Johnnie—"Mother I just seen—" Mother—(reprovingly) "Johnnie! Where's your grammar?"

Johnnie—"I was just trying to tell you. She's down at the barbershop getting her hair bobbed."
